"Wheat Marrow"

The Greatest Seller You Have Yet Known!

"Wheat Marrow" is entirely different from any Breakfast Food you have ever known. It is "the greatest seller you have yet known," because nothing can take its place. It is above competition, because there is nothing just like it. If you do not carry it in stock, your stock is incomplete.

It is made from the glutinous portion of the choicest Winter Wheat—the best and most nutritious parts. It is the quickest Cereal Food to prepare for the table. It takes the place of cracker meal for frying oysters, fish, meat, etc. It is the best thing for thickening soups, tomatoes and all things that need a thickening.

A thousand grocers in Canada say to-day, "It is the greatest seller I ever knew."

Leading wholesalers sell it.

GOLD SOAP

THE GREAT NEW BRAND

THE MOST HEAVILY ADVERTISED LAUNDRY SOAP IN CANADA.

READ THIS:

There are fourteen thousand pieces of money being put into bars of GOLD SOAP—from 10-cent pieces up to $50.00 gold pieces.

To further advertise GOLD SOAP, so that every family in Canada will see how good and pure it is, the manufacturers have set aside fourteen thousand coins, ranging from 10-cent pieces up to $50.00 gold pieces, and will distribute them through the bars of GOLD SOAP that are sold this year (1902). The money is put right into the soap itself, in the middle of the bar, and you will come across it as the cake wears away.

There is no "lottery" or "scheme" about this. It is perfectly straightforward, and $10,000.00 will be paid to charity if anyone can prove that we are not doing exactly what we say. It is merely an inducement to make thousands of people try GOLD SOAP that might not hear about it in any other way.

Of course, every cake does not contain money, but fourteen thousand of the cakes that are sold during 1902 will contain coins anywhere from 10 cents to $50.00. Every box of GOLD SOAP contains so many "loaded cakes."

If you want a full size sample with prices, before our regular salesman gets around, send a postal to

These January days bring the thought of Buckwheat Cakes to the front again, and when you think of them you call to mind the kind you used to enjoy so much. They had a Buckwheat flavor which you have failed to discover in the many so-called Buckwheat Cakes offered to day. So you have just about concluded that pure Buckwheat was a myth, and in its place had come some sort of mixture, made by goodness knows what formula, except it was very shy of Buckwheat Now, your customers are just like yourself, they, too, are looking for some of the real old-fashioned stuff. BUSINESS AND ITS MANAGEMENT

Some Ideas and Hints.

Relation of Profit and Loss Statement to Balance Sheet.

BY A. D. KITTREDGE.

THE profit and loss statement gives the results of the transactions of the business for a fiscal period, and must certainly precede the balance sheet in order to bring into it in a single amount that which represents the results of the business. You may call this item undivided profits, general loss and gain, or surplus, or it may be indicated by some other term. In any event, something in the balance sheet stands for the accretion of capital during the period passed. The profit and loss statement must always precede the balance sheet in order to put into the latter the quantity which it is necessary to have in order to state the condition which the balance sheet is to show. A correct balance sheet must show all the assets of the business, and likewise all the liabilities of the business, and from every point of view, capital, whether invested direct or being the accumulation in the way of profits, is an important part of the liabilities of the business. It is a necessary element to make the statement balance.

In order to produce a profit and loss statement, and after that to properly frame a balance sheet, there must be a proper classification of accounts or the sorting of accounts into classes. A moment's consideration will show that in each of those divisions of the accounts of a business, namely, the profit and loss statement and balance sheet, we can have two classes of accounts, and only two. The profit and loss statement can have nothing but expenses, including, of course, losses and revenues, or earning or income, whichever you may prefer to call it. In turn, the balance sheet can contain nothing but assets and liabilities.

If we begin to make out a balance sheet, particularly if we allow that plan which has been specified by various definitions already presented, namely, from the books of the business and upon the assumption that the books have been conducted along the usual lines, we encounter at once certain difficulties. We find certain accounts that are, in character, straddles. For example, there is the merchandise account, which is made to perform two functions. It is an asset account to the extent of the goods on hand and a revenue account to the extent of the profit that has followed from the trading. Again, we have a straddle in the way in which the account called interest and discount is commonly conducted. It includes both expenses and earnings.

If we are going to classify our accounts in such a way as to have them in most convenient form for a balance sheet, we must arrange them according to the requirements of these two main divisions. We must have in one class sufficient accounts to indicate all our assets, and in another sufficient accounts to indicate all our liabilities. There must be likewise sufficient accounts to indicate all our expenses, and also our income items or revenues, whatever the term may be that is applied to the class.

The merchandise account to which I have referred as an example of a straddle is certainly a greatly overworked account, when we take it as we find it in the ordinary business establishments into which the account is called.

The Expenditure Proportion in Business.

The proportion of expense to the total amount of business transacted in a year is often a stumbling block in the way of an assured profit, says Stoves and Hardware Reporter. In some cases the expense is made greater than the business will bear, and in others not a sufficient allowance is made for the moving of the business, with the result that extravagance on the one hand or a too careful saving on the other results in a loss which may be often past recovery. It has been figured out that on an average business of $10,000 to $12,000 a year, the expenses should not exceed 15 per cent., including the living expenses of the proprietor at $15 per week, and not allowing for clerical hire, but charging up insurance, rental and interest on the value of the stock, which represents, as an illustration, an investment of $3,000. To do a business of $12,000 on this investment requires that the capital should be turned over four times a year, which may be possible under exceptional conditions but is hardly so when there is but one man in the store to attend to it. The above illustration has been given as an actual fact, but an examination of the figures shows that there must have been an unusually hard amount of work to accomplish such a result, and also the exercise of a power of saving the pennies that might have been used to better advantage in looking after the dollars. It is a very difficult matter nowadays to make money without spending it in the effort, and while there is a waste in injudicious expenditure there is also a saving in the use of money in the right way for the bringing in of new business.

Economy.

How a man uses money—makes it, saves it and spends it— is, perhaps, one of the best tests of practical wisdom, remarks Pickles. Although money ought by no means to be regarded as a chief end of man's life, neither is it a trifling matter, representing as it does to so large an extent, the means of physical comfort and social well-being. Some of the finest qualities of human nature are intimately related to the right use of money; such as generosity, honesty and justice as well as economy and providence.

The provident and careful man must necessarily be a thoughtful man, for he lives not only for the present but makes arrangements for the future. He must be a temperate man and exercise self-denial; a virtue that gives strength to character.

It is the duty of the prudent man to live so that in case of sickness or lack of employment he will suffer as little as possible. Viewed in this light, the honest earning and the frugal use of money are highly important. Though money represents many objects without real worth, it also represents many things of great value; food, clothing, personal self-respect and independence. Thus a store of savings secures a man a footing and enables him to wait, hopefully and cheerfully, until better days come round.

To secure independence the practice of simple economy is all that is necessary. Economy requires neither superior courage nor eminent virtue; it is satisfied with ordinary energy, and the capacity of average minds. Economy, at the bottom, is but the spirit of order applied to domestic affairs; it means management, prudence and the avoidance of waste. Economy teaches the lesson of carefulness. The small change that many throw away uselessly, or worse, would often form a basis of fortune and independence. In the words of our honored employer, "Make all you can honestly, spend all you can wisely and save all you can prudently."

THIRTY-DAY GROCERIES.

THE discussion of selling groceries on 30 days' time started last week in these columns has struck a responsive chord in the trade. The wholesale grocers say that this is the trend at this time. They say that groceries can no longer be sold on 60 days' time as heretofore. They claim that the retailers, those in the country particularly, are not only getting 60 days' time, but that actually by the system of giving 60-day acceptances when bills have fallen due, they are getting 120 days. And all of this on groceries that have practically cost the wholesaler cash. They say that in less than a year a new system will be inaugurated whereby the retail grocer will be required to send his check at the end of 30 days for all goods bought.

If this is the sentiment in the trade, and it appears to be so, then it is time for the retailer to begin to prepare for this. There is but one preparation to make and that is to collect up all the outstanding accounts as rapidly as possible. Clean off the books all the men who do not pay promptly. Grant credit to no man who will not pay when his bill is due. Weekly payments are much better for all concerned than monthly accounts. The retail grocer, if he has his money in his possession, can put it in the bank against the time when he will need it. The consumer customer will not do this. If his bill is $10 a week he can pay this easily, but if he is let run four weeks and until his bill amounts to $40, then he has difficulty in meeting it, for he has not laid aside the $10 a week to do so. The ideal grocery business is done for spot cash. The next thing to spot cash is every Saturday-night payments. Get ready for the change; it is surely coming.—St. Louis Grocer.

WINNIPEG'S CHRISTMAS MARKET.

THE Winnipeg market the week before Christmas is worth going far to see, and is always considered a showplace to which visitors must be taken to see the real products of the West. This year has surpassed all others, and many were the glowing compliments paid the various stall-holders. The main corridor of the market was arched with evergreens and strung with colored electric lights.

The principal stall-holders and the oldest are Kobold & Co. and P. Gallagher & Sons, and a friendly rivalry exists between them as to who shall make the best display. Both own cattle ranches and have feeding stables near the city, and many are the fine carcases that adorn their stalls at all times, but more particularly Christmas. This season, Kobold's probably took the palm, though it was difficult to choose. Above the stall of the company just mentioned, in letters two feet high formed of colored electric lights, were the words "Kobold & Co.," while, a little further down, the single word "Kobold" shone out in letters of the purest white. One of the features of the stall was 140 carcases of mutton. This was the bunch of sheep shown by the N.W.T. Government at the Pan-American. Some 50 carcases of beef were also hung, besides three stall-fed heifers weighing 2,300 lb. each, and one heifer 2,100 lb. A fine black bear, an elk, a jumping deer, 200 pigeons, hundreds of turkeys, geese and fowl, sucking pigs, British Columbian salmon and halibut were a few of the things that went to make up a tempting array, which was all tastefully dressed with holly and tinsel and interspersed with appropriate mottoes.

One of the sad things of the Christmas time was the absence of P. Gallagher, sr., who, though never much about the stalls at any other time, was always there about Christmas, and many people missed his kindly Christmas greetings and graceful Irish compliments. He never forgot a face and rarely a name. For years much of the success of the large business depended upon his shrewd and careful buying. During the year he went "over the great divide," and the holiday season emphasized his absence.

Another large dealer in the market and one whose stall deserves mention, is that of Lauzon & Co. Benalick & La Frange also had a fine display. H.

FAILED TO PAY UP.

An Italian named Frank Rangator started a fruit store on Yonge street, Toronto, a short time ago. On the understanding that it was to be paid for on the day before Christmas, he obtained $50 worth of fruit from Cleghorn & Smith, wholesale fruiterers, corner of Church and Colborne streets. Instead of placing the goods in his store, they were shipped out of town, presumably to Niagara, and the Italian disappeared at the same time, and so no settlement was made on the appointed day. Accordingly, a charge of theft was laid against him, and he was arrested at Niagara Falls, N.Y., and brought back to Toronto by Detective Davis.

FRUIT SHIPPERS FINED.

So far the inspectors of the Dominion Government looking after the enforcement of the Fruit Marks Act have been conducting an educational and moral suasion campaign, explaining the force of the new Act. As infractions of the law will be no longer held excusable, the first prosecutions under the Act were pressed last week against Colborne, Ont., shippers, who, in common with other packers, like to cover up inferior fruit with first-class facings. The penalties range from 25c. to $1 a package, which on a large shipment is a considerable amount. A number of other prosecutions are threatened in the near future.

A BOOK FOR ACCOUNTANTS.

"Book Keeping for Joint Stock Companies," by David Hoskins, C.A., a treatise that has just been issued, is a valuable textbook not only for accountants, but for all employes of joint stock companies. Mr. Hoskins' long experience and exhaustive study of accountancy has enabled him within the 150 pages of his book to give many valuable hints and much information. It also contains chapters on the duties of secretary-treasurers of companies and extracts from the Ontario Companies Act, the provisions of which it is essential that company officers should be familiar with. Mr. Wm. Eddis, F.C.A., president of the Institute of Chartered Accountants of Ontario, speaks of the volume as a "valuable addition to accountancy literature. The bookkeeping and forms illustrated therein are thoroughly practical and worked out from the accountancy's standpoint." Mr. Hoskins is principal of the British-American Business College, Toronto, and vice-president of the Institute of Chartered Accountants of Ontario. The book is substantially bound in cloth and gold, and published at $1.50. Copies may be had by addressing Mr. Hoskins.

SALMON CANNERY WRECKED.

On November 26, Vancouver, B.C., was visited by one of the most severe storms felt on the Pacific coast for years. Damage to the extent of about $500,000 was done to buildings and wires, all communication with outside points being cut off for several hours, and wire connection with Victoria cut off for several days. The English Bay cannery was completely wrecked and hundreds of cases of salmon were strewed on the shore.

N.B. CANNING FACTORIES CLOSE.

J. G. Wood & Co. have closed their canning factories at Berwick, N.B., for the winter. In their two factories at Berwick, and Waterville, N.B., they have canned 6,000 cases of tomatoes and apples, which is about 33 carloads, during the season.

THE BEET-SUGAR INDUSTRY.

ALREADY the Galt directors of the North American Beet Sugar Co. have secured over $63,000 in subscriptions for stock therein, and steps are being taken to obtain a charter for the company by George C. McMullen, the company's solicitor. Dalzell & Barrie are attending to the details in connection with the application.

WILL LOCATE IN BERLIN.

The site committee of the Ontario Sugar Beet Company, Limited, of Toronto, have finally settled on Berlin as the place where they are going to locate their factory. The choice originally lay between Berlin and Dunnville. A $25,000 bonus and ten years' tax exemption, besides furnishing contracts for the 5,000 acres stipulated to be put under sugar beet crop, ultimately secured the preference for Berlin. Besides, Berlin capitalists subscribed freely to the capital of the company which is $1,000,000. Tenders are to be invited at once for the construction of the factory, which is to cost about $500,000, and is to have a capacity of 600 tons of beets daily. The whole plant is wanted ready for operations next October, when the beet-sugar season opens.

The following are the Board of Directors: Hugh Blain, president; S. H. Janes, vice-president; Robert Jaffray, W. J. Gage, John Flett, and Michael McLaughlin, all of Toronto; Wm. Hendrie, Hamilton; S. J. Williams, C. K. Hagedorn, Berlin; N. B. Gash was appointed solicitor. W. C. Penoya, of Bay City, Mich., also intends joining the company. As will be seen, the majority of the directors are Toronto men.

HAS EXTENDED TO ST. MARYS.

The Canada Beet Sugar Co., of Baden, Ont., has extended its campaign to St. Marys, Ont., in search of contracts to obtain the required 5,000 acres. A meeting was held there recently which was addressed by Mr. Douglas, secretary of the Baden concern. He stated the terms of agreement which the farmer makes with the company in contracting for the land to be placed under crop, and the price which he paid for the beets. The quality of the soil best suited for the growth of beets next came into consideration, and it was stated that every farmer would at least get $75 an acre for his crop. A few contracts were signed.

ROBBING A GROCERY.

On Tuesday morning the grocery store of Wm. Hockridge, at Bradford, Ont., was entered by two burglars, who were helping themselves to about half a bag of oranges and candies when Nightwatchman Coombs appeared on the scene. Not wishing an interview, they suddenly decamped, but were followed, and one young man was captured, who gave his name as Henry Drake when he appeared before the magistrates. He was sent down to Barrie for trial.

THE AUSTRALIAN TARIFF.

In the opinion of Dr. W. H. Montague, who has just returned from Australia, the new tariff levied by the new Commonwealth will greatly affect imports from Canada and the United States. He is very sanguine that a market would be found, however, for wheat, machinery, manufactured fabrics and other goods from this continent. This new high tariff is one of the great political questions in Australia, the other being colored labor.

A PORK-ADVERTISING PROSE IDYL.

THE London Critic says: "I think the following the funniest trade circular I ever saw:

"'To our friends across the seas we send greeting. As the years roll by we are drawn nearer and nearer together by Christian Blood and Money Ties, and may this ever be. We are located in a section that grows a pig that, for leanness and quality, comes nearer to your home-grown and Canadian pigs than any that can be raised in any part of the States. We are now putting up a class of light fancy English and Irish meats that, for delicacy of cure and extreme mildness, cannot be furnished by any other packing company in the Great West. Your wants can always be supplied by our friends and sole agents, Messrs. ——— & ———.

May all your days be pleasantness
And all your paths be peace.

"'Yours truly,

"'The ——— Packing Co.'

GOLD COINS IN SOAP.

"Gold" soap is the name of a new brand of soap that is being put upon the market. It is a laundry soap, and distributed through it during 1902 will be 14,000 pieces of money, ranging in value from 10c. to $50 gold pieces. A post card addressed to "Gold" Soap, Toronto, will procure a sample with price.

THE FISHING CENTRE OF CANADA.

In 1865, the first "banker" for fishing on the banks of Newfoundland was fitted out at Lunenburg, by one Benjamin Anderson. And since then the industry has grown until it exceeds in value that of any other port of the Dominion, and outstrips the once famous fleet of the New England States. In deep sea fishing alone there are now employed 158 "bankers," with crews totalling 2,745 men. To this fleet there are large additions every year. These vessels represent a value of over $800,000 for 1901, to which $350,000 can be added as the cost of the outfits. The total catch exceeds 1,016,000, the haul being over 254,000 quintals of fish.

Besides the deep sea, the shore fisheries play no mean part in Lunenburg's fishing industry. In 1900 they were valued at $222,830 for boats and fishing gear, and $250,000 for the catch. This does not include the lobster fishery, which has an estimated yield of $29,409 annually. The total value of this industry then to this town is over $2,568,239.

CEYLON GREENS IN CANADA.

The following, addressed to the editor and signed by The "Salada" Tea Co., appeared in a recent issue of The Observer, Colombo, Ceylon: "We read Mr. Rosling's letter to the Ceylon Association in London with very much interest, especially the figures showing the rapid increase in the production of Ceylon green tea. We have been enthusiastic about these teas. They were first introduced to our notice by Mr. Mackenzie in 1898, in which year we noticed by Mr. Rosling's figures that there were 13,302 lb. shipped, all of which came to ourselves. In 1899, 86,327 lb. were shipped, practically all of this, over 80,000 lb., came also to us. Unfortunately our sales are not keeping up in proportion to the output of green tea, which this year amounts to nearly 2,000,000 lb., but they are enormously increasing, and we are as enthusiastic about these teas as we were some years ago."

A DARTMOUTH FAILURE.

Alex. Lloy, a Dartmouth, N.S., grocer, has assigned to George E. Faullner, the official assignee. His assets consist of book debts, stock, and of real estate which is mortgaged, the value of which is not stated. His liabilities are about $5,000. A meeting of his creditors will be held on January 3.

HOW BUSINESS SUCCESS MAY BE WON IN THE TWENTIETH CENTURY.

By Charles R. Flint - - - - In Saturday Evening Post.

THE specialist will be the dominating force in the business world of the 20th century. The road to success lies along that line. Let the young man who starts out in life to-day or to-morrow concentrate on one thing, and he has the golden key.

The day of the all-round man is over. New conditions have come into business life; and they have come to stay. These new conditions are unfavorable to the man who can do half a dozen things. He must master one business.

UNDER THE READJUSTMENT

there is no place for the all-round man. Nobody wants him, nobody cares for his peculiar kind of ability. Industries have been rearranged. They are now separated into departments instead of plants. At the head of each department is wanted a man who knows all about this particular division, who has concentrated his entire mind and ability on its requirements and possibilities, who is, in fact, a highly trained, highly developed specialist. Men like these are scarce to-day. Hundreds of institutions are looking for them. Salaries ranging from $5,000 to $15,000 are waiting for them. My own concern is looking for half a dozen specialists to-day, rubber men, lumber men, etc. We would cheerfully pay them $5,000, a year, and even more cheerfully $15,000, for a $15,000 man is a great deal more valuable to his concern than the $5,000 man. But he has got to be a $15,000 man. Naturally he is not plentiful.

Business in a concrete form has existed as long as the world's record runs, and until recently its course of development has been practically the same as in the beginning. Now, however, we are suddenly

FACE TO FACE WITH A NEW SCHEME

There has been a complete revolution. It is doubtful if the mass of the people appreciate this, yet it is palpable to the man who has his eyes open as is the knowledge that to-day electricity is the motive power of the world. In a few years we shall wonder that we continued in our own time the crude business system of our forefathers.

Let no man delude himself with the belief that we shall ever again go back to the old methods. As soon might we expect to see the electric cars put away in the sheds to give way to the old stages. And unless the boys who are starting out in business life appreciate this and train themselves accordingly, they will be woefully handicapped.

THE NEW METHOD

is the scientific, the civilized one. It is built on the knowledge of the interdependence of men. It explodes the fallacy of "independence." There can be no independence in the world except among savages; the wild man is the only human being who is really independent. The moment you get away from the savage state you leave independence behind. All government, all society are interdependent. The new business idea, call it the "trust," if you will, recognizes this principle and develops it to its highest form. That this recognition did not come long ago simply argues a backward mental state. The old order of "independence" in business ranks with the times when every baron was independent, when he levied on the crops of his feudal retainers and was the master of their lives and families. As constitutional, scientific government has come to supplement the feudal system, so the "consolidation era" in business has come to supplant the old system.

CONSOLIDATION IN BUSINESS

has bred the demand for the specialist, and as consolidation grows, as it will, the demand for specialists will grow. That it is subversive of independence and manhood is absurd. The man who directs a department for a big corporation to-day is more independent than he could possibly be under the old conditions when he went into business for himself. He is not worried with the financial troubles and a thousand-and-one details that consumed his time without adequate return. He devotes all the time he has to that which he can do the best. Naturally the result is higher production, and a consequent betterment for the world dependent on production. Nor does the new systen make for concentration of wealth, as is so generally stated. The reverse is the fact. Out of my experience this is proven. When I was in there were two profit sharers in the firm, my partner and myself. Everybody else connected with our business was a salaried employe. They had no share in the earnings. Everything they produced they produced for us. Later another partner was added, but there we remained. And what is the condition now? I have 300 partners, men who share in the profits of the concern, and who are interested in preventing losses. Last year $150,000 in profits was divided among the heads of departments with us. Our clerks own $60,000 worth of stock in our establishment. Carnegie, the greatest business man in the world, has 32 partners, young men, who, having demonstrated their fitness for special lines of work, were given interests. And we are in the infancy of the new order of things.

THE CORPORATE SYSTEM

Such a distribution of interest is impossible only under a corporate system. No man in his senses would dare risk business association with 300 men under the old partnership plan, where anyone of the 300 might involve the firm. Therefore the business remained a close corporation; the good things were distributed among relatives when they were distributed at all. Now everybody comes in on his merits. There are stock allotments, so that the able, frugal, painstaking man may almost any time acquire an interest. That this works to the interest of the man controlling the corporation is made evident from the better service we get. Almost any evening you may see clerks at work in our office. They put in this overtime because of the interest they take in the affairs of the house under the new conditions. It is never required of them that they work out of hours. It is entirely voluntary.

ALL WORK FOR THE GENERAL SUCCESS

All these things work for the general success of the business by the modern methods, and they emphasize the necessity of preparing to work under the methods. Naturally where there are great consolidations the work must be systemized. Production falls into departments, and at the heads of these departments must be specialists. The science of consolidation is not to bring competing interests together in order that prices may be raised. That is a foolish system and can only beget more competition. A combination to be persistently successful must be so managed that the same goods or better goods, may be produced at lower prices. This can only be brought about by scientific supervision. And there is the source from which springs the demand for expert specialists. It is for the young men to take advantage of this demand.

Of course, the young man who starts out with an inherited fortune is not constrained to follow this plan. He can diversify his interests. It is the part of wisdom for him to do so. He protects himself if he is not dependent on one industry alone. But even a rich man's son might very well train himself as a high-class specialist. It will give him knowledge and power that in after life may prove exceedingly useful.

AN EXAMPLE.

J. J. Hill, President of The Great Northern Railway, is a magnificent example of the possibilities that lie before a specialist. Mr. Hill is a specialist, has always been a specialist. He has devoted his entire time, attention and ability to railroading. He is to-day the greatest railroad operator in the world. There is nothing about the business that he doesn't know thoroughly. He has studied the business from A to Z, and is master of all its details. Thanks to this thorough knowledge Mr. Hill has made himself one of the richest men in America.

Capital is always eager to associate itself with such men, but capital is mighty shy in having to do with men who are not master specialists. In my own case I always insist that my associates shall be specialists. I am always open to a good business enterprise, but I make sure that the men who are to handle the enterprise know all about it. And I also insist that they go into nothing else. It is distinctly stipulated in all our business contracts that the men in charge of our lumber interests have no other interests, that our rubber men confine themselves to rubber, and so all along the line. It is to this rule and its enforcement that I attribute much of the success we have met with in our business enterprises. It has brought and holds for us a class of thoroughly trained specialists whose minds dwell continually on the one thing in which they are engaged. Thus we get better results than do concerns whose managers have to diversify themselves.

AMBITION.

Everybody who amounts to anything is ambitious. He wants to get to the top, to become rich, to control things; to be a power. This laudable ambition under the new way of the business world, will prove exceedingly dangerous if it into the New Year to make THE GROCER beat all its old records. Will you help us? You can if you will.

We are starting out

We want to increase our subscription lists.

Don't you think each one of your clerks should have a copy of THE GROCER for himself? The education received from reading this paper regularly, will soon show in increased ability to sell, in better store management and in deeper interest in the progress of your business. Perhaps you know some brother grocer who should be a subscriber but is not. Send us his name and we will let him have some sample copies.

We want to increase our advertising patronage.

A clean, bright, well-edited, neatly-printed paper like this always does good work for the advertiser. Advertising here can never be a mistake; it is bound to pay. THE GROCER finds its way into all the markets of the world. We saw an order from China the other day, in which it was stated that the goods asked for were seen advertised in THE CANADIAN GROCER. Its circulation knows no bounds.

We wish all our readers a prosperous New Year, and, remember, we want THE GROCER to be just as you want it.

Suggestions, criticisms, etc., from regular readers will always be welcome.

leads the young man into general industries. In the formation period it was possible for men to go into different things and carry them through sueeessfully. I, myself, for example, without any partieular qualifications as a specialist, have been enabled to aid in organizing a number of diverse industries. But the situation with me was peculiar and unusual. I had been for years a member of a large commission firm which was the largest buyer in the United States of general manufactures for export. We handled evetything from needles to locomotives. When the era of consolidation eame I was in a position to deal intelligently as the representative of the different interests. I knew all the principals from years of business assoeiation, and, in a superficial way, I was familiar with the requirements and shorteomings of the various industries.

Now the formation period is praetieally over. We have settled down to doing business under the new plan. We have done very well so far; we are goi right along the same line. Nothing can stop the development and expansion of the new trade seheme. The business of the world is going to be divided up more and more into departments.

Success is to be won in getting at the head of one of the departments. It is the 20th century method.

A REORGANIZED COMPANY.

Lawrence A. Wilson & Co., of Montreal, wholesale importers of wines, etc., have been incorporated as a joint stock eompany, with the following directors: Lawrence A. Wilson, president and general manager; William A. Jackson, vice-president and manager; Alexis De Rouselle, treasurer; David O'Meara, director. They will henceforth be known as The Lawrence A. Wilson Co., Limited. Their reasons for this action are to give some of their older employes a direct interest in the business, and to place it on a firmer basis and consolidate their growing trade. The capital stock of the new company is $200,000, of which $150,000 has been issued fully paid up, the balance remaining in the treasury. The present concern takes over the entire business of the old firm of Lawrence A. Wilson & Co., which will be carried on as formerly. E. A. Gauthier, T. Routhier and J. Dupont, who have been connected with the business for a long time, are amongst the shareholders of the company.

There have been 20 creameries in operation in the Canadian Northwest during the past season. They have all closed down with the exception of four, which will continue making butter during the winter.

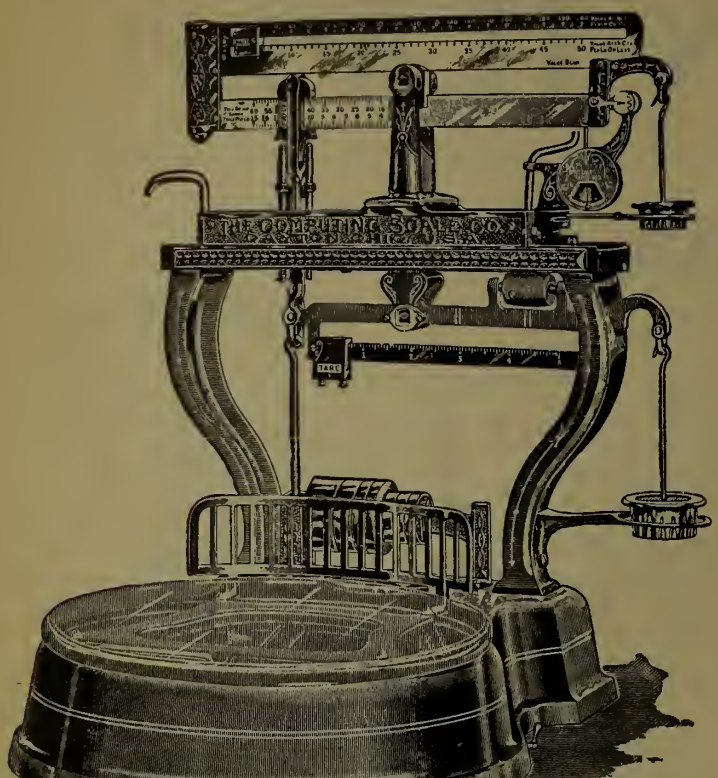
THE EYE OPENER



OUR scales are eye openers for people who have never used a system of getting full and accurate results in handling their merchandise. Many a good, honest, and industrious merchant has failed after long years of patient work and worry, just simply because he gave away more than his profits amounted to, in trying to sell for profit over miserable make-shift weighing devices. VOTE FOR BUSINESS MEN.

ON Monday next the different municipalities in Ontario will be called upon to elect their representatives to the local governing bodies.

The opinion obtains among not a few that the quality of the representatives in our municipal councils has for some years been steadily deteriorating. It certainly has not been improving, for the ward heeler and not the practical business man is only too often the power that rules. If, however, the business men in the several municipalities were to be guided by the same principles as they are when selecting their own employes, the ward heeler and the professional politician would soon be a thing of the past.

The management of a municipality is as much a matter of business as the management of a purely commercial enterprise. And it is because so many electors do not realize this—or, at any rate, do nôt vote as if they did—that we have a deterioration in the quality of the men who sit in our council chambers as our representatives.

Like begets like. And if the business men of this country will exercise their power in the right direction it will only be a matter of time before our municipal institutions will become more businesslike in their character.

Work for business men. Vote for business men.

ADVANCE IN EGGS.

The holiday trade has disclosed a decided shortage in the supply of eggs in the Canadian market. Last week several of Montreal's leading supply houses ran out of stock, bringing a strong demand to bear on the market. The consequence was an immediate advance in price. Pickled eggs are now selling out of commission merchants' hands at 20c. a doz.; selects are sold at 25c. and new-laid eggs are quoted at 40c.

This stringency in the market is the direct result of the heavy demand for Canadian eggs from England, during the fall season just over. During the season the demand gradually grew heavier and prices gradually appreciated until English importers paid as high as 7s. 4d. to 7s. 5d. for pickled eggs and 8s. 9d. to 9s. for cold storage stock. Even at these prices our exporters were not able to supply the demand. Local stocks, were, however, run to a very light margin, and, as a consequence, the Canadian consumer will have to pay high prices during the coming winter months.

A CLERK GETS $1,500,000.

A clerk in Geneva, N.Y., has fallen heir $1,500,000. His good luck was the result of good work. As a clerk he conceived it to be this duty to master the details of the business and to be industrious. A wealthy relative who was watching his career was so gratified that he remembered him in his will to the extent of the sum named.

It is not often that industry excites the beneficence of millionaires to such an extent as this, but industry and proficiency are certain in the long run to earn recognition and reward.

THE OATMEAL MARKET.

THIS year's crop of oats has been rather poor in quality. So poor, in fact, has it been that from two to three bushels more of oats are required to produce a barrel of oatmeal or rolled oats. This means an increase of from $1 to $1.50 per bbl. in the cost of production.

In sympathy with these conditions, the manufactured products, oatmeal and rolled oats, have advanced $2.05 and $1.65 per bbl. respectively. But, last week, oatmeal and rolled oats declined 20c. and 10c. respectively. This was caused by the millers, who wished to get rid of their surplus product before the end of the year, when they would take stock, and because the deliveries of oats during the past few days were rather heavy, resulting in a slight decline. This condition of affairs, therefore, can hardly be maintained, in view of the light oat crop this year in Ontario, as the farmers cannot have much stock on hand.

The demand from all quarters, especially from the Lower Provinces, continues good, and the chances are that in the course of another week or so the prices will advance again to the former figures, and probably higher.

IMPROVEMENT SOCIETIES.

In the United States, leaders in the work of village improvement have sought to interest the teachers alone in this scheme, but not only should this work interest the teacher, it should interest the business man as well.

In Danvers, Mass., a local improvement society with a membership of 150, most of whom are children, has been doing good work in the improvement of sidewalks, roads, and lawns; the removal of old buildings and fences; the planting and care of trees; the destroying of canker-worms and other insect pests; and other good things generally. By means of concerts, lectures, and contributions generally, the sum of $5,000 has been realized, with which a large park of 25 acres has been purchased. After the society has done its best at improving the park it will throw it open to the public.

It should not be impossible for business men in Canada to excite interest in their several communities on this most laudable movement.

THE OUTLOOK FOR BUTTER.

THERE is a diversity of opinion among the Canadian butter merchants as to the probable course of the butter market during the next two or three months. The high price of grain leads some operators to look for a curtailed production and better prices, but this view is not uniform throughout the trade.

Speaking to a creamery man from Brockville this week, THE CANADIAN GROCER was advised that many of the creameries in that locality had already closed down, while those that were still in operation were running short, and would soon stop entirely. The creameries of the Eastern Townships are said to have closed their doors in the majority of cases. All this is put down to the fact that the farmers have decided not to grow butter from grain at the present prices. But, on the face of these reports of curtailed production, the receipts of butter, particularly creamery, are quite up to the mark. Whether arrivals will fall off in the next few weeks remains to be seen. Meanwhile, goods coming to hand are moving out freely, and stocks held in Montreal are by no means heavy.

The idea that butter would advance in price has been prevalent before this week. Ever since grains took the remarkable rise an appreciation has been looked for as soon as the winter set in. It is a matter of surprise to many that it has not occurred before now, and its failure to materialize has led to a common belief that existing values will be no more than held through the winter months. But it must be remembered that there was a good deal of creamery butter made for export which did not come up to the exporters' standard, and was consequently thrown upon the local market. Till this is absorbed we can hardly expect a bullish movement. There has been a considerable export demand for butter of late, but the poor quality coming in has compelled exporters to refuse all offers.

The supply of roll butter is quite light, and is rapidly dropping off. All the good receipts are held in firm hands in Montreal, and the news comes from the west that there are no available stocks. Manitoba and the Northwest will, in all likelihood, need every ounce of their production this year for home consumption, and we understand that the Manitoba creameries have already contracted their supplies on British Columbian account. This will prevent a repetition of last spring's occurrence, when unexpected supplies of Manitoba butter coming on the Montreal market caused a rapid depreciation in values.

Taking the situation as a whole, it would seem that unless a general low quality should depress values, we are likely to see higher prices for butter during the next few months, and this without depending upon an export demand. At present actual transactions show a growing firmness, 20½c. having been refused on a lot of creamery last week. Most receipts are bringing 20 to 20½c.

KILL THE BY-LAW.

ON Monday next the ratepayers of Toronto will vote on the by-law empowering the City Council to vote $133,500 for the purpose of erecting new buildings for the Industrial Exhibition.

> Gather ye rosebuds while ye may,
> Old Time is still a-flying.
> —Herrick.

It is well that the ratepayers should carefully consider the matter. Doubtless the Exhibition is a good thing for the "Queen City." Of late, however, we know that it has for some years been steadily deteriorating as an exhibition pure and simple, while it has been expanding as a variety show and a race track. As we have time and again pointed out, this policy has led to an antagonism of the manufacturing, dairying and mercantile interests of the country.

While some new buildings are undoubtedly needed (a main building, for instance), what is needed most, first of all, is a new policy. As the management have so far refused to recognize this, it is obvious a new management is necessary before a new policy can be secured.

The ratepayers over a year ago refused to concur in a by-law to raise money for erecting new buildings, because they had lost faith in the administration. As the same administration is still in existence the ratepayers of Toronto should deal with this by-law as they did with its predecessor.

THE RETAIL HOLIDAY TRADE.

FROM what we can gather the retailers in Canada had an unusually good trade during the Christmas holiday season; in fact, we are told by some that it was the best for a number of years.

Such seasonable goods as dried fruits and nuts sold in large quantities, and, compared with last season, the results were far more satisfactory in these lines. A year ago, it will be remembered, the price of currants and raisins was abnormally high; and not only did consumers then curtail their requirements, but they bought less freely even later in the year when values were more reasonable. This feature appears to have been particularly marked in regard to the purchases by the farming class.

While the lower price of seasonable goods has undoubtedly had a good deal to do with the more liberal purchasing of the consuming public, the prosperous condition of the country and the good prices farmers are receiving for their products have, undoubtedly, been important factors.

A NICE LINE FOR GROCERS.

Confectionery is a nice line for grocers to handle, especially in cold weather, as it is easily kept, sells well, especially if a store is near a public school, and the profits are large, as a rule.

To obtain the best results, a grocer should closely watch the sales in the different lines, and, as soon as the popularity of one line begins to wane, replace it by a new line of goods. It is a good plan in this as in others, to be continually bringing out some new line. That will be a good advertisement, and, besides, your patrons generally want a change, and will buy oftener.

TRADE IN COUNTRIES OTHER THAN OUR OWN.

GALLON APPLES on the spot, although not relatively dear, are meeting with a good inquiry, but buyers do not care to commit themselves by making forward purchases, preferring to wait and buy from hand-to-mouth.—Produce Markets' Review.

ORANGE TRADE IN LONDON.

Keeling & Hunt, London, Eng., report :—

Oranges.—Denias and Valencias have shown a decline, owing to quantities increasing and buyers imagining that the large shipments were likely to be sustained, but as there is every prospect of a smaller quantity being sent forward at present, hopes are entertained of higher results. Murcias are weaker, and likewise Ports, but prospects are brightening on both directions. Sours are selling at poor results at present, but after Christmas they are certain to be in better demand. Mandarins are very weak for the moment, but ought to improve shortly, as they are not coming forward in such large quantities.

CANNED TOMATOES IN BALTIMORE.

Yet the advent of the canned-goods business has unquestionably made the tomato one of the best known esculents for the table, not only locally, but nationally, and almost cosmopolitanly, and so necessary has it become in less than two generations that even the partial failure of the crop in one year has suddenly made the world aware of how necessary and valuable it is. Here, even amidst the hearty echoes of a Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year, the demand for canned tomatoes is so great that the market has been bounding upward more rapidly almost than at any time during the past fall. Brokers report to us an advance per doz. of from 5 to 7½c. for No. 3 standards on the week; seconds are quoted at $1 to $1.10 for No. 3, and No. 2 standards are held at 92½c. to $1.05, whilst No. 2 seconds are quoted at 90 to 95c.; standard gallons are strong at $3.50, and yet we are not through with the year in which they were packed, and it is in the nature of things that buyers will not load up with anything which is not strictly necessary, as what they buy will have to go into their invoices as stock on hand unless immediately distributed., and thus help to swell the volume of the amount on which their taxes will be based for the ensuing year.—The Trade, Baltimore, Md., December 27.

SITUATION IN CURRANTS.

The endeavor to materially advance the price of currants on the news of large operations in Greece has not proved so successful as it promised to be at the early part of the week, and a rise of about 6d. is all that can be claimed. Considering the quantity of fruit that has changed hands to produce this result, it is evident that the grocers have not followed the lead of speculators, and the bulk of the fruit still remains on the market waiting for the country demand. The fact that large operations have taken place in Greece may be undisputed, but it must not be forgotten that a considerable proportion of the buying has been done for the English market, which, when added to the somewhat generous stock, will at least defer the prophesied famine until after the spring trade is done. There is no denying the fact that, rightly or wrongly, the retailers this year regard important advances of the article with suspicion, and, instead of being tempted to increase holdings, there is a strong disposition to wait until former purchases can be again repeated. This state of things undoubtedly arises out of the experience of last year, and some time will have to elapse before confidence is restored. One important fact must be admitted in favor of the Greek merchants, that, speaking generally, they have hardly ever refused reasonable bids, and, in fact, during the quiet times of the market, have been anxious and pressing sellers right through from the first day of the arrival of the new crop. Having regard to the attitude of these gentlemen, who must be accredited with inside knowledge of the supplies available, the attempt to raise the prices to a higher level is difficult of explanation.—Produce Markets' Review.

THE SAULT CANALS.

THE returns of the Sault Ste. Marie canals for the season of 1901 show that the registered tonnage of vessels passing through the Canadian canal aggregated 2,404,642 tons. This is 225,590 tons more than passed through in 1900 ; 532,216 tons less than the record of 1899, and 346,503 tons less than that of 1898.

The freight carried through the Canadian canal in the season of 1901 amounted to 2,821,027 tons. This is 785,308 tons more than were carried through in 1900 ; 182,644 tons less than the quantity freighted through in 1899, and 229,486 tons less than the record of 1898. The westbound freight in the season of 1901 was 663,402 tons, compared with 605,720 tons in 1900, and 722,390 tons in 1899. The eastbound freight was 2,157,625 tons in the season of 1901 ; 1,429,999 in the season of 1900, and 2,281,281 tons in the season of 1899.

Of particular items mention may be made of wheat, of which in the season just closed 9,595,532 bushels were carried eastward, against, 9,163,609 bushels in 1900 ; 12,854,971 bushels in 1899, and 9,645,544 bushels in 1898. Another item of interest is other grain, of which 2,653,021 bushels were carried through the Canadian canal in 1901 ; 1,022,064 bushels in 1900 ; 1,628,585 bushels in 1899, and 1,046,817 bushels in 1898.

General merchandise was carried eastbound through the canal in 1901 to the extent of 28,480 tons ; in 1900, 20,458 tons, and in 1899, 31,563 tons. General merchandise carried west shows a gratifying growth. In 1901, 97,997 tons of goods were carried westbound through the Canadian canal ; in 1890, 60,179 tons, and in 1899, 46,586 tons.

The total registered tonnage of shipping carried through the United States and the Canadian canals at the Sault Ste. Marie in the season of 1901 was 24,626,976 tons, divided among 14,372 steamers, 4,482 sailing vessels and 1,187 unregistered craft. This is an increase of 10 per cent. over the tonnage of 1900. There were 28,403,065 tons of freight carried through these canals, an advance of 11 per cent. over the previous year. Of coal, hard and soft, 4,503,136 tons were carried in the season of 1901, which is 106,159 tons more than in 1900. In 1899 the coal carried was 3,940,887 tons, and in 1898 it was 3,776,450 tons, so that there has been constant growth in the coal trade, though that growth has been smaller in 1901 than in the previous year.

Flour carried in 1901 was 7,634,350 barrels, an increase of 13 per cent. over the quantity carried in 1900. Wheat shows an increase of 30 per cent., being for 1901, 52,812,636 bushels ; grain, other than wheat, an increase of 53 per cent., the quantity carried last season being 21,760,547 bushels. Pig iron increased 52 per cent., the quantity freighted through the canals in 1901 being 206,443 tons ; salt shows an increase of 35 per cent. Of iron ore the quantity carried was 18,090,618 tons, an increase of 10 per cent. Of lumber 1,072,121 M. fect B.M. were carried, an increase of 18 per cent.

General merchandise shows an increase of 3 per cent., the quantity carried through in 1901 being 558,041 tons.

The United States canal was opened April 26, and closed December 11, 1901, making a season of 230 days. The Canadian canal was opened six days before the United States canal and closed 10 days later.

The net tonnage of vessels passed through the Suez canal in 1900 was 9,738,152 tons. The net tonnage passed through the Sault Ste. Marie canals in the same year was upwards of two and one-quarter times more than the tonnage passed through the Suez canal.

CANADIAN PRODUCERS.

To Our Friends: SEASON'S GREETINGS. January, 1902.

We wish it were possible to thank you personally for the help you have given us to make such a gigantic success of The Canada Biscuit Company. Our trade has exceeded our expectations by many thousands of dollars. We know that in the beginning we were sometimes behind hand with our shipments, but this could not be avoided, and caused us as much concern and worry as it did you. We are now, however, in a position to fill all orders promptly; and as soon as the additions to our factory are completed and the additional plant installed, we will be able to handle all the trade that comes our way. We trust your season's business has been perfectly satisfactory, and that the New Year may have many pleasant and profitable days in store for you and yours. Thanking you again for your past favors, and trusting that by attending strictly "to our knitting" we may enjoy your confidence to the end of the chapter, we remain,

Yours very truly,

ONTARIO MARKETS.

Toronto, January 2, 1902.

GROCERIES.

THE travellers are in the warehouses, and business is confined to small sorting-up orders. This, of course, at this time of the year is natural. Several of the houses are busy taking stock this week, others again do this later on. One of the features of the week is an advance of 5c. per doz. in the syndicate's price of canned tomatoes. This has not, however, so far affected the quotations of the wholesale trade. This advance seems, in part at least, to be due to a further demand from the United States. Business in canned vegetables is quiet, with local quotations unchanged. The decline in refined sugars, noticed last week, was followed on Friday last by an advance of 10c. This was the result of a similar advance in the United States. There is a fair trade doing in teas on retail account, but the wholesalers are buying but very little. Coffees are quiet, with quotations much as before. There has been a little sorting-up business in nuts. Foreign dried fruits of all kinds have only been in moderate request. A significant feature of the trade is that local stocks of Malaga raisins have been unusually well cleaned up. In fact, there was a scarcity at the close of last week. Spices continue quiet.

CANNED GOODS.

The feature of the canned goods trade is an advance of 5c. per dozen by the syndicate in the price of tomatoes. The figure now quoted by the syndicate is 87½c. per dozen, which is 2½c. above the minimum figure being asked by wholesalers for some brands to the retail trade. The change has not yet affected the price to the retail trade, which still ranges from 85 to 87½c. per dozen. Were the demand for tomatoes any way brisk on retail account it is quite possible an advance would take place in wholesalers' prices. The demand, however, is practically nil. During the past week some inquiries have been received from the United States for canned tomatoes. There have been some transactions, one dealer reporting the sale of over 2,000 cases, and negotiations are pending for further lots. As will be noticed from a paragraph published elsewhere, standard tomatoes are quoted at $1.05 to $1.10 in Baltimore. Peas and corn are still quiet on the local market with prices ruling at from 80c. upwards. Little or nothing is being done in canned fruits. We quote: Peaches, $1.75 to $1 90; strowberries, $1.65 to $1.70; raspberries, $1.60 to $1.80. In canned salmon, there is a fair business being done at unchanged prices. The ruling prices for canned salmon are: Fraser River sockeye, $1.42½ for 5-case lots and over, and $1.45 for less quantities; Northern sockeye, $1.25 to $1.30; cohoes, $1.05 to $1.15.

COFFEES.

The coffee market rules quiet and quotations remain as before. We quote: No. 7, 8c.; No. 6, 8¼c.; No. 5, 8½c.; No. 4, 9c.; No. 3, 10 to 12c.

See pages 35 and 36 for Toronto, Montreal, and St. John prices current.

CANDIED PEELS.

Business is now naturally a great deal smaller than it was a week or two ago. Prices, however, rule as before. We quote as follows. Lemon, 10 to 12½c.; orange, 11 to 13c.; citron, 15 to 18c., according to brand and quality.

NUTS.

The retail trade appear to have sold up pretty well during the Christmas trade, for the wholesalers have been experiencing a good sorting-up trade during the past week. We quote: Grenobles, 10¾c. by the bale up to 12c. for smaller quantities. Marbots, 9½ to 10½c.; filberts, 9½ to 10½c.

RICE AND TAPIOCA.

Very little is being done at present in either of these lines. We quote: B rice, 3¼c.; Japan rice, 5½ to 6c.; tapioca, 4 to 4½c.; sago, 4½ to 5c.

SUGAR.

There was quite a quick reaction from the decline in the early part of last week, on Friday last an advance of 10c. per 100 lb. being made in all grades of refined sugar. This advance, like the previous decline, was in sympathy with the New York market. This again puts granulated sugar on the basis of $4 f.o.b. Montreal for Redpath and St. Lawrence and $3.95 for Acadia. In Toronto the quotations are $4.18 and $4.13, respectively. Some sugars changed hands just prior to Friday's advance, but only to a moderate extent. At present the demand is quite small. Stocks of sugar in the United States last week were reduced by 16,000 tons, the receipts being 12,856 tons, and the meltings 29,000 tons. Raw sugars in New York have eased off to 3⅝c., a decline in all of ⅛c. from the recent highest point. This decline has not, however, all taken place during the past week. Quotations for muscovados and molasses sugars are 3⅛ and 2⅞c. respectively. Beets have made a further decline and have established another low record, the figure f.o.b. Hamburg now being 6s. 6d. Cane sugars in London are steady at 7s. 6d. for fair refining and Java sugars. In New York the demand for refined sugars has been excessive, the independent refineries becoming quickly oversold hastened the reaction of Friday last. All guarantees and special concessions have also been withdrawn except the special discount of 1 per cent. of the Arbuckles.

SYRUPS AND MOLASSES.

These both are quiet and featureless. The ruling price for molasses is 25 to 28c. for New Orleans, and bright sugar syrups, 35 to 37c. The ruling quotations on corn syrup are: 3½c. in bbls.; 3⅝c. in ½ bbls.; 3¾c. in ¼ bbls.; $1.60 in 38-lb., and $1.20 in 25-lb. pails.

TEAS.

The tea market this week does not present any particularly new features. China greens are still scarce and high. The market is almost bare of points. China greens that were usually bought by the wholesale trade at from 15 to 16c. are now costing 21 to 23c., and until the new crop comes in no relief is expected. Japan teas continue firm, and, although the wholesalers are buying scarcely anything at present, a moderate business is being done on retail account. The wholesalers are also doing a fairly good trade in Indian and Ceylon teas. On account of the holidays, business is at a standstill on the foreign markets, consequently the condition of the latter is really unknown.

FOREIGN DRIED FRUITS.

CURRANTS—Business this week is small, being only of a sorting-up character. Prices rule much as before, namely, 6 to 6½c. for fine Filiatras; 6½ to 7c. for Patras, and 5¾ to 6c. for fine off stalk.

VALENCIA RAISINS — Only a light trade is being done in Valencia raisins, but prices rule steady at 6½ to 6¾c. for selects and 5¾ to 6c. for fine off stalk.

MALAGA RAISINS—From what we can gather the stocks of Malaga raisins on the local market have been more than usually well cleaned up. In fact, towards the end of the Christmas season's trade, there does not seem to have been enough to supply the demand on the Toronto market. We quote: Black baskets, $2.25; "Empire Clusters," $2.60; "Dehesa Clusters," $3.10; "Excelsior Clusters," $4.60; "Connoisseur Clusters," $2.10; "Extra Dessert Clusters." $3.35; "Royal Buckingham Clusters," $5.

SULTANA RAISINS—Some nice lots have been sold during the past week to the confectionery trade, but to the retail trade very little has gone forward.

FIGS—Business is also quiet in this line with prices ruling as before. We quote as follows: Mat figs 3¼c.; naturals, 3¼ to 4½c., according to quality; tnpnets, 3¼c., and Eleme figs range all the way from 8½ to 18c.

PRUNES — The demand this week is just fiair with our quotations ruling as before. We quote: Californian prunes: 100 110's, 5c.; 90-100's, 5½ to 6¼c.; 80 90's, 6½ to 7c.; 70-80's, 6¾ to 7¼c.; 60 70's, 7½ to 8c.; 50 60's, 8 to 8½c.; 40-50's, 8¾ to 10c. French, 100's, 3½ to 4c.

DATES—Business is quiet with prices unchanged at 4½ to 4¾c. for Hallowees, and 4¼ to 4½c. for Sairs.

CALIFORNIAN EVAPORATED FRUITS—A fairly steady demand is being experienced for evaporated apricots and peaches. A large trade for these is expected to develop during the next couple of months. Ruling quotations are 13 to 16c. for apricots and 11 to 13c. for peaches in 25-lb. boxes.

GREEN FRUITS.

Fruiterers are very much pleased with this year's holiday trade and say it was never better. The sales of oranges, especially Mexicans and Floridas, have been very large, while grapes and apples moved briskly, although the very high prices of the latter materially curtailed their consumption. Cranberries sold exceptionally well this year, too. They are now 50c. per bbl. less, while Mexican and Florida oranges have come down 25c. per box. Pineapples are 2 to 10c. higher each. Tangerine or kid glove oranges are moving freely at $8 50 to $9 per strip, while grape fruit is selling at $4.50 to $6 per box. We quote: Apples, $4 to $5 per bbl.; bananas, $1.50 to $2 for firsts, and 80c. to $1 for first eight hands; Florida oranges, $3.50 per box; Mexican oranges, $2.25 per box; Californian lemons, $3.50 to $4 per box; Messina lemons, $2.75 to $3.25 per box; Californian oranges, $3.25 to $3.50 per box; Valencia oranges, $4 to $5.50 per case; Malaga grapes, $5.50 to $6; cranberries, fancy Jerseys, $10; pineapples, 25 to 35c. each by the case.

VEGETABLES.

Cabbages are moving more freely, while the demand for turnips, carrots and parsnips has become more active. Potatoes are still firm. Celery is 15c. cheaper, while the cauliflowers that are now being offered are small, and sell at from 50c. to $1. Cucumbers are selling at $3 per dozen. We quote as follows: Carrots, parsnips and beets, 20c. per peck; turnips, 15c. per peck and 35c. per bag; lettuce, 30 to 40c. per doz.; radishes, 40 to 50c.; mint and parsley, 20 to 25c.; cauliflower, 50c. to $1.00 per doz.; celery, 50 to 60c.; red cabbage, No. 1, 5 to 10c.; cabbage, 40 to 60c.; dry onions, $1 per bush.; potatoes, 85c. to $1 per bag.

COUNTRY PRODUCE.

EGGS—There is a steady demand for all lines of eggs, with a limited supply. Fresh eggs are not being offered. They would bring about 28 or 30c. Fresh-gathered, cold-stored and limed are each 1c. per doz. higher. We quote: Fresh-gathered, 19 to 22c.; cold-stored, 18 to 20c., and limed 16 to 18c. per doz.

BEANS—Are moving quietly. Prices are steady. We quote: Choice handpicked, $1.70 to $1.75; prime, $1.50 to $1.60 per bush.

HONEY — Prices for honey are very firm, with a good demand. We quote: Clover, in 60-lb. tins, 9½c.; less quantities, 10c. per lb.; in combs, $2 to $3 per doz.

DRIED APPLES—The quietness in dried apples is more pronounced. Evaporated are finding better sales. We quote: Evaporated apples 9¾ to 10c. in carlots and 10¾c. in less quantities. Dried apples 5 to 6c. per lb.

POTATOES—This week potatoes are 1 to 2c. easier on track. The price now is 72 to 75c. per bag on track and 85c. to $1 per single bag retail.

BUTTER AND CHEESE.

BUTTER—The quality of the dairy butter that is coming in has improved, and there is a free movement with a good supply. Prices are steady. We quote as follows: Choice 1-lb. prints, 17 to 19c.; large rolls, 16 to 17c.; tubs, best quality, 15 to 16c.; tubs, medium grade, 12 to 14c. per lb. Creamery prints sell at 21 to 22c., and creamery solids, 20½ to 21c. per lb.

CHEESE—Cheese is very firm at 10½ and 11c. Holders are not very liberal in their offerings and are looking out for higher prices owing to the better feeling in Great Britain.

POULTRY AND GAME.

DRESSED POULTRY—The holiday demand for dressed poultry has been good. Geese are scarce and have gone up 1c., while there are no turkeys offering at 8½c., the lowest price paid now being 10c. The receipts have been light. We quote: Chickens, 30 to 50c. per pair; ducks, 50 to 80c. per pair; geese, 8 to 9c. per lb.; turkeys, 10 to 11c.

LIVE POULTRY—As was to be expected, the receipts of live poultry have been light, but poultrymen are confident that they will greatly improve after New Year's. The prices are unchanged. The Canadian Produce Company, 36 and 38 Esplanade east, Toronto, will pay until further notice for spring chickens, 6c. per lb. For ducklings, 5c. per lb. For hens (including last year's birds) 2½c. per lb. These prices are for live weight on arrival. Crates shipped free and express paid up to 50c. per 100 lb. of chickens.

GAME— The movement in game from stock has been good. Prices are unchanged. We quote: Canvas back, 75c.; red head, $3; pin tail, 75c.; blue bill, 60c.; mallard, $1 to $1.25 and black duck, $1 to $1.25 per brace.

FISH AND OYSTERS.

The demand for frozen fish is very good, as it is also for smoked fish, and oysters. The latter are 30c. per gal. higher in some cases. Sea salmon are 4 to 5c. per lb. lower. Note the greater range in halibut. We quote as follows: Frozen fish—Codfish, 6 to 8c.; whitefish, 7 to 7½c.; herring, 4 to 5c.; trout, 7½c.; halibut, 11 to 14c.; sea salmon, 9 to 10c.; haddock, 6c.; perch, 4c.; British Columbian salmon, 20c. Smoked fish—Ciscoes, $1 to $1.25; finnan haddie, 7 to 7½c.; Digby herring, 60 to 75c. per bundle. Prepared fish — Dried cod, in 112-lb. bundles, $4.75 per cwt.; flitched cod, $5.50 to $6; boneless cod, in bricks, 4½ to 5½c. per lb.; steak cod, 6½c. per lb.; shredded cod (2 doz. in box), $1.80 per box; boneless fish, loose, in 25-lb. boxes, 4 to 4½c., and in 5-lb. boxes, 5c. per lb. Oysters—Standards, $6.75 per large pail, $3.75 to $4.05 per small pail, or $1.50 to $1.75 per Imperial gallon; selects, $2 to $2.15 per Imperial gallon.

714's, $5.25; Messina lemons, $2.75 to $3 per box; Malaga lemons, ½ chests, $5.25 to $6; pineapples, 15 to 20c.; Canadian apples, $3 to $5 per bbl.; limes, $1.50 per box; cocoanuts, $3.50 per bag of 100; bananas, No. 1, $1.75 to $2.25, and eight hands, $1 to $1.50; Spanish onions, $1.10; sweet potatoes, Vineland's, $1 to $4.25; Malaga grapes, $5.50 to $7 per keg; cranberries, $7.75 to $10; barrel onions, $3; chestnuts, 10 to 11c.; Italian chestnuts, 12½c.; holly, $1 per case.

FISH.

The fish trade is the best that dealers have experienced for nearly a quarter of a century. This week, however, there have been a number of reductions in prices, due to an increased supply and the accumulation of stocks. These have taken place in haddies, smoked, medium herrings, dore, pike, No. 1 Nova Scotian herring, green codfish, No. 1 green haddock, dressed codfish and dried codfish. We quote: Haddies, 6c.; bloaters, 90c. per box; kippers, 90c. per box; smoked, medium herrings, 11c. per box; fresh haddock and cod, 3½c. per lb.; whitefish, 6½c.; dore, 5½c.; pike, 1½c.; halibut, 9c.; salmon, 9c.; trout large and medium, 7c.; No. 1 herrings, Nova Scotia, $5.25 per bbl.; No. 1 herrings, Nova Scotia, $2.80 per ½ bbl.; No. 1 Holland herrings, $6.50 per ½ bbl.; No. 1 Scotch herrings, $6.50 per ½ bbl.; No. 1 Scotch herrings, 98c. per keg; Holland herrings, 72c. per keg; salted eels, 6½c. per lb.; No. 1 green codfish, $5.75 per bbl.; No. 2, $4.50; large, $6.50; No. 1 green haddock, $4.25 per bbl.; No. 1 pickled sardines, $5.50 per bbl.; No. 2 mackerel, $12.50 per bbl.; No. 3 mackerel, $9 per bbl.; cod, 1 and 2-lb. blocks, 6c. per lb.; loose boneless cod, 5c. per lb. in 40-lb. boxes; dressed codfish, $4.80 per case; dry codfish, $4.65 per 112-lb. bundle; No. 1 Labrador salmon, $17.50 in tierces; No. 1 Labrador salmon, $12 per bbl.; No. 1 Labrador salmon, $6.25 per ½ bbl.; No. 1 B.C. salmon, $6 per ½ bbl. and $11 per bbl.; standard bulk oysters, $1.30 per gal.; select bulk oysters, $1.50 per gal.; Malpeque, Blue Point and other shelled oysters, $6 per bbl.; clams, in shell, $4.50 per bbl.; Marshall's kippered herrings, and same with tomato sauce, $1.45 per doz.; Canadian kippered, $1 per doz.; Canadian ¼ sardines, $3.75 per 100; canned Cove oysters, No. 1 size, $1.30 per doz.; canned Cove oysters, No. 2 size, $2.20 per doz.

FLOUR AND GRAIN.

FLOUR.—The market has ruled quiet during the week, but prices remain steady at about former quotations. Western millers are not free sellers. In carlots, we quote as follows: Spring wheat patents, $4.10 to $4.30; winter wheat patents, $3.85 to $4; straight rollers, $3.65 to $3.75; strong bakers', $3.80 to $4.

GRAIN.—We quote: Manitoba No. 1 hard, 72½c. January, Fort William; peas, 87½c.; rye, 61 to 62c.; No. 2 barley, 57c.; oats, 48½ to 49c.; buckwheat, 54 to 54½c.; corn, 75 to 76c.

OATMEAL.—The market is probably a little easier, barrels being worth $5.85 to $5.90 in small lots.

FEED.—The market is firm with sales of Ontario bran, in bulk, at $21. Shorts $22 to $23 and mouillie, $28 to $30.

BALED HAY.—Business continues brisk at country points, notwithstanding the scarcity of cars and poor country roads. There is a good export and local demand. We quote: No. 1 timothy at $10.50 to $11; No. 2 timothy, $9.50 to $10; clover mixture, $8.50 to $9; clover, $7.50 to $8.

COUNTRY PRODUCE.

EGGS.—The shortage in the egg supply is now very apparent and hence a sharp upturn in prices. There are no stocks available. The English market has taken more than was expected at the beginning of the season and it is now a question whether there are supplies enough on hand to run through the winter season. Dealers are asking 20c. for pickled eggs: selects are worth 25c, and new laid, 10c.

HONEY.—It is now simply impossible to get white honey. Buckwheat honey, in comb, is worth 10c. and extracted white, 9½ to 10c. Strained sells at 8 to 9c.

DRESSED POULTRY.—The holiday demand for poultry was exceedingly good and our commission houses made a good turnover. Choice turkeys have sold at 10½ to 11c., and frozen, 9½c. Choice geese were in good request and sold at pretty high prices, 7 to 7½c. Choice chickens were worth 8½ to 9c. and fowls, 5½ to 6c.

ASHES.—The market is steady, first pots being quoted at $4.40 to $4.45 per 100 lb.; seconds, $4 to $4.05, and pearls, $6.75 to $7.

BUTTER AND CHEESE.

BUTTER.—There is a growing opinion that this is a good time to anticipate butter wants. The high price of feed is curtailing the make and as stocks are light all available supplies are likely to be wanted for home consumption. Creamery butter is worth 20½c. out of commission merchants' hands. Rolls are selling at 17 to 17½c.

CHEESE.—The market is quiet at this time of year, but bidding is becoming more brisk, cables of Saturday and Monday showing a rise of 1s. Colored are now quoted at 48s. 6d. and white, 47s. 6d., for mild-flavored stuff. Holders of cheese in this market are looking for higher prices. At present 50 boxes of western Septembers could be bought for 10 to 10¼c., but 10½c. would probably be the quotation on 500 boxes.

MONTREAL NOTES.

Canned peels are very scarce.

Sugar is 10c. per 100 lb. higher.

The cheese market is very firm as also are butter values.

Eggs are 2 to 3c. higher on pickled, selling now at 20c.

NEW BRUNSWICK MARKETS.

OFFICE OF THE CANADIAN GROCER

St. John, N.B., December 28, 1901.

WE wish you a happy and prosperous new year. The year's business is closed, but it is still too early to tell much in regard to results. There are several of our houses who do not take stock till the first of February. The greater number, however, take stock at this time, and may use the new year holiday for the purpose. It is generally felt the results of the year will be good. Many report much improved sales. The markets have rather favored dealers. There have, however, been some quite heavy losses from bad debts. It is expected travellers will take the road very early in the new year. The present week has been a quiet one, though, for the last week of the year, sales have been quite large. The markets show little change.

OILS.—In burning oils the market is unchanged. Competition increases. The Canadian company have had two tank wagons on for some time. This week, The American company put one on. There is no doubt some competition is a good thing. It was noticed this year, it is said, in the market for cod oil, that the fishermen were getting a better price and the consumer paying a less price than otherwise would have been the case. Cod oil continues high. Receipts are more than equal to the local demand. Lubricating oils are quiet, as are paint oils. In the latter quite full prices rule.

SALT.—This is a very large receiving point for Liverpool coarse salt, particularly during the winter months, when the weekly Liverpool boats are running. Owing to high freights prices are high and very firm this season. Sales are about equal to receipts, so that as yet but light stocks are held. In fine salt very little English is being received, and sells slowly. Canadian is having the sale. We quote: Liverpool coarse, 50 to 60c.; English factory-filled, 95c. to $1; Canadian fine, $1 per bag; cheese and butter salt bulk, $2.40 per bbl.; 5-lb. bags, $2.85 to $2.90 per bbl.; 10-lb. bags, $2.70 to $2.75 per bbl.; 20-lb. wood boxes, 22c. each; 10-lb. wood boxes, 14c. each; cartons, $2 per case of 2 doz.; English bottled salt, $1.25 to $1.30 per doz.; mineral rock salt, 60c. per 100 lb. (Selected lumps.)

CANNED GOODS.—Salmon have been received very freely during the week. In sockeye some fish were sold here at very low prices; in fact, at but a very small advance over cohoes, certainly a surprise to the trade, being much below earlier prices. In vegetables prices are unchanged and a fair business is doing. Fruits have a fair sale for a few lines, such as peaches and strawberries. Meats sell slowly. Domestic fish, particularly kippered herring, have been a matter of interest during the season. These compare very favorably with the imported. There is a large sale here for Canadian jams in wood.

GREEN FRUITS.—The Christmas sale was very large and this week the movement has been good. There is a large sale for oranges, the market during the week being short of Jamaicas. Valencias are large sellers. Very few of the 714's are brought here. Californian and Floridas sell at about the same price. There are larger offerings than for some years, particularly in Floridas. Lemons are rather firmer. There are free sales. Apples sell somewhat slowly. Had it not been for the Bishop pippins our market would have been short. Of these there were large receipts and the quality was better than usual. Grapes have sold very freely. There are large quantities of Malaga held in Boston and our dealers have bought freely. A few bananas are regularly received. Cranberries, while still lower than last year, are moving up.

DRIED FRUITS.—The Christmas sales were large and very satisfactory from dealers' standpoint. Stocks have been well cleaned up. Prices in all lines are moving up. Malaga loose advanced during the past week. Californians will now largely hold the market. Seeded raisins are good sellers. Some few are held, having been bought in New York just before the advance. Prices are firm and it is expected they will go higher. In prunes there have been fair sales. Prices show no change but as the season for best sale approaches, are likely to be higher, particularly the small sizes. It is strange apricots and peaches sell so slowly, as they are particularly good. Evaporated apples are firmer and stocks held are light. There were some receipts during the week. Onions are higher.

DAIRY PRODUCE.—Butter is in quite large supply, though much received is very poor and moves slowly. There is a good demand at full price for best stock. Eggs show little change, but are rather easier. The difference in price has been much greater than the difference in quality between case and strictly fresh. In cheese prices are unchanged.

SUGAR.—Prices last week reached the lowest figure known, but they seemed to have gone too low as they quickly regained 10 cents and seem quite firm. The price is a very low one. Sales have been and are very large.

MOLASSES.—The market seems unchanged. Carrying charges, of course, add to the cost, and unless prices are advanced must come out of the profits. Prices are low, and little except Porto Rico is being sold.

FISH.—There have been fair receipts of fresh fish. At this season there is an active demand, as they can be shipped to a distance. Cod and haddock are chiefly received. The sale of finnan haddies is large. There are no bloaters. In smoked herring prices are still low. Pickled are unchanged and sales at this season are light. In dry cod the full prices are quite firmly held. We quote: Haddies, 5½ to 6c.; smoked herring, 6 to 7c.; fresh haddock and cod, 2½ to 3c.; boneless fish, 4 to 5c.; pollock, $1.60 to $1.70 per 100 lb.; pickled herring, $2.15 to $2.25 per ½ bbl.; Canso herring, $5.75 per bbl.; kippered herring, $1 per box; Shelburne, $2.50 per ½ bbl.; dry cod, $3.50 to $3.60; frozen herring, 90c. per 100; smelt, 5 to 6c. per lb.

FLOUR, FEED AND MEAL.—While the week shows little change in flour, prices are very firm. Manitobas sell very freely. In oatmeal, prices are not as firm. The high figures have very much affected the sale. Oats are also reported lower. In feed, there is rather more offering; there is a ready sale. Cornmeal holds its high price. Beans, are, perhaps, hardly as firm. Barley and split peas are rather higher. There are no blue peas. We quote as follows: Manitoba flour, $4.70 to $4.80; best Ontario, $4.10 to $4.20; medium, $3.60 to $3.80; oatmeal, $5.70 to $5.90; cornmeal, $3.30 to $3.35; middlings, $26 to $28; oats, 58 to 60c.; handpicked beans, $1.65 to $1.70; prime, $1.55 to $1.60; yellow eye beans, $2.80 to $3.00; split peas, $4.75 to $4.85; barley, $4.50 to $4.55; hay, $12 to $14.

TRADE NOTES.

A car of lard from The N. K. Fairbank Co. was distributed to the trade this week.

A. S. Bowman, one of our local brokers, is distributing a pretty calendar to his friends.

Mr. Kent Scovil, late with The Boss Biscuit Co., is going on the road for Baird & Peters to sell "Vim" teas.

Shipping is very active—that is winter port business—and hay shipments to Africa. There has averaged about one steamer arriving each day for many weeks.

Many dealers in the west, particularly shippers of feed and oats, will hear with regret of the death of Mr. A. C. Smith, of A. C. Smith & Co. Mr. Smith has been ill for a long time, and has suffered greatly. He was a man held in very high esteem.

STORE UNDER QUARANTINE.

A confectionery store at 501 Parliament street, Toronto, is under quarantine for smallpox. John Vance is the proprietor, and his sister-in-law is the woman who was put off the train at Toronto Junction, but was allowed to proceed by the doctors, and afterwards contracted the disease of smallpox at Acton, Ont. She was visiting at 501 Parliament street before she left, and so the medical health department placed the store under surveillance, and confiscated the Christmas delivery of cakes, candies, etc., which was about to go out. This is very hard for the owner, and Dr. Sheard thinks that some compensation ought to be made.

NUMBER OF DEER KILLED.

The number of deer-hunting licenses issued this year in Ontario is estimated at 5,000, complete returns not yet having come to hand. At the moderate allowance of 1½ to each hunter, this would mean that 7,500 deer were killed. The Canadian Express Co. carried alone 2,372, an increase of 878 over last year. Taking into account the number killed by settlers, Indians and half-breeds, and by those hunters who did not have to express them to their homes, there could not have been less than 8,000 or 9,000 deer killed this season.

Capt. Fulton, of Victoria, B.C., has received orders for 4,000 barrels of herring from Australasia. Now he is looking for a schooner, fitted for the fishing trade, as he intends starting a herring-fishing industry, with Victoria as headquarters.

NOVA SCOTIA MARKETS.

Halifax, December 30, 1901.

THE last week's business in the grocery line has been a good one, especially, and for obvious reasons, in the retail department. The week just opening has prospects of being fair, at least until after New Year's, but merchants, both wholesale and retail, are now considering the results of the year's work in general rather than that for the few days until the close of the year.

Books are now being sharply balanced, stock-taking in some instances has already commenced, and each particular firm will soon know just how they stand for the year's business. Though some may not find the year to have been a profitable one, this will be due rather to bad management than to the state of trade in the country, for certain conditions which gauge the country's prosperity as a whole read the right way.

One of these gauges is the banking business. During the year the banks of Canada have loaned to the people $328,000,000, while the people have loaned to the banks $331,000,000. This has compelled the banks to invest in some other way than by loans to the people the $3,000,000 difference; $104,000,000, capital and reserve; and $75,000,000 note circulation. This general sign of prosperity in business has affected Halifax equally with other places, and the grocery business has been no exception to the general rule. To show the position of Halifax, it may be stated that bank clearings for last week amounted to $1,636,349.94 as against $1,428,460.27 for the corresponding week last year—a gain of 13 per cent.

Butter is still scarce in the market, especially the best grade of creamery, and the price still remains firm at 22 to 23c. wholesale, and 26 to 28c. retail. There is considerable cheese in the market, but the price is firm. Ordinary grades command 10c. wholesale, while best Septembers are held at 11c. Potatoes are plentiful, but not in so great demand as a week or two ago, as many have laid in their winter supply ex-vessel, imported from Prince Edward Island. The price, wholesale, now ruling is 40c. Sugar, with the recent reductions in the general market, has dropped about ½c. on the cwt.

Turkeys, ducks, geese and fowls generally have been in the usual great demand during Christmas week, and will continue during this week to nearly the same extent. Turkeys are quoted at 12 to 13c., having risen one cent just previous to the Christmas sales; ducks and geese, 9 to 10c.: chickens 40 to 60c. per pair—prices wholesale. There does not seem to be enough raised in these lines in our own Province, and large quantittes are imported from Prince Edward Island. The stock from there is not looked on so favorably as our own, as it is, as a general rule, not "pulled." With turkeys, for example, the head is either left on or cut off where the man suggested cutting off the dog's tail—close behind the ears. However, the quality of the Prince Edward Island stock somewhat makes up for this.

The fish market remains steady at the prices formerly quoted. The lobster season has opened on the South Coast and Bay of Fundy, and reports from these districts show that the catch is good. The lobsters taken will principally be shipped alive to the Boston and New York markets by way of the Yarmouth steamers. Considerable quantities of fish from the shore ports are coming into Halifax by the local schooners, but the markets are not overstocked, and prices for the last two weeks have not changed to any extent.

The fact that the 2nd Canadian Mounted Rifles are mobilizing here gives quite a boom to the grocery and provision trade. Up to last week there were about 600 in all here, and, with those arriving within the last two days and others on the way, there will be over 1,000. It is estimated that the maintenance of these will average nearly $1 per day. To this must be added the keep of some 800 to 1,000 horses. Besides this, each man, no doubt, spends something—some more, some less. The contingent will leave in Halifax $50,000 to $100,000, outside of the transport outfit. This will affect generally every line of trade.

PERSONAL MENTION.

Mr. M. F. Derby, general merchant, Selkirk, Ont., was in Toronto this week. He reports an immense Christmas trade, and trade in general is very good in his district.

HIS ASSETS WILL BE SOLD.

Charles Plumb, who has been conducting a grocery store at 1,146 Yonge street, Toronto, made an assignment on December 19 to Richard Tew. On December 27 his creditors met at the chambers of the assignee, where a statement was submitted showing assets of about $1,800, and liabilities approximating $3 300. It was decided that his assets should be disposed of, so the assignee was instructed to have the stock sold by auction.

THE GROCERY CLERKS WILL DANCE.

The Montreal Grocery Clerks' Association is holding a swell dance in Norman's Hall, St. Catherine street, on Wednesday January 15. Blasi's Orchestra will supply the music, while Roncari will have complete charge of the refreshments. The committee in charge consists of Messrs. F. Dubord (chairman), A. Martel, G. N. Robert, H. Vezina and O. Quesnel, with J. B. Poirier as treasurer. Tickets for lady and gentleman can be obtained from any of the committee at 75c. each.

CUBAN SUGAR STATISTICS.

ACCORDING to The New York Tribune, "the 16 years, 1853-68, have been called the 'golden age' of Cuba. In them the production of sugar rose pretty steadily from 322,000 to 749,000 tons, and the price averaged from 4 to 4.50 cents a pound. But the Spanish administration was perversely bad, intolerable burdens were laid upon industry and commerce, the rivalry of European beet sugar began to be felt, and in 1868 the Ten Years' Rebellion began. The result was to send sugar production down to 533,000 tons in 1878. This reduction of product helped, however, to keep up prices, and down to 1883 they remained at the figures mentioned. As the United States was levying a tariff of about 3 cents a pound on sugar, a large proportion of Cuban sugar went to the English market. A change occurred in 1883, when the United States adopted a new tariff, reducing the rate of duty on sugar to about 2 cents a pound. European beet sugar competition drove Cuban sugar largely out of the English market, and so it came to this country in vast quantities. But the price was steadily forced down to 3.61 in 1884 and to 2.67 in the disastrous year of 1885, from which, however, it rallied to 3.28 cents a pound in 1890. During these years the cost of production was somewhat reduced, and the amount produced rose in one year as high as 730,000 tons. The bulk of it came to the United States. A new era came in 1890, when the Spanish export tax of .80 of a cent. a pound was abolished and the McKinley Bill established reciprocity and put sugar on the free list. The price did not change much, being 3.03 cents a pound in 1891, 2.93 in 1892, 3.09 in 1893 and 2.92 in 1894. But production increased enormously, to 815,000 tons in 1891 and more than 1,000,000 in 1894, and practically all of it came to the United States. Those were years of prosperity and contentment in Cuba. But in 1895 the Wilson Bill went into full effect. Reciprocity was abolished, the United States import duty and the Spanish export tax on sugar were reimposed, the price of sugar declined, as did also the production and the sales to the United States, and the Island burst into a revolution."

ROBERT SWAN'S ESTATE.

ROBERT SWAN, of Swan Bros., retail grocers, Toronto, who died November 3 last, left an estate worth $88,299.04. It is apportioned as follows: Book debts and notes, $1,207.78; moneys secured by mortgage, $10,809.79; stocks, $54,309.87; cash, $5,088.92; one half interest in Swan Bros.' partnership, $10,437.68; real estate, $6,395. The realty is one-half interest in land and stables in the rear of 62 Duke street, $445; same interest in No. 84 Woodlawn avenue, $5,000; same interest in No. 61, $450, and same interest in No. 43, $500.

Mr. Swan's will was made on February 12 last, and appoints the brother, Henry, and the nephew, James Henry Swan, executors, and the sister, Janet Swan, executrix. The estate is to be sold, as soon as deemed advisable, to pay these legacies: $1,000 each to the nieces, Mrs. Hugh Ritchie, Bertha, Edith and Beatrice Swan, daughters of the executor, within three months; $25,000 is to be set aside, the income of which is to be given to the sister, Janet Swan, and after her death the principal is to be divided among the children of her brother Henry; the income of $10,000 is to be paid to another sister, Susan Rough, and the principal, after her death, to her children.

The executors are to settle the partnership accounts and then give $15,000 to the nephew, James Henry Swan. The brother, Alexander Swan, is given $2,000 and an annuity of $100. Mrs. Agnes Baxter, of Edinburgh, Scotland, gets £5 a year; she is Mr. Swan's aunt. In a year Wm. Prouting, Toronto, is to have $500.

These bequests are made to charities; St. Andrew's Society, $1,000 for a burying plot in Mount Pleasant Cemetery; Knox College, $500; Northwest Presbyterian Mission and Deer Park Presbyterian Church, $300 each; Hospital for Sick Children and Old Men's Home, $200 each; Home for Incurables, Working Boys' Home, Combined City Charities, House of Providence, Upper Canada Bible Society, Tract Society, Salvation Army and St. John the Divine Hospital, $100 each.

The residue of the estate goes to the Brother, Henry Swan. The legacies to his children and to those of his sister, Mrs. Rough, are to be paid when each becomes 25 years of age.

OPENED WITH AN "AT-HOME."

On the evening of December 28, the new factory of The Petrie-Taylor Magnet Cream Separator Co., Guelph, Ont., was formally opened by an enjoyable At-Home. Over 300 guests were present, when a delightful musical programme was rendered and many speeches were made. Light refreshments were served and dancing was indulged in till the early hours of the morning.

CALIFORNIAN FRUIT SHIPMENTS.

COMPARATIVE shipments of Californian fruit by rail and sea for a series of years, says Bradstreets, show that there has been a steady growth of total shipments of fruit from California, the most marked and steady increase being in shipments of citrus fruits, which increased from 34,209.6 tons in 1890 to 226,546.6 tons in 1900, an increase of 192,337 tons, or 562 2 per cent., the highest point being reached in 1900. Shipments of green deciduous fruits have not increased in like proportion, however. Although there has been a marked increase in such shipments since 1890, they have not materially increased during the past few years, shipments in 1900 being less than those of 1899, and but little larger than those of 1894.

Dried fruit shipments have had a very steady growth, total shipments amounting to 90,053.8 tons in 1900, against 32,237.5 tons in 1890. Shipments of raisins reached their maximum in 1898, in which year 47,796 3 tons left the State, against 20,561.1 tons in 1890. In 1899 and 1900 there was a considerable falling off in the shipment of raisins, about 36,000 tons being shipped in each of those years. Shipments of canned goods show many fluctuations; from 40,060.9 tons in 1890, they decreased to 31,626.3 tons in 1893, and with numerous fluctuations finally reached 75.556 9 tons in 1900, the highest point in the entire period. The following table shows by years the total shipments by rail and sea of each kind of fruit out of California from 1890 to 1900:

TRADE NEWS.

A SMALL consignment of apples infected with both the San Jose scale and the larva of the codlin moth was seized at Vancouver, by Inspector Cunningham, and condemned. The apples were of the Lady variety, and were imported for the Christmas trade by the merchants. They will either be cremated, or else sent back to California.

MANITOBA MARKETS.

Winnipeg, Man., December 30, 1901.

THE weather for the week has been almost ideal—mild enough for everyone to get round comfortably—cold enough to prevent winter clothes being a burden. Christmas Day was bright and sunny and there was much driving and skating on the river and in the rinks.

Trade for Monday and Tuesday was very brisk, but since then has been very quiet, indeed, and probably will show little revival until the new year is fairly in, when there are likely to be some change in prices. Sugar declined 10c. during the week but is up again this morning to its old figure. The market is unsteady and there will probably be further changes.

FLOUR.—The demand is very good and prices are without change, the Ogilvies still quoting an advance of 10c. and the Lake of the Woods remaining at the old figure. Prices are: Ogilvie's Hungarian patent, $2.10; Glenora patent, $1.95; Alberta patent, $1.75; Manitoba, $1.55; Imperial XXXX, $1.35; Nestor, $1.20; Lake of the Woods Five Roses, $2; Red patent, $1.85; Medora, $1.45; XXXX, $1.25.

CEREALS.—There is not a single change to report in this market. There is a steady consumptive demand to report in all lines. Rolled oats, in 80-lb. sacks, $2.40; in 40-lb. sacks, $1.22½; in 20-lb. sacks, 63c.; standard and granulated oatmeal, $2.90. Rolled wheat is without change at $2.30. Cornmeal is very firm at $2. Split peas have advanced, and are now quoted at $2.75 to $2.80. Beans are in nominal demand at $1.90 for prime medium.

SUGAR.—On December 24 a drop of 10c. per cwt. was announced, but on Saturday morning prices went back to the old figures. Extra standard granulated, $4.95; ground, $4.40; powdered, $6.65; lump, $6.40 to $6.65; bright yellow, $4.30.

SYRUPS.—No change can be reported in this line either. The demand is steady. Extra bright, per lb., 3 to 3½c.; medium, per lb., 2¾ to 3c.; maple, case 1 doz. ½ gal. tins, $6.75 to $7; glucose, bbls., 3¼c. per lb.; do., ½ bbls., 3⅝c. per lb.; molasses, per gal. (New Orleans), 35 to 38c.; do., Porto Rico, 45 to 46c.; do., Barbados, 55 to 57½c.

DRIED FRUITS.—This market is practically dead for the moment, but new prices are likely to be current next week.

FISH.—The situation in regard to haddies and herrings has not improved, and the demand is rather over the supply at the present time. No change of price has occurred. Haddies have seldom been so high in price at this season, being still quoted at 10c. Labrador herring, $4.

CURED MEATS.—The market is firm but slow and there is no change in prices. Smoked meats—Hams, 13½c.; breakfast bacon, bellies, 14½c.; breakfast bacon, backs, 14½c.; spiced rolls, 11¼c.; shoulders, 10¼c. Dry salt meats—Long clear bacon, 11c.; shoulders, 9½c.; smoked long clear, 12c.; boneless, 12½c.; backs, 11¼c.

LARD.—Lard, 20-lb. pails, pure stm. ren., $2.40 to $2.60; lard, pure, in 3, 5 and 10-lb. tins, per case of 60 lb., $8.40; lard, pure, tierces, per lb., 12½c.; lard, 50-lb. tubs, $6.40; lard, compound, 20-lb. pails, $2 to $2.35.

GREEN FRUITS.—The market is quiet after the Christmas demand but will revive before New Year's, as there is always a heavy fruit consumption here for the new year. Prices are without change. Apples, $5.50 to $6.50; Washington apples, $2.00 per box; Californian navel oranges, $4 to $5.25, according to size; Mexican oranges, $4.50 to $5 per case; Japanese oranges, $1 per box; pears, Winter Nellis, $3; bananas, per bunch, $3.50 to $3.75; lemons, $5.25; Malaga grapes, $8 per keg; cranberries, $10 per bbl.; cocoanuts, $1 per doz.

BUTTER.—The scarcity of butter is becoming more apparent every day, and there was never a time when so little was being received. No adequate cause, either, is assigned for the shortage. The receipts of creamery bricks are limited to a few hundred pounds per week, which job at 25c. The receipts of dairy, fresh and sweet, are not much larger, while the demand is very heavy. It is difficult to quote an exact market, but the best grade of dairy butter is jobbing at 20c.

CHEESE.—Very little Manitoba-made remains and is now principally in the hands of the retailers. The price is 11c. for Manitoba and 10½c. for Ontario.

EGGS.—Hen fruit is chiefly conspicuous by its absence and just now guaranteed new laid retail at 50c. per dozen. Ontario fresh gathered are worth 27c. and Manitoba fresh gathered, when any can be got, 30c.

ORILLIA AS A SUMMER RESORT.

The Orillia Board of Trade is already preparing for its summer work of extensively advertising that town as a pleasant and attractive summer resort. The Grand Trunk Railway will get out 15,000 of their Orillia and Couchiching folders, through the efforts of the board. Besides, 5,000 guide books for Orillia have been contracted for with Desbarats & Co., of Montreal, and the usual space in Smily's Summer Resort Guide, has been taken. Altogether there will be distributed over 20,000 beautifully illustrated booklets, attractively gotten up, dealing exclusively with the natural advantages for tourists and others offered by Orilla and the surrounding district. The usual amount of newspaper advertising will also be done.

THE PROVISION TRADE.

The Markets—The Provision Trade in Glasgow—Miscellaneous Notes.

THE PROVISION TRADE IN GLASGOW.

AT the annual dinner of the Glasgow Provision Trade Association, Mr. William Letham, Edinburgh, in proposing the toast of the evening, said that the provision trade of Scotland really began about fifty years ago, and since then there had been a constant stream of the world's products to her shores. In the first days the supplies came from the Continent, but latterly the chief supplies had come from the United States, Australia, and last, but not least, from Canada—that land of snow and first-class provisions. (Applause.) He was glad to record that those engaged in the grocery trade of the present day were better educated and conducted their business on more scientific lines than 50 years ago. But that fact had increased competition, and he feared that they must look for an extension of that competition. However, competition on legitimate lines was not a bad thing —(hear, hear)—and it could be best faced by an increased knowledge of trading practices. (Applause.)

The chairman, in responding, remarked that the past year in the Glasgow provsion trade had been one of considerable difficulty and anxiety. While the volume of business had been satisfactory enough, profits had been small. But he believed they had only been suffering from one of those cycles of dull trade which overtook all branches. At the same time, they occupied a somewhat unique position as compared with others, for it could not be said that their trade was a creature of fashion. (Laughter.) Scotland was the only part of the Kingdom where it could be said that the foreigner had not gained a footing in the distributing business of the provision trade. Referring to the Produce Exchange at Glasgow, he held it enabled them to do their business more expeditiously and to better advantage than was possible before. The Scotch Provision Association was the voice of the trade, and collective action through its channels enabled them to settle disputes without having recourse to law, and it provided a flood of trade information not to be got otherwise than through the trade press. During the year their association had given evidence before two Government Commissions—the inquiry on market reports and on butter standards. He called attention to the blue book issued last week which contained the report and recommendations of the Butter Preserve Commission, in which they saw justification of their recommendation regarding the use of preservatives in butter.

MUST HAVE COLD STORAGE.

No fast steamship line to Great Britain is to be subsidized by the Canadian Government unless an adequate system of cold storage is installed by the company for Canadian perishable food products. This is the statement made by the Hon. Sydney Fisher.

DONATE $520 FOR PRIZES.

The Ontario Pork Packers' Association have donated $520 towards the prize list of the Provincial Winter Fair, at Guelph, Ont., by way of showing their appreciation of its work in improving the quality of hogs. J. W. Flavelle, of the William Davies Co., in forwarding that company's quota to Secretary Westervelt, says: "In common with all others who visited Guelph, I think the work performed by this organization of very great value to the country." P. Paton, of the Collingwood Meat Co., writes: "The show was most creditable in every respect, and is certainly a great educator." C. C. L. Wilson, of the Ingersoll Packing Co., remarks: "You certainly ought to be proud over such a show, and you must get more room for another year or you will not be able to accommodate the people."

THE PROVISION MARKETS.

TORONTO.

Western and northern hogs still continue high, the prices for them in some cases being 25c. higher than last week, so they are now selling at $7.90 to $8.15 per 100 lb. On the local market fresh hogs, beef, lambs, and veal are quiet on account of the holiday season. The prices are unchanged. We quote as follows: Dressed hogs, $8.10 to $8.25; beef carcasses, $5.50 to $6.50 per 100 lb.; hind quarters, $6 to $7 per 100 lb.; front quarters, $4.50 to $5 per 100 lb. Veal, 6 to 7½c. per lb.; lambs, 6 to 6½c. Live hogs: Selects, $6.50, and lights $6 per 100 lb.; choice export cattle bring $4.75 to $5 per 100 lb.; lights sell at $4 to $4.50.

In sympathy with the prevalent high prices of fresh pork, hog products continue firm with an upward tendency. The demand is quiet. We quote as follows: Long clear bacon, 11c.; smoked breakfast bacon, 14 to 15c.; rolls, 11½c.; medium hams, 13½c.; large hams, 12½ to 13c.; shoulder hams, 11c., and backs, 13½ to 14c.; Canadian heavy mess pork, $19.50 to $20; short cut, $21.00 to $22; lard, in tierces, 11c. per lb.; tubs, 11¼c., and pails, 11½c.

MONTREAL.

The provision market is steady to firm. Business is only fair this week. We quote: Heavy Canadian short cut mess pork, $22.00; Chicago clear pork, $23.25 for heavy and $22.75 for medium; selected heavy short cut mess pork, boneless, $22.00 to $22.50; hams, 12 to 13c.; bacon, 15c.; lard, pure Canadian, $2.25 per pail; refined lard compound (Fairbank's), $2.02 for 1 to 24 pails; $2.00 for 25 to 49 pails; $1 99 for 50 pails and over. Snow White and Globe compound, $1.72½ per pail; Cottolene, 10⅞c. for 20 lb. pails, and 10⅝c. for 60 lb. tubs, for Quebec and Ontario.

ST. JOHN, N. B.

Pork, while very high, has not been advanced during the week. The stock of barrelled goods is very light and the sale is small. Barrelled beef is dull. In fresh, there is a good sale. Much goes into the woods at this time. Lard is firmly held.

A SUCCESSEUL VENTURE.

That consolidation, of which we read so much these days, is a powerful economizing agent, even when adopted on a small scale, has been well illustrated this past year in the virtual amalgamation of two of the largest Canadian wholesale provision houses, D. Gunn Bros. & Co., of Toronto, and Chas. Langlois & Co., Montreal. The businesses are still run separately, the latter firm's style being changed to Gunn, Langlois & Co., but they are under the one management, that does not allow the interests of the two establishments to clash. The Toronto business remains under the control of Mr. Andrew Gunn, considered one of the shrewdest men in the trade, while the Montreal house is in charge of Mr. John A. Gunn, who is reputed to carry an old head on young shoulders, and Mr. Charles Langlois, who has bought and sold butter and eggs under his own name since 1881, and is probably the best known commission man in the Province of Quebec. The consolidation of an immense Canadian and export commission trade under these three stalwarts has been one of the events of the year, and that the venture has proven a pronounced success will be important news to the trade.

Such a firm, if we regard the whole as one, is possessed of immense advantages. It can gather and distribute goods economically and keep in touch with all parts of the Dominion, as well as its two most important markets. It can provide itself with the best facilities. Gunn, Langlois & Co. have the only private cold-storage plant in Montreal, in addition to their extensive ice-refrigerator plants for their pickled-egg business. Into this cold storage all goods are placed immediately on arrival, nothing being kept hanging about in the warehouse awaiting a purchaser. This is important in all lines of provisions, but more particularly in the case of poultry. They are also in a position to employ the best shipping facilities; in Montreal they have a warehouse right beside the dock and within a stone's-throw of Bonsecours market.

Speaking of this Montreal firm, it might be interesting to our readers to know that, although in the provision business so long, and although he has been successful enough to take life easy, Mr. Langlois gets down to the office every morning between 5 and 6 o'clock. He's an early bird, and has caught quite a number of worms. When he started business he inaugurated a system of giving his men table board in his St. Paul street warehouse; this free dining table is still set for the men in the establishment twice a day by the firm's own chef—something, we dare say, unique in the Canadian commission business.

LARD

Orders can be filled by any of the leading jobbers in Canada or direct.

So many merchants who have not tried Fairbank's Boar's Head brand of Refined Lard Compound say, "I have tried other brands of compound lard." We want to make such merchants a present of a pail of our Boar's Head brand, conditionally that they will give it a test in their own homes; just to prove to them that there is as much difference between Fairbank's Boar's Head brand of Refined Lard Compound and other compounds as there is between low grades of tallow and the choicest butter.

CEYLON TEA

BLACK

The merit of the Black Teas has established them high in popular estimation. They are drunk wherever the English language is spoken. They follow the flag and drive out less meritorious growths.

OR

But some consumers are wedded to light drawing kinds, with pale liquor and without the full body and richness of the black kinds.

GREEN

The Green Teas of Ceylon are made expressly for this trade. In Make, Quality and Price they challenge comparison with other growths.

They are grown, prepared and packed with the same skill by the British Planters who have revolutionized the black tea trade.

They have caught on in Canada and are no longer in the experimental stage. Try them.

NORTHWEST TRAVELLERS.

THE annual meeting of the Northwest Commercial Travellers' Association at Winnipeg resulted in the following being elected as officers for the ensuing year:

President—F. M. Morgan.
Vice-President—R. M. McGowan.
Directors—G. F. Bryan, F. H. Agnew, J. J. Tomlinson, F. C. Fahey, J. M. Lamb, F. T. Drewery, H. W. Hutchinson, F. H. Nesbitt and E. H. Taafe.
British Columbia—Vice-president for Vancouver, J. Beveridge; directors, E. Taylor and P. Walkin. Vice-president for Victoria, H. H. Welsh; director, C. W. Adams. Director for New Westminster, J. A. Cunningham. Director for Kootenay, F. B. Gibb.

The president's report showed that the past year was one of the most successful in the history of the association, showing an increase of 136 members over last year, which brings the total membership up to 811. It also stated that the gross amount of monetary benefits being now carried by the association is $167,540.

The treasurer's report showed the gross income for 1901 to be $9,396.43, as compared with $7,500.52 last year. This makes this year to show the largest increase of any in the history of the association. The above increase has enabled them to add to their assets $5,641.54, which brings the total of available assets up to the end of this year (1901) to $36,357.40. The treasurer in his report also showed that the old mortgage has been reduced to $2,557.15, with no overdue interest. The books are left in good order, having been carefully audited and found correct.

A vote of thanks was given to F. Bryan & Co., for the excellent cigars provided, and also to the auditors and scrutineers. These were responded to by those present.

POPULARITY is the proof of merit, and no brand has ever achieved popularity so quickly as Maypole Soap Washes and Dyes.

We've told you before, but it will bear repeating, of the thousands of grocers who have a little sign hung up in a prominent place in their store which reads, "We sell Maypole Soap, the famous English Home Dye. It washes and dyes at one operation. The colors are fast and very brilliant."

If you once catch a woman's eye with a sign like that you'll make a quick sale that will lead to a steady sale for Maypole Soap. Put up the sign—don't wait for your competitor to do it. Put it up to-day. Act. If you wait until the spirit moves you, you'll wait too long.

"Wheat Marrow" is a Quick Seller.

The many different ways in which that "totally different" Cereal Breakfast Food, "Wheat Marrow" can be used, puts it in a class by itself. Nothing can take its place, because nothing is just like it. It is more quickly prepared for the table than any other Cereal Food and in a greater number of ways. And, too, it is sterilized.

For frying fish, oysters, etc., and for thickening soups, tomatoes and the like, it is better than cracker crumbs. It is a quick seller, because it is so "totally different."

JUST PURE and PLAIN

Do you think we are making a mistake in telling you to tell your customers that Tillson's Buckwheat Flour is simply pure and plain buckwheat flour, and nothing more? You tell them and we will take the chances. People are growing weary of those boomed mixtures and concoctions which were to put the real article on the back shelf. But the demand for an unmixed article is a good indication that there are many people who are not deceived. When they want Buckwheat Flour they want it pure. It is made by Tillsons that way only. If you haven't it in stock, now is the time you should.

THE ADVERTISING ARENA.

Hints and Ideas for Business Men.

Mail Orders.

A GOOD paying mail order business is appreciated most by the fellow who had to work hardest to establish it. You never saw a summer snap that was satisfactory after the thermometer had tumbled 20 degrees.

The mail order man's ad. is his fortune.

Little conscience or no conscience at all has no place in the mail order business.

There are but two kinds of ads. The one takes money out of your till ; the other puts money in.

Don't get discouraged in your advertising. Success comes in a way a d at a time we little dream of.

Don't write a misleading ad. The fellow who buys a chestnut horse is not going to be satisfied with a horse chestnut.

The good reputation of a mail order man is worth more to him than a degree of Doctor of Divinity from a State university.

The line between failure and success is so closely drawn that mail order men frequently do not know which side they are on.

If you want to succeed in the mail order business, scheme ! scheme ! all the time. Out scheme the other fellow is the only safe way.

If some mail order men would spend as much time and exercise, as much care in writing their ads. as they did in writing their first love letter, the failures in the business would be reduced one-half.—Jabs.

The Time to Advertise.

When the grain has all been gathered,
When the harvest is all through,
When the husbandman and family
Have not a thing to do
But sit around the fire
And read and talk about
The many things they have to buy
That can't be done without ;
Oh, that's the time of all the year
A man should advertise—
When the frost is on the pumpkin,
And the pumpkin's in the pies.

—Jabs.

The Most Important Advertising.

Somebody has said that trade journal advertising as a class is the most impotent of all advertising.

Somebody struck it pretty nearly right.

This sad state of affairs cannot generally be laid at the door of the trade paper publisher. This scion of the shears and pen is generally anxious for his clients to furnish good copy.

It wasn't a hundred years ago that publishers deprecated generally the frequent changes of ads. They have had their eyes opened for quite a spell now. They realize that an advertisement must be fresh and newsy, like the rest of the journal. They have come to learn that the advertiser who sticks to them is the advertiser whose returns are satisfactory. They have sense enough to delve behind the whys of things and realize that the advertiser who gets returns is the advertiser who advertises.

And the advertiser who advertises well is the advertiser who changes his ads. every issue, unless (and it is a rare instance) he has evolved some peculiarly bright and particularly strong drawing card.

Even then it will lose a good share of its effectiveness after being run twice.

Besides this, its moral effect on the bulk of readers is bad.

For instance : There are large classes of people who take trade journals, and if they take them they look through them. It would be a rarity to find a dealer who looks through the editorial and news columns of his trade journal who does not look through the advertising pages.

He learns that Peter Jones & Co.'s ads. are always attractive and entertaining, and, as he turn over his pages every week or every month, he stops at Peter Jones & Co.'s say-so.

Should he find this week the same story that he read last week and the week before, it is a shock to him and a disappointment, and he is very apt to lose faith in Peter Jones & Co.'s advertisement—or at least lose interest.

Besides, he naturally gets the notion into his head that Peter Jones & Co. are going to tell the same story over and over indefinitely. This is all the more true of the man who has not made a particular note of Peter Jones & Co.'s advertising, but who has read it because it caught his eye and appealed to his reason, but who, as stated before, has never made any particular note of Peter Jones & Co.'s advertising.

One or two experiences like this will keep him away from these ads.

This is not only true of the reading matter, but even more so of the designs used for display.

This part of the work is first seen of all. That is its object.

The reader who notices your advertisement on account of its display design this week is, of course, impressed with it, else he would not have noticed it.

Next week, if he runs up against the same thing, he imagines it is the same all the way through, reading and everything, and he has no particular longing to review it.

There is nothing like keeping advertising green. It can be made just as newsy as the news column. It can be made more newsy for the pure and simple reason that it strikes the dealer right close to his heart—his own business.

It means dollars and cents to him. It means just exactly what he is in business to get.

If you tell a dealer that you can help him and furnish him a better line of goods for less money, or in which there is more profit for him, and if you make him believe it, you will interest him.

He can be made to believe it if he is kept after persistently enough and given good hard nuts of wisdom to ponder on, That can never be done by general statements and outlandish claims and high-sounding words and such doddering rot which the trade papers are about 90 per cent. full of, and which is the fault, first, last and all the time of the advertisers themselves.

A man who has accumulated enough worldly wisdom to accumulate enough coin of the realm to surround himself with a stock of goods is a man generally who likes common sense.

He isn't very sentimental or poetical. He is hard business. There isn't a great deal of difference between a farmer and a country merchant. One is usually the outcome of the other. One is horny-handed and the other is horny-brained. Such a dealer is not affected to any alarming extent by bare, bald statements. What strikes him is a pointed argument—pointed at both ends.

The sooner manufacturers and jobbers and wholesalers realize this and will quit soaring to heaven the minute they get a pencil in their clutches to write out their advertisements, the sooner trade paper advertising will increase its effulgence several candle-powers for good.

Which means that it will increase the advertiser's wherewithal several tinkling dollars.

It is almost enough to give one goose pimples to run through the pages of the trade papers and see the good, costly, liberal spaces which are filled with mostly just about nothingness.

Would it not be more to the point and a better investment for the advertiser who has not the time or the inclination to prepare proper copy to put a little money into this part of the work alongside of the money he puts into the space itself?

Good copy and good space are inseparable for good. Divided, the whole thing falls. As a usual thing, good copy costs less than space. Generally it costs very much less.

But where a $100 space is not worth $1 if it lacks good copy, an additional outlay of from $10 to $25 to procure good copy will increase the worth of the space not only to what it actually cost, but more, and make it a gilt-edge paying investment.

Where is the philosophy of doing otherwise, unless the advertiser has a combination of the two—good space and good talk?—Current Advertising.

How to Judiciously Distribute.

An enormous amount of money is annually wasted through the injudicious distribution of advertising matter. This is true in many lines of publicity, from the unpretentious and annoying handbill of the country grocer to the elegantly-printed and expensive booklet or catalogue of the manufacturer and the manufacturer's agent. In many cases this waste is brought about through carelessness—in more cases it is a direct result of ignorance.

To begin at the bottom. The handbill, or "dodger," as it is more familiarly known, is practically a dead loss to the advertiser. From a business point of view there is absolutely nothing to it. People don't have time to read this kind of stuff, and even if they did there is nothing about a black and white piece of common paper to catch the eye, and granting that even if the attention were attracted there is ordinarily nothing in the character of the reading matter calculated to interest the reader. The handbill is a dead failure—that's flat.

Now, to leave the retail man and his ideas.

The expensively-designed and handsomely-executed folder and booklet so much in vogue at present is frequently distributed in a reckless and unprofitable manner. There are firms to-day who put a whole lot of money in this class of work without having any fixed or definite plan as to the distribution of the same. It would appear that, upon the delivery of this booklet or folder in question by the printer, all interest in the placing thereof ceases.

Lists are an unknown quantity to the careless advertiser, or even if such lists are used they are worked over indiscriminately without regard as to whether this person or that person will be in any way interested in the goods exploited. It is too often a case of "get 'em off as quickly as possible and have done with it."

When it comes to a matter of dollars and cents this carelessness or ignorance is bound to cost somebody dear. Just supposing, for instance, that a firm sends out 20,000 booklets costing 5c. each. Of this number, say, 5,000 are wasted by injudicious distribution. It's simply a case of $250 gone to the everlasting bow-wows, not counting postage.

Now, don't think this is painting the matter in colors too strong. Cases such as the above do exist, as the writer will affirm with positive knowledge to back him up.

Books, booklets, folders and other advertising novelties can and will prove an impetus to business if distributed with a proper amount of care and consideration; otherwise, this publicity scheme will be as futile as the endeavors of a man who tries to empty a tub of water through the use of a coarse-mesh coal screen.

There is just as much virtue in an intelligently-made up list as there is in the quality of the advertising matter sent out. An advertisement sent to one promising customer is worth 20 received by the waste-basket, because-not-in-my-line type.—Ad. Sense.

How to Do It.

Bright ideas in advertising or in other lines do not come merely as "inspirations," remarks an exchange. They come with hard work more often; with application and continued application. The man who keeps at advertising sends out the best ads. always, not the occasional writer who picks up tablet and pencil, announcing mentally to himself: "Now I'll write a regular stunner."

As you look over the field who are the men distinguished by brilliant advertisements? They are the firms who work at it daily—whose names and goods hold the public eye every hour of the day. You can name them at once.

Keep at it. That's the motto for steady as well as brilliant work.

Lacking Nerve.

Many new advertisers are lacking in nerve, says a contemporary: They won't keep at it long enough. (All the better for the bulldog fellow who hangs on.) The public is a big thing. It is hard to stir up. It moves slowly sometimes, wants to get acquainted first. Likes to deal with well-known people. The only way to get acquainted and become well known is to keep on advertising. The first investment may not pay at once, but, like the foundation of a house, it is necessary even if it is

The Hard-to-Get Customer.

Some advertisers stop short of the reader who is hard to convince, aiming their ads. and follow-up literature at the susceptible souls who are open to conviction, says Printers' Ink: But the reader who is hardest to transform into a customer is usually best worth going after. Not only will he make the staunchest customer, once he has been brought to book, but he will carry weight with his neighbors. He is almost invariably an arbiter of opinions in his community, and what he thinks or says is of more importance than what is said or thought by the fickle.

SPECIAL CARS FOR B.C. FRUIT.

New fruit cars are to be used by The Dominion Express Co. for carrying fruit from British Columbia to points east. One of these cars was in Vancouver recently. The car, as explained by The Province, is a full-length express car, and is divided into three compartments. The distinctive principle on which it is operated is that of a sort of hurricane circulation of outside air. The top of the car is occupied by rows of wooden flues so arranged that they automatically face into the wind and catch the current of air created by the moving of the train.

The crates of fruit are piled in the car on a raised perforated floor, under which the air currents are passed, and in this way the fruit is kept as airy, and the ventilation is practically as good, as if the apples or peaches, or whatever the fruit may be, were still on the trees. The car requires no ice, and this method of handling is very economical, costing growers only 10c. per 100 lb. more than ordinary express shipments.

A MONTREALER'S OPINION.

MR. W. A. MAGOR, of the firm of John Magor & Son, wholesale flour merchants, Montreal, proprietors of Magor's "Delicious" Patent Flour, recently wrote a very interesting letter to The Montreal Herald expressing his opinion as to what terms should be given the Boers in order to bring the elongated war in South Africa to a termination. Mr. Magor, we might mention, is thoroughly posted on trade relations with South Africa, doing a very large business in flour in that far-away land, and is continuously in communication with their representative out there. We produce his letter word for word as published in The Herald :

Editor Herald :

Sir,—It might be interesting to have an expression of opinion from your readers as to how they think the war in South Africa should be ended. As one of your readers, for my part, I would say to the Boers: As you apparently have no desire to come into our Government, well and good; the war was planned and brought on by yourselves, therefore, in the first place, the cost of the war must be paid by you. We have, as far as it is within the means of warfare to do, conquered the country, and will go further if compelled to, unless the remaining Boers fighting against us come forward and, like honest men, agree either to come into our Government or choose one for themselves distinctly apart from us, for which purpose we will grant them a tract of land in extent and location such as we may deem advisable, or as the situation may demand.

In the second place, I would give them to understand that we don't wish to compel anyone to join us unless they so choose, and if they prefer their own rule, we will not hinder them from having it, provided it is kept to themselves, and British subjects, wherever they may be, are respected and have equal rights in their country the same as their own would have in ours.

As I understand, it was the Boers' malicious treatment of the Englishman that aroused the indignation of our Government at Home, which eventually compelled England to assert her rights and claim justice for her subjects at the hands of the Boers. If their intention, which they had been planning for years, of driving England and her army into the sea, had not taken possession of them to the exclusion of all moral or sober reasoning, this war would never have happened. Therefore, whatever conclusion the situation brings us to, it must be made plain to the Boers that a repitition of past offences must never be tolerated, and accordingly guarded against in any terms of settlement which we may choose to make.

I think some of your readers' views on the subject would be very interesting, as it is a subject affecting every British subject, and it is time the war should be ended.

Yours, etc.,

Montreal, January 3. W. A. MAGOR.

On Monday evening, December 30, George Brown, of Brown Bros., who conduct one of the largest retail meat and fish stores in Montreal, died in the Montreal gaol. He was arrested and taken there on a charge of stealing from the slope of Mount Royal a tree which was found in front of his store. Brown denied this, and when arrested refused to give bail necessitating him going to gaol where he determined to remain till his trial came off on January 4. But this was too much for him and occasioned his death. The verdict at the coroner's inquest was given in accordance with these facts.

HOG PRODUCTS IN THE UNITED STATES.

(From The National Provisioner.)

Perhaps the only poor point about the market is that now essentially everybody has bullish ideas over the future of the markets : in the long run, usually, interest develops spasmodically against that sentiment with the temptation of leaders to take profits and to get the stuff back upon a cheaper basis. The markets which had been steadily advancing up to Monday of this week were set down upon hard on Tuesday, when the leading "long" interests began spilling out pork, lard and ribs, and for which sharp declines in price were made ; this temper to upset prices was occasioned more by the desire to take in the large hog supplies for that day, and probably with the feeling that more of the stuff could be bought back at a lower price than disposed of to break the prices of the swine ; the added advantage would come on the future market for it. As Wednesday was a holiday, Tuesday's receipts of hogs proved large enough to keep the packers on the "bear" side of the products ; both hogs and products were then early in the day substantially lower ; reactions followed. There was just enough stuff put out by leading "long" interests to keep the market easy ; efforts of commission houses and outsiders to counteract the sentiment were not particularly general, however, that it is realized that these sources are on the "bull" side for the long pull. The highest prices of the crop had been reached in the previous week. Our opinion has been expressed that the high prices came too soon ; there are too many hogs back in the country as yet to expect settled firmness over prices for the products. Very shortly, however, supplies of hogs should fall off materially. A moderate number of heavy hogs in the supplies has been the feature again this week. The shortened lard production is apparent, while the gain in stocks of general products at the west for last month, after the enormous hog packing, is much less than ordinarily for December. The average weight of the hogs in the previous week's receipts in Chicago was only 196 lb., and which is fully 35 lb. less than in the corresponding week of last year. That the loss of production must be a significant factor ultimately goes without saying.

Moreover, there must soon be quickened cash demands for the product. Europe has been holding off over large trading for some time, as restrained by the feverish conditions here, as well as by the holiday period ; it holds materially less than ordinary stocks and however unwilling it may be to contract largely ahead, yet it should be a steady buyer. Then, again, our home consumption, which is really of most importance, has awaited the turn of the year for liberal resupplying.

THE SITUATION IN CURRANTS.

The demand for currants during the week has been disappointing, and the rise of the previous week has barely been maintained ; but, as the parcels offering below market quotations have not been numerous, it is hardly correct to quote the market lower. Up to the end of the present month the entire shipments made and provided for from Greece amounted to 98,000 tons, leaving from 20,000 to 30,000 tons yet to be disposed of. The shipments are undoubtedly heavy, and the quantity remaining small for the requirements of the next nine months. At the same time, prices are above the average obtained for crops in former years of the same dimensions, and are at a level which only just permits of popular retail prices, and any further improvement would instantly bring about an indifferent attitude amongst the retail buyers, which former experience has shown to be a very unfortunate state of things for all concerned. The shipments to the United Kingdom have been nearly half the entire exports from Greece, and include about 2,000 tons in December for London, which will be a large addition to present stocks.—Produce Markets' Review, December 21.

COLOMBO TEA MARKET.

Odell & Co., Colombo, Ceylon, under date of November 30, say : "The market remains very firm for common to medium leaf teas, especially for pekoes. Broken pekoes of all kinds have been in less demand and sold at easier rates all round. The quality continues poor. Shipments to the United Kingdom for November are 6¼ millions, and we estimate shipments for December at 10¼ millions. The Chamber of Commerce quote shipments from January 1 to November 25, 1901 :

COFFEE MARKET IN BRAZIL.

The United States Consul at Rio de Janeiro, Brazil, under date of November 12, writes as follows :

"The coffee trade of Brazil is undergoing a very healthy change. Forced by small profits, dealers and planters are combining against the unnecessary expenses with which the trade has heretofore been encumbered—hardly noticeable when profits were enormous, but very onerous since the conditions of the market have become precarious through overproduction.

"Héretofore the planters shipped their coffee to the 'commisarios,' on whom they were more or less dependent financially, and the 'commissarios' supplied the wholesale dealers, who in turn sold to the exporters.

"The tendency is toward the abolition of the middlemen. The principal exporters have already commenced to deal with the planters directly, thus saving expense, time, and friction, and benefiting producer and consumer.

"American firms, which heretofore have had to deal with privileged warehouses, have recently acquired abundant storage facilities with water front and dock privileges, whereby the hauling and docking expenses have been consideraby diminished.

"Reports have to-day been cabled by reliable houses to the United States and Europe that the growing coffee crop (to be marketed after July 1, 1902), has been badly damaged by drought. They estimate the probable yield of the present crop at 7,500,000 bags—2,500,000 Rio ; 4,000,000 Santos, and about 1,000,000 for the various other ports—about half the quantity of this year's harvest. There is hardly any doubt that these reports correspond with the facts. More detailed figures will be obtained about the commencement of December, when the Association of Factors (composed of the principal 'commissarios' and wholesale dealers of Brazil), will meet and compare notes.

"Coffee prices have, in the last few days, taken a sharp upward turn, and speculators have profited extensively by the situation thus created.

"As, on account of the overproduction of recent years, a large surplus of coffee is stored in the principal markets of the world, it is doubtful whether a considerable advance in the medium grades of coffee can be maintained."

CANNED GOODS IN ENGLAND.

The demand during the past week has been quite of a hand-to-mouth character; at the same time the market in one or two instances is exceptionally firm, owing to the small available stocks on the spot. The business done in salmon during the past three months has been considerably above the average for the time of the year, and as stocks in dealers' hands have been considerably reduced, it would not be surprising to see a slight advance in prices before the new pack arrives in March or February at the earliest. The export demand for lobsters still continues good, but the quality of reliable packed goods is now on a very limited scale. Sardines, although in an exceptionally strong position, are slow of sale, and it is very improbable that the bargains which buyers are able at the present time to pick up will be repeated in the new year. Meats are strong although the demand is small, and there is every probability, owing to small stocks, of a further advance. Ox tongues are in better request and it is evident that the lowest prices have been reached. During the last few days some remarkably cheap parcels in lunch tongues have been on offer which should help considerably to increase the sale of this already popular artiele. There is rather a better inquiry for Californian fruits, especially for peaches, which are in limited supply, and the market is somewhat firmer. Gallon apples are again rather dearer, and it is now very difficult to obtain a supply on the spot from first hands.—Produce Markets' Review.

CANNED GOODS IN THE UNITED STATES.

In productive lines, the commercial reports state that almost everything that has quotable value is higher at the close of the year than at the beginning, and this is equally true in respect to stocks, with only very few exceptions in the immense list.

In canned goods it is true in almost every line. Thus in apples No. 3 standards are quoted now at 80 to 85c. as against 55c. one year ago. In all lines of small fruits, such as berries, the prices are considerably higher than they were during January of last year, and the supply is almost entirely exhausted at present. In corn, however, the quotations are almost exactly the same as they were one year ago ; a reference to figures ruling at that time showing No. 2 moist pack was quoted at 62½ to 65c. cash and 65 to 70c., regular dry packing being quoted at 65 to 70c.; present quotations on corn are 60 to 62½c. cash for standards ; 65 to 67½c. for choice, and 67½ to 75c. for dry pack. These figures, in all cases, of course, apply to quotations in this market. Strange to say in Cove oysters prices are lower now than they were one year ago, quotations at present being 10 oz., $1.45 ; 8 oz., $1.30 ; 5 oz., 75c., and 4 oz., 70c. At the same date last January the quotations were, respectively, 10 oz., $1.60 ; 8 oz., $1.40 ; 5 oz , 85 to 90c., and 4 oz., 80c.

In peas there is a decided decline at the present time. * * * In tomatoes, of coursè, there is a decided difference between the quotations of the two eras. No. 3 standards are quoted at present in the Baltimore market at $1.15 to $1.25 for this year as against the regular quotations of 70c. in the first week of last January, the market, however, indicating at that time a probable rise of 72½ to 75c.; No. 3 county brands are offered here at present at $1.12½ to $1.15 ; standard No. 2 are held in this market at 85 to 95c. this year. The same were held last year at 55 to 60c.; standard gallons are strong in this market to-day at $3.50 to $3.75 ; one year ago the quotations for them were $2.10 to $2.25.—The Trade, Baltimore, Md., January 3.

BREAKFAST AT HOME.

"Well, madam," says the head of the house, who has apparently got out of bed on the wrong side, "what have you got for breakfast this morning ? Boiled eggs, eh ? Seems to me you never have anything but boiled eggs. Boiled Erebus ! And what else, madam, may I ask ? "

"Mutton chops, my dear," said the wife, timidly.

"Mutton chops ! " echoes the husband, bursting into a peal of sardonic laughter—"mutton chops ! I could have guessed it. By the jingo, madam, if ever I eat another meal inside of this house ——" And jamming on his hat and slamming the door, the aggreived man bounds down the stairs and betakes himself to the restaurant.

"What'll you have, sir ? " says the waiter politely, handing him a bill of fare.

"Ah," says the guest, having glaneed over it, "let me see. Bring me two boiled eggs and a mutton chop ! "—Tit-Bits.

PREPARING FOR GROCERS' "AT-HOME."

LAST Monday evening, January 6, The Toronto Retail Grocers' Association had a special meeting in St. George's Hall to prepare the way for their annual "At Home," which they decided at their last meeting to have again this year. Instead of their former room, which is now occupied by the "Young Liberals," their place of meeting has been shifted to another and neatly-furnished and comfortable apartment.

As it was municipal election night, the attendance, as far as numbers went, was not quite up to the mark, but they who came were bent on business and everything proceeded without a hitch. Some delay was experieneed at the opening by the absence of the President, but that was overcome by F. W. Johnston taking the chair. Edward Hawes was at his right hand and commenced by stating why the meeting had been called.

The committee, consisting of David Bell, R. Robertson and W. J. Sykes, who had undertaken the preliminary work in connection with this entertainment, were to make their report.

David Bell, in a letter, after explaining his absence, said that the hall in the Temple Building could be secured either for an evening late in January or early in February. The man who catered last year was willing to do the work again, if given the opportunity.

R. Robertson informed those interested that the caterer was willing to supply everything wanted, at a reasonable figure. The supper should be spread upstairs in the eafe, in his opinion, instead of where they had it served last year. No extra expense would be incurred and the hall below would be less hampered. The hall, he had found out, could be secured for the same figure as was paid for it last year.

Thomas Clark thought it was an opportune time to call the attention of those present to the fact that last year the food and other things supplied were not satisfactory.

It was decided to ask tenders from a number of caterers. The next meeting is to choose the man whose prices are the best. The "At Home" will be on January 29 instead of in February, the latter date, although having its advantages, being considered too close to Lent.

J. T. Schoales had a good suggestion. This was that a sweet singer should be engaged to entertain the guests between the intervals of the dances. Others heartily endorsed this and he was instructed to secure the person whom he has in view.

Music, printing, supper, and other committees were appointed. F. W. Johnston undertook to look after the furnishing of the cigars and cards. The floor managers will be R. Bailey Snow, T. Clark, R. Robertson, and J. Butcher.

Light refreshments will also be served to those in the hall, while a good substantial spread will be provided in the cafe.

The meeting adjourned about 10 p.m.

THE COFFEE QUESTION.

A CIRCULAR letter written by Lœsing & Van Gulpen, Germany, after reviewing the record of receipts of coffee at Rio and Santos, and their relation to the total for years past and the present year, says :

"The great question for the coffee trade to-day is : 'Is the large 1901-02 crop merely a consequence of the yields of overloaded coffee trees, or is the jump from an 11,000,000 to a 13,000,000 or 14,000,000 crop the beginning of a period of larger Brazil crops, which have been enlarged by the addition of the increasing bearing capacity of new coffee plantations to the previous yields ? ' "

"In this case we would have to expect world's crops of about 18,000,000 to 19,000,000 (?) in the next few good years. The large stocks on hand permit us to postpone answering this question for another year.

"The attempts of option speculators to force prices up and down are just as disturbing and loss-producing for the producer as for the trade. It is the good right and duty of the trade to oppose bleeding by option speculators. The trade is willing to follow a justified advance, and there would be no objections to present prices, but in the midst of enormous supplies and with the largest crop ever seen, to force a premature decrease of consumption by creating higher prices simply means to produce a bear catastrophe later on.

"If speculators again succeed in overloading the trade with stocks at advancing prices, like they succeeded in doing in 1899 and 1900 on the basis of advaneing exchange on Brazilian paper curreney, then there will still be enough coffee left to overthrow prices at once, without any danger of a corner, with the unlimited blank offers at their disposal, and to cover in a very profitable manner at much lower prices, as has been the practice of option dealers for many years past. If, in the interest of political economy, option business was placed under legal control and limited, then such price abuses would be exeluded."

TYPES OF LETTERS OF INTRODUCTION.

A gentleman who has been in a position to employ large numbers of educated young men in Boston, New York and Philadelphia, says he has become accustomed to three distinct types of the letter of introduetion.

In Boston : "Permit me to introduce Mr. Jones, who graduated in highest honors in classics and political economy at Harvard, and later took a degree at Berlin. He speaks and writes French and German, and if you employ him I am sure his learning will make his services extremely valuable to you."

In New York : "The bearer, Mr. Brown is the young fellow who took hold of Street & Company's Chicago branch when it was so run down, a few years ago, and built it up to a hundred thousand a year. He also made a great hit as Jackson & Company's representative in London. He's a hustler, all right, and you'll make no mistake if you take him on."

In Philadelphia : "Sir : Allow me the honor to introduce Mr. Rittenhouse Penn. His grandfather on his mother's side was a colonel in the Revolution, and on his

NEW SEASON'S MARMALADE.

The T. Upton Co., Limited, of Hamilton, are putting their new season's orange marmalade on the market. The quality is exceedingly good, the color being bright and the jelly clear and firm. The firm is this season importing its Seville oranges, from which the marmalade is made, direct from Spain via New York. Hitherto it bought them in Liverpool. The slicing of the oranges is done by a machine which was invented and patented by Mr. Upton himself, and that it is doing its work perfectly is proved by the marmalade that is now being placed upon the market.

CUTTING A WIDE SWATH.

We note by the New England press that The "Salada" Tea Co. are cutting a wide swath in those States. We see in The Boston Herald their stand-out, well-worded advertisement on the front page; also, in The Boston Record and The Boston Traveller, Springfield Union, The Lowell Citizen, The Lowell Courier, Hartford Times, Hartford Telegram, Worcester Post, Worcester Telegram, Manchester Union, New Haven Union, New Haven Register, St. Alban's Messenger, Burlington News, Burlington Free Press, New Bedford Standard, New Bedford Mercury, The Danbury News, The Portland Express, The Providence Telegram and many others. We note that the "Salada" people are giving the same prominence to green Ceylon teas in their advertisements in those States as they do in Canada.

On demand of S. Levinson, merchant, of Montreal, David Liebling, general merchant, Quebec, has consented to assign, and George Daweau, accountant, has been named provisional guardian.

THAT WAS OUR AIM.

"There is always room on the top," and we believe that we are there with our new products.

In introducing our Two New Cereal Lines, viz: "SUPERIOR BREAKFAST CREAM" (cereal), and "SUPERIOR GLUTEN FLOUR," our object is two-fold:

FIRST—To place within the reach of the retailer (for his customers) through the wholesale trade, the two best wheat products manufactured to-day for the daily domestic use of the Canadian people.

SECOND—That the profits afforded to the trade may be an acceptable apology for seeking your co-operation in promoting their sale.

In placing our Two Natural Food Products on the commercial market we have this to say:

That the phenomenal growth of cereal foods in package forms, in the last few years, is an evidence that they have come to stay.

That many of the lines at present on the market are undesirable, alike, in the article, the margin for handling and the keeping-qualities and appearance of the package.

That our goods are products of the world's best and most northern-grown wheats of Manitoba and the Canadian Northwest.

That they are manufactured by the latest and most modern milling facilities on the continent.

That they are put up in the most substantial and attractive packages, give the consumer the best value and the trade the largest margin of profit of any cereal package on the grocer's counter.

We trust that you will do us the favor of testing the merits of our goods; and that the advent of our Two New Cereals may prove profitable to you as distributors of "SUPERIOR BREAKFAST CREAM" and "SUPERIOR GLUTEN FLOUR."

CANADA AND CORONATION MEMENTOES.

MANUFACTURERS and others in Great Britain are busy preparing novelties and mementoes for the coronation festivities, and in the trade and daily newspapers are to be found many advertisements drawing attention to the different lines.

It is certain that a demand will be found in this country for some mementoes of the occasion, an occasion new in the experience of most of us. But, as far as we can learn, nothing is being done by the home manufacturers to cater to the demand. If they intend doing anything it is high time they were beginning.

And not only does it appear to us that the manufacturers of this country should make preparations for the home trade, but it is possible that something might be done in the British market as well.

Canada is just now much in the public eye in the Mother Country, and ingenious manufacturers ought to be able to devise a number of lines emblamatic of the Dominion which would sell readily in the United Kingdom while the coronation proceedings were occupying the public mind.

There is, however, no time to lose. Those who would act must act now.

THE SITUATION IN CHEESE.

IF the present favorable position of the cheese market is maintained there are a good many dealers to whom it will be most welcome.

The market last year, it will be remembered, was a most disastrous one to nearly every shipper and holder. Large quantities of cheese shipped to dealers in Great Britain were not accepted because of the financial straits into which the Old Country dealers had been placed by the turn of the market. For a similar reason several shippers on this side were unable to come to the rescue. And so a number of lots were thrown upon the British market at the instigation of the banks who were behind the shippers. Naturally, this only tended to make matters still worse. And it is estimated that holders both here and in Great Britain lost from 1 to 3c. per lb. on the cheese of the previous fall's make which they had carried over to 1901. It has been declared by one well-known authority that no shipper in Canada last year lost less than from $5,000 to $125,000. Some were completely ruined. In Great Britain there were 25 to 30 large importers who were financially unable to accept the goods that had been shipped to them from this side of the Atlantic.

For some time there has been a gradual improvement, the lots which had been forced upon the British market having gradually become absorbed.

At the time of writing the public cable quotes cheese in Great Britain at 49s. per cwt. laid down there, but we hear of private transactions at as high as 51s. for fine stock. In decimal currency this means about 10 to 10⅛c. per lb. taking incidental charges into account.

Holders are now quite firm in their views and are looking for material advances in prices, but, judging from the past, very high prices have been followed by unpleasant aftermaths. The wise policy would appear to suggest the selling and not the holding of goods when a fair profit is obtainable.

TORONTO LOSES A GOOD CITIZEN.

BY the death of the late Walter S. Lee Toronto loses a good citizen whom she can ill afford to lose. He was a type of the man all too rare in this Canada of ours. A business man every inch of him, yet a public man esteemed by all shades of politicians, and respected by all classes of citizens.

The greater part of his useful life was spent in that great school of finance and commercial training, the loan and savings institutions, to say nothing of the experience he gained in his connection with the Board of Trade, the Toronto and Nipissing Railway and the Toronto Industrial Exhibition Board. In 1864 he became manager of the Western Canada Loan and Savings Co., and 23 years later managing-director. At the time of his death he was the general manager of the Canada Permanent and Western Canada Mortgage Corporation, the company that was formed in 1899 as a result of the amalgamation of the Canada Permanent Loan and Savings Co., the Freehold Loan and Savings Co., the Ontario and London Loan and Investment Co., and the Western Canada Loan and Savings Co.

Great as were the demands of his business connections upon him, the late Mr. Lee took a great deal of interest in the affairs of the city of Toronto, and particularly in its educational institutions. For 35 years he was a member of the Public School Board, during several years of which he occupied the honored position of chairman. And on Monday last his name was on the ballot paper for reelection, he having died near midnight on Saturday, and after the ballots had been printed. He also served some years as a member of the Collegiate Institute Board, and the chair there fell to his honor. The presidency of the old Mechanics' Institute and the chairmanship of the Toronto General Hospital were among the many other public positions which were bestowed upon him.

The deceased came from good commercial stock, his father, the late Ald. Joseph Lee, being a general merchant in York. Messrs. A. B. Lee, president of Rice Lewis & Son, Limited; Thomas H. Lee, wholesale jeweller, and Alexander Lee, of The Copp, Clark Co., are brothers of deceased.

As a business man the reputation of Mr. Lee was high, and as a public man no one in Toronto was more respected.

CONFERENCES BETWEEN BUSINESS MEN AND THEIR EMPLOYES.

QUITE a number of manufacturers and other classes of business men hold conventions with their travellers, heads of departments and other employes during the holiday season when trade is quiet. It is surprising that more do not do so.

When we see that the firms most zealous in this particular are those that are the most progressive and successful we cannot but be impressed with the idea that such conventions must be helpful.

We do not claim that to these conventions must be ascribed the success of the firms with whom they are peculiar. They are the outward and visible sign that the firms who annually utilize them are of a progressive type and possess the wisdom to utilize the opportunity of meeting their travellers and heads of departments at least once a year and discussing ways and means of promoting business.

We believe that this is a principle which is applicable to all business houses, no matter whether their employes be many or few ; in fact, the smaller they are the more readily can the machinery be handled. For example, a retail merchant could have a little conference with his clerks, drivers and bookkeepers once a week with little or no inconvenience to anyone. At these conferences such subjects as the most salable and profitable goods to handle ; the best methods of dealing with certain customers, and ideas for window dressing and advertising might be discussed with advantage to both employer and employe. But these are only a few of the many subjects that might be discussed.

Whether such conferences are held at short or long intervals, a definite time should be fixed for holding them. With the time fixed, all would be looking forward to it, and in looking forward they would also be fortifying themselves with suggestions and schemes. Some tangible recognition of such suggestions and ideas as are deemed the most practicable for the firm to adopt would undoubtedly stimulate the efforts of the employes.

We would like to hear from some of our readers in regard to this suggestion. We invite clerks and others, as well as employers, to contribute.

TEA SHIPPING FACILITIES IN INDIA.

INDIA during the past year has been shipping tea through two ports, namely, Calcutta and Chittagong. Formerly the shipments were made through Calcutta only.

With the two ports it is estimated that the shipping facilities of India are increased 4 per cent., or 5,000,000 lb. a year. In spite of this fact the quantity of tea exported up to December 5 was 9,500,000 lb. less than up to the corresponding date of 1900.

One result of the increased shipping facilities is likely to be that the shortage in the supply of tea will be more keenly felt later in the season than would otherwise have been the case, a relatively larger quantity of tea having gone forward earlier in the season than usual.

The market for both Indian and Ceylon tea continues to gather strength, and this week the London market is appreciably higher, particularly on low-grade descriptions.

THE REASON WHY.

Why is it that while potatoes are selling in Toronto at $1 per bag they are sold in country towns 100 miles distant at 55c. per bag ?

Why is it that while fresh laid eggs are selling in grocery stores in Toronto at 40c. a dozen they are being sold in the same towns at 20c. ?

THESE questions are asked by a Toronto daily newspaper in an issue of recent date. In the first place, the assertion that potatoes are selling at $1 per bag in Toronto is too sweeping. The wholesalers are not selling at that price, while the retailers only ask from 85 to 90c. Of course, if less quantity than a bag is wanted, more will be charged. On the track in Toronto the price in car lots of 100 bags is between 70 and 75c. Now, the freight on a carload of potatoes coming from 100 miles distance averages from 8 to 10c. per bag. To this must be added the expense involved in keeping up fires in the cars and paying a man to attend to them to prevent freezing. Considerable risk is also run by the shipper, for in case a carload freezes on him the whole profits of the season are gone. Adding all these together any reasonable man would clearly understand that the shipper only has a moderate margin.

In the second place, it is not quite correct to say that strictly fresh eggs are being sold at 20 cents per dozen in the country, 100 miles away. Country storekeepers never properly classify their eggs. Often no strictly fresh eggs are found in a case of, say, 30 dozen that were bought as fresh. When opened it is often found to contain a number of bad and the rest of what is known as "held" eggs. The amount of fresh eggs found in a case averages from 2 to 5 dozen. So the wholesaler is only making a fair profit, and sometimes none at all when he sells out the fresh at 25 to 26 cents, and the "held" at 20 to 22c. to the retailer. The latter takes considerable risk in selling out to the consumer who usually buys in very small quantities, often buying only 3 or 4 at a time. Consequently, his profit is not unreasonable when he retails them out at 35 cents a doz, or even 40c.

HOW A BANK CLOSED UP A BUSINESS.

WHEN some 20 months ago it was announced that The Copp Brothers Co., Limited, stove manufacturers, Hamilton, Ont., had been forced into liquidation a great deal of regret was expressed in many parts of Canada.

Those who then expressed regret will now, doubtless, find matter for gratification in the fact that the outgoing year of 1901 saw every creditor, direct or indirect, paid in full. But this is not all: in spite of the enormous sacrifices necessary in order to wind up the business so rapidly, a handsome surplus remains, and that without disposing of any of the company's property except the foundry, or without discounting customers' paper.

From the very fact that the affairs of the company have been so satisfactorily wound up, one is naturally led to examine the circumstances which brought about the liquidation.

As our readers are doubtless aware, the direct cause of the liquidation was the demand of the Merchants Bank for the immediate payment of the sum of $37,000 owing that concern. Why the bank should have made this peremptory demand is something we cannot understand.

As we have already intimated, the demand for a settlement of the liabilities to the bank was made early in 1900. The business of the Copp Company in 1899 was the largest in its history. And not only was its paper under discount of better quality than at any other period during 20 years, but it was reduced from over $44,000 in April, 1899, to less than $24,000 in 1900, while during that period the business of the company increased by over $15,000. It was true that the company was at the time a little hard up, because of a rather extra heavy stock on hand, but it must, we think, be obvious to most people that its financial condition was by no means unhealthy, particularly when we consider that the stove trade in Canada during the year or two previous to the demand of the bank being made was more than usually prosperous. Furthermore, the business of the company had been increasing in volume for some five or six years. And it has been estimated that, had it been allowed to continue in business, it would have closed 1900 with a profit of at least $20,000. This, in the face of the handsome surplus with which the liquidation proceedings have been concluded, certainly does not seem an exaggeration.

Another feature of the affair was that only four or five days previous to the demand for payment, which was to be satisfied by 3 p.m. of the day on which it was made, one of the members of the company was informed that the head office of the bank was agreeable to making the usual advance.

An effort was made to get accommodation from other banks, but, the action of the Merchants Bank having become known, it was, of course, abortive. Liquidation then followed.

That the action of the bank was a mistake is evident. If there was any doubt about the wisdom of it when the demand for payment was made on April 2, 1900, the result of the liquidation settles it beyond all peradventure. It was a grave mistake. And the Merchants Bank, no doubt, fully realizes it.

In the meantime, however, an old and honorable firm has been forced out of business, for which even the satisfactory winding up of its affairs is but poor compensation.

The old firm whose career was thus closed began business in 1848. In that year Messrs. Anthony and William J. Copp commenced a general stove and tin business in Hamilton, which was carried on successfully for a number of years. Nine years later, viz., in 1857, the brothers bought the old Vulcan Foundry of Woodstock and went into the manufacture of stoves, the business at Hamilton also being continued. The Woodstock Company was known as Copp, Finch & Co. The Woodstock business was successful but it was felt many advantages would be gained in consolidating all under one management. Consequently, in the year 1864, the foundry was moved to Hamilton, the first heat being taken off on August 5 of that year. At first the premises consisted only of a three-storeyed building and moulding shop; to this were added from time to time various additions. In 1891 the old firm was incorporated under the style of the Copp Brothers Co., Limited, with William J. Copp as president and Harold E. Copp as secretary-treasurer.—Hardware and Metal.

THEY ARE AMENABLE TO THE LAW.

Editor THE CANADIAN GROCER: Will you kindly answer in the columns of your valuable paper the following question in reference to the early-closing by-law? About two years ago the merchants of this village attempted to introduce an early-closing system and circulated a petition among the business people of the town, agreeing to close their places of business at 7 o'clock every night except Wednesdays and Saturdays, and to petition the town council to pass a by-law to this effect, and on anybody found gulity of violating such by law a fine of not more than $20 and not less than $5 be imposed. The above petition was signed by all merchants. The town council seeing nobody opposed to it passed such by-law. Since then a number of new concerns have opened a place of business and refuse to comply with this by-law, and also a merchant who formerly signed the petition. Now, the question arises can they be forced to comply with this by-law? By answering the above in your columns you will will greatly oblige,

MERCHANT,

New Hamburg, Ont., January 7.

[Remarks: Provided the by-law has been properly carried there is no question about the question of conformity to it by those who move into the town subsequent to its adoption by the council. The fact that they were not party to the petition asking the town council to enact the by-law does not absolve them from obeying its provisions. If the sentiment of the majority of the storekeepers is against the by-law it may be repealed, but until such time as that is done everyone is legally bound to close his store at the stipulated hour.—THE EDITOR.]

ONTARIO MARKETS.

Toronto, January 9, 1902.

GROCERIES.

BUSINESS is gradually recovering from its holiday quietness, and while it is opening up well for this time of the year, the volume is naturally not yet large. The travellers, however, are now on the road covering their regular routes, and a gradual improvement may be looked for from this out. There have not been many noteworthy features in the wholesale grocery trade during the past week. The most important is a stiffening in the price of canned tomatoes in sympathy with the advance of the packers referred to in last week's issue. Most of the wholesale houses are now quoting 87½ to 90c., although an odd brand here and there is still quoted at 85c. The demand for canned vegetables during the past week has shown some improvement, but it has not extended to other lines of canned goods. The coffee market rules quiet and steady. The feature of the tea market is still its strength, there being a general upward tendency. Sugars are in fair demand with prices steady. There is a fair sorting-up demand for foreign dried fruits, the price of which rules steady. Syrups and molasses are meeting with a fair demand. Spices are quiet.

CANNED GOODS.

The feature of the canned vegetable trade is the firmness in tomatoes. All the local wholesale houses are marking up their quotations, and the ruling prices for first-class brands are 87½ to 90c. There are still, however, some brands obtainable at 85c. No change has been made in any other line, but there appears to be a slight improvement in the demand generally for canned vegetables. Peas and corn still rule at 80c. up. Buying is altogether of a hand-to-mouth character, there being an entire absence of speculative business. There has been a little demand for canned peaches and strawberries at $1.75 to $2.75 for the former, and $1.60 to $1.80 for the latter. In canned salmon the demand continues light and prices steady and unchanged. The ruling prices for canned salmon are: Fraser River sockeye, $1.42½ for 5-case lots and over, and $1.45 for less quantities; Northern sockeye, $1.25 to $1.30; cohoes, $1.05 to $1.15.

COFFEES.

There is not very much being done either on retail account of for importation. The coffee market, generally, is keeping firm. Local quotations are unchanged. We quote: Green Rio, No. 7, 8c.; No. 6, 8¼c.; No. 5, 8½c.; No. 4, 9c.; No. 3, 10 to 12c.

CANDIED PEELS.

Only a small sorting-up trade is being done and prices rule steady. We quote as follows: Lemon, 10 to 12½c.; orange, 11 to 13c.; citron, 15 to 18c., according to brand and quality.

NUTS.

Filberts are a little firmer in the primary market, and there has been some business on importation account during the past week. Tarragona almonds are also firm, being no cheaper than they were at the beginning of the season, which is unusual at this time of the year. Stocks of Tarragona almonds on this market are smaller than they usually are at the beginning of the new year. We quote: Grenobles, 10¾c. by the bale up to 12c. for smaller quantities. Marbots, 9½ to 10½c.; filberts, 9½ to 10½c.

See pages 35 and 36 for Toronto, Montreal, and St. John prices current.

RICE AND TAPIOCA.

A moderate business only is to be noted in rice and tapioca, and prices rule as before. We quote: B rice, 3¼c.; Japan, rice, 5½ to 6c.; tapioca, 4 to 4½c.; sago, 1½ to 5c.

SUGAR.

The situation locally is much about the same as it was a week ago, as far as prices are concerned. The demand, however, shows a little improvement. The raw markets are still very low, and in New York last week there was a decline of 1.32c., while refined there was quoted irregular. The receipts last week in the United States were much larger than the meltings, being 21,565 tons against 12,000 tons for the latter. There is a feeling that at to-day's prices sugar is a fair purchase, and this has induced some business. The price of sugar in Canada is still on the basis of $4 f.o.b. Montreal, for Redpath and St. Lawrence granulated, and $3.95 for Acadia. In Toronto we still quote $4.18 and $4.13 respectively.

SYRUPS AND MOLASSES.

There is a fair business being done in both syrups and molasses. The ruling price for molasses is 25 to 28c. for New Orleans, and bright sugar syrups, 35 to 37c. Quotations on corn syrup are: 3½c. in bbls.; 3⅝c. in ½ bbls.; 3¾c. in ¼ bbls.; $1.60 in 38-lb. and $1.20 in 25-lb. pails.

TEAS.

The condition of the tea market continues satisfactory. Mail advices from London, Eng., under date of December 20, stated that general firmness had characterized the market and that teas for price under 7d. were particularly strong and in demand. A cable advice received here this week from London, said that at Tuesday's auction the market for Indian and Ceylon teas was strong and that on low grades as much as 1d. per lb. advance was recorded in some instances. According to official figures, the shipments of tea from India up to December 5 were 9,500,000 lb. short the same period last year. The season is over in some parts of India and in others it is nearly so. Ceylon green teas are in much better demand on account of the scarcity and dearness of the China description, but very few of them are obtainable. There was an advance of 1d. per lb. in Ceylon greens in London on Tuesday, according to a cable advice received in Canada. There are inquiries for China greens but they are still unobtainable.

FOREIGN DRIED FRUITS.

CURRANTS.—The market remains firm in Greece and prices are steady and unchanged locally. The demand is fairly good. We quote: Filiatras, 6 to 6¼c.; Patras, 6½ to 7c.; Vostizzas, 8 to 8½c.

VALENCIA RAISINS.—The raisin market continues firm. Representatives here of Spanish shipping houses have been notified that no raisins suitable for export to this country are obtainable, consequently no business on importation account is reported by local brokers. The price rules strong at from 6¾ to 7c. for the best known brands of selected raisins.

MALAGA RAISINS.—There is only an odd order or so being received for these, the season, of course, being practically over. We quote: Black baskets, $2.25; "Empire Clusters," $2.60; Dehesa Clusters," $3.10; "Excelsior Clusters," $4.60; "Connoisseur Clusters," $2.10; "Extra Dessert Clusters," $3.35; "Royal Buckingham Clusters," $5.

SULTANA RAISINS.—These are keeping firm in price and the better quality is getting scarce, although the local demand is not heavy.

FIGS.—Very little is being done and prices rule as before. We quote as follows: Mat figs, 3¼c.; naturals, 3¼ to 4½c.; according to quality; tapnets, 3½c., and Eleme figs range all the way from 8½ to 18 cents.

PRUNES.—The demand is fair. The recent advance of ¼c. per lb. on the Coast has been maintained, and it is thought that further advances are not improbable. Local quotations are as before. We quote: Californian prunes, 100-110's, 5c.; 90-100's, 5½ to 6½c.; 80-90's, 6½ to 7c.; 70-80's, 6¾ to 7¼c.; 60-70's, 7½ to 8c.; 50-60's, 8 to 8½c.; 40-50's, 8¾ to 10c. French, 100's, 3½ to 4c.

DATES.—These continue quiet at 4½ to 4¾c. for Hallowees, and 4¼ to 4½c. for Sairs.

CALIFORNIAN EVAPORATED FRUITS—A fairly steady trade is still to be noted. We quote: In 25 lb. boxes, 13 to 16c. for apricots and 11 to 13c. for peaches.

GREEN FRUITS.

Business is very quiet after the holiday season, the sales having greatly dropped off. Californian lemons are done. Messina lemons are from 25 to 50c. per case lower. Valencia oranges are also 50c. lower. Cranberries are from 50c. to $1 per bbl. less. The other prices are unchanged. We quote: Tangerine or kid glove oranges, $8.50 to $9 per strip; grape fruit, $4.50 to $6 per box; apples, $4 to $5 per bbl.; bananas, $1.50 to $2 for firsts, and 80c. to $1 for first eight hands; Florida oranges, $3.50 per box; Mexican oranges, $2.25 per box; Messina lemons, $2.50 to $2 75 per box; Californian oranges, $3.25 to $3.50 per box; Valencia oranges, $4 to $5.50 per case; Malaga grapes, $5.50 to $6; cranberries, fancy Jerseys, $9 to $9.50; pineapples, 25 to 35c. each by the case.

VEGETABLES.

There is a normal trade doing in vegetables. Celery is coming in more plentifully, but the quality this year is poor. Cauliflowers are done. Potatoes are 10c. per bag lower. We quote: Cucumbers, $3 per dozen; Carrots, parsnips and beets, 20c. per peck; turnips, 15c. per peck and 35c. per bag; lettuce, 30 to 40c. per doz.; radishes, 40 to 50c.; mint and parsley, 20 to 25c.; cauliflower, 50c. to $1.00 per doz.; celery, 50 to 60c.; red cabbage, No. 1, 5 to 10c.; cabbage, 40 to 60c.; dry onions, $1 per bush.; potatoes, 75 to 90c. per bag.

COUNTRY PRODUCE.

EGGS—Strictly new laid eggs are very sparsely arriving and they are worth from 20 to 28c. Fresh gathered are more freely offered, but the demand is so good that prices remain firm. We quote: Fresh-gathered, 20 to 22c.; cold-stored, 18 to 20c., and limed 16 to 18c. per doz.

BEANS — A quiet trade is reported. Things are expected to pick up shortly. We quote: Choice handpicked, $1.70 to $1.75; prime, $1.50 to $1.60 per bush.

HONEY — Business is quiet with a steady movement. We quote: Clover, in 60-lb. tins, 9½c.; less quantities, 10c. per lb.; in combs, $2 to $3 per doz.

DRIED APPLES — Things are looking brighter, although the volume of trade has not increased to any extent. Prices are steady. We quote: Evaporated apples 9¾ to 10c. in carlots and 10¾c. in less quantities. Dried apples 5 to 6c. per lb.

POTATOES—Potatoes are down from 2 to 5c. per bag, the greater arrivals of last week pulling down the price. They are now 70c. per bag on track. They retail out at 85c. per bag for ten bags or over. Single bags 90c.

BUTTER AND CHEESE.

BUTTER—There is an increased supply of butter arriving, but no changes in prices have occurred. We quote as follows: Choice 1-lb. prints, 17 to 19c.; large rolls, 16 to 17c.; tubs, best quality, 15 to 16c.; tubs, medium grade, 12 to 14c. per lb. Creamery prints sell at 21 to 22c., and creamery solids, 20½ to 21c. per lb.

CHEESE—The prices are firm, with some local trade doing. We quote 10 to 10½c. per lb.

POULTRY.

DRESSED POULTRY—The quantity of all kinds of dressed poultry being offered is small. The prices are steady, with a drop of 1c. per lb. in turkeys. We quote: Chickens, 30 to 50c. per pair; ducks, 50 to 80c. per pair; geese, 8 to 9c. per lb.; turkeys, 9 to 10c.

LIVE POULTRY—The season for live poultry has passed its height, and the country seems to be well cleaned out. No change in prices has occurred. The Canadian Produce Company, 36 and 38 Esplanade east, Toronto, will pay until further notice for spring chickens, 6c. per lb. For ducklings, 5c. per lb. For hens (including last year's birds) 2½c. per lb. These prices are for live weight on arrival. Crates shipped free and express paid up to 50c. per 100 lb. of chickens.

FISH AND OYSTERS.

As the busy season for fish is coming on the demand for all lines is becoming very brisk. Trout and finnan haddie are ½c. lower. Bloaters and kippered herring are being sold at $1 to $1.25 each for a box of 50. Extra smelts are worth 12c. per lb. per 15-lb. box, while No. 1 are worth 6½ to 7c. Oysters are very firm, with large sales reported. We quote as follows: Fresh and frozen fish—Cod-fish, 6 to 8c.; whitefish, 7 to 7½c.; herring, 4 to 5c.; trout, 7c.; halibut, 11 to 14c.; sea salmon, 9 to 10c.; haddock, 6c.; perch, 4c.; British Columbian salmon, 20c.; Labrador herrings, $3 to $3.25 per 100-lb. bbl. Smoked fish—Ciscoes, $1 to $1.25; finnan haddie, 6½ to 7c.; Digby herring, 60 to 75c. per bundle. Prepared fish — Dried cod, in 112 lb. bundles, $4.75 per cwt.; flitched cod, $5.50 to $6; boneless cod, in bricks, 4½ to 5½c. per lb.; steak cod, 6½c. per lb.; shredded cod (2 doz. in box), $1.80 per box; boneless fish, loose, in 25-lb. boxes, 4 to 4½c., and in 5-lb. boxes, 5c. per lb.; bloaters, per box of 50, $1 to $1.25; kippered herring, 50 in a box, $1 to $1.25 per box; smelts, per 15-lb. box, extras, 12c. per lb.; No. 1, 6½ to 7c. per lb. Oysters—Standards, $6.75 per large pail, $3.75 to $4.05 per small pail, or $1.50 to $1.75 per Imperial gallon; selects, $2 to $2.15 per Imperial gallon.

GRAIN, FLOUR AND BREAKFAST FOODS.

GRAIN—There has been an advance of 1c. in Manitoba hard wheat, which is now worth 89c. per bush. grinding in transit or 88c. Toronto and west. On the St. Lawrence market the receipts of all kinds of grain have been very poor. White and red Ontario wheat, goose wheat and oats are now quoted 1c. per bush. higher, while the rise in buckwheat is 3c. per bush. We quote as follows: White and red Ontario wheat, 71 to 81c.; goose, 67½ to 68½c.; oats, new, 47 to 48c.; rye, 58c.; barley, 54 to 63c.; peas, 77 to 80c.; buckwheat, 58c.

FLOUR — The movement has shown signs of briskness, and prices are firm, with no change since last week. We quote as follows: Ontario patents, in bags, $3.70 to $3.80; Hungarian patents, $4.15; Manitoba bakers', $3.90; straight roller, $3 40 to $3.50 per bbl. in Toronto.

BREAKFAST FOODS—Oatmeal and rolled oats are not so dull as they were last week, and, since the holiday excitement is over, things will pick up. There is no change in prices this week. We quote: Oatmeal, standard and granulated, in carlots on track here, $5.55; standard rolled oats in carlots on track here, $5.25; in bbls., 15c. more; broken lots are 15c. per bbl. extra; rolled wheat, $2.50 in 100-lb. bbls.; cornmeal, $4.00; split peas, $4 50; pot barley, $4.50.

HIDES, SKINS AND WOOL.

Trade is quiet. On account of their drop in the Chicago market green hides have gone down ½c. per lb. all around. This usually occurs every year, as the hides now marketed are of poorer quality, having longer hair and thinner skins. We quote prices paid by buyers on arrival:

HIDES—We quote: No. 1, green, 7½c.; No. 2 green, 6½c.; No. 1 green, steers, 8c.; No. 2 green, steers, 7c.; cured, 7¾ to 8¼c.

SKINS—We quote: No. 1 calfskins, 9c.; and No. 2, 7c.; deacons (dairies) 55 to 60c. each; sheepskins, 65 to 75c.; deerskins, 12½ to 14c. per lb.

WOOL—We quote: Fleece, 13c., and unwashed, 7 to 8c. per lb.

SEEDS.

No further change has occurred, but the foreign export demand is rather better. We quote: Red clover, $5 to $5.40; alsike, $6.50 to $8.50, and timothy, $2.25 to $3 per bush.

MARKET NOTES.

Green hides are lowered ½c. per lb.

Turkeys have gone down 1c. per lb.

Labrador herring are being offered in 100-lb. kegs at $3 to $3.25 per keg.

Dressed hogs have advanced 25c. on the local market. Lard is also ½c. per lb. higher.

Potatoes are from 2 to 5c. per bag lower on the track, and retail out at from 5 to 10c. per bag lower.

Wheat, red and white, has taken a rise of 1c., as have also goose and oats, on the local market. Buckwheat is 3c. higher.

Messina lemons are 25 to 50c. and Valencia oranges 50c. per case lower. Cranberries have dropped from 50c. to $1 per bbl.

Local wholesalers are quoting canned tomatoes higher than they were, 87½ to 90c. now being the ruling price, although there are still some brands to be had at 85c.

QUEBEC MARKETS.

Montreal, January 9, 1902.

GROCERIES.

THE trade does not seem to have fallen off to the extent that it usually does after the Christmas holidays, and business is brisk both here and in the country. The trade in canned goods remains quiet. The new syndicate price of 87½c., an advance of 5c., is thought, by some, to be the forerunner of further advances in the near future. Though the syndicate has stated that tomatoes will reach the dollar mark before long, at this price the demand would likely be lessened. The general opinion, however, is that the retail price will soon be as high as this. In sugar, the conditions of last week still prevail. Trade is quiet, but for January this is expected. Lard, both pure and compound, has advanced ¼c. Pure lard, in 20-lb. pails, sells at $2.40, and compound, in 20-lb. pails, at $1.80. This is in sympathy with the pork market, and as further advances in hogs are expected—perhaps reaching record prices—the probability is that still higher prices will prevail in lard.

SUGAR.

The trade is quiet, but considering the time of year, pretty fair. Quotations here are still $3.25 to $3.90 for yellows, and $4 for granulated. At the moment no further declines are looked for.

TEAS.

There is not much doing. The holiday demand, however, was not heavy, and it is expected that a better movement will soon take place in order to replenish stocks, which are reported to be light throughout the Province. Prices are still firm on all lines. A letter received by S. H. Ewing & Co. from H. Lambe, Calcutta, under date of November 29, reads as follows : " Only 16,057 packages were printed for Friday last. The selection was useful, but most invoices showed a slight inferiority to their preceding ones. Assams were plentiful and included some useful liquoring teas. Darjeeling only put up three invoices. The market was dull, but except for medium pekoes without particular character, between 7d. and 8d., there was little change ; lower rates, when registered, generally being only in proportion to the falling off in quality, the grade above mentioned sold a farthing down, and at this rate colonial buyers continued to take a very considerable quantity. Teas for price were again very firm, and one pie rise even being registered in a few instances ; and as there was a larger proportion of low-grade tea in the sale than last week, a greater quantity could have been bought at 4-1—4-5 ; it however did not amount to over 1,000 chests. This week 17,400 packages are catalogued ; quality is without change."

SYRUPS.

The demand is only fair. Our quotations on corn syrup are as follows : 3½c. in bbls.; 3⅝c. in ½ bbls.; 3¾c. in ¼ bbls.; $1.60 in 38½-lb. and $1.20 in 25-lb. pails.

MOLASSES.

The demand is still a small one, but a change for the better is expected shortly. Barbados molasses, in single puncheons, sells for 29c., and 28c. in carlots. Antigua, in single puncheons, at 24c.

CANNED GOODS.

The only kind of canned goods that is causing dealers any thought is tomatoes. They appear to be getting scarcer. Some Montreal canners recently sold to large American buyers at quite high prices, which makes this market still firmer. Canned pears are also firm, and stocks are rather short. Peas are a good article to have just now. The demand for salmon still keeps up. The Lenten season, which is not far off, will doubtless create a brisk demand for salmon as well as for canned vegetables of all sorts, and canned fruits. There are no changes in prices to be noted, except in tomatoes, which are now 87½c. Corn is worth 80c., peas, 80 to 95c. Salmon sells for $1.00 to $1.05 for pink ; $1.30 for spring ; $1.32 for Rivers Inlet red sockeye ; $1.45 for Fraser River red sockeye, and $1.42½ to $1.45 for Clover Leaf talls.

Apples are still but in moderate demand. $2.60 is still quoted for gallon apples. There are very few 3-lb. apples. Quotations are $1 to $1.10.

RICE AND TAPIOCA

There is no change. Trade is fair at firm prices. We quote in combine district : B rice, in bags, $3.10 ; in ½ bags, $3.15 ; in ¼ bags, $3.20 ; in pockets, $3.25. In 10-lb. lots an allowance of 10c. is made. CC rice, $3 in bags ; $3.05 in ½ bags ; $3.10 in ¼ bags ; and $3.15 in pockets. In the open territory prices are about 10c. less. Patna rice is worth 4⅞c. per lb., and tapioca, 3¾ to 3⅞c.

SPICES.

There is nothing new to report in the way of prices. Trade is quiet, and prices are firm and steady. We quote as follows : Nutmegs, 30 to 55c. per lb., as to size ; penang mace, 45 to 50c. per lb.; as to quality ; pimento, ground, 12½ to 15c.; cloves, 15 to 25c.; pepper, ground, black, 17 to 22c., according to grade ; white, 25 to 27c.; ginger, whole, Cochin, 15 to 17c.; Japan, 13 to 14c.; Jamaica, 16 to 20c.; Afghan, 12 to 13c.; ground, Japan, 15c.; Cochin, 16 to 17c.; Jamaica, 20 to 22c., and Afghan, 13 to 14c.

FOREIGN DRIED FRUITS.

CURRANTS.—Prices are firm and it is expected that higher prices will prevail. Nothing new comes from the primary market, where prices remain steady. Fine Filiatras sell for 5⅝c. in ½ cases, and for 6c. cleaned ; 1-lb. cartons are worth 8c.; finest Vostizzas, 7¾ to 8c.

VALENCIA RAISINS.—The market conditions remain practically unchanged. Stocks here and in the country are in a good condition. We quote, locally, finest off-stalk, 5⅝c.; selected, 6⅝c.; layers, 6⅞c.

CANDIED PEELS.—The demand has been an exceptional one, and has reduced wholesale stocks considerably. Orange peel sells for 11½c.; lemon, for 10½c., and citron, 16½c.

MALAGA RAISINS.—The demand has dropped off considerably, but still there is a good trade at steady prices. We quote : London layers, $1.50 to $1.60 ; " Connoisseur Clusters," $2.15 to $2.25 ; ¼'s, 65 to 70c.; " Royal Buckingham Clusters," $3.30 to $3.35 ; ¼'s, $1.05 to $1.10 ; " Excelsior Windsor Clusters," $4.50 to $4.60 ; ¼'s, $1.30 to $1.40.

DATES.—Prices on Hallowee dates remain firm at 4¼ to 4½c.

FIGS.—There is a good demand for both layer and tapnet figs. The latter sell for 97½c. to $1.

CALIFORNIAN RAISINS.—Since prices have been withdrawn nothing definite has been learned as to the expected advance. On seeded raisins late advices intimate that the advance will be probably ¼ or ½c. There is a great scarcity on the Coast. A Montreal broker learns that there are not enough to make over 200 cars of seeded. They are still selling at 9¼ to 9½c.

PRUNES.—There is nothing new in the condition of the Californian prune market. Dealers are looking for an advance to 4c. in new prunes. We quote: Californians, 8½c. for 40-50's, 8c. for 50-60's, 7¾c. for 60-70's, 7½c. for 70-80's, 6¾c. for 80-90's, 6½c. for 90-100's.

NUTS.

Prices on all lines remain unchanged. Our quotations are : Walnuts, 9¾ to 11c.; Tarragona almonds, 12 to 13c.; shelled walnuts, 16½ to 17½c. ; shelled almonds, 26 to 27c.; Jordan shelled almonds, 42c.; filberts, 8¾ to 9½c.; pecans, 15 to 16c.

GREEN FRUITS.

The trade in green fruits does not usually amount to much at this time of year, and the present is no exception. Sweet potatoes, Vineland's, have gone up 75c. to $1.25, now being quoted at $4.75 to $5.50. There are very few on the market. Florida and Californian tangerines are arriving in good quantity and quality. Florida tomatoes are also coming in fairly well, and sell at $5.25 per crate. Grape fruit is offered at $4.25 per box. Our quotations are : Jamaica oranges, $4.50 to $4.75 ; Florida oranges, $3.75 to $4 ; Californian sunflowers, $3.50 to

FISH.

The year opened up well in the fish trade, and the demand, which is highly satisfactory, is likely to continue for some time. We quote as follows: Haddies, 6c.; bloaters, 90c. per box; kippers, 90c. per box; smoked, medium herrings, 11c. per box; fresh haddock and cod, 3½c. per lb.; whitefish, 6½c.; dore, 5½c.; pike, 4½c.; halibut, 9c.; salmon, 9c.; trout large and medium, 7c.; No. 1 herrings, Nova Scotia, $5.25 per bbl.; No. 1 herrings, Nova Scotia, $2.80 per ½ bbl.; No. 1 Holland herrings, $6.50 per ½ bbl.; No. 1 Scotch herrings, $6.50 per ½ bbl.; No. 1 Scotch herrings, 98c. per keg; Holland herrings, 72c. per keg; salted eels, 6½c. per lb.; No. 1 green codfish, $5.75 per bbl.; No. 2, $4.50; large, $6.50; No. 1 green haddock, $4.25 per bbl.; No. 1 pickled sardines, $5.50 per bbl.; No. 2 mackerel, $12.50 per bbl.; No. 3 mackerel, $9 per bbl.; cod, 1 and 2-lb. blocks, 6c. per lb.; loose boneless cod, 5c. per lb. in 40-lb. boxes; dressed codfish, $4.80 per case; dry codfish, $4.65 per 112-lb. bundle; No. 1 Labrador salmon, $17.50 in tierces; No. 1 Labrador salmon, $12 per bbl.; No. 1 Labrador salmon, $6.25 per ½ bbl.; No. 1 B.C. salmon, $6 per ½ bbl. and $11 per bbl.; standard bulk oysters, $1.30 per gal.; select bulk oysters, $1.50 per gal.; Malpeque, Blue Point and other shelled oysters, $6 per bbl.; clams, in shell, $4.50 per bbl.; Marshall's kippered herrings, and same with tomato sauce, $1.45 per doz.; Canadian kippered, $1 per doz.; Canadian ¼ sardines, $3.75 per 100; canned Cove oysters, No. 1 size, $1.30 per doz.; canned Cove oysters, No. 2 size, $2.20 per doz.

FLOUR AND GRAIN.

FLOUR.—The market is quiet with a strong undertone. The recent advance in wheat, if maintained, will likely be followed by an advance in flour. Our quotations, in carlots, are as follows: Spring wheat patents, $4.05 to $4.30; winter wheat patents, $3.85 to $3.95; straight roller, $3.65 to $3.75; strong bakers', $3.80 to $4.

GRAIN.—The market on the whole is steady with firm prices in peas and barley. We quote: Manitoba, No. 1 hard, 72c.; peas, 92 to 93c.; rye, 64 to 64½c. (for carlots in store); No. 2 barley, 57c.; oats, 47 to 48c.; buckwheat, 54 to 56½c. east; corn, 75 to 76c.

DO YOU REQUIRE —A SUPPLY OF—
CORKS OR CAPSULES?
If so, we will be pleased to furnish you with samples and prices. Any size Cork cut to order. Granulated Cork suitable for shoe factories.
S. H. EWING & SONS, 96 King St., MONTREAL.

OATMEAL.—There is no change. Prices are $5.85 to $5.90 in small lots.

FEED.—There is a good demand at firm prices. We quote: Ontario bran, $20 to $20.50; mouille, $28 to $30; Manitoba bran, $21; shorts, $23.

BALED HAY.—The trade is active and prices are firm. No. 1 timothy, $10.50 to $11; No. 2 timothy, $9.50 to $10; clover mixed, $8.25 to $9—$7.50 to $8 per ton in carlots.

COUNTRY PRODUCE.

EGGS.—The shortage in eggs continues, and prices have advanced in sympathy. Dealers are obtaining 22c. for pickled, an advance of 2c., and for select cold storage stock, 25c. New laid sell at 35 to 40c. Stocks are exceedingly small, and it is thought, by some, that there will not be enough to go round before the new eggs arrive.

HONEY.—There is not much movement, but prices remain firm. We quote: Buckwheat honey in comb, 10c.; white extracted, 9½ to 10c.; strained, 8 to 9c.

DRESSED POULTRY.—The demand for dressed poultry has, of course, fallen off quite a bit since Christmas week. For New Year's Day the demand was a very large one. Choice turkeys sold at 10½ to 11c., and ordinary, at 9c. Choice geese, 7½ to 8c. Choice chickens went well at 7½c. and fowls at 5½ to 6c.

ASHES.—There is a quiet market at steady and unchanged prices. Quotations are: First pots, $4.40 to $4.45 per 100 lb.; seconds, $4 to $4.05; pearls, $6.75 to $7.

BUTTER AND CHEESE.

BUTTER.—A considerable quantity of eastern butter is offering, but the quality is not of the best. The trade are now working on fall creamery, and there is not much of this on the market. For good stuff the market looks firm. Commission merchants are paying 20½c. for creamery, on which they have their profit, say, of 1 or 1½c. Large rolls sell at 17½ to 18c.

CHEESE.—During the holidays the trade has been quiet, with little doing. A few orders for colored, for export demand, have been given at 49s., an advance of 6d., and some of the trade are now asking for a further advance. The whole feeling is for higher prices. White sells at 48s. The local consumption is good.

MONTREAL NOTES.

Pickled eggs are 2c. higher.

Valencia oranges, 420's, are 25c. lower.

Lard is ¼c. higher, and may advance further.

Florida and Californian tangerines are arriving in good supply. They sell for $3.75 and $3 per box respectively.

NEW BRUNSWICK MARKETS.

OFFICE OF THE CANADIAN GROCER.

St. John, N.B., January 6, 1902.

THE travellers have already been sent out, and the effort to make the business of the present year larger and more profitable than that of the last is already well begun. With some the old year's business is not yet finished, as they take stock the last of this month. The last year, while showing more business changes than usual in St. John, has, on the whole, been a good year. Its most important feature has been the forming of The Wholesale Grocers' Guild for the three Maritime Provinces, which has resulted in the placing of sugar on the card-price principle. The price is now the same at the different points. Only one or two dealers have remained outside.

OIL.—The sale of burning oils continues very large. The market is rather unsettled. It cannot be called strong. Prices are unchanged. Local competition is quite active. In paint oils there is but little doing. Spot prices are unchanged, though in turpentine the market is higher. Linseed oil, for present delivery, is also quite high, but for later, rather lower values rule. Lubricating oils, as is usual at this season, are dull; values are unchanged, but the market is considered firm. Cod and seal oils are both high. Wax and candles are unchanged.

SALT.—In Liverpool coarse salt sales are not quite so active. There have been large receipts within the last few weeks, so the market is well supplied. Arrivals so far this season are not as large as last. There is a disposition not to put large quantities in store, and if possible to have it arrive regularly in such quantities as can be sold direct from the ship's side. This leaves the importer a better profit and gives lower prices to the buyer. Fine salt moves slowly.

The best selling tea in Canada today is
packed and sold by
12 Front St. East - Toronto

We quote: Liverpool coarse, 50 to 60c.; English factory-filled, 95c. to $1; Canadian fine, $1 per bag; cheese and butter salt bulk, $2.40 per bbl.; 5-lb. bags, $2.85 to $2.90 per bbl.; 10-lb. bags, $2.70 to $2.75 per bbl.; 20-lb. wood boxes, 22c. each; 10-lb. wood boxes, 14c. each; cartons, $2 per case of 2 doz.; English bottled salt, $1.25 to $1.30 per doz.; mineral rock salt, 60c. per 100 lb. (Selected lumps.)

CANNED GOODS.—There has been some interest in canned meats during the week, orders being placed for later shipments. Prices are lower than last year. Canadian goods have the market. There is some range in price between the packers. The other matter of interest has been the advance of 5c. in tomatoes by canners west. The local market shows little change. In vegetables, there is but a fair business. It is early yet for fruits. Salmon is freely offered at quite low figures. Canned mackerel sell very slowly here. In domestic packed fish there is little new, except sardines, in which stocks are limited.

GREEN FRUITS.—There is a good business. Oranges are the selling line, and four kinds are now offered. Prices are quite low. Some very fine Jamaica stock is offered. Californians and Floridas are the same price and are quite low. In lemons, a few Californians are here, but the Messinas sell much better at higher prices. Apples are rather dull and prices are high. Cranberries are rather higher and there is a fairly good sale. In Malaga grapes, just after the holidays, sales are not so active. A few Ontario grapes are still offered.

DRIED FRUITS.—The holiday demand being over, sales at the moment are light. The season is raisins has been particularly satisfactory and stocks are well cleaned up. From now, the sale is largely for Californian fruit. Seeded are having a steady sale. For best results the trade should use fancy instead of choice, and the difference in price is very small. Currants tend higher and stock is small. There is a fair, steady sale. In peels, the market is bare. Dates are in fair supply and prices are higher. Figs move slowly. Evaporated apples are firmly held. There is not a large stock. The higher prices lessen sales. In Californian prunes prices are unchanged. A better demand is looked for. Apricots and peaches move very slowly. Dried apples have just a fair sale and the consumption is not large. Onions are higher and there is a steady business.

DAIRY PRODUCE.—In eggs, prices as yet show little change, but the market seems to tend to lower figures. Strictly fresh are still at quite fancy prices. Butter is rather easier. There is an oversupply of poor butter. The loss, through poor butter, is very large, and should not be, as the butter should be good. Cheese are rather firmer. There is a fair trade.

SUGAR.—Prices have shown no change during the week. They are very low. Sales, particularly of granulated, are large. There is little foreign sugar now brought here. The quality of domestic sugar shows an improvement.

MOLASSES.—Values continue low. Porto Rico is the grade chiefly held. There is a fair movement. Some little Barbados is still offered. Some particularly nice New Orleans has been received and the price is low.

FISH.—At this season fresh fish have the demand. While the quantity of herring received has not been large, it has been rather better than during the past two seasons, but the supply is very uncertain. There are fair receipts of cod and haddock. Halibut are scarce and smelts are plentiful. The local market is not a large one. Dry cod is held firm, but there is little doing. Pollock is dull with price unchanged. Smoked herring continue low and in light demand. For pickled herring there is little inquiry at this season. Finnan haddies are quite plentiful and shipments west are large. There are no bloaters. We quote as follows: Large and medium dry cod, $3.50 to $3.65; small, $2.50 to $2.60; haddies, 5½ to 6c.; smoked herring, 6 to 7c.; fresh haddock and cod, 2½ to 3c.; boneless fish, 4 to 5c.; pollock, $1.50 to $1.60 per 100 lb.; pickled herring, $2 to $2.25 per ½ bbl.; Canso herring, $5.50 per bbl.; Shelburne, $2.50 per ½ bbl.; frozen herring, 75c. per 100; smelt, 5½ to 6c. per lb.

FLOUR, FEED AND MEAL.—In flour, the firmer prices rule and the market is quite strong. Oatmeal is not as strong. The local sale is light. Oats have but a fair sale, and prices are rather easier, but are still high. Feed is in demand, but is high and scarce. Beans are but fair sellers, and prices are unchanged. Cornmeal is strongly held at full figures and there is a fair sale. Hay is firm, and the heavy export demand continues. Barley is firm at the higher figures. Split peas are high. Blue peas are about out of the market. We quote as follows: Manitoba flour, $4.80 to $5.00; best Ontario flour, $3.90 to $4.20; medium, $3.70 to $3.90; oatmeal, $5.70 to $5.80; cornmeal, $3.30 to $3.35; middlings, $22 to $23; oats, 49 to 50c.; handpicked beans, $1.65 to $1.70; prime, $1.55 to $1.60; yellow eye beans, $2.80 to $3.00; split peas, $4.75 to $4.95; barley, $4.65 to $4.75; hay, $12 to $14.

TRADE NOTES.

David Brown, lately with Dearborn & Co., is now with Baird & Peters, pushing their tea.

F. P. Reid & Co., Moncton, N.B., have a car of prunes due from The J. K. Armsby Co. These they are selling freely to arrive.

MANITOBA MARKETS.

Winnipeg, January 6, 1902.

THE weather has been mild and fine all week, with exception of one day, and even then the thermometer only reached 20 below. In the grocery trade business has been very fair in spite of the holiday. Wholesale grocers declare that the falling off in trade is not so marked as usual. All travellers will again be on the road next Monday. A few changes in prices have occurred, but nothing of a startling nature.

FLOUR—All milling concerns are now selling on the same basis: Ogilvie's Hungarian patent, $2; Glenora patent, $1.85; Alberta, $1.65; Manitoba, $1.45; Imperial XXXX, $1.25; Lake of the Woods Five Roses, $2; red patent, $1.85; Medora, $1.45; XXXX, $1.25.

CEREALS—This market shows no change and the demand may be said to be normal in all lines. Rolled oats $2.40 for 80 lb. sacks; $1.20 for 40 lb. sacks; 65c. for 20-lb. sacks; granuated and standard oatmeal, $2.90. Cornmeal is firm at $2; split peas, $2.75 to $2.80; white beans, prime medium, $1.90.

CANNED FRUITS AND VEGETABLES—Interest is centred just now in the advance of 10c. per case on tomatoes in the east. The price here has not actually advanced, but there is no doubt that it will do so before this is in press. This would make the selling price here $2.30 to $2.35, and this advance would give dealers here a very narrow margin. Peas and corn are selling well. Canned fruit does not seem to be in as much demand as usual, owing, no doubt, to the fact that every year increases the amount the housewife is able to put away. Prices at the moment in Winnipeg remain at last week's quotations, viz.: Fruits—Strawberries, heavy syrup, $3.25; preserved, $3.60; raspberries, preserved, $3.25; syrup, $2.95; blackberries, $2.75; gooseberries, 2's, $2.90; 2's, preserved, $3.60; peaches, yellow, 2-lb. tins, $4; 3-lb. tins, $6; pears, 2-lb. tins, $3.50; 3-lb. tins, $4.50; apples, 3-lb. tins, canned, $2.50; 3-lb. tins, preserved, $3.65; gallon, canned, $1.60. Californian canned fruit in 2½-lb. tins—Plums, green gage, $4.25; Lombard, $4.20; damson, $4 20; egg, $4.20; peaches, $4.75; pears, $4 95; apricots, $4.75; cherries, white, $5.50. Canned vegetables—Tomatoes, $2.20 to $2.25; corn, 2-lb. tins, $1.90; peas, 2-lb. tins, $1 95; beans, 2 lb. tins, $1.85; pumpkin, 3 lb. tins, $2.10.

CANNED MEATS—The trade this winter shows a very distinct change. Owing to the greater facilities for obtaining fresh meat there has been very much less demand for beef, brawn and the other standard lines. On the other hand there is a very marked increase in the demand for veal, ham and chicken and cottage loaves and choice potted tongue and similar delicacies. The Christmas trade in these goods was the largest on record.

DRIED FRUITS — Latest advices from New York report large shipments of currants arriving and it is possible that this may slump the price for a short time, the high price, however, in primary markets is likely to prevent any serious drop. Raisins are about the same. It is possible, however, that now the holiday season is over and the demand slacking that prices all around may be a little easier.

RICE—Reports from Japan indicate an exceptionally heavy crop and this may ultimately effect the prices here, but as no new Japan can come in for six months it is not likely to make any material difference for the present at least. China and Rangoon are nominal in demand and unchanged as to price.

COFFEE—The market for Rios remains about the same. There has been a slight advance, but not sufficient to warrant any change of price here, and quotations are still 9¾ to 10c. Samples of the last importations have been received, and are certainly very good.

TEA — Another advance is reported in primary markets; in fact, several duplicating orders have been turned down, as they could not be filled at the former price.

SUGAR—No change has taken place for the week, but the market seems a little steadier than it did a week ago. We quote granulated at $4.95 and bright yellows $4.30.

FISH—Haddies are now arriving more freely, and dealers are beginning to feel some assurance of their orders being filled more promptly for the future. The price has dropped to 8½c. per lb. Bloaters are scarce, and the quality is not up to the usual mark of excellence, the fish being smaller than usual; the price is $1.75 for boxes containing 100. Whole cod are 6c. per lb., and boneless, 7 to 8c. Smelts have, so far, not arrived in sufficient quantities to satisfy the demand. Labrador herring are quoted at $4 per bbl.; mackerel, $1.80, and Holland herring, in kits, $1. There is an active demand for oysters at the present time; the price is $2 to $2.25 per gal.

GREEN FRUITS — The demand is very slight, and the only feature of interest is the shading of country prices for oranges to those of the city. This gives a range of $3.75 for 126's up to $4.75 for 200 to 250's. The stocks of apples are getting small and prices are unchanged and range irom $5 to $6. Cranberries are in fair demand at $10 per barrel. Other lines are not being asked for at present.

BUTTER—The situation shows no improvement. A very small quantity of creamery is being received, which jobs at 25c., and in dairy butter the supply is light, and of the little received a large percentage is of inferior quality and cannot be used for table butter. Good, sweet, fresh dairy brings 21 to 22c.: inferior grades, if fresh, 12 to 16c.

CHEESE—Demand at present is rather light and prices remain without change at 11c.

EGGS—Practically no Manitoba eggs are being received and the Ontario supply is none of the best, but candled stock is worth 27c.; pickled eggs, 20c.

POULTRY—The demand has slackened very perceptibly but prices remain unchanged: Chickens, 8 to 9c.; geese and ducks, 10c.; turkeys, 12 to 12½c.

VEGETABLES—Market is quiet and there is a limited consumptive demand: Potatoes, 35 to 40c. per bush.; carrots and beets, 45c. per bush.; turnips, 20 to 25c. per bush.; cabbage, $30 to $35 per ton; lettuce and radishes, 40c. per doz. bunches; celery, 45 to 60c. per doz., and growing scarcer.

NOTES.

One of the events of the week was the arrival of the first through train from Port Arthur to Winnipeg over the Canadian Northern. The last spike was driven at 10.45 on New Year's morning. The arrival of the train at Winnipeg occasioned much enthusiasm.

The N.W.C.T.A. banquet took place on December 30 at the Clarendon Hotel, and was very successful, as, indeed, have been all functions ever given by that organization.

"Aunt Jemima's" pancake flour, which has for years been so acceptable to the housewives across the line, is about to be introduced in Winnipeg for the first time. A carload will arrive next week, and it is the evident intention to push its sale vigorously, as a large number of samples are to be distributed. It will sell at $4.25 per case of 3 doz. packages, 2 lb. to the package.

THE ART OF TEA TASTING.

WOMAN has stormed and conquered trade after trade, profession after profession, but one of the very best paid lines of industry she has not yet turned her attention to at all. At the tea warehouses men are employed to taste the teas and decide on the different samples, and for this work all the capital needed is a trained palate. It is an occupation fairly within a woman's capacity, yet not one is engaged in it.

"I don't know why they shouldn't be," said a prominent dealer. "Of course, every tea-taster has a standard to go by: otherwise, as everyone's taste is different, no classification could be made. But it takes experience—familiarity with these standards."

A SIMPLE OUTFIT.

The tea-taster's outfit is very simple; a number of porcelain cups, a pair of scales, and a half-ounce weight. For, whereas, the housewife measures tea into her teapot by spooosful, or carelessly gauges the quantity with her eye, the professional maker of tea proceeds upon an exact method. He differs from the housewife also in using only distilled or filtered water. Then, having put the kettle on to boil, he does not neglect it until part of the contents have boiled away, but pours the water on the tea leaves the instant it reaches boiling point. Water boiled for several minutes becomes insipid, and will not make a good tea. For this reason also, if there is water left in the kettle, he is careful to rinse it out before refilling. After making the tea he only allows it from three to five minutes to draw, this being just sufficient to develop its fullest flavor. To the correct palate the bitterness consequent on overdrawing tea is very disagreeable.

THE PERFECT INFUSION.

Given the perfect infusion the taster notes its color; a rich, clear golden hue almost always denotes good tea. He also inhales its odor, a significant indication of quality, and then his trained palate decides on the whole matter. He does not swallow the tea taken into his mouth, because to do so would temporarily destroy the acuteness of taste. It has been asserted, says The Philadelphia Record, that those who make a business of tea-tasting find it injurious to health, but this the dealer denied. Teas of all kinds have two values—intrinsic or real, commercial or marked value. So that in their selection for commercial purposes four leading features are to be considered—leaf, style, liquor, and flavor. Choice of all kinds is handsomely made and stylish; if not artistically curled, twisted or rolled, according to its make. Thus, green tea, of the imperial gunpowder order, is hand-rolled and shotty, regular in make and of a bright natural green. Hyson leaf is well and evenly curled and twisted. Black or Oolong leaf is firmly silky and creepy. Old and inferior teas are largely rough and loosely rolled and being partially or entirely devoid of sap or succulence, are correspondingly coarse and flavorless in the infused state.—Morning Leader.

PETERBORO' CHEESEMEN.

A meeting of the cheesemakers, salesmen and others around Peterboro', Ont., was held in the town council chamber of that town on January 4, when certain amendments, which will most likely be introduced at the annual meeting of the Peterboro' Cheese Board, were discussed. This meeting was well attended by farmers and cheesemen. It is felt by them that the rules of the cheese board can stand certain amendments.

MARITIME PROVINCE BUSINESS MEN.

I had a talk the other day with W. H. Seyler, who for over five months has been travelling through Quebec, New Brunswick, and Nova Scotia, for The F. F. Dalley Co., of Hamilton.

It was Mr. Seyler's first visit to the Maritime Provinces, and he was naturally busy forming his impressions as well as selling goods, and he appears to have succeeded well in both respects. "It is pleasant," he said, "to do business with the merchants in the Maritime Provinces. They are conservative in their way of doing business, but they are most friendly and sociable, and I received every courtesy. Most of them complain, however, that the balance of trade between the Maritime Provinces and Western Canada is largely in favor of the latter.

"One thing I regretted to learn and that was that there appears to be a house here and there in Ontario that thinks it can use the Maritime Provinces as a dumping ground for cheap and inferior goods. The result has been to bring a discredit upon western goods and to make it extremely difficult to introduce new goods there."

Mr. Seyler said that Sydney was a revelation to him on account of the extent of the steel and iron works and the magnificence of the harbor. "Business," he said, "is rather overdone, too many merchants having opened up there. This, of course, will remedy itself in time.

"Wherever I went I saw 'The Canadian Grocer.' This was a source of gratification to me, for it kept me well in touch with trade conditions in the west during my five months' absence."

The business men of the Province of Quebec, Mr. Seyler speaks most highly of, and particularly their quickness in coming to a decision and their general courtesy.

THE BEET-SUGAR INDUSTRY.

GALT CARRIES THE BY LAW.

ON January 7, the by-law granting $4,000 towards the purchase of a site for the proposed new sugar refinery at Galt was submitted to the electors and was carried by a large majority. The poll stood 868 for to 43 against.

WIARTON GIVES A BONUS.

In Wiarton, the campaign in favor of granting a $25,000 bonus to the beet-sugar company there was brought to a successful conclusion, the electors almost unanimously voting in its favor when the by-law was submitted on January 7.

LINDSAY WORKING FOR FACTORY.

Down in Lindsay, Ont., considerable interest is being aroused concerning the sugar-beet-growing industry. A special beet-sugar committee that has recently been appointed, has held a meeting at which considerable progress was made towards securing a sugar refinery. They appointed two canvassers to go around and visit the farmers to solicit acreage contracts, and decided that to make the campaign effective it would be advisable to have schoolhouse meetings, at which the different features in connection with the growing of beets and the market which might be expected for them could be explained to the farmers. Wm. Cameron and Johnston Ellis are the appointed canvassers, while a sub committee composed of S. J. Fox, M.P.P., Dr. Vrooman, M.P., N. Hockin, R. Bryans, E. H. Hopkins, H. J. Lytle, F. C. Taylor, and W. Flavelle were appointed to look into the minor details. Already the dates for a number of meetings have been decided on.

EARLY CLOSING IN NORTH SYDNEY.

The merchants of North Sydney, N.S., have decided to close their places of business from now until April 1 at 6 o'clock every evening except Saturday. During April they will close at 7 p.m. From May 1 to November 31 their stores will close on Mondays and Thursdays at 8 p.m., Tuesdays and Fridays at 7.30, and Wednesdays at 6.

AN OLD RESIDENT DEAD.

On the morning of January 8, an old resident of Toronto died suddenly in the person of Mr. Richard Philip, who has been a member of the firm of H. P. Eckardt & Co., wholesale grocers, Toronto, since the business started in 1887. Deceased was born in Cornwall, Eng., in 1832, and came with his parents to Canada when he was 12 years old. He was a member of Trinity Methodist Church, on Bloor street west. He leaves a widow and six daughters to mourn his demise.

Mr. H. P. Eckardt is a son-in-law of deceased.

HONORED THEIR PRESIDENT.

On January 5, the Licensed Victuallers' Association of Montreal gathered at the St. Lawrence Club to present their popular president, Lawrence A. Wilson, with a handsome span of horses, a set of silver-mounted harness, two sleighs, and a set of four black bearskin robes.

STILL IMPOSING FINES.

Several fruit dealers have been prosecuted and fined by W. A. McKinnon, chief of the fruit department, and Inspectors Lick and Carey at Colborne, Ont., for violations of the Dominion Fruit Packing Act.

The minimum fines were imposed as these were the first offences, but fruiterers were warned that severe penalties would be demanded in dealing with future cases.

COOPERATION.

THE grocery trade is experiencing growing pains, and some of the members of that honorable and useful branch of business are beginning to wonder where they are "at," and whether there is going to be any grocery business for them to stay in some years hence. Retailers fear the abnormal development of new retailing agencies, and some of the wholesalers growl because the buying pools are spreading among the retailers—those wholesalers who do not sell to the pools.

Cooperation is applied to the grocery troubles in two or more ways. First, we see the retail pool exchanges; second, comes the card system, a cooperative agency for regulating prices; third, cooperation in the manufacture of goods and also in the wholesaling of merchandise, several wholesale firms in a neighborhood or town joining forces for mutual benefit.

One of the most peculiar forms of grocery cooperation is reported from Pasadena, Cal., in the following statement: "Grocers have considerable to say concerning the cooperative organization of Southern California grocers, of which J. D. Nash, of this city, is president. The independent merchants are inclined to buck the concern, and some of them do not think that it will be able to live. The association consists of one grocery in each of the larger towns of this part of the State, all being banded together, having one buyer, the idea being to obtain goods in large lots, which are distributed from a common centre or headquarters. The snag which the new company has encountered is an ultimatum from some of the leading independent firms to the wholesalers in the east, in effect that the wholesalers must choose between the trust and the independents. If a soap company, for instance, sells to the trust, then the independent grocers will boycott that soap company. The same ultimatum, it is said by a Pasadena grocer, has been delivered to other large eastern houses, and as independents are greatly in the majority, they think they have the inside track."

It may be taken for granted that this "growing-pains" period in the grocery trade is but a passing one, and that it will be followed by a return to older principles in most cases, as the benefits to be derived by cooperative enterprise are too commonly absorbed by one or two individuals.—N. Y. Merchants' Review.

MINOR CHORDS.

Do not "blow" about your business to customers. They might conclude that you are doing too much.

Do not ask two prices. Your customer might think that the other fellow gets the lowest.

Do not keep a clerk down. Your competitor might lift him up.

Do not fail to keep your engagement with the travelling salesman. His time is money.

Do not expect returns from your first advertisement the same day. It takes time for seeds to take root.

Do not say a word in your advertisement that you will have to "eat." Indigestion is troublesome.

Do not try to be funny in your advertisement. There's a wide divergence of opinion as to what constiutes fun, and the joke may be on you.—The Keystone.

B. D. W. McClure, grocer, Fort William, Ont., is selling out to Snellgrove Bros., of the same place.

On the morning of January 6 Hamwill Bros.' confectionery store, King street East, Hamilton, was damaged to the extent of $4,000 or $5,000 by fire. The firemen had difficulty in getting it under control. The insurance on the stock amounted to $3,000.

ARREST OF A TORONTO RETAILER.

It will be remembered that about three weeks ago, Charles Plumb, a Yonge street grocer, Toronto, made an assignment to Richard Tew, who sold his stock upon instructions from his creditors. Now, a charge is laid against him by The Eby, Blain Co., Limited, of Toronto, that he misrepresented his business affairs to them, and on the strength of this he obtained quantities of goods, defrauding them out of $500 by the above assignment. At their instance Detective Harrison placed him under arrest on January 7.

It is stated by the above firm that when Plumb first obtained goods from them he gave them to understand that nobody but himself had any interest in the business. He declared that he had not borrowed any money, and stated that his books showed a surplus. But as soon as he assigned his father came forward with a claim for $1,300, which amount he claimed he had advanced to his son to carry on the business. The stock brought 75 cents on the dollar when sold to Jesse Ward. When the proceeds from this sale were placed against his liabilities, it was found that only 10 or 15 cents on the dollar would be paid.

BUTTER MEN MEET.

The patrons and shareholders of The Whittington Butter Manufacturing Company held their annual meeting on January 2, at the schoolhouse at Whittington, Dufferin county, Ont. The total amount of butter manufactured last season was about 81,000 lb. This has enabled the shareholders to pay their shares in full. The amount of each share was $25, only $9 being called for, the balance being paid out of the profits of the factory.

The following were elected officers for 1902: President and treasurer, William Dynes; secretary and salesman, W. H. Gillespie; vice-president, Chas. Crombie; directors, George Brown, James Braiden, J. J. Hall, W. T. Johnston, John Patterson; auditor, John S. Wallace.

MR. DOBIE HONORED.

Mr. Wm. Dobie, the popular manager of The E. W. Gillett Co., Toronto, manufacturers of "Royal" yeast, "Magic" baking powder, etc., was made the victim of a very pleasant surprise on Friday evening last. It is the custom of the company to call their travelling salesmen to headquarters at the beginning of each year, when the preceding year's work and future prospects are discussed. On this occasion, the travellers, together with the office staff, visited the residence of Mr. Dobie, and presented him and his wife each with a very handsome travelling case of leather, with silver-mounted fittings, appropriately engraved. After an impromptu supper had been done full justice to, speeches were made by many of the gentlemen present. Mr. Dobie, on behalf of his wife and himself, thanked the donors for their beautiful gifts, and after singing "He's a Jolly Good Fellow," the visitors departed, acknowledging that they had been royally entertained.

A DIRECTORY FOR WHOLESALERS.

A wholesale grocers' directory for the United States for 1902 has just been issued by Owen Thacker, Columbus, Ohio. This directory is the most complete of its kind ever published there, containing the names of every wholesale grocer in the Republic. This affords a reliable list for mailing and correspondence for manufacturers. The book is attractively gotten up in a red cover and will be mailed to anyone on receipt of the price, which is $1 per copy.

C. P. R. LOWERS RATES TO THE WEST.

The Canadian Pacific Railway Company has issued a circular reducing its freight rates from the east to Manitoba and the Northwest points for the year 1902. By comparing the following the nature of these reductions can be seen:

Toronto to Fort William, old rate, first class, $1.35; second, $1.15; third, 90c.; fourth, 65c.; fifth, 57c.; sixth, 48c. New rate, first class, $1; second, 82c.; third, 66c.; fourth, 47c.; fifth, 40c.; sixth, 34c.

Toronto to Winnipeg, old rate, first class, $1.81; second, $1.55; third, $1.24; fourth, 97c.; fifth, 82c.; sixth, 74c. New rate, first class, $1.78; second, $1.52; third, $1.21; fourth, 95c.; fifth, 80c.; sixth, 73c.

There are also corresponding reductions to Northwestern points. Under the Crow's Nest Pass agreement tariffs, the commodity rates have also been lowered.

MR. LAWSON LEAVES THE ROAD.

Mr. A. H. Lawson, who during the last 10 years has represented John Sloan & Co., wholesale grocers, Toronto, in Eastern Ontario, has been taken into the sample room of the firm. His position on the road has been assumed by Mr. Frank Tait, formerly with The Lang Manufacturing Co., Montreal.

A GOOD MOVEMENT.

In the Maritime Provinces of Nova Scotia and New Brunswick tourists' associations have been working effectively for a number of years. The towns and cities have been beautified, and thousands of tourists have annually come from the New England States, Boston, and New York, and other cities farther south. The residents of these Provinces have reaped a golden harvest, while everybody has been benefited by the increased steamship service, the enlargement of the hotels and other public improvements rendered necessary to accommodate these visitors.

Now, in Victoria, B.C., a number of leading citizens have met together, formed themselves into a tourist association, adopted a constitution and have laid out plans whereby they hope to greatly beautify the town, and by extensive advertising through the newspapers, guide books and circulars, attract from all points tourists during the summer. Comment in many other centres of population and trade has been excited and people are largely watching to see what the results will be.

TORONTO BOARD OF TRADE'S NEW SECRETARY.

The Toronto Board of Trade has appointed Paul Jarvis, as secretary, to succeed Edgar A. Wills, who has resigned his position to accept a situation with Hiram Walker & Co., Walkerville, Ont. The new secretary will enter upon his duties on January 15. He was educated at Trinity College School, Port Hope, Ont., and Upper Canada College, Toronto. His business career was started in the Dominion Bank. He has been in Winnipeg, and also in Buffalo, where he was chief accountant of The World Medical Dispensary Association, of Buffalo, and had charge of from 300 to 400 employes.

Mrs. Gray was appointed as assistant secretary. She has been in the secretary's office for nine years in the capacity of head clerk, and has proved herself a valuable and efficient official.

A GOOD MARGIN OF PROFIT FOR THE RETAILERS.

NOVA SCOTIA MARKETS.

Halifax, January 6, 1902.

SINCE last report the old year has gone out and the new one has come in, and while each and every one is wishing his neighbor a "Happy New Year," the shrewd business man is looking closely into his business to see how good a year has been the one which has passed—"taking stock," as it were, of the general results, and laying his plans for the new year.

Of the grocery trade, Dunn's review of business of the Province says: "Profits are reported regular, with losses not excessive. There is a tendency noticeable amongst wholesale dealers in this line to restrict credits and conduct business more on a 30 days' basis, which would lessen the amount of risk run and would be beneficial to both seller and buyer."

Business is largely gauged in any country or in any city by the amount of imports and exports — the total general trade. That business has been good in all lines in Halifax during 1901, is shown by the fact that the Customs revenue collected exceeded the year 1900 by the large sum of $128,063.58, the total for that year being $1,339,898.24, and in 1901 $1,467,961 82. In every month of the year except July there was an increase, showing the general average of trade to have been steady throughout the year.

Both wholesalers and retailers agree with the general tenor of Dunn's report. Business for the year has been good, and there is every prospect of another successful year to follow. It may be noted, however, that the failures for 1901 exceed those of 1900, but this is accounted for by the big fire at Sydney, an occurrence which usually leaves a heavy mark on the failure list of any year.

The fisheries, one of Nova Scotia's most important industries, and tending largely to increase the trade of the Province, seem to have been up to the average, though the figures for the year are not yet available. Halifax County fishermen did extremely well on mackerel this season, but the general area of the catch was limited. The herring catch was below the average. In cod, haddock, hake, lobsters and other fish the catch was good, and prices ranged fairly high and steady. Bank fish are now being held at $3.60 per quintal, and there is only a small quantity changing hands.

Fresh lobsters are now retailing in the maket here, and considerable quantities are being shipped alive to the United States. Fishing along the South Shore is good, and considerable quantities of fish are coming from the Banks. Five schooners were in port last week, aggregating about 30,000 lb., principally haddock.

The butter market stands to-day as a week ago. Prices are firm, demand good, and best creamery scarce. Cheese is slightly firmer, and there is considerable supply in the market—10 to 10½c. is quoted. Eggs are higher, especially fresh laid, which are now up to 30c. retail, and some of the market women who have colored fresh eggs get nearer 40c. Hay, bran, middlings, feeds and flour have remained at prices last quoted. Oats, which a week ago were quoted at 60 to 62c. wholesale, are now quoted at 57c. Potatoes are firm at 40c. wholesale.

Our merchants are looking forward to a brisk year in all lines of trade.

CATALOGUES, BOOKLETS, ETC.

AN ART CALENDAR FREE.

Fairbank's art calendar for 1902, with four art supplements, reproducing four Paris Salon pictures, value $1, will be mailed free to any address for 12 fronts cut from the outside wrapper of Fairbank's glycerine-tar soap, Fairbank's scouring soap, "Copco" soap or "Gold Dust," of one kind or assorted, or for 12 2c. stamps. As the price of any of the above goods is a small investment, you can economize by sending 12 wrappers instead of the 12 stamps, and thus secure a calendar free.

The four art supplements can be used singly or together, framed or unframed, to decorate your home in an almost endless variety of ways which your artistic taste may suggest.

Be sure and give your name and address plainly written. Mail only the front or top of outside container. Please follow the directions carefully. Any one of the five pages is worth more than the expense to secure the entire set. Give the name of this paper, and address The N. K. Fairbank Company, Wellington and Ann streets, Montreal, Que., Dept. D. The calendar is most certainly a beautiful work of art.

SNOWDON & PATERSON'S CALENDAR.

Snowdon & Paterson, manufacturers' agents, Montreal, who represent firms having headquarters in Toronto, Montreal, London, England, and Glasgow, Scotland, have issued a neat calendar this year with the names of the firms they are agents for and their lines of goods carried by them printed thereon.

Those who drink it. What do they say about

Red Rose Tea?

That's where the test comes. Advertising won't make anyone drink tea they don't like. Some packers appear to think that extensive advertising will "create a demand" altogether regardless of the real value of the Tea.

They may be right. If they are, then I am all wrong. A few years hence they will have the business and I—well, never mind. Time will tell where I will be.

In the Maritime Provinces Red Rose has reached a sale never before attained by any brand. "The demand has been created" by the Tea proving year in and year out the best of any on the market, and not by extensive advertising.

I propose to continue to advertise in the same way throughout Canada. Red Rose Tea will continue to be the best Tea on the market. Once introduce it to your customers and you will find they will advertise it to their friends, and your business will increase.

THE J. Y. GRIFFIN CO.

The J. Y. Griffin Co., Winnipeg, have removed their produce business over to their packing house on the east side of Red river. It is understood that, although they will carry on a produce business as usual, they will devote themselves more exclusively to the packing industry.

THE PROVISION MARKETS.

TORONTO.

The receipts of western and northern hogs are lighter than last week. They are firmly held at $7.90 to $8.15 per 100 lb. Locally, dressed hogs are in some cases 25c. higher and are very scarce. Front quarters of beef are 50c. higher also. The other prices remain unchanged. We now quote as follows: Dressed hogs, $8.10 to $8.50; beef carcasses, $5.50 to $6.50 per 100 lb.; hind quarters, $6 to $7 per 100 lb.; front quarters, $4.75 to $5.50 per 100 lb. Veal, 6 to 7½c. per lb.; lambs, 6 to 6½c. Live hogs: Selects, $6.50, and lights $6 per 100 lb.; choice export cattle bring $4.75 to $5 per 100 lb.; lights sell at $4 to $4.50.

There is a more active demand for cured meats with prices very firm. Lard is ¼c. higher. There is no further change. We now quote as follows: Long clear bacon, 11c.; smoked breakfast bacon, 14 to 15c.; rolls, 11½c.; medium hams, 13½c.; large hams, 12½ to 13c.; shoulder hams, 11c., and backs, 13½ to 14c.; Canadian heavy mess pork, $19.50 to $20; short cut, $21.00 to $22; lard, in tierces, 11¼c. per lb.; tubs, 11½c., and pails, 11¾c.

ST. JOHN, N. B.

In pork and beef prices are very firmly held. There is a light business. In lard there is a fair stock here. Full figures are asked.

MONTREAL.

The provision trade is good at firm prices. The only changes to be noted are in hams, which have gone up 1c., the price now quoted being 13c., and in pure Canadian lard, which is $2.35 to $2.40 per pail, an advance of 10 to 15c. We quote: Heavy Canadian short cut mess pork, $22 00; Chicago clear pork, $23.25 for heavy and $22.75 for medium; selected heavy short cut mess pork, boneless, $22.00 to $22.50; hams, 13c.; bacon, 15c.; lard, pure Canadian, $2.35 to $2.40 per pail; refined lard compound (Fairbank's); $2.02 for 1 to 24 pails; $2.00 for 25 to 49 pails; $1.99 for 50 pails and over. Snow White and Globe compound, $1.72½ per pail; Cottolene, 10⅞c. for 20 lb. pails, and 10⅝c. for 60-lb. tubs, for Quebec and Ontario.

WINNIPEG.

The packing houses are taking stock this week and very little business has been done. Prices remain unchanged.

TRADING STAMP LAW IN FORCE.

THE Act passed at the last session of the Ontario Legislature prohibiting the use of trading stamps went into force on January 1. On that day the various offices of the Dominion Trading Stamp Co. throughout Ontario were closed, and the following circular was sent out from the head office in Toronto to merchants using the stamps :

To Merchants using our Trading Stamps :

Gentlemen,—The statute prohibiting us giving, receiving or dealing with our trading stamps came into force this morning. The Court of Appeal has not yet delivered judgment on the question of the validity of the statute, and we find ourselves obliged by law to close our doors until such time as a decision is given and our right to continue business established. We must obey the law so long as it remains in force. In the event of judgment being given against us, we intend to appeal to the Supreme Court of Canada. We regret this delay, but cannot do anything to avoid it.

In the meantime the trading stamp business will remain at a standstill. We wish you would kindly request your customers to retain all trading stamps they have on hand until the matter is definitely settled.

You will please return any stamps you may have on hand, and pay for those used to our representative presenting this letter. Hoping to obtain a favorable decision and resume business at an early date, we are,

Yours truly,
Dominion Trading Stamp Co.

IMPORTATIONS OF MOLASSES.

Out of a total importation during 1901 into the port of Halifax of 12,452 puncheons, 1,080 tierces and 1,696 barrels of molasses, the trade returns show that The Dominion Molasses Co., Limited, received 7,734 puncheons, 462 tierces and 531 barrels. These figures are significant, and must impress every intelligent buyer with the fact that their business is sufficiently large to insure the obtaining of their supplies from the very fountain-head of production, and the assortment, including as it does all the best brands of Porto Rico, Barbados and Antigua in various sized packages, is so large and so complete that there is practically nothing in the wants of molasses-buyers that cannot be supplied by this concern.

SENDS HIS BILL TO HUSBANDS.

I HAVE been in the grocery business since 1887, and have served a long apprenticeship with all the usual schemes for collecting debts. My experience has been that nine out of 10 of the people who refuse to pay a grocery bill are dead-beats, and know it. I mean by that that they have no money and no property, which makes it impossible to collect anything from them, even though you sue them and get judgment. Most dead-beats know this very well, and they laugh at you when you threaten to take the matter to court. You can take it there, of course, and get a judgment, but you will simply be about $3 worse off, because it will cost you that much to get a judgment, which will be worth nothing.

You can't show up a dead-beat for what he is, either, for the law says no. It isn't safe even to do anything public which will make the public know that he owes you money, because the law will give him damages for injury to "reputation" every time.

Practically all my trouble in collecting back bills has been with people of this class, who couldn't be humiliated into paying, and who couldn't be reached by law. It is easy to get your money from a man with property, because if the worst comes to the worst, you can sue him and get judgment, which will levy execution on his property.

I have employed three collecting agencies in my time, and I am done with them now for good and all. Not one of them ever collected one cent for me. In two I had to pay an initation fee, which was money thrown away, as I never got anything back for it. The third undertook to collect on commission—25 per per cent. of all bills collected—but never got any commission, because it never collected any bills.

All these collecting agencies work alike. The most of them make you pay a lump sum down first, which is like money found for them, if they don't collect a cent. This advance sum they call "entrance fee" or "dues" or "initiation fee," or some other name meant to hide the fact that it is a straight gouge.

All the collecting agencies I employed simply wrote letters to my delinquents. That did no good, for the dead-beats all knew that the agency couldn't follow the letters up with any legal process any more than I could, because they had no property to levy on. So the letters were simply like so much waste paper, so far as any tangible results were concerned, although the agencies who wrote them got a fat price from me for doing so.

My experience simmers down to one little plan that I have made my business conform to. Although the simplest thing in the world, it has kept my bad debts down to a surprisingly small minimum. I simply send all my bills, whenever possible, to the men of the house, instead of the women. In one case, where the woman was always behind, and always making excuses, I changed the account to weekly payments simply by sending the bill to the husband at his place of business. The matter was attended to, and kept attended to, for the first time since I began selling groceries to that family.

A check came for the bill regularly every week or month, according to the terms had with the family, two or three days after it was mailed.

I was led to adopt this plan by a certain incident that happened in 1895. I had among my customers a wealthy family. The husband was one of the members of a big drug concern, and had money enough to pay all his bills and a good deal more. The wife did all the marketing in person, and she seemed always short. They used a lot of goods every week, having much company, and the bills ran up. She paid a little on account from time to time, but one day in going over the books I discovered that she owed me an aggregate amount of $175. I wrote her a courteous letter telling her this, and asking for an immediate check. In reply I got an excuse and a promise, and I continued to get excuses and promises to all the subsequent letters which I wrote her.

It did not occur to me even then to see the husband about it, because I could not imagine that a man's wife could be that far behind with her grocer without the husband's knowledge. So as the claim was good, I put it in the hands of a collecting agency. The agency did what I should have done—wrote the husband a courteous note, stating the circumstances, and suggesting that the matter had probably been overlooked.

An immediate reply came back, stating that he had known nothing whatever about the matter, but would that night consult his wife about it. I imagine there was a stormy time in the house that night, but the next day a check came for the amount in full, with an apology.

That gave me the idea that many housewives get behind in their household accounts without their husband's knowledge, and I acted on it, as I have stated, by afterward sending the bills to the men, and keeping them constantly informed as to the status of the account. In many cases where I could not have collected by judgment, this method has kept a debtor jogged up right along.—A. P. W. in Grocery World.

A TRAVELLER'S DEFENCE.

A somewhat sad instance of modern competition, remarks Grocery, especially amongst the travellers of different houses in their endeavor to secure orders for the firms they represent, is afforded by a case which came before the Gloucester assizes. A commercial traveller was charged with embezzling money belonging to his employers, and his defence was that he had not devoted the money to his own purposes, but had employed it in entertaining customers with a view to increased sales. Unfortunately for him, he had previously been in trouble for a similar offence and he was sentenced to three years' penal servitude, but there is very little doubt in our minds that, feeling himself incapable of securing trade in any other way, he had endeavored to obtain it by the means he stated. All this is very sad, but on the whole we doubt whether, in spite of the keen competition which exists, the treating evil is so bad by a long way as it used to be even 20 years ago. Then it was quite unusual for a bargain to be completed without the assistance of alcohol in some shape or form. Now it is the exception rather than the rule.

THE CAR SHORTAGE.

THIS fall and winter the shortage of grain cars to carry the stores of grain has been keenly felt by all the towns and shipping points of Manitoba. Excepting at competing points, such as Brandon, Hartney and Portage la Prairie, the crop has not been handled at all satisfactorily. But it is said that the C. P. R. has supplied plenty of cars and motive power at points on the C. P. R. line system in the United States. To protest against this state of affairs the citizens of the town of Griswold, Man., and the surrounding country, held an indignation meeting and resolutions were unanimously passed and copies of these were ordered to be sent to the officials of the C. P. R. and the Dominion Government.

In these the above facts are stated and it is pointed out that cars are now being supplied, contrary to the Railway Act, to Oak Lake, to ship out flour equal to 1,300 barrels a day.

It is said that if cars were supplied there would be an average delivery of 2,000 bushels of grain a day till spring.

Attention is also called to the shortage in coal, one dealer only receiving two carloads since November, although he had contracted for one carload a week to be shipped from the mines.

It is also stated that there has been no grain cars at Griswold elevator since December 14, but every day trains composed of empties are passing west, and the company utterly refuse to leave off any cars at the siding there.

TRAVELLERS WANT TO ORGANIZE.

The advisability of forming a local commercial travellers' association at Peterboro' was discussed by a well attended meeting last week at the Oriental Hotel there. It was decided to send a deputation to wait on the president of The Toronto Commercial Travellers' Association, and urge upon them the importance of the step contemplated. Another is to wait on The Dominion Commercial Travellers' Association, at Montreal, for the same purpose.

J. C. Grant, Secretary of The Peterboro' Association, was instructed to write the various commercial travellers' organizations, that the names of any members residing in that town might be obtained. He was also requested to write the chief officer of The Toronto Travellers' Association, for as much information as would be required before organizing a camp in Peterboro'.

CLERKS TO ELECT OFFICERS.

The annual election of officers of The Toronto Grocery Clerks' Association will take place next Tuesday evening, January 14. They meet in Lodge Room No. 2, Temple Building, and will be glad to have every retail clerk in the city come and identify themselves with the association, which is making special efforts to raise the standard of clerks here and elsewhere. Arrangements are in progress for an essay contest on subjects of great importance to every clerk. Every grocer should interest himself in this excellent organization, and do all he can to induce his salesmen to join and attend these meetings, which are held once each month.

CEYLON TEA

BLACK

The merit of the Black Teas has established them high in popular estimation. They are drunk wherever the English language is spoken. They follow the flag and drive out less meritorious growths.

OR

But some consumers are wedded to light drawing kinds, with pale liquor and without the full body and richness of the black kinds.

GREEN

The Green Teas of Ceylon are made expressly for this trade. In Make, Quality and Price they challenge comparison with other growths.

They are grown, prepared and packed with the same skill by the British Planters who have revolutionized the black tea trade.

They have caught on in Canada and are no longer in the experimental stage. Try them.

OUR TRADE WITH THE WEST INDIES.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)

THE West India trade is one which has lately excited additional interest in Halifax, as it is one which has been of interest and commercial value to the city since the days when that trade was only carried on by small schooners, unsubsidized or assisted in any way by the Government—the present interest arising from the fact that Halifax merchants, having spent their time, means and energy in bringing the trade up to a more or less paying one commercially, some of the merchants of St. John lately sent a delegation to Ottawa in an endeavor to secure a large portion of the benefit of the Government subsidy now granted, to the detriment of Halifax trade.

Neither are the Halifax merchants interested in this trade selfish in the matter. There is room for all in the market, consequently there is room for St. John; but Halifax merchants object to the steamers, which have been sailing direct, being delayed by another port of call, when a portion of the goods shipped are of a more or less perishable nature. Their idea is that, having worked up the trade—as we have said from the days of the small schooner—they should not now be hampered in that trade by others. "What we have we'll hold" is the motto in their case—and let others get, in the same way, and hold, in the same way, all they can get. The idea is not selfish, but a desire to hold and reap the benefit of years of work which may not always have been the most profitable.

At present, the steamers sailing from this port to the West Indies are: The Beta, Pickford & Black's line, sails for Bermuda, Turk's Island, Kingston, Jamaica, making the trip in about 21 days. The Oruro, Ocamo, Orinoco, of the same line, one sailing every two weeks and making the trip in about six weeks, sail to Bermuda, Windward Islands, Demerara, and other ports—the principal cargoes being fish of all kinds—principally dry fish. Considerable quantities of cheese, butter, flour, potatoes, and vegetables, are also taken to Bermuda and some other ports, though the trade in these is uncertain and somewhat variable. Drugs, paints, books, paper, furniture, etc., in small quantities, are also found among the list of exports. A steamer of the Munson line also runs once a month to Havana, and at certain seasons of the year takes considerable quantities of potatoes.

The principal imports by these steamers are fruits in season, rum, sugar, and molasses. The fruits are disposed of by wholesale dealers and distributed to various points in the Province; quantities of the rum are reshipped to England; the molasses are disposed of, as the fruit, after supplying the local markets; and the raw sugar is principally refined at the local refineries.

The imports of raw sugar and molasses at Halifax for the year 1901 may be of interest, as they compared favorably with those of former years:

R.C.H.

Halifax, December 30, 1901.

THE NEW MONTREAL SECRETARY.

Mr. E. H. Cooper, who during the last 18 months has been a member of the editorial staff of THE CANADIAN GROCER, in Montreal, has severed his connection with this paper for the purpose of assuming the secretaryship of the Montreal branch of the Canadian Manufacturers' Association. While regretting that Mr. Cooper has severed his connection with our staff, we must congratulate the Manufacturers' Association on securing his services. He is energetic and has a large fund of commonsense. This, with his journalistic and university training, should make him a valuable secretary to such an important body as the Canadian Manufacturers' Association.

E. F. Cowan, storekeeper and lumber merchant, Novar, Parry Sound District, has made an assignment to Fredrick H. Lambe, assignee, of Hamilton. His liabilities are estimated at about $8,000, his creditors being chiefly in Toronto and Hamilton.

POPULARITY is the proof of merit, and no brand has ever achieved popularity so quickly as we found some difficulty in placing our goods with the trade the first few months of our business career, but now it's a different story. There were plenty of good biscuits in the field before ours, but somehow or other our goods have caught on. If you'll send us an order you'll catch on, too, and you won't need to pay the long prices either. Our goods are all right. Our prices are all right.

MINCE MEAT

There has been a large demand for our Mince Meat this season. We have been putting up an excellent brand and selling it in bulk, any quantity desired. Trial order solicited. Prices upon application.

Current Market Quotations for Proprietary Articles

January 9, 1902.

Quotations for proprietary articles, brands, etc., are supplied by the manufacturers or agents, who alone are responsible for their accuracy. The editors do not supervise them. If a change is made, either an advance or decline, it is referred to in the market reports, as a matter of news, whether manufacturers request it or not.

TRADE BETWEEN CANADA AND THE WEST INDIES.

Some Things That Are Being Done to Encourage It.

A CHAT WITH MR. PICKFORD.

I HAD a brief chat with Mr. Charles Pickford, of Pickford & Black, before he left Toronto for Halifax en route to the British West Indies. As the readers of "The Canadian Grocer" are well aware, Mr. Pickford has spent about five months in Western Ontario, with headquarters in Toronto, working up business on British West-Indian account. In reply to an inquiry of mine as to the result of his efforts, he said:

ONTARIO PEOPLE WAKING UP.

"The people of Ontario are waking up to the importance of the West-Indian trade, but the car-shortage has been playing the mischief with us. I have in my mind at the moment one man who is shipping flour to the West Indies by way of New York simply because he cannot get cars to ship it by way of Halifax.

"The people here seem anxious to know what is going on and the possibilities of trade with the West Indies. Some of them, however, tell me that they have got so much business on hand for the home market that they cannot attend to foreign business. One manufacturer to whom I, in the autumn of 1900, gave the names of some West-Indian firms, has begun to work up an extensive business, but he has been compelled to send a good deal by way of New York on account of being unable to get cars enough to ship by way of a Canadian port. This particular shipper has been sending split peas, bran, oats, and flour."

"Do you think the outlook for trade between Western Canada and the West Indies is improving?"

A SHORTAGE OF CARS.

"Yes; I am certain it is," declared Mr. Pickford, with some emphasis. "Had it not been for this car-shortage I am sure we would have had a big business out of Ontario during the last few months. There is one thing, however, I fear, and that is that we Canadians are rather slow in reaching out after this West-Indian trade. What I mean is we are

NOT KEEN ENOUGH AFTER NEW BUSINESS.

Many of us are too easily satisfied with home business and not energetic enough in reaching out after foreign trade. I am in hope that the trip of the representatives of The Canadian Manufacturers' Association to the West Indies will be productive of good results. We will arrange to see that they get into touch with good houses in the West Indies."

CLASS OF CANADIAN GOODS WANTED.

"In what lines do you think it is likely we can most expand our export trade with the West Indies?"

"There is no reason why the boot and shoe men should not walk in there and get a good business. Then there are canned goods, biscuits, ready-made clothing—a good deal of which is now coming from the Old Country. There are also condensed milk, butter, cheese, agricultural implements, carriages, harness. In fact, a market can be found in the West Indies for nearly everything we manufacture. Samples of the agricultural implements used in the West Indies are on exhibit in the Toronto Board of Trade building. They will show Canadian manufacturers what are wanted in that line."

EXPORT TRADE OF WEST INDIES TO CANADA.

"What about the export trade from the West Indies to Canada?"

"It is growing. Our steamers are bringing more merchandise from the West Indies to Canada than ever before. The Bendict brought 3,000 tons of Demerara sugar and the Oruro 1,000 tons quite recently."

"Your steamers, how often is it they run to the West Indies?"

"A steamer leaves St. John and Halifax fortnightly for Bermuda, St. Lucia, Barbados, Trinidad and Demerara. Every month a steamer leaves St. John and Halifax for St. Kitt's, Antigua, Montserrat, Dominica, St. Vincent, Grenada, Tobago, Bermuda, St. Lucia, Barbados, Trinidad and Demerara. On the 15th of each month a steamer also leaves Halifax for Kingston, Jamaica, calling at Bermuda and Turk's Island, both going and coming."

AN ENTHUSIAST

Aside altogether from his position of representative of Pickford & Black, Mr. Charles Pickford is an enthusiast in regard to trade between Canada and the West Indies, and during his stay in Western Ontario preached its advantages and possibilities wherever occasion offered. During the next five or six months he will reside in the West Indies, and he was due to leave for there on the 13th inst. Before leaving Toronto he told me he would be only too glad to try and supply information regarding West-Indian trade matters to anyone seeking it. During his residence in the West Indies his headquarters will be in Barbados, and any communication addressed to him in care of Da Costa & Co., Barbados, will reach him.

OMAR.

JAMAICA SERVICE VIA ST. JOHN, N.B.

A MEETING of the Board of Trade, St. John, N.B., was held on the 10th inst., chiefly to consider West-Indian trade matters.

Mr. Robert Munro, Montreal, President of The Canadian Manufacturers' Association, who leaves for the West Indies on the 27th inst., was present. He was pleased to learn of the proposed Jamaican service and referred at length to the situation in the West Indies. The transportation companies were not solely to blame for the lack of development of this trade. Canadian manufacturers and merchants in the West-Indian market and not depend upon the transportation companies to sell for them. Something must be done for the West-Indian sugar trade and the Canadian merchants should press for preferential trade under the fiscal arrangements of all British dependencies. Canada was leading the way for this and should suggest that she receive similar treatment on the part of other colonies. He told of the object of his approaching visit to the West Indies and urged that a representative of maritime manufacturers should accompany him. If so, he thought the chance of success of the mission would be considerably increased.

MUST SELL THEIR OWN GOODS

D. W. Marsh, of Toronto, was next called upon to tell the meeting something of the plans of The Canada-Jamaica Steamship Co., for the service between St. John and Jamaica. He said he did not expect to have to address a meeting so soon.

was to find out what goods New Brunswick could send to Jamaica and what amount of trade could be worked up. He assured the meeting that the company would do all in its power to develop business between Canada and Jamaica. Though the original plan was to run only between Canada and Jamaica, and this would be carried out—yet, if the trade warranted it, arrangements would be made at Jamaica to connect with other islands.

THE JAMAICAN TRADE

was a most important one and courted development. He paid some attention to the position Jamaica occupies among the other islands. It was the most important of all the British islands. It does ten times as much business as the other islands, is of much greater area than any of them, and the proportion of whites in its population is much larger. He had paid much attention to Western Canada and could say that the feeling there is that a large business could be worked up.

Speaking of the articles Canada could supply to Jamaica, he mentioned that there was a large demand for flour, oats, and potatoes. The flour would come from the west, but the oats and potatoes would be principally supplied by the Maritime Provinces. Jamaica imports annually and of this vast quantity only a few thousands barrels are sent by Canada. The supply is not steady, and consequently there is great opportunity for a profitable trade. The Canadian millers have recently been put in communication with Jamaica, and he expected more Canadian flour would, in the future, find its way there.

Fish, he characterized as one of the largest of Jamaican imports, and he believed Canadian fish could be delivered at Jamaica very profitably if transported quickly on a steamer making no intermediate stops. The vessels between St. John and Jamaica would have to pass through heated waters, and if the vessel was forced to stop while in these waters the resulting depreciation in value of the cargo would be considerable, as the heat would obtain access to the cargo, and the vessels' ventilating apparatus would be of practically no value, unless she were in motion.

The Canada-Jamaica Steamship Co. would devote much effort to the importation of fruit, including bananas, oranges, cocoanuts, etc., and would make a feature of the ports on the south shore of the islands. This shore embraced a large fruit-growing country, and hitherto the steamship facilities for getting out this fruit were not of the best. If the proper facilities could be found here, the company would bring in some fruit.

CANADIAN GOODS JAMAICA WOULD TAKE.

W. E. L. Marsh, also of Toronto, devoted his attention first to the class of products Jamaica would take from the Dominion, and in this connection mentioned framed boards and lumber, which would find a ready sale there. High-class butter, nicely put up, was also in large demand, but it would require good transportation facilities to develop a trade, as no large stock of butter could be laid in. Owing to the heat, it was necessary to place the butter on the market by every steamer. Cheese of good quality and a superior class of meats would also find a market. The island imported large quantities of condensed milk, most of which was at present furnished by Denmark or Michigan, but he thought a good Canadian article could supplant them. The inward cargo would include bananas, oranges, limes and pineapples, and a good trade should be developed as time goes on.

W. S. Fisher asked what the length of passage would be, how many days would be consumed on the voyage, and what the steamers' facilities would be for perishable products?

THE BOATS.

In reply, D. W. Marsh said the Ask, which would be the first boat, would have a speed of 10 knots, and would make the trip from St. John to Jamaica in 7½ days. The boats were thoroughly equipped for carrying fruit. The Ask could be obtained only until March, when it will be under charter to The United Fruit Co. The fruit company's steamers were used only for carrying bananas from Jamaica to the United States, and took no cargo back to the islands.

The Banta was a new steamer and the conditions under which she was chartered specified that she should have good facilities for carrying perishable articles in good condition. If the dairy product or meat trade develops, a cold-storage equipment will be provided. The facilities needed here include possibly a heated warehouse, and the steamship company relied on the assistance of the St. John merchants to make the business a success. On their part, the steamship company would agree to make the service meet the demands.

W. Frank Hatheway asked what facilities the boats possessed for passenger traffic?

NOT PASSENGER BOATS.

Mr. Marsh replied that the company would not make a feature of passenger service at present. The capacity of the boats was limited to four or six passengers.

E. A. Goodwin asked for information as to the freight rates on oranges, pineapples and other fruits.

Mr. Marsh replied that the company would secure the fruit on the island and lay it down in St. John on the same plan as pursued by other fruit companies. The cost would, of course, depend on the trade. While the steamer had regular ports of call, yet the timetable permitted her to call at any port on the island. The company now has arrangements with the C.P.R. to give through bills of lading to all places on that line, and doubtless similar arrangements could be made with the I.C.R.

Geo. Robertson referred to the manner in which The Elder-Dempster Steamship Co. was developing the fruit trade in Great Britain. He felt there was business in the proposed line, and would be delighted if a profitable trade could be worked up without a subsidy.

Col. Tucker, M.P., assured the company they would have his best efforts for forwarding any scheme for the development of Canadian trade.

Mayor Daniel, in a brief speech, welcomed Messrs. Marsh and Munro to St. John.

Superintendent Oborne, of the C.P.R. referred to the success of the winter-port business as a good criterion from which to judge the outlook for West-Indian trade. It showed St. John merchants had enterprise and they would doubtless provide large cargoes for the new line.

F. L. Potts, J. N. Sutherland, Colonel Tucker, John Sealy and others also spoke on the future of the line.

CANADIAN PAINT IN THE WEST INDIES.

OUR readers will remember that some two months and a half ago we mentioned in The Merchant that Mr. W. S. Fallis, of The Sherwin-Williams Co., paint and varnish makers, had sailed on a voyage of trade discovery to the British West Indian Islands. Mr. Fallis has, for two years, had charge of The Sherwin Williams' interests throughout the Maritime Provinces, and his selection as an ambassador of the firm in the colonies to the south, was a fitting tribute to the success which has crowned his efforts since enlisting in the services of the company.

He sailed from Halifax by the Erna, of The Pickford & Black line, on September 23, and calling at Bermuda, St. Lucia, Barbados and Trinidad, arrived in Demerara on October 7. At Demerara he remained three days and was successful in opening accounts with several of the most prominent importers. He found the opportunity for trade by no means discouraging despite the fact that the people have been for centuries handling English paints almost exclusively. Prepared paints have been practically an unknown quantity in all of the West-Indian markets up to the present time, but Mr. Fallis expressed the opinion that the same measures which have been taken by his company to introduce The Sherwin-Williams paints throughout Canada, would eventually secure satisfactory results in the various markets visited. He opened accounts at Demerara, Trinidad, Barbados and St. Lucia and reports the outlook for future business most promising. Trinidad, to his mind, is the market which seems to indicate the greatest possibilities, as the natural resources of the Island are rich and varied. While there, he appointed as agent, T. Geddes Grant, a former Nova Scotian, who is doing all that he can to encourage more trade with Canada. Mr. Fallis expressed himself as surprised that a more general effort has not been made by Canadian manufacturers to capture West-Indian trade. At all the ports visited he saw thousands of packages of freight being landed from New York, the bulk of it similar in character to what is produced in Canada. He found the people very hospitable and disposed to listen to what he had to say, but New York has such a hold that it will require a strong and continuous effort on the part of Canadian exporters to

INQUIRIES ABOUT CANADIAN GOODS.

THE following were among the recent inquiries relating to Canadian trade received at the Canadian Government Office in London :

1. Inquiry has been made for the name of a first-class firm of engineers and ironfounders in Canada who would undertake to make a patent grinding machine, and to represent an English house supplying machine tools.

2. An important firm of soap manufacturers wish to enter into communication with a Canadian firm who would be prepared to buy their goods and with whom they would be ready to enter into an exclusive arrangement. They would prefer to correspond with a reliable firm having travellers calling upon druggists and others interested in high-class toilet soaps and perfumery.

3. The same firm would also like to correspond with a Canadian business house in a position to handle household soap.

4. A Rotterdam firm is asking for the names of firms in the Dominion dealing in ores of various kinds.

5. A correspondent in the west of England asks to be furnished with particulars of the export timber trade of the Province of British Columbia with a view to opening up business relations.

Inquiries received at the Canadian section of the Imperial Institute :

6. A manufacturers' agent who is established both in London and Canada seeks a few additional agencies of Canadian manufacturers wishing to develop trade in the United Kingdom ; Canadian references furnished.

7. A manufacturer of gelatines, glues, greases, etc., asks to be placed in touch with a first-class Canadian house prepared to handle same.

[The names and addresses of the firms making the above inquiries can be obtained on application to the Editor of THE CANADIAN GROCER.]

TORONTO RETAIL GROCERS' ASSOCIATION.

The "At-Home," Early Closing, and Other Questions Discussed.

LAST Monday evening, January 13, St. George's Hall, Elm street, Toronto, was the scene of an enthusiastic meeting of The Toronto Retail Grocers' Association, who gathered in greater numbers than usual in their room in that building. Lots of enthusiasm was displayed by the members, and the business was rushed through without delay.

Previous to the installation of the new officers, who will do their appointed duties during this year of 1902, the past-president of the association, B. Panter was in the chair.

The reports of the hall, refreshment, music and printing committees were then received regarding the coming "At Home."

The hall in the Temple Building, it was announced, had been secured for the evening decided on, Wednesday, January 29.

Two hundred guests, at least, are guaranteed for the supper, for which tenders were received from Harry Webb and R. J. Lloyd. The latter provided a more appetizing menu, and as his price was also very reasonable, he was given the contract in preference to the other tenderer.

D. D'Alesandra's orchestra will supply the melody for the dancers again this year. Eight pieces, including a cornet, are comprised in this band. J. F. Schoales stated also that he had secured the services of Master Jack Challis, of All Saints' choir, to sing during the evening. This lad is said to have a sweet and pleasing voice that has given him a good hearing wherever he has before sung. His accompanist will also be engaged.

Thomas Soole, of Toronto Baseball Club fame, has been given the contract for the printing. A new feature will be the 200-dance programmes that will be provided.

"Before we go any further, I would like to know whether the retail grocers intend to continue the early-closing fight this year," said F. W. Johnston.

"We have met with success in the abolition of trading stamps, mainly through our persistent efforts," replied B. Panter. "I don't see why we should not go in this year to win, and so would suggest that a committee be appointed to wait on Mayor Howland and arrange for another deputation."

R. Robertson also favored immediate action. Somebody here noted that at the last municipal contest those aldermen who had been the opponents of early-closing were either defeated, or else returned with very narrow majorities, while they who favored this by-law, were returned at the head of the polls, like Alderman Spence.

So, in a resolution proposed by F. W. Johnston, and carried unanimously, Secretary Hawes was instructed to write to Ald. Urquhart and Spence, by way of inquiring when another deputation could be conveniently arranged.

At that moment, those present were informed by the doorkeeper, that outside was a deputation from The Grocery Clerks' Association, waiting for an audience. So, after the usual procedure, it was moved that they be given a hearing.

W. J. McGrath, Wm. Bail and R. H. Hudson, who formed the above deputation, were admitted and W. J. McGrath was given the floor. He gained courage from the faces around him and proceeded to explain that all they wanted was that, as they were contemplating giving prizes for an essay on a given subject, they came to ask The Grocers' Association to donate something in the way of pecuniary assistance.

R. H. Hudson followed by explaining that the subject for these essays would either be "Store and Window Trimming and Dressing," or "Condiments." His opinion was that three prizes ought to be awarded, having a value of, say, $15, $10, and $5 respectively. They would like the grocers to furnish three or at least two judges, and also, if they thought necessary, to suggest other topics.

"We are all banded together," he said, "to inquire into and find out all things possible concerning what we intend making our life's work." He then went on to mention that several firms manufacturing condiments had expressed their willingness to give money for prizes, but as yet none of their offers had been accepted. Those essays which had met with the approval of the judges, it was their intention to have published in "The Canadian Grocer." If it was thought worth while, they could be afterwards printed in pamphlet form.

Wm. Bail had interviewed several grocers and others and found that they all favored the scheme, some pronouncing it a good one. He concluded by inviting the grocers down to any of their meetings, which are held in their room in the Temple Building.

They were then informed by the president that the matter would be most seriously considered by The Toronto Retail Grocers' Association, and the deputation retired.

Three accounts, amounting in all to about $34, were left over to the executive committee to consider and to pay if found correct.

Amidst much enthusiasm, the installation of the new officers was then proceeded with. W. J. Sykes was hailed to the chair from his post at the door, amidst cheers, and he thanked them heartily for their compliment. He was let go on promising to give a big speech at the next meeting. As the name of each new officer was announced, it was received with cheering, and all had to make some remarks. When it came to Edward Hawes' turn to be installed as secretary, he proceeded to express his appreciation at being amongst such a fine lot of business men. He alluded to the killing of the trading stamps, and said the only fault that he could find was that grocers were all too modest and that things would be better for them if they did a little more shouting.

B. Panter made a short address in which he stated that the executive committee should advertise for a new secretary to relieve Mr. Hawes, as he had to attend to his own private business, which took up most of his time. He also remarked that there was too much cutting being done all over the city. "If men could only have the backbone to stand out against it, there would not be so many in prison for misrepresentation and fraud," he concluded.

The new President, W. J. Sykes, then declared the meeting adjourned.

A LITTLE RECREATION

After business was concluded the members settled down down to have an hour or two's solid enjoyment, in which they were assisted by a number of fruit dealers. Cards and games were provided and there was an ample supply of refreshments. Poet Sabine, who was present, was induced to sing a song, which he announced was of his own composition. In fact, it was the identical song which had helped Mayor Howland's chariot along to victory. But that didn't in the least detract from its popularity.

Speeches were also made by Thomas Cleghorn, of Cleghorn, Smith & Co.; Ed Oke, of Clemes Bros., and Thomas Vance, of Vance & Co., all of whom are prominent fruit men. They all rediscussed the matter of the early-closing of the fruit market, which they, in common with the grocers, maintain ought to be over for the day at 12 o'clock noon. The difficulty hitherto has been to induce the shippers to send in their stuff early in the morning instead of in the afternoon. If the Grand Trunk could only be induced to allow fruit to be shipped in only on the morning trains this problem would be solved.

GROCERS' SECTION OF THE T.R.M.A.

THE Grocers' Section of The Toronto Retail Merchants' Association held their regular meeting at their headquarters, at the corner of Bay and Richmond streets, Toronto.

The chief business that came up was the report of the committee that was to wait on The Wholesale Grocers' Association regarding the prices of biscuits and also the selling to consumers. It was stated in their report that they have managed to bring about a joint meeting on January 17 of The Wholesale Grocers' Association and a committee representing the Retail Grocers' Section. The members of this committee are: F. E. Higgins, R. Passmore, F. W. Nettleton, T. A. Mix, W. H. Smith, G. W. Johnston, and the general secretary.

The meeting then proceeded to discuss a departmental-store Bill that will be brought before the present session of the local Legislature. It was unanimously agreed to support the measure. They then proceeded to appoint a committee to wait on the other sections of The Retail Merchants' Association to provide a suitable entertainment to celebrate the abolition of trading stamps.

There is a very small profit now obtained on Shredded Wheat Biscuits. There was considerable discussion on this topic, which, among other things, will be considered with the other sections of the retail trade.

Notices of motion were given that questions as to what action should be taken with regard to the present unsatisfactory condition of the Weights and Measures Act would be taken up at the next meeting. The present prices of tin boxes with glass fronts will also be touched.

The membership committee reported a total of 125 members enrolled.

As is their usual custom the annual election of officers will take place at their next meeting. The meeting then adjourned.

Robert P. Dagleish, general merchant, Mount Forest, Ont., has assigned to Henry R. Duke, and there will be a meeting of creditors on the 17th inst.

QUEBEC DAIRYMEN MEET.

NEARLY 200 dairymen from all parts of Quebec, attended the dairy convention at St. Hyacinthe, Que., on January 8 and 9, at which many important papers were read containing valuable information. Papers on the inspection of butter and cheese by Messrs. Plomondon and Bourbon took up the greater portion of the first day. The paper on butter contained some excellent advice, bringing forth numerous questions, the answers to which aroused considerable discussion.

The poor quality of the milk last summer is alleged to have been the cause of the indifferent cheese made in the season just closed.

The banquet on the evening of the first day, which was well attended, was a brilliant affair, several men of prominence being present. It was presided over by H. Bourgault, chairman of the organization committee.

As one of the most burning questions amongst Quebec dairymen at the present time is the establishment of an agricultural college in that Province, this formed the principal theme on which many of the speakers dwelt. The model to be followed will likely be that of the agricultural college at Guelph, Ont., and the cost will be about $100,000. To obtain the aid of the Dominion Government, the Hon. Mr. Bernier, Minister of the Interior, promised his influence at Ottawa.

This project also received the support of A. Bourgeault, who, in his remarks, stated that last season's business in butter and cheese, at Montreal, reached the respectable total of $19,000,000.

Several others also addressed the meeting, amongst whom were the Hon. Mr. Brodeur, Speaker of the Quebec House; G. Morin, M.L.A., P. McLagan, President of The Montreal Cheese and Butter Association, all of whom endorsed the establishment of the above-mentioned college.

The next morning the annual election of officers was held, with the following results:

President—J. A. Vaillancourt.

Vice-President—C. H. Parmelee.

Secretary—E. Castel.

The afternoon and evening sessions were taken up by papers being read on pork and bacon, milch cows, and kindred topics, all containing valuable hints for those present.

EXPERIMENTS WITH VARIETIES OF SUGAR BEETS.

A BULLETIN has just been issued by the Department of Agriculture, at Ottawa, giving the results obtained from trial plots of grain, fodder corn, field roots, and potatoes. The bulletin covers the experiments of several years, and is quite interesting. To the readers of "The Canadian Grocer," the experiments with varieties of sugar beets will prove of most interest. The number of varieties dealt with in the bulletin are four—the four that showed the best results during the four or five years covering the test. The results at the different experimental farms were as follows:

CENTRAL EXPERIMENTAL FARM, OTTAWA, ONT.

	Per acre. Tons.	Lb.
1. Danish Improved	26	1,735
2. Improved Imperial	26	968
3. Wanzleben	25	1,496
4. Danish Red Top	25	284

An average crop of 26 tons 40 lb per acre.

EXPERIMENTAL FARM FOR THE MARITIME PROVINCES, NAPPAN, N.S.

	Per acre. Tons.	L .
1. Red Top Sugar	27	950
2. Danish Red Top	26	487
3. Improved Imperial	26	402
4. Danish improved	23	575

An average crop of 25 tons 1,613 lb. per acre.

EXPERIMENTAL FARM FOR MANITOBA, BRANDON, MAN.

	Per acre. Tons.	Lb.
1. Danish Red Top	31	1,013
2. Danish Improved	26	1,077
3. Red Top Sugar	25	426
4. Wanzleben	25	93

An average crop of 27 tons 152 lb. per acre.

EXPERIMENTAL FARM EOR THE NORTHWEST TERRITORIES, INDIAN HEAD, N.W.T.

	Per acre. Tons.	Lb.
1. Danish Red Top	19	225
2. Red Top Sugar	16	1,446
3. Improved Imperial	15	1,270
4. Wanzleben	15	789

An average crop of 16 tons 1,432 lb. per acre.

EXPERIMENTAL FARM FOR BRITISH COLUMBIA, AGASSIZ, B.C.

	Per acre. Tons.	Lb
1. Danish Red Top, 3 yrs	28	1,222
2 Improved Imperial	22	528
3. Red Top Sugar	21	536
4. Vilmorin's Improved	20	1,696

An average crop of 23 tons 495 lb. per acre.

The four varieties of sugar beets which have produced the largest crops during the past four or five years, taking the average of the results obtained at all the experimental farms, are:

	Per acre. Tons.	Lb.
1. Danish Red Top	26	246
2. Red Top Sugar	23	172
3. Danish Improved	22	1,091
4. Improved Imperial	22	792

An average crop of 23 tons 1,075 lb. per acre.

Seven varieties of sugar beets were in all tested during the experimental period.

AN INCOMPETENT BODY.

EVERY movement Toronto makes to improve its municipal machinery appears to be abortive. When, some eight or nine years ago, the number of the wards was reduced it was hoped that the influence of the ward heeler would be weakened and that the quality of the aldermen would be improved. But it is only necessary to compare the members of the council of to-day with the council of ten years ago to prove how fallacious that effort has been.

Then came the Board of Control, into which was to be gathered the aldermanic cream. But here again the expectations of the municipal reformers have not been realized. And the composition of the Board for 1902 furnishes the most concrete example of this that we have had since that particular piece of municipal machinery was created.

To the business men of Toronto who concern the mselves in the affairs of the "Queen City," the Board of Control for 1902 in a travesty on municipal government even as we have it to-day. And it is no wonder. Not one among the four is a strong man. And yet the power which, under the Act of the Legislature the members thereof exercise, is great.

The Council is weak enough ; but the Board of Control that emanated from it is infinitely weaker. It is incompetence personified.

It is to be hoped that the glaring incompetency that is concentrated in this year's Board of Control, and, not only in the Board of Control, but in the chairmanships of the different standing committees of the Council, will awaken the business men of Toronto to a sense of their duty. It is a well-known fact that they do not now do their duty.

The predominating influence in the municipal politics of Toronto is the ward heeler. The business man is nowhere. And it is only because he, by his apathy, permits it.

ANALYSIS OF HOG STATISTICS.

ACCORDING to statistics compiled by The N. K. Fairbank Company, there were 1,030,000 hogs in Chicago during December, against 870,000 for a corresponding period of a year ago. It is very interesting to note that the hogs for December, 1901, were 20 per cent. less in weight than a year ago.

Even if a light hog cut to as good advantage as a heavy one (which it does not) the 1,030,000 hogs received last month would really mean 50,000 hogs less rather than 160,000 hogs more, to say nothing of the extra labor for slaughtering the increased number.

The above report is particularly applicable to Canada, and is confirmed by the leading packers. Hog-raisers cannot afford to pay the extreme price for corn, and can avoid the necessity of feeding the hogs further by bringing them into the market when they they are young and with very little fat on. This anxiety on the part of the farmer points to a very decided shortage on hogs, not only during the coming spring, but possibly for twelve months to come.

The relatively small quantity of fat hogs tends to a continuance of high prices for lard, and the cotton oil market, in sympathy, has shown a very marked advance equivalent to over 1c. per lb. during the past two weeks, which means higher prices for compound lard, "Cottolene" and cotton oil products.

SHARP ADVANCE IN SULTANA RAISINS.

A RATHER more interesting state of affairs than is usual has developed in the Sultana raisin market.

About Christmas, stocks in Smyrna were reduced to 450 tons, while the quantity at inland points was estimated to be only 1,200 tons.

Statistically, the market has not been in such a position since 1890. The demand at that time was good, and mail advices from Smyrna under date of December 24 said that higher prices were expected at the turn of the year.

The Produce Markets' Review, of London, Eng., in its issue of December 28, speaking of Sultana raisins, said : "Although it must be allowed that, taken in comparison with former years of proportionate crop dimensions, the present prices are reasonable, or even low, yet any sudden advance would be deplorable, as such would undoubtedly tend to retard the improvement in the general demand for this fruit, which has been a characteristic feature since the commencement of the new crop."

However, prices since then have advanced quite sharply, having, within a recent period, appreciated 7 to 9s. per cwt., according to grade, while stocks are practically exhausted in Smyrna.

The developments in the primary market have not been without their influence in Canada. Buyers have been a little more ready than usual to place orders. There has been, in consequence, more demand on spot goods, and as stocks are light wholesalers have been drawing upon each other for supplies. We hear of transactions between wholesalers at an advance of ¼c. per lb. above the figures that a week or two ago were quoted to the retail trade.

The ruling figures to the retail trade are now 8½c. per lb. for the lowest grades up to 12c. for the highest ; but the advances these figures show are not relatively as large as those recorded in the primary market.

HON. SYDNEY FISHER AND THE TARIFF.

IN an address at Leskard, Ont., on January 9, Hon. Sydney Fisher, Minister of Agriculture, said there was no Customs duty in Canada over 35 per cent.

Mr. Fisher is what a good many of his predecessors in his particular portfolio were not, namely, a practical farmer. And he has, on the whole, administered his Department with acceptance. But because Mr. Fisher is an efficient Minister, it does not follow that mistakes which he may make should go uncorrected. Indeed, the very fact that such can be said of him gives his utterances all the more weight, and makes it all the more necessary that they should be rectified when they are wrong.

In declaring that there was no duty over 35 per cent., Hon. Mr. Fisher was wrong. We cannot believe that he intentionally said what was not true ; but as some of the articles on which the duty exceeds 35 per cent. appertain more to his Department than to any other in the Government, it is difficult to understand his digression from the facts.

On canned vegetables, for example, the duty is much larger than 35 per cent. The duty is a specific one of 1½c. per lb., and means, based on to-day's prices, a rate of at least 50 to 60 per cent. On jams and jellies the duty runs from 45 to 50 per cent. at the smallest calculation. Then, there is granulated sugar, the duty on which, according to the price at which importations are being made this week in Toronto, approximates closely to 50 per cent.

It is true there are not a great many articles on which the duty is over 35 per cent., but still there are enough to establish the incorrectness of Mr. Fisher's assertion.

It is not with any desire to be captious that we draw attention to the incorrectness of Mr. Fisher's remarks regarding the duty, but there is altogether too much recklessness on the part of public speakers in both political parties, and independent journals are only performing their duty when they expose them.

HON. MR. FIELDING'S "SCOOP."

There was nothing particularly clever about Hon. Mr. Fielding's action in inviting Marconi to visit Canada when the Anglo-American Company undertook to force him out of Newfoundland. He, however, did a wise thing. And, after all, what is most essential in public men as in business men is wisdom, not cleverness.

His action has certainly pleased the man who has given utility to wireless telegraphy and made the establishment of one or more stations in Canada all the more probable.

Mr. William Smith, secretary of the Post Office Department, who has recently returned from Newfoundland, says that Marconi was greatly perturbed when he was served with the now-famous notice by The Anglo-American Cable Co., and that Mr. Fielding's invitation to visit Canada was a great relief to him.

Besides being a direct benefit to Marconi, the invitation of Mr. Fielding was indirectly at least a benefit to Canada itself, coupling as it did this country with the name of the great inventor, whose recent wonderful results in wireless telegraphy have astonished the world.

Canada is benefitting from Mr. Fielding's action because he did the right thing at the right moment. Like a trained newspaperman that he is, he saw there was a good thing in it for Canada. And by acting quick he got, to use a newspaper term, a "scoop" on his esteemed contemporary, the United States. He is to be congratulated.

THE SUGAR SITUATION.

THE weakness of the sugar market is the most unsatisfactory feature of the grocery trade as it enters upon its course of another year.

In raw beet sugar another low record has been established, namely, 6s. 4½d. f.o.b. Hamburg, while in Canada on Tuesday, through a decline of 10c., the price again fell back to the low record figure touched a few weeks ago. In New York there is a decline of 10c. in granulated and 5c. in yellows.

Although the market price of refined sugar in the United States is higher than the figures ruling in Canada for the product of the home refineries, granulated sugar is being laid down in Toronto this week from there quite a little below the price of the domestic article. The chief explanation of this is, of course, the rebate which the refiners in the United States obtain on the imported raw sugar that is contained in the refined article when exported.

The weakness of the sugar market in the United States is accentuated by the keen competition among the refiners, for, in spite of the reduction, two of the independent refineries over there are still openly giving a special 1 per cent. rebate.

Willett & Gray's Weekly Statistical Sugar Trade Journal of January 9 says there is nothing in the outlook to indicate any change for the better, although it is of the opinion that with centrifugals down to 3½c. there would undoubtedly be more extensive buying of raw sugars than has been seen for some months. The present price of centrifugals is 3 9-16c.

Stocks in the four United States ports are heavy, being 123,901 tons at the end of last week, compared with 86,190 the corresponding time last year. The receipts last week were 14,268 tons and the meltings 21,000, but the sales from store, added to the receipts of the week, about equalled the meltings, and left refiners' stocks practically unchanged.

CHARLOTTETOWN BOARD OF TRADE.

ON the night of January 9, the annual meeting of the Charlottetown, P.E.I , Board of Trade was held in their rooms, with their president, W. H. Aitken, in the chair. In his address he pointed out the recent sailing of the ss. Dalton Hall for England with a cargo valued at $150,000, consisting of the Island produce.

He also touched on various other matters in connection with the Island, referring to everything of importance that occurred during the past year.

The secretary's report showed a paid membership of 76, the receipts for the year being $167.43, and the expenditure $148.96, leaving a balance of $18.47, with cash in the bank amounting to $123.95. The following were elected officers for the coming year :

President—Geo. E. Auld.
Vice-President.—J. A. Messervoy.
Secretary.—W. W. Clarke.
Council.—W. H. Aitken, J. T. Crockett, B. C. Prowse, F. H. Beer, Jas. Paton, C. Lyons, S. W. Crabbe, T. Handrahan.

After unanimously passing a resolution calling on their representatives at Ottawa to ask the Government for a special mail train in connection with the Stanley at Summerside and the Minto at Georgetown, inward and outward, the meeting adjourned.

THE FRUIT TRADE OF THE WEST.

MR. W. A. McKinnon, chief of the dairy division of the Department of Agriculture, Ottawa, arrived in Winnipeg on Thursday last for the purpose of interviewing and installing Mr. J. J. Philip as fruit inspector of Manitoba. Your correspondent had the pleasure of a chat with Mr. McKinnon and also of attending the meeting of the Fruit Exchange at which Mr. McKinnon explained the working of the new Act.

Mr. McKinnon stated that the fruit division was the latest one called into existence and its object was to promote trade in the best grades of Canadian fruits in distant markets. Continuing, Mr. McKinnon said: "About 12 inspectors have already been appointed in the east and their work for some time at least will be very largely educational; in fact, for the next two months a number of them will be engaged in institute work throughout the fruit sections of Ontario and the Maritime Provinces. It will be the aim of these inspectors to in the best methods of selecting and packing their fruit for long distance shipments. Other matters to be taken up are the two very important ones of suitable cars and fair and reasonable rates for transportation of our fruits. The Department will also concern itself with the question of cold storage for fruit just in the same manner as has already been done for butter. In this line Professor James Robertson has accomplished much and many of the shipments of fruit to Great Britain this last season were highly satisfactory both as to the prices obtained and the condition of fruit on arrival. It is principally for pears and apples that distant markets are sought and some figures may be of interest in this connection. Boxes of Keefer pears containing 112 pears each (the boxes are constructed on very much the same plan as the egg cases at present in use) brought $4 in Canadian money on the British market, while barrels of Keefer pears shipped from the United States and containing three bushels each only brought $6 per barrel.

FRUIT SHOULD BE PACKED BETTER.

"This would bring the price of the specially-packed pears to nearly $24 per bbl., as against $6. Of course it may be said that the fruit sent from Canada was a very special sample, but, even allowing for that, there is a large balance in favor of the more carefully packed fruit. I might say in passing that two methods of packing were followed, in one case the pears were wrapped in paper and fitted into the individual cells of the case, and in the other a small bunch of excelsior was placed in the bottom of each cell and the pears set on that. The English consumer expressed a preference for the unwrapped fruit. There is no manner of doubt that there is a large and ever growing market for our fruit in Great Britain if it is only forwarded in proper condition. It will be part and parcel of the duty of inspector to keep tab on the steamers and see which lines give the best service.

"With the thermograph now used it is possible to keep a very close check on the temperature. These instruments are put into the cold storage room on the steamers in a ventilated box, which is locked before the vessel sails and the key kept in Montreal. It is not possible for it to be tampered with in any way, and when the vessel returns to Montreal it is possible to tell the exact temperature of the room every day while it has been away. In the case of one shipment of fruit we found that it had only varied two degrees in 11 days.

FRUIT SHIPMENTS TO MANITOBA.

"With reference to the fruit heretofore shipped to Manitoba I would like to say that I think some of the difficulty has arisen from the fact that many of our Ontario shippers have failed to realize the great distance the fruit had to come. I am speaking now more particularly of peachss and plums. The difference that has existed in conditions between California and Ontario has been that from the very first California had to seek an outside and distinct market, and for that reason took all the precautions possible and made all arrangements with that end in view. On the other hand, Ontario had from the first a home market and it has been only in times of glut that she has looked to a distance. When she did so she had not the proper machinery at hand to pack fruit to reach a distant market in good condition. I am not excusing the carelessness and defective methods, I am only suggesting a reason why they have arisen. I think that possibly this coming season you will see an attempt made to ship peaches in the same style of package that has been used to send pears to Great Britain, and I believe there is every chance of its being successful. Another disadvantage that Ontario has labored under has been the difficulty of getting up-to-date refrigerator cars.

"The duty of the inspector, so far as Manitoba is concerned, will be largely to see that the Act is enforced in the matter of marking packages and also in the matter of the contents of packages coming up to the quality of the facing. I am in hopes of meeting with the fruitmen of the city this afternoon."

MEETING WITH FRUIT EXCHANGE.

A meeting of the Fruit Exchange was called together by Secretary Carman in his office to meet Mr. McKinnon, when representatives were present from R. A. Rogers & Co., The Macpherson Fruit Company, Bright & Johnston, Lock Bros., and The Imperial Fruit Company. Mr. J. J. Philip, the newly appointed inspector, was also present. Mr. McKinnon took up the Fruit Marks Act clause by clause and carefully explained its working and the position and duty of the inspector in each case. The gist of the Act is as follows:

4. Every person who, by himself or through the agency of another person, packs fruit in a closed package, intended for sale, shall cause the package to be marked in a plain and indelible manner before it is taken from the premises where it is packed, (a) with the initials of the Christian names and the full surname and address of the packer, (b) with the name of the variety or varieties, and (c) with a designation of the grade of the fruit.

5. No person shall sell, or offer, expose or have in his possession for sale any fruit packed in a closed package and intended for sale unless such package is marked as required by the next preceding section.

6. No person shall sell, or offer, expose or have in his possession for sale any fruit packed in a closed package, upon which package is marked any designation which represents such fruit as of finest, best or extra good quality, unless such fruit consist of well-grown specimens of one variety, sound, of nearly uniform size, of good color for the variety, of normal shape and not less than 90 per cent. free from scab, worm-holes, bruises and other defects, and properly packed.

7. No person shall sell, or offer, expose or have in his possession for sale any fruit packed in any package in which the faced or shown surface gives a false representation of the contents of such package, and it shall be considered a false representation when more than 15 per cent. of such fruit is substantially smaller in size than, or inferior in grade to, or different in variety from, the faced or shown surface of such package.

8. Every person who, by himself or through the agency of another person, violates any of the provisions of this Act shall, for each offence, upon summary conviction, be liable to a fine not exceeding $1 and not less than 25c. for each package which is packed, offered, exposed or had in possession for sale contrary to the provisions of this Act, together with the costs of prosecution; and, in default of payment of such fine and costs, shall be liable to imprisonment, with or without hard labor, for a term not exceeding one month, unless such fiue and the costs of enforcing it are sooner paid.

9. Whenever any fruit packed in a closed package is found to be falsely marked, any inspector charged with the enforcement of this Act may efface such false marks and mark the words "falsely marked" in a plain and indelible manner on such package.

During the course of the meeting, Mr. McKinnon said they were most anxious to have the Act tested in every way and its weak points, if any, brought out. It was not the intention to enforce it harshly or arbitrarily, all who knew Professor Jas. W. Robertson's methods of working would be fully assured of that. The sole aim and object of the Act was to encourage Canadian fruit trade along legitimate lines.

Mr. McKinnon further laid stress on the fact that, although there was much educational work to be done, the Act was fully in force and they were prepared and, in fact, in a number of instances had already prosecuted in cases of fraud as to marking and quality of fruit, and so far had been uniformly successful. In fact, each case presented had had such strong evidence in its favor that in no case had a defence been put in.

At the close of the meeting the members of the Fruit Exchange expressed themselves as most heartily in accord with the provisions of the Act, some of the members stating that it would be impossible to commend too highly the action of the Department of Agriculture in this matter. They pledged themselves to heartily support the inspector in his work. From personal conversation it was learned that Mr. Philip's appointment was popular with the trade.

Mr. Philip has been engaged in the fruit business in Winnipeg for about 20 years, a great part of the time on his own account, and is a thoroughly practical man well posted on all branches of the business.

IN THE MATTER OF TEA.

The "SALADA" Tea people set forth the claim that if the successful establishment of the largest packet tea concern on the continent means anything, it certainly counts for a thorough practical knowledge of the business in all its forms—and that this fact must be of immense value to a dealer, the name "SALADA" on a packet being an absolute guarantee that the quality and value are there, thus giving the assurance that in selling "SALADA" no competitor can outdo him for sterling worth, and that this is not merely a printed "claim," but is proven by its enormous sale.

MARKETS AND MARKET NOTES

INFORMATION FOR BUYERS.

If any reader wishes to know where any article can be purchased in Canada or abroad, a letter to the Editor will probably place him in communication with the seller.

ONTARIO MARKETS.

Toronto, January 16, 1902.

GROCERIES.

BUSINESS for this time of the year is fairly good, although, of course, when compared with that of a few weeks ago, there is a great deal less in volume. The feature of the trade this week is a decline of 10c. in the price of refined sugars, bringing the figures again down to the lowest on record. The demand for sugar is only moderate. In canned vegetables, while there has been no material change since a week ago, there is, perhaps, a little firmer tone to the market for canned peas. Coffees continue quiet and prices are somewhat irregular. Teas are in fair demand and prices continue to rule firm. Syrups and molasses are meeting with a moderate demand. A fairly good business is still being done in currants, and prices rule firm. Valencia raisins are dull, and quotations are slightly easier. Spices, generally, are firm and in fair demand. A little excitement has developed in Sultana raisins, and quotations are higher than they were a week or ten days ago. A good business is being done in prunes, and prices rule firm. Californian evaporated peaches and apricots are firm, with an upward tendency.

CANNED GOODS.

The situation has not materially changed during the past week, although a slightly firmer feeling is developing in regard to canned peas, and some of the wholesale houses are asking 5c. more than they were a week ago. There also appears to be a little speculative buying; the reason for this is the high price of seed peas, which are up to $6 and $7 a bushel. It is held that at this price a curtailment of the area of peas under cultivation is probable. The demand generally, for peas, is not by any means active. The ruling prices for ordinary brands is 80 to 85c. In tomatoes there is a fair business being done at from 87½ to 90c. There have been some further small shipments to the United States during the past week or ten days, and inquiries are also heard for further lots, but without any transactions being reported further than those already stated. The demand on retail account at the moment is principally from dealers in the city, larger sales having been made there. Corn is in moderate request at 80c. upwards. Only a small business is being done in canned fruits at $1.75 to $2.75 for peaches, and $1.60 to $1.80 for strawberries. A fairly good business is being done in canned salmon for this time of the year. Judging from the present outlook and the condition of prices, the consumption of canned salmon will be very large this year. Prices remain unchanged: Fraser River sockeye, $1.12½ for 5-case lots and over, and $1.45 for less quantities; Northern sockeye, $1.25 to $1.30; cohoes, $1.05 to $1.15.

COFFEES.

A good trade is being done in roasted coffees on retail account, but in green Rio coffees very little is being done. Fine, mild coffees are firm in price and quotations are some 15 to 20 per cent. higher than they were two or three months ago. Green Rio coffees continue irregular on the outside markets, prices fluctuating from day to day. Locally, our quotations are unchanged. We quote: Green Rio, No. 7, 8c.; No. 6, 8¼c.; No. 5, 8½c.; No. 4, 9c.; No. 3, 10 to 12c.

CANDIED PEELS.

The demand for candied peels is only of a moderate character, as is usual at this time of the year. We quote as follows: Lemon, 10 to 12½c.; orange, 11 to 13c.; citron, 15 to 18c., according to brand and quality.

NUTS.

Nothing new has developed either in regard to prices or trade. We quote:

See pages 35 and 36 for Toronto, Montreal, and St. John prices current.

Grenobles, 10¾c. by the bale up to 12c. for smaller quantities. Marbots, 9½ to 10½c.; filberts, 9½ to 10½c.

RICE AND TAPIOCA.

Business is still of the usual, steady character and devoid of any special feature. We quote: B rice, 3¼c.; Japan rice, 5½ to 6c.; tapioca, 4 to 4½c.; sago, 4½ to 5c.

SPICES.

Nutmegs and mace are about ¼c. per lb. higher in the primary market. Advices in regard to cloves are somewhat irregular, some reporting the market firmer, while others are of contrary character. Those who report a firmer market claim that there has been a partial failure of the crop and that prices will advance. The pepper market still rules firm. Wholesalers report a fairly good demand for ginger, cloves, allspice and pepper.

SUGAR.

The market has again become demoralized. The raw market is down to 6s. 1½d. Last week there was a decline of 1-16c. in raw sugars in New York, and early this week granulated there declined 10c. and yellows, 5c. per 100 lb. In sympathy with this prices of all granulated sugars declined 10c. in Canada on Tuesday, thus putting quotations back to the recent lowest point on record. We now quote granulated on the basis of $3.90 f.o.b. Montreal, for Redpath and St. Lawrence, and $3.85 for Acadia. In Toronto the prices are $4.08 and $4.03 respectively. The meltings in the United States last week were 21,000 tons and the receipts 14,268 tons. The total stocks in the four United States ports at the close of last week were 123,901 tons against 86,190 for the corresponding time last year.

SYRUPS AND MOLASSES.

In syrups there are some good mediums of sugar description offering from the refineries, and there have been some transactions. Business on retail account is rather quiet. A fair business is being done in New Orleans molasses at 25 to 30c. for medium grades and 45 to 50c. for open kettle.

TEAS.

Quite a good demand is reported by the brokers this week for medium-grade flavory teas in Indians and Ceylons, but as stocks on spot are light there have not been many transactions. Mail advices from London, Eng., under date of January 3, state that the market opened with a good demand for Indian teas with prices advancing for all descriptions up to 7 or 8d. per lb. Ceylon teas, we are told, met with a good demand, and prices for all, excepting a few good medium and better grades, showed marked firmness. The Japan tea market continues quiet, only a few transactions being reported on the local market during the past week. Prices, however, rule firm. A good inquiry is heard for all grades of China green teas, which continue scarce. Quite a number of spot inquiries for Ceylon greens are also reported, but these, too, continue scarce.

FOREIGN DRIED FRUITS.

CURRANTS.—Cable advices, since our last review, report the market in Greece firm. Some business on importation account is still being done. Local wholesalers are experiencing a fairly good demand for currants. We quote: Filiatras, 6 to 6¼c.; Patras, 6½ to 7c.; Vostizzas, 8 to 8½c.

VALENCIA RAISINS.—As already pointed out in a previous issue, stocks in Spain are nil. Some offers are, however, being made from London, Eng., and as fresh shipments are nearly due to arrive here the local market is a little easier this week, and 6½c. represents the ruling idea as to price of selected raisins. Although the market is slightly easier, at present stocks are very light, and some inquiries are being received from out-of town houses. We quote: Fine off-stalk at 5½c.

SULTANA RAISINS.—Quite a little more interest has been taken in these on account of the higher prices ruling in the primary market, where stocks are practically exhausted and quotations are up 7s. to 9s. per cwt., according to grade. There has been a little more demand and there have been some transactions between wholesale houses. We hear of one transaction whereby a wholesale house received ¾c. per lb. higher from an out-of-town than it was quoting a few weeks ago to the retail trade. Prices to the retail trade now rule at 8½c. for the lowest grades up to 12c. for the highest. It might be pointed out that the increase on the price of spot goods does not correspond with the increase in the primary market.

PRUNES.—Although no further advance has taken place prices on the Coast have an upward tendency. Quotations here are the same as they have been for some weeks, but it is expected that they will be higher when the present stocks are exhausted. The demand for prunes continue fairly good. We quote as follows: Californian prunes, 100-110's, 5c.; 90-100's, 5½ to 6¼c.; 80-90's, 6½ to 7c.; 70-80's, 6¾ to 7¼c.; 60-70's, 7½ to 8c.; 50-60's, 8 to 8½c.; 40-50's, 8¾ to 10c. French, 100's, 3½ to 4c.

FIGS.—We hear of further shipments of natural figs from this market to New York. Advices from Smyrna say that the few remaining natural figs have been cleaned up for New York. Locally there is very little business being done in figs. We quote: Mat figs, 3¼c.; naturals, 3¼ to 4½c according to quality; tapnets, 3¼c., and Elcme figs range all the way from 8½ to 18 cents.

CALIFORNIAN EVAPORATED FRUITS—Although business is not active there is rather more doing than is usual at this time of the year. The market in California is firm with an upward tendency. We quote as follows: In 25-lb. boxes, 13 to 16c. for apricots and 11 to 13c. for peaches.

GREEN FRUITS.

The movement is quiet, the demand for apples being particularly weak. Cranberries are scarcer and go as high as $10 per bbl. with slow sales. Southern cucumbers are being offered at $2.25 to $2.50 per doz. We are quoting: Tangerine or kid glove oranges, $8.50 to $9 per strip; grape fruit, $4.50 to $6 per box; apples, $4 to $5 per bbl.; bananas, $1.50 to $2 for firsts, and 80c. to $1 for first eight hands; Florida oranges, $3.25 to $3.50 per box; Mexican oranges, $2.25 per box; Messina lemons, $2.50 to $2.75 per box; Californian oranges, $3.25 to $3.50 per box; Valencia oranges, $3.75 to $5.50 per case; Malaga grapes, $5.50 to $6; cranberries, fancy Jerseys, $9 to $10; pineapples, 25 to 35c. each by the case; cucumbers, Southern, $2.25 to $2.50 per doz.

VEGETABLES.

There is a quiet movement, the bulk of the trade being in celery and lettuce. Radishes are being now offered and sell fairly well. Turnips, carrots and parsnips are also coming more into demand. Dry onions are scarcer and range 25c. a bushel higher for the finest samples. The other prices are unchanged. We quote: Carrots, parsnips and beets, 20c. per peck; turnips, 15c. per peck and 35c. per bag; lettuce, 30 to 40c. per doz.; radishes, 40 to 50c.; mint and parsley, 20 to 25c.; celery, 50 to 60c.; red cabbage, No. 1, 5 to 10c.; cabbage, 40 to 60c.; dry onions, $1 to $1.25 per bush.; potatoes, 85 to 90c. per bag.

COUNTRY PRODUCE.

EGGS—There are moderate offerings of fresh and held eggs, but strictly new laid are very scarce. They are worth 26 to 30c. per doz. There is a moderate demand for fresh-gathered, cold-stored and limed, with prices unchanged. We quote: Fresh-gathered, 20 to 22c.; cold-stored, 18 to 20c., and limed 16 to 18c. per doz.

BEANS—The movement is normal with prices steady. We quote: Choice hand-picked, $1.70 to $1.85; prime, $1.50 to $1.60 per bush.

HONEY—There is a better demand for honey, and some dealers are obtaining better prices. We quote: Clover, in 60-lb. tins, 9½ to 10c.; less quantities, 10 to 11c. per lb.; in combs, $2 to $3 per doz.

DRIED APPLES—Trade has slightly improved. The prices are unchanged. We quote: Evaporated apples, 9¾ to 10c. in carlots and 10¾c. in less quantities. Dried apples 5 to 6c. per lb.

POTATOES—The prices are firm at 70c. per bag in carlots on track here, with jobbers retailing them out in lots of 10 bags or over at 85c. and less quantities at 90c. per bag.

BUTTER AND CHEESE.

BUTTER—The average receipts of butter with steady prices are reported. We are quoting: Choice 1-lb. prints, 17 to 19c.; large rolls, 16 to 17c.; tubs, best quality, 15 to 16c.; tubs, medium grade, 12 to 14c. per lb. Creamery prints sell at 21 to 22c., and creamery solids, 20½ to 21c. per lb.

CHEESE—The prices are firm, with a steady demand. We quote: Cheese, wholes, 10½ to 10¾c.; twins, 11c.

POULTRY.

DRESSED POULTRY—There have been poor arrivals of dressed poultry this week. The prices are very firm, as much as 12c. being offered for turkeys, which is 2c. more than last week. Ducks are 10c. per pair higher, while the majority of geese sell at 9c. We quote: Chickens, 30 to 50c. per pair; ducks, 60 to 90c. per pair; geese, 8 to 9c. per lb.; turkeys, 10 to 12c.

LIVE POULTRY—Live poultry are scarce, and business is quiet. The Canadian Produce Company, 36 and 38 Esplanade east, Toronto, will pay until further notice for spring chickens, 6c. per lb. For ducklings, 5c. per lb. For hens (including last year's birds) 2½c. per lb. These prices are for live weight on arrival. Crates shipped free and express paid up to 50c. per 100 lb. of chickens.

FISH AND OYSTERS.

There continues to be an improvement in the sales of all kinds of fish. In preparation for Lent, when the business is at its best, dealers are getting in full stocks of fish. Fresh frozen sea herring are being sold at $2.25 per 100 fish. Prices remain steady and we quote: Fresh and frozen fish—Cod-fish, 6 to 8c.; whitefish, 7 to 7½c.; herring, 4 to 5c.; trout, 7c.; halibut, 11 to 14c.; sea salmon, 9 to 10c.; haddock, 6c.; perch, 4c.; British Columbian salmon, 20c.; Labrador herrings, $3 to $3.25 per 100-lb. bbl. Smoked fish—Ciscoes, $1 to $1.25; finnan haddie, 6½ to 7c.; Digby herring, 60 to 75c. per bundle. Prepared fish—Dried cod, in 112-lb. bundles, $4.75 per cwt.; flitched cod, $5.50 to $6; boneless cod, in bricks, 4½ to 5½c. per lb.; steak cod, 6½c. per lb.; shredded cod (2 doz. in box), $1.80 per box; boneless fish, loose, in 25-lb. boxes, 4 to 4½c., and in 5-lb. boxes, 5c. per lb.; bloaters, per box of 50, $1 to $1.25; kippered herring, 50 in a box, $1 to $1.25 per box; smelts, per 15-lb. box, extras, 12c. per lb.; No. 1, 6½ to 7c. per lb. Oysters—Standards, $6.75 per large pail, $3.75 to $4 05 per small pail, or $1.50 to $1.75 per Imperial gallon; selects, $2 to $2.15 per Imperial gallon.

GRAIN, FLOUR AND BREAKFAST FOODS.

GRAIN—The prices of Manitoba hard wheat are 89c. per bushel, grinding in transit, and 88c. Toronto and west. Locally the receipts of oats have improved and they are down 1c. per bushel, as is also goose wheat. Red and white Ontario wheat is 1c. higher. We quote as follows: White and red Ontario wheat, 72 to 82c.; goose, 67 to 76½c.; oats, new, 46 to 47c.; rye, 58c.; barley, 54 to 63c.; peas, 77 to 80c.; buckwheat, 58c.

FLOUR—Trade is recovering and a better feeling exists. The prices are very firm. We quote as follows: Ontario patents, in bags, $3.70 to $3.80; Hungarian patents, $4.15; Manitoba bakers', $3.90; straight roller, $3 40 to $3.50 per bbl. in Toronto.

BREAKFAST FOODS—Things are brightening and the demand has continued to improve. The only thing noticeable is that standard rolled oats on track are 5c. less in carlots, while less quantities are 5c. per bbl. more. We quote: Oatmeal, standard and granulated, in carlots on track here, $5.55; standard rolled oats in carlots on track here, $5.20; in bbls., 15c. more; broken lots are 20c. per bbl. extra; rolled wheat, $2.50 in 100-lb. bbls.; cornmeal, $4.00; split peas, $4 50; pot barley, $4.50.

HIDES, SKINS AND WOOL.

There is a quiet movement with steady prices. We quote prices paid by buyers on arrival:

SEEDS.

The red clover market is fairly steady. Alsike is very dull owing to the absence of export orders making it difficult to quote prices, and jobbers are not inclined to pay above $6 to $7.50 f.o.b. at outside points. Timothy is 25c. per bush. higher. The following figures are what dealers are paying at outside points. We quote: Red clover, $5 to $5.40; alsike, $6.50 to $8.50, and timothy, $2.50 to $3.25 per bush.

MARKET NOTES.

Timothy seed is 25c. a bushel higher.

A slightly firmer feeling has developed in canned peas.

All grades of refined sugars declined 10c. per 100 lb. on Tuesday.

The advance in turkeys is from 1 to 2c. per lb., and in ducks 10c. per pair.

Sultana raisins are 7 to 9s. per cwt. higher in the outside markets and slightly dearer locally in sympathy.

Standard rolled oats in carlots have gone down 5c. per 100 lb. Broken barrel lots are selling now at 20c. advance on this price.

Beef hind quarters are 50c. per 100 lb. higher, while prices for select live hogs have gone up 12½c., and for lights 40c. per 100 lb.

PROMINENT MERCHANT DEAD.

A loss that will be keenly felt in Montreal business circles is that of Mr. Andrew S Ewing, of Messrs. S. H. & A. S. Ewing wholesale dealers in spices, teas, coffees, etc.

He was in fair health up to within a day or so of his death, but pneumonia developed, and on Wednesday, January 8, he succumbed.

The late Mr. Ewing was born in the north of Ireland 65 years ago, and came to this country with his father, the late Mr. Samuel Ewing, 10 years later. He was educated at the High School, Montreal, and in 1860 he entered into partnership with his brother, Mr. S. H. Ewing (now of S H. Ewing & Sons) in the Montreal Coffee and Spice Mills, of which he afterwards became sole proprietor.

For the past 15 years he has been a valued member of the Montreal Board of Trade. In religion he was a Presbyterian, and in politics a Conservative. In the Protestant Industrial Rooms and other charitable organizations the late Mr. Ewing took a great interest, and in his business relations he was much respected. He left a wife, two sons and two daughters.

The business of S. H. & A. S. Ewing will be carried on as usual.

QUEBEC MARKETS.

Montreal, January 16, 1901.

GROCERIES.

FOR the month of January business is pretty good, and by all indications the grocery trade of 1902 will be an unusually good one. One reason for this is that the Lenten season comes so early, and the ordinarily long, dull winter is shortened considerably, while after Lent the trade seems to prepare for summer and fall business. There are only a few changes in quotations for the week, and these are not of much importance. Union salad oil, winter press, has advanced to 85 and 90c. per gallon, in barrel lots. Loggie's blueberries, which, although scarce, are in stock in gallon tins with some dealers, are selling at $4 to $4.25 per dozen. There is also a scarcity of Armour's pork on the market. The second grade, only, can be had. This, branded "Jones," sells at about $21. The advance in 1-lb. jars of jams, jellies, etc., has not affected the wholesale trade's prices as yet, but when stocks get a little lower we may look for changes. The price of canned tomatoes has not been changed by the wholesale houses as yet. Stocks are pretty large at present and no one wants to be first in the raise.

SUGAR.

A decline of 10c. took place on Tuesday on all grades of refined sugars. Trade continues fair. We quote $3.90 for granulated and $3.15 to $3.80 for yellows.

TEAS.

The trade is beginning to realize that stocks of Japan tea are light, and an increase in the buying is noted.One or two importers have already commenced to quote slightly higher prices on greens. In China green teas London reports show an advance, in some cases, in price, although business was not large.

SYRUPS.

There is not much business doing, but the demand will likely increase shortly, as the Lenten season approaches. There are no changes to report in our quotations, which, on corn syrups, are: 3½c. in bbls.; 3⅝c. in ½ bbls.; 3¾c. in ¼ bbls.; $1.60 in 38½-lb. and $1.20 in 25-lb. pails.

MOLASSES.

There is still only a small demand for molasses. A letter received from Messrs. Jones & Swan, of Barbados, states that the coming crop will be about 10,000 puncheons less than last year. In the Montreal market stocks are comparatively light; there is, perhaps, only about one-third of the quantity held here last year at the same period. There is a certain amount in Halifax, but it is in strong hands. With these facts in view, an advance in prices will surprise no one. Added to this, the high prices prevailing in hog products and fruits will in all probability bring on an increased demand for molasses. The impression prevails that stocks now held in Canada will be cleaned out before the new crop arrives. At present no changes have been made in prices. We quote: Barbados molasses, in single puncheons, at 29c. and in carlots, 28c. Antigua, in single puncheons, sells for 24c.

CANNED GOODS

Wholesale stocks in canned tomatoes are still pretty large, so no advance, in accordance with the Syndicate's new price, is meditated just at present. Retailers, however, are wisely investing in tomatoes before any such action is taken, and the result is a good demand. Peas are somewhat scarce, but the demand is not heavy. Corn is steady at 80c.; peas, 80 to 95c. We quote salmon at $1.00 to $1.05 for pink; $1.30 for spring; $1.32 for Rivers Inlet red sockeye; $1.45 for Fraser River red sockeye, and $1.42½ to $1.45 for Clover Leaf talls. Gallon apples sell for $2.60.

RICE AND TAPIOCA.

There is not much to say about these. A modernte trade is doing at steady prices. We quote as follows in combine district: B rice in bags, $3.10; in ½ bags, $3.15; in ¼ bags, $3.20; in pockets, $3.25. In 10-lb. lots an allowance of 10c. is made. CC rice, $3 in bags; $3.05 in ½ bags; $3.10 in ¼ bags; and $3.15 in pockets. In the open territory prices are about 10c. less. Patna rice is worth 4⅞c. per lb., and tapioca, 3¾ to 3⅞c.

SPICES.

In a general way prices are pretty firm. Trade is quiet, however, and quotations are: Nutmegs, 30 to 55c. per lb. as to size; penang mace, 45 to 50c. per lb.; as to quality; pimento, ground, 12½ to 15c.; cloves, 15 to 25c.; pepper, ground, black, 17 to 22c., according to grade; white, 25 to 27c.; ginger, whole, Cochin, 15 to 17c.; Japan, 13 to 14c.; Jamaica, 16 to 20c.; Afghan, 12 to 13c.; ground, Japan, 15c.; Cochin, 16 to 17c.; Jamaica, 20 to 22c., and Afghan, 13 to 14c.

FOREIGN DRIED FRUITS.

CURRANTS.—Prices on currants are firm, and the demand is moderate. Fine Filiatras sell for 5⅝c. in ¼ cases, and for 6c. cleaned; 1-lb. cartons are worth 8c.; finest Vostizzas, 7¾ to 8c.

VALENCIA RAISINS.—The market is still quiet and prices remain unchanged. Our quotations are, locally Finest off-stalk, 5⅝c.; selected, 6⅜c.; layers, 6⅞c.

CANDIED PEELS.—These are quite scarce, owing to the unprecedented demand. We quote: Orange peel at 11½c.; lemon, 10½c.; citron, 16½c.

MALAGA RAISINS.—Business is not brisk and prices are steady. We quote as follows: London layers, $1.50 to $1.60; "Connoisseur Clusters," $2.15 to $2.25; ½'s, 65 to 70c.; "Royal Buckingham Clusters," $3.30 to $3.35; ¼'s, $1.05 to $1.10; "Excelsior Windsor Clusters," $4.50 to $4.60; ¼'s, $1.30 to $1.40.

DATES.—There is a fair trade doing at steady prices. We quote Hallowee dates at 4¼ to 4½c.

FIGS.—A good demand keeps up for both layer and tapnet. We quote the latter at 97½c. to $1.

CALIFORNIAN RAISINS.—There is no change in the situation. We quote seeded at 9¼ to 9½c.

PRUNES.—The demand is, as usual, a fair one. Prices have not changed. Our quotations are as follows: Californians, 8½c. for 40-50's, 8c. for 50-60's, 7⅞c. for 60-70's, 7½c. for 70-80's, 6¾c. for 80-90's, 6½c. for 90-100's.

NUTS.

Business is not brisk, and prices remain steady, as follows: Walnuts, 9¾ to 11c.; Tarragona almonds, 12 to 13c.; shelled walnuts, 16¼ to 17½c.; shelled almonds, 26 to 27c.; Jordan shelled almonds, 42c.; filberts, 8¾ to 9¼c.; pecans, 15 to 16c.

GREEN FRUITS.

Business has not improved much. The demand on all lines is light and except in Florida tomatoes and Valencia oranges there are no changes in prices. The former, however, are arriving in larger quantities, and the price has dropped 50c. per crate, now being quoted at $4.75. There are a good many Valencia oranges on this market and we now quote 420's at $3.50, a drop of 25c. Our quotations are as follows: Jamaica oranges, $4.50 to $4.75; Florida oranges, $3.75 to $4; Californian sunflowers, $3.50 to $3.90; Valencia oranges, 420's, $3.50; 420's, Jumbo, $4.75; 714's, $5.25; Messina lemons, $2.75 to $3.00 per box; Malaga lemons, ½ chests, $5.25 to $6; pineapples, 15 to 20c.; Canadian apples, $3 to $5 per bbl.; limes, $1.50 per box; cocoanuts, $3.50 per bag of 100; bananas, No. 1, $1.75 to $2.25, and eight hands, $1 to $1.50; Spanish onions, $1.10; sweet potatoes, Vineland's, $4.75 to $5.50; Malaga grapes, $5.50 to $7 per keg; cranberries, $7.75 to $10; barrel onions, $3; chestnuts, 10 to 11c.; Italian chestnuts, 12½c.; Florida tangerines, $3.25 per box; Californian tangerines, $3.00 per box; grape fruit, $4.25 per box; Florida tomatoes, $4.75 per crate.

FISH.

Prices on several lines are becoming firm, and there is a good trade doing. There have been no changes in prices this week. We quote as follows: Haddies, 6c.; bloaters, 90c. per box; kippers, 90c. per box; smoked, medium herrings, 11c. per box; fresh haddock and cod, 3½c. per lb.; whitefish, 6½c.; dore, 5½c.; pike, 4½c.; halibut, 9c.; salmon, 9c.; trout large and medium, 7c.; No. 1 herrings, Nova Scotia, $5.25 per bbl.; No. 1 herrings, Nova Scotia, $2.80 per ½ bbl.; No. 1 Holland herrings, $6.50 per ½ bbl.; No. 1 Scotch herrings, $6.50 per ½ bbl.; No. 1 Scotch herrings, 98c. per keg; Holland herrings, 72c. per keg; salted eels, 6½c. per lb.; No. 1 green codfish, $5.75 per bbl.; No. 2, $4.50; large, $6.50; No. 1 green haddock, $4.25 per bbl.; No. 1 pickled sardines, $5.50 per bbl.; No. 2 mackerel, $12.50 per bbl.; No. 3 mackerel, $9 per bbl.; cod, 1 and 2-lb. blocks, 6c. per lb.; loose boneless cod, 5c. per lb. in 40-lb. boxes; dressed codfish, $4.80 per case; dry codfish, $4.65 per 112-lb. bundle; No. 1 Labrador salmon, $17.50 in tierces; No. 1 Labrador salmon, $12 per bbl.; No. 1 Labrador salmon, $6.25 per ½ bbl.; No. 1 B.C. salmon, $6 per ½ bbl. and $11 per bbl.; standard bulk oysters, $1.30 per gal.; select bulk oysters, $1.50 per gal.; Malpeque, Blue Point and other shelled oysters, $6 per bbl.; clams, in shell, $4.50 per bbl.; Marshall's kippered herrings, and same with tomato sauce, $1.45 per doz.; Canadian kippered, $1 per doz.; Canadian ¼ sardines, $3.75 per 100; canned Cove oysters, No. 1 size, $1.30 per doz.; canned Cove oysters, No. 2 size, $2.20 per doz.

BUTTER AND CHEESE.

BUTTER.—During the past week there has been very little eastern butter offering, factories having decided, owing to the small supply of cream available and to the impossibility of turning out a suitable quality of goods, that it was best to conclude operations. The result of this has been that some dealers are asking more money for their stocks. On account of the inferior run of creamery, the demand is mostly for fall creameries, and stocks of this are not heavy. Any good lots of Eastern-Townships creamery finds ready buyers at 20½ to 21c. Produce merchants are quite willing to pay that for select, winter-made creamery, which price is almost impossible to get white extracted, 9½ to 10c.; strained 8 to 9c.

DRESSED POULTRY.—Supplies are hardly equal to the demand, which, however, is not large, and prices are somewhat firmer. Choice turkeys now sell at 11 to 12c., a slight advance, and ordinary, at 9c. Choice geese sell for 7½ to 8c.; choice chickens, 7½ to 8c.; fowls, 5½ to 6c.

ASHES.—There is a moderate demand. Prices are steady, as follows: First pots, $4.40 to $4.45 per 100 lb.; seconds, $4.00 to $4.05; pearls, $6.75 to $7.

FLOUR AND GRAIN.

FLOUR.—The market is quiet and prices remain firm. We quote in carlots: Spring wheat patents, $4.05 to $4.30; winter wheat patents, $3.85 to $3.95; straight roller, $3.70 to $3.75; strong bakers', $3.80 to $4.

GRAIN.—There is nothing new to note. A good business has been done during the week at steady prices. We quote as follows: Manitoba, No. 1 hard, 72c.; peas, 92 to 93c.; rye, 64 to 64½c. (for carlots in store); No. 2 barley, 57c.; oats, 47 to 48c.; buckwheat, 54 to 56½c. east; corn, 75 to 76c.

OATMEAL.—There is only a light movement. Prices are unchanged. We quote: $5.85 to $5.90 in small lots.

FEED.—A fairly active market prevails. Our quotations are: Ontario bran, $20 to $20.50; mouille, $28 to $30; Manitoba bran, $21; shorts, $23.

BALED HAY.—A moderate trade is doing at steady prices. We quote: No. 1 timothy, $10 to $10.50; No. 2, $9 to $9.75; clover, mixed, $8 to $8.50; clover, per ton, in carlots, $7 to $7.50.

MONTREAL NOTES.

Valencia oranges have dropped 25c.

Florida tomatoes are 50c. per crate lower.

English buyers are paying as high as 52s. for colored cheese and 50s. for white.

NEW BRUNSWICK MARKETS.

Office of "The Canadian Grocer."

St. John, N.B., January 13, 1902.

BUSINESS has been somewhat quiet during the week, but not unexpectedly so. There has been one subject to the front of interest—direct steamship service to Jamaica. The best attended meeting which the Board of Trade has held for some time met to hear the agents formulate their plans. The feeling of the meeting was in strong sympathy with the movement, and the opinions expressed were that the venture would prove a success. The fact that the line will not at present receive a subsidy strongly enlisted the sympathy of many. The Canadian Pacific Railway Company are particularly interested, which means much. There will be a steamer sailing every three weeks. In markets the week shows but little change.

OILS.—Burning oils continue to be a large business, but already a change is noticed in the length of the day. Competition is very strong, but the market cannot be said to be the same, though there is little if any change yet. In paint oils the season is yet too early for much business. Lubricating oils are quiet except in the taking of future orders. Everything points to a large spring business. Prices show no change, the market being quite firm. Cod and seal oil are both very firmly held at full figures.

The above is a change in name only, as Mr. Carmichael has always been the silent partner of T. H. Smith & Co.

SALT.—There have not been as large importations of coarse salt from Liverpool as last year. Dealers are inclined to allow stocks in store to run light, preferring to have regular shipments in each steamer and ship direct from the steamer, thus saving the extra cost of storing, which means considerable. In fine salt business is light. Quotations are now as follows: Liverpool coarse, 50 to 60c.; English factory-filled, 95c. to $1; Canadian fine, $1 per bag; cheese and butter salt bulk, $2.40 per bbl.; 5-lb. bags, $2.85 to $2.90 per bbl.; 10-lb. bags, $2.70 to $2.75 per bbl.; 20-lb. wood boxes, 22c. each; 10-lb. wood boxes, 14c. each; cartons, $2 per case of 2 doz.; English bottled salt, $1.25 to $1.30 per doz.; mineral rock salt, 60c. per 100 lb. (Selected lumps.)

CANNED GOODS.—There is as usual at this season, but a limited business. Prices show little change. The fact that packers have advanced tomatoes makes that a rather firm line. Dealers are already placing orders for canned meats. Prices are low. Canadian meats control the market—at least among the wholesale men. In fruits, blueberries are very firm and scarce. There is a strong market in all lines. Oysters are offered quite low. This is the packing season. Salmon are now in full stock and prices are quite low, being much lower than before new goods came on the market. Domestic canned fish are high, except sardines. Kippered herring are far short of the demand.

GREEN FRUITS.—Oranges are very large sellers. In Valencias the market is rather higher. There is just a fair business. It is yet early for best quality. Jamaica oranges are still particularly fine. Prices are unchanged. Quantity of Floridas and Californians imported is not very large. In lemons there is just a fair business at even figures. Californian lemons are sold in a very small way. They are a very mild fruit. Apples move slowly, and for best stock high prices still rule. A few nice Bishop pippins are still offered. Very few bananas are now sold. Cranberries are firm at full figures. More domestic berries have been sold than usual this season. The quality has been good. Some few pines are offered, but the sale is light.

DRIED FRUITS.—There is some interest still, though the holiday season is over. The advance in Californian and Malaga fruit aids very much in this; also the fact that stock bought early this season was light. Quite a few prunes and raisins arrived this week. Prunes, as yet, show no change in price. Some currants were received this week. These were also higher for import. The cleaned currants hold the market. Dates are much higher. No large stocks are held. In evaporated apples prices are higher. Reports from the west say new goods are well cleaned up. Stock here is small. Dried apples are firmly held. There is some inquiry for evaporated apricots and peaches, but the quantity used is much smaller than one would expect. Onions are higher; very few Spanish sold here.

DAIRY PRODUCE.—Eggs are still held at quite full figures, though there is but a fair demand. Butter is dull though good quality sells freely and at full figures. There is considerable country butter offering, but most of the quality is undesirable, and it is the cause of the loss of much money. Cheese show no change in price. Business is light. The local market is never a very large one.

SUGAR.—The low prices still continue. The market is not such as to lead one to buy much more than for present needs, but still the sales are very large.

MOLASSES.—Stocks are in few hands, except in a small way. Prices are unchanged. Variety is very much smaller than usual. Although some nice values in American goods are offered, sales are light.

FISH.—There is nothing of particular interest. Frozen herrings are in very light receipt. There is always a large demand, particularly if the weather is cold. Fresh haddock is light in supply and full figures are asked. Cod sell at a little lower price than haddock. Finnan haddies are firmly held. Shipments are large. Smoked herrings are unchanged at the low figures. Pickled keep high. There are no bloaters or kippers. In alewives, the pack has been largely sold. The quantity packed this season was not as large as usual, and the market was somewhat dull. In pickled shad a few were offered, but at high figures. We quote: Haddies, 5½ to 6c.; smoked herring, 6 to 7c.; fresh haddock and cod, 2½ to 3c.; boneless fish, 4 to 5c.; pollock, $1.60 to $1.70 per 100 lb.; pickled herring, $2.15 to $2.25 per bbl.; Canso herring, $5.75 per bbl.; kippered herring, $1 per box; Shelburne, $2.50 per ½ bbl.; dry cod, $3.60 to $3.75; frozen herring, 75c. per 100; smelt, 5 to 6c. per lb.

FLOUR, FEED AND MEAL.—In flour, while there is little change, prices are held firm, particularly in Ontario grades. There is just a fair sale. Feed is scarce and there is a good demand. Oats and oatmeal are somewhat easier, but there is little or no change in the local market. Cornmeal is still held at the high price. Beans are unchanged. There is a demand for yellow eyes. Barley, split peas and blue peas are high. The last named are very scarce. Hay tends higher. We quote: Manitoba flour, $4.70 to $4.80; best Ontario, $4.10 to $4.20; medium, $3.60 to $3.80; oatmeal, $5.60 to $5.75; cornmeal, $3.30 to $3.35; middlings, $26 to $28; oats, 58 to 60c.; handpicked beans, $1.65 to $1.70; prime, $1.55 to $1.60; yellow eye beans, $2.80 to $3.00; split peas, $4.85 to $5.00; barley, $4.70 to $4.75; hay, $12 to $14.

TRADE NOTES.

"Pure Gold" have distributed to their friends a very handsome picture card.

"Kux Joy," the new brand of cleaned currants, in cartons, is meeting with a large sale.

Mr. Alex. Jardine was in the city this week and received a hearty welcome from his many friends.

Mr. Potter, representing The N. K. Fairbank Co., is doing the retail trade and is having a large sale, particularly in their specialties, "Gold Dust" and soap. Their scouring soap is meeting with a good reception.

The Lake of the Woods Milling Co. have made a large shipment of flour to South Africa via St. John. The many friends of Mr. A. O. Hastings, their representative, will hear with much pleasure that he is improving in health.

MANITOBA MARKETS.

Winnipeg, January 13, 1902.

THE volume of business has increased during the week, and orders are coming in from travellers with considerable regularity. The trade for the time being is chiefly of a sorting character. The weather has been so mild that the little snow we had has all but disappeared, and this is having the effect of holding business back somewhat in certain lines. Public attention at the moment is much taken up with the question of the referendum of the Liquor Act and with the action of the Board of Trade in regard to car shortage. In fact, Winnipeg has been a sort of storm centre all week. There has been a great deal of eloquence expended on both questions. The uncertainty of the Liquor Act being or not being enforced has a certain depressing influence on trade.

MILL FEED — Although there does not seem to have been any increase of supply for this market, several firms have dropped the price of bran and shorts $1.50 per ton. The reason for this seems a little difficult to find, as local demand is certainly good and export demand does not appear to have fallen off appreciably. On the other hand, some firms stoutly maintain the prices given last week and so the market is difficult to quote. Probably $17 for bran and $18.50 for shorts is as nearly correct as possible.

GROUND FEED — Corresponding to the duller feeling in oats there has been a drop in ground feeds. Oat chop is now quoted at $27.50 as against $30 last week. Oats and barley $25, as against $27.00 ; barley chop $22, as against $23. Oil cake is unchanged at $27 ; oatmeal feed, $16 ; mill screenings, $17, as against $18.50.

HAY—The absence of snow is "playing hob" with the market in baled hay. There is no bush trade yet, and, in consequence, there is at present a glut in both baled and loads. If snow does not come soon the outlook for farmers with large stocks of hay will be rather gloomy. There has been no actual drop in price since last week ; there has been simply an absence of demand at any figure. Baled hay on track is quoted at $5 to $6, with no bidders ; loose loads, $5 to $5.75.

FLOUR—There has been a fair trade all week, with nothing new in either price or situation to record. Quotations are ; Ogilvie's Hungarian patent, $2; Glenora patent, $1.85; Alberta, $1.65 ; Manitoba, $1.55 ; Imperial XXXX, $1.25 ; Nestor, $1.15; Lake of the Woods Milling Co.'s Five Roses, $2 ; red patent, $1.85 ; Medora, $1.45 ; XXXX, $1.25 ; Hudson Bay Hungarian, $2 ; strong bakers', $1.85 ; Leader, $1.50 ; Gladstone Sweet Home Hungarian, $2 ; Home Rule, $1.85 ; Headingly Hungarian, $2 ; Favorite family patent, $1.70 ; strong bakers', $1.60 ; Pansy, $1.25.

CEREALS—There is nothing of interest to record in connection with this market. Trade has been fair in all lines and prices have remained without change. There is considerable business being done in shipments of rolled oats to the eastward. Quotations for the week are as follows : Rolled oats in 80's, $2.40 ; in 40's, $1.20 ; in 20's, 65c.; granuated and standard oatmeal, $2.90 to $2.95 ; split peas, $2.75 to $2.80 per 98 lb.; pearl barley, $3.75; pot barley, $2.30 ; white beans, prime medium, $1.90; cornmeal, $2. In connection with cereals it is interesting to note the reports of the enormous rice crop in Japan, the largest in many years. The new rice will not reach this market for some considerable time yet, but when it comes there will be a reduction in price without doubt. There are no heavy stocks in Winnipeg, and buyers are showing a tendency to hold off until the extent of the reduction is known. No reports as to the crop of China rice have yet come to hand.

SALT—Stocks of salt are unusually light, owing to the rush of freight at the close of the season and the difficulty of getting transportation for this commodity. Many of the steamers for the last month before navigation closed refused to carry salt. No new supply can come in here much before the end of May, as the first steamers are loaded with more expensive freight. There is a possibility, however, that, owing to the large amount of grain that will await the opening of navigation at Fort William, tramp steamers may come there as soon as the lakes are open. These would, in all probability, be glad to bring salt or anything else they can get as cargoes. In the meantime, merchants are keeping rather an anxious eye on the stocks on hand.

SUGAR—Prices have remained unchanged all week and the trade has not been heavy. Quotations are: Extra Standard granulated, $4.95 ; Bright yellows, $4.30.

CANNED GOODS—The eastern advance on tomatoes has raised a good deal of discussion here as to whether the price should or should not advance. The opinion seems in favor of the advance and a good many houses are quoting it, though not all. The matter reduced to a nutshell is this : Tomatoes sell readily and in tremendous quantities at 10c. per can ; the demand is very fair when they are even two for a quarter, but when they get to 15c. per tin straight the trade drops off visibly, and something else is substituted. Peas and corn are both in fair demand and without change of price. With the single exception of tomatoes the price list quoted for the past few weeks stands. Tomatoes are quoted at $2.25 to $2.30 per case.

COFFEE—Rios are particularly firm, and on arrival are found to be of excellent quality and color. Rios range from 10 to 10½c., according to grade.

TEAS—There is very considerable difficulty in getting low grades at reasonable figures. Many orders for first samples were declined as the chops could not be bought at the limit of price set.

DRIED AND EVAPORATED FRUITS—Dried fruit trade is largely at a standstill, there being little or no demand. Evaporated fruits are very firm. Evaporated apples are held at 10½ to 11c. Dried are in fair demand at 8c. Californian evaporated fruits are all firm. Apricots, 12 to 13c., according to grade ; peaches, unpeeled, 10¼c.; peeled, 17c.; nectarines, 10¼c,; pears, 13 to 13½c.; pitted plums, 10c.; silver prunes, 11½c.

GREEN FRUITS — This market is very quiet and no changes in price are recorded. The event of the week in fruit circles has been the visit of Mr. W. A. McKinnon, Chief of Fruit Division Department of Agriculture, Ottawa, and the installation of Mr. J. J. Philip of this city as Inspector for Manitoba. The fruitmen feel that the enforcing of this new Act will be a boon to their business, and are preparing to give it their cordial support. Fruit prices for the week are as follows : Apples, $5.50 to $6.50 barrel ; Washington, box apples, $2 per box; Californian oranges, $3.75 to $4.75 per case ; Mexican oranges, $4 50 to $4.75 per case ; lemons, $5.25 per case ; Californian pears, $3.50 per box ; bananas, per bunch, $3 50 to $3.75 ; Malaga grapes, $8 per keg ; sweet potatoes, $6 ; Jersey cranberries per barrel, frozen, $9, unfrozen, $10.

FISH—The event of the week in this line has been the arrival of a carload of fresh salt-water fish. It is some time since Winnipeg has had such a fine variety to choose from. We quote : Salmon trout, 10c.; salmon, 9c.; halibut, 11c.; fresh cod, 7c.; shad, 9c.; smelts, 7½c.; tommy cods, 5½c.; flounders, 5½c.; herrings, 15c. per doz.; Manitoba whitefish, 5c.; pickerel, 4c.; pike, 2½c. There is also a more plentiful supply of Labrador herring at $4 per bbl.; mackerel, $1.80 per kit ; Holland herrings, $1 per kit ; boneless cod, 7c.; whole cod, 6½c. Oysters continue to be in active demand ; prices are $2 and $2.25 per gal., according to grade.

BUTTER—The butter situation continues an unpleasant problem for dealer and consumer alike, No improvement has taken place in the receipts, and certainly none in the quality of butter coming in. A large amount of second-grade is being held in store, with no demand, and the supply of creamery and fresh dairy is almost nil. Separator bricks, whether from farm, dairy or factory, job at 24 to 25c.; inferior grades job at 15 to 17c.

CHEESE—Demand is moderate and a few Manitoba-made cheese are still offering. The bulk of the cheese on the market, however, is from Ontario. Jobbing price 11c.

EGGS—There was never such a demand for new-laid eggs and the supply has rarely been as short. The continued mild weather was expected to increase the supply but it does not appear to have done so, or else the increased demand absorbs them so fast that no increase in supply is noticeable. Dealers are jobbing fresh gathered at 30c. for Manitoba and 27c. for Ontario. New-laid (guaranteed) bring 45c. wholesale and retail at 50c. per dozen.

NOTES.

C. A. Young, M.P.P., was elected president of the Winnipeg Grain Exchange for the ensuing year.

Noticeable among the enterprising eastern firms, who at the present time are realizing the importance of the Western trade and the advantages of making Winnipeg their headquarters for this territory, are The Pure Gold Mfg. Co., of Toronto, who have opened out premises at the corner of Rorie and McDermott streets, with a full and complete stock of goods of their manufacture. Sample-rooms will be in charge of Mr. S. J. Smith, their well-known representative, a fact which guarantees that the requirements of the Western trade will be thoroughly looked after in every detail. We wish The Pure Gold Mfg. Co. every success in their new venture.

NOT CHEAP

It is not cheap in the sense that the word "cheap" is generally used, that is, low in price, common ; but is, perhaps, the highest price of any Tea on the market. I often have customers say, "I think I ought to get——discount. I can get it from other firms.' I know they can and know they could often get more discount than stated, if they tried, but what about the Tea? Could they sell as much of the other firm's brands and would they give their customers as good satisfaction ? That settles the discount or lower price question.

There is more profit for a merchant in Red Rose Tea than in any Tea on the market. Why ? Because he can sell more of it and it will help increase his sales of other goods more than any article he can handle.

Good Tea is a great business increaser.

Your customers will say "Red Rose Tea is good Tea."

NOVA SCOTIA MARKETS.

Halifax, January 13, 1902.

THERE seemed to be only ordinary activity in the grocery trade generally during the last week. Stock taking is fully completed, and the trade, as a whole, are quite well satisfied with the year's business.

Sugar, which has fluctuated more or less for the last couple of months, is now steady in price. Teas, coffees, tobaccos, oils and other staple articles have undergone little change for some months, and the market for all is steady and averages well with other years.

Flours, meal and feeds have undergone a steady rise in price for the last three or four months, and are now at about top prices. No further rise is expected at present. Winter supplies for the local traders now being in, the demand will not be so great for the next month or so.

Flour is quoted (wholesale) from $3 20 to $3.30 for the lighter grades, all the way to $4.70 to $4.80 for Hungarian Patent, Manitoban; standard oatmeal, $5.40 to $5.50; cornmeal, American K.D., $3.25 to $3.35; Halifax ground, $3.30; middlings, $27.50 to $28; bran, $25.50 to $26; oats, which had run to 62c., are not much easier at 56 to 57c. Hay runs from $12.50 to $13.50, according to quality.

In the line of provisions prices rule high, and quantities are generally short in the markets. Butter stands about as previously reported, with the prospect of advances before spring for creamery. Eggs were retailed on Saturday at 35c. for fresh laid stock, even the smallest kind of eggs bringing that price. Beef, in quarters, brings (wholesale) 4 to 5c.; heavy, on foot, $8 to $8.50 per cwt.; mutton, 5 to 5½c.; lamb, 6 to 7c.; veal, 5 to 5½c.; turkeys, 13c.; ducks, chickens, 9 to 10c. Potatoes, 40c.; turnips, 75c. per bbl.; beets, carrots, parsnips, $1.25; cranberries, $8.

The first assignment of the year in Halifax occurred in the grocery business, when on January 9 Wm. H. Drake placed his business in the hands of the official assignee. A meeting of his creditors is advertised to take place on January 20, until which date it is impossible to obtain a correct estimate of his assets and liabilities.

There is considerable doing in the fish business, but prices remain almost unchanged. Last week a number of schooners arrived from the Banks with good cargoes running from 5,000 to 12,000 pounds, principally haddock. Shipments continue to the West Indies and to Boston. The steamer Bonavista, which sailed last week for the latter port, had as part of her cargo: 100 bbls. herring; 250 casks, 1,175 tubs, 985 drums cod; 220 drums dry fish; 500 drums haddock; 25 bbls. salmon; 131 bbls. mackerel; 10 do. alewives; 30 bxs. boneless fish; 5 bales cod; 100 bbls. Nfld. trout; 132 cases live lobsters.

The live lobster business which was good on the South Shore three weeks ago seems to be falling off. We have the following late information from this district: "The lobster grounds at Barrington Passage, so prolific three weeks ago, have greatly dwindled down. There are about seventy-five men fishing there." And also the following: "Unsettled weather makes lobstering slow at Cape Sable, but there does not seem to be much to get. Scarcity is the rule. Some traps have been landed."

From the eastern part of the Province come better reports. A correspondent at Canso writes: "Over $15,000 was paid to the local fishermen for their catches last month. Every fine day now they land $1,000 worth of fish. The shipments at Canso have grown from sixty tons, ten years ago, to two thousand tons annually."

LOOKING UP BUSINESS IN CANADA.

Mr. H. E. Pryor, representing the Great Western Cereal Company, Chicago, was in Toronto this week. The company he represents is well known as the manufacturers of "Mother's Oats," and it owns ten mills in different parts of the United States. Mr. Pryor has charge of the export branch of the company's business, and his visit to Canada is with a view to opening up trade with this country.

MR. N. CARMICHAEL LEAVES THE ROAD.

When the produce and commission firm of T. H. Smith & Co. began business three years ago, one of the partners was Mr. Neil Carmichael. He was what is known as a silent partner, he himself being on the traveling staff of H. P. Eckardt & Co. After 14 years in this capacity with the latter firm he has severed his connection with it for the purpose of taking an active interest in the firm of T. H. Smith & Co., which now becomes Smith & Carmichael.

Prior to his severing his connection with H. P. Eckardt & Co., he was entertained at a dinner by the travelling and office staff of that firm, who at the same time made a substantial presentation to him as a token of esteem.

MR. JONAS IS PRESIDENT.

On Thursday, January 9, the annual election of the French Chamber of Commerce, Montreal, was held. Mr. Henri Jonas, of Henri Jonas & Co., was elected president by a unanimous vote.

PERSONAL MENTION.

Mr. James McGuane, the Boston manager of The "Salada" Tea Co., was in Toronto for a few days last week.

Mr. Elliott, of Ginn & Elliott, grocers, Richmond, P.E.I., has recovered from his illness and is now able to attend to business.

Manager Weeks, of the Lake of the Woods Milling Co., St. John, N.B., in company with Mrs. Weeks, was recently on a trip to Montreal.

F. W. Thompson, of The Ogilvie Milling Co., Winnipeg, in company with Mrs. Thompson, is on an extended trip to Toronto, Montreal, Ottawa, New York and other parts further south.

Geo. T. Stevenson, who has recently been head traveller in the Maritime Provinces for The McLaughlin Milling Co., Toronto, has received the appointment of general-manager of the Toronto agency of The Lake Huron and Manitoba Manufacturing Co., of Goderich, Ont.

DICTATED BY

January 11, 1902.

To the Trade:--

With the object of placing our businesses on a more permanent footing and not subject to the interruptions which are liable to occur in an ordinary partnership or company, we have consolidated into "UNITED FACTORIES, Limited," which will enable us at the same time to greatly extend our manufacturing and marketing facilities.

The policy of the Company will be to supply the trade, and through it the consumers of Canada, with a better article than has been possible in the past, and at no increase in cost, and having ample capital will be in a position to buy its raw materials for cash to the very best possible advantage, and, through carrying large and complete stocks of finished goods, be able to serve you with the greatest promptness.

As the personnel of the management will not be changed in any way, we are not writing as though the pleasant connections, which have existed in the past, were to be severed; in fact, the well-known brands of Boeckh's Standard Brushes and Brooms, Bryan's London Brushes, and Cane's Newmarket Woodenware, will continue to be our leading standard lines, and with the same push and energy that has characterized these businesses in the past we look to an increased and continued connection with your house in the future.

All accounts due to Boeckh Bros. & Company, Toronto; Thos. Bryan, London, and The Wm. Cane & Sons Manfg. Co., Limited, Newmarket, are to be paid direct to them, and they will settle all accounts due by them respectively, as the new Company does not assume any book debts or liabilities.

Our Catalogue for 1902 is now under way and will be distributed at an early date, and our travellers will have the pleasure of calling on you very shortly with complete sets of samples, and as our prices have been very carefully revised and a large number of new lines added, we would ask you to kindly withhold your orders until they have the opportunity of seeing you and quoting prices.

Yours very truly,

Signed,
Boeckh Bros. & Company.

CURRENT MARKET QUOTATIONS

January 16, 1902.

This list is corrected every Thursday, and the quotations herein given are for the cities of Montreal, Toronto, St. John, N. B., and Halifax. The prices are solicited for publication, and are of such quantities and qualities as are usually ordered by retail dealers on the usual terms of credit. For Winnipeg market report and prices, see page 30.

Goods in large lots and for prompt pay are generally obtainable at lower prices. All quotations for staple products are under the direct control of the Editors, who call daily upon all the leading houses in the principal centres.

THE PROVISION TRADE.

The Markets—Report on Food Adulteration—Miscellaneous Notes.

IN July 1899, a committee was appointed by the British Government Board to inquire, first, into the use of preservatives and coloring matters in the preservation and coloring of food, and whether the use of such materials or any of them in certain quantities is injurious to health, and, if so, in what proportion their use becomes injurious; and, secondly, to what extent and in what amounts they are so used at the present time.

From their report, which was published a few weeks ago, we gather that the committee feel that a total prohibition of preserving methods is likely to be attended with serious results to the general public, as a great part of what is now being used as food would be either placed beyond their use or else consumed in a state of incipient putrefaction. Yet, under certain conditions of health, it is fairly well established that preservatives of any kind are prejudical to the consumer, and injure certain constitutions, even when the individual in question is enjoying normal health.

That preservatives are used to a very large extent is shown by the evidence of analysts and the records of the Government laboratory which show that over 4,000 articles of food and drink have been analyzed. Preservatives, consisting almost entirely of boric acid were found in 78 per cent of the samples of cream, 57 per cent. of the butters, 74 per cent. of the margarines, 70 per cent. of the bacons, 83 per cent. of the hams and 66 per cent. of the sausages, examined. Nearly half the jams were also preserved mostly with salicilic acid, while pork pies and potted meats varied considerably. It was found that there was an extensive employment of copper sulphate in the coloring of peas and other vegetables. Regarding this they state: "Direct proof that vegetables containing copper are injurious to the consumer is from the very nature of the case difficult to obtain, and we must admit that we have not succeeded in obtaining it. There is evidence pointing to the conclusion that the copper, when added to the vegetables, forms a compound which is not easily soluble in the human economy. There is, however, evidence of a contrary character, and it is not clear to us that the whole of the copper added becomes, or remains, insoluble under all conditions. Be this as it may, recent events have so incontestibly demonstrated the serious and widespread mischief which may result from the consumption of food and drink, other than sweetmeats, containing even minimal quantities of poisonous metallic substances, that we are strongly of opinion that such poisonous substances should be rigorously excluded."

The evidence of several experts in the provision trade as to the use of boric acid for preserving bacon, brought out the fact that the preservative, consisting actually of a mixture of borax and boric acid, was employed to dust on the outsides of the bacon and hams, and that it did not enter the meat to any appreciable extent. But from evidence given later on, it was found out that, unknown to the above-mentioned witnesses, a preservative mixture is actually used in the injection which is forced into meat in the green state. Consequently, after the sides are washed free from the borax powder, before being placed in the stove, a certain quantity of borax is still left in the meat. But they (the committee) found that preservatives containing carboic acid were not proved to be more harmful than saltpetre. As chemists have always accepted as a fact that saltpetre, which has been used in curing since the art was known, contains nothing detrimental to health, this is equivalent to saying that they are not harmful at all. In fact, they were favorably impressed with the moders boracic method preferring it to the old style of preserving with salt and saltpetre. Bacon treated with boric acid is much milder and more palatable than the old-fashioned bacon, and on the whole contains much less foreign matter weight for weight, for salt and saltpetre are quite as much foreign substances as boric acid, and there is no reason why they should not be considered as drugs in the same manner as any other preservative.

THE PROVISION MARKETS.

TORONTO.

The prices of northern and western hogs are unchanged at $7.90 to $8.15 in carlots. The offerings have been moderate, with a steady demand. On the local market, dressed hogs are in fair supply, with a tendency to firmer prices. Hind quarters of beef are 50c. per 100 lb. higher. Select live hogs have advanced 12½c. and lights 40c. per 100 lb. Choice export cattle bring 25 to 50c. more. The other prices are unchanged. We now quote as follows: Dressed hogs, $8.10 to $8.50; beef carcasses, $5.50 to $6.50 per 100 lb.; hind quarters, $6.50 to $7.50 per 100 lb.; front quarters, $4.75 to $5.50 per 100 lb. Veal, 6 to 7½c. per lb.; lambs, 6 to 6½c. Live hogs: Selects, $6.62½, and lights $6 40 per 100 lb.; choice export cattle bring $5 to $5.50 per 100 lb.; lights sell at $4 to $4.50.

Provisions are moving steadily with firm prices. Lard is very firm and is brisk. No changes in prices have been reported. We quote: Long clear bacon, 15c.; smoked breakfast bacon, 14 to 15c.; rolls, 11½c.; medium hams, 13½c.; large hams, 12½ to 13c.; shoulder hams, 11c., and backs, 13½ to 14c.; Canadian heavy mess pork, $19.50 to $20; short cut, $21.00 to $22; lard, in tierces, 11¼c. per lb.; tubs, 11½c., and pails, 11¾c.

DRESSED MEATS—There has not been much call for beef this week as the majority of city butchers still have considerable of the fancy Christmas beef on hand. The supply is abundant and of excellent quality. Prices have not weakened as anticipated and quotations still are 6½c. Mutton—Little inquiry and less offering ; nominally 8c. Hogs—Offerings for the week have been light and the demand brisk. Price is unchanged at 8c.

CURED MEATS—Business for the week has been fair and the only thing which can be said of the market is that it is very slightly lower in tone than at the end of last week and one or two lines show a slight drop. Quotations are : Hams (smoked) 13½c.; shoulders, 10¼c.; picnic hams, 8½c.; breakfast bellies and backs, 14⅛c.; spiced roll, 11¼c. Dry salt, long clear, 11c.; backs, 11½c.; dry salt, long clear (smoked) 12c.

LARD—Fair demand and no changes in prices. 20-lb. pails, $2.40 ; American, $2.60 ; 3 and 5 lb. tins, in 60-lb. crates, $7.70 ; 50-lb. pails, $6.70.

SAUSAGES—Demand is good for all lines but pork sausage is in the lead. Quotations are : Pork, 8c.; bologna, 7c.; Vienna, 10c.; blood, 6c.; head cheese, 6c.; hog casings, 25c. per lb.; mess pork in fair demand at $20 per barrel ; pickled pigs feet in kits, $1.25.

A BRIEF HISTORY OF COFFEE.

THE early history of coffee is purely of legendary origin there being almost a total absence of any authentic facts, writes R. S. Gehlert in Trade. That of its history which has been ascertained is extremely interesting, we may even say, romantic.

As we finish our breakfast with a cup of this truly sublime beverage, few of us realize the many persecutions carried on against it in the early days of its introduction as a drink. Threats of divine retribution, edicts forbidding its uses followed it step by step in its progress, but the seductive influence of the beverage conquered triumphantly until at this day it has become a necessity, and the world consumes annually about one and one-half billion pounds. Notwithstanding this enormous consumption, which plainly indicates the power of coffee as a food, and as an article of commerce, it is not entirely free from persecution even to this day.

The source of this persecution, however, is not causing any worry to the friends of coffee, but is entirely due to a few weak minds, governed entirely by hallucinations and imaginations, and fed by reading the sensational and fictitious advertising of manufacturers of substitutes for coffee composed chiefly of cereals slightly roasted, and doped with the skimmings and offals from molasses refineries and glucose. It is needless to say, the so-called "Health Coffees" contain nothing whatever of the properties that make coffee itself so valuable. There is also abundant proof for the dietetical and medicinal properties and moral influence of coffee. There is none for the so-called substitutes.

The Experimenting Station of Maine, after a thorough analysis of eight of the most advertised cereal productions, make the following statements in their report: "The so-called coffee substitutes consist of from 48 to 72 per cent. of refuse; that in all of them, the soluble portions, that which alone go to make up the drink, are far less in value than the nutritious matter in skim-milk, in which, the analysis shows, from three to 20 times as much nutritious solids as in these so-called health drinks widely advertised as being so 'nutritious.'" In giving the comparative value of the two, they state, "you would have to drink one quart of cereal to get the amount of protein contained in one ordinary cup of skim-milk"; and further, "the protein of a cup of one of the most widely-advertised cereals is contained in a desert-spoonful of skim-milk." Truly, these nourishing, strengthening, vitalizing drinks, are a nice decoction to abuse a man's poor stomach with. If you think you positively cannot use coffee, don't drink a filthy bran mash because you see it advertised as a complexion beautifier and as an article that will make your life one long beautiful dream.

The three active principles of coffee are Caffeine, caffeone and caffeic. The first, belonging to the group known as alkaloids and to which the coffee owes its agreeable, refreshing and beneficial properties, at once assumes an important place in the diet of mankind in general. According to Schleif, instructor of pharmacy in the University of Pennsylvania, it is a stomachic tonic, promoting the appetite and increasing the digestive power. As the quantity of caffeine varies in different coffees, it can readily be seen that a knowledge of its constituents is very essential to those putting the roasted article on the market, and that a great deal more than the simple posing as an expert is necessary in selecting only the best for the mixing of their various blends.

The second, caffeone, consists largely of liquid oleic acid, and is developed in the process of roasting; to it coffee owes its fragrant aroma. Very little is known of this agent, though some authorities claim it produces an aperient or laxative effect on the bowels, but that in large doses it produces asthenic excitement and congestion. As, however, the greater per cent. of this oil is carried off and lost in the roasting process, the lover of coffee may continue to enjoy it without any fear. It is, however, a blow to those who advertise roasting coffee by a system that retains all the aromatic oil of coffee and running down those who insist on doing it right.

Whether the third, caffeic or "tannic acid" contributes any to the satisfying and exhilirating action of coffee, has never been determined. The fact of its being a powerful astringent and the property to which coffee owes its bitterness when over-infused or boiled, leads us to believe that it is of no beneficial value. As caffeic is only soluble by extreme boiling, it is not hard to understand why good coffee is spoiled in boiling it. On the other hand, caffeine being soluble in cold water, and very readily so in boiling water, a good coffee can be produced by allowing the water to heat just to the boiling point; but the best and most satisfactory method is by filtration, and it will make it in a superior manner and permit the serving of a delicious beneficial drink, free from sediment and of a rich brown color.

The chemical and medicinal properties of coffee are so extensive that they cannot be treated adequately here. The arguments, however, are decisive and to some extent demonstrate overwhelmingly the falseness of the doctrines advanced by its enemies.

Let us take for an illustration the effectiveness of the experiments of hot infusions in extreme cold regions of the Arctic, where it has been declared invaluable by explorers. It is brave Capt. Peary who writes, that when on his Arctic expedition, he placed his starboard watch on a diet of coffee, and his port watch on that of rum as an experiment; the result was, the watch on coffee was found to possess a vigor of health and activity entirely wanting in that of the other.

Statistics also prove that the troops in the American Civil War were able to march longer and endure more hardship and exposure under a stimulus of coffee than under one of liquor. It allays hunger, and increases the incentive and capacity for work, thus enabling those who use it to endure unusual fatigue.

Scarcely less useful is it in the tropical regions and in districts infested with malarial and other low fevers; here its use has been one of the safest and most effective remedies as well as a preventative; while in extreme cases of yellow fever, after all other well-known remedies had failed, it has been used effectively by many physicians. In 1835, during the cholera epidemic in New York, physicians caused the issuing of a public manifesto urging the people to abstain from all liquors and confine themselves to the use of strong coffee as a beverage. The result was most beneficial and gratifying.

It cannot be denied that in some instances the excessive use or rather abuse has proven injurious, notwithstanding; habitual coffee drinkers generally enjoy the best of health and we can safely say, that the long-lived people who have used and enjoyed it from infancy are innumerable. It was coffee that supported Voltaire in his old age, and upon being informed by his physician that it was a slow poison, replied, "Yes, it is a VERY slow poison; it has been poisoning me for over 20 years."

The only early history of coffee is obtained from a treatise published in 1566 and written by an Arab Sheikh, in which the statement is set forth that the use of coffee was prevalent among the Abyssinians from the most remote period, and is supposed to have been first discovered in upper Ethiopia, from where it was introduced as early as A. D. 875. After its introduction into Arabia, the coffee-drinking habit spread rapidly among the Mohammedans, who soon took advantage of its peculiar property of overcoming drowsiness and inclination to sleep and it was extensively used in connection with their long religious services on this account. The priests, however, declared it to be an intoxicating beverage and therefore prohibited by the Koran; thereby making those who became addicted to its use subject to the penalty of an outraged law. Though all manner of devices were adopted to check its growth its popularity made it the national beverage of Arabia.

From Arabia it spread rapidly outward to Syria, then to Persia and Cairo, everywhere meeting with fierce opposition until finally sanctioned by the governor, Sheikh Obelek, its progress through Egypt was without further molestation. Its introduction in Constantinople, about 1554, again excited fierce hostilities among the religious orders on account of the popularity of the coffee houses which considerably depressed the attendance at the mosque. The Sultan was prevailed upon and he at first prohibited, and then probably realizing it a splendid opportunity to swell his treasury, revoked the order and laid a heavy tax on the sale and consumption of coffee, notwithstanding which it flourished, and as the revenue was enormous, objections to it eventually died out.

Soon after its introduction into Europe coffee houses sprung up rapidly and soon became popular resorts throughout the country, so much so, that in 1675, for political reasons, Charles II. issued a Royal proclamation classing them as "Seminaries of sedition," and attempted to surpress them. The order, however, caused so much excitement throughout London that it was rescinded in a few days.

Coffee was practically introduced in the Dutch East Indies in 1690 through Gov.-Gen. Van Horne, who received his seeds

But some consumers are wedded to light drawing kinds, with pale liquor and without the full body and richness of the black kinds.

GREEN

The Green Teas of Ceylon are made expressly for this trade. In Make, Quality and Price they challenge comparison with other growths.

They are grown, prepared and packed with the same skill by the British Planters who have revolutionized the black tea trade.

They have caught on in Canada and are no longer in the experimental stage. Try them from traders plying between the Arabian Gulf and Java. These he planted in a garden in Batavia, where they flourished so abundantly that the culture was immediately begun on a large scale. In the year 1714, the French King, Louis XIV., received as a present from the magistrate of Amsterdam a fine coffee plant in full foliage. It was carefully nursed and some of its sprouts were sent to Martinique in 1717 under the personal care of a naval officer named De Clieux. Unfavorable winds and stormy weather made the voyage a long one, and as the vessel supply of water became almost exhausted the entire crew was put on a short allowance. The young plants gradually dying off for want of sufficient moisture until but one remaining, this young patriot thinking only of carrying out the commands of his King, and though suffering untold agony from thirst, persisted in dividing his scanty share of water with the one remaining plant. His herosim was rewarded, for the vessel reached its destination with the plant in a healthy condition. Being at once planted it took kindly to its new soil and flourished. It may be said that it is to the credit of this brave and zealous French naval officer that coffee is cultivated on the American continent, and the progeny of this single plant produces more coffee than is grown by all the other plants in the world.

In the garden of a monastery in Adjuda, a plant brought to Rio de Janeiro by a Belgian monk named Molke, thrived and prospered. After cultivating it thus for a time, he became convinced of its future importance and cleared a plantation for its future culture. The seeds of the coffee grown on Molke's plantation were freely distributed among the religious institutions and the laity, by the then Bishop of Rio de Janeiro, Joachim Bruno, to whom Brazil is indebted for many of its valuable trees and plants. From this small beginning has sprung the extensive cultivation of coffee lands in Brazil, hundreds of thousands of acres representing over $100,000,000 being invested in this industry alone.

Many efforts have been made to introduce the cultivation of coffee into the United States throughout the South. The climate, however, has proven in every instance to be of too cold a nature for its production.

A GUELPH WHOLESALE GROCERY FIRM.

IN the memory of many far younger than the oldest inhabitant the Royal City had considerable repute as a distributing centre, and it is gratifying to know that that reputation is, in some degree, restored. The firm of R. and J. H. Simpson, wholesale grocers, have steadily built up a satisfactory trade in their lines, good indication of which is to be seen in their fine new premises at the corner of Norfolk street and Nelson Crescent.

Entering from Norfolk street, the visitor finds on his left a commodious sample-room, while to his right is the handsomely fitted-up private offices of the firm. At the north corner of the building is the general office, conveniently equipped for the large amount of work that is transacted here.

The rest of the premises is devoted to the large stock carried by the firm. In the basement are two fine compartments, each 60 by 20 feet. Here are stored vinegar, syrup, figs and many other lines. The ground floor and that above are well filled with goods of staple lines, ready for shipment. The upstairs floor is devoted more particularly to light lines, and here are to be found rice, woodenware, matches, brooms, and brushes. Here also, the Ferndale tea, for which the firm holds the wholesale agency for Canada, is put up in the well-known packages, the tea being imported in 100 lb boxes. The top storey of all is as yet unoccupied, but, no doubt, it, too, ere long, will be filled to its utmost capacity.

Separate from the main warehouse is another building, which is at present being used for the storage of sugar and soda.

The building used by Burrows & Co., as a dye house will also be occupied. Part of this will be used as a stable and carriage house. In the spring it is the intention of the proprietors to extend this building to Cambridge street, thus acquiring greatly enlarged room for their sugar and smaller commodities.

The firm of R. and J. H. Simpson are steadily building up a fine trade and have extensive connection through Western Ontario, keeping three travellers on the road. It is very gratifying to know of the abundant success of this Guelph firm, and Guelphites generally will wish the genial gentlemen who compose it the best of success in their further efforts.—Evening Mercury, Guelph, Ont.

A PROPOSED NEW BANK.

AT the last session of the Dominion Parliament a charter was obtained for the establishment of a new bank in Canada, to be known as the Sovereign Bank. The scheme is backed up by a number of Canadian capitalists, who are supported by a number of prominent financial men of the United States, including J. P. Morgan & Co., besides a number of others closely connected with The Standard Trust Co., of New York. The authorized capital of this institution is placed at $2,000,000, of which $1,000,000 has already been subscribed. An issue of 20,000 shares, each of a par value of $100, is being floated on the market at a premium of 25 per cent., which will enable the bank to commence business with a reserve fund of $250,000. The headquarters of the bank will be in Toronto; the executive offices in Montreal.

Duncan M. Stewart has been appointed general manager, while the first president is H. S. Holt, President of The Montreal Light, Heat and Power Co. The following are the board of directors: A. A. Allan, Toronto; Archibald Campbell, ex-M.P., Toronto Junction; Randolph Macdonald, contractor, Toronto; Senator Peter McLaren, of Perth; Senator D. McMillan, of Alexandria; John Pugsley, of Pugsley, Dingman & Co., Toronto; Sir Melbourne Tait, acting Chief Justice of the Superior Court, Montreal; Henry R. Wilson, of Wilson & Stephens, bankers, New York City.

All these are well-known men, the general manager, D. M. Stewart, having had many years banking experience both in Canada and the United States. He was connected with the Bank of Commerce for a number of years, afterwards filling the post of inspector for the Royal Bank of Canada, in Montreal. Henry R. Wilson, the New York director, is a prominent banker of that great commercial centre. In addition to him the bank will have there an advisory committee composed of W. M. C. Lane, President of The Standard Trust Co., New York; and Pane D. Cravath, of Guthrie, Cravath & Henderson. This is following the custom of other leading Canadian banks, who all have agencies in New York, as they usually have to keep a portion of their funds invested there.

The foreign bankers and correspondents are: J. P. Morgan & Co., New York; The Standard Trust Co., New York; J. S. Morgan & Co., London, Eng.; and Morgan, Harjes & Co., Paris, France.

The branches of the Sovereign Bank in Toronto and Montreal will be opened immediately. The site of the Toronto offices and the date of opening, it is expected, will be announced in a few days.

POPULARITY is the proof of merit, and no brand has ever achieved popularity so quickly as

"Wheat Marrow"

"The Totally Different" Cereal Breakfast Food

Grocers who sell that new and "totally different" Cereal Breakfast Food, "Wheat Marrow," are making a fine thing out of it. It does not compete with other Cereal Foods, because it is in a class by itself —it is "totally different."

A most wholesome and nutritious food and made from the glutinous portion of the choicest Winter Wheat. Can be prepared for the table in more different ways and in shorter time than any other Cereal Food. Infants, invalids and dyspeptics thrive on it.

Use in place of cracker meal for frying oysters, fish, etc., and the best thing for thickening soups and tomatoes.

There is a fine profit in it for you.

JAM AND ITS HISTORY

FROM THE LONDON GLOBE.

A RECENT trial of some celebrity has not only procured to the world the benefit of learning a Lord Chief Justice's views on the true inwardness of marmalade, but has also had the effect of drawing public attention to two articles which play a large part in the daily life of most of us. How many households are there in the British Isles in which at least one of these comestibles does not figure twice a day on the domestic board? And yet how many of us could give off-hand the derivation of the words, jam and marmalade, or, save for a few cheap and pessimistic sneers concerning turnips, etc., and raisin-pips could define the things thereby signified, or supposed to be signified?

In the famous trial just alluded to, it will be remembered that the grand question of adulteration or no adulteration turned entirely on this very point—the proper definition of the word jam—marmalade being considered as a sub-species included under this general term. Though of it cannot boast of a lofty origin, or aristocratic traditions. In fact, we have been assured on competent authority that 60 or 70 years ago, the name, not the thing, was considered unsuitable for use in refined society. It was de rigueur to employ the synonym "sweetmeat," which is often to be found in this sense in such writers as Miss Edgeworth and Mrs. Sherwood, who flourished during the early decades of the last century. Yet, strange to say, the despised word appears in the first edition of Johnson's Dictionary, which came out in 1755. It is there described as "a conserve of fruits boiled with sugar and water." The laconic comment, marked by a not altogether characteristic modesty, follows, "I know not whence derived."

Professor Skeat derives it from the Scandinavian jam, to squeeze tight, being the same verb as cham or champ, to chew. He hazards the extremely unpleasant conjecture that jam is so named as being resembling what has been chewed, thereby recalling certain weird rumors as to the method by which the dried fig of commerce is packed for market. Marmalade, Dr. Johnson, confirmed in this point by Skeat, derives from marmelo, the Portuguese for quince, and explains it to mean "the pulp of quinces boiled into a consistence with sugar." It is certainly a far cry from the marmalade of those days to that preparation of Seville oranges which Americans prefer to call "bitter marmalade," thus emphasizing the fact, well nigh forgotten among us, that it is not the one and only marmalade. Some lingering consciousness of this can be traced, no doubt, even here in the existence of and in the tradition (it is little more) regarding that original preserve of quinces which has given its name to the whole marmalade family. In cookery books of 40 years back, we find a number of recipes for marmalades made from different fruits, and in an encyclopaedia bearing date 1819, marmalade is called a confection made of the juice or pulp of some fruit, as plums, apricots, oranges and ginger, or quinces, boiled with sugar to a consistence, while quince marmalade is said to be "the most frequent." Thus was it in the good old days of Protection, when the British householder had not yet cast in his lot with foreign as opposed to native products!

THE DEVELOPMENT OF JAM-MAKING

in all its branches is a highly interesting subject, but there is a considerable lack of evidence, especially regarding its early stages. Whether it was known in an elementary form to the ancient Greeks or Romans is a somewhat difficult question. Dried fruits, of course, were usual among both nations. When these were not merely preserved in their own saccharine juices, like the cakes of figs and clusters of raisins mentioned in the Old Testament, they were probably "confected" with honey, which then supplied the place of sugar. The art of "confectioning," which included that of "conserving," grew into high honor in the middle ages. Mr. Hazlitt, in his interesting work, "Old Cookery-Books," says that the love of confections was borrowed from the East by Italy, and thence spread to France and England, and that these sweetmeats were often of a very elaborate and costly nature. He is, however, confronted by the initial difficulty that "fruit preserves could scarcely have been accomplished without a large and constant supply of sugar. He tells us how in 1226 Henry III. asked the Mayor of Winchester to procure him three points of Alexandria sugar, "if so much could be got." Yet, by the end of the 13th century, he says, it could be bought even in remote country towns, though certainly at a prohibitive price; while in the "Form of Cery," an ancient culinary manual written between 1377-1399, sugar is spoken of as a fairly well-known article. The chief difficulty was the refining of it, nor was this thoroughly mastered in England till 1659. "Before this," says the encyclopaedia quoted above, "our ancestors used it rough as it came from the canes, but they most commonly used honey instead." The same authority states that "the ancients only confected with honey. At present (1819) sugar is more frequently used," implying that the use of honey in preserving was not yet extinct, but perhaps this evidence, as proceeding from a mere man, should be received with caution. The sugar of the 13th century came from Cyprus and Egypt; a larger supply was, of course, obtained after the exploitation of the West Indies.

EFFECT OF WIDER DIFFUSION OF SUGAR.

With the wider diffusion of sugar preserving naturally developed. Mr. Hazlitt tells of a recipe in a cookery-book of 1734, for making jam, "the real jam of these days, made to last, as we are told, the whole year." Dr. Johnson, in describing one of those model housewives who were his particular betesnoires, says that she was an adept in the best methods of conserving, reserving and preserving all kinds of fruit. (It is noticeable that the vulgar word jam, though allowed a place in his dictionary, is eschewed as unsuitable to the classic pages of the "Rambler.") Probably, preserves, according to the custom still prevailing in French boarding schools, were then considered as appropriate to dessert, and eaten with a spoon. When the present habit of spreading them on bread arose, it is not easy to determine. But Johnson, in his journey to the Hebrides, records his extreme approval of the Scotch breakfast, including "honey conserves and marmalades," instead of the plain bread and butter then the rule in England. This practice, now so familiar to us, seems to have been a long time in spreading from north to south Britain. Yet for many years jam and marmalade have been constant factors in the equipment of our tea as well as our breakfast tables. Indeed, since the rise of jam factories, still a comparative innovation 20 years ago, the world has almost forgotten that traditional view of preserves as a rare and delicate dainty, which lingers in remote districts, for example, among the Irish peasantry. Of few housewives, even those who continue to preserve at home, can it be said, as Johnson says of the good lady for whose pursuits he certainly ought to have felt more sympathy, that "it is the great business of her life to watch the skillet on the fire, to see it simmer with the due degree of heat, and to snatch it off at the moment of projection."

OLD COLONY GROCERS DINE.

THE Old Colony Grocers and Provision Dealers' Union held its annual meeting and banquet at the United States Hotel, Boston, on the afternoon and evening of January 15. It also, previous to its business meeting, gave a reception and lunch to George A. Bond, of Kansas City, Mo., who represents the Kansas City Grocers and Merchants' Association. The reception and banquet were largely attended, among those present being :

General Thomas R. Mathews, Colonel Robert Mitchell Floyd, President William Craig, of the Boston Fruit and Produce Exchange ; ex-President John T. Nickerson, of the Boston Wholesale Grocers' Association ; George H. Bond, president of the Massachusetts Grocers' Association ; A. A. Fales, president of the Boston Retail Grocers' Association ; William J. Wadleigh, president of the Boston Wholesale Grocers' Association ; S. B. Abbott, of Chicago, of the Chicago and Northwestern Railroad ; W. B. Seignious, representing the New York grocers and provision dealers ; Fred. Fowler, representing the Montreal, Canada, Board of Trade ; Arthur T. Ward, of Portland, Me., and Frederick J. Penshyn, of Philadelphia and Representative A. C. Dowse.

President A. F. Faunce extended the welcome of the union to the guests, and Colonel Robert Mitchell Floyd introduced them to Mr. Bond.

At the conclusion of the reception the union held a business meeting, at which officers were chosen as follows :

President, A. T. Faunce, of Abington ; first vice-president, E. W. Hunt, Weymouth ; second vice-president, H. W. Mansfield, South Braintree ; secretary, John A. Radcliffe, Rockland ; treasurer, E. W. Noyes, Whitman ; executive committee, John W. Nash, Quincy ; J. M. Arnold, Braintree ; F. W. Hayden, Randolph ; M. W. Lynch, East Weymouth ; delegates to the annual national convention of the Retail Grocers' Association at Milwaukee, A. T. Faunce, of Abington, and John W. Nash, of Quincy.

The banquet was held at 7.30 o'clock. At the head of the table sat president Faunce, and at his right was George A. Bond, of Kansas City, the guest of the evening. On the left of the president sat Colonel Robert Mitchell Floyd, representing the International Grocers' Association. Others at the table were : Wiliiam Craig, Henry Coolidge, Walter A. Penfield, F. Fowler, of Montreal ; H. H. Logan, Arthur T. Hull, of Portland, Me.; representative A. C. Dowse, Frederick Humphrey, John W. Nash, E. W. Noyes, the Rev. L. B. Hatch, C. L. Kern, A. A. Fales, Joseph Simpson, George H. Bond, W. L. Penn, William B. Seignious, John L. Radcliffe and Nahum Reed, of Whitman.

At the conclusion of the banquet, President Faunce welcomed the guests on behalf of the Old Colony Union, and introduced Colonel Robert Mitchell Floyd. The latter reviewed the organizatlon of the National and International Associations of Grocers, and said among other things :

"I believe in a national association, as it can be the helpful guiding head of the most important of all the recognized trades in the world, that of supplying food and sustenance directly to the people. The future and permanency of the national association depends upon the character of the officers who are elected to executive positions, and that none while in office shall hold any other executive position in any local or State grocers' association in the State wherein they reside ; that its membership consists of representatives from State associations only ; that two conventions be held during the year, first a general gathering of delegates during January, for the purpose of electing officers and transacting other business, second a meeting of the executive committee, including the executive officers, during July, to meet any and all contingencies that may possibly arise ; that the national association be legally incorporated ; that it shall take up and consider questions that affect the grocers as a whole, and not interfere in local or State matters ; that all its decisions and acts be made from a sense of justice and right, and so broad in its dealings that partizanship, bias or selfish interest never can be charged against it."

George A. Bond, of Kansas City, the guest of the evening, then spoke as follows:

"The retail merchants are now taxed beyond their capacity to pay, and it is not possible to offer much resistance without a thorough organization. Capital above, and labor below, are fully protected, but the retail merchant without organization cannot expect just taxation, nor can he expect assistance from large corporations and railroads. Advertising in a business is as necessary to figure on as your rent. It is a question that has never been understood only in a general way. My idea of advertising is to first get an article of real merit, then to conservatively estimate the sale and proportionate amount of profit for advertising it properly, then be conscientious in using up the amount to one's best judgment, with as little duplication as possible, and by keeping everlastingly at it. As the business grows, increase the advertising until success is obtained. The Kansas City Retail Merchants' Association has attracted the attention of our city press, the politiclans and the public. Public sentiment is coming over to us rapidly. The bankers, the leading clubs, the taxpayers' association and the large manufactuiers are pledging their cooperation. There is certainly a new era at hand. The 20th century stands for combination, concentration and consolidation ; the times change, and we must change with them ; we must adopt improved methods, this is the law of society, civilization demands it. Business common sense sees it coming.

"We want the parcels post bill killed. We want the blood poisoning affect of the trading stamp eliminated from our mercantile system. We want pure food guaranteed by law. We want good roads and highways ; we want good government. To obtain these things we must unite in common, energetic action."

CANADA, THE LAND OF ROSES.

ASK almost anyone you know where all the heaped-up masses of glorious roses in the florists' show-windows come from. An easy way to win a pair of gloves is to wager that he or she will answer Florida or California.

Roses associate themselves with tropic climes, and the person who makes the answer given above cannot be blamed for making it. But, as a matter of fact, the majority of the roses shown now, and especially the finer varieties, come from Canada, the "land of snow and ice."

It is only within a twelvemonth that this has been so, for even the florists themselves had no idea until then that hitherto unnoticed Canada could grow the finest roses in the world.

But one of the New York fraternity, wandering about on his vacation in 1900, stumbled upon a place in Upper Canada that made him gasp. He saw at Brampton, Ont., 10 acres of glass-covered plain, with a regiment of 150 men working about it.

He went to investigate, and found that an Englishman had been for 10 years growing a lot of superb roses there—roses appreciated by the sweldom of Montreal, Toronto and Quebec, who know from London and Paris what roses are.

His flowers grew in popularity year by year, and he increased his plant proportionately, but he had never dreamed of sending roses to the United States, and was dazed when the New York man made him an offer for his entire year's crop.

His business sense came to the rescue, and he secured a high figure, chuckling to think how the New York man would rave on finding out that Canada charges a 25 per cent. export duty on flowers.

But the New York man did not rave a bit. He paid the duty cheerfully, as did his rivals, who immediately began prospecting Canada for like treasure trove, and they have made even more than their usual large profit on the blooms that have come to New York so far.

In a business way, the Canadian rose is superior, in that it lasts so long. The average far-northern flower lasts a week, even in a hot drawing-room, while the blooms from local or southern greenhouses rarely keep their beauty for more than three days.

The roses take longer to grow in the far-northern climate, and the buds have necessarily more substance and take longer to develop. They are picked "close" there (that is, just on the verge of opening), and expressed here in long, flat, wooden trays. The buds lie on their pillow of leaves and the long stems are covered with crushed ice. The water dissolving from the ice moistens the stems sufficient to bring the flower here in just its perfect stage of opened beauty.

The demand for the hardy products of our Canuck neighbors has already grown so great that 100,000 roses were expressed to New York alone in the last two months.

The Canadian rose-growers produce the usual brands of favorites, Maids, Brides, Jacks, Libertys, Golden Gates, etc., but they pride themselves on the variety that only they can grow in perfection — the Sunrise.

This is a blossom almost as large as a jacqueminot, odorous in the extreme and tinted almost like an orchid, from pale yellow to delicate pink. Its tints have a metallic lustre, different from anything in the floral world, and its beauty has already set upon it the seal of fashionable demand.

The Canadians cannot now begin to supply the new demand from the United States, and every grower is putting up additions to his establishment. The average new house is 840 feet long, just the size that can be looked after by one man.

More than 100 houses of this size are being built now and they are full of the

It may interest the amateur grower to know that the Canadians keep their plants free from the insect pests simply by occasionally filling the houses with the fumes of strong nicotine extract, exhaled from a vaporizing lamp.—New York Herald.

CHAT WITH A MAN FROM BOSTON.

I HAD a few minutes' chat the other day, in Toronto, with Mr. J. A. McGuane, the manager of the Boston branch of The Salada Tea Co., just before he returned to the famous city of culture. It is about a year and a half since Mr. McGuane visited Toronto, and on that occasion he came to take away a life partner.

"Trade in Indian and Ceylon teas in Boston and the New England States," said Mr. McGuane, in reply to a question, "is making splendid headway. Speaking of our business, particularly, I may say that it is three years since I went to Boston to open up a branch of The Salada Tea Co. During that time so rapidly has our business in that city and the New England States developed that I believe that in another three years it will be even larger than the business that is now done by the head office in Toronto. Do you know that we are paying into the United States Treasury on an average of $2,000 per week in Customs duties. We sell to almost every grocery store in the New England States, and there is not a grocery store in Boston from S. S. Pearce's (the largest grocery store in America) to the very smallest that does not handle our goods. Furthermore, every first-class hotel in Boston has 'Salada' tea printed on its bill of fare." And then to prove what he said Mr. McGuane reached for a bundle of bills of fare which he had collected, and held them up for my inspection. Certainly "Salada" was there all right enough.

"What class of tea do the people over there drink?"

"Good tea. In Boston and in the New England States, except Vermont, the business is entirely in 60 and 70-cent tea. In Vermont, where the taste runs to Japan tea, green Ceylon, which goes to the consumer at 50c. per lb., is gradually making its way. We are meeting with wonderful success in Ceylon greens."

Just then Mr. P. C. Larkin walked into the room with a large book under his arm. As he laid it on the desk and opened it up, he remarked, as he glanced down the columns: "Our trade in black teas in the city of Boston last year (1901) increased over 48 per cent and in the New England States, omitting Boston, 380 per cent. Our trade in Ceylon green teas increased about 400 per cent. in the New England States, including Boston."

"Package tea," resumed Mr. McGuane, "is even more popular in the New England States than it is here. This is a solemn fact. Go into any grocery store there with a packet article that will give a good profit and it will be given a preference over bulk goods nearly every time."

Then we began philosophizing on the fact that the people of the United States were such relatively small tea drinkers compared with other countries. "Well, I'll tell you," remarked Mr. Larkin, when we had all expressed our opinions, "the people of the United States never had a chance to drink good tea."

"Why!" we all ejaculated.

"Because proper attention was never paid to it. They make magnificent coffee, but in tea they have been nowhere. In Canada the consumption of tea has increased about one pound per head of population within the last five years, the quantity now used annually being about 25,000,000 lb.

SUPPORTING THE I. B. & O. R. EXTENSION.

THE Lindsay Board of Trade, at a well-attended meeting on January 16, discussed a communication from L. B. Howland, general manager of the Irondale, Bancroft and Ottawa Railway.

This communication informed the board that the above mentioned railway company have finally succeeded in securing financial backing from a prominent trust company in New York, and now were ready to complete their line, which had already been built from Kinmount on the G. T. R. to a point near Bancroft, Ont., by extending it from the latter point to a place at or near Coldwell Station on the Canadian Atlantic Railway, a distance of 60 miles from the end of the completed line. To insure this extension a 60-mile grant is required from the Dominion and a 45-mile grant from the Ontario Government, the latter having already subsidized 15 miles. As some difficulty was expected in the attainment of this, the support by strong and influential resolutions of the Lindsay Board of Trade was asked.

Mr. Howland also appeared before that board and pointed out, by the aid of maps, that the new line would tap the famous corundum mining region, would lead to the development of the fine water-power on the Madawaska river, and extend through Lindsay. Trade, consequently, would be greatly attracted in that direction, and the assistance of the board would very much help in the attainment of that object.

After considerable discussion, a committee, consisting of President J. D. Flavelle, R. J. McLaughlin, C. D. Barr, Wm. Steers and Secretary Sootheran, was appointed to draft memorials to be presented to the Dominion and Ontario Governments asking that subsidies be granted for the proposed extension.

HAMILTON RETAIL GROCERS.

At the annual meeting of the Hamilton Retail Grocers' Association, with President A. G. Bain in the chair, the following officers were elected for 1902:

President—Joseph Kirkpatrick.
First Vice-President—J. Main.
Second Vice-President—J. H. Horning.
Treasurer—C. Bremner.
Executive Committee — Wm. Smye, George Powell, J. Forth, F. Harrington and A. G. Bain.
Auditors—C. H. Peebles and H. Ballentine.

W. R. Harvey, who has been secretary for a number of years, asked to be relieved from the duties of office, so the election of his successor was left over to a subsequent meeting.

The merchants of Elgin, Man., have agreed to close their respective places of business at 7 o'clock every evening of the week, excepting Saturday, until further notice.

PICKLEMEN FEAST.

ON January 10 a grand banquet in the Hotel Schenley culminated the annual convention of the representatives and delegates of The H. J. Heinz Company, at Pittsburg, Pa., which has lasted seven days. Over 350 invited guests and delegates from all parts of the North-American continent were present to partake of the delightful menu provided, listen to the soft strains of the orchestra, and admire the profuse and costly decorations of tiger-lilies croensesm, carnations, American Beauty roses and Japanese palms which were in abundances everywhere.

Among those present were Theodore C. Search, of Philadelphia, President of The National Association of Manufacturers; F. T. Roots, ex-State Senator of Indiana; Rev. Dr. Lloyd B. Wright, of New York; John L. Given, of New York; and Hon. Joseph Buffington, Judge of the United States District Court; Robert Pitcairn, T. M. Armstrong, A. P. Burchfield, J. S. Foster, W. D. Herbert, P. Keil, jr., Willis F. McCook, Wilson A. Shaw, Emil Winters, all of Pittsburg; and R. Muat, the head of this firm in Canada.

After prayer, offered up by the Rev. Dr. White, the task of disposing of the viands was begun and continued for upwards of three hours. A special feature was the serving of ice cream in the form of pickles, perfect in imitation, size and color.

R. G. Evans, a member of the firm, in a neat speech introduced Theodore C. Search, who responded to the toast: "Integrity in Commercial Life." He, after expressing his pleasure at being present, went on to say that he often wondered how it was that the United States people did so much work in so short a time. This he attributed to their superior intelligence. He was a firm believer in the doctrine of America for Americans. And it was by taking men from the ranks and advancing them to higher positions that had contributed much to the success of The H. J. Heinz Company. This, and much more, he said, dwelling greatly on the importance of honesty and integrity.

The toast, "Pittsburg Through Western Glasses," brought the Hon. F. T. Root to his feet, who rehearsed the progress of the firm, which, from a small beginning in 1869, now owned over 18,000 acres, employed 2,000 hands, and had giant factories adorning the Alleghanics.

R. Muat, of Toronto, in a pleasing speech, amongst other very interesting things said: "Five years ago we started in Canada with one representative, and to-day we have five, each one paying. This year, as near as I can ascertain, we have nearly trebled our business. When you take into consideration the high duty, which is over a third, and the freight, you, as an intelligent body of men, can see what that means."

H. J. Heinz concluded by making a short speech in which he wished all God-speed as they entered upon their work for the year of 1902.

The many friends of Mr. Alex. MacWillie, who was associated with MacWillie Bros., in their grocery business formerly conducted at the corner of Yonge and Richmond streets, Toronto, a few years ago, will be pleased to hear that he is the South-American representative of The H. J. Heinz Company.

CANADA'S DAIRY TRADE.

THE dairymen from all parts of Eastern Ontario recently attended a most successful convention at Whitby, Ont., which was presided over by D. Derbyshire, Esq., of Brockville, the president of the association.

In his opening address the president gave a summary of the dairy trade for the past year. There had been made in the country over 2,494,686 boxes of cheese, having a total value of over $17,500,000. There had been exported during the season of navigation from Montreal over 1,791,613 boxes, and since its close 102,439 boxes, and from Portland, 200,634 boxes, leaving on hand 400,000 boxes. Never in the history of butter making was there a finer quality made. The returns show 670,893 packages, valued at $8,000,000, made up as follows:—410,893 packages exported from Montreal; since the close of navigation, 35,000 packages; now on hand, 25,000 packages, and 200,000 packages consumed. Summing up, it appears that the cheese and butter came to $25,000,000, a gain of over 500,000 over 1900, and to this may well be added the hog products, amounting to $14,500,000, which makes $40,000,000 that dairymen have produced.

At the afternoon session of the first day Prof. Harcourt, of The Ontario Agricultural College, Guelph, Ont., gave details of experiments he and Prof. Dean had made to determine the best temperature for curing cheese. His conclusions were that the best results were obtained at a temperature of from 40 to 60 degrees, or higher.

In the evening Hon. John Dryden gave a discourse on education and the need of it on the farm and in the dairy. He mentioned that a training school for the preparation of teachers to impart knowledge of a practical nature, had been established at Guelph. The Hon. Sydney Fisher called attention to the decline in the exports of cheese during the past year and suggested to hold a high position cooperation in the cheese industry was necessary. His remedy was to group ten or more factories together and establish a first-class curing room at some central point. This could be done at a cost of about $10,000.

The subject of cheese-making in factories was taken up by Mr. Publow, of the Kingston Dairy School. He went into the cause of the bad cheese produced last season, noting to what the defects could be attributed. He suggested as a remedy that producers should make their cheese firm and have it well cured before sending it to the market.

Dr. Connell wanted to see greater cleanliness in factories and stables. Impure water, he said, was also a great hindrance to cheese and butter making.

The following day the election of officers was held at whirh Mr. D. Derbyshire and all of last year's officers were reelected.

Prof. Dean also read a paper on "Ensilage" as the most economical food for the dairy cow in summer as well as in winter.

Resolutions were also adopted calling on the Dominion Minister of Agriculture to try and get the British authorities to credit to their proper origin Canadian dairy products exported through United States ports.

OTTAWA RETAIL GROCERS.

ON January 15 the annual meeting of The Ottawa Retail Grocers' Association was held in their rooms on Nicholas street, when the reports were read and the officers elected for the coming year.

The association has now a membership of 44, and 14 new applications were considered. A committee, consisting of John Bambrick, Jas. F. Garrow, M. H. McVeitty, Chas. Prevost and H. C. Ellis will make arrangements for a progressive euchre party which they purpose holding the first week in February.

The election of officers resulted as follows: President, Charles Prevost; Vice-President, W. J. Eastcott; Treasurer, Wm. York, reelected; Secretary H. C. Ellis, reelected; Guard, M. H. McVeitty, reelected; Auditors, Messrs. H. W. Booth and William Nicholson; Executive Committee, Messrs. John Bambrick, W. Hand, Geo. J. Miller and James F. Garrow.

At the conclusion of the meeting the association waited on Secretary Ellis and presented him with a meerschaum pipe. W. J. Eastcott made the presentation, to which an appropriate reply was made.

The grocery stock of L. Spence, at Georgetown, Ont., has been purchased by Thompson & Adams, who will open up in a few days in the department of the "Cheap Cash" store there, after making large additions to it.

PRESIDENT SYKES.

MR. W. J. SYKES, the president of the Toronto Retail Grocers' Association, is a young Canadian of about 42 years of age. He has been conducting a grocery business at 346 College street for about 14 years, and has been identified with the Retail Grocers' Association ever since he has been in business. Born in Newmarket, Ont., of English extraction, he came to Toronto with his parents when quite a young lad. He was educated at the Jarvis Street Collegiate Institute, and, as his tastes turned towards agriculture, he underwent a course of training in scientific farming at the Ontario Agricultural College at Guelph, Ont. In due time he graduated from that institution an associate, and then for five years was engaged in the profession of farming in Ontario and five years in the Canadian Northwest Territories. Growing tired of this pursuit, he came to Toronto and started a grocery store on College street.

In religion, Mr. Sykes is an Anglican, and is a society man, being a member of a number of fraternal and beneficial institutions. He is Past Chief Rangerthe of Canadian Order of Foresters, Past Master Workman of the A O.U.W., a member of Occident Chapter of the Royal Arch Masons, of Georgina Masonic Lodge A.F. & A.M., and of the I.O F. Besides all these he is vice president of the North Toronto Liberal Association.

Mr. Sykes has a pleasing manner, his genial ways making for himself friends innumerable. His energy and tact in connection with the Grocers' Association has contributed much to the success of that body ; he is the life and soul of their baseball team, in which he is a player. The Toronto Retail Grocers' Association is indeed to be congratulated in securing as their president such a man as W. J. Sykes.

A TRAVELLER'S DEATH.

Mr. William A. Thorpe, a traveller for The Ross Tea Co., Toronto, died at his residence at 229 Carlton street, Toronto, on Saturday, January 18. Deceased was born in London, Eng., about 33 years ago, and came to Canada when he was about 23 years old, first finding employment with The "Salada" Tea Co., Toronto, with whom he remained for about a year, and then went to the United States. He came back to Canada some three years since, and obtained a situation with The Monsoon Tea Co., the manager of which, Mr. R. D. Ross, now of The Ross Tea Co., was a friend of his, and only left when the present Ross Tea Co. was formed, by whom he was employed as a travelling salesman. He was considered one of the most expert salesmen on the route. He was an Anglican in religion, and was married about seven years ago to a Miss Cameron, of Beaverton, Ont. (who is a relative of the well known Lindsay grocer, Arch. Campbell), by whom he is survived, with one child. He was buried in Beaverton on January 20.

MONTREAL GROCERS' MEETING.

THE monthly meeting of the Montrea Grocers' Association was held in its rooms in the Monument National on Thursday, January 17. A good many were in attendance. Ald. R. Turner took the chair.

After the ordinary business was concluded, Mr. Bigaouette made a motion that the Association's solicitor should be instructed to prepare an amendment to the Provincial liquor law. He thought that the existing law, which prohibited grocers who had licenses to sell liquor from retailing it, or, in other words, selling it by the glass, was an injustice. They could now only sell it in certain quantities, flasks, bottles, etc.

The motion carried, and, after the solicitor of the Association has drawn up the proposed amendment, a committee will be selected to present it to the authorities of the Province.

The question of holding the municipal elections this year on the first day of February was also brought up. Fehruary 1 happens on Saturday, which day the grocers of the city cannot afford to regard as a holiday, as it is the busiest day of the week. Those grocers who were licensed to sell liquors, which includes about ninety per cent. of them, would have to close up their stores from 9 o'clock in the morning till 5 in the afternoon.

It was suggested that the present law should be altered, and that it should read the first Monday, Tuesday or Wednesday of February, which was approved of by the members present.

Ald. Turner was asked to bring the question up in the meeting of the city council, and he will likely do so at the earliest opportunity.

GROCERY CLERKS' BALL.

The first annual ball of the Grocery Clerks' Association of Montreal was held on Wednesday, January 15, in the Conservatory Hall, St. Catherine street, and was an immense success. The members of the association turned out in full force with their fair companions, and the fun lasted till it was nearly time for breakfast.

GROCERS' EXECUTIVE MEET.

THE coming "At Home" of The Toronto Retail Grocers' Association on January 29 is the one absorbing topic amongst its members who are all working for its success. On Monday night, January 20, a meeting of the executive of the association was held in St. George's Hall to attend to that matter. David Bell was in the chair, and everything progressed harmoniously. Those present were Secretary Edward Hawes, President W. J. Sykes, R. Bailey Snow, R. Robertson, Thomas Clark, R. W. Davies, James Nolan and J. T. Schoales.

The matter of tickets and invitations first engaged their attention. There are being printed 500 invitations, 200 dance cards and programmes, and 850 tickets.

Twenty dances will appear on the programme, and on the suggestion of J. T. Schoales, it was decided to have a selection come in after every four or five dances. By that means the singing of Master Jack Challis will be heard to greater effect.

It was mainly owing to Bailey Snow that they decided to insert a notice in The Globe, World, Mail and Empire on the Monday before the event stating that a young singer, Master Jack Challis, who, at Buffalo, at the Pan-American, at St. Catharines, and other centres, had won golden opinions, would sing at the groeers' entertainment.

Complimentary tickets will be sent to his worship Mayor Howland, "The Canadian Grocer," and to Aldermen Spence, Urquhart, Foster, Bell, Woods, Crane, Loudon and Ward. The names of each will be written on the back of the ticket, as by that means they hope to insure a personal attendance.

The tables and chairs have already been secured by D. Bell, while Bailey Snow undertook to see that a piano will be in the right spot at the right time. He and B. Panter will look after a performer for the same.

The treasurer was given instructions to pay several accounts.

It was unanimously decided that a letter of condolence should be sent to J. W. Sanderson, tendering him the sympathy of the association in the recent loss of his child.

It was announced that at the next meeting of the association a lecture will be given by Thos. Cleghorn, of Cleghorn, Smith & Co., on the early-closing of the fruit market—a very important subject. Fruit Inspector Alex. McNeil also wants to give an address on the new Fruit Inspection Act.

After transacting some other business, the meeting adjourned.

A. Ames and W. W. Baker have purchased the Lennoxville Creamery, Sherbrooke, Que., and have placed it in charge of a first class butter maker.

TURNIPS AS JAM.

Special to The Mail and Empire.

It is probable that an enquiry may be made into the shipment of Canadian jams, which were certainly not what they should have been. One Canadian officer declares that Canadian jam which he opened at Johannesburg consisted of turnip pulp with a little fruit flavoring.

It need hardly be said that none of the jams of this factory were among the goods referred to in this Ottawa dispatch. The trade can always depend on our goods. Ask your grocer for quotations.

A PRAYER THE GOVERNMENT SHOULD ANSWER.

A DELEGATION from the Canadian Manufacturers' Association is in Ottawa this week interviewing the Government on a number of subjects. One is the occasional recalling of our trade commissioners in order that they might obtain a more thorough knowledge of trade conditions in Canada, and thus be in a better position to intelligently discharge their duties.

Mr. Larke, the commissioner in Australia, is cited as a case in point. He has been away from Canada seven or eight years, and, although he is a man exceedingly well qualified for the position he holds, he must naturally have become somewhat stale as to trade conditions in Canada.

Since Mr. Larke left this country to assume the duties of commissioner in Australia, Canada has developed industrially to an astonishing degree. In no similar period has it been so marked.

Seven years ago our import trade was $110,881,682; now it is $181,257,988; our exports $113,638,803; now $196,487,632, while the total foreign trade was $224,420,485 against $386,903,157 in 1901.

When Mr. Larke left this country the iron industry scarcely had a name. To-day Canada has a place among the nations of the world as an iron producer, the product of her furnaces now not only controlling the home market, but having become a factor in the British market as well.

In every phase of manufacturing, in every branch of agriculture, in mining, in financial institutions, there has been a development we believe far beyond the anticipations of the most sanguine of seven or eight years ago. In no branch of industry has the development probably been more marked than in the manufacturing arts. And in regard to no branch of industry is it more necessary that Mr. Larke and other trade commissioners should be well informed. It is to be hoped the Government will, therefore, answer the prayer which the Manufacturers' Association is presenting.

It is not the first time, however, that such a prayer has been presented. The matter has been brought to the attention of the Government more than once during the last year or two. It is to be hoped that there will now be no further delay, and that, as soon as the Parliament of the Australian Commonwealth has finally adopted the new tariff, Mr. Larke will be recalled to Canada for a few months in order that he may not only become acquainted with the trade conditions obtaining in Canada, but that he may be given an opportunity to acquaint exporters in this country with the conditions and possibilities in the antipodes more fully than he can through the medium of the reports which the Department of Trade and Commerce issues monthly.

TRADING STAMPS.

A SUBSCRIBER in St. Thomas, Ont., writes: "I do not notice that you congratulate your subscribers on the disappearance of the trading-stamp nuisance through the united efforts of the respectable portion of the business community."

THE CANADIAN GROCER always has been, and is still, opposed to trading stamps, and no journal has been more active than this in pointing out the unsoundness of the business principle upon which they were based. When the time expired during which trading stamps could be used in Ontario, owing to the Act passed at last year's session of the Legislature, this paper duly announced it. As the question as to the legality of the Act passed by the Ontario Legislature was before the courts, we considered that our duty for the time being ended in merely noting that the Act went into operation on January 1, and that the Trading Stamp Company, for the time being at least, had discontinued operations in Ontario.

NEGLIGENT IN THE ESSENTIALS.

A GREAT deal of thought is being given to Canada's military representation at the coronation in June next, but little or no thought is being given to the representation of Canada industrially.

It is quite proper that the military units of Canada should be properly represented. It would be a mistake if they were not. But it is equally a mistake to concentrate our efforts in bringing to the foreground that which represents the arts of war, and, at the same time, neglect that which represents the arts of peace.

Canada is at all times ready to defend her own shores and to render service to the Motherland when occasion demands. But we are not a warlike people. We are an industrial people, and, if an effort is to be concentrated on any one phase of Canadian activity, it should be on that which is most representative of our national life.

It is because in the past we have been negligent in this most essential particular that Canada has often been misrepresented in tableau in Great Britain as the land of frost and snow; for instance, by blocks of ice in a Lord Mayor's show. And even now, as we pointed out a few weeks ago, it is proposed to have Canada represented in the coming coronation proceedings by mountains with snow-covered tops.

At the coronation proceedings will be men and women from every clime under the sun. As an opportunity to represent to many millions of people the varied industrial resources of Canada, it will be great. Not probably for a generation shall we have its equal. And yet if we are active in anything, it is in the non-essentials, while in the essentials we are surprisingly passive.

It seems to us that this is a matter in which the Trade and Commerce Department might concern itself.

BUSINESS MEN IN PUBLIC LIFE.

ONE of the daily newspapers attributes the defeat of its candidate in one of the constituencies in the recent bye-elections to the apathy of those professing fealty to its particular political party. This may or may not have been the cause of defeat. As a rule party men are not apathetic. It is business men who, as a rule, are weak in this respect.

Although there has been a great improvement during the last few years in this respect, we are still far from the ideal. The signs, however, are by no means discouraging. Lord Rosebery, as our readers are aware, some months ago declared, in a speech now famous, in favor of a government of business men. Mr. Edmund Robertson, M.P., similarly expressed himself in an article which he recently contributed to The Nineteenth Century. It is true that in Canada no statesman of relative importance has come out unequivocally in favor of such a doctrine, but it is significant of the trend of public opinion that if a candidate for Parliamentary or municipal honors is a business man the newspapers supporting him do not miss the opportunity of emphasizing the fact. Even should he, while not a practical business man, have some connection with a commercial enterprise, his friends usually make all they can out of this for campaign purposes.

There is still to be found a daily newspaper here and there that is prone to decry the usefulness of the business man in public life, but, on the other hand, it is common to hear either the Dominion or one of the Provincial Governments spoken of as a Government of business men.

It is evident, therefore, that the principle is making headway, and the more business men recognize that it is the best policy the better will it be, not only for themselves, but for the country as well.

CUT FLOWERS IN GROCERY STORES.

IN another column we reprint from The New York Herald an article on Canadian cut roses in New York. The article is interesting and is worthy of perusal by our readers. The trade, according to The Herald, was initiated by mere chance. A New York man, while on a holiday tour, peeped into a nursery at Brampton, Ont., 22 miles west of Toronto. The roses he there saw astonished him. He concluded they were the finest he had ever seen, and before he departed he had made a contract to have the whole year's supply shipped to him in New York. What he did others have done with other florists in Canada, and it is said that during the last couple of months 100,000 roses were expressed to New York alone. In that city, as The Herald says, the majority of the roses shown, and especially the finer varieties, come from Canada.

In The Herald's article it is said that Canada imposes an export duty of 25 per cent. on flowers. This is an error. Canada does not impose an export duty on cut flowers or anything else. The United States imposes an import duty of 25 per cent. on flowers, and possibly this may have confused The Herald.

It appears to us that there is in this recently-developed trade in roses with the United States a hint to grocers and general merchants in Canada.

In how many grocery and general stores in Canada do we see roses or cut flowers of any description on sale? Very few, indeed.

Cut flowers, besides being a source of direct income to a grocer, would undoubtedly lend attraction to the store. And we believe it is only necessary for us to refer to the matter to induce live grocers to give some consideration to cut flowers as a feature of their business.

BOARD OF TRADE NOMINATIONS.

THE meeting of the Board of Trade of the city of Toronto to nominate officers to be elected at their annual meeting was distinguished by an event of unusual occurrence, the official farewell given to Edgar A. Wills, who for upwards of 20 years has been secretary of that institution, but is now leaving to fill a more lucrative and more important post at Windsor.

As soon as the regular business was over, Mr. A. E. Ames, the president and also president-elect, in a very fitting speech presented Mr. Wills with a beautifully illuminated address expressing their regret at his severing his connection with the board. Accompanying this was a purse containing a good round sum of money.

Speeches complimentary and expressing regret were made by a number of others which were fittingly replied to by Mr. Wills. The proceedings were closed by three ringing cheers and the singing of "For He's a Jolly Good Fellow."

The nomination of officers was then proceeded with as follows: Elected by acclamation—President, A. E. Ames; first vice-president, J. F. Ellis; second vice-president, J. D. Allan; treasurer, E. R. Wood.

Nominations for Council:—Messrs. J. W. Woods, H. N. Baird, T. G. Brough, R. J. Christie, Noel Marshall, Edward Gurney, W. A. Warren, Miles Vokes, W. J. Gage, A. E. Kemp, M.P., W. F. Cockshutt (Brantford), Peleg Howland, C. J. Marlatt (Oakville), J. L. Spink, C. W. I. Woodland, P. R. Miller.

Nominations for Board of Arbitration:—Messrs. Hugh Blain, Alex. Cavanagh, Col. Davidson, D. O. Ellis, M. C. Ellis, Thomas Flynn, James Goodall, J. C. McKeggie, W. D. Matthews, W. K. McNaught, D. M. Spink, W. Stark, S. R. Hart, W. E. Milner (Brampton), and George H. Baird.

Nominations for Representatives on the Exhibition Board—Messrs. Thos. H. Lee, R. W. Elliot, Thos. Harris, S. E. Briggs, W. P. Gundy, G. H. Gooderham, Geo. Edwards, R. Y. Ellis and John Carrick.

Nominations for Representatives on the Harbor Commission—Messrs. J. T. Mathews, Barlow Cumberland and Geo. A. Chapman.

Ald. McMurrich, C. B. Watts and Geo. Love are the scrutineers who will count the ballots at the annual meeting.

Chaput, Fils & Cie., Montreal, are unable to insert their advertisement in this issue as the complete lists of goods they intended offering have not yet come to hand. The announcement will appear in next week's issue.

TRADE IN COUNTRIES OTHER THAN OUR OWN.

SPOT TOMATOES STRONGER IN NEW YORK.

AN improved interest in spot tomatoes was noted to-day, and following business aggregated around 4,000 cases of 3-lb. standards on the $1.22½ basis, the feeling among the few holders was stronger. It is believed that a few small lots might still be picked up from second hands around this figure, but in general the views of sellers are higher. Stocks in first hands are exceptionally light, and no blocks are offered in any quarter. The impression is gaining ground that stocks in jobbers' hands are small, and a few in this market are looking around for bargains. The higher views of growers on the raw material for 1902 pack and the influence exerted by the combine talk have affected somewhat the offerings of futures, although in view of the uncertain position of packers there is no marked interest among jobbers in futures at the 80c. f.o.b. factory price for 3-lb. standards. Regarding the combine the sentiment among brokers is decidedly against its prospects of success, chiefly because of the wide extent of territory it is proposed to cover, and the small cost comparatively of erecting opposition plants.—N. Y. Journal of Commerce, January 20.

INQUIRY FOR CURRANTS IN NEW YORK.

A considerably stronger feeling was noted to-day in spot currants as a result of the improved jobbing interest reported of late in cleaned and inquiry wired here from interior jobbing quarters for round lots. Inquiry to-day aggregating around 1,000 barrels is reported, one prospective buyer offering to purchase to arrive ex-Manin. It could not be learned precisely the basis of values offered, but it is stated on good authority that the price offered was around the present spot quotations for fine Amalia grade. A cable from the primary market quoted the market there very firm on the basis of 16s. per cwt. for fine Amalia grade. Stocks in bond on January 1 were, according to the Customs House returns, 5,314,148 lb., compared with 5,505,233 lb. on January 1, 1901. The Manin brings a further supply of about 1,600 tons and is reported to be due around the last of the month. The Picqua, also due to arrive late in the month, brings about 500 tons. We hear of nothing offering to arrive, goods on these vessels having, it is stated, cost about the parity of the spot market.—N. Y. Journal of Commerce, January 18.

CHINA TEA MARKET.

Wisner & Co. in their circular dated Shanghai, December 21, say: "Black Teas—Only a few transactions have resulted since our last, at prices which mark a small advance. Settlements reported since the 23rd ult., amount to 4,096 half-chests. Stock is 1,996 nominal. Green Teas—A few further chops of local pack have been offered and found buyers at one or two taels per picul over rates ruling a month ago. Further supplies of country tea and local packs will be very small. Pingsueys—An active market during the interval enables us to report the sale of all clean, sweet teas remaining in stock when we last wrote. Tael prices showed some advance, but the sharp drop in exchange early in the interval and the reduction of freight rates to New York via Suez, fully equalized the advance. A few coarse-quality teas have been sold at full rates; present small stock consists of such description only. Further supplies are expected to be nominal and will probably be quite common in quality. Total exports of green teas will approximate closely the estimates given in our last circular:

TOMATO FUTURES DULL IN THE STATES.

Notwithstanding the strong position of spot tomatoes and the advancing tendency noted both here and in advices from the packing sections, there is a marked indifference shown in jobbing quarters to take hold of "futures" on the price basis fixed by several packing interests in the south and west. Packers' ideas on 1902 pack are around 80c. for 3-lb. Maryland pack and 82½ to 85c. f.o.b. Chicago for Indiana pack—the latter prices being named by several interests outside of The Indiana Packers' Association. This organization has not fixed a basis on futures yet, but it is expected to do so on January 21 next. Some business in southern 3s. has been done in a small way at the 80c. basis and a few trifling sales of Delaware pack on the 85c.-delivered basis, but jobbers, in view of the uncertainty as to pack, are not buying and are not willing to talk at anything like the present prices. The general idea in jobbing quarters is around 75c. for Maryland 3s. Some think 72½c. is high enough and on better grades a few are willing to pay up to 77½c. on 3-lb. standards. Discussing the situation to-day a prominent canned-goods buyer said:

"Despite the position of old-pack tomatoes, the feeling generally in jobbing quarters is adverse to the purchase of futures on the basis of packers' present ideas. The 80c. basis on 3-lb. standard Southern pack has attracted little interest. No doubt a few sales have been made, but no jobber would jump in and buy with the uncertainty as to production and packing conditions, at that figure. We, ourselves, have bought, but only sparingly. At 72½c. or even 75c. a great deal of business could have been done, and these figures seem to represent the ideas of buyers under the present uncertain conditions. There has been no general opening in prices named, as packers themselves admit that the relations existing between growers and packers with regard to the 1902 crop are by no means clearly defined. This season's high cost to the consumer has stimulated the views of farmers, and packers are having difficulty in securing contracts for the coming season. Growers want in some instances $8 per ton; last year the price was from $6 to $6.25 per ton. Negotiations now under way for the organization of the tomato combine have interfered to some extent with the naming of prices among the larger packers, many of whom are identified with the movement. Those not pledged to the movement are afraid to make prices until the combine is heard from.—N. Y. Journal of Commerce.

CALIFORNIAN CITRUS FRUIT SHIPMENTS.

The following summary of the orange crop is made by The Express, Los Angeles:

"Southern California will ship a total of 20,000 cars of citrus fruits during the present season. The new crop is expected to fall short more than 4,000 cars of the output last year. The estimated shipment of vegetables will aggregate 2,000 cars. The figures quoted were gathered by the Transcontinental Railroad Company, with headquarters in Los Angeles, and considered reliable.

"Frost has not damaged oranges up to this time, but the new crop of summer lemons will be short. Last season the total shipments aggregated 24,531 cars of citrus fruits. Oranges this year are smaller in size, a fact to which nearly all of the shortage is stated to be due. Shipments of the new crop to Saturday aggregated 3,233 cars, as against 3,299 cars for the same time last year. The new crop is of a superior quality, and the acreage this year is the largest in the history of the industry in this section. Present prices are considered fairly high, with indications for an excellent market."

M. Richardson & Co., general merchants, Dundalk, Ont., have sold out their business to W. J. McFarland, of Toronto, who, it is reported, has resold to another firm.

ONTARIO MARKETS.

Toronto, January 23, 1902.

GROCERIES.

THE feature of the wholesale grocery trade this week is the improved demand for sugar, and a firmer tone in regard to prices in sympathy with the outside markets. Trade, generally, is fair for this time of the year, and no important changes have taken place in prices, although an advance in sugar is looked for at any moment. The situation in canned goods is much the same as a week ago, although perhaps the demand for vegetables is a little better than it was. One-pound packages of both jam and marmalade are 20c. per dozen higher. In canned salmon the demand is only moderate. There is a fair demand for roasted coffees, but little is being done in the green description. In nuts there is naturally only a small sorting-up trade being done. Rice, tapioca and sago are meeting with a good demand. A good trade is to be noted in molasses and a fair trade in syrups. A fair business is being done by the wholesale trade in teas. In foreign dried fruits, currants, Sultana raisins and prunes are in fairly good demand.

CANNED GOODS.

The demand for canned vegetables during the past week has been rather better, particularly in tomatoes and peas, and, if anything, the tone of the market is rather stronger than it was a week ago. Canned corn is quiet. The ruling prices are 87½ to 90c. for tomatoes, 80 to 85c. for peas, and 80c. up for corn. In canned salmon there is only a fair demand, although it is up to the usual average for this time of the year. Ruling prices are: Fraser River sockeye, $1.42½ for five-case lots and over, and $1.45 for less quantities; northern sockeye, $1.25 to $1.30; cohoes, $1.05 to $1.15. In both jam and marmalade an advance of 20c. per doz. is noted in 1-lb. packages, and we now quote $1.20 per doz. instead of $1.

COFFEES.

Green Rio coffees are only in light demand, but in roasted coffees a fair business is reported. We quote: Green Rio, No. 7, 8c.; No. 6, 8¼c.; No. 5, 8½c.; No. 4, 9c.; No. 3, 10 to 12c.

CANDIED PEELS.

Trade, as is usual at this time of the year, is quiet. We quote as follows: Lemon, 10 to 12½c.; orange, 11 to 13c., and citron, 15 to 18c., according to brand and quality,

NUTS.

Only a small sorting up trade is being done. We quote: Grenobles, 10¾c. by the bale, up to 12c. for smaller quantities; Marbots, 9½ to 10½c., and filberts, 9½ to 10½c.

RICE AND TAPIOCA.

Business is good in rice, tapioca and sago, and prices rule as before. We quote: B rice, 3¼c.; Japan rice, 5½ to 6c.; tapioca, 4 to 4½c.; sago, 4½ to 5c.

See pages 35 and 36 for Toronto, Montreal, and St. John prices current.

SPICES.

There has been a fair demand for spices during the past week, and prices rule much the same as before.

SUGAR.

The most interesting feature in the grocery trade this week is sugar. Since our last the outside raw markets have shown an improved tone, and, in New York on Wednesday, there was an advance of ⅛c. per lb., and an advance in refined sugars is imminent at any moment. In Canada there has been a good demand during the past week, and business is much better than it has been for some months. No advance has taken place in prices, but should the unexpected advance take place in New York, the Canadian market is certain to follow. At present the basis of granulated is $3 90 f.o.b. Montreal for Redpath and St. Lawrence, and $3.85 for Acadia. In Toronto we still quote $4.08 and $4.03 respectively. The receipts of raw sugar in the United States last week were 25,279 tons and the meltings 23,000 tons, while the total stock in the four United States ports was 123,180 tons against 88,151 tons last year.

SYRUPS AND MOLASSES.

A good trade is being done in molasses, and a fair trade in syrups. The ruling price for New Orleans molasses is 25 to 30c. for medium grades and 45 to 50c. for open kettle. Syrups range from 30 to 32c. for medium and 35 to 37c. for bright.

TEAS.

The local wholesale houses are experiencing a fair demand for all descriptions of teas. Japan teas are firm and low grades are very high and hard to obtain. China green teas continue scarce and dear. Mail advices from London, England, under date of January 10, say that for Indian teas up to 8c. the demand was fairly good, the chief inquiry being for the lower grades, although competition is not so pronounced as during the previous week. Medium and better grade teas attracted rather less attention, and sold somewhat slowly. In Ceylon teas all descriptions sold fairly well, the strongest market being for teas up to about 7d. per lb. The quantity of tea exported from Ceylon from January 1 to the end of December was 107,500,000 lb. against 114,500,000 lb. in 1900.

FOREIGN DRIED FRUITS.

CURRANTS—There is a very fair demand for currants and prices are firm with an upward tendency. We quote: Filiatras, 6 to 6¼c.; Patras, 6¼ to 7c.; Vostizzas, 8 to 8½c.

VALENCIA RAISINS — These still rule quiet, with prices unchanged. The ruling quotation for selected raisins of standard brands is 6½c., and for fine off-stalk 5½c.

SULTANA RAISINS—A good trade with the confectionery manufacturers is still to be reported, and prices are firm, although 8½c. still represents the lowest quotation for the lower grades. Stocks of this kind are getting low. For the higher grades prices run up to 12c.

PRUNES—The demand for prunes is brisk and prices unchanged. We quote as follows: Californian prunes, 100-110's., 5c.; 90-100's, 5½ to 6¼c.; 80-90's., 6½ to 7c.; 70-80's, 6¾ to 7¼c.; 60-70's, 7½ to 8c.; 50-60's, 8 to 8½c.; 40-50's, 8¾ to 10c. French, 100's, 3½ to 4c.

FIGS—Although trade is small, it is fair for this time of the year. We quote: Mat figs, 3¼c.; naturals, 3¼ to 4½c., according to grade; tapnets, 3¼c., and elemes, 8½ to 18.

CALIFORNIAN EVAPORATED FRUITS—A fair business is being done, and prices remain much as before. We quote: Apricots, in 25-lb. boxes, 13 to 16c., according to quality, and peaches, 11 to 13c.

DATES—There is a fair demand, and prices are firm at the recent advance. We quote: Hallowees, 4½ to 4¾c. and Sairs, 4¼ to 4½c.

GREEN FRUITS.

The movement in green fruits is very quiet, the demand still continuing to drag. Messina lemons are 25c. a box higher, being less plentiful, while Malaga grapes are 50c. higher. There seems to be no demand for apples, the present high prices killing their sale. Cranberries still continue scarce with prices firm. We quote: Tangerine or kid glove oranges, $8.50 to $9 per strip; grape fruit, $4.50 to $6 per box; apples, $4 to $5 per bbl.; bananas, $1.50 to $2 for firsts, and 80c. to $1 for first eight hands; Florida oranges, $3.25 to $3.50 per box; Mexican oranges, $2.25 per box; Messina lemons, $2.50 to $3.00 per box; Californian oranges, $3.25 to $3.50 per box; Valencia oranges, $3.75 to $5.50 per case; Malaga grapes, $5.50 to $6.50; cranberries, fancy Jerseys, $9 to $10; pineapples, 25 to 35c. each by the case; cucumbers, Southern, $2.25 to $2.50 per doz.; Spanish onions, large cases, $3.50; small crates, $1.10.

VEGETABLES.

Potatoes are a little weaker, owing to larger arrivals, and the price is 5c. per bag lower, but the weather is unfavorable and probably no further weakening in price will take place. Turnips, parsnips and carrots are much in demand, while celery is brisk, but the most of the latter is of very poor quality. Green onions are now being offered at 10 to 15c. per doz., while rhubarb is now on sale at 15 to 20c. per bunch, or $1.50 per doz. There has been no change in the other prices. We are quoting: Green onions, 10 to 15c. per doz.; rhubarb, 15 to 20c. per bunch, $1.50 per doz.; carrots, parsnips and beets, 20c. per peck; turnips, 15c. per peck and 35c. per bag; lettuce, 30 to 40c. per doz.; radishes, 40 to 50c.; mint and parsley, 20 to 25c.; celery, 50 to 60c.; red cabbage, No. 1, 5 to 10c.; cabbage, 40 to 60c. per doz.; dry onions, $1 to $1.25 per bag; potatoes, 80 to 85c. per bag.

COUNTRY PRODUCE.

EGGS—The held eggs are finding a ready sale, with prices very firm. Strictly fresh laid eggs are very scarce, and those that are offered are worth 28 to 30c. per dozen. Limed eggs are 1c. higher. We quote: Fresh-gathered, 20 to 22c.; cold-stored, 18 to 20c., and limed 17 to 19c. per doz.

BEANS—There is a quiet trade in beans, with unchanged prices. We quote: Choice hand-picked, $1.70 to $1.85; prime, $1.50 to $1.60 per bush.

HONEY — There is a steady movement with prices quite firm. We quote: Clover, in 60-lb. tins, 9½ to 10c.; less quantities, 10 to 11c. per lb.; in combs, $2 to $3 per doz.

DRIED APPLES — Not much trade is being done in dried apples, but the price still continues steady. We quote: Evaporated apples, 9¾ to 10c. in carlots and 10¾c. in less quantities. Dried apples 5 to 6c. per lb.

POTATOES—The offerings this week in car lots have been more free and prices are weaker, the ruling figure now being 65c. per bag. with 70c. the top price. Jobbers sell them out at 75 to 80c.

BUTTER AND CHEESE.

BUTTER—The receipts are nominal, the quality averaging fair. The demand is steady, with prices firm. Medium grade tubs are bringing 15c. in some cases, which is an advance of 1c. over last week. We are quoting: Choice 1-lb. prints, 17 to 19c.; large rolls, 16 to 17c.; tubs, best quality, 15 to 16c.; tubs, medium grade, 13 to 15c. per lb. Creamery prints sell at 21 to 22c., and creamery solids, 20½ to 21c. per lb.

CHEESE—There is a very quiet demand, but the inquiries for export warrant dealers keeping the prices firm. We quote: Cheese, wholes, 10½ to 10¾c.; twins, 11c.

POULTRY.

DRESSED POULTRY—The receipts are very light, the weather being unfavorable. Prices still continue firm, the ruling prices for turkeys being 9 to 10c., although as high as 11c. is paid for extra good fowl. The other prices are unchanged. We quote: Chickens, 30 to 50c. per pair; ducks, 60 to 90c. per pair; geese, 8 to 9c. per lb.; turkeys, 8 to 11c.

LIVE POULTRY—Receipts still continue to fall off. The prices are unchanged. The Canadian Produce Company, 36 and 38 Esplanade east, Toronto, will pay until further notice for spring chickens, 6c. per lb. For ducklings, 5c. per lb. For hens (including last year's birds) 2½c. per lb. These prices are for live weight on arrival. Crates shipped free and express paid up to 50c. per 100 lb. of chickens.

FISH AND OYSTERS.

There are brisk sales in all lines of fish, the weather being very favorable for trade. The stocks on hand are being increased, and prices are firm. Frozen British Columbian salmon are offered at 9c. Haddock is more plentiful, and has been lowered 1c. We quote: Fresh and frozen fish—Codfish, 6 to 8c.; whitefish, 7 to 7½c.; herring; 4 to 5c.; trout, 7c.; halibut, 11 to 14c.; sea salmon, 9 to 10c.; haddock, 5c. per lb.; perch, 4c.; British Columbian salmon, fresh, 20c., frozen, 9c.; Labrador herrings, $3 to $3.25 per 100-lb. bbl. Smoked fish—Ciscoes, $1 to $1.25; finnan haddie, 6½ to 7c.; Digby herring, 60 to 75c. per bundle. Prepared fish — Dried cod, in 112 lb. bundles, $4.75 per cwt.; flitched cod, $5.50 to $6; boneless cod, in bricks, 4½ to 5½c. per lb.; steak cod, 6½c. per lb.; shredded cod (2 doz. in box), $1.80 per box; boneless fish, loose, in 25-lb. boxes, 4 to 4½c., and in 5-lb. boxes, 5c. per lb.; bloaters, per box of 50, $1 to $1.25; kippered herring, 50 in a box, $1 to $1.25 per box; smelts, per 15-lb. box, extras, 12c. per lb.; No. 1, 6½ to 7c. per lb. Oysters—Standards, $6.75 per large pail, $3.75 to $4 05 per small pail, or $1.50 to $1.75 per Imperial gallon; selects, $2 to $2.15 per Imperial gallon.

GRAIN, FLOUR AND BREAKFAST FOODS.

GRAIN—Manitoba hard is down 1c. per bushel, the price now being 88c. grinding in transit or 87c. Toronto and west. On the local market there have been very light arrivals, owing to the poor weather. White and red Ontario wheat is down 2c., and oats ½c. while peas have advanced 8 to 10c. per bush., but the bulk of the offerings in she latter are only fair. We quote as follows: White and red Ontario wheat, 70 to 80c.; goose, 67 to 67½c.; oats, new, 46 to 46½c.; rye, 58c.; barley, 54 to 63c.; peas, 85 to 90c.; buckwheat, 58c.

FLOUR—The demand still continues to improve, and a good trade is now being done. Prices still continue unchanged and firm. We quote as follows: Ontario patents, in bags, $3.70 to $3.80; Hungarian patents, $4.15; Manitoba bakers', $3.90; straight roller, $3.40 to $3 50 per bbl. in Toronto.

BREAKFAST FOODS—There is an active inquiry from all quarters for oatmeal and rolled oats, and prices are correspondingly firm. The other lines are selling well. We quote as follows: Oatmeal, standard and granulated, in carlots on track here, $5.55; standard rolled oats in carlots on track here, $5.20; in bbls., 15c. more; broken lots are 20c. per bbl. extra; rolled wheat, $2.50 in 100-lb. bbls.; cornmeal, $4 00; split peas, $4 50; pot barley, $4.50.

HIDES, SKINS AND WOOL.

Trade is steady with nominal prices. We quote what is paid by buyers on arrival:

HIDES—We quote: No. 1, green, 7½c.; No. 2 green, 6½c.; No. 1 green, steers, 8c.; No. 2 green, steers, 7c.; cured, 7¾ to 8¼c.

SKINS—We quote: No. 1 calfskins, 9c.;

WOOL—We quote: Fleece, 13c., and unwashed, 7 to 8c. per lb.

SEEDS.

The foreign demand still drags, but the offerings have been very light owing to the unfavorable weather. Prices are somewhat weaker, red clover and alsike being 25c. cheaper. We quote prices paid at outside points: Red clover, $4.75 to $5.15; alsike, $6.25 to $8.25, and timothy, $2.50 to $3 25 per bush.

MARKET NOTES.

Potatoes have come down 5c. per bag.

Limed eggs are 1 to 2c. per doz. higher.

Red clover and alsike have been lowered 25c. per bushel.

Marmalade and jam are 20c. per dozen lower in 1-lb. packages.

Malaga grapes are worth 50c. per bbl. more, and Messina lemons are 25c. per case more.

Manitoba hard wheat is down 1c. Ontario red and white 2c. and oats ½c. per bushel. Peas are very firm and have advanced 8 to 10c.

Western hogs have taken a drop of 40c. per 100 lb. Locally, the fall has not been so great, being 25c. Veal is ½c. higher, while lamb has jumped 1 to 1¼c. per lb. Live hogs have also been lowered 25c. per 100 lb.

In Lumsden Bros.' advertisement in last week's issue the words "Jersey Cream Yeast Factory, the Finest in America," should have come over the line "Our capacity will be 500 boxes per day—everything clean, sweet and wholesome." Will our readers kindly make a note of this?

DEATH OF AN OLD RESIDENT.

On Saturday morning, January 18, one of the landmarks of York County passed away in the person of Salem Eckardt in his 79th year. Deceased was born in Markham Township. His father, who came from Saxony in 1792 and settled in the Genesse Valley, was one of the first to take up land, and it was he who started the first grist mill in York County, and opened up Yonge street, then a wilderness.

Mr. Eckardt had followed the business of an auctioneer for over 55 years, and was a grand-uncle of H. P. Eckardt, wholesale grocer, Toronto, and of Albert Eckardt, of The Eckardt Casket Company, also of Toronto. One daughter survives him.

He was an adherent of the German Lutheran Church and was buried in the cemetery at Unionville on Tuesday last.

QUEBEC MARKETS.

Montreal, January 23, 1902.

GROCERIES.

BUSINESS, on the whole, this week is pretty satisfactory. Trade has recovered from the holiday season this year in shorter time than it has ever been known to before. One reason for this is doubtless the early coming of Lent, which has stimulated the demand for several lines which, ordinarily, would have moved much more slowly. This demand is principally on fish. It is expected this will be in exceptionally heavy demand this year. If the Lenten season were to come later on in the spring the low price of eggs, butter, etc., would tend to lessen the demand for fish, but this year it is unusually early and the better movement in fish has already begun. There is nothing particularly striking in this week's markets. A number of minor changes will be found in several lines. The most important is the advance in Canadian apples of 50c. to $1 per barrel; the advance in Fairbank's refined lard compound (Boar's Head) brand of 3c. per pail. A new price list on odd size baker's Cottolene, which went into effect on January 21, has been issued by The N. K. Fairbank Co. It quotes f.o.b. Quebec and Ontario points, 60-lb. tubs, 10¾c. and 20-lb. pails, 11c.

SUGAR.

Since the drop of last week there has been nothing further to report in the sugar market. There is a pretty good trade doing at the following prices: Granulated, $3.90; yellows, $3.15 to $3.80.

TEAS.

There is a more satisfactory trade doing than a week ago, although the demand is still somewhat light. Prices all round are firm, especially on China greens. In the latter, prices are very firm although there is no extra demand. One large importer has managed to secure an advance of ½c. on his sales, which, however, he may not be able to maintain.

SYRUPS.

There is a slightly better movement in syrups, which is likely due to the approach of Lent. We quote corn syrups as follows: 3½c. in bbls.; 3⅝c. in ½ bbls.; 3¾c. in ¼ bbls.; $1.60 in 38½-lb. and $1.20 in 25-lb. pails.

MOLASSES.

The demand for Barbados molasses has scarcely improved at all. In view of the situation in Barbados prices are becoming firmer, and were there an active market prices would be likely to take a rise. But, notwithstanding the low prices, there is very little buying. We quote: Barbados, in any quantity, 29c.; Antigua, in single puncheons, 24c.

CANNED GOODS.

Though on the whole business is quiet, there is a good demand for one or two lines. Salmon is among these, and the demand for tomatoes is also fair, though wholesalers have now raised their price to 90 to 95c., in accordance with the change recently made by the syndicate. Tomatoes at this price are quite firm. It is stated that corn and peas are also to be advanced in price. Some brands of corn sell as high as 85c., though ordinary stock remains at 80c. At present the demand for peas is only a light one, and the price stays at 95c. On salmon our quotations are: $1.00 to $1.05 for pink; $1.30 for spring; $1.32 for Rivers Inlet red sockeye; $1.45 for Fraser River red sockeye, and $1.42½ to $1.45 for Clover Leaf talls. Gallon apples sell for $2.60 to $2.70, and 3-lb. apples at $1.

RICE AND TAPIOCA.

There is a better demand starting up; the trade, however, is not very satisfactory. Our quotations in combine district are: B rice in bags, $3.10; in ½ bags, $3.15; in ¼ bags, $3.20; in pockets, $3.25. In 10-lb. lots an allowance of 10c. is made. CC rice, $3 in bags; $3.05 in ½ bags; $3.10 in ¼ bags; and $3.15 in pockets. In the open territory prices are about 10c. less. Patna rice is worth 4⅛c. per lb., and tapioca, 3¾ to 3⅞c.

SPICES.

There is not much of a demand at present, though on nearly all lines prices are firm. The recent advance in the primary markets of whole peppers has, so far, not affected prices here, but it has tended to make pepper still stronger. We quote: Nutmegs, 30 to 55c. per lb. as to size; penang mace, 45 to 50c. per lb.; as to quality; pimento, ground, 12½ to 15c.; cloves, 15 to 25c.; pepper, ground, black, 17 to 22c., according to grade; white, 25 to 27c.; ginger, whole, Cochin, 15 to 17c.; Japan, 13 to 14c.; Jamaica, 16 to 20c.; Afghan, 12 to 13c.; ground, Japan, 15c.; Cochin, 16 to 17c.; Jamaica, 20 to 22c., and Afghan, 13 to 14c.

FOREIGN DRIED FRUITS.

CURRANTS.—The demand continues rather light, but prices are quite firm. A recent advance in the foreign markets, though slight, and not having affected local quotations, shows the firmness of the market. We quote: Fine Filiatras, in ½ cases, 5⅝c.; cleaned, 6c.; 1-lb. cartons, 8c.; finest Vostizzas, 7¾ to 8c.

VALENCIA RAISINS.—The stock is pretty nearly exhausted and prices are firm, as follows: Finest off-stalk, 5⅝c.; selected, 6⅛c.; layers, 6⅞c.

CANDIED PEELS.—There is not a very active market just now as stocks on hand are rather light. Prices are: Orange peel, 11½c.; lemon peel, 10½c.; citron, 16½c.

MALAGA RAISINS.—There is only a moderate trade doing. Nothing new in prices is to be reported. We quote as follows: London layers, $1.50 to $1.60; "Connoisseur Clusters," $2.15 to $2.25; ½'s, 65 to 70c.; "Royal Buckingham Clusters," $3.30 to $3.35; ½'s, $1.05 to $1.10; "Excelsior Windsor Clusters," $4.50 to $4.60; ¼'s, $1.30 to $1.40.

DATES.—Stocks on spot are pretty well cleaned up. Hallowee dates are quoted at 4¼ to 4½c.

FIGS.—There are not many tapnet figs left. In the primary markets the crop is practically exhausted. In London recently 15s. c.i.f. were quoted. Prices, locally, are 97½c. to $1. There is a pretty fair demand for tapnet and layer figs both.

CALIFORNIAN RAISINS — Seeded raisins show slightly more strength. It is reported that the association in California are unwilling to sell under an advance of ¾c. per lb. So far as can be learned, no business has been done at that price, but an offer of ¼c. advance was made and refused, with the above intimation. Seeded still sell here for 9¼ to 9½c.

PRUNES.—There is a moderate demand at steady prices. We quote: Californians, 8½c. for 40-50's, 8c. for 50-60's, 7¾c. for 60-70's, 7½c. for 70-80's, 6¾c. for 80-90's, 6½c. for 90-100's.

NUTS.

There is a little doing. Prices are unchanged since our last quotations. We quote as follows: Walnuts, 9¾ to 11c.; Tarragona almonds, 12 to 13c.; shelled walnuts, 16½ to 17½c.; shelled almonds, 26 to 27c.; Jordan shelled almonds, 42c.; filberts, 8¾ to 9¼c.; pecans, 15 to 16c.

BUTTER AND CHEESE.

BUTTER.—The condition of the butter trade remains about the same. Fall creamery is in active demand and prices on it are somewhat firmer. The local trade is improved. Large rolls remain at 17½ to 18c. Creamery butter is worth 20½ to 21c.

CHEESE.—Since last week's advance there has been no quotable change. Prices on both colored and white are firm. Some dealers are getting as high as 52s. c.i.f. for colored, which is rather scarce. White is quoted at 49 to 50s.

COUNTRY PRODUCE.

EGGS.—Prices remain firm. Stocks in the local market are still light and there is practically no improvement in the number of offerings. We quote as follows: Pickled, 22c.; select cold storage, 25c.; new laid, 35c.

HONEY.—The market remains quiet with firm prices. Our quotations are: Buckwheat honey in combs, 10c.; white extracted, 9½ to 10c.; strained, 8 to 9c.

DRESSED POULTRY.—The demand shows a slight improvement. Supplies, however, continue light and prices are firm. We quote: Choice turkeys, 11 to 12c.; ordinary, 9c.; choice geese, 7½ to 8c.; choice chickens, 7½ to 8c.; fowl, 5½ to 6c.

ASHES.—A fair demand keeps up and prices are a shade firmer. We quote: First pots, $4.40 to $4.45 per 100 lb.; seconds, $4 to $4.05; pearls, $6.75 to $7.

GREEN FRUITS.

The trade is still quiet. A scarcity of Canadian apples has sent up the price per bbl 50c. Good apples are very scarce. About $5.50 is a fair quotation for fine stock, though on January 20 about 125 barrels of very fancy stuff sold for $6. The market in England is becoming stronger. Valencia oranges, 420's, have taken another drop, and are now quoted at $3.25, a decline of 25c. 714's are also 25c. lower. Pineapples have gone up 5 to 10c., quotations now being 20 to 30c. Cranberries are 50c. higher, and barrel onions, which are not now plentiful, are 25c. higher. We quote: Jamaica oranges, $4.50 to $4.75; Florida oranges, $3.75 to $4.00; Californian sunflowers, $3.50; Valencia oranges, 420's, $3.25; 420's, Jumbo, $4.75; 714's, $5.00; Messina lemons, $2.75 to $3.00 per box; Malaga lemons, ½ chests, $5.25 to $6; pineapples, 20 to 30c.; Canadian apples, $3.50 to $5.50 per bbl.; limes, $1.50 per box; cocoanuts, $3.50 per bag of 100; bananas, No. 1, $1.75 to $2.25, and eight hands, $1 to $1.50; Spanish onions, $1.10; sweet potatoes, Vineland's, $4.75 to $5.50; Malaga grapes, $5.50 to $7 per keg; cranberries, $7.75 to $10.50; barrel onions, $3.25; chestnuts, 10 to 11c.; Italian chestnuts, 12½c.; Florida tangerines, $3.25 per box; Californian tangerines, $3.00 per box; grape fruit, $4.25 per box; Florida tomatoes, $4.75 per crate.

of 3c. has taken place in corn. We quote as follows : Manitoba, No. 1 hard, 72c.; peas, 92 to 93c.; rye, 62½ to 63c. (for carlots in store) ; No. 2 barley, 57c.; oats, 47c.; buckwheat, 54 to 56½c. east ; corn, 72 to 73c.

OATMEAL.—The market is quiet. We quote $5.85 to $5.90 in small lots.

FEED.—A moderate business is doing. We quote : Ontario bran, $20 to $20.50 ; mouille, $28 to $30 ; Manitoba bran, $20 to $21 ; shorts, $22 to $23 per ton, including bags.

BALED HAY.—There is a fair demand. The supply is increasing. Our quotations are as follows : No. 1 timothy, $10.50 to $11 ; No. 2, $9.25 to $9.75 ; clover mixed, $8.25 to $8.50 ; clover, $7.50 to $8.25.

MONTREAL NOTES.

Barrel onions are 25c. higher.

Pineapples are 5 to 10c. higher.

Cranberries have advanced 50c. per barrel.

Valencia oranges, 420's, and 714's, are 25c. lower.

Jobbers are getting 90 to 95c. for canned tomatoes.

Fairbank's "Boar's Head" refined lard compound is 3c. higher.

Canadian apples, of good quality, sell for $5.50 per bbl. Some fancy stock sold this week for $6.

NEW BRUNSWICK MARKETS.

Office of "The Canadian Grocer."

St. John, N.B., January 18, 1902.

THIS week has not been a very busy one. Some have not yet taken stock. For the season, more goods have been received than usual. Canned salmon have been arriving much later than in previous years. There has also been some Californian fruit distributed. It has so far been a very mild winter. In looking over the past year it has been found that, as usual, the trade have got stuck with at least one new line. This time it was a new lampwick.

OILS.—In summing up oils, prices are unchanged. They are still very low and the market is easy. The volume of trade is falling off somewhat. In lubricating oils, except for spring shipment, little is being done. Prices are held quite firm. Paint oils are marked rather lower. The chief dealers have bought largely, but the retail trade is backward, holding off, expecting lower figures. But it is doubtful if any lower prices will be quoted. Turpentine is rather higher. Wax and candles are unchanged.

SALT.—In Liverpool coarse salt the quantity arriving is rather larger. Not only do the Liverpool steamers bring regular quantities, but the Manchester boats also bring large shipments. The market is well supplied. Prices are firmly held. In fine, the quantity moving is light. In rock salt a small quantity is always held in store. Our quotations are as follows : Liverpool coarse, 50 to 60c.; English factory-filled, 95c. to $1 ; Canadian fine, $1 per bag ; cheese and butter salt bulk, $2.40 per bbl.; 5-lb. bags, $2.85 to $2.90 per bbl.; 10-lb. bags, $2.70 to $2.75 per bbl.; 20-lb. wood boxes, 22c. each ; 10-lb. wood boxes, 14c. each ; cartons, $2 per case of 2 doz.; English bottled salt, $1.25 to $1.30 per doz.; mineral rock salt, 60c. per 100 lb. (Selected lumps.)

tinues to arrive. It is quite new to receive it at this time of the year. Prices have continued to go lower on the Coast, which is one reason. Three grades of goods are now offered, namely, sockeye, cohoes and pinks. The last-named are cheap and seem to give good satisfaction. In vegetables, close prices are quoted and fair stocks are held. Gallon apples are held firmer and higher prices will likely rule. Blueberries are scarce. A few years ago this was a particularly dull line, but the demand has grown larger and the supply smaller. This year there was not enough to go around. Meats are offered low. In domestic fish a fair business is being done. Kippered herring are a short stock.

GREEN FRUITS.—In apples, trade is quiet, prices being rather too high. Shipments have been larger from Halifax than any other Canadian or American port. In Nova Scotia there are still large quantities held. Oranges sell freely. Jamaica fruit largely takes the place of the higher-priced lines. The quality is very fine. Valencias are beginning to be nice stock. They sell freely, prices ruling very low. Sales of Californians and Floridas are not large. Lemons keep low, though tending firmer. Californians are little sold. Grapes are rather higher. In cranberries, high prices rule. The stock offered is good. A few bananas only are sold.

DRIED FRUITS.—Some Californian prunes were received during the week and prices continue low, though there is an improved sale. In Californian loose and seeded raisins prices continue to tend higher. There is a fair stock of seeded held. Some Malagas, loose, have been bought. Currants are free sellers. Import prices are rather higher. Cleaned goods have the demand. In dates the market is firm and there is a good general business doing. Figs have a slow sale. Evaporated apples are firmly held. There is but a light stock. Some dried are held. Some old evaporated are offered, but this is not a market for such goods. Onions are very high and there is but a limited quantity held here now.

DAIRY PRODUCE.—Eggs are held at quite high figures, and although there is but a light sale arrivals are also light. Butter is unchanged. There is a considerable quantity of medium grade held and further lots are offered. It moves slowly. For best stock high prices are readily obtained. Cheese are rather firmer.

SUGAR.—Sales are large. Prices are lower than they ever were before, best granulated selling below 4c. and a good grade well below that price. Yellows are correspondingly lower. The markets are easy. Arrivals of foreign are light.

MOLASSES.—There is but a fair movement, Porto Rico having the chief sale. Prices are still low. There is but little New Orleans handled this year, but of late some particularly nice-appearing stock is offered. Syrup is a small seller in this market.

FISH.—There have been fair receipts of fresh cod. There is a free sale. Haddock are quoted rather higher than cod, as they are so largely used for making finnan haddies. There are regular receipts of frozen herring, but not near enough to supply the demand. Dry cod are unchanged. There are fair receipts. Pollock are dull. In smoked herring prices are very low—never lower before at this season. There is a large stock held. In bloaters, quite a quantity are held at Grand Manan, hard cured, for the New York market. Pickled herring are rather easier. We quote as follows: Large and medium dry cod, $3.50 to $3.65; small, $2.50 to $2.60; haddies, 5½ to 6c.; smoked herring, 6 to 7c.; fresh cod and haddock, 2½ to 3c.; boneless fish, pollock, $1.50 to $1.60 per 100 lb.; pickled herring, $2 to $2.15 per ½ bbl.; Canso herring, $5.50 per bbl.; Shelburne, $2.50 per ½ bbl.; frozen herring, 75c. per 100; smelt, 5 to 6c. per lb.

FLOUR, FEED AND MEAL.—In flour, there have been quite free receipts and the market tends a little easier. Feed is still scarce and high. Beans are unchanged and there is but a light sale. Oats and oatmeal are somewhat easier. Cornmeal is still high. The sale has been lighter than usual, owing to the price. Barley is still high and very firm. Split peas sell slowly at the present price. Blue peas could be sold, but they are very scarce. Hay is firm at full figures. We quote as follows: Manitoba flour, $4.80 to $5.00; best Ontario flour, $3.90 to $4.20; medium, $3.70 to $3.90; oatmeal, $5.70 to $5.80; cornmeal, $3.30 to $3.35; middlings, $22 to $23; oats, 49 to 50c.; handpicked beans, $1.65 to $1.70; prime, $1.55 to $1.60; yellow eye beans, $2.80 to $3.00; split peas, $4.75 to $4.95; barley, $4.65 to $4.75; hay, $12 to $14.

NOTES.

Maple syrup, in bottles, is offered by Bowman & Angevine.

C. D. Trueman has received a shipment of choice New Orleans molasses.

Thomas Gorman and John Sealy are holding a large quantity of smoked herring. Prices are very low.

"Tea Rose Drips," a fancy, sugar syrup, has been received by Dearborn & Company.

Geo. E. Barbour paid a visit to Montreal last week. While one of our young merchants, Mr. Barbour is doing a large and a growing business.

T. & H. Estabrooks, packers of "Red Rose" tea, last year did the largest business in the history of the firm, and with an increased travelling staff it is expected that 1902 will see a still further enlargement of trade.

MANITOBA MARKETS.

Winnipeg, Man., January 18, 1902.

BUSINESS has been steady all week with a fair volume of trade. There have been a few changes in price, notably the decline in sugars due apparently to overstocks in the United States.

A number of lines here are suffering for the want of snow and it is now feared that snow, if it comes at all, will be too late for this trade to be recovered. The winter has been the mildest and with the least snowfall of any on record in Manitoba.

The wheat blockade continues and is increasing; in fact, everything is now practically tied up until navigation opens.

FLOUR.

The weakness of the wheat market and the dullness of outside flour markets has been felt here in slackness of demand. The week has been without features except in the shipment of one trainload for South Africa and another for Australia. Prices for the week have remained without change. CEREALS.

In sympathy with the weaker feeling in oats and the difficulty of export rolled oats show a decline of 10c. per sack all round. Quotations for the week are: Rolled oats, 80's, $2.30; 40's, $1.15; 20's, 57½c.; granulated and standard oatmeal, $1.85. Rolled wheat is unchanged and very dull at $2.30; cornmeal firm at $2; split peas, $2.75 to $2.80 with little or no demand.

RICE.

The situation shows no change from last week, as there have been few purchases. The stock of Japan in hand is light. Japan is now quoted at 5½c. and No. 1 Siam rice at 5½c.

COFFEE.

The market is firm and demand fair and prices unchanged. Quotations are 10 to 10½c. for Rios.

SUGAR.

Sugars have dropped 10c. per cwt. all round and present quotations are: Extra standard granulated, $4.85; bright yellows, $4.20; extra ground, $6.40; powdered, $6.65; lumps, $6.40 to $6.65.

DRIED AND EVAPORATED FRUITS.

In currants and raisins there is nothing new to report. Raisins seem to hold their own as to price and the demand is fair for the season, and practically the same may be said of currants. Prunes are offering very freely, more especially the large sizes; small sizes seem to be well bought up. No change in price is to be noted, though there may be an easing off in the price of the large sizes as the season advances. Evaporated apples are high and the quality is distinctly below the average of former years. The demand is not large at the present time owing to the small number of camps in the bush reducing consumption materially.

CANNED GOODS.

The advance in tomatoes seems now fairly well established and several houses state that their sales for the week have been large, as country merchants are afraid of further advances in the east which seem to be possible. No purchases of eastern stock are reported at the advanced figures. The majority of the wholesale houses here were carrying large stocks before the advance was declared. —Strawberries, heavy syrup, $3.25; preserved, $3.60; raspberries, preserved, $3.25; syrup, $2.95; blackberries, $2.75; gooseberries, 2's, $2.90; 2's, preserved, $3.60; peaches, yellow, 2-lb. tins, $4.00; 3-lb. tins, $6; pears, 2-lb. tins, $3.50; 3-lb. tins, $4.50; apples, 3-lb. tins, canned, $2.50; 3-lb. tins, preserved, $3.65; gallon, canned, $1.60. Californian canned fruit in 2½-lb. tins—Plums, green gage, $1.25; Lombard, $4.20; damson, $4.20; egg, $4.20; peaches, $4.75; pears, $4.95; apricots, $4.75; cherries, white, $5.50. Canned vegetables—Tomatoes, $2.30 to $2.35; corn, 2-lb. tins, $1.90; peas, 2-lb. tins, $1.95; beans, 2-lb. tins, $1.85; pumpkin, 2-lb. tins, $2.10.

SPICES.

Reports are coming forward of shortage in the pepper crop and an advance of 1 to 2 cents in the primary markets. No change of price is to be noted here as yet.

TEAS.

The difficulty of filling orders for cheaper teas at reasonable figures continues and the better grades are firm and slightly advanced.

GREEN FRUITS.

The market is an exceptionally dull one, more so, in fact, than is usual for the season. Reports from California indicate considerable damage from frost and the prospect of an advance in the orange market. This has made prices here rather more firm in tone although no advance at present is to be noted. Winter apples are very unsatisfactory; in fact, no one seems to want to mention them. Quotations for the week are: Apples, $5.50 to $6.50; American apples, $2 per box; navel oranges $3.75 to $4.75, according to number in case; lemons, $5.25; cranberries, $10 per bbl., and very scarce; bananas, $3.50 to $3.75 per bunch.

CURED MEATS

The market has shown some slight shading for the week but is not noticeably lower. Hams, 13⅜c.; shoulders, 10¼c.; picnic hams, 8½c.; breakfast bellies, 14c.; backs, 14c.; spiced rolls, 11¼c.; dry salt long clear, 11c.; dry salt backs, 11½c.

LARD.

There has been a considerable drop in 50-lb. pails and 3 and 5-lb. tins. The cause is said to be the weakening of the American market. Fifty-pound pails, $5.85, this is as against $6.70; 20-lb. pails remain without change from last week and are quoted at $2.40. American lard, $8.50; 3 and 5-lb. tins in 60-lb. crates, $7.55.

SAUSAGES.

Sausages continue in active demand and without change of price in any line. Bologna, 7c.; pork sausage, 8c.; liver sausage, 6c.; Vienna sausage, 10c.; blood sausage, 6c.; head cheese, 6c.

BUTTER.

The market shows some very slight improvement as to supply, a few lots of really choice dairy having been received and also some small quantity of creamery for the one or two factories still open, but compared with the demand the supply of first-class butter is hardly a drop in the bucket. This is forcibly illustrated by the run on the Manitoba Dairy School. Owing to the high price and scarcity of milk the school has found difficulty in getting the usual supply and up to the present has not made more than about 45 lb. per day. This has found a more than ready market at 30c. per lb., retail. Good, first-class dairy is selling at from 25 to 26c. Winnipeg. There is a very wide contrast between the small quantity of really fresh and sweet butter and other grades, and prices run down the scale from 18 to 10c. and even lower. In fact, there is considerable butter in Winnipeg to-day that you could not give away. It would seem as if really this winter would have taught the Manitoba farmers the lesson of making good butter, and a fair supply of it. The fact that the Produce Exchange is now in working order has put the jobbers in a position to show more discrimination in price, and those who made good butter have found it pays and those who have made bad butter have lost anywhere from 3 to 6c. per lb. on it. Jobbers think that another two weeks will see the worst of the situation over and that butter will then come in more freely—that is if the mild weather continues—if it should turn very cold, as is so often the case in February, it is hard to say when the supply of good butter will increase.

CHEESE

Stocks are running very low, but the demand is not so heavy at the present time and the price continues without change at 11c.

EGGS.

There has been a considerable improvement in the supply of Manitoba eggs during the week, about double the number of cases being received that came in last week. The quality also shows some improvement. Prices are very high and firm and the demand most exceptionally active. Quotations are: Fresh gathered Manitoba, 30c.; Ontario fresh gathered, 27c.; pickled eggs, 22c. New laid (guaranteed), 45c. per dozen, retailing at 50c.

VEGETABLES.

The market shows little or no movement for the week. Potatoes have been a heavy disappointment to dealers up to this date. Early in the fall everything pointed to a brisk demand and high prices, but the season has by no means carried out that promise. Potatoes continue at 30 to 35c. per bushel here; carrots and beets, 45c. per bushel; turnips, 20 to 25c. per bushel; cabbage very scarce at $30 to $35 per ton; celery, 60c. per dozen bunches—very scarce. Hot house lettuce plentiful at 40c. per dozen.

NOVA SCOTIA MARKETS.

Halifax, N.S., January 20, 1902.

IT is the general opinion of the wholesale and retail grocers that the trade, so far in January, has been a little better than usual, and that the prospects for a continuation of a good trade are excellent. This is in a measure accounted for by the fact that we are having extremely fine weather. The thermometer has had considerable work to do—now up, now down—but real winter has hardly set in. We have had considerable frost, but very little snow.

The assignment of Mr. Drake, referred to last week, is a comparatively small one. The liabilities amount to about $1,000. The assets are placed at—goods in stock, $1,000, on which a relative of Mr. Drake has a full claim; and $2,500 of book debts, which will go to the creditors. Over and above expenses these will net probably $1,000, which will give 25 cents on the dollar to creditors, a meeting of whom is advertised for to-day.

During the last week an important announcement has been made with reference to a change in business. A new firm, or company, has been formed, to be known as Levi Hart & Son, Limited. This company has bought out the long-established and well-known firm of Levi Hart & Son, and also a portion of the business of Cunningham & Curren, and will in future run the corn mills, flour

Take an example by these little chaps and figure out how much money you made last year. If you think there's any money in our various lines we will be pleased to forward prices and samples.

The troopship Manhattan, or transport No. 81, sailed for South Africa this week with one-half of the 2nd C.M.R., but contrary to the expectations of the provision dealers, nearly all the supplies for the 500 men and horses on their 30 days' voyage to the Cape, were brought over from England. This meant, of course, considerable loss in trade. There are rumors abroad why this has been the case, but as the subject borders on the political, we pass it over.

The troopship No. 66, or the Victorian, is now in port and will sail on Tuesday, the 28th inst., with the balance of the 2nd C.M.R. Her supplies, as for the Manhattan, have largely been brought from England. An incident may be mentioned in connection with her arrival here. A friend of mine went aboard and was invited by the steward to dinner. The bill of fare consisted, among other things, of—South-African goose, Irish Potatoes, Australian Mutton, English Plum Pudding, Nova-Scotian Cheese, and a top of real Scotch Whiskey. Truly, this might be called an "Imperial" dinner.

The apple shipments from Halifax up to the 14th of this month amounted to 173,393 barrels. The steamer Concordia, which sailed from here last week, took 3,774 barrels to Glasgow, and the Loyalist took about 1,500 barrels for London. The price here remains unchanged as previously quoted: $1.50 to $3 wholesale—$2 to $3.50 retail.

Wholesale sugar prices are quoted 10c. reduced per cwt. Granulated XXX, $3.95; Austrian, $3.85; bright yellow, $3.65; No. 1 yellow, $3.35. Butter remains scarce and the prices remain steady. Eggs are also scarce, and strictly fresh new laid are retailing at 35c. Case eggs, fresh, are quoted at 24c. wholesale. All kinds of flour, feed, meal, etc., are firm, and prices rule high, having been on a regular advance for the last two months. Bran, however, which had reached a record price of $25 to $26 has dropped $1. Oats, which a few weeks ago ruled very high, are now easier at 55 to 57c. wholesale. Hay continues firm and the price high—$12.50 to $13. The demand for the latter lines still continues good.

The fish market remains dull and there are no changes in price except in Bank cod, which has dropped 10c. The foreign markets are dull, especially the West-Indian, which is in a very poor condition. The Ocamo, which sailed last week, however, took forward the usual quantities. The lobster fisheries on the South Shore have proved totally unremunerative, and most of the fishermen have taken up their traps until later in the season. The last shipment of live lobsters from Halifax, by the Bonavista to Boston, only amounted to 10 crates.

GROCERY CLERKS' ELECT OFFICERS.

THE Toronto Grocery Clerks' Association held their annual election of officers at their meeting last week. The following were elected:

President—Wm. Bail.
Vice-President—Robert Helstrop.
Corresponding Secretary—Wm. Turpin.
Recording Secretary—M. H. Anderson.
Treasurer—R. H. Hudson.

The best of feeling was manifested throughout the meeting. The heartiest thanks of the Association were tendered to the retiring officers, all of whom have done their duty well. Two of the members have during the year gone into business for themselves, and the boys took this opportunity of wishing them every success.

Great interest has been awakened in the essay contest which will close March 15. It is to be open to all retail grocery clerks in the city and the subjects for the two essays are "Condiments" and "Store and Window-Dressing." Circulars are to be sent to all clerks, giving the rules, etc., of the contest, but should anyone be overlooked they should see or write to the corresponding secretary of the Association.

After finishing the business of the meeting, an hour was enjoyed with carpet-ball, archery, checkers and other games which have been provided for the members.

CATALOGUES, BOOKLETS, ETC.

A SEED CATALOGUE.

THE annual seed catalogue of William Rennie, Toronto, has been issued. This house, which has been established in Toronto for a number of years, carries a full stock of vegetable, flour and grain seeds, and also full lines of dairy supplies, agricultural implements, fertilizers, etc. The catalogue and price list, which is freely illustrated with handsome wood cuts and has a beautifully colored cover, will be sent to any address on application, if you mention THE CANADIAN GROCER.

A PAINT FIRM'S CATALOGUE.

A few moments spent in going over the latest 1902 catalogue of A. Ramsay & Son, paint makers, Montreal, is sufficient to reveal the full lines of white leads, colors ground in oil, dry colors, glass, artists' materials, glaziers' diamonds, etc., carried by this firm, who were first established in 1842. They also have always on hand a full stock of brushes and cutlery used in the painter's and glazier's business. Mention The Hardware and Metal when you write and you will be mailed a copy of this catalogue.

TRADE CHAT.

L. H. CORMIER, general storekeeper at St. Mary's, Kent county, N.B., is offering to compromise with his creditors at 40 cents. His liabilities are about $3,300.

Sinclair & Co., grocers, at Arnprior, Ont., have sold out to McCormick & Co.

A new addition has been made to the premises of the Fruit Package Co., at Ingersoll, Ont.

At Aylmer, Ont., the grocers will close their stores every evening at 6.30 o'clock, excepting Fridays and Saturdays.

At Ottawa the Retail Grocers' Association are taking steps to have the by-laws operating against the trading-stamp system enforced.

The merchants of Amherst are closing their places of business every week night except Saturday, during January and February, at 6 o'clock.

J. C. Haugh, fruit and fish merchant, Downie street, Stratford, Ont., has sold out his business to C. E. McIlhargey, and the stock has been removed to the latter's store, which will be under the management of J. C. Haugh.

CHINESE LIQUOR SEIZED.

As a result of a letter sent to the police department, last Saturday night, a raid was made on Wai Lung's grocery store at 69½ Queen street west, Toronto. Some 18 cases, containing about 200 bottles of liquor, were found. Some of the bottles were labelled "Guinness' Stout." The odor from the liquors differs so much from the ordinary that the police think they have been drugged. As soon as the find has been analyzed and the result known, action will be taken. The cases of the bottles were imported from China. There were in the place at the time of the raid about 20 Chinamen, who were apparently engaged only in conversation.

PERSONAL MENTION.

Mr. Geo. Mann, manager of The Montreal branch of The "Salada" Tea Co., spent a few days in Toronto last week.

GIRL GROCERY CLERKS.

THE question of female grocery clerks is attracting some attention in Great Britain. An English paper commenting upon the fact says: "New features in the grocery trade have become frequent during recent years, they constantly crop up in the most unexpected quarters, compelling admiration; yet, perhaps, on account of their frequency, they have not received the consideration that ought to have been bestowed upon them by practical men of business Novel ideas are, however, put into practice to relieve the stress of competition, and retailers, wishing to earn an honest living and save something, find they must devote their whole care and energy to their shop and customers.

"A fresh development, introduced by a large company, must now be noted by our retail friends. The company referred to has recently been considering the question of employing female labor, and as a result girls may be seen at the present time serving behind the counter at some of their branch establishments and doing the work of an ordinary assistant.

"In fact, girls are now to be found in many shops where the work is by no means light and the hours are generally long. They are willing to work for a lower wage than a male assistant is prepared to receive; and this recommendation is of considerable importance to a number of employers.

"With reference to the capacity of girls to perform the duties of an assistant in an ordinary grocer's shop, a trade expert, when questioned upon the point, stated that in his opinion this innovation is not likely to prove a great success. Girls, he said, are not altogether suited to the work; they find it too arduous, and the surroundings are not congenial or encouraging; and he further expressed the belief that this new feature in the trade has not come to stay. On a question of this sort it is rather early to form an opinion, as experience alone will show whether girls are likely to shine in this field of labor.

"They prefer to live out, at any rate; they do not look very happy behind a grocer's counter; neither do they put much heart into the work, or show special politeness during a press of custom; and what they think of the business we shall, perhaps, hear after they have settled down."

WHERE FURS ABOUND.

AT the ancient trading post of The Hudson's Bay Company at Edmonton you are away from the modernity of the new town, and are conscious of a certain atmosphere of historical romance. From the front of the massive whitewashed buildings, which have more than once been attacked by hostile foes, you have a fine prospect of river, and woodland, and fertile plains, stretching away to the blue distance. The Saskatchewan runs in a deep gorge below you and on the farther bank there is a diversion of outline and foliage that is very delightful. But I don't suppose the Hudson's Bay people used to think much of the beauty of the scenery in the midst of which their trading post happened to be situated. Their eyes were set on the "main chance" rather too intently for that. When the Indian came for a sack of flour they stood his gun upright and made him pile skins up to its muzzle from the ground as the price of it. Well, of course, it had taken considerable trouble to get the flour there and there was no competition.

The fur trade is still pursued at Edmonton, and on the main streets one sees more than one sign on which is painted on legible letters: "Furs bought here for cash." Bears are to be seen occasionally within a few miles of the town, and it was not long ago that a Galician farmer of the neighborhood, seeing a cub roaming near his shack, fetched his gun and fired at it. Thereupon its mother appeared and ran at him viciously, open-mouthed, and wishful to tear his vitals. The man, having powder, but no more slugs, felt that a Galician's house is his castle, and retiring therein, barricaded himself as well as he could. Till the day broke the she bear clawed all over the place in the endeavor to get at him. But the daylight enabled the farmer to find a couple more slugs, with which he despatched his assailant, afterwards coming up to Edmonton triumphantly with her skin and that of the cub for sale. Only the other day a bear was seen by a townsman prowling around his back yard, though it decamped with rapidity, warned, apparently, by the increasing daylight and by the noise the Edmontonian made in opening his back door, that the environment was unsuitable for an animal of its type. If you go 40 or 50 miles north or northwest you may "load for b'ar" with reasonable hope of bagging a specimen. Other fur-bearing animals are correspondingly numerous, and many a Mooswa and his companion roam in the vast wilderness.—Calgary Correspondence Mail and Empire.

Are you judging me by someone else?

Are you judging RED ROSE TEA by your experience with other brands?

Don't do either of these things.

Judge me for myself; on my own merits or demerits, and judge RED ROSE TEA for itself; for the worth that is in it when brewed in the pot.

Then, if it is no better than the others, leave it alone. Don't fill up your shelves with another brand whose chief merit is a fancy name or a fancy label; but, if Red Rose Tea in the pot is a better Tea than you have been able to find before—just such a Tea that you know will please your most particular customers—then you will judge me as I hope to be judged, viz.: A man who knows something about Tea. And we will likely do business together.

There are six grades of Red Rose Tea, all in either Black, Green, Mixed, and all Indo-Ceylon.

THE SHIPPING TRADE OF TORONTO.

ACCORDING to the annual report of Colin W. Postlethwaite, the Toronto harbormaster, recently issued, the total number of vessels entering Toronto Harbor last year was 3,490, and 3,469 for 1900, an increase of 21, and the tonnage for this year being 1,203,593, and the year before 1,109,784 tons, a difference in last year's favor of 98,809 tons.

The cash receipts, including a balance of $10,446.11 carried forward from 1900, were $21,982 77. The expenditures were $15,-863 26, leaving a cash balance of $6,119.51. This is a falling-off from the year before, which was mainly owing to the reduction in the tolls.

During the season, 155,009 tons of anthracite and 28,822 tons of bituminous coal were received, in all being 183,831 tons, which is an increase of 19,025 tons over 1900. According to the Government returns, there were 421,488 tons of anthracite and 364,580 tons of bituminous coal, or a total of 786,058 tons, imported into Toronto last year, as compared with 761,-610 tons for 1900, an increase of 24,458 tons.

This was a poor fruit season, for in 1901 there were only 402,448 packages imported, as compared with 519,540 in 1900, a decline of 117,092 packages.

The following is a comparative statement of the goods brought in for the years 1900 and 1901 :

U. S. TOMATO PACKERS COMBINE.

It is generally believed that The American Packing Co., which has been incorporated under the laws of Delaware with a capital of $150,000, will later increase the amount to $20,000,000. The combine will probably take in most of the leading vegetable and fruit concerns in the Eastern States. Among those prominently associated with the consolidated company are Smith, Rouse & Webster, Bel Air, Md.; Baker & Morgan, Aberdeen, Md., and Comly & Flannigan and Thos. Roberts & Co., Philadelphia.

It is reported that a majority of the tomato packers of Maryland, Delaware and New Jersey, who represent about 90 per cent. of the total production of canned tomatoes in the east, are represented in the consolidation, which will probably be in operation before the next packing season opens.

BOARD OF TRADE MATTERS IN OTTAWA.

THE annual meeting of the Ottawa Board of Trade was held on January 14 when the presidents' report was read, stating that there was a total membership of 235, and that the average attendance at the eight meetings of the board held throughout the year was 34.5.

The report of the cheese committee showed that the quality and quantity of cheese made last year was fairly satisfactory, although the latest number of factories listed might be better.

The tourist committee are doing good work, especially in the obtaining of more space in the advertising literature of the C.P.R. and Grand Trunk.

A resolution was submitted on behalf of the Trade Congress committee by Thos. McFarlane favorably commenting on the coming trade conference at London between Australian and Canadian representatives, and stating that the Ottawa board is in favor of a Customs union between the various colonies of the Empire, that a uniform duty over their ordinary tariffs might be levied on all importations from countries outside the union, the proceeds to be devoted to some common object, such as Imperial defence.

The following are the officers elected for 1902 :

President—John Coates, acclamation.

First vice-president—John R. Reid, acclamation.

Second vice-president—Geo. S. May.

Treasurer—C. A. Douglas.

Council—C. J. Booth, F. H. Chrysler, Geo. F. Henderson, A. W. Fleck, G. B. Greene, D. Murphy, John McKinley, G. L. Orme, R. W. Shannon, P. Whelan, J. W. Woods and George Burn.

Board of Arbitration — Thos. Askwith, N. A. Belcourt, J. R. Booth, W. Borthwick, Fred Cook, H. K. Egan, D. M. Finnie, J. M. Garland, R. M. McMorran, G. H. Perley, P. D. Ross, C. C. Ray.

BOUGHT A STEAMER.

A first-class side wheel steamer has been purchased by the Algoma Central Steamship Line, which will be placed with the opening of navigation on the route between Toledo and Sault Ste. Marie, via the Canadian shore and the north Manitoulin Channel, giving a service of two trips per week. The steamer has a cabin capacity of 500 passengers, will carry 500 tons of freight, and has a speed of 16½ miles an hour.

WILL SELL CANADIAN GOODS IN SCOTLAND.

MR. JOHN W. WALKER, who has during the last few years been with the Anglo-British Columbia Packing Co., Vancouver, B.C., has been spending a few days in Toronto. Mr. Walker is en route to Greenock, Scotland, where he will in future reside. Prior to his coming to Canada he was connected with the sugar refining industry in Greenock, and he is returning to his old place of residence with a view to pushing Canadian products there, and especially those appertaining to the grocery and provision trades. As his connection with the sugar industry brought him into touch with the wholesale grocery trade of the principal trade centres in Scotland, he should be eminently fitted for the work he now proposes to undertake.

Should any of our readers desire to be placed in communication with Mr. Walker, thd editor of THE CANADIAN GROCER will be glad to be the medium through which it can be done.

Mr. Walker, like all who have given the subject any attention, is a sound believer in the importance of quality as a factor in building up trade with Great Britain. "They want to be as careful as we are on the Coast in the salmon-canning industry," he said by way of illustration. "Every can is tested five or six times before it is shipped and by the aid of machinery every can is weighed before being sealed."

SCARCITY OF LABOR IN DEMERARA.

Planters have been complaining that their grinding is being prolonged owing to the scarcity of labor. Now, we hear a similar scarcity of labor has been experienced by persons interested in the gold indnstry, and that the Institute of Mines and Forests last month had considerable difficulty in meeting all the demands it had for laborers in the bush. Notwithstanding this insufficiency of labor supply, it is stated that men have been engaged here for employment in the Cayenne gold fields.—The Argosy, Georgetown, Demerara.

WIDE-AWAKE KENTVILLE.

The Kentville, N.S., Board of Trade have discussed and enthusiastically taken hold of a project to hold a fruit, vegetable, poultry and flower show at that place next fall, soon after the Provincial Fair. The success of this fair will largely depend upon the cooperation or management of the County Council and the Fruit Growers Association, and the assistance rendered by the Kings County Board of Trade and the county agricultural societies.

CURRENT MARKET QUOTATIONS

THE YEAR OF 1901 IN THE KLONDYKE.

By James Harold Thompson.

It is the history of a "Placer Mining Camp" that its life is short and eventful, while it lasts, and that it springs rocket-like into prominence and sinks gradually after having reached its years of plenty into a thing of the past.

The Klondyke has reached the crucial year of its existence. "For hope's sake" many have continued their confidence in the future of Dawson; the hub of which has been the richest placer-mining camp of this and possibly any other decade. The hope of those interested in commercial enterprises along the Canadian Yukon is the discovery of quartz in paying quantities.

As to the future of the mining district which in 1897 so startled the world and which since then has been such an abundant gold producer, known as the Klondyke mining district of the Northwest Territory of Canada, its future depends upon the discovery of well-placed quartz. It is acknowledged by the conservative knowing ones that the days of big profits in mining and commercial enterprises are past and are only present now in reminiscence. Overland and water navigation from the coast, with its difficulties, are now subject to modern systems of railroad and steamboat transportation, and when the Arctic winter has put its seal upon this northern country, the telegraph daily voices the events of the world in Dawson.

Heretofore merchants and tradesmen reaped big harvests, 100 per cent. being not an uncommon profit. Yet, it was seldom that capital profited its owner more than once a year because of navigation and railroad facilities. The short season beginning in June and ending in October, coupled with the lack of telegraphic communication, allowed time for but one shipment during the year. As a consequence the necessities of life were ofttimes cornered and prices in some instances reached prodigious heights. As competition became a factor many of the larger commercial enterprises drew together and amalgamated their interests. Two companies now control the market. In every department of mercantilism competition is keen, excepting in one which is a very essential one here. That one is the oil trade. The Standard Oil Company has complete control, and it retails a case of kerosene at $12.50 per case. The same case of oil sells for from $2 to $3 in the States. Merchandise is delivered in Dawson for from $70 to $90 per ton, just about half of what it was in 1899. And yet this price is deemed abnormal by the importers and a strenuous effort is being made to have it reduced to $50 per ton. The cost of mining has been cheapened by the use of steam and machinery, enlarging the yearly output of gold much over what it would have been under the crude methods of the "sour dough."

Government regulations have somewhat hampered the prospector, but withal he has been quite vigilant and has as yet discovered nothing since 1898 to perpetuate the reputation the Klondyke has had as a gold producer. Claims upon the banner creeks whose reputations as gold mines have equaled the wildest hopes of the pioneer-prospector are gradually being deserted and to-day half, I might say two-thirds, of Eldorado Creek has been worked out. The same is true of the other rich spots of a few years past. The life of the camp, from what is in sight, can be estimated at this date.

Prospecting for quartz is occupying the attention of many hard-rock miners along the Yukon and its tributaries. Upon the successful solution of the quartz question depends the present prominence of Dawson as a mining camp, and it is the one thing talked of and hoped for by the present inhabitants of this district. As yet nothing of any permanent value has been discovered, although many of the numberless claims staked and recorded are being worked quite thoroughly. Companies have been formed and their stock is on the market. Their hope is that the present prospects will lead to the substantial vein, or the "Mother Lode," as it is called. To facilitate the sorting, handling and assaying of these prospects two fine stamp mills have been erected in Dawson and are now crushing quartz rock.

Prior to the discovery of the Klondyke district it was found practical to thaw the frozen earth to almost any depth by the use of wood fires. Hence as the gold lies in or above the bed rock ground, when the bed rock was 100 feet below the surface it could be worked as well as that of 25 feet. The winter season being the longest and dryest season it became the busy season for the miner. But steam and machinery have reversed this order of things, and as in the days of the oldest "sour-dough" miner, summer, although the season is but six months long, has become the time of activity. The majority of heavy operators discontinue altogether the operation of their properties and spend the winter months at their ancestral homes, wherever they may be. As a consequence, the work accomplished this winter will not compare at all favorably with that done during the preceding winters. It also means a busy summer season for 1902. Considering those changes, the consensus of opinion of those conversant with this district is that the output of gold will decrease from this year.

Gold mining will continue here for some time. This is the history of similar camps. Capital will gradually withdraw, and individuals who will be content with wages for their labor will work the old workings. These are known as "snipers" in the vernacular of the miner.

The development of the unknown resources of the vast land known as Alaska and the Northwest Territory should be of constant interest to the farmer, merchant and manufacturer of the United States and Canada. Directly and indirectly it is of vital importance to these mother countries. The actual necessities of the man living next door, too, and within the Arctic circle will support a larger portion of labor than the similar necessities of any individual living in any other portion of the globe. Good, pure food; plenty of it; abundance of well-made clothing are absolute necessities for the health and preservation of life in this cold climate. If peopled as it should be, were the resources of this vast territory opened up in a limited degree, the commercial world of the North-American continent would have a market open to their products which would be the surest in times of depression, the most profitable and congenial for the absorption of the congested material.

Experiments have proved that the hardier cereals and vegetables can be successfully raised within the Arctic circle, but the season is so short that competition in this line will not become a factor for many years, The advent in the manufacturing line, factories, etc., is not to be considered. Beef has thus far come from the Western States and British Columbia, and the winters are found too severe for stock-raising.

Legislation can greatly facilitate the work of those who are destined to develop and pioneer the many industries which will some day flourish here. Scientific American.

A small fire was discovered in the building of The American Fluid Beef Co., 236 St. Paul street, Montreal, on January 14, but it was soon extinguished.

The annual meeting of The British Columbian Fruit Growers' Association was held at Vancouver, on January 22 and 23. A good programme was prepared.

Walter MacGregor, a merchant of Windsor, Ont., had three barrels of coal oil and one of crude oil in his store, which is more than a by-law of that town allowed, so he was convicted. Now he is appealing against this conviction, contending that if there is a section of the Municipal Act which authorizes such a by-law, it is beyond the Legislature's power to enact it. His case will come before the Divisional Court, Toronto.

THE PROVISION TRADE.

The Markets—Canadian Provisions in England—Miscellaneous Notes.

CANADIAN PROVISIONS IN ENGLAND.

THE London, England, correspondent of The Toronto Mail and Empire sends the following: "The growth of the export of Canadian bacon and ham to the English market is the subject of remark in The Mark Lane Express, which points out the great field for expansion that is still open. We imported last year some 50,000,000 lb. of bacon and 16,000,000 lb. of ham, but our imports altogether were 650,000,000 lb. of bacon and 221,000,000 lb. of ham, so that Canada may be encouraged to push this trade for all it is worth. But if Canadian bacon is to compete here with American and Danish, it must be of the best breed of Yorkshire and other English pigs; then, as to the feeding, The Mark Lane Express says the Canadian firm, dairy-fed and pea or barley-finished commodity has already struck the very critical British palate. They will choose a toothsome bacon raised in Ontario or Manitoba in preference to the oily maize and factory-fed American swine. The British consumer wants a lean or streaky bacon and pays for it.

"The Canadian poultry trade with England is also encouraging. Just before Christmas about 5,000 packages of turkeys were landed at Liverpool, and in London and elsewhere were much appreciated, and realized within a trifle of the price of best English birds. For the sake of this trade it should be realized by shippers that in order to get good paying prices they should have sales made to customers in advance, instead of consigning to an auctioneer or commission salesman, who forces a sale and, of course, charges profits and expenses."

CANADA THE GREAT.

Canada's output of high-class pork, butter and cheese last year is valued by The Toronto Weekly Sun at $40,000,000.

The gold output of the Transvaal for the last good year before the war broke out was valued at $57,000,000.

Thus the cows and pigs of Canada have a producing power worth within $17,000,000 of as much money every year as the gold mines of the Transvaal. The gold output of the Transvaal will, of course, increase. So will the pork, butter and cheese output of Canada, a country which, thanks more to the industry of her people than the wisdom of her politicians, promises to become the richest land on earth.—Toronto Telegram.

CANADA'S CATTLE TRADE.

Mr. Hodson, Dominion Live Stock Commissioner, reports that during the month of December and the first eight days of January 46 cars of grade and pure bred cattle were shipped from Eastern Canada to British Columbia. These cars contained 2,223 head and cost in the east something over $30,000. Besides these a considerable number has recently been sent to the Northwest Territories, and orders are now in hand for additioual shipments to be made to the last-mentioned territory.

THE PROVISION MARKETS.

TORONTO.

There have been very large offerings in carlots of western and northern hogs, which have resulted in their taking a tumble of 40c., the price now ranging from $7.50 to $7.75 per 100 lb. The drop is partly owing to the fall of 25c. per 100 in live hogs. Locally the receipts of dressed hogs have very much increased and prices are 25c. per 100 lb. lower. The only complaint now is that there are too many fat hogs. Veal, which is becoming scarcer, is 1½c. higher. Lamb has also gone up from 1 to 1¼c. per lb. We now quote as follows: Dressed hogs, $8.00 to $8.25; beef carcasses, $5.50 to $6.50 per 100 lb.; hind quarters, $6.50 to $7.50 per 100 lb.; front quarters, $4.75 to $5.50 per 100 lb. Veal, 7 to 7½c. per lb.; lambs, 7 to 7¾c. Live hogs: Selects, $6.37½, and lights $6.12½ per 100 lb.; choice export cattle bring $5 to $5.40 per 100 lb.; lights sell at $4 to $4.50.

Canadian mess pork is very firm, with prices 50c. to $1 higher. The prices of short cut also are very firm with an upward tendency. The other prices continue very steady, with a good demand both locally and for export. We quote as follows: Long clear bacon, 10½ to 11c.; smoked breakfast bacon, 14 to 15c.; rolls, 11½c.; medium hams, 13½c.; large hams, 12½ to 13c.; shoulder hams, 11c., and backs, 13½ to 14c.; Canadian heavy mess pork, $20 to $21; short cut, $21.00 to $22; lard, in tierces, 11¼c. per lb.; tubs, 11½c., and pails, 11¾c.

MONTREAL.

The demand, a good one, keeps up. The only changes in prices this week occur in refined lard compound (Fairbank's), which, on January 21, were advanced 3c. all around. At this price, lard is firm. Other provisions are being frequently inquired for, but prices are steady. We quote as follows: Heavy Canadian short cut mess pork, $22; Chicago clear pork, $23.25 for heavy and $22.75 for medium; selected heavy short cut mess pork, boneless, $22.00 to $22.50; hams, 13c.; bacon, 15c.; lard, pure Canadian, $2.35 to $2.40 per pail; refined lard compound (Fairbank's); $2.05 for 1 to 24 pails; $2.03 for 25 to 49 pails; $2.02 for 50 pails and over. Snow White and Globe compound, $1.72½ per pail; Cottolene, 10⅞c. for 20-lb. pails, and 10⅝c. for 60-lb. tubs, for Quebec and Ontario.

ST. JOHN, N. B.

In pork and beef full prices rule, and they are continually tending higher. There is but a limited business. In pure lard there are quite large receipts in spite of the high price. Compound also sells freely.

BRITISH TEA TRADE FOR 1901.

IN their annual review of the tea trade of Great Britain for 1901, Harrisons & Crosfields say :

"Reviewing the year just closed, the most noticeable feature to record in regard to the tea trade generally, is the restored feeling of hopefulness consequent upon the readjustment of the balance between demand and supply. In 1900 there was a surplus of 10½ million lb., which coming on the top of 3¾ millions surplus in 1899 depressed the market and caused the tea-producing industry to become unprofitable. Prices fell to an abnormally low point until March last, when it became known that some restriction of production was in contemplation by the planters coupled with a general endeavor to effect improvement in the quality. A more confident feeling than showed itself in the market, which has since steadily strengthened, the most marked rise being in the quotation for low-grade teas, which are now 1½d. higher than they were a year ago. The reduction in the total quantities produced this season both in Indian and Ceylon has been almost entirely in the lower grades of tea, whilst the supply of medium grades in all growths has been very abundant, so that while there has been an important advance throughout the year in common kinds, medium descriptions have been in large supply and consequently have sold at rates showing excellent value to buyers. The London figures now published cover the seven most important months of this season, June to December, and in those months there was a decrease of 10 million lb. in the imports, but owing to the fact that the imports for the first five months of the year were extremely heavy, the year's total is only two million lb. less than in 1900. The deliveries from bond were also very heavy in the earlier months in view of a possible increase in the duty, and for the whole year there is an increase of nine million lb. For this purpose of comparison, however, the Board of Trade returns are subjoined, giving the exact pounds weight as ascertained by the Customs' authorities at all the ports of the United Kingdom. These may be regarded as the most reliable data, and they conclusively show that the home consumption is making steady progress notwithstanding the increase in the duty; and also that British-grown tea is steadily displacing China, both in the home trade and in the exports :—

A GOOD MARGIN OF PROFIT FOR THE RETAILERS.

INTERIOR OF A WINNIPEG STORE.

BY THOMAS OSBORNE.

I TAKE great pleasure in sending you the notes of a visit I paid to the grocery store of W. R. Johnston, Winnipeg, and per same mail I also send you photos of the interior, which, I have no doubt, if you publish, will greatly interest the readers of your paper. With regard to the manner of dressing the store, and artisticness of same, it reflects great credit not only on the proprietor but also on Winnipeg. On entering the store, one is at once struck with the treatment of the main wall to the right. Here shelving has been done away with and the wall done in fresco work (sepia tones), which has a very pleasing effect (see photo. of main wall and the proprietor) and helps to lend variety to the surroundings. At the rear end of the store and right above the doorway is a striking picture of Manitoba in the early days, namely, a buffalo hunt, harmonizing in color with the rest of the decorations. On the left side of the store, which is shelved, the treatment is somewhat different. The space between the shelving and ceiling being pannelled off on the wall and the spaces filled in with emblematic designs representing England, Ireland, Scotland, Canada, etc.

Interior of a Winnipeg Store—The Main Wall

On the left side of the store, and in the space between the front window and counter, fixed against the wall, is a handsome mirrored stand for the display of candies, etc. Above this and on the wall, painted in the same style as the rest, is a figure of "Justice," the surroundings of which are blended to fit in with the stand.

I may mention that the whole of the work has been designed and executed by the head clerk, James H. Smith, a young Scotchman, and reflects great credit on his ability. He is not only an artist, but an amateur photographer as well, as the accompanying photos were taken by him.

On turning to leave the store, you cannot fail to observe the rustic fountain, which plays about 3 ft. high, and keeps the vegetables surrounding it in a fresh condition. In the photo it is shown dressed with apples, etc., during the winter months. Altogether it is one of the neatest stores I have met with in the West.

Mr. Johnston also informs me that he has been a subscriber to your paper for about 15 years, and takes great pleasure in perusing it.

THE ONLY BRAND OF LIVE STOCK.

Yesterday we received from the Department of Agriculture at Ottawa a courteous note informing us that one Hodson would forward to this office each week carefully prepared articles on the live-stock question.

Unless these essays deal with the science of the diamond hitch or give hints on how to rough-lock a rawhide the agricultural gent is slightly out of his latitude. The only brand of live-stock literature circulating in the Slocan is the inscription of Pat Burns' meat bills and the directions that go with cans of St. Charles' condensed.—Sandon Paystreak, January 11.

Thomas Foster dropped dead with heart failure at Brampton, Ont., recently. Deceased was head shipper for W. E. Milner & Co., grain merchants.

The Blacks now used everywhere in Canada.

The Greens are displacing Japans.

Grocers should think of this before ordering stocks for coming season.

NOVA SCOTIAN APPLES.

NO product of Nova Scotia, not even our valuable iron, coal and gold products, have more effect on the prosperity of the country than our apples. The reason of this is self evident. A great yield of gold, iron and coal, though it enhances the revenue of the country, only distributes its benefits locally, the greater profit falling into the pockets of the company controlling such industry.

No man, or no company, controls the apple product or the raising thereof. There is hardly a county in the Province which does not now raise enough apples for its own local supply and also has some for export. A few years ago the famed Annapolis Valley was looked upon as the only place which could grow apples successfully, but later years have shown that many other districts can rival, and in some instances even excel, the famed Valley. A few more years will make this fact more apparent. As we have said, no company does or can control this product ; every man who has the necessary ground can be a producer, and he has fully as much chance to make his dollar if he only plants 100 trees as the man who cultivates 10,000. This is a case where the big concern cannot kill off the smaller in the market.

The apple crop this year has been a good average one in Nova Scotia, and prices have ruled extremely high. To-day, if one wants to buy a good No. 1 Bishop Pippin, Baldwin, King of Thompkins, or Northern Spy, he has to pay at least $3.50 to $4.00, while in most instances he does not get a No. 1. The fact is, as far as we have noted from experience this season, the speculators in the Valley bought up all the best apples, and those coming into the city markets are only a second grade. Very few apples have been sold this season at auction compared with other years. This is accounted for by the fact that speculators, in many cases, bought out the orchards as a whole, long before the apples were ready to pick.

The apple shipments to Europe this season have been considerable, and may be of interest. Up to December 14 they were as follows : From Halifax, 138,740 bbls.; from Montreal, 122,466 ; New York, 90,303 ; Boston, 99,608 ; Portland, 36,063 ; St. John, 890 ; total, 488,019. The total quantity of apples remaining in the various warehouses in the Annapolis Valley on December 1 was given by various local papers as 119,500 bbls.

Since December 14 a number of large shipments have been made from Halifax, which must be added to the amount already given for this port. The steamer Evangeline took 16,000 bbls.; the Corinthian, 3,235 ; the Dahome, 2,668 ; the Damara, 3,095 ; the Tunisian, 548, There have also been small shipments to Newfoundland, the West Indies and to Boston, aggregating about 100 bbls. This still leaves for shipment from the Annapolis Valley 75,000 to 80,000 bbls., which will go forward from time to time as the various winter varieties are required in the market. R. C. H.

FREDERICTON, N.B., BOARD OF TRADE.

THE Fredericton, N.B., Board of Trade recently held its annual meeting with President Edgcombe in the chair.

The president, in his address, noted the success of the Provincial Exhibition, which was mainly owing to the support of the local board of trade, the movement to establish a steamship line between Fredericton and Woodstock and the dredging of their harbor front last summer. He urged the construction of a union depot for the different railways centreing in Frederickton.

In the Tourists' Association report, next presented, mention was made of the Sportsman's Shows in New York, Chicago and Philadelphia since the last annual meeting of the board, at which were distributed large numbers of the Fredericton booklet. It was stated that a new edition of their tourist booklet, comprising 10,000 copies, was issued in July last, and the visit of the Upper Province Press Association was noted. They (the tourist committee) had also addressed a letter to the Chief Commissioner of Public Works of New Brunswick suggesting that a book in which visitors could write their names and addresses be placed in the Parliament Buildings, which was acted upon.

The treasurer reported receipts of $971.02 and an expenditure of $608.35, leaving a balance of $272.67.

FAVOR TARIFF REVISION.

AT a meeting of the Brantford, Ont., Board of Trade on January 14 there was considered the question of tariff revision, which resulted in there being submitted and carried unanimously the following resolution :

That in view of the present conditions of trade and the expansion of Canadian industries, it is highly desirable that the Government revise the present tariff, with a view to the preservation of our markets against unfair competition, thus assisting to maintain and increase our present industries and to establish new ones.

This was moved by C. H. Waterous, who pointed out that the aim of all Canadians was, or should be, the preservation of Canadian markets for Canadians, and seconded by F. Leeming, who maintained that our Canadian tariff should be framed in the same spirit as our neighbors to the south framed theirs.

H. Cockshutt supported this, as did also Lloyd Harris, who stated that Canada last year sent to the United States $80,000,000 less of goods than she received from them.

Several others also took part in the discussion, and a clause was added to the effect that copies should be sent to the Premier, Minister of Finance, Minister of Customs and Mr. C. B. Heyd, M.P.

MORE SALES

If you sow satisfaction you will reap a harvest of more sales, that's dead sure. We have put in the connecting link which will bring this cause and effect together. If you always supply your customers with the kind which satisfies it will take more than another pound offered by your competitor to tempt them away from your store. This past year has been the very best in our whole history, and we put it down to the one fact that we gave more satisfaction and the results came along naturally. PUT new life into this department of your store and KEEP IT in by always supplying TILLSON'S PAN-DRIED OATS.

"IMPERIAL"

White Wine Vinegar

LEADS ALL OTHERS

In the estimation of—

Merchants, Consumers and Pickle Manufacturers alike.

A broad statement this, but made in all confidence, nevertheless, based upon the unrivalled excellence and reputation of this brand.

A PROGRESSIVE ART, that of Vinegar-making, and the manufacturers of "Imperial" clearly recognized this fact at the outset, when placing their product on the Canadian market. They knew that only by adopting the most up-to-date process, coupled with wide experience, could the highest quality vinegar be produced. They have steadily adhered to this idea, with the result that, to-day—

"Imperial" IS A PERFECT VINEGAR—Full Standard Strength—Sparkling Appearance—Absolutely free from sediment—Smooth, Delightful Flavor—Always uniform.

CHEAP VINEGARS—of questionable quality—will be offered you, and the character of the article in every instance will bear out the low price asked. Standard, high-grade vinegar, at all approaching "Imperial" in quality, cannot be produced and sold to the trade at less than "Imperial" will cost you. Would you risk the loss of your vinegar business selling inferior vinegar—when "Imperial" is sold in 5 different strengths, at just the price of the ordinary standard article?

Is the name "IMPERIAL" on the barrel?

ASK YOUR GROCERY TRAVELLER TO SHOW SAMPLES.

A Two Cent Mistake

Don't amount to much in any business, but the sticking point is that a clerk is just as liable to make a mistake of $2.00 as he is of two cents, and a few mistakes like this would pay for enough of Allison's Coupon Books to last a year or more. With these books mistakes are impossible.

If a Man Wants Credit for $10, give him a $10 Allison Coupon Book, charge him with $10, and there you are. No trouble at all. If he buys a plug of tobacco for ten cents, just tear off a ten-cent coupon—that's all. And so on for all his purchases up to limit of the book. NO PASS BOOK. NO WRITING. NO TIME LOST. NO KICKING. There are other Coupon Books, of course, but why not have the best? THE ADVERTISING ARENA.

A LESSON IN ADVERTISING.

A WHOLESALER, according to Hardware Trade, in New York had one of the brightest and most impressive lectures on advertising read to him by a country merchant, that he has ever heard in his life. The country merchant is one of the ordinary merchants. He is a character in his way, a Hibernian, and with his full share of the proverbial wit. He was on a buying trip, and passing a wholesale house he observed paper napkins in the window. He went in to look at them, for he had sale for such things in his store.

"An' do ye have paper napkins to sell?" he asked of the wholesaler. He did have them, he said. "An' how the devil do I be knowin' that ye have paper napkins to sell, if I don't come down here and happen to see them in the windy? Why don't ye tell a man ye have paper napkins? Why don't ye advertise? Thin we'd know what ye had to sell." The merchant told him that he did advertise, which was true.

"Ah, yis," said the merchant, "an' how do ye advertise? Ye put a cut of yer buildin' in the paper. Now what the devil do I be wantin' to see the cut of your buildin' for? I don't care for yer old buildin'. It's what's in yer buildin' that interests me. If ye have paper napkins, say ye have paper napkins, and don't be showin' us a picture of your big sthore. That's the way I'm a-goin to sell these paper napkins I'm buyin' of ye. I put an advertisement in me paper at home to till the people of me town that I have paper napkins to sell and the price they have to pay for thim, an' be the powers they come an' buy thim."

This wholesaler told me that he had more good advertising sense rubbed into him in 10 minutes by this merchant than he had found in books in the past 10 years.

JOHN KNOWS IT.

A newspaper whose columns overflow with advertisements of business men has more influence in attracting attention to building up a town than any other agency that can be employed. People go where there is business. Capital and labor go where there is an enterprising community. No power on earth is so strong to build up a town as well as a paper well patronized, and its power should be appreciated. The man who overlooks his town paper injures himself by injuring his town and townsmen. —John Wanamaker.

HOW MUCH MONEY TO SPEND?

Truly an interesting question. It all depends upon the goods and the competition. Another good question to ask is, Who else is in the field and how well are they occupying it?

Take baking powder. It will be conceded that this article has been well advertised. There was a time when a manufacturer might have started a baking powder business with small capital, and by judicious effort had a good chance to win out. That time has passed. There is no use talking about trusts and their good or bad features. Let politicians do that. The fact remains that a firm that has gone in and possessed the land, is making a good article and has a strong and sensible advertising policy, is in a position to continue. Before the business can be diverted to any great extent it will be necessary to get a better article or spend more money pushing it. Another thing. The new article must be a good deal better, and the big concern generally sees to it that theirs is about as good as can be made.

I knew a firm that did not believe this. They were going to sell to jobbers at better discounts, give retail men more profit and sell an article just as good. The jobber and retail man would be glad to push it along, you know, because they would get larger profits.

They forgot about the public.

I asked them, "How much money have you got?" They seemed to think it was none of my business. Then I asked them how much money they would put up and be able to lose without seriously imperilling their capital. This seemed easier, and at last I learned that they would put up $2,000. This was to include their advertising expenses and my service. Two thousand dollars against the combined result of possibly a million. Their great point was that they would reinvest their profits. Reinvesting profits looks easy, but it is the rock upon which many a concern has gone up against to disaster. The trouble is there are no profits to reinvest. One dash, one chance in a hundred, and nothing behind it to give them another chance for their money.

I thanked them for the offer, but refused the service, and explained my reason. Other heads were bowed beside the remains of foolish advertising experiments. They probably think advertising doesn't pay.

How much to spend? It must be enough to justify a reasonable hope of success. No one knows absolutely in advance what will be the result of advertising effort. Those with most experience and ability can make the closest guess, and they try the best plan first, but are sure to keep enough money in reserve to be able to change the policy if necessary.

Some lines can be tried with little money. They are most inviting. Other lines require enough money to make a positive disturbance before results can be expected. They must make noise enough to be heard by all the people before trade can be expected to move in their direction.

The foolish man thinks only of his own business. The wonderful goodness of his product, and the money he can make by reinvesting his profits. The wise man studies the situation from the buyer's standpoint. He makes up his mind in advance as to how much publicity he must have before he can expect success, and then sits down and counts his money.

The exception? Oh, yes, there are exceptions to this rule. Nobody knows what the percentage is, but experienced advertising men can think of but few. Some have spent money and won in violation of all rules of business sense. Chance, luck, gamble. The exception is so small that it cuts no figure. The real advertising work has been done, as it should be, by someone who knows the facts and has the sagacity to understand how much money to spend.—Seth Brown, in Printers' Ink.

ADVERTISING JOB LOTS.

The "job lot," "closing out slaughter" and other well-known reasons for sales have been so overworked in advertising that most people are aware of their sham. Probably there will be a change in the tenor of such publicity ere long, though it is difficult to say what form it will take. The store which advertises good wares at a decent profit, dwelling upon quality and reliability, probably succeeds as well as the establishment which is continually in the throes of its mistakes in buying and efforts to help the manufacturer unload. In the case of the department stores the special sale is likely to last a long while yet, but some of the better-known New York advertisers never use the price reduction sale as an argument in their ads., or use it so rarely that it is always effective by way of contrast.—Printers' Ink.

"THE BEST ON EARTH."

The man who claims he has "the best on earth for the price" is claiming so much that he harms himself with all conservative poople, remarks Printers' Ink. If he would simply and moderately state that his goods are "equal to any for the price," or "as low in price as any of such good quality," doubtless he would create a better impression and do himself more good.

THE GOOD AD.

A good ad., remarks The Brookline Chronicle, is an announcement in brief terms, straight from the shoulder, concise and to the point, telling something in a clear and intelligent manner and stating a few prices as an indicator of the way you sell goods or do work.

CHOOSE CAREFULLY.

It is a good plan for those just starting in the mail-order business to use their own judgment and observation as to what line they shall handle and not put too much confidence in the various cheap guides and catalogues which profess to give the beginner a list of the things he should carry in stock. What will sell in one locality may not be at all in demand in another. Before starting look around and see what are the articles most likely to be in demand among the class of people most easily reached by you.—White's Sayings.

A BRAINY PRINTER.

Some funny things are done by the brood of printers that are known as "blacksmiths," and the stories of their doings give rise to much hilarity among their fellows. We have heard of them in their self-sufficiency of ignorance perpetrating many absurd actions, but the latest story is worth relating. Not long since the proprietor of a paper—oh, not a very big one, but then it's a paper—had a cut to run with an ad. The cut was low, too low to print, so this clever knight of the anvil concluded he would leave the cut out. A few days after the advertiser met the proprietor of the paper, and in unmistakably forcible language said: "Why in thunder didn't you run my cut last week?' "It was too low down!" replied the printer. "Well, what of that?" replied the advertiser. "Well, what did you want me to do—file my types down?"—British and Colonial Printer.

NUTMEG TREES.

Frank G. Carpenter, the newspaper traveller-correspondent, writes from Batavia as follows:

"There are some nutmegs here in Java, but the best trees are found in Amboina, in the Banda Islands, the Moluccas and several other parts of the Dutch East Indies. There are also plantations in Sumatra and Borneo. The trees in the Moluccas are planted and cultivated. They grow in the shade and require somewhat the same care as our apple trees. Indeed, the nutmeg tree looks just like our pear tree and its fruit not unlike an apricot or peach.

The tree does not begin to bear until it is ten years old, but after this if properly cared for it may last a century. A good tree should annually produce about three pounds of nutmegs and one pound of mace, and at this yield the buisness is profitable. The fruit ripens several times a year and you sometimes see blossoms and fruit on a tree at the same time. As the nutmegs ripen, the pulp, which is about half an inch thick, breaks and shows the nut encircled by a network of mace. In preparing the fruit for the market the pulpy outside is thrown away and the nuts are dried slowly in ovens. There are about a million and a half pounds of nutmegs exported from the Dutch East Indies every year and something like 350,000 pounds of mace."

THE PRUNES OF CALIFORNIA.

CALIFORNIA is literally "full of prunes," remarks The Four-Track News. There are about 72,000 acres of bearing prune trees in the State. The product varies much in different seasons. In 1900 the Californian crop was about 140,000,000 lb. In 1901 the crop was not so heavy. A fair average crop would be about 110,000 000 lb.

The prune groves are objects of surpassing beauty, either in their white spring robes or in their autumn raiment, when the ripening fruit is purpling amid the green foliage.

The great bulk of the Californian product is of the Petite d'Agen variety, known as the French prune. This prune reaches its highest perfection in California, in point of flavor and quantity of sugar. Some French prunes are grown in Oregon, Washington and Idaho, but the chief prune of that region is the Fahlonburg, or Italian, which averages larger than the French, but is not economically so valuable.

Prunes are graded according to the average number to the pound, the grades running from 30 to the pound down to 120. They are packed for market in 25 and 50-lb. boxes lined with paper. Insects do not get at the packed fruit and it does not deteriorate if kept in the tightly packed boxes.

In an elaborate article, G. F. Hanson, M.D , Ph. G., professor of Materia Medica and Therapeutics at the Cooper Medical College, San Francisco, compares prunes with other well-known common foodstuffs and shows their superior food value and economy. Summing up he says: "A pound of prunes is equivalent as food to a gallon of milk and costs but a quarter as much. It is about equivalent to a pound of bread, but is far more healthful. Considered from an economic standpoint, no fresh meat, fish, milk or eggs can be provided for the same moderate cost, and none of them contains, even approximately, the same aggregate of nutritive elements." It is a constant surprise to housewives to find how many wholesome and delicious things can be made with prunes.

There is perhaps no other one article of diet which so successfully combines the valuable points of palatability, healthfulness, nutrition and economy as does the prune.

The average cash-value yield of prunes at the moderate estimate of three cents per pound would be about $150 per acre, gross, which, with due allowance for labor, interest, etc., ought to net the owner $115 per acre.

THE OTTAWA DAIRY COMPANY.

There were 120 shareholders of the Ottawa Dairy Company present to hear the directors' report at their first annual meeting, held on January 22 in their rooms at Ottawa. The statement submitted showed a small balance on hand, a satisfactory thing for the first year's buisness. Besides this there has been a steady increase in their sales which averaged 300 gallons of milk per day during the last four months. The prospects for a big increase in the profits for the coming year are very bright.

These are the board of directors elected for 1902 :

President—John McKellar.
Vice-President—B. Rothwell.
Managing director—J. Bingham.
Directors—Messrs. George L. Orme, Dr. A. T. Shillington, Frank O'Reilly, J. G. Clark.

OOLONG TEA FROM CEYLON.

The first samples of oolong produced in Ceylon were before The "Salada" Tea Co. one day last week. They somewhat resemble the finest Formosa. If these teas can be produced in Ceylon there is a great trade for them in the United States. Mr. Larkin says that, while they are slightly different from Formosa, they are the finest teas of the kind he has ever tasted.

THE OTTAWA ASSOCIATION.

Editor CANADIAN GROCER,—Your report of the annual meeting of the Ottawa Retail Grocers' Association, written I presume by one of its members, illustrates rather forcibly, I am afraid, one of the weakest points of the Association. The prime reason for the existence of a body such as a grocers' association is, I take it, or should be at any rate, "business," and until the Ottawa Association realizes this, and acts upon it, it will, in my humble opinion, accomplish very little that will be of material benefit to the trade. A comparison of the reports of the Ottawa Association and the Montreal Grocers' Association on the opposite page of the issue at hand, brings home forcibly what I am driving at. The Montreal report strongly suggests "business" and business only, while the Ottawa report (and the report of the Association's annual meeting at that) savors more of a social evening. I have been asked several times why I do not join the Retail Grocers' Association, and this is my reason : I have neither the time nor the inclination for this sort of thing, and there are other grocers in Ottawa of the same mind. If the Association would make up its mind to hold a meeting in the middle of each month and confine it strictly to business, and then hold another meeting, say, at the end of the month, to allow the fraternal spirits to indulge in their social exercises, there might be some benefit derived by the trade, through the existence of the Association, and I for one would be pleased to be enrolled.

True, the Ottawa Association is in its long clothes yet, and should not be criticized too severely ; but, as one of the trade, I would like to see the Association a useful body, keeping an eye to the fundamental interests of the trade—making "business" its watchword, first, last, and all the time—and there is nothing like beginning young.

There are many anomalies existing even in the ranks of the Ottawa Retail Grocers' Association, which should never be allowed to remain, and once the Association could be got to work on a strictly business basis these anomalies and inconsistencies might be eradicted; but so long as fraternalism plays so large a part as it does, there is little hope of reform. The fraternal corns would never stand the necessary treading upon. With "business" as the watchword, however, and with members in the Association outside of the little confraternity, protruding corns would be trampled on whether they liked it or not, and irrespective of fraternal sensibilities.

There is one great reason why the Ottawa Retail Grocers' Association should eliminate the social element from its business meetings and confine itself solely to business. Unless this is done the bigger and more important representatives of the trade will never consent to ally themselves with the Association, and it should be the foremost aim and effort of the Association to include these gentlemen on the membership list and to get them to take an active part in promoting the interests and welfare of the grocery trade, for without the assistance of the bigger ones the lesser, though equally important lights, cannot hope to accomplish much that is of most concern to the grocers of Ottawa.

There is great scope and a pressing need for combination here, and the Grocers' Association deserves encouragement. Shorn of a few excrescencies and fined down to a business point it should soon develop into a hardy, potent body, whose educative and persuasive powers might do a good deal to bring about reforms, correct abuses and often prevent the persual of selfish, short-sighted policies which are bound to react detrimentally on the trade as a whole.

BANQUET AT HAMILTON.

Australian Trade Discussed.

ABOUT 100 guests attended the monthly banquet of The Canadian Manufacturers' Association at the Hotel Royal, Hamilton, on January 24, the first banquet this association ever held out of Toronto. At the head of the table was E. A. Brice, the first vice-president of the association; at his right hand being the Hon. Dr. Montague, one of the principal guests of the evening. W. K. George, vice-president for Ontario; J. P. Murray, chairman of the reception committee; W. P. Bull, Fredric Nicholls, Geo. H. Hees, and P. W. Ellis, all of Toronto; H. S. Brennen and Mayor Hendrie, of Hamilton; John Bertram, of Dundas; John Baillie, of Montreal; E. F. Tillson, W. A. Dowler, and W. D. Robinson, Tilsonburg; J. W. Taylor, Johannesburg, South Africa; E. T. Lower, Stamford, Conn.; Harry Sites, Woodstock; J. B. Henderson, Paris, and C. R. H. Warnock, Galt.

After the dinner was disposed of, Mayor Hendrie, in a neat speech, welcomed the visiting manufacturers to Hamilton. He then gave place to the Hon. Dr. Montague, the principal speaker of the evening, who took for his theme "The opportunities for Canadian Trade in Australia." Dr. Montague said he saw no reason why there could not be made in this Dominion the $40,000,000 worth of goods we now annually import from the United States, and give employment to many heads of families who now had to go elsewhere in quest of a living. He claimed that the Dominion should have a proper share of the Empire's trade. He dwelt on the reception accorded him in Australia, and declared, that without a doubt, Canada and the Canadians held a warm place in the hearts of the Australasians. The growth of Australia had been marvellous, its shipping tonnage now being 21,000,000, and the total value of its imports and exports equalling $383,000,000. Canada, he declared, might share in that trade if it was gone about in the right way. He recommended the establishment of a better steamship service between this country and that colony; the establishment of warehouses for Dominion productions in Australia, the sending of eight or ten business men to work up trade, and the publication of a journal describing Canada's varied industries. He then read a long list of articles manufactured here that might find an opening amongst the Australians.

MILK FLOUR IN SWEDEN.

In a report to the State Department, at Washington, Robert S. S. Bergh, United States Consul at Gothenburg, says: "Dr. M. Ekenberg, of Gothenberg, has made a discovery which will be of importance in dairy farming. He claims to have invented an apparatus by which milk can be brought into the form of powder, like flour in appearance, but possessing all the qualities of milk in concentrated form, moisture excepted. It is said that this milk-flour is completely soluble in water, and can be used for all purposes for which common milk is employed. The milk flour does not get sour, does not ferment, and in the dry state is not sensitive to changes in the weather. It can be kept and transported in tin cans, barrels, bags, etc. The cost of production Dr. Ekenberg has estimated at about 27 cents per 106 quarts, and he thinks that flour made from skimmed milk can be sold for about 13 cents per pound. At a recent meeting of the Academy of Agriculture, Dr. Ekenberg exhibited samples of the milk-flour, which received favorable comment. It is considered that the invention will be of the greatest importance for the utilization of skimmed milk, which heretofore has largely been wasted, but in the dry form can be transported all over the country without losing any of its original good qualities."

The grocery business of Martin & Kirk, general merchants, Sydney, C.B., has necessitated their removal into larger quarters, which they have secured on Charlotte street in the store lately occupied by M. B. Ferguson, grocer.

ANNUAL MEETINGS OF BOARDS OF TRADE.

THE BERLIN BOARD.

QUITE a number of prominent members were present at the annual meeting of the Berlin, Ont., Board of Trade on January 23, when the president's report was presented and the officers elected for the year 1902.

The retiring president, S. J. Williams, in his address, mentioned the securing of the factory for the town of Berlin, the progress that had been made in the problems of technical education, the lighting plant, additional railway facilities and the matter of the Shurley & Dietrich industry.

He also noted the increase of 59 in the membership during the year, the total number now enrolled being 224. The board had held 15 regular and 10 special meetings during the year. He concluded by urging the new members to take a live interest in the work.

A vote of thanks was heartily given to the retiring president, Mr. Williams, for his services during the past two years. Mr. Williams would not stand for reelection.

The following are the officers for the year 1902:

President—Robert Smyth.
Vice-President—J. P. Bell,
Secreary—H. J. Sims.
Treasurer—Edward Smyth.
Council—S. J. Williams, H. L. Janzen, C. K. Hagedorn, J. U. Clemens, D. B. Detwiler, C. A. Ahrens (jr.), G. Shirk and C. H. Mills.

THE TORONTO BOARD.

The annual meeting of the Toronto Board of Trade was held on Monday afternoon. The president, vice-presidents and treasurer having been elected by acclamation a week before, interest in the meeting was naturally not as keen as it might otherwise have been. The officers for the ensuing year are as follows:

President—Mr. A. E. Ames.
First Vice-President—Mr. J. F. Ellis.
Second Vice-President—Mr. J. D. Allan.
Treasurer—Mr. E. R. Wood.
Members of the Council—Hugh N. Baird, T. G. Brough, R. J. Christie, W. F. Cockshutt (Brantford), W. J. Gage, Edward Gurney, Peleg Howland, A. E. Kemp (M.P.), C.G.Marlatt (Oakville), Noel Marshall, P. R. Miller, J. L. Spink, Miles Vokes, W. A. Warren, J. W. Woods.
Board of Arbitration—Geo. H. Baird, Hugh Blain, Lieut.-Col. J. I. Davidson, D. O. Ellis, M. C. Ellis, Thos. Flynn, S. R. Hart, W. D. Matthews, J. C. McKeggie. W. K. McNaught, D. M. Spink, W. M. Stark.
Industrial Exhibition Board—S. E. Briggs, John Carrick, Geo. Edwards, R. Y. Ellis, R. W. Elliott, Geo. H. Gooderham, W. P. Gundy, Thos. H. Lee.
Representatives on Harbor Commission—Barlow Cumberland, J. T. Matthews.

The annual address of President Ames was comprehensive and interesting. The attitude of the board in regard to technical education had, he said, always been that the country should adopt a vigorous policy of scientific education. He added: "The importance of better instruction to artisans, and to those who have to master the still higher branches of mechanical effort, is being recognized by the Provincial and Dominion Governments to a large extent, but it is very much to be desired in the interests of the country, that still greater earnestness be directed to evolution along these lines upon thoroughly scientific and practical bases."

The subject of the Bell Telephone Co. Mr. Ames prefaced with the disclaimer of any idea of hostility to that institution. The naturally monopolistic nature of the business of the company, however, rendered it necessary that patrons should be protected. The increased charge for long-distance apparatus, the increase of stock in 1892 from $2,000,000 to $5,000,000, the attempt to increase rates in 1897, which was resisted by the board, Toronto City Council and other bodies, and the Bill of last session to increase the capital stock were all touched upon.

He said he desired to impress upon all citizens their responsibility in developing Canada, and by broad intelligence and business integrity Canadian goods of every kind should be of the highest character possible, so that they could compete with any in the world.

Now that the tariff, or the means of securing commercial prosperity, was considered too big a question to be played with for party advantage, Mr. Ames urged that public attention should be concentrated not upon party, but upon the best means of enhancing the development of Canada, and to this end he would like to see a greater feeling of independence in the rank and file in regard to party lines. While the tariff was sleeping, Mr. Ames thus urged the systematic study of Canadian industries: "As has been said, the tariff is out of politics, but that is only a passive state. It seems to me that what we need during the next five years, starting now, is the energetic consideration by our Governments of all the conditions under which the citizens of this country do business. It will be a great day for Canada when the strife between the two parties is wholly as to which can best discover and supply the country's needs, and when the electorate distributes the rewards of office for success in this direction and without prejudice as to the name the party bears."

The president's report was adopted amid applause upon the motion of Mr. Hugh Blain, who congratulated the president upon its interesting and valuable character.

Mr. J. D. Allan also spoke in reference to the report, and also in regard to the resolution of condolence with the family of the late Walter S. Lee, a valued member of the board since 1864, which resolution was passed in the usual form.

Mr. J. W. Woods, in the absence of Mr. J. L. Spink through illness, moved the resolution making retiring Secretary Wills an honorary life member, to which Mr. Wills replied briefly.

Mr. D. Rose suggested that Dr. Montague be asked to lecture before the board on Australian trade matters. The question was left over for further consideration.

The resolution in regard to urging Britain to adopt a preferential tariff on wheat was held over to be discussed on Wednesday, February 5, and on motion of Mr. Hugh Blain members will be supplied with printed copies.

A NEW BOARD AT ALMONTE.

A board of trade has been formed at Almonte, Ont. On January 22 about 40 of the leading citizens and business men attended an open meeting presided over by Bennett Rosamond, M.P., at which a committee was appointed to take the steps necessary before applying to the Secretary of State for incorporation. An application for a charter was signed by those present, and, it is hoped within a short time the board will be fully organized.

The meeting was addressed by the chairman, Bennett Rosamond, M.P., who said the town, if they had had a board of trade two years ago, would not have had a worthless lighting plant, and been compelled to pay twice as much for water-power as they should.

K. Eardley-Wilmot has had a good deal to do with interesting the business men in this matter. He said that, coming as a stranger, there seemed to be a lot of mismanagement in that town, and that a board of trade would guard the interests of the town.

A number of others, including J. Robertson, Squire Smith, Wm. Thoburn, M. Grey, also thought it a good move to establish a board of trade.

The committee appointed consists of B. Rosamond, M.P., K. Eardley-Wilmot, W. H. Stafford, J. Robertson and Mayor Simpson. These will take the steps necessary to obtain a charter.

K. Eardley-Wilmot has been elected secretary pro tem.

SUMMERSIDE BOARD OF TRADE.

There was a good attendance at the annual meeting of the Summerside, P.E.I., Board of Trade, on January 22, when Hon. R. C. McLeod, the president of the board, gave a resume of the year's work. In his speech he dwelt particularly with an experiment now being tried on the Summerside-Tormentine route.

A resolution was passed complimenting Hon. Jas. Sutherland on his appointment as Minister of Marine and Fisheries.

The meeting was also addressed by J. A. Brace, Neil McQuarrie, Wm. Stewart, and Richard Hunt. Several remarks were made by other members of the board on the year's work of the council. The following are the officers elected :

President—Hon. R. C. McLeod (reelected).
Vice-President—Neil McQuarrie (reelected).
Secretary—D. K Currie (reelected).
Auditors—John Grady, J. S. Hinton.
Council of Board of Trade—J. A. Brace, W. A. Brennan, Ronald Campbell, George Godkin, R. T. Holman, Richard Hunt, Joseph Read, David Rogers, John A. Sharp, Neil Sinclair.

A POETICAL SECRETARY.

Secretary George E. Calkin, of the Kentville, N.S., Board of Trade, is of a somewhat poetical turn of mind. And, in calling the recent annual meeting of the board, he dropped into verse in order to emphasize upon the members the necessity of taking a lively interest in that organization. There were nearly 70 lines in his effusion, the concluding verse of which ran :

Then stir up the laggard
And push out the drone,
Let us all strive together
To better our town,
For we are not merely
The power behind,
We are People and Throne.

Some may be disposed to criticize the poetry, but no fault can be found with the sentiment.

SOME WORDS OF COMMENDATION.

CARSWELL & MACKAY, lumber and general merchants, Calabogle, Ont.: "We are very much pleased with THE GROCER, as it keeps us in touch with the markets so closely."

Mr. W. A. Conlins, grocer, Guelph, Ont.: "I would not like to be without your valuable paper."

Mr. John Fisher, manufacturers' agent, Stratford, Ont., has gone out of the grocery business. He writes : "Let me say that THE GROCER has been a great assistance to me during the time I was connected with the grocery business. I believe it is possibly the best trade paper I have yet read."

Grosch & Pfeffer, general merchants, Milverton, Ont., in renewing their subscriptions for The Dry Goods Review and THE GROCER, state : "They certainly are worth the money, and give us a pile of information. We would not do without them."

Mr. H. W. Wright, Alliston, Ont., has added the business known as the "Star Grocery" to his insurance and Canadian Express agencies. He writes : "I find the help given me from your paper (THE GROCER) one of the factors of my success. I cannot do without it."

H. L. Perkins & Co., general merchants, Powassan, Ont. : "We have read the contents of this journal for the past 10 years, and find it the best value of any trade paper we have ever read."

E. Hanson, general merchant, Wheatley, Ont.: "I could not do without THE GROCER very well. It is certainly the best trade paper I know of."

CATALOGUES, BOOKLETS, ETC.

THE WORK OF CHILDREN.

Since 1780 has Walter Baker & Co., Limited, been established in Dorchester, Mass. From time almost immemorial the trade mark of this firm has been "La Belle Chocolatiere," a picture taken from an original in Vienna, painted by the world-famous Swiss master, Jean-Etienne Liotard. This enterprising firm, placing this picture before them as an example of what they wanted, induced the children of the St. Nicholas' League around Dorchester and thereabout to enter upon the competition in the drawing of grown-up advertisements. This greatly interested the children in the chocolates of this firm, and a number of interesting designs were the result. The best of these are printed in a neat little booklet, tastefully illustrated, in which are given criticisms of the children's work. The title of this book is "La Belle Chocolatiere and the Children."

A SPICE FIRM'S CALENDAR.

R. Herron & Co., manufacturers and importers of coffees, spices, and "Red Cross" jellies, have issued a calendar, which besides being a highly artistic one, is a good advertisement for their "Red Cross" brands. A Crusader with the red cross on his breast, and shield, gives battle to a Saracen. The colors are bright and attractive, the whole calendar being one that will be much appreciated by all fortunate enough to secure one.

ST. JOHN MILLING CO., LIMITED.

With a capital placed at $14,000 divided into 140 shares of $100 each a number of St. John, N.B., capitalists are seeking incorporation as the St. John Milling Co., Limited, St. John, N.B. The provisional directors of this company are John M. Johnson, of Calais, Maine ; William H. Fowler, Geo. A. Kemball, and John Moore, of St. John, N.B. Their object is to purchase and acquire the corn mills and other mill property and machinery owned by William H. Fowler, St. John, N.B., and carry on there or elsewhere the business of grinding corn and other grain, and other milling business, besides buying and selling wheat and other cereals and flour and all kinds of feed.

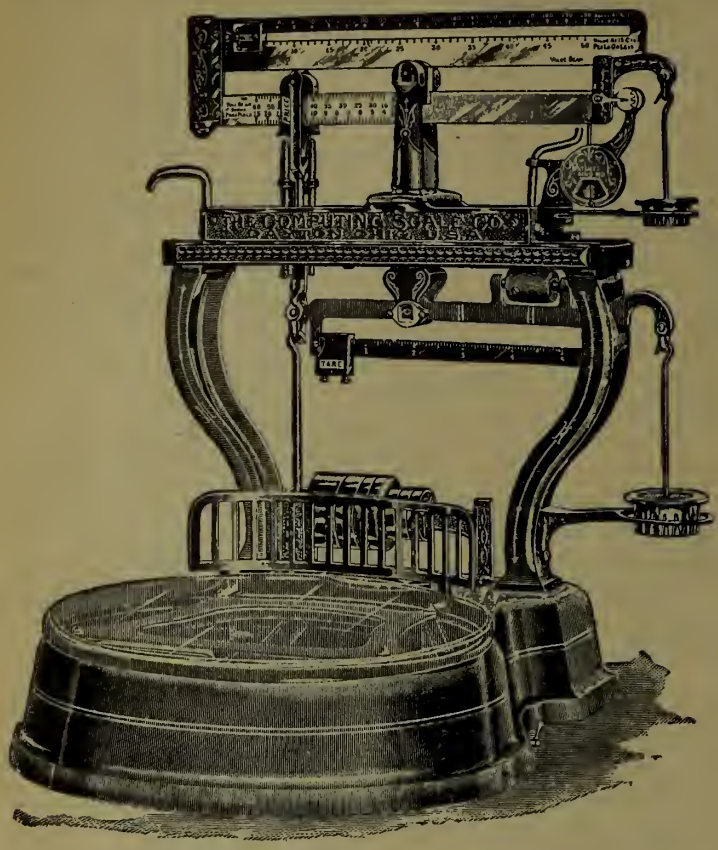
WHAT MAKES MANAGERS.

A grocery dealer who does a business of a million dollars a year, and watches every detail himself, said to me as he pointed to a bright young man : "There is my future manager ; he is the only one in all that crowd who cares to read our trade paper, or who wants to know where things come from or how they are made." Only one in all that crowd. This is a pretty severe arraignment of the retail employe ; and a correct one—in some cases.—Saturday Evening Post.

NEW MAPLE SYRUP.

D. L. Macdonald, Rigaud, Que., has always had a justly deserved and high reputation for his excellent make of maple syrup. He has earned this by always making it direct from the sap and never making it over from old stuff. It is guaranteed perfectly pure and every can is sealed in the bush immediatety after making. From his advertisement, which appears on another page of this issue, he is prepared to receive orders now for the crop of the coming spring of 1902. Mr. Macdonald expects to tap between 3,000 and 5,000 trees this year.

SIMPLE, SYSTEMATIC, SAVING.



These three virtues are embodied in our MONEY-WEIGHT Scales.

SIMPLE: Because anyone can use them with ever assured satisfaction.

SYSTEMATIC: Because they teach system, and impart system through your whole establishment.

SAVING: Because they rescue the profit which is justly your own.

A CHANCE TO MAKE MONEY

There is a market in the British West Indies for nearly all kinds of Canadian products. The people are able and willing to buy.

At present the United States is doing the trade, but Canadians can get it by going after it.

Why not write for a booklet telling of a trip to the Southern Islands, and the possibility of selling Canadian goods. We will be glad to send you one.

SENTIMENT IN BUSINESS.

SENTIMENT does not count for much in trade, either in individuals or in nations. Price, commensurate with quality, is the ruling influence. Sentiment may incline buyers in the direction of certain sellers, but it is easily switched in another direction if more favorable economic conditions prevail elsewhere.

Canadians would rather import from Great Britain than from any other country, and the British people, we have reason to believe, would rather buy Canadian than goods that are the product of countries outside the British Empire. But all things, particularly in regard to cost and quality, must be equal. Business is business the world over.

It is obvious, therefore, that the chief aim should be to manufacture an article whose quality is good and whose price will not be above that of those who are his competitors in the same market.

We do not wish to ignore sentiment in business. On the contrary, we would urge its cultivation, for it has its use. And that is to throw the balance in the desired direction when competitors are equal as to quality and price. But it is childish and unbusinesslike to expect that sentiment shall be the determining factor in mercantile life under all conditions. If it were possible to make it so, what would be the result? Simply that those who relied upon it would become effete and unprogressive, and would ultimately cease to exist.

The commerce of the world has not been developed on sentiment. Competition and enterprise have been the most potent forces.

THE CHIEF CAUSE OF FAILURES.

NOTHING is more necessary when beginning business than capital. It is the very foundation of business. And its lack is the cause of more commercial failures than all other causes together.

In Canada and Newfoundland, last year, there were 1,379 failures. And, according to Bradstreet's commercial agency, 974 of these were due to lack of capital alone. In other words, it was the cause of over 70 per cent. of the total failures. And this is about the average of several years past. This is a much larger proportion than in the United States, where the percentage last year was only a little over 30.

These figures are certainly startling. An ambition to go into business on his own account is commendable in any young man. But it is well that ambition of this kind should on all occasions be tempered with common sense.

Capital as a necessity in business is gradually becoming more and more important. The amount that even 10 years ago would have been considered substantial capital would to-day be deemed insufficient to warrant one launching into business for himself.

With the keenness of competition and the smallness of profits that are such marked features of business conditions to-day, it is only commercial enterprises that are strongly fortified with capital that can hope to succeed. It is this more than anything else that induces seperate business enterprises to amalgamate, and that brings into existence the large department stores.

It is better that one should forever be an employe than that, becoming an employer with inadequate capital, failure should follow and the savings of years of hard work lost.

A BUSINESS MAN FOR GOVERNOR.

IT is announced by the daily papers that Senator Snowball is to be appointed Lieutenant-Governor of New Brunswick.

The gubernatorial office is not one in which the occupant is supposed to exercise much influence in the business of the State. We believe, however, that a Provincial Governor can, if he has the ability, do a great deal in directing the minds and actions of the members of his Cabinet along the same practical business lines as a business man would the heads of his various departments.

Mr. Snowball has had several years' experience in both the House of Commons and the Senate, but, what is more important still, he has had many years of practical experience as a business man.

In Chatham, N.B., his large sawmill is the most important of its kind on the Miramichi river, turning out, as it does, large quantities of lumber annually for the British and Continental markets. Besides this, there are other industries in that part of the country which have his advice and financial assistance.

At the annual meeting of the Maritime Board of Trade, held in Chatham in August last, he was most assiduous in his attention to the business of the convention, and assisted materially in making it the success it was, from both a business and a social standpoint.

The business men of New Brunswick are to be congratulated in having as their next Lieutenant-Governor a practical and a successful business man.

EXPECTED TO HATCH A FORTUNE.

Those who were trying to corner the egg market in the United States no doubt expected to hatch a fortune, but someone crushed their hopes.

THE C.P.R.'S NEW STOCK ISSUE.

THE announcement that the Canadian Pacific Railway Co. has been granted permission by the Government to issue new stock to the extent of $20,000,000 has naturally excited a great deal of interest in financial and commercial circles.

It is stipulated by the conditions under which the power has been granted by the Government that the stock must be sold at par. The money obtained from the disposal of the stock is to be applied in the following manner: New rolling stock and locomotives, $9,000,000; double tracking west of Lake Superior, $6,000,000; new plants for construction of rolling stock, chiefly at Montreal, $1,500,000; new elevators, improvement of terminals, etc., $3,000,000; miscellaneous improvements, $500,000.

This is an age when people are more disposed than ever before to criticize closely new powers or privileges which may be granted to railway corporations. This is, of course, due to the fact that the looseness in this respect in the past on the part of both the people and their representatives in Parliament allowed the railway corporations to so fortify themselves behind agreements and legislative enactments as to make them and not the Government masters of the situation. To-day it is an unwritten law that no further privileges or powers shall be granted the big railway corporations, and particularly the C.P.R., unless the applicant for the powers agrees to make some concessions on privileges obtained under previous agreements. This, it will be remembered, was one of the features of the agreement with the C. P. R. when it was given the authority to construct its Crow's Nest Pass branch, a certain reduction in the freight rates being the concession obtained.

Under the agreement just made between the C.P.R. and the Goverument, whereby the former is permitted to issue the $20,000,000 of stock, certain concessions have also been obtained from the railway company. What their value is it is scarcely possible at the present to determine.

In the Act of 1881 incorporating the C.P.R. it was stipulated in the clause regulating the freight rates that "such reduction may be to such an extent that such tolls when reduced shall not produce less than 10 per cent. per annum on the capital actually expended in the construction of the railway." In other words, until the capital expended in the construction of the road earns more than 10 per cent. the Government cannot have a voice in determining the freight rates. What this clause really means has never been authoritatively defined, legal opinion being divided in regard thereto, although to the lay mind it would seem to clearly indicate that the purpose of the Act was to give the Government control of the rates as soon as the earnings were in excess of 10 per cent. of the capital actually expended in the first cost of the road. However, it is in regard to this clause that the concessions made by the railway in the present instance are concerned.

In the first place, the C.P.R. agrees that the $20,000,000 obtained from the issue of new stock and expended on construction work shall not be reckoned as a part of the cost of the railway. It is further agreed to submit the regulating clause in the Act of 1881 to the Supreme Court of Canada or to the Judicial Committee of the Privy Council, if necessary, for interpretation.

If the court of final appeal should give the clause the wide interpretation, namely, that the cost of construction means the amount spent on the road, not only in the first instance, but for all time, then the agreement of the C.P.R. not to count as a part of the cost of the construction the $20,000,000 which it now proposes to expend is perhaps of some value, although but slight, for, if the Act is so interpreted, it will practically mean that the dividend-earning power of the company will always be kept below the point where Government interference in the rates would be possible. Should the courts, on the other hand, interpret the clause as meaning the cost in the original construction of the road, then it would obviously be of no importance whether the railway company agreed or not to include the $20,000,000 out of the reckoning.

However, there is one thing that should be a source of satisfaction to all, and that is that the development of the West has necessitated the C.P.C. expending such a large amount of money in putting its rolling stock and track in a position to cope with it.

THE COFFEE SITUATION.

THE coffee market seems to be still somewhat of an enigma, no one scarcely knowing which way it will turn next. Those in the trade are, in consequence, eagerly scanning anything and everything that is likely to give them any information on the subject.

The New York Journal of Commerce says that the information which has come to hand during the week relative to the outlook for the growing Brazil crop has reported no improvement in the prospects. A cable received on Wednesday estimated the present Santos crop at 9,500,000 to 10,000,000 bags, and next Santos crop at 5,000,000 bags, possible maximum of 6,000,000 bags. Must look for small crop in 1903-4, owing to much weakened condition of trees. On Thursday cable advices to J. W. Doane & Co. reported the following: "Santos—Estimate amount Santos remaining in interior 2,250,000 bags; estimate export coming Santos crop, 4,500,000 to 5,000,000 bags; third blossom failure. Rio—There will be no cafe das aguas; estimate export coming Rio crop, 2,500,000 bags."

In speaking of the Santos crop one authority there says: "The whole thing in a nutshell is this: This State has produced in succession three large crops—each one larger than the previous one. This in itself is enough to affect the producing powers of the tree, as it is too 'tired' to continue to produce at the rate it had been producing. Even good rains at the proper time would not have altered matters much. In addition to the above state of affairs, we have had a six months' drouth, which killed any flowering we might have had in August, September, October and ending in November, give only a small unsuccessful flowering at the end of the month. In addition to the above, the drouth, coming after the three large crops, caught the trees in a weak state, and the result, I understand and believe, will be that not only the 1902-3 crop but the 1903 4 crop will be affected. It being explained to me that it will take the trees two years to recover. Time alone will show if this claim will prove correct.

TORONTO RETAILERS' "AT-HOME."

THE annual "At Home" of The Toronto Retail Grocers' Association in their hall in the Temple Building on Wednesday night was attended by over 300 guests, amongst whom were many travellers and representatives of many wholesale firms. From all standpoints of view this affair was a decided success, both from the presence of the increased number of retail grocers and the larger attendance this year than on previous years. The music also contributed much to the happy conclusion of this entertainment as did also the singing, and much credit is due to those who labored so long and earnestly to bring about such desired results on very short notice. The dancing was thoroughly entered into and enjoyed by the guests, while the repast, which was served about midnight, was no mean factor in crowning the affair with the desired success.

Dancing was commenced at about nine o'clock to the pleasant strains of D'Alesandro's orchestra and was continued almost without intermission, exeepting when a vocal selection was rendered, throughout the evening. The ballroom, the scene of many similar meetings in previous years, presented a brilliant appearance as those present joined in the mazes of the dances, or loitered around enjoying the splendid music. The ladies, and all those who did not care to dance were enabled to enjoy themselves in another way by engaging in a homely game of cards, on tables especially set apart for the purpose.

Not the least feature of that enjoyable time was what may be called a new departure for this association's "At Homes," and that was the singing of one who was well trained in the art of vocal expression, one whose clear enunciation and distinct articulation would furnish a model for other singers, who claim a far wider reputation, to follow. His clear soprano voice, of culture and power, made Master Jack Challis a great favorite with all who heard him.

It was after 11 o'clock before the supper was announced and then all were ready to partake of the meal, to provide for which, even Lloyd had surpassed himself. A delightful repast was served and all were pleased. Not the least factors in the successful conduction of this affair were the services rendered at the door by Edward Hawes, R. B. Snow and R. H. Davies. Much credit is also due to many others, particularly to David Bell, B. Panter, R. Robertson, President W. J. Sykes, Thos. Clark, J. T. Schoales, F. W. Johnston, J. Butcher, James Nolan and a number of others, who deserve the gratitude of all the members of The Retail Grocers' Association. It was fully three o'clock when the last bars of "God Save the King" died away on the morning air in the melodious notes of the orchestra, announcing that the 1902 annual "At Home" of The Toronto Retail Grocers' Association was a thing of the past.

Among those present were Mayor Howland, Ald. and Mrs. J. J. Ward, Chas. E. Edmonds, John Edmonds, Jas. A. Norris, J. F. Choat, D. Fleming, Jas. Mortimer and Thos. AN OLD FOOD FIRM SELLS OUT.

The property and business of The Ireland National Food Co., Limited, established in Toronto for a number of years, has been purchased by P. McIntosh & Son, who will continue it along with their present business in flour and breakfast foods. As soon as they take possession of their new premises, which will be about February 1, the Messrs. McIntosh will immediately begin to give them a thorough overhauling and remodelling, and will add the most approved of and modern machinery now used in their lines of foodstuffs. This will about double the present capacity of these mills and necessitate the employment of an increased staff of mill and office hands. They expect to be ready about March 1 to resume the manufacture of the well-known lines of buckwheat flour, coarse wheat germs, pot barley and other brands that have established a reputation for The Ireland National Food Co. in the past.

The services of J. T. Musgrave, the eastern traveller for The Ireland National Food Co. have been retained by the new owners, and he will continue to represent them on the road with a full line of samples of the goods they manufacture.

COOPERATIVE STORE COMPETITION.

IN reviewing the trade events of 1901, The London Grocer says: "Cooperatism is another poisonous thorn in the side of many a grocer—of thousands of grocers in various parts of the country. The Labor Department of the Board of Trade recently issued an interesting report on cooperative societies, showing their progress between 1874 and 1899. In the latter year the number of societies was 1,802, and their sales aggregated nearly £68,000,000 ($340,000,000). More than 1,500,000 members belong to these societies, and the share capital approaches £21,000,000 ($105,000,000). The vast majority of the societies are distributive, as opposed to productive, the purely productive societies numbering only 267. In other words, cooperative societies are chiefly concerned in running retail stores. The sales of such stores in the year under review exceeded £45,000,000 ($225,000,000), of which over £7,000,000 was profit, including interest on shares. But the productive societies engaged in bread-baking and food preparation, corn milling, Irish dairying, and other manufacture, record sales of under £3,500,000, while societies which both produce and sell material are credited with sales reaching nearly £7,500,000 in the year."

"LONG TERMS" VERSUS "BEST VALUES."

We have often observed that in buying Teas many dealers pay more attention to a four months' postponement of pay-day on large lots than close values and short datings on small ones.

The far-sighted merchant buys Ceylon Teas on 30 days, and is "SALADA" enabled to turn over four or five purchases on these terms, while he would be disposing of (one) of the "long-winded transactions."

He makes more money, and holds his customers' trade because fresh tea is good tea.

It's "Wisdom" VERSUS "Folly," that's all.

Japan Teas are losing favor.

"Salada" Ceylon Greens gaining . . . can we tell you the reason why? "A postal inquiry will bring enlightenment."

MARKETS AND MARKET NOTES

INFORMATION FOR BUYERS.

If any reader wishes to know where any article can be purchased in Canada or abroad, a letter to the Editor will probably place him in communication with the seller.

ONTARIO MARKETS.

Toronto, January 30, 1902.

GROCERIES.

THE wholesale grocery trade this week is quiet, and probably more so than at any time since the holidays. Shortly after we went to press on Thursday afternoon an advance of 10c. per 100 lb. was made in the price of all refined sugars. In a few copies of the paper we were, however, able to get a paragraph pointing out the change, consequently there were a small proportion of our readers that were unacquainted with the change through our columns. The market has ruled firm since last week and the tendency is still upwards. Since the advance the demand is not as active as it was during the few days preceding it. Canned goods remain quiet and without any material change. Not a great deal is being done in coffees, and prices are weak and irregular in the primary markets. A fairly good demand is being experienced for rice and tapioca. In spices the primary markets are firm, particularly in white pepper. Syrups and molasses are meeting with a fair request. The tea market is at the moment without any particular features, being quiet with prices firm. There is a good demand for prunes, and a fair business is reported in currants and Californian evaporated fruits. In other lines of foreign dried fruits only a light business is being done.

CANNED GOODS.

Although much is not been done in canned vegetables, for this time of the year the turnover is fair. Stocks in retailers' hands do not appear to be large, and an improved business, before long, is expected by the wholesale trade. Prices on both tomatoes and peas continue firm. In canned corn there is quite a little talk about a weak market, although most houses are quoting as before. Of course, corn is the only weak feature in the canned-vegetable market. There is just a moderate business being done in canned salmon, and prices rule as before.

COFFEES.

The outside markets have ruled weak and irregular since our last report. Havre cable advices on Monday reported an unexpected weak market, prices in that market on that day showing a decline of ¾ to 1 franc. This weakness was due to continued heavy movement of the crop and free offerings of coffee from Santos on a low basis of values. West-Indian coffees rule quiet and uninteresting. Locally green Rio coffees are dull with prices nominally unchanged. We quote: No. 7, 8c.; No. 6, 8¼c.; No. 5, 8½c.; No. 4, 9c.; No. 3, 10c. to 12c. A fairly good movement is reported in roasted coffees.

CANDIED PEELS

Only an odd order or so is being received. We quote: Lemon, 10 to 12½c.; orange, 11 to 13c.; and citron, 15 to 18c., according to brand and quality.

NUTS.

These continue seasonably quiet, with prices as before. We quote: Grenobles, 10¾c. by the bale, up to 12c. for smaller quantities; Marbots, 9½ to 10c., and filberts, 9½ to 10½c.

See pages 37 and 38 for Toronto, Montreal, and St. John prices current.

RICE AND TAPIOCA.

A fair business is being done this week in both rice and tapioca. Tapioca is slightly easier in the primary market. We quote: B rice, 3¼c.; Japan rice, 5½ to 6c.; tapioca, 4c.; sago, 4c.

SPICES.

Wholesalers report a fairly good trade. White pepper is firmer in the primary markets, having advanced a ½c. per lb. Nutmegs and mace are very firm and advices from the outside markets indicate that higher prices are probable. Ginger is still holding firm.

SUGAR.

The advance of 10c. which took place on Thursday afternoon last in all grades of refined sugar has been maintained. During the past week quite a lot of sugar has been shipped, but it was principally on orders placed just preceding the advance. Since the advance in price the demand has not been as active, but it is still fairly good, and sugars are one of the most active lines in the wholesale grocery trade at the moment. Since last week raws have developed further strength in New York. Centrifugals and molasses sugars have advanced 3-16c. per lb., making a total advance of 5-16c. in these grades during the past ten days. Muscavados are quoted ⅛c. higher for the week. Sales have been made of this grade at 3 11-16c., 3¾c. and 3 15-16c. the duty paid New York. Beet sugars for the week are quoted 3d. higher, being now on the basis of 6s. 9¾d. f.o.b. Hamburg. The lowest point recently touched was 6s. 3d. In view of the strength of raws a further advance in refined is expected in New York, in which event the Canadian market would in all probability follow. The meltings of raw sugar in the United States last week were 32,000 tons, while receipts were only 25,027 tons. The meltings were thus increased by about 6,000 tons.

SYRUPS AND MOLASSES.

A fairly good business is being done in both syrups and molasses. The market in New Orleans rules firm for molasses. Locally, we quote New Orleans molasses at 25 to 30c. for medium grades and 45 to 50c. for open kettle. Syrups range from 30 to 32c. for medium and 35 to 37c. for bright.

TEAS.

The local market is quiet, the demand not being active as it was for Indian and Ceylon tea. Wholesalers' stocks are fairly complete, and in consequence they are not eager buyers, especially as some of them maintain that a lower range of values will be seen before a great while. At the recent auction in London, according to mail advices under date of January 17, the prices were much the same as at the previous week's sale, although an occasional weakness necessitated the withdrawal of several parcels for which merchants' limits could not be obtained. In Ceylon teas, the heavy auction of 32,393 packages proved rather a strain on the market, but passed with fair bidding. Medium broken teas were, however, a little irregular, and teas for price were somewhat less eagerly competed for. British Customs figures show a decrease in the imports of Indian and Ceylon teas of about 8,000,000 lb. during the period from June 1 to the end of the year. Japan teas are quiet and featureless. There is still an inquiry for China green teas, but all grades continue scarce.

FOREIGN DRIED FRUITS.

CURRANTS.—A fair trade is being done and prices rule steady. We quote:

Filiatras, 6 to 6¼c. per lb.; Patras, 6¼ to 7c.; Vostizzas, 8 to 8½c.

VALENCIA RAISINS.—The market continues dull. Advices from New York report Valencia layer raisins firmly held at 7½ to 7¾c. Locally, we quote, selected at 6½c.

SULTANA RAISINS.—A good movement is still to be reported for Sultana raisins and prices rules firm both locally and in the outside markets. Prices range from 8½ to 12c.

PRUNES.—The demand for prunes continues good and prices locally are unchanged. Advices from the Coast report a strong market for new-crop Santa Clara prunes. Our quotations are as follows: Californian prunes, 100-110's, 5c.; 90-100's, 5½ to 6½c.; 80-90's, 6½ to 7c.; 70-80's, 6¾ to 7½c.; 60-70's, 7½ to 8c.; 50-60's, 8 to 8½c.; 40-50's, 8¾ to 10c. French, 100's, 3½ to 4c.

FIGS.—There is very little done and prices rule much as before. We quote: Mat figs, 3½c.; naturals, 3¼ to 3½c., according to quality; tapnets, 3¼c., and Elemes, 8½ to 18c.

CALIFORNIAN EVAPORATED FRUITS—A fair business is being done. Prices rule as before. We quote: Apricots, in 25-lb. boxes, 13 to 16c., according to quality, and peaches, 11 to 13c.

DATES.—The demand has fallen off and business is now quiet. We quote: Hallowees at 4½ to 4¾c, and Sairs at 4¼ to 4½c.

GREEN FRUITS.

The surplus stock of oranges, lemons and cranberries has mostly been been cleared off and fresher fruit which is being offered is finding an improved market. Oranges are moving more freely, while there is quite a trade in lemons. Malaga grapes, apples and cranberries are quiet. The prices are steady. We quote: Malaga oranges, $3.25 to $3.50 per case; Tangerine or kid glove oranges, $8.50 to $9 per strip; grape fruit, $4.50 to $6 per box; apples, $4 to $5 per bbl.; bananas, $1.50 to $2 for firsts, and 80c. to $1 for first eight hands; Florida oranges, $3.25 to $3.50 per box; Mexican oranges, $2.25 per box; Messina lemons, $2.50 to $3.00 per box; Californian oranges, $3.25 to $3.50 per box; Valencia oranges, $3.75 to $5.50 per case; Malaga grapes, $5.50 to $6.50; cranberries, fancy Jerseys, $9 to $10; pineapples, 25 to 35c. each by the case; cucumbers, Southern, $2.25 to $2.50 per doz.; Spanish onions, large cases, $3.50; small crates, $1.10.

VEGETABLES.

The market is rather quiet this week excepting for potatoes. Celery is still very scarce, and what is in stock is poor in quality this year. Rhubarb is a little easier, while radishes, on the other hand, are 10c. higher per bunch. We quote: Green onions, 10 to 15c. per doz.; rhubarb, 12½ to 15c. per bunch, $1.25 to $1.50 per doz.; carrots, parsnips and beets, 20c. per peck; turnips, 15c. per peck and 35c. per bag; lettuce, 30 to 40c. per doz.; radishes, 50 to 60c.; mint and parsley, 20 to 25c.; celery, 50 to 60c.; red cabbage, No. 1, 5 to 10c.; cabbage, 40 to 60c. per doz.; dry onions, $1 to $1.25 per bag; potatoes, 80 to 85c. per bag.

COUNTRY PRODUCE.

EGGS—A good demand for eggs continues, with arrivals of fresh more free this week. Prices of strictly fresh are given as 3c. lower. There are very few cold-stored now on the market. We quote: Strictly fresh, 25 to 26c.; held fresh, 20 to 22c.; cold-stored, 19 to 20c., and limed 17 to 19c. per doz.

BEANS—There is no special demand for beans, and only a light trade is being done. We quote: Choice hand-picked, $1.70 to $1.85; prime, $1.50 to $1.60 per bush.

HONEY — Prices for honey are steady, with a normal demand. We quote: Clover, in 60 lb. tins, 9½ to 10c.; less quantities, 10 to 11c. per lb.; in combs, $2 to $3 per doz.

DRIED APPLES—There is little or no foreign demand for dried apples this season, making their sales rather slow. Evaporated apples sell more freely. We quote: Evaporated apples, 9¾ to 10c. in carlots and 10¾c. in less quantities. Dried apples 5 to 6c. per lb.

POTATOES—Fair offerings of potatoes are reported this week, with prices easy. They are worth 65c. per bag in carlots and 75 to 80c. in less quantities.

BUTTER AND CHEESE.

BUTTER—There is a good demand for butter, with larger arrivals this week, especially in 1-lb. prints, which are 1c. lower. The prices are steady. We quote as follows: Choice 1 lb. prints, 17 to 18c.; large rolls, 16 to 17c.; tubs, best quality, 15 to 16c.; tubs, medium grade, 13 to 15c. per lb. Creamery prints sell at 21 to 22c., and creamery solids, 20½ to 21c. per lb.

CHEESE—Dealers are holding cheese for good prices, but there is not yet a large export demand. We quote: Cheese, wholes, 10½ to 10¾c.; twins, 11c.

POULTRY.

DRESSED POULTRY—Very few offerings in dressed poultry are being made, and prices are firm, although there is no extra heavy demand. A good deal of what is being offered is of poorer quality. We quote: Chickens, 30 to 50c. per pair; ducks, 60 to 90c. per pair; geese, 8 to 9c. per lb.; turkeys, 9 to 11c.

LIVE POULTRY—The quietness is more pronounced. Prices have been advanced 2c. per lb. for ducklings, and ½c. for hens. The Canadian Produce Co., Limited, 36 and 38 Esplanade street east, Toronto, will pay until further notice 6c. per lb. for spring chickens, 7c. per lb. for young ducklings, 6c. per lb. for geese, 7½c. per lb. for turkeys, and 3c. per lb. for hens (including last year's birds). These prices are paid for live weight on arrival. Crates are shipped free and express paid up to 50c. per 100 lb. of chickens.

FISH AND OYSTERS.

In fresh, the volume of trade it quite heavy, all kinds of frozen sea fish being especially in demand. Smelts and bloaters are selling well, while oysters meet with a good sale. Prices are unchanged. We quote: Fresh and frozen fish—Codfish, 6 to 8c.; whitefish, 7 to 7½c.; herring; 4 to 5c.; trout, 7c.; halibut, 11 to 14c.; sea salt mon, 9 to 10c.; haddock, 5c. per lb.; perch, 4c.; British Columbian salmon, fresh, 20c., frozen, 9c.; Labrador herrings, $3 to $3.25 per 100-lb. bbl. Smoked fish—Ciscoes, $1 to $1.25; finnan haddie, 6½ to 7c.; Digby herring, 60 to 75c. per bundle. Prepared fish — Dried cod, in 112-lb. bundles, $4.75 per cwt.; flitched cod, $5.50 to $6; boneless cod, in bricks, 4½ to 5½c. per lb.; steak cod, 6½c. per lb.; shredded cod (2 doz. in box), $1.80 per box; boneless fish, loose, in 25-lb. boxes, 4 to 4½c., and in 5-lb. boxes, 5c. per lb.; bloaters, per box of 50, $1 to $1.25; kippered herring, 50 in a box, $1 to $1.25 per box; smelts, per 15-lb. box, extras, 12c. per lb.; No. 1, 6½ to 7c. per lb. Oysters—Standards, $6.75 per large pail, $3.75 to $4.05 per small pail, or $1.50 to $1.75 per Imperial gallon; selects, $2 to $2.15 per Imperial gallon.

GRAIN, FLOUR AND BREAKFAST FOODS.

GRAIN—There are much increased movements reported in Manitoba hard this week, and a decline of 1c. is the result, No. 1 hard being now worth 87c. per bushel grinding in transit, Sarnia, or 86c. Toronto and west. On the local market greater receipts of all kinds of grain are reported, and prices are weaker all around, there being a fall of 2c. in red and white wheat, 1c. in goose, 1c. in oats, 2 to 3c. in rye and 3 to 4c. in peas, while the latter are very poor quality this year. We quote: White and red Ontario wheat, 70 to 78c.; goose, 66 to 66½c.; oats, new, 45 to 46c.; rye, 55 to 56c.; barley, 54 to 63c.; peas, 82 to 86c.; buckwheat, 58c.

FLOUR—There is an increasing demand with prices steady. Millers are again beginning to get busy. Hungarian patents are 10c. lower. The other prices are unchanged. We quote: Ontario patents, in bags, $3.70 to $3.80; Hungarian patents, $4.05; Manitoba bakers', $3.90; straight roller, $3.40 to $3.50 per bbl. in Toronto.

BREAKFAST FOODS — Trade in this line which is usually somewhat slack during January is beginning to pick up and indications point to an unusually busy February. There has been a drop of 25c. per 100 lb. in cornmeal. We quote: Oatmeal, standard and granulated, in carlots on track here, $5.55; standard rolled oats in carlots on track here, $5.20; in bbls., 15c. more; broken lots are 20c. per bbl. extra; rolled wheat, $2.50 in 100-lb. bbls.; cornmeal, $3.75; split peas, $4.50; pot barley, $4.50.

HIDES, SKINS AND WOOL.

Trade continues quiet with no change excepting a fall of ½c. in the prices of No. 1 and No. 2 green hides. The prices given below are what buyers pay on arrival:

HIDES—We quote: No. 1, green, 7c.; No. 2 green, 6c.; No. 1 green, steers, 8c.; No. 2 green, steers, 7c.; cured, 7¾ to 8¼c.

SKINS—We quote: No. 1 calfskins, 9c.; and No. 2, 7c.; deacons (dairies) 55 to 60c. each; sheepskins, 65 to 75c.; deerskins, 12½ to 14c. per lb.

WOOL—We quote: Fleece, 13c., and unwashed, 7 to 8c. per lb.

SEEDS.

There is a steady demand for red clover and timothy, but the market for alsike is weak, resulting in a drop of from 25 to 50c. per bushel. As usual, a little more will be paid for extra good samples. The prices quoted below are what are given at outside points: Red clover, $4.75 to $5.15; alsike, $6.25 to $8.25, and timothy, $2.50 to $3.25 per bush.

MARKET NOTES.

Alsike clover seed has dropped 25 to 50c.

Split peas have declined 25c. per 100 lb.

Pound rolls of choice butter are 1c. lower.

Nos. 1 and 2. green hides are each ½c. lower.

Hungarian patent flour has been lowered 10c. per 100 lb.

Live ducklings are worth 2c. and hens are worth ½c. per lb. more.

On the local market red and white Ontario wheat is 2c., oats 1c., rye 3c. and peas 3 to 4c. per bushel lower than last week.

QUEBEC MARKETS.

Montreal, January 30, 1902.

GROCERIES.

AS the month of February approaches trade brightens up, and all wholesale grocery houses report a fair business this week. Though, of course, compared with other seasons of the year, the business doing is not of the best, still it has improved steadily through the month, and no complaints can reasonably be made. Canned goods and fish are among the jobbers best moving lines. Foreign dried fruits, with hardly any exceptions, are going out but slowly. The only quotable change in prices in foreign dried fruits will be noticed in figs, which are now worth $1.15. Sugar has recovered itself and is back to the prices of two weeks ago.

SUGAR.

An advance of 10c. on all sugars is quoted this week. It came as a surprise to no one as the recent advances in the raw material in New York tended to make this market much firmer. No good authority, however, will put themselves on record as predicting further advances, though prices here are very firm. On the foreign markets, too, sugar is very strong, and holders of cane sugar are waiting for higher prices. We quote : Granulated, $4 ; yellows, $3.25 to $3.90.

TEAS.

There is a fairly good business doing and prices remain firm. Stocks of China greens are rapidly becoming very light, and they still appear to be scarce, so that the market is, if anything, even stronger, though the demand has not increased to any extent.

SYRUPS.

The trade doing in syrups is only a moderate one. There is practically no change in the situation since our last report, and none whatever in prices. Our quotations are on corn syrups as follows : 3½c. in bbls.; 3⅝c. in ½ bbls.; 3¾c. in ¼ bbls.; $1.60 in 38½-lb. and $1.20 in 25-lb. pails.

MOLASSES.

There is not much change in the molasses market. Though there is only a light demand, prices on Barbados remain pretty firm. The Porto Rico molasses crop is reported to be much lighter than last season, and New Orleans is also in smaller supply. In the latter there has been an advance of 2c. per gallon in New Orleans.

CANNED GOODS.

The general demand has not greatly improved over that of a week ago. In canned salmon, however, there is a better trade doing, and this is likely to steadily improve till Lent. Corn is firm at 80c. for ordinary stock. Peas, which are quoted at 95c. are in moderate demand. Tomatoes sell fairly well, the price being 87½ to 92½c. Our quotations are as follows : Salmon, $1.00 to $1.05 for pink ; $1.30 for spring ; $1.32 for Rivers Inlet red sockeye ; $1.45 for Fraser River red sockeye, and $1.42½ to $1.45 for Clover Leaf talls. Gallon apples sell for $2.60 to $2.70, and 3-lb. apples at $1.

SPICES.

There is nothing new to report in this line. Prices are firm, though the demand is scarcely more satisfactory. Peppers are especially strong. We quote : Nutmegs, 30 to 55c. per lb. as to size ; penang mace, 45 to 50c. per lb.; as to quality ; pimento, ground, 12½ to 15c.; cloves, 15 to 25c.; pepper, ground, black, 17 to 22c., according to grade ; white, 25 to 27c.; ginger, whole, Cochin, 15 to 17c.; Japan, 13 to 14c.; Jamaica, 16 to 20c.; Afghan, 12 to 13c.; ground, Japan, 15c.; Cochin, 16 to 17c.; Jamaica, 20 to 22c., and Afghan, 13 to 14c.

RICE AND TAPIOCA.

Patna rice is about the only interesting feature of this trade. An advance in London, following the scarcity of Patna rice there, has had its impression on this market, and importers think that the last receipts warrant them in advancing the price from 5 to 5¼c., which is ⅜c. per lb. higher than former quotations. We quote in combine district : B rice in bags, $3.10 ; in ½ bags, $3.15 ; in ¼ bags, $3.20 ; in pockets, $3.25. In 10-lb. lots an allowance of 10c. is made. CC rice, $3 in bags ; $3.05 in ½ bags ; $3.10 in ¼ bags ; and $3.15 in pockets. In the open territory prices are about 10c. less. Patna rice is worth 5 to 5¼c. per lb., and tapioca, 3¾ to 3⅞c.

FOREIGN DRIED FRUITS.

CURRANTS.—There is not much doing in currants, though prices are still firm. We quote : Fine Filiatras, ½ cases, 5⅜c.; cleaned, 6c.; 1-lb. cartons, 8c.; finest Vostizzas, 7⅞ to 8c.

VALENCIA RAISINS.—No change is to be noted. Stocks are very light and prices firm. Finest off-stalk are worth 5⅜c.; selected sell for 6⅜c., and layers for 6⅞c.

CANDIED PEELS.—Business is a shade better, but there is still only a light movement. We quote : Orange peel, 11½c.; lemon peel, 10½c.; citron, 16½c.

MALAGA RAISINS.—Business is only fair. Our quotations are now as follows : London layers, $1.50 to $1.60 ; "Connoisseur Clusters," $2.15 to $2.25 ; ¼'s, 65 to 70c.; "Royal Buckingham Clusters," $3.30 to $3.35 ; ¼'s, $1.05 to $1.10 ; "Excelsior Windsor Clusters," $4.50 to $4.60 ; ¼'s, $1.30 to $1.40.

DATES.—The supply on hand is almost exhausted. We quote : Hallowee dates at 4¼ to 4½c.

FIGS.—The scarcity of Comadre figs and tapnets has caused an advance, and $1.15 is now quoted to the trade for both layer and tapnet figs. The demand is moderate.

CALIFORNIAN RAISINS.—There is no change in the situation of seeded raisins. In view of the strong feeling in the primary market, prices here remain quite firm. We quote seeded at 9¼ to 9½c.

PRUNES.—The demand for prunes is steady and fair. Prices are unchanged. Our quotations are as follows : Californians, 8½c. for 40-50's, 8c. for 50-60's, 7¾c. for 60-70's, 7½c. for 70-80's, 6¾c. for 80-90's. 6½c. for 90-100's.

NUTS.

Business this week is rather flat. Prices remain at our former quotations. We quote as follows : Walnuts, 9¾ to 11c.; Tarragona almonds, 12 to 13c.; shelled walnuts, 16½ to 17½c. ; shelled almonds, 26 to 27c.; Jordan shelled almonds, 42c.; filberts, 8¾ to 9¼c.; pecans, 15 to 16c.

BUTTER AND CHEESE.

Butter.—There is some improvement in the butter market this week. It is not thought that there will be sufficient finest creamery for the demand. This has given holders more confidence in the market and higher prices are being asked. Receipts have dropped off some and this has further stimulated the demand. Local dealers and grocers appear anxious to secure round lots. Sales to grocers of finest fall creamery are reported at 21½ to 23c. Winter-made creamery has sold for 21 to 22c. Deliveries of large rolls are still satisfactory, and although the high price of creamery is augmenting the consumption of rolls, prices are about the same and steady at 17½ to 18c. The demand continues fairly active.

CHEESE.—There is very little change in the tone of the market this week. It seems to be a struggle between Canadian holders and English buyers as to who can hold off the longer. Statistics from different ports in England show a decrease in stocks, and it is probable that the English buyers will come to the Canadian holders' way of thinking, and an advance would result. As yet prices are unchanged, white being quoted at 49 to 50s., and colored, 52s. c.i.f.

COUNTRY PRODUCE.

EGGS.—Prices are firm, and stocks on the local market are nearly exhausted. If it were not for a few round lots held by some dealers who are now supplying jobbers, the trade would be in a rather bad shape. Business is fairly active, consumers having become more used to the high prices. Pickled are worth 22c. Select cold-storage stock are being sold for 25 to 27c., an advance of 2c. New laid are 32c., which is 3c. lower, the decline being due to the increased quantity offering.

HONEY.—The demand continues light. Buckwheat honey in comb is worth 9c. ; white extracted, 9 to 10c.; strained, 8c.

DRESSED POULTRY.—There is a moderate trade doing, and prices, due to the small offerings, continue firm. Choice turkeys have become very scarce and now sell for 12 to 13c., an advance of 1c. Ordinary are worth 9c.; choice geese, 6½ to 7c.; choice chickens, 9 to 10c. ; fowl, 5½ to 7c.

ASHES.—Business this week, though not active, is done under firm prices. We quote as follows : First pots, $4.40 to $4.45 per 100 lb.; seconds, $4 to $4.05 ; pearls, $6.75 to $7.

GREEN FRUITS.

The general state of trade, as everyone expects now, shows little improvement, but it is satisfactory to know that it is up to the standard of other years at this season. Complaints have been made that payments are not up to the standard, but this is likely due to the lack of work among the poorer classes. Messina lemons are a little scarce, but the market will likely be relieved next week, as sales in New York are due to put out about 40,000 boxes. The prices remain at $2.75 to $3 per box. There are no Malaga lemons on the market whatever. A heavy drop will be noticed in Californian tangerines, from $3 per box to $1.75 per box. Receipts of these have been heavy, and on account of their poor flavor, as compared with Florida tangerines, they are hard to dispose of. There is still a scarcity of good Canadian apples. Fine Spies sell for $5. Valencia oranges, 420's, are 25c. higher. Best Florida tomatoes are worth $5 per crate. We quote as follows : Jamaica oranges, $4.50 to $4.75 ; Florida oranges, $3.50 to $3.75; Californian sunflowers, $3.50 ; Valencia

The Law of the Average is Safer and More Profitable to Follow than the Rule of Exception.

THE fact that the average woman prefers to do her trading at the store where she can purchase articles that can be depended upon to please her and the household proves beyond doubt that it pays to handle articles you know will satisfy her and bring her back again. The grocer who handles obtains the assistance of an article that so pleases its users that trade is certain to be diverted his direction. And what reason have we for making this statement? Because any woman who has compared JONAS' rich, pure, strong, economical Extracts with other brands will substantiate our claim that they are the MOST RELIABLE on the market—for such an article as that it is self-evident she'll go to the storekeeper who is enterprising and up-to-date enough to keep them. We are pleased to say that nearly every shrewd dealer in the country is now a warm friend of JONAS' FLAVORING EXTRACTS. The average woman prefers them. An exceptional woman does not care what she buys—but isn't it safer and more profitable to sell Extracts that appeal to the tastes and requirements of the average than to the exceptional woman, namely, JONAS' FLAVORING EXTRACTS?

FLOUR AND GRAIN.

FLOUR.—A moderate trade continues at steady prices. We quote in carlots: Spring wheat patents, $4.05 to $4.30; winter wheat patents, $3.85 to $3.95; straight roller, $3.70 to $3.75; strong bakers', $3.80 to $4.

GRAIN.—There is nothing new to report on the local market. The demand is still light. Corn is now quoted at 68 to 69c., a decline of 3c. Our quotations are as follows: Manitoba, No. 1 hard, 72c.; peas, 92 to 93c.; rye, 62½ to 63c. (for carlots in store); No. 2 barley, 57c.; oats, 47c.; buckwheat, 54 to 56½c. east; corn, 68 to 69c.

OATMEAL.—The market remains quiet. Rolled oats have dropped off slightly. We quote: $5.60 to $5.70 in bbls. and $2.70 to $2.75 in bags. Other qualities of oatmeals have declined proportionately.

FEED.—There is a steady and fair demand. We quote: Ontario bran, $20 to $20.50; mouille, $28 to $30; Manitoba bran, $20 to $21; shorts, $22 to $23 per ton, including bags.

BALED HAY.—A moderate trade is doing. Prices are: No. 1 timothy, $10.50 to $11; No. 2, $9.25 to $9.75; clover mixed, $8.25 to $8.50; clover, $7.50 to $8.25.

MONTREAL NOTES.

Fresh halibut is 2½c. higher.

Choice turkeys have advanced 1c.

Florida oranges have declined 25c.

Sugar is 10c. higher on all lines.

Patna rice has advanced ⅛c. per lb.

Chicago mess pork has declined 50c.

Comadre figs and tapnets are 15c. higher.

Californian tangerines have dropped $1.25 per box.

Florida tomatoes (best) have advanced 25c. per crate.

In eggs, select cold-storage stock are 2c. higher, and new laid, 3c. lower.

NEW BRUNSWICK MARKETS.

OFFICE OF THE CANADIAN GROCER.
St. John, N.B., January 25, 1902.

THE past week has been particularly quiet. Of course, this is not unexpected. There is one pleasing feature in regard to our city: we feel we are about clear of the smallpox. We have had but one new case in some weeks. With our two large cotton mills running again—full time and full capacity—in fact, preparing to turn out more goods than ever before, we look forward to improved spring business. The winter-port business continues exceptionally good. We seem firm in our position as the winter port of Canada. Lumber, which is such an important interest, has been bringing good prices. In markets, sugars have turned slightly toward higher prices. In flour, there is no change. Beans seem rather easier. Ginger is very high. Cream of tartar remains at quite low figures.

OILS.—In burning oils trade continues large. Prices are low. Now that two companies have tank wagons on the streets there is almost no oil sold to the local retail trade in barrels, so the wholesale grocery has entirely lost this business. In paint oils the season is early, though large buyers have bought quite freely. It is thought prices will likely be higher. In turpentine, little or no speculation is done. Lubricating oils are quiet. In cod oil, for which this is a primary market, prices are held firm.

SALT.—This is the season of active business in Liverpool coarse salt. With the winter-port steamers coming here, there is not only the active local business, but large quantities arrive for the west. Prices, this season, are quite a little higher than usual. In fine salt there is but light sales. We quote as follows: Liverpool coarse, 50 to 60c.; English factory-filled, 95c. to $1; Canadian fine, $1 per bag; cheese and butter salt bulk, $2.40 per bbl.; 5-lb. bags, $2.85 to $2.90 per bbl.; 10-lb. bags, $2.70 to $2.75 per bbl.; 20-lb. wood boxes, 22c. each; 10-lb. wood boxes, 14c. each; cartons, $2 per case of 2 doz.; English bottled salt, $1.25 to $1.30 per doz.; mineral rock salt, 60c. per 100 lb. (Selected lumps.)

CANNED GOODS.—There is very little business. Dealers complain that goods are sold too close. It is about impossible to get the advance in peas and tomatoes. Salmon show a wide range in price. There should be some further protection to the consumer. At least four distinct grades are offered, between which there is much range in value, but little means of knowing from the appearance of the package what quality of fish it contains. Fruits have but a fair sale, and except gallon apples, which are high and tending upward, there is little change in price. Domestic fish, as kippered herring, haddics and sardines, are in good demand. The first two lines are very firmly held.

GREEN FRUITS.—Business continues very active. In oranges prices continue very low; while the offerings of Californians are much larger than Floridas they sell at about the same figure. With the competition from other lines, it is impossible to get higher prices for the Floridas. Jamaicas are about done. Valencias are received by the direct Liverpool boats weekly, and show improved quality. In lemons, prices are low. A good, steady sale is reported. Apples show little change. Prices are firm. There is considerable stock held in Nova Scotia. Cape Cod cranberries are held firm at the high figures.

DRIED FRUITS.—This is somewhat of a quiet season. In raisins, the market is quite lightly stocked. The Californian market continues to advance. In loose muscatels a few have been bought in New York to cost lower than they could buy from the Coast. The bulk of the seeded held were also bought in New York. Malaga prices have not advanced in proportion. There have been quite a few of these used this season; that is particularly loose muscatels. Californian prunes, the only stock offering, are still low and there is quite a stock here. On the Coast rather higher values rule. Apricots and peaches are but fair sellers. Dates are rather higher. Figs have, as do peels, little sale after the holidays. The sale in both lines was quite large. Evaporated apples tend higher. Some old stock is offered, but there is no market. Owing to these high prices there is quite a little local sale for dried apples. Onions are very high.

DAIRY PRODUCE.—Butter is dull and it is difficult to move, except good stock. If quality is right full figures are easily obtained, but the bulk of the goods offered is poor. Cheese are dull in the local market, though outside values are rather better. Eggs are scarce, and to get good stock one has to look carefully. There is but a fair sale and good stock is held firm.

SUGAR.—Prices have been advanced 10 cents, and are quite firmly held. Sugar is still very cheap. There is a very strong feeling here favoring an English duty on bounty fed sugars, West-Indian sugars to be given a preference under the tariff.

MOLASSES.—There is no change. A fair stock of Porto Rico is still held. Prices are low. Some Antigua, of good quality is here, but it moves very slowly. In New Orleans some little of very nice stock is offered. Syrup has a light sale.

FISH.—The weather has been against the fresh-fish business during the past week, and this is the branch of the business which is looked to at this time. Prices show no change. Frozen herring is scarce. The North offers smelt freely. Immense quantities go to New York. In dry cod, there are continued light arrivals. Prices are unchanged. Pollock are dull. In smoked herring, a considerable quantity is held. Prices are low. In finnan haddies the movement is large. Pickled fish show no change, and any shad offered is very high. There is considerable boneless fish moving. Our quotations are as follows: Haddies, 5½ to 6c.; smoked herring, 6 to 7c.; fresh haddock and cod, 2½ to 3c.; boneless fish, 4 to 5c.; pollock, $1.60 to $1.70 per 100 lb.; pickled herring, $2.15 to $2.25 per ½ bbl.; Canso herring, $5.75 per bbl.; kippered herring, $1 per box; Shelburne, $2.50 per lb.; dry cod, $3.60 to $3.70; frozen herring, 75c. per 100; smelt, 5 to 6c. per lb.

FLOUR, FEED AND MEAL.—While flour is rather easier there is no change in the local prices. Feed is again very scarce. Importations are light. Oats are rather firmer and higher prices are expected. Oatmeal shows little change; the sale is light. Cereal foods are so largely used that they very much affect the consumption. In cornmeal there is a steady business, but the effect of the high price is felt. Beans seem rather easier. The demand is a quiet one. Hay is firm at the full figures. The export demand has been a great help to values. Barley and peas are very firm. Our quotations are: Manitoba flour, $4.70 to $4.80; best Ontario, $4.10 to $4.20; medium, $3.60 to $3.80; oatmeal, $5.60 to $5.75; cornmeal, $3.30 to $3.35; middlings, $26 to $28; oats, 56 to 58c.; handpicked beans, $1.60 to $1.65; prime, $1.50 to $1.55; yellow eye beans, $2.80 to $3.00; split peas, $4.85 to $5.00; barley, $4.70 to $4.75; hay, $12 to $14.

MANITOBA MARKETS.

Winnipeg, Man., January 27, 1902.

THE week has been an uneventful one in trade circles. Almost the only item of importance is the 10c. advance in sugar. Up to Friday the weather was mild as spring, but late Friday night the thermometer took a tumble and we are now having a touch of what we have come to look upon as characteristic Manitoba winter weather. There is still no snow and the owners of camps are much tried over its absence. A great deal of cutting has been done but little or no hauling has been accomplished, and it begins to look as if little could be done this winter. There is no doubt that absence of snow is affecting trade although the volume of business is very good. The majority of Manitobans have read with envy of the heavy snowfalls in the east and think a little might have been spared for the Prairie Province.

SUGARS.—All grades of sugar have advanced 10c. on this market. Extra standard granulated, $4.95; bright yellows, $4.30; extra ground, in bbls., $5.45; extra ground, in boxes, $5.70; powdered, in bbls., $5.20; powdered, in boxes, $5.45; paris lumps, in bbls., $5.45; paris lumps, in ½ bbls., $5.55; paris lumps, in 100-lb. boxes, $5.45; paris lumps, in 50-lb. boxes, $5.55.

SYRUPS.—All corn syrups show an advance and quotations are now 3⅜c. in bbls. and 3½c. for ½ bbls.

MOLASSES.—There is not much movement in molasses, but prices are fairly firm at 48c. for Barbados and 30c. for New Orleans.

EVAPORATED AND DRIED FRUITS—Although there is not much movement in the raisin market prices are very firm and slightly higher. Four-crown Valencias are worth $2.25 to $2.30, and fine off-stalk, $2 to $2.05. There is considerable movement in prunes and small sizes are scarce. The market is firm and slightly higher. Prices run from 4¾c. for 120-130's to 9¾c. for 30-40's. All Californian evaporated fruits are very firm. Evaporated apples and dried are unsatisfactory and prices are high and quality of stock low. Dried apples are 7¾ to 8c. and evaporated, 11½c. Cooking figs are higher and quoted at 4½ to 5¾c., according to grade and package.

CANNED GOODS.—The situation presents no new features this week. The advance on tomatoes has been maintained and buying has been heavy in anticipation of further advances. It would seem, however, that wholesale houses here have made no large purchases in the east since the advance took place, the major portion of them carrying heavy stocks and not requiring anything, but perhaps small sorting orders. Peas and corn are selling well and this season has witnessed an increased sale of asparagus and canned beets. Canned fruit is in moderate demand all the time, but there is not the sale of canned fruit that there was some years ago, more particularly in connection with the city trade. Prices for canned goods are now as follows: —Strawberries, heavy syrup, $3.25; preserved, $3.60; raspberries, preserved, $3.25; syrup, $2.95; blackberries, $2.75; finest fall creamery are reported at 21½ gooseberries, 2's, $2.90; 2's, preserved, $3.60; peaches, yellow, 2-lb. tins, $4.00; 3-lb. tins, $6; pears, 2-lb. tins, $3.50; 3-lb. tins, $4.50; apples, 3-lb. tins, canned, $2.50; 3-lb. tins, preserved, $3.65; gallon, canned, $1.60. Californian canned fruit in 2½-lb. tins—Plums, green gage, $4.25; Lombard, $4.20; damson, $4.20; egg, $4.20; peaches, $4.75; pears, $4.95; apricots, $4.75; cherries, white, $5.50. Canned vegetables — Tomatoes, $2.25 to $2.35; corn, 2-lb. tins, $1.90; peas, 2-lb. tins, $1.95; beans, 2-lb. tins, $1.85; pumpkins, in 3-lb. tins, $2.10; sugar beets, in 3-lb. tins, $2.20 per case.

GREEN FRUITS.—Very dull market with a limited range. Oranges, lemons, apples, cranberries and bananas are practically the only things moving. There are no changes of price to note in these lines. Californian navel oranges are $3.75 to $4.75 per case, according to sizes; lemons, $5.25; bananas, $3.50 to $3.75; apples, $5 to $6 per bbl.: short in supply and most unsatisfactory in quality.

FLOUR.—Locally, the market has been dull and there has also been a falling off in the demand from the east. Export trade to South Africa and Australia continues fairly active, one milling concern shipping 500 tons to Australia this last month. All mills are quoting the same prices for flour as follows: Ogilvie's Hungarian Patent, $2.00; Glenora Patent, $1.85; Alberta, $1.65; Manitoba, $1.55; Imperial XXXX, $1.25; Nestor, $1.15; Lake of the Woods Milling Co., Five Roses, $2.00; Red Patent, $1.85; Medora, $1.45; XXXX, $1.25; Hudson Bay Hungarian, $2; Strong Bakers', $1.85; Leader, $1.50; Gladstone Sweet Home Hungarian, $2.00; Home Rule, $1.85; Headingly Hungarian, $2.00; Favorite Family Patent, $1.70; Strong Bakers', $1.60; Pansy, $1.25.

CEREALS.—This market is somewhat dull and without marked change of any kind. Rolled oats shipments to the east are not as large as they were ten days ago, although still of goodly proportion. Quotations are: 80's, $2.40; 40's, $1.20; in 20's, 65c.; granulated and standard oatmeal, $2.90 to $2.95; split peas, $2.75 to $2.80 per 98 lb.; rolled wheat, $2.30; cornmeal, $2. Pot and pearl barley have advanced 10c. per 98-lb., and are now quoted at $2.35 and $2.65 respectively.

BUTTER.—Matters are in a little better shape than at the end of last week so far as receipts are concerned, but no improvement in quality is reported. The demand for the best quality of table butter is still poorly supplied and separator-made bricks in small quantities are jobbing at 25c. The amount of this quality of butter is extremely limited. Sweet fresh dairy in tubs and rolls jobs from 17 to 19c., according to its grade. There have been no receipts of creamery butter for the week. Held creamery in boxes jobs at 22 to 23c., while held creamery bricks, of which there is a small supply, job at 25c. There is still room on this market for a very considerable supply of really first-class dairy butter.

CHEESE.—Present holdings of cheese are small; in fact, there is practically no Manitoba-made now in jobbers' hands. One car received from Ontario proved to be white cheese, which is never popular on this market. Why, no one seems able to explain. A further car of good colored from Ontario is expected to arrive in the course of ten days. The price is firm and somewhat higher, being 11 to 11½c., and one or two sales have been made at 12c., where the quantity taken was small. Ontario cheese to arrive is certain to be quoted at 12c.

EGGS.—The very mild weather of the past few weeks has tended to relieve the situation as regards a supply of fresh eggs and all produce houses have been receiving fairly liberal offerings, so much so, in fact, that the price has fallen off for strictly fresh-gathered Manitoba eggs. These are, at present, jobbing for 27c.; Ontario eggs, 25c., and limed at 22c. The mild weather has come so early and has not been succeeded by a genuine cold snap so that dealers do not anticipate the present supply being kept up, and prices are liable to advance again any day. Guaranteed new-laid have only brought 35c. wholesale the last few days and are retailing at 40c. All dealers report an increased demand for eggs this year over any previous season and a greater willingness to pay higher prices.

FISH.—All dealers are laying plans for an excellent supply of fish for the Lenten season, and it is doubtful if Winnipeg has ever been better supplied in the first line than at present. Smoked, dry, and salt fish.—Finnan haddies are plentiful now and the quality is good. The price is shaded somewhat and quotations are now 7¾ to 8c. Lock fyne herring (very choice) are offering in kegs at $1 and in firkins, $1.75. Labrador herring are more plentiful and half barrels are worth $3.80. Smoked herring (Digby chicks) are worth 17 to 18c. per box. Bloaters are now in full supply at $1.50; cod, 6½c.; mackerel, $1.80. Fresh fish, frozen.—Oysters are still in active demand at $2 to $2.25 per gallon; trout, 10c.; British Columbia salmon, 9c.; halibut, 11c.; fresh cod, 7c.; fresh haddock, 7c.; shad, 9c.; mackerel, 10c.; smelts, 7½c.; tommy cods, 5½c.; flounders, 5½c.; herring, 15c. per dozen.

POULTRY.—No new receipts are coming in and practically all business is with frozen stock mainly from Ontario. The demand is dull and has been for the past ten days. Prices are without change. Fowl, 8½ to 9c.; chicken, 10c.; geese, 9 to 10c.; ducks, 9 to 10c.; turkeys, 12 to 13½c.

VEGETABLES.—Dealers report this market very slow, more so than is customary, in fact, and no reason can be assigned for the extra dullness, unless it is that the rumors of potatoes and in fact all vegetables being high which were circulated in the fall, caused householders to lay in larger stocks than usual and thus curtailed the ordinary day-to-day winter trade. No change of price is reported for week. We quote as follows: Potatoes, 30 to 35c. per bushel; carrots and beets, 45c. per bushel; turnips, 20 to 25c. per bushel; cabbage, $30 to $35 per ton; onions, 3c. per lb. The supply of lettuce, parsley and radishes is abundant. Price per doz. 40c. The celery supply is growing short and nothing worth having can be got under 60c. per dozen.

NOVA SCOTIA MARKETS.

Halifax, January 27, 1902.

CONSIDERING the season of the year—a month in which business is not usually very heavy—January, so far, may be considered as showing a fairly good business. The remarkably open winter contributes largely to this state of things, but business men are now hoping for a change, and the regular snowfalls of the season, as other lines of business—lumbering, for example—being retarded, will affect largely other business. This is particularly so with the grocery and provision trade.

Travellers are sending in fairly good orders from all sections of the country, but the effort of the wholesalers to sell on shorter time will contribute to reduce the size of orders. If goods have to be paid for on thirty days, they will be bought in thirty-day quantity. This will entail a greater number of regular trips by the travellers to keep the trade of their customers. In the end it will be a benefit to the wholesaler, and, no doubt, equally to the jobber and retailer.

The provision market remains steady and prices are firm and high. Butter is still scarce and high. Eggs are scarce and case eggs (fresh) during the week went up 2 cents to 24, but on Saturday dropped again to 23. Potatoes are still high, the wholesale price standing at 40 to 50c., according to quality. The cheese market is dull and price unchanged. In fact, this month and February mark very little change in provisions. March will doubtless see many changes.

Sugar, which had dropped 10c. per cwt. ten days ago has gone back to the old figures of a few months ago. Teas, tobacco, biscuits of all kinds, in which the trade is fairly steady, remain at the former prices, the latter being the only line susceptible to the recent increases in the price of flours.

The fish market may be considered—that is as far as prices go—but when one drops down the wharf of one of the many fish dealers in the city, the business would be considered "rushing." Every day sees a number of schooners discharging their cargoes from various ports, and the dealers are taking care of the fish and storing them away in hopes of a more favorable market. Lent is soon coming on, which will give this market a boom. Regular shipments are still being made to the West Indies, though the market there has not greatly improved. Seven hundred crates of live lobsters were shipped from Yarmouth last Wednesday, and brought $15.

The Victorian sailed on Tuesday with the second half of the C.M.R. As already noted, the larger part of her provisions for the 30 days' voyage were brought over from England, where, it is claimed, they could be purchased much cheaper. The firm of A. W. Mailing & Co., however, had an order to place on board 50,000 lb. of beef, for which cold storage had been provided. This is the only large order for the outfit.

R. C. H.

EXPORT POULTRY TRADE.

THE most notable advance in this branch of agriculture during the past season has undoubtedly been along the line of the export trade. The experience of the past in the departments of beef, pork, cheese and dairy products as regards export is now being repeated in the poultry industry. In a large farming and producing country like our own, with a limited population of consumers, it is well known that if a good trade in any product is to be built up, the demand must be created in some other country differing from ours in general conditions. The country that English-speaking people most naturally first look to is England with her crowded millions and enormous wealth. To her nearly all our overproduction finds its way, and a ready sale is always found for it, if the quality is good. After the demand is established a certain feature always crops up and that is the shipping of inferior grade of goods. The enormous demand leads to close scouring of the country and keen competition among buyers, causing prices to rise. In this way a forced supply is created and anything and everything is sold for and expected to do for export. At this point the poultry industry stands to day.

In a recent conversation with Dr. Boultbee, manager of The Canadian Produce Co., he gave the following facts regarding last season's business :

The company did not begin to get anything like the quantity they wished this season ; in fact, there is no chance of the demand being filled, or nearly so, for years to come, even if the production is doubled every year. The keen demand and the inadequate supply made prices rise this season 1 or 2c. per lb. over a year ago. The price, therefore, being very remunerative, everyone sent in everything he could, and the consequence was The Canadian Produce Co. was flooded for a time with wastrels, culls, skins and dying chickens that had to be given away or thrown out, as they were not even fit to sell in the local market, where almost anything goes, and these were sent in for export. It is here that the great mistake and danger to the export trade lies—poor quality. The fault does not lie with the exporting companies, but with the farmers, and the remedy is also in their hands.

The Canadian Produce Co. assert that 33 per cent. of Canadian farmers do not know what a fat chicken is, because they never owned nor saw one. It was a common occurrence with the company to receive a crate of chickens which the fond owners would describe as "extra fine birds," and when they arrived, lo and behold they were a lot of big fowl such as Cochins, Brahmas, or Plymouth Rocks, without an ounce of flesh on them more than sufficient to keep their bones from falling apart. The farmer must wake up to this matter. Fat chickens are wanted and every chicken must be fat, not ordinarily or in fair condition. And it should be no hardship to supply these as the matter of fattening has been gone thoroughly into by our Governments, and is now down to a fine point and easily within reach of every farmer. Besides, the additional weight gained easily pays the expense of putting it on. This point must be clearly understood, chickens for exportation must be as fat as possible, the farmers must keep pace in quality as well as quantity or Canadian poultry will lose the position that it holds in England to day, namely, the first.

So anxious and in earnest are the Canadian Produce Co. to have this matter thoroughly understood that Dr. Boultbee allows us to state that he will speak on the subject of export poultry before any Farmers' Institute meetings entirely at his own expense, and we also understand that Mr. Creelman fully sanctions and approves of his doing so. Any Institutes that desire to secure Dr. Boultbee's services may address him in the care of the Canadian Produce Co. in Toronto.

RATING OF RUSSIAN FIRMS.

Under date of December 20, 1901, United States Consul-General Holloway, of St. Petersburg, says : "One of the greatest hindrances to American business in Russia has been the difficulty in ascertaining the financial standing of firms soliciting credit, as commercial or inquiry agencies are unknown in this country. The usual way of prosecuting such inquiries is through special attorneys, who investigate and report on each case separately, charging according to the time occupied, viz., from 10 to 100 rubles ($5.15 to $51.50). I am now advised that the Bradstreet Co., through its New York or Berlin agencies, is prepared to report on the financial standing of Russian business men, corporations, and firms."

THE BEET-SUGAR INDUSTRY.

WORK ON THE WIARTON FACTORY.

NOW that the beet-sugar bonus and free site by laws at Wiarton, Ont., have been carried by the electors, the establishment of the factory there is assured. The directors of the Wiarton Beet Sugar Manufacturing Co. are busily engaged in making their preparations for building as soon as the season will permit. Already they have placed an order with a large United States firm for the steel work of their factory, the magnitude of which becomes very apparent when it is known that there are only two firms in existence who manufacture such heavy material as is used in these buildings. To provide stone for the factory, the quarry is being worked every day and the material is hauled by the carload from a siding nearby to the site of the factory where it is unloaded. The new railway siding into the grounds is now ready for the rails, which will be laid as soon as they arrive. Altogether 150 hands will be employed as soon as spring opens, erecting the buildings and installing the machinery, which has to be in before October 1, when the factory is to commence making sugar.

Already 3,000 acres for beet-growing have been secured by contract and no difficulty is expected in bringing up the list to 4,500 acres, the amount required. They also expect to have by next fall beets sufficient to keep the factory in operation. The quality of the beets grown around Wiarton has been proved by tests during the last four years to be second to none in Ontario, and so there will be no scarcity of the raw material once the industry is started.

INCREASING THE STOCK.

It is announced that the stock of the Wiarton Beet Sugar Manufacturing Co. has been increased from $150,000 to $500,000, to be divided into 20,000 shares of $25 each. The Wallaeeburg Sugar Co. may also increase its capital from $300,000 to $325,000.

SUGAR BEETS IN MANITOBA.

The report of the Manitoba Department of Agriculture was laid on the table of the House on January 24. At the outset the information published in the recently-issued crop bulletin was given in full, the acreage and yield of grain crops being reproduced, as before published. A section is also devoted to sugar beets, it being said :

"The experiments made in 1900 were unfavorable on account of the dry season. This season experiments were continued on similar lines. The result of the test this year is thus succinctly referred to by Professor F. T. Shutt, chemist, Central Experimental Farm, Ottawa :

"'The data for sugar content and purity indicate, I regret to say, in by far the larger number of instances, beets too poor for profitable manufacture.

"'The appearance of the beets in several of the samples showed that the roots had not been kept earthed up. This fact, no doubt, accounts in part for low results, and a further cause may be found in the unfavorable weather of the past season.

"'Though the results are far from encouraging, it is possible that exceptional conditions of season and neglect of special culture may be answerable for the low average obtained.

"'Dealing with the proposal to found an agricuitural college, the repoit mentions the work of the commission, and goes on to point out that experience has proved Provincial lands to be not inexhaustible, and therefore emphasizing the need for education along the right lines.'"

CIGARS IN THE WRONG BOX.

A Hamilton cigar dealer, E. Engel, has gotten himself into trouble by selling cigars out of a box other than new it is alleged. The charge is that he sold non-union made cigars from a box bearing a union label. It is said that the Inland Revenue Department is interested in the prosecution. The case will be heard next week.

WEIGHT OF BUTTER AND CHEESE.

The investigation regarding the alleged abuses in the weighing of cheese and butter at Montreal was begun last Tuesday, January 28, by W. G. Parmalee, Deputy Minister of Trade and Commerce, who has been appointed a Royal Commissioner to investigate into the matter by the Hon. Sydney Fisher, owing to representations made to him by a number of farmers and others.

These rules were drawn up by the Board of Trade of Montreal and adopted by the Butter and Cheese Association, who all unite in declaring that they are very fair. But the farmers, on the other hand, unanimously declare that they are decidedly unfair, hence the Royal Commission. After getting through with Montreal, the commissioner will proceed to St. Hyacinthe, Victoriaville, Brockville and Cowansville, in all of which centres it is expected that a great deal of evidence will be given.

SIXTY CENTS ON THE DOLLAR.

At a meeting of the creditors of Scott & Welch, Moorefield, Ont., at the office of R. Osler Wade, Toronto, on Monday, it was decided to sell out the stock to A. S. Scott & Co., Moorefield, at a price in cash which would pay the creditors 60c. on the dollar. The liabilities were $5,267.30, and assets nominally $5,370.61. The chief outside creditors were : The Watson, Foster Co., Limited, Montreal ; Fried, Wright & Co., London ; Dean & Westlake, Woodstock ; J. C. Taylor & Co., Hamilton, and Lucas, Steele & Bristol, Hamilton.

CREAMERY FOR ORILLIA.

It is announced that a creamery is to be established at Orillia, Ont., the capacity of which will be about 5,000 lb. daily. This will be built by Christopher Moor, who has been previously dealing in dairy butter, handling as much as 200,000 lb. last year. This has encouraged him to build, as he hopes to secure better prices for the creamery product. To insure the success of his new venture in every way he will install the best and most modern machinery and secure the services of the best buttermaker that can be found. The assistance of the Ontario Department of Agriculture will also be enlisted. It is to be arranged that milk can be brought in from within a radius of 16 miles of Orillia. This will result in a large increase in the number of cows kept by the farmers and bring considerable money into that district.

CURRENT MARKET QUOTATIONS

January 30, 1902.

This list is corrected every Thursday, and the quotations herein given are for the cities of Montreal, Toronto, St. John, N. B., and Halifax. The prices are solicited for publication, and are of such quantities and qualities as are usually ordered by retail dealers on the usual terms of credit. For Winnipeg market report and prices, see page 32.

Goods in large lots and for prompt pay are generally obtainable at lower prices.

All quotations for staple products are under the direct control of the Editors, who call daily upon all the leading houses in the principal centres.

The Markets—How to Make Blood Sausage—Miscellaneous Notes.

HOW TO MAKE BLOOD SAUSAGE.

We will feel especially favored if you will furnish us with a recipe for blood sausage. We are killing pigs, and making it pay.

USE all kinds of cheek meat, heart, lungs and pork rinds. It is hardly necessary to give any proportion for the mixing of these, as the quantity can be regulated entirely by the material at hand. Put the pork rind in a pudding net and boil until three fourths done; boil all the meat to be used in the sausage in the kettle until fully done (in doing this, it is necessary to boil slowly, and let the water cover the meat only so that the fat rising to the top can be easily removed, as by omitting this the appearance of the sausage would be impaired); to this mixture add salt, pepper and other spices, according to taste. Care must be taken in the first cooking of the pork rinds, not to boil too long, otherwise it would become too pulpy, when cooked the second time with the other meat. Rinds require a longer time cooking than the other meats, hence the necessity of having it partly done before mixing with the other meats. Take a gallon of beef or hog blood, immediately after the animal has been killed, and stir it long enough to make it retain its natural fluid condition. Mix with 15 pounds of the meat mixture, as above described. The mixture is then filled in casings (either beef bungs or beef middles can be used for same). Fill the casings three quarters full with a funnel, and cook slowly until done, which can be easily determined by pricking the same; if no blood flows and the sausage floats well up to the top, the same is done. Stir the sausage gently while boiling, in order to effect thorough mixture of the blood and meat; this prevents the sausage from having a one-sided appearance. After removing the sausage from the kettle, place same in fresh, cold water and allow it to remain until cold, then place side by side on a board to dry.—Butchers' Advocate.

THE CANNED BEEF INVESTIGATION.

"I regard it as extremely unfair," said a high official of the Militia Department yesterday, "that pending the report of the experts who are examining samples of the Canadian tinned meat, condemned by the War Office specialist in Cape Town, there should be broadcast references to the subject as an 'embalmed beef scandal.' In a day or two the Dominion analyst will have concluded his chemical test and the finding of the commission will be made public. In the meantime we know that to all appearances and judged by ordinary tests the beef is really of superior quality. I examined a case of this beef which had been kept for six days in a warm room after being taken from the tins, and I can assure you it was still perfect in preservation, flavor and appearance. As a matter of fact, this beef, which is of the brand ordinarily put up by a leading Canadian firm of packers, is a far better article than the canned beef put up in Chicago and St. Lonis. In the latter cities the prime cuts are usually supplied to the retail trade in the United States, only the neck, brisket and other inferior parts being reserved for canning. The Canadian packers, on the other hand, use smaller cattle, such as cannot be profitably exported, and all the beef portions of the carcase are canned, steak, sirloin and all. The result is a superior article of canned meat, and the samples I have seen of the beef returned from South Africa are fully up to the Canadian standard of excellence."

Asked to account for the adverse report of the War Office expert upon Canadian canned beef, the officer replied that either it was due to inferior foreign goods being mixed with the consignments from Canada, or to some mysterious influence at work to destroy the reputation of the Canadian product in the interest of unscrupulous foreign packers.—Citizen, Ottawa, January 24.

CLAIMS AGAINST A COLD STORAGE COMPANY.

In the matter of the winding-up of The Toronto Cold Storage Co., Limited, John Winchester, official referee, is advertising that the creditors and others having claims against the said company send them in with their names and addresses to E. R. C. Clarkson, Toronto, the liquidator, on or before February 13. The liquidator's report will be considered on February 17 at Osgoode Hall.

THE PROVISION MARKETS.

TORONTO.

Sparser offerings in western and northern hogs are reported this week, with market dull, the price being $7.50 per 100 lb. in carlots, only very exceptional lots bringing as high as $7.75. Dressed hogs on the St. Lawrence Market have been scarce this week, but it is difficult to quote prices for them owing to the unsettled condition of the live hog market, live hogs having taken another fall of 25c. Beef is very firm, and carcasses have advanced 25 to 50c. per 100 lb. Veal is also firm, and now brings as much as 1c. per lb. more than last week. We quote: Dressed hogs, $8.00 to $8.25; beef carcasses, $5.75 to $7 per 100 lb.; hind quarters, $6.50 to $7.50 per 100 lb.; front quarters, $4.75 to $5.50 per 100 lb. Veal, 7 to 8½c. per lb.; lambs, 7 to 7¾c. Live hogs: Selects, $6.12½, and lights $5.87½ per 100 lb.; choice export cattle bring $5 to $5.40 per 100 lb.; lights sell at $4 to $4.50.

The prices in provisions are steady, with a good demand for cured meats of all kinds. Lard is quite active and provisions firm. We quote: Long clear bacon, 10½ to 11c.; smoked breakfast bacon, 14 to 15c.; rolls, 11 to 11½c.; medium hams, 13½c.; large hams, 12½ to 13c.; shoulder hams, 10½ to 11c., and backs, 13½ to 14c.; Canadian heavy mess pork, $20.50 to $21; short cut, $22; lard, in tierces, 11¼c. per lb.; tubs, 11½c., and pails, 11¾c.

ST. JOHN, N. B.

In barreled meats, movement is light, and prices are very firm. Considerable local-packed pork has been used. In lard, there is a fair stock held. Prices are high and firm. In compound, prices are rather higher. Fresh beef is rather dull and shows a wide range in price according to quality. Round hogs are scarce, and for nice stock full figures are easily obtained. Clear pork, American, $22 to $23; mess pork, domestic, $21; plate beef, Canadian, $13.50 to $14; mess pork, American, $21.50; plate beef, American, $14.50 to $15; fresh beef, 4 to 6c.; fresh pork, 7½ to 8c.; pure lard, tubs, 12½c.; pure lard, pails, 12¾c.; compound, tubs, 10c.; compound, pails, 10¼c.; refined lard, compound, Fairbank's, tubs, 10¼c., pails, 10½c.

We will require large quantities of

MONTREAL.

There is a good demand for almost all classes of provisions and hog products. An increased inquiry is experienced this week for smoked meats for the Easter trade. Prices on live hogs are somewhat steadier, and there are more coming in. There is more Chicago mess pork in stock now, and on Jones', a second brand of Armour's, there has been a drop of 50c., prices now being $22.25 and $22.50. Lard is in good demand, especially compound lard. Fairbank's Snow White and Globe have been advanced to $1.75 per pail, a rise of 2½c. We quote as follows: Heavy Canadian short cut mess pork, $22; Chicago clear pork, $22.50 for heavy and $22.25 for medium; selected heavy short cut mess pork, boneless, $22.00 to $22.50; hams, 13c.; bacon, 15c.; lard, pure Canadian, $2.35 to $2.40 per pail; refined lard compound (Fairbank's); $2.05 for 1 to 24 pails; $2.03 for 25 to 49 pails; $2 02 for 50 pails and over. Snow White and Globe compound, $1.75 per pail; Cottolene, 10⅞c. for 20 lb. pails, and 10⅝c. for 60 lb. tubs, for Quebec and Ontario.

WINNIPEG.

CURED MEATS—Market is firm with fair demand, and no change of price is to be noted for the week, although there seem to be rumors of advances in the air. We quote as follows: Sugar-cured hams (smoked), 13¾c.; shoulders, 10¼c.; picnic hams, 8½c.; breakfast bellies 14c., backs, 14c.; spiced rolls, 11¼c. Dry salt, long clear, 11c.; dry salt backs, 11⅛c.

LARD—Market has been firm all week with considerable demand, and dealers report American lard firmer. We quote: 50-lb. pails, $5 85; 20-lb. pails, $2.40; American, 20 lb. pails, $2.55; 3 and 5-lb. tins, in 60-lb. crates, $7.55.

SAUSAGES—Demand is good and no change in price to record. Quotations are: Bologna, 7c.; pork, 8c.; liver sausage, 6c.; Vienna sausages, 10c.; blood do, 6c.; head cheese, 6c.

DRESSED MEATS—There has been considerable more demand this week, and, as supplies in sight are not large, more especially in the better grades, the prices are firm and have advanced slightly. Best city dressed beef is worth from 6¾ to 7c.; country dressed from 5¾ to 6c. Mutton is nominal at 8c. and lamb 9c., but nothing is doing at the present. Hogs are coming in pretty freely, but prices here are firm and run from 7¾ to 8⅛c. for the best grades of bacon hogs.

Every Retail Grocer

in Canada needs The N. K. Fairbank Company. The N. K. Fairbank Company needs every retail grocer in Canada. In other words, we need each other. Let us study those things that are to our mutual interest, laying aside all prejudices. We claim that our Boar's Head Brand of Refined Lard Compound, being practically vegetable oil that grows out of the ground, is more wholesome than it is possible for a product of the swine to be. It is absolutely free from the germs of hog cholera, scrofula and trichina inherent in considerable of the hog product. TRADE IN COUNTRIES OTHER THAN OUR OWN

PROSPECTS FOR CLOVES.

THE N. Y. Price Current says: "The clove season proper, that is, the period during which the crop ripens and is harvested, extends from September to March. Crop reports on cloves have been rather unreliable in past years. In the summer and autumn of 1898 considerable anxiety was felt as to what the season would bring forth, as there had been no heavy rains for 18 months, and a large number of trees perished. In Pemba alone fully 200,000 trees died. The rains, however, came in time to save the crop and the result was that it was one of the most prolific that Zanzibar Island had known.

"Late reports from primary sources estimate the new crop for 1901-1902 at upward of 100,000 bales, which exceeds expectations, and quite a few in the trade profess to place no confidence in these estimates. One reason which has led many to doubt the correctness of estimates is that the forecast of the 1900-1901 crop was 100,000 bales, whereas the actual yield amounted to about 50,000 bales, and the weather last season was much more favorable to the crop than it has been up to the present date this year. Receipts, however, at Zanzibar continue liberal and prices have weakened under freer offerings."

CODFISH CATCH LARGE

In most quarters a good, active interest is shown in the principal descriptions of salt fish, distributors at interior points purchasing more freely for Lenten requirements. There arrived Monday on the steamer from St. John's, Nfld., and Halifax, N.S., 432 barrels of herrings, 200 boxes and 1,699 drums of codfish, 296 barrels of salt mackerel and 20 tierces of salt salmon. Private mail advices from Boston, referring to conditions there, state: "The prospects are good for a large catch of codfish this spring, bait being generally plentiful on the Banks. Early this week there were 40 vessels in this port having a total of 1,500,000 lb. of mixed fish, the largest percentage being codfish."—N. Y. Journal of Commerce.

PRICE OF TOMATOES IN BALTIMORE.

A private wire received in New York on Saturday from Baltimore quotes offerings of 1901 pack 3-lb. standard tomatoes at $1.20 net f.o.b. from first hands. It is stated in the advices that stocks are generally in small compass. In the 1902 pack there is reported to be less disposition to name prices in packing quarters owing to the uncertainty that exists regarding the attitude of the farmers as to contract with packers. The feeling is that while the growers threaten not to plant the usual acreage under the contract basis last year, this attitude will not be maintained. Packers profess to feel confident that the growers in view of the prevailing high prices for last year's canned product will plant largely anticipating that when the packers get to work they will be willing to pay a substantial advance. This, it is stated, has created almost a deadlock, and for the present there is no disposition shown to accept business in futures.

CURRANT SITUATION IN GREECE.

Mail advices from Patras, Greece, referring to the situation in currants, state: "The steadiness reported hitherto has been maintained and the markets close at full prices, notwithstanding the limited business doing. Holders in the Provinces are very firm and unwilling to sell, the arrivals in consequence are limited. The total shipments to December 31 compare as follows with the two preceding seasons:

To—	Tons— 1901.	1900.	1899.
England	51,268	31,194	53,325
United States and Canada	14,900	4,145	14,820
Australia	3,400	2,835	4,147
France	441	31	1,085
Continent	23,570	2,185	18,080
	93,579	40,390	91,457

"In the foregoing shipments to December 31 last are not included those for the Continent and England, per several steamers lately, which have taken together over 4,300 tons. The stocks in Greece on January 1 are estimated to be about 26,000 tons. The currants deposited with the "Currants Bank" up to December 31 for the retention are officially given as 12,700 tons."

DRIED FRUITS IN LONDON.

The market for currants shows a moderate amount of activity in all qualities. Prices, generally, are very firm, and the Greek market for Provincial is about 1s. higher than the present London spot price. Here and there a small concession has been made to aid the disposal of some heavy parcels, but without any justification from a statistical point of view, and the few instances alluded to may be attributed to personal reasons. Again, these opportunities have been taken advantage of by buyers of a slightly speculative tendency, who are, for the most part content to hold them over for better times. In all qualities, except Provincial, the disposition is to hold in view of better prices, and attractive parcels are being picked up. Only one cargo, of about 1,200 tons, has arrived during the month, and only one more, of about 600 tons, is likely to come to hand before the February stocks are published. Business in sultanas is less heavy than of late, but prices are at least fully maintained, and nearly every transaction shows some advance in price over its predecessor. * * * * There is a distinctly better inquiry for Valencias, and business has transpired on the market at prices ranging from 26 to 38s. Fine to finest qualities are in very small compass in regard to stocks, and the bulk of the fruit in the United Kingdom is common to fair average only. It is probable, however, that the entire supply will be required for the normal demand between this and the next season, and it is unlikely that any reduction in market values will take place.—Produce Markets' Review, January 18.

CANNED SALMON HIGHER IN ENGLAND.

Salmon has again been one of the leading features, and prices for the lower grades have advanced 6d. per case; the better qualities have also been in larger demand, more especially for 1-lb. talls and ½-lb. flats, and as stocks of both on the spot are very limited, a further advance is expected. Prices have now been fixed for the 1901 pack by The Fraser River Association, and as quotations in many instances, although regarded favorably by the trade, are higher than the same class of goods can be bought on the spot, and it is very improbable that buyers can do wrong in seeing that their stocks are thoroughly replenished, more particularly as shipments this year by sailing vessels are later than usual.—Produce Markets' Review, January 18.

FUTURE TOMATOES QUIET.

A private telegram received to-day from a member of The Indiana Tomato Packers' Association states that the meeting held yesterday for the purpose of fixing a selling basis on the 1902 pack has been adjourned until March 4, no agreement as to prices having been reached. Other advices state: "The tomato packers are finding great difficulty in securing contracts for the raw product, farmers in all sections showing a disposition to hold back for higher figures than were paid last year. This difficulty is being met with in all sections, the farmers' enhanced ideas on the value of the coming crop being based on the evident shortage of stocks of canned tomatoes and the higher prices paid for the same. Some farmers have refused to make contracts under $8 per ton, an advance of fully 20 per cent. over last year's figures. On the basis of this advance the packers find it impossible to fix a selling basis on the canned article that would be acceptable to the trade."—N. Y. Journal of Commerce, January 24.

A new partnership consisting of H. N. Kittson, H. C. Beckett and J. T. Gillard, traders, Hamilton, Ont., owing to the death of W. H. Gillard, the senior partner of the firm, has been formed.

UNITED STATES COFFEE IMPORTS.

THE SPICE MILL, New York, in a recent issue says: "Wide publicity has been given to the figures recently issued by the Treasury Department showing the largely increased coffee imports of our country. According to the statement issued January 3 by the Bureau of Statistics, the coffee importations of the United States will, in the calendar year 1901, be the largest in the history of our import trade. Eleven months' figures of the Treasury Bureau of Statistics show that the importations of coffee amounted to 967,969,585 lb in the 11 months ending with November, against 707,496,152 in the corresponding months in 1900; 817,223,877 in the corresponding months of 1899; 744,910,179 in the corresponding months of 1898; 726,119,996 in the same months of 1897, and 567,929,817 in the 11 months of 1896.

"These figures indicate not only that the coffee importations of 1901 will be larger than those of any preceding year, but that they will, for the first time, exceed one billion pounds. The value of the coffee imports for the year will reach about $70,000,000. While the quantity imported will exceed by more than 200,000,000 lb. that of any preceding year, the cost will be less than the average during the years from 1890 to 1897, when the cost per pound was materially higher than at present.

Brazil furnishes, of course, by far the largest proportion of the coffee importations of the United States. In the 11 months ending with November the coffee imports from Brazil amounted, according to the Treasury Bureau of Statistics, to 762,148,514 lb., while the next quantity came from other South-American countries, 91,297,714 lb.; Central America, 64,554,400; Mexico, 21,594,432. Thus of this largest single importation in the entire list of our imports, sugar excepted, nearly all comes from American countries south of the United States, and this is equally true of sugar, excepting that share which is drawn from the Hawaiian Islands.

"The United States is by far the greatest coffee-consuming country of the world, as will be seen by the following table, which shows the importations of coffee into the principal countries of Europe and into the United States in 1899:

NET IMPORTS OF COFFEE.

Countries into which imported.	Total Consumption lb.	Per capita Consumption lb.
Russia	18,396,000	....
United Kingdom	29,120,000	.72
Italy	31,222,000	.98
Austria-Hungary	92,180,000	2.04
France	179,120,000	4.62
German Empire	343,501,000	6.12
United States	801,757,000	10.79

"The following table shows the total imports of coffee into the United States by fiscal years, from 1893 to 1901; also estimate for the calendar year 1901:

RETAIL GROCERS' SECTION MEETS.

On Thursday evening, January 23, the Grocers' Section of the Toronto branch of The Retail Merchants' Association held a meeting in their rooms at the corner of Bay and Richmond streets, Toronto. The report of the committee that waited upon the wholesale grocers was received and proved satisfactory. It was stated that at the joint meeting the chief problem was to define how far wholesalers were warranted in selling to hotels, restaurants and small manufacturers. Their position in this matter was defined to the committee, who were instructed to inform the wholesalers at the next joint meeting the views of the retailers on this question.

Much enthusiasm was displayed when the membership committee announced the addition of 37 new members.

The election of officers resulted as follows:

Chairman—F. C. Higgins (by acclamation).
1st Vice-Chairman—A. W. Johnson.
2nd Vice-Chairman—C. Simpson.
Treasurer—J. W. Nettleton.
Secretary—E. McAuliffe.

Messrs. A. Snuggs and J. W. Nettleton were re-elected to the Credit Reporting and Collecting Board.

HAMILTON BRANCH ORGANIZING.

A large number of Hamilton retail merchants gathered in the Board of Trade Rooms, Hamilton, on January 22 to listen to President Rogers, of The Toronto branch of The Retail Merchants' Association, and Secretary Trowern address them on the advisability of forming a branch in Hamilton. A number of Hamilton merchants gave their views, after which they decided to organize a branch of The Retail Merchants' Association of Canada in Hamilton.

A committee consisting of T. O. Carpenter, H. Hiland, Albert Case, J. T. Clarke, Wm. Bews, James Dunlop, Burwell Griffin, F. R. Newberry, G. S. Klein, and Wm. Fraser were appointed to make the necessary arrangements.

The Canadian Cream and Cheese Co., with headquarters at Ottawa, has been incorporated with a capital of $5,000.

Two caddies of tobacco and 75 cents in coppers were stolen from the grocery store of Wm. Carroll, Hamilton, on the evening of January 24.

TRADE CHAT.

ON the charge of burglarizing D. Grant's butcher shop and the grocery store of D. R. Duncan, James Tompkins is awaiting his trial at Owen Sound, Ont.

Corinne Cote, who is a spinster, of St. Roch, Que., is conducting a grocery business there under the name of Bedard & Co.

The Morganston Cheese Factory, near Port Colborne, Ont., was recently destroyed by fire. Loss, $1,800; insurance, $1,400.

Jean Baptiste, A. Turcotte and Abel Turcotte have formed a partnership as wholesale grocers, at Quebec, under the name of Nazarre Turcotte & Fils.

The Oakville Wine Co., Oakville, Ont., is a new firm which is at present turning out brands of "Kola" and "Sherry." Collins & Price are the managers.

Scott & Welsh, who conduct a business in general merchandise, at Moorefield, Ont., have assigned to R. Osler Wade. There was a meeting of their creditors last Tuesday.

The Simcoe Canning Co., Hamilton, Ont., have shipped two carloads of canned tomatoes, valued at $1,600, to New York, the second shipment by this firm this season.

Epstein & Ein, general merchants, Louisburg, N.S., who were burned out in the Louisburg fire, have secured a new building there, where they are opening out with a full line of goods.

The Hampton Butter and Cheese Factory, Durham county, Ont., is being advertised for sale by tender up to February 3. The factory is well furnished, the butter plant being nearly new.

At Woodstock, N.B., almost the whole of the stock of groceries of R. E. Holyoke, was destroyed by a fire which recently occurred in the building occupied by him. His insurance was $550.

Levi Hart & Son, Limited, are the firm that has been organized to continue the fish, flour and feed business of L. Hart & Son, Halifax. They have added to this the corn mills and flour and feed business of Cunningham & Curren.

A. D. Anderson and R. S. S. Skinners are the successors to James McNeil, the well-known general merchant, of Keene, Ont., who has just retired from business, after a successful career of 53 years behind the counter.

Desire Lamontagne, trader, and Joseph Fournier, clerk, both of St. Charles, Bellechasse, Que., have formed a partnership to carry on a wholesale and retail meat business at St. Charles, under the style of Lamontagne & Fournier. The partnership has existed since January 1, 1902.

RE-LIQUEFYING HONEY.

J. H. Schmidt, in Gleanings.

THE bottling of extracted honey for the wholesale and retail trade to supply a market which calls for and wants only extracted honey must necessarily be undertaken on a large scale, and one somewhat larger than most beekeepers have been accustomed to battle with. Cincinnati, as many know, is a market for extracted honey from the small ten-cent bottle to the 500-lb. barrel shipped in by the carload, and bought by the manufacturer who uses a large quantity of the darker and inferior grades. Then comes the grocery trade, each store with its large or small display of various-sized bottles containing extracted honey of the best looks and the best flavor—the very cream of the beekeepers' labor. This trade, although not as large as that of the manufacturer, is nevertheless a very important and delicate one; for, if the honey is granulated, it is looked upon with suspicion. A shelf containing glass jars filled with liquid honey, and one just below it with granulated honey of the same quality, the latter will stand untouched while the former is often sold twice over.

This state of affairs has set Mr. C. H. W. Weber, a Cincinnati honey merchant, to thinking; for to be continually replacing honey which granulates so quickly during cold weather, was a task almost impossible, and not at all profitable. Mr. W. follows a plan of putting up honey which he calls the new way of liquefying and bottling honey, which is not only a success so far, after the most severe tests, but also allows the work to be done rapidly and to perfection. Through the kindness of Mr. W., who explained everything in detail, I will try to impart some of this interesting knowledge to beekeepers.

This new (?) method is, to some extent, based on the same principle which our mothers and grandmothers have been practising for years, and is now still in use, and probably will be through the present century and the next. We know how much care is taken at home during our preserving time, to have all jars and cans containing the preserved fruit very hot just before they are sealed airtight. Fruit put up in this way will keep for years, and the syrup will never show the slightest trace of granulation. Now, we may ask, why should not this method preserve honey in liquid form? Well, as a matter of fact, it does it in this case just as in the first. This is the foundation upon which Mr. W. bottles honey; and as most of the honey which comes to him is already granulated, his method must be worked on the wholesale plan; for, instead of working with quarts or gallons, he had to consider barrels at a time.

For this purpose a large tank was constructed, which holds one barrel of granulated honey at a time. This tank is an ingenious affair; in fact, it is really two tanks in one. The inside, or honey-chamber, is surrounded by an outer tank made of copper, with a 3-inch space between the two for the water. This surrounding water is heated by a gas-stove of special design, which also acts as a support for the tank. The height of the water within the tank is registered outside at all times, and the amount can be increased by turning on the water connection, which is on the opposite side. Should the water supply become too great, a turn or two on a small wheel at the bottom of the tank on the left-hand side allows the water to escape into a drain, and it is thus carried away.

When the honey has been reconverted into the liquid state, and the register on the tank shows that the proper temperature (180 deg.) has been reached, or has been so for at least five or 10 minutes, one of the assistants allows a quantity of the hot honey to run into a very large coffee pot, which is found to be an excellent article for the purpose on account of the large lip, which makes pouring without spilling an easy thing. He then proceeds to fill the empty glass jars ready at hand. Another assistant, supplied with corks and a mallet, takes the bottles as fast as they are filled, and hammers a cork into each. This method of inserting corks seems rather strange; for, to see him rain heavy blows upon the mouth of each bottle, makes one believe he possesses a wonderful amount of skill to hit the cork every time without breaking the bottle, but on investigation the secret is found to be in the mallet, which is made of solid rubber; and any amount of hammering on the bottle would not break it. This mallet does its work well, for it puts the cork in squarely and rapidly, and has never been known to break a bottle. The corked bottle is then passed to Mr. W., who dips the same in a preparation of melted resin and beeswax, which gives the bottle a perfectly airtight seal, and also a nice yellow cap, which is in perfect color-harmony with the light yellow honey, and last, but not least, this "cap" is cheap.

The bottles then pass to another assistant, who arranges them near a large block of ice in order that the caps will harden quickly, thereby preventing air bubbles from working through the cap which would leave a weak place in the corking and finally allow air to enter.

This part of the work is not yet perfected, as Mr. W. intends to have a track built, upon which a small carriage—constructed so as to hold about one dozen bottles in an inverted condition—will travel, and this carriage is to carry and hold the bottles over a tray of crushed ice. After the caps are hardened, the bottles are placed on shelves, and afterward properly labelled, ready for the traders, with a guarantee as to the purity of the contents, and an assurance that no granulation will take place in the future.

The rapidity with which the work is done is really astonishing. Three experienced helpers can in three hours fill and seal 1,200 bottles. The success of this method may be seen from the fact that some honey put up last summer had been kept on ice since bottling, and after passing through the present winter, is just as clear as it was the day it was put up and not a single crate of granulated honey had to be replaced this winter. The whole operation described above of bottling honey is done right in Mr. W.'s large, roomy store, where customers and visitors are always welcome to witness the proceedings from beginning to end. This, many take advantage of, and when they see a barrel of granulated honey transferred to the tank, and then, in a short time, extracted therefrom in the form of a thick, golden liquid, and after following it through the various operations until the sealed bottle stands ready to receive the label, little doubt remains in their mind as to the purity of the article, and many leave with the proverb that "all pure honey granulates," badly exploded, for they have just learned that "all pure honey will not granulate," which may now be called the twentieth-century revision of what has heretofore been pumped into the ears of the public as a true test for pure honey.

"Now, instead of trying to teach people to accept something they do not want, why not spend less time, do less talking and make more money by giving them what they do want, for, "a man convinced against his will is of the same opinion still"; and if he asks for extracted liquid honey, and you talk him into buying a bottle of granulated honey, nine times out of 10 he will hesitate the next time, and generally go where he knows he can get what he wants.

THE BRADSTREET COMPANY gathers information that reflects the financial condition and the controlling circumstances of every seeker of mercantile credit. Its business may be defined as of the merchants, by the merchants, for the merchants. In procuring, verifying and promulgating information, no effort is spared, and no reasonable expense considered too great, that the results may justify its claim as an authority on all matters affecting commercial affairs and mercantile credit. Its offices and connections have been steadily extended, and it furnishes information concerning mercantile persons throughout the civilized world.

Subscriptions are based on the service furnished, and are available only by reputable wholesale, jobbing and manufacturing concerns, and by responsible and worthy financial, fiduciary and business corporations. Specific terms may be obtained by addressing the Company at any of its offices. Correspondence Invited.

A GOOD MARGIN OF PROFIT FOR THE RETAILERS.

Suggestion vs. Argument !

A suggestion is always better than an argument, because it will please a customer, while an argument creates distrust of your motive. No argument is needed to sell that "totally different" Cereal Breakfast Food, Wheat Marrow, and no more do you have to argue to sell Stephens' Pickles. A suggestion of both of these two articles is all that's needed.

Wheat Marrow.

The Cereal Breakfast Food that is in a class by itself, because so "totally different" from all others. Sterilized. Can be prepared in more different ways for the table and in quicker time than any other. Used in place of cracker crumbs for frying. Healthful, nourishing. The ideal food for infants, invalids and those of weak digestion.

Stephens' Pickles.

Are you quite sure of quality when you buy pickles in bulk? You may get them packed in something else besides absolutely pure Malt Vinegar unless you look for the name "Stephens." When you see that name you get absolutely safe packing in pure Malt Vinegar brewed by the Messrs. Stephens themselves. And the Pickles are sound, crisp and piquant always.

Sold by leading wholesalers everywhere.

"JUST FITS THE HAND"

Incomparable

"Imperial" White Wine Vinegar

Is not compared with ordinary vinegar—"Contrasted" is the word. There's a world of difference between what some manufacturers term "as good as" and

"IMPERIAL" itself.

Is the name "IMPERIAL" on the barrel?

"As good as" means taking a chance. "Imperial" means perfect satisfaction always. 5 grades. The same price as the ordinary standard article.

Payne's Pharaoh Cigar

The first profit you make from the sale of the "Pharaoh" Cigar is simply the stepping stone which leads to other profits—because the "Pharaoh" has never yet failed to satisfy the most critical smoker. It has a clear Havana filler (each Cigar is the same clear Havana) and the choicest Sumatra wrapper that money will buy. It burns freely and is sweet down to the last whiff.

The customer who is once a buyer of the "Pharaoh" pays you a steady profit, because—AFTER THAT, HE WILL BUY NO OTHER.

It pays to sell the "Pharaoh."

MORE SATISFACTION

Tillson's Pan-Dried Oats

MORE SALES

If you sow satisfaction you will reap a harvest of more sales, that's dead sure. We have put in the connecting link which will bring this cause and effect together. If you always supply your customers with the kind which satisfies it will take more than another pound offered by your competitor to tempt them away from your store. This past year has been the very best in our whole history, and we put it down to the one fact that we gave more satisfaction and the results came along naturally. PUT new life into this department of your store and KEEP IT in by always supplying TILLSON'S PAN-DRIED OATS.

All the statements being made, detrimental to the qualities of

will not, and cannot, affect its sale—because its popularity is based on a substantial foundation which cannot be shaken—true merit. Notwithstanding the kind of publicity our tea friends pushing the sale of Ceylon and Indian Teas are indulging in, somehow or other the demand for JAPAN TEA is daily increasing. A Safety Buoy

For your guidance, should be the experience of others. Bright business fellows usually regard these signals—THEY PROFIT BY THEM. Merchants doing business in the old way—by use of pass books, will assure you that their losses are no inconsiderable sum, that in the rush and hurry of selling many items are omitted, and very often throughout the year such losses are occasioned that the results measureably affect the profits. Perhaps this very leak may have occasioned the shrinkage in YOUR profits last year.

With Allison's Coupon Books mistakes are impossible. There are never any losses through failure to charge goods—THEY EFFECTUALLY BLOCK THE LEAKS. Easy to use, and like this :

THE ART OF WINDOW DRESSING.

HINTS AND IDEAS BY AN EXPERT.

Some Original Grocery Trims.

IF there is any one store above others that should be especially neat in all its appartments, it is the grocery, for there are selected and purchased the staples. His great source of profit lies in his specialties. He cannot sell specialties to any great extent without proper introduction through his show-windows or interior displays. Therefore, a grocer's success depends largely on the manner in which he displays his wares.

The Art of Window Dressing.—A Woodenware Display.

Some grocers say: "I have no time to trim windows." No, they are too busy tying up parcels of sugar and other staples in which there is little or no profit. Others, with more reason, explain that they don't know how to trim a window properly. The first point is to arouse grocers to the fact that they can increase their incomes through good window displays. The next is to teach them to employ the same common-sense methods to their window decoration that dry goods and other stores do to theirs. Fancy groceries are very attractive goods. They are mostly put up in packages that admit of artistic decoration.

The miscellaneous and crowded displays as seen in the average grocery window are not as good business windows as the individual displays (by that I mean one thing or one line of goods at a time). Change this in a few days to an entirely different line. People will soon learn to look to your windows for hints in desirable and seasonable goods. There is no objection to making a solid display of one particular brand of goods. The sale helps you as well as the manufacturer.

When you make a display of canned goods, open a can or two of tomatoes or peaches, or whatever your display is, and show the contents in a large glass class of goods about which we are most particular. The one-country grocery of a cross-roads town may, perhaps, with impunity be slovenly and untidy in its appearance—but wherever there are two or more stores to choose between, the neat housewife will invariably choose the one that is cleanest and best arranged.

Most people love good things to eat, and appreciate most fully the fact that "variety is the spice of life" and are constantly on the lookout for appetizing novelties, and seek in the windows of grocery stores those delicious edibles so profusely provided by manufacturers who know how to cater to the universal palate. The grocer who has no show-window is the one who does not purchase from his jobber the luxuries in shelf goods, for in truth he finds no sale for them. People naturally buy what they see and what is tempting to their appetites. When they do not see the grocer's special preparations, they do not call for them, and the poor grocer loses sales on the most profitable line pertaining to his business.

No grocer ever became rich by selling dish, in the centre of the window. People can thus see what they are buying and will buy, perhaps, more liberally. A trim of bakery goods, such as crackers, biscuits, cakes, etc., will always be found very inviting. Make a small house, church, or other building from common box boards and cover it with white cotton. With pins, fasten graham and soda wafers to the sides and roof, and at the corners run ginger snaps. A fence and sidewalk of the same materials will set off the house. For windows use colored-tissue paper, and at evening put a light inside the house, which will make the windows glow brightly. Price the goods, and the display will sell them.

House-cleaning time is near, and most grocers carry brushes and brooms. Make a window of them. Have your scouring soaps and cleaning compounds conspicuously displayed. Dress a female "form" in calico-wrapper and apron, with rolled-up sleeves, and put her on her hands and knees, in the act of scrubbing, in the centre of your window. It will pay any grocer to buy a "jointed" female-dummy or form, as they can be used over and over again in displays of grocers' stuffs. They always attract attention to a display.

Saturday is generally baking day with most housekeepers. You could arrange your "dummy" in the act of kneading dough on a table, in the centre of the window. Show your different brands of flour, baking powders and flavoring extracts.

Monday is washing day. Here is a chance to make a display of soaps, tubs, washboards, blues, and clothespins, etc. The "dummy" can be arranged at the washtub, in the act of washing, and to advertise six bars of soap for a quarter, run a clothesline across your window and suspend various packages of soap, starch and blueing from it by the aid of clothespins and show a sign reading: "The Best Line of Laundry Goods in Town."

Friday is sweeping day and an appropriate display may be made of brooms, whisks, dusters, carpet sweepers and dustpans. Never forget your signs. Put a price and descriptive card on everything. Your display is useless without them. That's business, and will make business for you. Don't make a sign so big that it will cover the goods; the sign should be an accessory or supplement to the goods.

Show one line at a time. A coffee window should suggest only coffees; a tea window only teas, and so on.

For a display of fruits, when fresh fruits are scarce, a good window may be made with dried or desiccated fruits. Cut out the form of a huge peach, pear, apricot, or apple, etc., from cardboard. Back these up with thin boards to make them substantial, and cover the surfaces closely with the fruit corresponding to each form. These may be put standing on the floor of your window, which should first be covered with cheesecloth or crepe paper. Or secure a small tree, place it in the centre of your trim, and on its branches tie lemons or oranges.

I have given you these rambling suggestions merely as hints of what may be accomplished in the way of novel grocery trims. Your own taste and judgment will dictate the methods of arrangement, and when you look over your stock with the idea of making window displays you will be surprised to see what beautiful and varied trims are among your possibilities. Of one thing you may be assured. A good window display will surely sell your goods every time. Try it and you will find I am right.

WRAPPING PARCELS A LOST ART.

THE paper bag seems to have been the beginning of it. Before its coming even a crossroads grocer could lay a double thickness of brown paper on the counter, empty a dollar's worth of "coffee A" sugar upon it out of a brass scoop, and tie the package up as smooth and tight as a block of planed wood. How many clerks in a Chicago corner-grocery could do it now?

In the old days, in some of the smaller towns, the purchaser carried his sugar home on his arm, and in consideration of this the brown parcel would be rewrapped in a thinner, lighter sheet of paper, which was supposed to make a more comely package.

It was remarkable what a neat-looking bundle a grocer or hardware dealer could make of several odd-shapped bundles or packages. In some of the "general" stores a coffee-mill, a bag of salt, and a tin dipper could be tied into a paper so skillfully that a neighbor across the street seeing the head of the house come in with it would be left in deep wonderment as to whether it was a new suit of clothes or a bolt of "domestic."

With the perfecting of the paper bag, however, slovenliness began to mark the wrapping in stores. At first a bag was filled, the top folded into place neatly, and tied as if it were open paper. Then, the grocer, especially, compromised by twisting up the mouth of the bag and rolling it down on to the contents, using no string whatever.

To-day wrapping up bundles is a lost art. Nobody carries neat bundles anywhere. An ordinary package of some solid object is laid down on a piece of paper, and, as it is rolled up, the ends of the paper are tucked into the bundle, leaving the wrapper to tie a string around the centre of the roll. With many small objects no string is used, and a person with several of these bundles, starting home from downtown, is most likely to have trouble with wrappings before he gets there.

In many things the druggist still does neat wrapping, as in the case of bottles, packages, and even powders. But to buy from his general stock of toilet articles and kindred goods, he makes as ugly a bundle as the grocer. In most cases, too, he uses some hideously colored wrapping paper, which simply flares with the "intelligence" to the public that you or some of your family is sick.

The ordinary bundle to-day is neither neat nor pretty—which may be a reason why more than ever before people insist on having all goods "delivered to the rear."—Chicago Grocer.

CANADIAN BUSINESS MEN AND THE WEST INDIES.

A REPRESENTATIVE of THE GROCER at Halifax had the pleasure of a short chat with Mr. W. A. Black, of Pickford & Black, one day last week regarding winter travel to the West Indies. Mr. Black said that the Oruro, which sails on February 10, had then over 20 passengers booked, and, by the time of her departure, would probably have quite a few more. He said that the Dahome, sailing on February 24, has also booked a number, and that they hope to see a large party on the passenger list before the ship sails. The Dahome is the boat secured by Pickford & Black to take the place of the Orinoco, which had an accident happen to her boilers when on her last trip to Demerara, and is now laid up for repairs.

The Dahome is one of the steamers of the Furness Line, and is fitted and furnished with all the modern conveniences throughout. Starting from Halifax on February 24, she will, three days later, reach the little island of Bermuda, the land of the lily and the rose, and, after about 24 hours stay at Hamilton, the capital of the Island, will proceed on a voyage to St. Kitts, a four days' sail, and one that passengers will find all too short, so beautiful are the days and so lovely are the nights.

At St. Kitts the steamer remains almost a day, and there one first sees the social and physical wonders of the tropics. Next morning Antigua is reached, and after eight or ten hours' stay, move on to Dominica; then to Montserrat and St. Lucia, the headquarters of the British garrison in the West Indies. From St. Lucia to Barbados is one night's sail, so that the steamer usually arrives at Bridgetown about daylight. Two days in Barbados and then off for Grenada, St. Vincent, and Trinidad, at the latter of which about two days more are usually spent. Then to Demerara and remain three days, long enough to get some exercise and be ready to start for home again.

Pickford & Black are especially anxious to see Canadian business men make a trip to the various islands, as they believe it will give a needed impetus to our export trade. The cost of the entire passage is only about $3 a day, from Halifax to Demerara and return to St. John, and the accommodation and attention on board the Dahome will be found to compare favorably with the best Atlantic line.

LOAVES WERE UNDER WEIGHT.

Seventeen loaves of bread weighing less than five pounds each were offered for sale by Wm. Feeley, a baker of Hull, Que. When he appeared before the Ottawa police magistrate he pleaded guilty to the charge. As he had been convicted previously for a similar offence, he was assessed with a fine of $15, and costs amounting to $1 were added.

Gregoire H. Renaud, also of Hull, was another baker who had in his possession and offered for sale loaves below the required weight. Four light-weight loaves were found on his premises. He was let off with $10 and $1 costs, as this was his first offence.

DISHONEST APPLE PACKERS.

As large quantities of apples are being packed for export at Brighton, Ont., the place was visited last week by Fruit Inspectors Carey, Scriver, and Wartman. As a result, convictions were made, violations of the Act being established. The inspectors state that a fairly large percentage of the packers observe the Act, but in the way of honest packing and marketing they see lots of room for improvement. They intend to prosecute every case of violation.

B.C. FRUIT GROWERS MEET,

CONSIDERABLE interest was displayed in The British Columbia Fruit Growers' Association, which had its yearly meeting at Vancouver for three days, commencing January 23. Amongst those who attended were: H. Kipp, President; I. C. Metcalfe, Vice-President; W. J. Brandrith, Secretary; R. M. Palmer, I. Love, I. de C. Wetheral, Thomas Earle, T. Cunningham. T. Thrift, J. Hill, W. E. Norris, Tom Wilson, Capt. Tatlow, M.L.A., and others.

The president in his address reviewed the year's work of the association. He gave the C.P.R., the steamboat and transportation companies credit for the manner in which they had received the association's transportation committee. He mentioned a number of drawbacks that they had experieneed, partieularly the dry-rot of the plum and cherry. Judicious spraying had greatly helped. Fruits were also sometimes injudiciously picked. An expert had been engaged from the older fruit-centres, to give them lessons in the packing and handling of fruit. He described his visits to the fruit exhibition at Kelowna, where a great and excellent display of plums, pears, apples, and peaches, was made, and to the exhibitions at Salmon Arm, Kamloops, Asheroft and Lytton.

J. C. Metcalfe, chairman of the transportation committee, gave an account of his trip to Winnipeg in charge of an experimental car of fruit last summer. He demonstrated that fruit could be suecessfully shipped from the Fraser River Valley to Winnipeg. To command the markets in Manitoba and the Northwest many points should be considered. Varieties should be grown that would command the best sale in the market, and at the same time be most suitable for growth in the locality where they are produced To obtain clean fruit required consistent spraying. There should be careful and honest picking, grading and packing. The best quality and a uniform size of paekages should be used, and also tin, rather than wooden tops in plum and prune baskets. All packages should be branded with the variety and quality of the fruit, and the name and address of the grower. He suggested that representations should be made to the C.P.R. and other earriers of fruit for an expedited serviee of five days to Winnipeg, and less to nearer points, and lower rates, if possible, amongst other things.

Thomas Earle's paper was on fruit-growing in the interior of British Columbia, and mentioned most of the prineipal orehards from Lytton up the Valley of the Thompson, through by Kamloops, Salmon Arm, Okanagan, Kelowna and other eentres. He had a list of the varieties of fruit which he eonsidered the most profitable to grow in British Columbia.

A eommittee consisting of Messrs. Norris, Wilson and Brandrith was appointed who will confer with J. R. Anderson regarding the publication of an annual report of the association and the chanees of having their printing done by the local Government.

The eleetion of officers resulted as follows:

President—J. C. Metcalfe.
First Vice-President—H. Kipp.
Second Vice-President—J. Orr.
Third Vice-President—A. C. Wilson, Nanaimo.
Secretary-Treasurer—W. J. Brandrith.

All members in good standing were appointed directors.

At a meeting of the creditors of Seott & Welsh, general merchants, Moorefie,d, Ont., who recently assigned to Osear Wade, Toronto, with liabilities of $5,287 and assets of $5,570, it was decided to sell the stock to A. Seott & Co. for sufficient to pay to the ereditors 60c. on the dollar.

INDUSTRIAL GOSSIP.

PORT ARTHUR'S NEW ELEVATOR. The Canadian Northern Elevator, just finished at Port Arthur, Ont., is one of the largest in the Dominion, having a capacity of over 1,250,000 bushels of grain. This is contained in 108 bins, each capable of holding 9,500 bushels. Ten lofters or legs, each having a capacity of 10,000 bushels per hour, supply grain to the bins, while it can be conveyed away from them by as many shipping spouts, having an equal, if not greater, capacity. The 85,000-pound scales are of the most modern type. They can weigh the largest car on the road.

The main building itself is 239 feet long and 98 feet high. It rests on over 4,000 piles and 144 concrete piers. The piles are of tamarac, the main frame of red pine, and the cribbing of hemlock. Altogether over 2,349,000 feet of lumber was used in the structure.

Engines of 750 horse-power supply light and motive power. The cylinder is 24 x 48, the fly-wheel 18 feet in diameter, and the shaft 12 feet 8 inches long. Fire protection is afforded by the latest and most perfect apparatus obtainable.

NEW CO-OPERATIVE CREAMERY. In the Township of Guelph, in the County of Wellington, a co-operative company is being formed with shares placed at $5 each, for the purpose of conducting a creamery in the old cheese factory, formerly carried on by C. Millan. A meeting was recently held, at which several preliminary details were gone into and a board of provisional directors appointed, consisting of Messrs. James Armstrong, Rob. Armstrong, J. Smith, Walter Atkinson, Kenneth McLennan, John Scott, J. T. Crosby and G. D. Gopsill. These gentlemen will at once call on the neighboring farmers to solicit stock subscriptions and to find out the quantity of cream available. Tenders were also laid before the meeting for the building and supplies.

NEW FLOUR MILL AT PRINCE ALBERT. The Prince Albert Elevator Co. intend building a new flour mill and another elevator at Prince Albert, N.W.T. The mill is to be capable of turning out 100 barrels of flour every day, and the elevator will have a capacity of 25,000 bushels of grain. These buildings will represent an outlay of some $25,000. The company want the town council to aid them with a bonus of $3,000 and tax exemption on half of their outlay. They figure that the interest on the 20-year debentures will amount to $180 a year, while the taxes on 50 per cent. of the investment will amount to $240 yearly. This will leave each year a balance of $80, which could be applied to the sinking fund. It is stated that the town council is in favor of this proposition, so the elevator concern will likely obtain their request.

ALD. LAPORTE, of Laporte, Martin & Cie.

A NEW CHEESE COMPANY. The Canadian Cream Cheese Company is the name of a new firm which is being formed at Ottawa by a number of citizens. They will enter upon the manufacture of several leading brands of cheese. Already they are placing on the market the "Glen" brand of cheese which they claim is of very high quality. The officers of this company that have been elected for 1902 are:

E. W. Clark, president.
A. MacLean, vice-president and treasurer.
T. V. MacLean, secretary.
Gwyn Osler, of O'Gara, Wyld & Osler, solicitor.

An experimental shipment is going to be sent to South Africa by the Government transports. An agent there reports that there is a good opening, which he will be given an opportunity to prove.

MACARONI TABLE FIG.

A "new" foreign fruit that gives signs of becoming popular is the "Macaroni-packed" table fig. Some time ago about 500 boxes of these were disposed of on this market, and seemed to be well liked. At the price sold at, however, they were not a successful venture for the importers. A proper appreciation of the value of packing dried fruits will tend greatly to increase the demand for these goods. They are packed in their natural state, without being slit open and flattened out, which process not only robs them of much of their flavor but also adds to their cost.

In London, the first figs packed like this were for cooking purposes, but they were found so delicious that they were used as table figs. Seeing this, the importers had table figs packed in this way, and they took a very short time to establish themselves in strong favor.

WHOLESALE GROCERS TORONTO.

THE FRUIT GROWERS OF NOVA SCOTIA.

THE annual meeting of The Nova Scotia Fruit Growers' Association was held at Wolfville, N.S., recently. There was a good attendance and considerable interest was manifested throughout the meeting. The President, J. W. Bigelow, in his report, which he presented, said :

In submitting this my report to this Association which has for the past 38 years chronicled the progress of horticulture in Nova Scotia, it is gratifying to be able to report that this, our own loved Province, has this year been blessed with an abundant crop of excellent fruit. Our principal crop, apples, will yield about 300,000 barrels for export. The world's crop of apples is this year reported at 35 per cent., and on this continent it is estimated at only 25,000,000 barrels against an average crop of 60,000,000. Our plum crop this year yields about 60,000 baskets; pears, a fair crop of good quality; peach crop good, quality excellent; strawberries, about 300,000 baskets. Owing to early frosts, the cranberry crop was a failure in many sections, and a total crop of only 600 barrels is the result. Prices, $6 per barrel. About 75 acres of cranberries are under cultivation in Kings county. All fruits and berries sold at remunerative prices.

A strange feature of our apple trade is, this year, so far, our English market has given us the poorest returns. Our Gravensteins have not netted the growers $2 per barrel in England, while they would have brought $4 to $5 per barrel in American markets. The principal reason seems to be that apples arrive in bad condition and show signs of having been cooked in transit. Another singular feature of the trade this year is that apples have been shipped to England via Montreal at less cost and arriving in better condition than those shipped via Halifax.

He then proceeded to mention that Nova-Scotian orchards had not suffered much from insect pests and that when inspected by Professor Thro no San Jose scale was found in Nova Scotia whatever. Even the young orchard trees and imported stock bore no traces of it.

Twelve counties were represented in the recent fruit exhibit at Halifax, at which over $800 were paid in prizes. It was the largest ever known, there being shown over 3,000 plates and a large quantity of berries in acid. An exhibit was also made at the Pan-American Exhibition of Nova-Scotian fruit, at which two gold, one silver and three bronze medals and four diplomas were received as prizes. As these had only been placed on exhibition one month before the fair closed, the awards proved most satisfactory. To ascertain what varieties of apples can be grown in Nova Scotia to the best advantage commercially, he had secured a list of four of the most profitable varieties grown in each State of the Republic and also in Ontario. He had selected one barrel each of Kings, Ribstons, and Golden Russets to be sent to the Prince of Wales, by their patron, Lieut.-Governor Jones, in the name of the association.

Prof. F. A. Waugh, of Vermont University, Burlington, gave an interesting address illustrated by stereopticon views. His subject was "The Fruit Spur."

S. McNeil, of Walkerville, Ont., related his experience with the San Jose Scale. He warned the Nova Scotians that no efforts that could be made would be too drastic and no amount of money spent would be too much to spend to stamp it out.

Vice-President Innis had a paper on the classification of freight. He showed how unfair and burdensome the railway freight-rate on apples was in comparison with rates on other commodities. The resolution which he submitted that the association memorialize the Governor-in-Council to cause the classification to be amended by removing apples from the third and fifth classes to the fifth and eighth classes respectively, was unanimously adopted. To press this resolution on the authorities a committee consisting of J. E. Bigelow, Col. Spurr and Chas. McLellan was appointed.

W. A. McKinnon, chief of the fruit division of the Department of Agriculture, Ottawa, addressed the convention on the Fruit Marks Act. After some discussion, in which a number took part, a committee was appointed to suggest alterations and amendments to the Act, and report to the association. The following are on this committee : J. Rufus Starr, chairman ; R. S. Eaton, C. R. B. Bryan, Paul C. Black and Miles Chipman.

The financial report of the secretary, S. C. Starr, shows the association to be in a very satisfactory condition, there being a balance on hand of $143.40. The receipts for the year 1901 were : $584.64, and the expenditure, $391.20. There was a balance of $255.14 brought down from the previous year. The school of horticulture is in a good position financially, for the report showed that there was a balance on hand of $1,066.25. The receipts amounted to $3,237.31 and there was an expenditure of $2,171.06. At this school of horticulture there was an attendance of 64 students, according to W. C. Archibald, the chairman of the managing committee of that college.

The officers elected for 1902 are as follows :

President—W. J. Bigelow.
Vice-President—Peter Innes.
Secretary—S. S. Parker, Berwick.
Assistant Secretary—R. W. Starr, Wolfville.
Treasurer—Geo. W. Munroe, Wolfville.
Auditors—Geo. W. Thompson, R. E. Harris.
Executive Board—J. Elliott Smith, R. S. Eaton, Dr. Chipman, A. C. Starr.

Vice-presidents for counties, an exhibition committee, a managing committee for the school of horticulture, and members for the council board were also elected.

Alpheda Potvin, wife separated as to property of Jean B. Paquet, merchant, Quebec, from this out will conduct a business as general merchant at Riviere a Pierre, Que., under the firm name of J. B. Paquet & Cie.

At a meeting of the creditors of Moses Legal, trader of Levis, Que., V. E. Paradis was appointed curator, and William L'Esperance and Solomon Levinson, of Montreal, and Charles Meiklejohn, of Quebec, inspectors to the insolvent estate.

Stop the Leaks!

It is the little expenses that count--a small leak will sink a big ship. It is the quality of the ordinary staple articles of trade that a grocer carries in his stock that gives standing to his store. It is the widely-advertised goods that people are familiar with which give them confidence when they see them on a grocer's shelves.

Confidence grows slowly, the loss of it comes quickly. "Stop the leaks" that betray your weakness in carrying inferior goods. Stop them quick ! Sell Windsor Salt--it's a small thing, but remember, please, it's a staple ! It is the Salt of highest quality through and through.

A CHANCE TO MAKE MONEY

There is a market in the British West Indies for nearly all kinds of Canadian products. The people are able and willing to buy.

At present the United States is doing the trade, but Canadians can get it by going after it.

Why not write for a booklet telling of a trip to the Southern Islands, and the possibility of selling Canadian goods. We will be glad to send you one.

A GOOD SCHEME.

A COMMUNICATION has been sent to the Canadian Manufacturers' Association by Mr. H. C. MacLean, of Toronto, suggesting the consideration of a scheme for advertising Toronto in the Southern States as a summer resort.

"If the Manufacturers' Association were to go into it intelligently," says Mr. MacLean, "and devise some scheme properly systematized and managed, they could raise $25,000 for the purpose without difficulty."

The idea is a good one, and should receive the consideration it deserves. The tourist question is large enough and important enough to warrant the Association applying its energies to advertising not only Toronto, but other cities as well, in which it has branches. In furtherance of the scheme, the cooperation of the railways and steamboat companies could also be sought, and, no doubt, it would be obtained.

The attractions of Canada as a summer esort for residents of the South are not unknown. Yearly they are becoming better known, but there is still a great deal of room for improvement. This can only be done by liberal and legitimate advertising schemes, and there is no organization that is better qualified than the Canadian Manufacturers' Association to take the initiative in the matter.

FEATURES OF CANADIAN WINTERS.

THERE is scarcely anything in regard to Canada that is more misunderstood in Europe than its climate. To a great many, Canada is a land of snow. It is true that in certain parts of the country the winters are cold and snow is present for three or four months. On January 3, for example, the thermometer at Dawson, in the Yukon, registered a maximum temperature of 28 deg. below zero, and at Winnipeg it was the same. But even in these places the climate is so dry and the conditions for withstanding the cold so ample that inconvenience is seldom experienced.

The climatic conditions at those points are not, however, representative by any means of the climatic conditions ruling in Canada during the winter months. In Halifax, on the Atlantic coast, the thermometer, on January 3, was only 4 deg. below freeezing point, while at Victoria, on the Pacific coast, the temperature did not come within 4 deg. of freezing point, while in Toronto, where not one man in a dozen wears a fur cap during the winter months, there were 10 to 20 degrees of frost.

Snow on the Pacific Coast of Canada is a rare thing. On January 23rd last there was a snowstorm in that part of the country, the first for a year, and such an unusual thing was it that the newspapers came out the next day with flaring headlines, one of which read: "A Rare Snow Visitant." At Christmas time flowers are blooming in the gardens of Victoria, British Columbia, and a copy of The Victoria Colonist of January 24 announces that one of the local grocery firms has received two pounds of strawberries grown in the open air at Saanich, a short distance north of the Provincial capital. Coming east of the Rockies, it is a well-known fact that on the ranches in the Calgary district cattle are able to remain out on the prairie all winter.

Taking either the winter or the summer seasons, Canada has one of the most glorious and bracing climates in the world.

A NEW CANNED GOODS SYNDICATE.

ALTHOUGH the effort to organize a joint stock company to control the canned vegetable output of Canada failed, those who were promoting the idea have not yet given up hope of accomplishing something whereby the pack of 1902 shall be controlled. The idea now in view is a reorganization of the syndicate, although upon slightly different lines from that which controlled the pack of 1901.

It is proposed, for one thing, to close up some of the smaller factories, paying the owners a stipulated sum therefor. For a consideration it is also proposed to induce other packers to cut off altogether for the season their output of one or more lines.

The large packers appear as a rule to be favorable to the new scheme. The difficulty is with the smaller and newer packers. Remembering the experience of some years ago, when an agreement was entered into whereby the output of all the packers who were members of the association was to be sold through a committee, the owners of the smaller factories demand that when the former have sold 50 per cent. of their output they shall withdraw their products altogether from the market until they (the smaller packers) have disposed of their goods. The larger packers are not willing to agree to this, but they would agree to allow them to sell at a slight reduction (it is said 2½ cents per dozen) below the figures ruling for their goods.

A strong effort will be made next season to reduce the pack on corn. In spite of the agreement to curtail the output by one-third, the pack was unusually large, caused in part by the fact that some of the canners exceeded by several thousand cases their allotted output. In tomatoes and peas the pack was of course light, while it is estimated that 60,000 to 80,000 cases of the former have been exported to the United States. The syndicate alone is said to have exported 60,000 cases. Canadian tomatoes are being laid down in bond in New York at 90c., and, as this price is much lower than that ruling for the United States article, they are being reexported.

THE WARLIKE MR. FOSTER.

HON. GEORGE E. FOSTER declared the other night during a speech which he made at the National Club, Toronto, on the occasion of the banquet to Mr. Edgar Wills, that he would like to see the people of the British Empire roll up their sleeves and give the commercially hostile nations a taste of commercial war.

Mr. Foster was for several years Finance Minister of the Dominion. On the whole, he was an able Minister. We do not know that we have had any better. But after all his experience in that capacity, the irresponsibility of the professional politician seems to occasionally exhibit itself. A business man with a stake in the country would not have talked in the militant spirit that Mr. Foster did. Commercial warfare is no more a plaything than physical warfare. Like it, destruction accompanies it and serious losses are entailed on both sides. It is unworthy of Mr. Foster to talk of liking to see the British Empire wage a commercial warfare.

The instrument by which he would wage a commercial warfare is, of course, the tariff. Now, there is no one in Canada that knows more about tariffs than Mr. Foster. When framing the tariffs which obtained under his regime he, no doubt, had in mind the welfare of Canada, and did the very best he could as far as his light went. Hon. W. S. Fielding was, no doubt, actuated by the same spirit. The tariff that exists today, like the last that Mr. Foster brought down, could be improved upon, and, no doubt. will be in time, but surely Mr. Foster would not have us believe that the proper way to improve it is to turn it into an engine of commercial warfare.

Mr. A. E. Ames, the president of the Toronto Board of Trade, who followed Mr. Foster, entirely disapproved of the latter's sentiments. "We are big enough, or should be big enough, to stand on our own basis," declared Mr. Ames. In other words, Mr. Ames would have us work out our own commercial salvation without bothering ourselves as to the methods obtaining in other lands. Mr. Foster, on the other hand, would declare a commercial warfare against foreign countries whose fiscal policy met with his disapproval.

Mr. Foster is not the only one in Canada who is demanding commercial warfare. Before those militant spirits go any farther we would advise them to first sit down, and, like the king in Holy Writ, consider the costs and the possibilities. And as a preliminary, take the tariff in one hand and the Trade and Navigation Returns in the other.

LOW PRICE OF OIL OF LEMON.

The price of oil of lemon is at an unusually low figure at present, being about 40c. lower than a year ago. The cause of the weakness is the heavy crop of lemons.

Oil of lemon is the extract manufacturers' raw material, and to produce one ounce of it requires the crushing of about 1,000 lemons.

ALD. LAPORTE RE-ELECTED.

Mr. H. Laporte, of Laporte, Martin & Cie, has been re-elected as an alderman of Montreal. Ald. Laporte had a good majority in each of the six polls, his total majority being 222.

Ald. Laporte, being one of the city's most enterprising and thorough business men, is also one of its most trusted aldermen.

More men of this stamp would give the city the efficient government it is in need of. He has long been an advocate of having men with "free hands" to look after the city's affairs, and is much pleased with the increased number of supporters of his policy who have been returned in the present council.

THE HISTORY OF SUGAR.

THERE is no article in the grocery trade which is of more historical interest and which is also, at present, attracting more world-wide attention than sugar.

When the history of sugar began no one can say. The earliest known reference to it dates back to the time of Alexander the Great, over 2,200 years ago. A book dealing with the history of sugar has just been issued in England. Its title is, "Notes on the Sugar Industry," and the author is John M. Hutcheson.

While the book does not overlook the ancient history of sugar, the chief object in view is the modern history of the commodity. And the author has performed his task well, for he has presented a most interesting book of 140 pages. The history begins with 1544 and is brought down to 1900. The struggles of the sugar-refining industry in England and Scotland are told in an entertaining manner. And when one realizes that the industry is still struggling for life after an existence of 350 years one cannot but remark, "Poor old industry."

Besides the general history of sugar, a mass of most useful information is given in regard to rates of duty, imports, bounties and personal reminiscences.

The author of "Notes on the Sugar Industry" was particularly well qualified for the work which he undertook. He is at present living in London, Eng., but until about three years ago was a resident of Greenock, Scotland, where a long life was spent in the sugar trade, being a member of Macdonald, Hutcheson & Co., one of the oldest and best-respected firms in the trade. Mr. Hutcheson himself was one of the leading sugar buyers on the Clyde. The author being able to write from an experience of many years, the value of the book is naturally much enhanced thereby. And as it was written since Mr. Hutcheson retired from business it was possible to give a great deal of time to its preparation.

The price of the book is 5s. net, or in Canadian currency $1.25, and copies can be obtained through Mr. Wallace Anderson, of 27 Front street east, Toronto, a nephew of the author. No one who desires to be informed in regard to the sugar industry should be without a copy, and as there is not likely to be a second edition it would not be well to delay purchasing.

THE LEAVEN OF BUSINESS.

Advertising is the little leaven which raises the business to a place of prominence and a condition of prosperity.

THE BEET-SUGAR INDUSTRY.

SANDWICH TO HAVE A FACTORY.

IT has been announced by Mayor Girardot, of Sandwich, Ont., that he has secured assurance from United States and Canadian capitalists for the erection of a beet-sugar factory in that town. Four hundred thousand dollars will be invested. The refinery will be running by next year, when over 200 hands will be employed. This matter was disscused at a meeting of farmers at the Crawford House, Windsor, on February 1. Acreage sufficient for the needs of the factory will be canvassed for and a by-law granting ten years' tax exemption is expected to be passed without difficulty.

BEET SUGAR IN P.E.I.

In the distant Province of Prince Edward Island considerable interest has been aroused in the cultivation and refining of the sugar beet. Augustine Callagham, of the Provincial Registry Office, has for a number of years been giving both his time and money in experimenting as to the suitability of that Island for the growth of the sugar beet. For several successive years he has purchased and distributed sugar-beet seed amongst the farmers, and forwarded the product to Ottawa for analysis. This has fully demonstrated the suitability of that Province for sugar-beet cultivation. In 1900 an average of 13 92 per cent. of sugar was shown in the analysis. In some cases as high as 16.52 was found, a high percentage. This compares favorably with those grown for sugar manufacture in Europe and in the United States. In respect to these beets it may be stated that Professor Shutt, of the Ottawa Experimental Farm, says: "I am of the opinion that the average obtained indicate that a beet suitable for profitable sugar extraction can be grown in P. E. Island."

ST. MARYS DEPUTATION REPORTS.

A deputation consisting of William Johnson and John Fotherington recently visited the beet-sugar factories at Bay City, Michigan, in the interests of those desiring the establishment of a beet-sugar refinery at St. Marys, Ont. The report of these men contains valuable information. They found that a $600,000 plant would employ about 275 hands for four months in the year. The daily consumption of beets would be 650 tons and the daily output from these 150,000 pounds of sugar. The ordinary field of beets was ten tons per acre. It ran as high as twenty in some cases, while the farmers received on an average $5.15 per ton for their product. Many other things were ascertained, including the time for sowing, the quantity of seed per acre required, the best methods of preparing the ground and the most suitable means to be adopted to insure their successful cultivation. The most suitable conditions, it is claimed, for the growth of beets rich in sugar exist in a rich, loose, sandy soil, containing a fair percentage of lime. Neither heavy clay and wet soils, nor rocky and marshy lands are desirable.

WANT A BONUS AT LONDON.

A number of United States capitalists are contemplating the erection of a beet-sugar factory at London, Ont. On behalf of these men, J. A. Moody appeared before the board of trade of that city and stated that a bonus of $25,000 is expected for the building of a 500-ton plant. If a 1,000-ton plant is erected they will want $50,000. The latter style of plant is what they intend to install. Mr. Moody urged the board to send over a representative deputation to Michigan in conjunction with the City Council and the Real Estate Owners' Association, to investigate the sugar-beet industry thoroughly. The appointment of this delegation was referred over to a council of the board.

OTTAWA RETAILERS ENTERTAIN FRIENDS.

The Ottawa Retail Grocers' Association held a progressive euchre party in Booth's Hall on January 30, which was a decided success.

About 80 gentlemen sat down to the "lively game" for a couple of hours. Fifteen games were played, and Mr. Duncan McIntosh won 1st prize, a handsome briar-root pipe; Mr. Knauff secured 2nd, a box of cigars, and Mr. W. Hand captured the "booby," a "stocking of baby toys."

Refreshments were then partaken of, after which songs, recitations and speeches took up the rest of the evening.

Among those present representing wholesale houses were: John Hughes, of N. Quintal & Fils, Montreal; Fred Hodge, of Chase & Sanborn; C. J. Tuthill, of Gold Soap Co., Toronto; S. J. Huber, of Alpha Chemical Co., Berlin; D. K. McIntosh, of The Geo. Matthews Co.; Gerald Fitzgerald, of H. N. Bate & Sons; Mr. Provost, of Provost & Allord; J. E. Cox, Harold Whyte and Wm. Anoties, of J. G. Whyte & Son; Mr. Lavoir, of the J. M. Lavoir Co.; A. Durocher, C. A. Parker, Mr. Phillips, of Cochran & Co.; C. E. Ploin and T. Blackburn, of C. E. Ploin & Co.; G. W. Hunt and G. W. Langdon, of the Ottawa Fruit Exchange; F. F. Morris, of the Queen City Oil Co.; J. McLusker, of Bedingfield & McLusker; Geo. C. Hamilton, of the O. & N. Y. Railway Co.; Ald. Shouldis, Ald. Lapointe, and Ald. Payment, of the city council.

SHORT WEIGHTS INVESTIGATION.

W. G. PARMALEE, the Deputy Minister of Trade and Commerce, held his inquiry into the alleged short weights of butter and cheese at Montreal in the office of E. F. Craig, the Government grain inspector.

Among those who testified were C. A. Bull, of Montreal; W. H. Walker, M.L.A. for Huntingdon; Alex. A. Swaill, of Kelso, Huntingdon County; P. Brault, of P. Brault & Fils, St. Sebastien, Que.; A. Fraser, of Sandringham, Stormont County, Ont.; J. M. McQuaker, of Owen Sound, Ont.; and M. Scully, of Lloyd & Scully, Owen Sound.

Mr. Scully was one of the chief witnesses. His testimony went to show that during the past ten years he had lost between $800 and $1,500 in short weight. When he shipped to the Old Country his weights always held out, and that there never were any demands for shortage made. On one occasion he was having a box weighing 57 lb. weighed by Mr. McLeod, the weigher of the Butter and Cheese Association of Montreal. Mr. McLeod refused to make it over 56 lb., claiming that he was not there to look for gains.

P. Brault, of St. Sebastien, always put 57 and 57½ lb. of butter in his boxes, but never was allowed over 56½ lb. He saw some of his cheese weighed once. The package was placed on the scales and the weight put at 56 lb. notch. The package showed over weight, but the weigher refused to ascertain the exact weight. A small piece of wire was attached to the weight on the beam. He called the man's attention to this and he took it off, explaining that it was a mistake.

J. P. Cleary, of Savage Mills, did not receive one claim for short weight during May, June and July last, when this matter was attracting considerable attention in the press, but in August a claim of shortages was received for those three months. On almost every lot shortages were claimed, and to make a settlement he was forced to accept the terms offered.

For the Montreal Butter and Cheese Association, P. W. McLagan filed the report of the Brockville delegation which went to Montreal last Spring. This report testified that the weighing was satisfactory.

James Alexander testified that the wholesale cheese men did not profit by the alleged irregularities in weighing. Cheese and butter were invoiced at the same weights at which they were purchased. A letter from an English house was filed, complaining of short weights.

This concluded the investigation in Montreal.

ONTARIO MARKETS.

Toronto, February 6, 1902.

GROCERIES.

THE past week has been an uneventful one in the wholesale grocery trade. The stormy weather of the early part of the week has naturally interfered with business, but, taking everything into consideration, the wholesale grocery trade is fair for this time of the year ; in fact, some good orders for general groceries are reported. There is no one line, however, that can really be said to be active. If there is any one line in which the demand is a little better than for any of the others it is in currants, which rule steady in price in the primary market. The canned-vegetable market is without any special interest, although the feeling in regard to canned tomatoes continues to gather in strength. In no line of canned goods, however, can any activity be noted. Very little is being done in coffees, although the demand has improved a little. The outside markets are still easy. In nuts, the only noteworthy feature is a fairly good demand for shelled almonds and walnuts. Rice and tapioca are meeting with a fairly good demand. Spices are going out well, and advices from the outside markets indicate firm prices. Very little is being done in sugar, but prices are, on the whole, steady. Business is rather good in syrups and molasses. The wholesalers are experiencing a fairly good trade in teas, but the brokers are not doing much business. A good demand continues to be experienced for prunes.

CANNED GOODS.

The feature of the canned goods trade is the confidence that is being expressed in all quarters in regard to canned tomatoes. The ruling price to the retail trade is still 87½ to 90c., but figures are firm. There are still inquiries coming to hand here for export to the United States, and it is estimated that from 60,000 to 80,000 cases have so far been sent across the border this season. An item in one of the New York daily commercial papers says that Canadian tomatoes are being laid down there at $1.26 per doz., and were informed by Canadian exporters that Canadian tomatoes are being laid down in bond at New York at about 90c. per doz. It appears that the most of the tomatoes bought in Canada by dealers in the United States were for export to other countries, such as South Africa and South America, they being procurable at about 35c. per doz. less than the price ruling on United States brands. Peas are still quoted at from 80c. upwards, but very little business is being done. Corn is still the weak feature in the canned goods trade. There is some old corn on the market, which is being offered at low prices, but for 1901 pack the ruling price is 80c. for good brands. Whether corn will eventually be influenced by the firmness in peas and tomatoes remains to be seen. At present, however, no one has any confidence it it, as the pack was very heavy, several of the packers having put up a great deal more than their allotment. One packer is said to have put up 10,000 cases in excess of his allotment. Fruits are only in light demand. The Lenten demand for canned salmon has not yet made its appearance and business in this line is consequently light. Very little is being done in canned meats.

See pages 35 and 36 for Toronto, Montreal, and St. John prices current.

COFFEES.

The coffee market does not yet show any material signs of an improvement. Occasionally the market takes an upward turn, but just as regularly drops back into its old condition. The receipts of coffee continue heavy, and at the moment the bears have control of the market. Locally, the demand is a little better than it was for green Rio coffees, although the movement is not large. In roasted coffees, a good average trade is being done. We quote green Rio a little lower, as follows : No. 7, 7¼c.; No. 6, 8c.; No. 5, 2¼c.; No. 4, 8¾c.; No. 3, 10 to 12c.

NUTS.

While the nut trade generally is quiet, there is a fair demand for this time of the year for the shelled description at 20 to 23c. for shelled walnuts, and 24 to 28c. for shelled almonds. We quote : Grenobles, 10¾c. by the bale, up to 12c. for smaller quantities ; marbots, 8½ to 10c.; filberts, 9½ to 10½c.

SPICES.

Local wholesalers report a fairly good demand for spices. Advices from the primary market say that pepper is keeping firm. Ginger is firm and unchanged. Nutmegs, particularly in the better grades, are also firm.

SUGAR.

The sugar market has not been a particularly eventful one during the past week. Prices have ruled steady to firm. The latest cable advices to hand from London report that beet sugar is 3s. 4d. higher, at 6s. 9d. for February delivery, and that March is unchanged at 6s. 9¾d. f.o.b. Hamburg. The raw market in New York is reported to be steadier and the National and Arbuckle refineries were buyers on the basis quoted. Refined sugar is dull in New York. The receipts of raw sugar in the United States last week were light, 19,610 tons, while the meltings were 33,000 tons, reducing the stock by 13,390 tons. Since our last, there was an advance of 3-16c. in raw sugars in New York. The advance was caused by Cuban holders keeping their sugar, and to the reported buying of 10,000 tons of beet sugar in Europe by American refineries. The total stock of raw sugar in the four United States ports at the end of last week was 102,817 tons, against 98,935 tons the same time last year. The demand for sugar in Canada is very light, with prices ruling the same as a week ago. The basis of granulated f.o.b. Montreal is $4 for Redpath and St. Lawrence, and $3.95 for Acadia. The price in Toronto is $4.18 and $4.13, respectively.

SYRUPS AND MOLASSES.

There is a good demand for syrups, particularly the corn description, which is quoted at 3½ to 3¾c. in barrels and kegs. Sugar syrups are rather quiet at from 30 to 32c. for medium and 35 to 37c. for bright. There is a good demand for New Orleans molasses, chiefly at 24 to 26c. for medium grades, while open-kettle is quoted at 45 to 50c. Receipts of molasses at New Orleans to the close of last week were 248,000 bbls., against 148,000 the same time last year.

TEAS.

Local wholesalers are experiencing a fairly good demand for both Japans and Indians and Ceylons. The brokers, on the other hand, are still doing very little business. The market for Indian and Ceylon teas is rather easy. Japan teas are fairly firm. There is still quite a scarcity on the spot in Ceylon greens, and there have been quite a number of inquiries. Owing to the scarcity, however, the inquiry is not as pronounced as it was. The price of Ceylon greens is at least 1c. higher than it was a month ago. There have been a few transactions here in China green teas during the past week, but there is still a pronounced scarcity, although at the price now ruling not many transactions are to be expected.

FOREIGN DRIED FRUITS.

CURRANTS—A cable received here on Monday quoted the market firm in Greece. The quantity remaining unexported in the country is generally considered to be short of what will be required to supply the demand till the new crop comes upon the market. Local wholesalers are experiencing a good demand for currants; in fact, this is really the most active line in the grocery trade just now. Prices rule much as before. We quote: Filiatras, 6 to 6¼c.; Patras, 6¼ to 7c.; Vostizzas, 8 to 8½c. per lb.

VALENCIA RAISINS—The Valencia raisin market locally is still quiet and prices rather easy, particularly in view of the fact that a shipment of 2,000 cases is due to arrive within a few days. We still quote selected at 6½c. as the ruling price.

SULTANA RAISINS—Are in fair demand at 8½ to 12c.

PRUNES—The demand for prunes continues active, particularly for the four sizes running from 60's to 90's. We quote: Californian prunes, 100-110's., 5c.; 90-100's, 5½ to 6¼c.; 80-90's, 6½ to 7c.; 70 80's, 6¾ to 7¼c.; 60-70's, 7½ to 8c.; 50 60's, 8 to 8½c.; 40-50's, 8¾ to 10c.

FIGS—There have recently gone some further shipments of mat figs into the New York market from here, and stocks in this description are now pretty well cleaned up. Some houses are entirely sold out. Business is light. We quote: Mat figs, 3¼c.; naturals, 3¼ to 3½c., according to quality; tapnets, 3¼c., and elemes, 8½ to 18.

CALIFORNIAN EVAPORATED FRUITS — The demand continues fair for both peaches and apricots. We quote: Apricots, in 25-lb. boxes, 13 to 16c., according to quality, and peaches, 11 to 13c.

DATES—Very little is being done. The ruling prices are still 4½ to 4¾c. for Hallowees, and 4¼ to 4½c. for Sairs.

GREEN FRUITS.

There is a good demand for oranges especially for those whose skins are bright, like Californian navels. Lemons are steady in demand, and apples are stagnant. Grape fruit is 50c. to $1 lower per box. Florida oranges have come down 25c. per box, while, on the other hand, Californians have advanced 25c. Cranberries are scarce, but there is little demand for them. We quote: Oranges, Malagas, $3.25 to $3.50 per case; Tangerine or kid glove, $8 to $9 per strip, or $4 to $4.50 per half strip; Floridas, $3 to $3.25 per box; Mexicans, $2.25 per box; Californian navels, $3.25 to $3.75 per box; Valencias, $3.75 to $5.50 per case; apples, $4 to $5 per bbl.; grape fruit, $3.50 to $5.50 per box; Malaga grapes, $5.50 to $6.50 per bbl.; cranberries, Budd's long keepers, $9 to $10 per bbl.; bananas, $1.50 to $2 for firsts, and 80c. to $1 for first eight hands; pineapples, 25 to 35c. each by the case; Southern cucumbers, $2.25 to $2.50 per doz.; Spanish onions, large cases, $3.50; small crates, $1.10.

VEGETABLES.

There is a good demand for green onions, lettuce and rhubarb. Radishes also are moving freely. Potatoes are down 5c. Cabbage is steady, with a good supply in stock. Onions are quiet. We quote: Green onions, 10 to 15c. per doz.; rhubarb, 12½ to 15c. per bunch, $1.25 to $1.50 per doz.; carrots, parsnips and beets, 20c. per peck; turnips, 15c. per peck and 35c. per bag; lettuce, 30 to 40c. per doz.; radishes, 50 to 60c.; mint and parsley, 20 to 25c.; celery, 50 to 60c.; red cabbage, No. 1, 5 to 10c.; cabbage, 40 to 60c. per doz.; dry onions, $1 to $1.25 per bag; potatoes, 75 to 80c. per bag; artichokes, 20c. per peck.

COUNTRY PRODUCE.

EGGS—There are very limited receipts in strictly fresh eggs. Prices are 1c. higher for these. Limed eggs are scarce, as are also cold-stored. We quote: Strictly fresh, 26 to 27c.; held fresh, 20 to 22c.; cold-stored, 19 to 20c., and limed 17 to 19c. per doz.

BEANS—There are moderate offerings of beans, with a quiet demand. We quote: Choice hand-picked, $1.70 to $1.85; prime, $1.50 to $1.60 per bush.

HONEY — There is a quiet demand, with steady prices. We quote: Clover, in 60-lb. tins, 9½ to 10c.; less quantities, 10 to 11c. per lb.; in combs, $2 to $3 per doz.

DRIED AND EVAPORATED APPLES—Trade is very quiet. The prices are unchanged. We quote: Evaporated apples, 9¾ to 10c. in carlots and 10¾c. in less quantities. Dried apples 5 to 6c. per lb.

POTATOES—The receipts are more liberal and the prices are lowered from 2½ to 5c. per bag in carlots. They are now selling at 60 to 62½c. per bag in carlots and 75c. per bag for less quantities.

BUTTER AND CHEESE.

BUTTER — The supply of butter has slightly decreased, but the demand continues steady. Prices are unchanged and firm. We quote: Choice 1-lb. prints, 17 to 18c.; large rolls, 16 to 17c.; tubs, best quality, 15 to 16c.; tubs, medium grade, 13 to 15c. per lb. Creamery prints sell at 21 to 22c., and creamery solids, 20½ to 21c. per lb.

CHEESE—There continues to be a firm feeling in cheese. The movement for home consumption is fair. We quote: Cheese, wholes, 10½ to 10¾c.; twins, 11c.

POULTRY.

DRESSED POULTRY—The receipts of all kinds of dressed poultry are so light that it is difficult to quote fair prices. Practically, no geese are being sold. Chickens and ducks are scarce and command fancy prices, and there is an advance of 30c. in the former and of the same amount in the latter per pair over last week. We quote: Chickens, 60 to 80c. per pair; ducks, 90c, to $1.20 per pair; geese, 8 to 9c. per lb.; turkeys, 10 to 12c.

LIVE POULTRY—Live poultry like dressed are scarce, there being practically no receipts during the past week. Prices for spring chickens have advanced ½c., for young ducklings 1c., and for turkeys ½c. per lb. The Canadian Produce Co., Limited, 36 and 38 Esplanade street east, Toronto, will pay, until further notice for live chickens, 6½c., for ducks and turkeys 8c., for geese, 6c. per lb. All must be young birds. For hens, 3c. per lb. Dressed poultry, dry picked (except hens), ½c. lb. higher. These prices are for weight on arrival. Crates for live poultry supplied free, and express paid up to 50c. per 100 lb. of chickens. No thin birds will be taken.

FISH AND OYSTERS.

Trade is brisk for all kinds of fish. The prices of halibut are down 3 to 4c. per lb. Digby herring have also been put down 10 to 15c. per bundle. All kinds of prepared fish are selling well. The prices continue very steady. We quote as follows: Fresh and frozen fish — Codfish, 6 to 8c.; whitefish, 7 to 7½c.; herring; 4 to 5c.; trout, 7c.; halibut, 8 to 10c.; sea salt mon, 9 to 10c.; haddock, 5c. per lb.; perch, 4c.; British Columbian salmon, fresh, 20c., frozen, 9c.; Labrador herrings, $3 to $3.25 per 100-lb. bbl. Smoked fish—Ciscoes, $1 to $1.25; finnan haddie, 6½ to 7c.; Digby herring, 50 to 65c. per bundle. Prepared fish — Dried cod, in 112-lb. bundles, $4.75 per cwt.; flitched cod, $5.50 to $6; boneless cod, in bricks, 4½ to 5½c. per lb.; steak cod, 6½c. per lb.; shredded cod (2 doz. in box), $1.80 per box; boneless fish, loose, in 25-lb. boxes, 4 to 4½c., and in 5-lb. boxes, 5c. per lb.; bloaters, per box of 50, $1 to $1.25; kippered herring, 50 in a box, $1 to $1.25 per box; smelts, per 15-lb. box, extras, 12c. per lb.; No. 1, 6½ to 7c. per lb. Oysters—Standards, $6.75 per large pail, $3.75 to $4.05 per small pail, or $1.50 to $1.75 per Imperial gallon; selects, $2 to $2.15 per Imperial gallon.

GRAIN, FLOUR AND BREAKFAST FOODS.

GRAIN—The supply of Manitoba hard wheat is more limited this week, but the prices are unchanged owing to the easy feeling in Chicago market. Manitoba hard we quote 87c. per bushel grinding in transit or 86c. Toronto and West. On the local street market the receipts have been light owing to the heavy roads, and prices are nominal, there being no change excepting a drop of 1c. in peas. We quote prices paid by buyers on the street: White and red Ontario wheat, 70 to 78c.; goose, 66 to 66½c.; oats, new, 45 to 46c.; rye, 55 to 56c.; barley, 54 to 63c.; peas, 80 to 85c.; buckwheat, 58c.

FLOUR—There is a brisk demand for home consumption. Manitoba bakers' has been lowered 10c. per bbl. The other prices are steady. We quote: Ontario patents, in bags, $3.70 to $3.80; Hungarian patents, $4.05; Manitoba bakers', $3.80; straight roller, $3.40 to $3.50 per bbl. in Toronto.

BREAKFAST FOODS — The statement made last week regarding the drop in cornmeal was not clear, inasmuch as it said that the change was 25c. per 100 lb. It should have been 25c. per bbl. of 196 lb., as cornmeal is always quoted by the barrel. The foreign demand for oatmeal has somewhat slackened, but the home market still is brisk. We quote as follows: Oatmeal, standard and granulated, in carlots on track here, $5.55; standard rolled oats in carlots on track here, $5.20; in bbls., 15c. more; broken lots are 20c. per bbl. extra; rolled wheat, $2.50 in 100-lb. bbls.; cornmeal, $3 75; split peas, $4 50; pot barley, $4.50, in 196 lb. bbls.

HIDES, SKINS AND WOOL.

Cured hides are ¼c. per lb. lower, and sheepskins are 5c. each higher. The other prices are firm. Trade is quiet. The prices given below are what buyers pay on arrival:

HIDES—We quote: No. 1, green, 7c.; No. 2 green, 6c.; No. 1 green, steers, 8c.; No. 2 green, steers, 7c.; cured, 7¾ to 8c.

SKINS—We quote: No. 1 calfskins, 9c.; and No. 2, 7c.; deacons (dairies) 55 to 60c. each; sheepskins, 65 to 80c.; deerskins, 12½ to 14c. per lb.

WOOL—We quote: Fleece, 13c., and unwashed, 7 to 8c. per lb.

SEEDS.

The close of the red clover season for export is near, consequently the market for it is dull, and prices are 25 to 35c. lower than it was quoted previously. Alsike is quiet, with a narrower range of quotation. Timothy is steady and unchanged. We quote buying price at outside points: Red clover, $4.50 to $4.80; alsike, $6.50 to $7.50, and timothy, $2.50 to $3.25 per bush. Of course, a little more than the above prices will be paid for extra good and fancy samples, and a little less for poorer grades.

MARKET NOTES.

The drop in Manitoba bakers' flour is 10c. per bbl.

For sheepskins 5c. more are paid. Cured hides however are down ¼c. per lb.

On the track, in carlots, potatoes are 2½ to 5c. per bag lower. Retail prices are also less by 5c. per bag.

In carlots dressed hogs are down 10 to 25c. per 100 lb. Veal is worth 1c. per lb. more than a week ago.

There has been a drop of from 25 to 35c. per bush. in red clover. This is owing to the season for export drawing to a close.

There has been an advance of 25c. per box in California navel oranges, but Floridas have been lowered 25c. per box at the same time.

There has been a big advance in dressed chickens and ducks, which are scarce just now. They are both bringing 30c. per pair more than formerly.

QUEBEC MARKETS.

Montreal, February 6, 1902.

GROCERIES.

BUSINESS in general groceries has been good this week, though, of course, the heavy snowstorm of Sunday and Monday last made a difference in the number of visitors to the local market on Monday. Deliveries of goods on that day were also lessened, but the business of the week can hardly be said to have been hurt to any extent by one or two quiet days. Canned goods of almost all descriptions continue in brisk demand. There is also an increase in the inquiry for fish. We will have "full Lent" this year, which makes the period longer than has been usual for two or three years. On this account all such commodities as syrups, molasses, canned goods, fish and other foods that are taken in place of meats, will be in extra good demand.

SUGAR.

The local market is very strong, and though no very active trade is doing at the last advances, it is the belief of some dealers that further advances are probable. This idea is doubtless based on reports from London and New York markets, where beet and cane sugar are strong. The raw sugar market in New York is reported very firm. Locally, granulated sells for $4, and yellows, $3.25 to $3.90.

TEAS.

There is a good business doing in teas at present. Japans and gunpowders are in active demand. There is only a fair demand for China green teas, but prices keep as firm as ever. The agitation going on in the United States to have the tea duty taken off has approached to something like a head. If such a course were adopted there, it would, of course, make the market here very strong. At present the impression seems to prevail that the duty will be taken off, and, with this in view, prices are, if anything, firmer than last week.

SYRUPS.

There is nothing new to report in this line as regards prices. The demand however, has taken a turn for the better, and as Lent is near at hand, it is expected to continue improving. We quote as follows on corn syrups: 3½c. in bbls.; 3⅝c. in ½ bbls.; 3¾c. in ¼ bbls.; $1.60 in 38½-lb. and $1.20 in 25-lb. pails.

MOLASSES.

Barbados molasses is moving in small quantities. Prices have not changed, though they are still firm. Barbados, taken in any quantity, sells for 29c. Antigua, in single puncheons, is worth 24 cents.

CANNED GOODS.

A fair business is doing in canned vegetables and fish. Both these lines will, without doubt, have a good run this year on account of the long Lenten season. Peas are worth 95c.; corn (ordinary stock), 80c. Tomatoes sell for 87½ to 92½c. Gallon apples stay at $2.60 to $2.70, and 3-lb. apples at $1. We quote canned salmon as follows: $1.00 to $1.05 for pink; $1.30 for spring; $1.32 for Rivers Inlet red sockeye; $1.45 for Fraser River red sockeye, and $1.42½ to $1.45 for Clover Leaf talls. Gallon apples sell for $2.60 to $2.70, and 3-lb. apples at $1.

SPICES.

Trade is quiet. There is a firm feeling on all lines of spices. We quote as follows: Nutmegs, 30 to 55c. per lb. as to size; penang mace, 45 to 50c. per lb.; as to quality; pimento, ground, 12½ to 15c.; cloves, 15 to 25c.; pepper, ground, black, 17 to 22c., according to grade; white, 25 to 27c.; ginger, whole, Cochin, 15 to 17c.; Japan, 13 to 14c.; Jamaica, 16 to 20c.; Afghan, 12 to 13c.; ground, Japan, 15c.; Cochin, 16 to 17c.; Jamaica, 20 to 22c., and Afghan, 13 to 14c.

RICE AND TAPIOCA.

Trade continues fair. Seed and pearl tapioca is selling for a little less money in some hands. It is worth about 3⅝ to 4c., according to quality. Patna rice is still very firm. We quote in combine district: B rice in bags, $3.10; in ½ bags, $3.15; in ¼ bags, $3.20; in pockets, $3.25. In 10-lb. lots an allowance of 10c. is made. CC rice, $3 in bags; $3.05 in ½ bags; $3.10 in ¼ bags; and $3.15 in pockets. In the open territory prices are about 10c. less. Patna rice is worth 5 to 5¼c. per lb., and tapioca, 3⅝ to 4c.

FOREIGN DRIED FRUITS.

CURRANTS.—There is no change. A small movement continues. We quote as follows: Fine Filiatras, ½ cases, 5⅝c.; cleaned, 6c.; 1-lb. cartons, 8c.; finest Vostizzas, 7¾ to 8c.

VALENCIA RAISINS.—There is a fair movement at firm prices. Finest off-stalk sell for 5⅝c.; selected, 6⅝c.; layers, 6⅞c.

CANDIED PEELS.—The trade is slowly improving. We quote as follows; Orange peel, 11½c.; lemon peel, 10½c.; citron, 16½c.

MALAGA RAISINS.—There is not much doing and prices are unchanged. We quote: London layers, $1.50 to $1.60; "Connoisseur Clusters," $2.15 to $2.25; ¼'s, 65 to 70c.; "Royal Buckingham Clusters," $3.30 to $3.35; ¼'s, $1.05 to $1.10; "Excelsior Windsor Clusters," $4.50 to $4.60; ¼'s, $1.30 to $1.40.

DATES.—Supplies on the local market are practically nil. We quote: Hallowee dates at 4¼ to 4½c.

FIGS.—Layer and tapnet figs are still worth $1.15, with a fair trade doing. Advices received on January 17, from London, in regard to table figs, packed in "macaroni" style, hint at a needed change in the price of macaroni natural figs. They say: "With regard to your sales of macaroni natural figs in 56-lb. boxes, which you asked us to consign to you, and about which we wrote you latterly, saying that the average price made was not a good one, our senior writes in the same strain. We sent him your cutting from 'The Canadian Grocer,' which you sent us, and he replies: 'Very satisfactory the report, but unsatisfactory the prices they were sold at. They were among the late shipments. Please let them know what they realized in London for late shipment, and let them know that we will not ship any more unless they are able to get equal prices. As, however, the consumers, I am sure, will appreciate them they had better try to pass us some orders. I consider it an insult to the intelligence of the intelligent public to split and flatten figs to show a large surface and ruin the keeping qualities of the fruit, simply for the shape of that flat, catching appearance. It is time to put before the public the article in the most rational and best way of packing, and I am sure the public will appreciate it, and then figs will become a respectable article of commerce. Please send to Canada this extract with my compliments to Mr.——, and the Editor of 'The Canadian Grocer.'"

CALIFORNIAN RAISINS.—The situation on the primary markets has not improved. Only 150 cars of seedable fruit remains on the Coast, and it is proposed that as soon as the 50 carloads now offered have been sold, there will be a further advance of perhaps ½c. per lb. Every pound will be wanted before next October, and it is likely that the trade will have to take the remaining 100 cars at any reasonable advance put upon them. Local quotations on seeded raisins remain at 9¼ to 9½c.

PRUNES.—Recent advices from California give the information that prices have been advanced. Though there has been no change made here as yet, on the present basis of the primary markets dealers will have to sell as follows: 30-40's, 9¾c.; 40-50's, 8¾c.; 50-60's, 8c.; 60-70's, 7½c.; 70-80's, 7c.; 80-90's, 6½c.; 90-100's, 6c. There is a moderate business doing at the following prices: 8½c. for 40-50's, 8c. for 50-60's, 7¾c. for 60-70's, 7½c. for 70-80's, 6¾c. for 80-90's, 6½c. for 90-100's.

NUTS.

There is very little doing just now. We quote as follows: Walnuts, 9¾ to 11c.; Tarragona almonds, 12 to 13c.; shelled walnuts, 16½ to 17½c.; shelled almonds, 26 to 27c.; Jordan shelled almonds, 42c.; filberts, 8¾ to 9¼c.; pecans, 15 to 16c.

BUTTER AND CHEESE.

BUTTER.—The market remains steady with a decidedly better feeling among the trade. This has been stimulated by the latest issue of stocks supposed to be held in Montreal and the report of which is issued privately to the members of the board of trade. It is a considerable decrease from the stocks held on December 31. Finest creamery is scarce, and an advance is looked for daily. The same can be said in regard to large fresh rolls. But there is still on the market a considerable quantity of medium and low-grade dairy, which holders at present feel like carrying for a while yet, in the hope that with the expected advance in fresh goods, the price of this class of butter will also improve. We quote: finest fall-made creamery, 22 to 23c.; winter-made, 21 to 22c.; large rolls, 17½ to 18c.; fall dairy, 14 to 15c.; low and undergrades, 10 to 12c.

CHEESE.—Buyers in England have not yet become recomciled to the price asked by Canadian holders, and the situation has not changed. The export demand amounts to practically nothing, as holders here have every confidence that the cheese will yet be taken at their price, and English importers prefer to first clean up their stocks on hand before purchasing further lots. It is thought to be only a matter of time before the latter will come round to the terms of the holders in Canada. Meanwhile, nominal prices are 49 to 50s. for white and 52s. for colored. The local trade is good, prices being 10 to 10½c.

COUNTRY PRODUCE.

EGGS.—Since our last report the market has taken a still further advance, and to-day, those dealers who are fortunate enough to still have a little stock are realizing 24c. for pickled eggs. This is likely the limit. Stocks of both pickled and cold storage are practically exhausted, one or two houses supplying the whole trade. If weather conditions do not change there is every prospect of continued high prices during Lent. Deliveries of new-laid were beginning to be somewhat freer during the past week, but the heavy storm of Sunday and Monday somewhat checked them. New-laid eggs are worth 30 to 33c.

HONEY.—Trade is quiet. We quote: Buckwheat, in comb, 9c.; white extracted, 9 to 10c.; strained, 8c.

ASHES.—Business shows some improvement over that of a week ago. We quote: First pots, $4.40 to $4.45 per 100 lb.; seconds, $4 to $4.05; pearls, $6.75 to $7.00.

DRESSED POULTRY.—The offerings continue light and some lines are becoming very scarce. Both choice turkeys and choice chickens are in poor supply. The latter have advanced ½c. per lb., while the former have also sold at an advance of ½c. per lb. for unfrozen stock. Most of the turkeys offering, however, are frozen, and for these the price is 11½ to 12c. Ordinary sell for 9c.; choice geese, 7 to 8c.; choice chickens, 9½ to 11c.; fowl, 5 to 7c.

GREEN FRUITS.

Business, considering the season, is not bad. Messina lemons have not arrived in stock yet, but the scarcity is likely to be shortly overcome by shipments from New York, which are expected daily. Fine spices are 50c. per barrel higher. Florida tomatoes are in good supply and have dropped 50c. per crate. Californian sunflowers have gone up 15c. Californian navels have advanced 25c. per box at the Coast, and as the promise is of a light shipment a further advance is not improbable for fancy stock. It is almost certain, at any rate, that they will go higher yet, before they become lower. The advance has not affected prices here as yet, though a firmer feeling prevails. Stocks on hand, however, are not heavy and another week will suffice to clean them up, when a higher price must be asked to accord with the advanced price of the new shipments. We quote as follows: Jamaica oranges, $4.50 to $4.75; Florida oranges, $3.50 to $3.75; Californian sunflowers, $3.50 to $3.65; Valencia oranges, 420's, $3.25 to $3.50; 420's, Jumbo, $4.75; 714's, $5; Messina lemons, $2.75 to $3 per box; pineapples, 20 to 30c.; Canadian apples, $4.50 to $5.50 per bbl.; cocoanuts, $3.50 per bag of 100; bananas, No. 1, $1.75 to $2.25, and eight hands, $1 to $1.50; Spanish onions, $1.10; sweet potatoes, Vineland's, $4.75 to $5.50; Malaga grapes, $5.50 to $7 per keg; cranberries, $7.75 to $10.50; barrel onions, $3.25; chestnuts, 10 to 11c.; Italian chestnuts, 12½c.; Florida tangerines, $3.25 per box; Californian tangerines, $1.75 per box; grape fruit, $4.25 per box; Florida tomatoes, $4.50 to $5.00 per crate; fine Spies, $5 to $5.50.

FISH.

There is a steady business doing at unchanged prices. Stocks of fish of all kinds are unusually large this year, and dealers are not thinking of making any advances at the present. The demand for Lent, which will soon be on, will help to clean out stocks on hand, but with the great quantity on the market, it will be a month, at least, before dealers can dispose of their present holdings. Our quotations are now as follows: Haddies, 6c.; bloaters, 90c. per box; kippers, 90c. per box; smoked, medium herrings, 11c. per box; fresh haddock and cod, 3½c. per lb.; whitefish, 6½c.; dore, 5½c.; pike, 4½c.; halibut, 12½ to 13½c.; salmon, 12½c.; trout, large and medium, 7c.; No. 1 herrings, Nova Scotia, $5.25 per bbl.; No. 1 herrings, Nova Scotia, $2.80 per ½ bbl.; No. 1 Holland herrings, $6.50 per ½ bbl.; No. 1 Scotch herrings, $6.50 per ½ bbl.; No. 1 Scotch herrings, 98c. per keg; Holland herrings, 72c. per keg; salted eels, 6½c. per lb.; No. 1 green codfish, $5.75 per bbl.; No. 2, $4.50; large, $6.50; No. 1 green haddock, $4.25 per bbl.; No. 1 pickled sardines, $5.50 per bbl.; No. 2 mackerel, $12.50 per bbl.; No. 3 mackerel, $9 per bbl.; cod, 1 and 2-lb. blocks, 6c. per lb.; loose boneless cod, 5c. per lb. in 40-lb. boxes; dressed codfish, $4.80 per case; dry codfish, $4.65 per 112-lb. bundle; No. 1 Labrador salmon, $17.50 in tierces; No. 1 Labrador salmon, $12 per bbl.; No. 1 Labrador salmon, $6.25 per ½ bbl.; No. 1 B.C. salmon, $6 per ½ bbl. and $11 per bbl.; standard bulk oysters, $1.30 per gal.; select bulk oysters, $1.50 per gal.; Malpeque, Blue Point and other shelled oysters, $6 per bbl.; clams, in shell, $4.50 per bbl.; Marshall's kippered herrings, and same with tomato sauce, $1.45 per doz.; Canadian kippered, $1 per doz.; Canadian ¼ sardines, $3.75 per 100; canned Cove oysters, No. 1 size, $1.30 per doz.; canned Cove oysters, No. 2 size, $2.20 per doz.

FLOUR AND GRAIN.

FLOUR.—There is no change in this market. Prices rule steady, and a demand, mostly in small lots, continues. We quote in carlots as follows: Spring wheat patents, $4.05 to $4.30; winter wheat patents, $3.85 to $3.95; straight roller, $3.70 to $3.75; strong bakers', $3.80 to $4.

GRAIN.—The demand is still small and prices remain the same. Receipts of oats have been somewhat lighter, owing to the blocking of the country roads by the snowstorm. Our quotations are as follows: Manitoba, No. 1 hard, 72c.; peas, 92 to 93c.; rye, 62½ to 63c. (for carlots in store); No. 2 barley, 57c.; oats, 47c.; buckwheat, 54 to 56½c. east; corn, 68 to 69c.

OATMEAL.—There is a quiet market. Rolled oats are worth $5 to $5.50 in barrels, and $2.70 per bag.

FEED.—A good demand exists for all lines. We quote: Ontario bran, $20 to $20.50; mouille, $28 to $30; Manitoba bran, $20 to $21; shorts, $22 to $23 per ton, including bags.

BALED HAY.—The market is quiet. The trade doing is nearly altogether in small lots for immediate requirements. We quote as follows: No. 1 timothy, $10.50 to $11; No. 2, $9.25 to $9.75; clover mixed, $8.25 to $8.50; clover, $7.50 to $8.25.

MONTREAL NOTES.

Pickled eggs are 2c. higher.

Fine Spies are 50c. per barrel higher.

Choice chickens are ½c. per lb. higher.

Florida tomatoes have dropped 50c. per crate.

Californian navels are 25c. per box higher at the Coast, and next week are likely to be advanced here.

D. W. Little, who was formerly with Homer & Co., general merchants, Rosseau, has purchased the stock of groceries and the business of Joseph E. Bregg, Parry Sound, Ont.

chiefly in granulated. The quality of yellows offered is good. Some little foreign granulated is still offered.

MOLASSES.—Stocks are not large. While the movement is small, it is continuous, and works off more stock than one supposes. The demand is for Porto Rico. Prices are low. New will be quite early. At the prices now quoted it will cost much higher than present local figures. There is not likely to be much change here. Some little New Orleans is offered. Syrups are but light sellers.

FISH.—While the receipts of frozen herring have been better this season than for the past few years, they have not been large. Very few were received during the past week. Haddock and cod are just in fair supply. In smelts, present arrivals are particularly good and prices are rather higher. The catch this season, because of the exceptional open weather, was not as large as usual. In dry cod and pollock there is no change. Pickled herring is rather easier, though the prices are still quite high. Smoked herring is dull at the very low figures. Finnan haddies are freely sold at the full figures and quantity moving is larger. Our quotations are as follows : Large and medium dry cod, $3.50 to $3.65 ; small, $2.50 to $2.60 ; haddies, 5½ to 6c.; smoked herring, 6 to 7c.; fresh cod and haddock, 2½ to 3c.; boneless fish, pollock, $1.50 to $1.60 per 100 lb.; pickled herring, $2 to $2.15 per ½ bbl.; Canso herring, $5.50 per bbl.; Shelburne, $2.50 per ½ bbl.; frozen herring, 75c. per 100 ; smelt, 5½ to 6c. per lb.

FLOUR, FEED AND MEAL.—While prices of flour are rather easier, it is not thought they will continue to go off. Oats and oatmeal are both lower, but it is said they are likely to hold quite firm. Cornmeal is also rather lower. Beans, which have a light movement, are offered somewhat under last week's price. Split peas are high. Blue peas are very scarce. We quote as follows : Manitoba flour, $4.70 to $4.90 ; best Ontario flour, $3.90 to $4.10 ; medium, $3.60 to $3.80 ; oatmeal, $5.50 to $5.65 ; cornmeal, $3.15 to $3.20 ; middlings, $22 to $23 ; oats, 49 to 50c.; handpicked beans, $1.60 to $1.70; prime, $1.50 to $1.60 ; yellow eye beans, $2.80 to $3.00 ; split peas, $4.95 to $5 ; barley, $4.65 to $4.75 ; hay, $12 to $14.

THE MOST NUTRITIOUS. COCOA

MANITOBA MARKETS.

Winnipeg, Man., February 3, 1902.

THE week has been a fairly active one in grocery circles with nothing special to mark its course except an advance in Californian muscatels and a decline in oatmeal and cornmeal. All the wholesale houses report a good demand for canned tomatoes and state that they fully expect a further advance.

SUGARS.—The demand is fair and prices are without change. Granulated, $4.95 ; bright yellows, $4.30.

SYRUPS.—Corn syrups are very firm at the prices quoted last week : 3⅜c. for bbls., and 3½c. for ½ bbls.

CANNED GOODS.—The demand is fair in all lines and there is no change in price. All lines of vegetables are in active demand. We quote as follows : —Strawberries, heavy syrup, $3.25 ; preserved, $3.60 ; raspberries, preserved, $3.25 ; syrup, $2.95 ; blackberries, $2.75 ; finest fall creamery are reported at 21½ gooseberries, 2's, $2.90 ; 2's, preserved, $3.60 ; peaches, yellow, 2-lb. tins, $4.00 ; 3-lb. tins, $6 ; pears, 2-lb. tins, $3.50 ; 3-lb. tins, $4.50 ; apples, 3-lb. tins, canned, $2.50 ; 3-lb. tins, preserved, $3.65 ; gallon, canned, $1.60. Californian canned fruit in 2½-lb. tins—Plums, green gage, $4.25 ; Lombard, $4.20 ; damson, $4.20 ; egg, $4.20 ; peaches, $4.75 ; pears, $4.95 ; apricots, $4.75 ; cherries, white, $5.50. Canned vegetables — Tomatoes, $2.25 to $2.35 ; corn, 2-lb. tins, $1.90 ; peas, 2-lb. tins, $1.95 : beans, 2-lb. tins, $1.85 ; pumpkins, in 3-lb. tins, $2.10 ; sugar beets, in 3-lb. tins, $2.20 per case.

DRIED FRUITS.—All Californian raisins have advanced in the primary markets and although, up to the present, the market here has not advanced in proportion, owing to absence of demand following the holiday season, it is now evident that all quotations will be advanced, and the new list will be : Fancy seeded, 11c.; 4-crown muscatels, 9½c.; 3-crown, ditto, 9c. Mediterreranean fruits have not advanced, but the market is firm. Currants are also firm and although the present demand is not heavy, it is again increasing and it is felt by the merchants here that the price must advance. This would make the best Filiatras, 7c. and cleaned 8c. Prunes have not altered in situation since last week. Prices are firm and demand good. Evaporated apples are very firm at 11c. and dried at 7⅞ to 8c.

COFFEE.—The present demand is comparatively light and prices are firm at 9½ to 10c.

TEAS.—The high price of low-grade teas continues and the prices for higher grades are very firm. Difficulty is experienced in filling orders for the cheaper grades of tea.

GREEN FRUITS.—Two items of interest are noted in this market—the arrival of the first lot of bitter oranges, and a drop of 25c. per case on the smaller sizes of navels. Apples are growing scarcer, bananas are hard to obtain, and cranberries will soon be off the market in a wholesale way. Prices for the week are : Oranges, 126's, $3.75 ; 176's, $4.25 ; 200 and 216's, $4.50.; apples, $5.50 to $6.00 per barrel ; cranberries, $10 ; bananas, $3.75 per bunch. These are practically the only lines of fruit moving.

VEGETABLES.—Very few lines are coming and there has been practically no movement in a wholesale way all week. Prices are without change in any line. Celery is growing scarcer daily.

CURED MEATS.—The business of the week shows a very considerable increase in demand and though prices are unchanged, they are very firm : Hams, sugar-cured and smoked, 13¾c.; shoulders, 10¼c.; picnic hams, 8½c.; breakfast bellies and backs, 14c.; spiced rolls, 11¼c.; dry salt long clear, 11c.; dry salt backs, 11½c. Lard.—There has also been a decided increase of activity in this market and the volume of business for the week good. Prices are without change: 20-lb. pails (local), $2.40; American, $2.55; 50-lb. pails, $5.85; 3 and 5-lb. tins, in 60-lb. crates, $7.55. Sausages.—This market shows no change unless it may be a slightly increased demand. Quotations are: Bologna, 7c.; pork, 8c.; liver sausage, 6c.; Vienna sausages, 10c.; blood sausages, 6c.; headcheese, 6c.

POULTRY.—There has been a sharp increase in demand for fresh-killed this week, but the supply is very small. Country merchants continue to send in considerable quantities of frozen and held stock for which there is little or no demand. The bulk of this stock is most unsightly. A further shipment of 6,000 to 7,000 lb. of Smith's Falls turkeys is en route, and will reach Winnipeg in the early part of the week. These turkeys will job at 13 or possibly 13½c. Prices are without change: Fowl, 8½ to 9c.; chickens, 10c.; ducks, 9 to 10c.; geese, 10c.; turkeys, 13c.

BUTTER.—Held creamery is about cleared up on this market and there is no fresh coming in. The supply of dairy butter has increased slightly during the week and the quality shows some improvement, but not much. The active demand keeps prices firm, and they are likely to remain so until supplies are very materially increased. There are considerable quantities of inferior and held-goods coming on the market, for which there is practically no sale except at very low prices. Farm separator bricks readily job at 23 to 24c., but very few are received. Strictly fresh dairy, in rolls or tubs, jobs at 17 to 19c. Interior grades run down the scale from 17c., some being sold as low as 6 and 8c., and a dear bargain at that price.

CHEESE.—The movement is small and prices firm. The jobbing price is 11½c. Further shipments of Ontario are not yet to hand.

EGGS.—There has probably never been a January when so many eggs were shipped into Winnipeg. The very mild weather and the fact that the ground was bare enough for the hens to scratch when they were let out for a short run are cited by the knowing ones as among the reasons for the plentiful supply; they also prophesy that the colder weather and the slight snowfall will check the supply. In the meantime the demand is very brisk, and although prices are slightly lower than they were ten days ago, they are still very good. Ontario fresh-gathered, 24c.; Manitoba fresh-gathered, 25 to 27c.; limed eggs, 22c.; guarantced new-laid, 40c.

CEREALS.—This market shows a few changes for the week and the demand is fairly active. Rolled oats, in sympathy with the dullness of the oat market is considerably lower. Rolled oats in 80's. are quoted at $2.20; 40's, $1.20; 20's, 60c.; granulated and standard oatmeal, $2.75 per 98-lb. Cornmeal is also slightly lower, being now quoted at $1.90 as against $2 last week. Split peas are without change at $2.75; pot barley, $2.35 and pearl $2.65. The consumption of rolled oats, particularly, is considerably curtailed locally by the absence of snow and the consequent falling-off in bush trade.

GROUND FEED.—The market is very dull and there is no change in price to record. Oat chop, $27; barley, $22; oil cake, $27; oatmeal feed, $12.50; milling screening, $15.

MILL FEED.—There is an increased demand this week for eastern markets and the bulk of the output of the Manitoba mills is going east. Prices are without change for the week. Bran, $15.50, and shorts, $17.50, in bulk.

FLOUR.—The market here is dull but there is considerable export demand. Ogilvies are this week shipping a very considerable consignment for the British Government to South Africa, and there are also other export orders being filled. Although Australia is now exporting large quantities of her own flour, there is not a steamer leaves Vancouver without a considerable quantity of flour made from hard western wheat on board. Prices have not changed for the week. Ogilvie's Hungarian Patent, $2; Glenora Patent, $1.85; Alberta, $1.65; Manitoba, $1.15; Imperial XXXX, $1.25; Nestor, $1.15; Lake of the Woods Milling Co., Five Roses, $2.00; Red Patent, $1.85; Medora, $1.65; XXXX, $1.25; Hudson Bay Hungarian Patent, $2.00; Strong Bakers', $1.85; Leader, $1.50; XXXX, $1.25; Gladstone Sweet Home Hungarian, $2.00; Home Rule, $1.85; Headingly Hungarian Patent, $2.00; Favorite Family Patent, $1.70; Strong Bakers', $1.60; Pansy, $1.25.

NOVEL ADVERTISING IDEAS.

J. K. Cranston, Galt, has a lot of up to-date ideas and novelties for advertising purposes. Readers of our journals would do well to write him for samples and price lists of up to-date things in aluminum, brass, celluloid and wood cards, etc. The Cranston trade due bill is an excellent one, and is becoming popular with progressive merchants. His advertising coins, discount checks, ½-checks, bakers' and milkmen's aluminum tickets are as clean and nice a way of advertising and popularizing a business as practical business people can wish for. Write him for catalogues, etc.

WILL RAISE CRANBERRIES.

There is a scheme on foot at Sydney, C.B., to raise cranberries by the draining of McQueen's Lake, which is one of a series of caribou marsh districts. Upwards of 140 acres of land will be reclaimed in good condition for that purpose. A company has been formed to carry out the project. Mr. Brounell, of Parrsboro, N.S., who conducted a mill at Caribou Marsh last year, is at the head of this company, which is composed of several well-known business and professional men of Sydney.

HAS ADOPTED THE CASH SYSTEM.

Mr. T. J. Bonner, the proprietor of Bonner's grocery, Antigonish, N.S., has come into line, and will from this on conduct business on a strictly cash and produce basis. By so doing he hopes to be able to sell to better advantage than under the old system. THE CANADIAN GROCER wishes him success in his new departure.

ANNUAL MEETINGS OF BOARDS OF TRADE.

THE MONTREAL BOARD.

THERE was a large attendance of members at the annual meeting of the Montreal Board of Trade which was held on January 28 to elect officers for the coming year and to receive the report of Mr. Henry Miles, the retiring president.

In his address Mr. Miles touched on the position created by the disastrous fire and the difficulties and responsibilities created by it. He then touched on the transportation problem, which he said was the most important question of our day. The Parliament and Government is in sympathy with the progress they desire, which is none other than the acknowledgment of Montreal as the national port of the Dominion. He referred to the Hon. J. I. Tarte's letter on the subject, which he believed had fully grasped the situation. The difficulty at present exists, not with the railways, but with our waterways, harbors and inland tonnage. Our transportation facilities are unequal to the requirements of to-day. Our lethargy is serving to build up the Atlantic ports of the United States. To accomplish anything our business men should be united. In this way they would strengthen the hands of the public men who are willing to deal with this great question. The position also in regard to the equipment of the harbor was unsatisfactory. Difficulties and contentions should be put aside and the work pushed forward. The possible consolidation of the ocean liners with the land carriers in the United States was a menace to the St. Lawrence trade. The present conditions of the route required the greatest energy towards securing every improvement possible. He was pleased that they had strong prospects of having the next meeting of the Chambers of Commerce of the Empire at Montreal. The extension of the telegraph system to Belle Isle has been accomplished. The Marconi system is now being made use of in a limited way, and he hoped that it might be more extended. Its establishment would be an additional safeguard to navigation. The fire-insurance situation is unchanged. About a year ago the rates had been enormously advanced. This position, in the opinion of experts, can only be rectified by the expenditure of $300,000 in improving the fire protection of the city. And until the city has money to meet the expenses, and the city council reorganizes the fire brigade, the high rates will continue. The want of a new Customs examining warehouse was also noted. The business of the port warrants the request for a new building. He was pleased to announce the completion of the contract for the construction of a new fireproof home for the board. They had made an excellent bargain with the contractors. The cost of the new building will be $435,000. The estimated amount of the salvage was $60,000, and the amount of the contract was $375,000, which made up that figure. He concluded by offering testimony to the valuable services of the secretary, Mr. George Hadrill, whom he said had ever the Board's interest at heart.

The scrutineers, on the following day, reported at the adjourned meeting that these officers were elected :

President—Mr. Alex. McFee, representing the grain trade.

First vice-president—Mr. Arthur J. Hodgson, dairy produce.

Second vice-president—Mr. Geo. E. Drummond, iron.

Treasurer—Mr. Robert Munro, paints and oils, by acclamation.

Members of council—Messrs. James Thom, shipping; T. F. How, banking; W. W. Watson, sugar; James Davidson, stamped and enamelled ware; G. B. Fraser, dry goods; J. C. Holden, boots and shoes; P. W. McLagan, dairy produce; H. D. Metcalfe, grain; Hugh Watson, wallpaper; John J. McGill, rubber manufactures; Cornelius Coughlin, live stock, and R. McD. Paterson, fire insurance.

Board of arbitration—Messrs. E. B. Greenshields, Charles F. Smith, Robt. Reford, John McKergow, Robert Archer, James Crathern, Robert Bickerdike, James P. Cleghorn, Hon. Robert Mackay, John Macfarlane, Henry Miles and R. W. Macdougall.

After the newly-elected president took the chair, a hearty vote of thanks was accorded Mr. Miles, who gratefully acknowledged the same.

Mr. Alex. McPhee was pleased with the honor conferred on him by his election to the presidential chair. He promised that he, together with the council, would continue the work carried on last year—the deepening of the river to a uniform depth of 30 feet, and the improvement of the aids of navigation from that port to the sea. During the past season no fewer than nine steamers were lost on the Newfoundland Coast. Six of these belonged to the St. Lawrence trade. The council would do everything possible to remove the difficulties under which the St. Lawrence route labored. The council would also, as far as possible, further the extension of trade on the canals.

THE KENTVILLE, N S., BOARD

At least 75 members were present at the annual meeting of the Kentville, N. S., Board of Trade, when President Sealy presented his report of the past year's proceedings of that body.

The committee on the fruit fair, which is to be held next fall, stated that they had secured the guarantee of the county council that in the event of there being a deficit the council would make one-half of it good.

A committee consisting of B. H. Dodge, M.P.P., H. H. Wickwire, M.P.P. and R. S. Eaton were appointed to present the matter to the Provincial Government. In reference to the Government report, a letter from Acting-Premier Longley was received.

The Maritime winter fair, also was discussed as were also better connections and larger circuit on the telephone lines, and a speedway near the town. In regard to the speedway it was pointed out that the leading market for horses had become centred in King's county, from which place the majority of the horses purchased for Africa had come.

The election of officers for 1902 resulted as follows :

President—A. E. Calkin.
Vice-President—George E Calkin.
Secretary—F. C. Rand.

BANQUET OF GUELPH BOARD OF TRADE.

The Guelph Board of Trade held its third yearly banquet at the Wellington Hotel last Friday evening, January 31. Over 100 were present, including a number of the business men of that city. A. F. H. Jones, the president of the board, performed the duties of chairman. On his right was the Hon. Geo. E. Foster, and on his left, A. E. Ames, President of the Toronto Board of Trade. E. R. Bollert occupied the vice-chair. When the menu had been disposed of and the toast of "The King" honored, the chairman followed in a short address. He recommended the formation of a Provincial board of trade composed of one or more members of the various boards of trade throughout the Province. They could meet once a year in Toronto, about the same time as the Legislature was in session, and discuss matters of trade. The great prosperity of the country during the past few years, was also noted.

"The House of Commons and the Legislature" was propsed by E. R. Bollert.

A. Guthrie, M.P., replied on behalf of the Commons. He was enthusiastically cheered. He had heard regret on all sides expressed that Mr. Foster was no longer a member. His ability made him of great service to his country. The press of both parties were apt to traduce anyone who were trying to do his duty. He was pleased at the healthy state of trade in Canada. We should have freer trade and fairer trade. He believed that the Mother Country in the east should be more looked to than the country to the south.

Lieut.-Col. Mutrie, M.P.P., was a stout opponent of the bonusing system. He believed only in helping old-established manufactories, which might have suffered from fire.

The toast of "Canada" was received by the singing of "The Maple Leaf." As it was coupled with the name of the Hon. Geo. E. Foster, he rose amidst cheers to respond. We should have confidence in our country; we also should have confidence in ourselves, he declared. On us rests the responsibility of making Canada one of the greatest nations in the world. We have laid the foundations successfully and now had to follow a straight road.

A. E. Ames, President of the Toronto Board of Trade followed with a very practical speech. He believed in the country. The young men should advance in the footsteps of their fathers, and go beyond them.

The toast "Sister Boards of Trade" was also responded to by a number of others, as was also that of "The Agricultural Interests," to which Professor Reynolds responded. The other toasts were the "Manufacturing and Commercial Interests" and "The City and Country Interests." The last-named was responded to by the Mayor of Guelph.

THE LATE WILLIAM ADAMS.

A well-known business man and old resident of Toronto, in the person of Mr. William Adams, died at his residence at 62 Glen Road, on Saturday morning, February 1. He had been ailing for some months, but his illness was not considered serious till the previous Sunday.

The deceased was born in Vaughan township 65 years ago, last September. In 1869 he went to California, attracted by the famous gold fields. He afterwards returned to British Columbia, where he was engaged in prospecting in the Cariboo country for many years. Coming back to Toronto he invested some of his money in the wholesale grocery business, forming the firm of McNeil & Adams. The partnership was afterwards dissolved and he then became connected with Adams & Burns, wholesale liquor merchants. When Mr. Burns died some 15 years ago, Mr. Adams became sole proprietor of the business, which he carried on under the old-firm name of Adams & Burns.

Mr. Adams leaves behind him a widow and two sons, Arthur and Irving, both of whom are still quite young. The aged father of deceased is still living in Vaughan township, being in his 95th year.

Mr. Adams' funeral took place last Tuesday afternoon, the remains being interred in Mount Pleasant cemetery.

Under the firm name of T. N. Chasse & Cie., Thos. Nap. Chasse and Cyrille Dulac dit Bonhomme will conduct business at Quebec and elsewhere as flour, grain and provision merchants.

THE IMPORTANCE OF THE GROCER.

THE National Retail Grocers' Association of the United States held its annual convention in Milwaukee last week. About 250 delegates, representing 25 States, were in attendance.

National President P. G. Hanson delivered his annual address, and noted the fact that there are 300,000 distributors of food products in the United States. He hoped that all towns and cities would organize local grocers' associations, and traced the recent history of The National Association.

Col. Robert Mitchell Floyd, of Boston, ex-treasurer of the association, delivered an address, in which he dealt with the grocer and his responsibilities. Col. Floyd expressed the hope that in the near future The National Association would be composed entirely of grocers, and that they would carry on their national enterprise without the assistance of men not engaged in the distribution of food products. At the close of the address, which was enthusiastically received, a resolution was introduced and passed which thanked Col. Floyd for the address and the interest he had always taken in the welfare of the association and declaring that it was the sense of the convention that it was strong enough to maintain a grocers' association, controlled by grocers only. Col. Floyd said, in part:

"In the study of the beginning and the growth of communities, sections and nations, the first and most vital question is that of the food supply. Living in small numbers, the raiser or farmer is the principal figure, as the distribution of food is merely an exchange or barter between neighbors. When settlements have become of immense size and number among their dwellers hundreds of thousands, the retail distribution of food under a general name of groceries becomes the most vital of all trades, and affects the general welfare of the nation. As the average consumer cannot be expected and does not know qualities and conditions of food, the retail grocer's position becomes most responsible, as it is upon him that the ignorant consumer depends when making purchases; and it is his duty to obtain a knowledge of and become familiar with the food products he handles and recommends either directly or indirectly to the consumer as being in accord with the recognized laws in these matters.

"Great stress has been made recently in association circles that the retailer is the innocent party and that the wicked manufacturer and terrible wholesaler are the ones that should be held liable for the questionable products that were found in the grocer's stock. If the retailer insists on buying at values which are under the actual legitimate price, he knows that he cannot obtain pure or standard articles. The grocer is absolutely more responsible for the health and vital energies of the people than all other trades, for the other lines only take up certain parts or phases of the everyday life, while the grocer supplies the every hour and everyday need, and under all the varying conditions, the fuel that keeps the system alive. The need of local grocer associations has become long ago an admitted truth, for it is shown that in the bringing together of men in the same line of business they are protected from many wrongs which they could not contend against as individual firms. Further than this, it gives the different members a chance of individual knowledge of their trade opponents, thereby breaking down suspicion and jealous ideas and preventing that dangerous and foolish competition which ends so often in disastrous failure.

"The pure-food laws, as now enforced in the various States, are so at variance with each other that a general law, which is sure to be enacted, must either abrogate the present State laws now in existence, or cause them to be so modified that they will act with, and not contrary to, each other. The strength of our foreign brothers' grocer and food-handlers' organizations came from each grocer assuming his share of the responsibility, and the earnest and unselfish work of their officers. The value of history is that it points out what has been, and can be used as a lesson, or, at any rate, be of service in making us avoid those mistakes which cost the cause of disaster or obliteration.

"The London Grocers' Company of 300 years ago, which became so wealthy and influential that it controlled the municipal affairs of London, overreached itself at last by inaction, and to-day does not hold among its members a single representative of that trade which formerly composed it.

"Are you grocers willing now to shoulder each your share of the responsibility in holding together and maintaining this National Association of Retail Grocers, and make it grow to be a pride and a glory to your country? The responsibilities of the grocer are growing daily, and he has much to learn in every department of his complex business; but strong among these are the health of the nation, the grocery-trade press, and your local, State and national association work."

Kenneth Patterson, tea merchant, Montreal, is doing business there under the name of "Royal Blend Teas."

W. J. Sprowl, general merchant, Lucan, Ont., has sold out his business to C. Sprowl, who has taken possession.

NOVA SCOTIA MARKETS.

Halifax, N.S., February 3, 1902.

THE trade in the grocery line during the last week has been only fair, but it may be considered as on a good average with other years. The wholesalers are doing only a moderate volume of business. This is accounted for by the fact that the retailers tell us that in February and March, and even the latter half of January, they always notice a large falling off in even the straight family grocery trade. Even though people have to eat to live, just as in other months of the year, they in some way curtail largely during the period mentioned.

The fish business is in fairly good condition, but as yet there has been little change in prices from those quoted two weeks ago. Considerable quantities are coming in from the shore ports and also from the Banks. On Monday last six schooners arrived in port, aggregating nearly 40,000 pounds, from the points mentioned. Others followed during the week with fares ranging from 1,500 to 9,500 pounds. The schooner Marievella is now loaded, and will sail this week with 2,500 quintals of cod, for Lisbon, Spain.

The lobster fishing on the South Shore has not improved any since our last report. On Wednesday last 750 crates of live lobsters were shipped from Yarmouth, which again brought $15, an increase of $2 over prices of the first of the season. Noting the continued decrease in the catch of lobsters, it is said the fishermen of the South Shore have made a "solemn and binding contract" with each other to release all lobsters under the regulation size. What a time they will have watching each other to see that the contract is not broken.

Recent imports at Halifax are: By steamer Oruro, arrived January 29, from the West Indies—230 bbl. and 386 bags sugar by G. P. Mitchell & Son; by the same steamer from Demerara—484 bbls., 843 puncheons, 389 hhds. rum, which were reshipped to London by the steamer Ulunda. This is the largest single shipment in years. The steamer Fitzclarence arrived yesterday from Antwerp, a large portion of her cargo being beet-root sugar for The Acadia Sugar Refining Company.

Recent shipments to England are: By the steamer Corinthian, 3,112 bbls. apples; by the Ulunda, 15,000 bbls. apples; steamer Amarynthia, for Glasgow, 4,041 bbls. apples. The Ulunda also carried 500 barrels of apples from St. John, 3,000 boxes of cheese, and 100 tons of flour. Minor items in the Ulunda's cargo were—7 hhds. lime juice, 20 cases evaporated vegetables, 55 casks extract of hemlock, 150 cases canned meats.

There is considerable cheese here in store, and it is being offered at about 10c., but very little is moving. Potatoes are still high in price and have risen 2c. to 42c. during the week. Oats are in store in considerable quantities, but they are so high that there is very little trade. During the last week they dropped 2c. to 54c. A wholesale dealer told me Saturday that he wanted a large quantity, but he had no intention of buying, except for urgent need, until they had gone down below 40c.

The steamer Oruro, of The Pickford & Black line, which sails on the 10th inst. for the West Indies, will carry among her passengers Mr. J. F. M. Stewart, of Toronto, Assistant Secretary of The Canadian Manufacturers' Association, who is going out in company with Mr. J. R. Henderson, to investigate the possibilities of largely increasing Canada's trade with the fertile islands of the south. There will be some 25 other passengers on the trip, largely business men who will pick up valuable information as to trade with the various points visited. The list includes business men from Halifax, Prince Edward Island, and from the west. These trips to the West Indies, at this season of the year, are becoming a special feature with The Pickford & Black line.

During his stay here Mr. Stewart has made many friends, and has been working hard in the interests of the association. Two days after his arrival he had a meeting at the Halifax Hotel, where he was met by a large number of business men and manufacturers, when a branch of the association was formed, and Mr. Stewart has spent a good deal of his time since in inducing membership. The movement will result in much good, and there is every prospect now that the branch will have some two hundred members.

COULD NOT RESIST SWEET PICKLES

"When I talk about sweet pickles," remarked a traveller, "I am reminded of what happened some time ago. I will have to tell it to you, so here it goes:

"One day in the winter I called on B——, the grocer, who, as soon as he saw me, cried: 'Hello, there! You are the very person I want.'

"What is the trouble, now, said I."

"'A lady customer of mine," he replied, 'was in the other day and wished to see you.'

"What did she want?"

"'Oh, I don't know. You had better go and ask her.'

"He gave me her address, and I called on her. A stout, buxom Irish-looking woman, with her sleeves rolled up, received me at the door. Surveying me from the crown of my head to the soles of my feet, she stared me straight in the face and sharply inquired, in a voice in which a trace of Irish brogue was noticeable: 'Phwat do you want?'

"Mr. B——, the grocer, told me to call."

"'Oh, yes,' she said, planting her closed fists on her broad hips, 'and so you're the man who sells Blank's Swate Pickles?'

"I am."

"'I'm glad to meet you, begorra.'

"And I, you, I hastened to let her know."

"'Well,' she went on, 'my man, Mike, last Saturday he gave me $1.50 to buy a new fur cap. The first thing I did was to go over to B——, the grocer, and do you know, he let me taste some of your swate pickles. Sure it was too much for me, for I forgot all about my cap and bought a quart of them. They were awfully nice. They all liked them so well that I could'nt resist buying another quart after they were done. The other night Mike came home late from a meeting and finished them. I never told him what money it was that I was spending on them. If he found out he would smash every bone in my body and would wring my neck in the bargain. So I thought if you would call you would lend me the difference that I might buy my cap. It is getting too cold to do without it.'

"I loaned her the difference."

TRADE CHAT.

TWO pounds of perfectly ripe strawberries were recently received by Mowat & Wallace, grocers, Vancouver. They were the first of the season and were grown in the open air at Saanich, B.C.

A demand of assignment has been made on Vipond & McBride, fruiterers, Montreal, and a consent has been filed.

Robert Irving MacKinnon, importer and tea, coffee and spice merchant, Montreal, has registered under the name of The MacKinnon Tea Co.

Under the style of E. A. Lentenne & Co., Angelina Campagna, wife of E. A. Sentenne, Montreal, is conducting business alone as a commission merchant.

Welsh & Nightingale, general merchants, Vancouver, B.C., have sold their branch store on Mount Pleasant, to A. Des Brisay, and in future will confine their attention to their store on Grenville street.

PERSONAL MENTION.

Mr. James B. Campbell, of the Acme Can" Works, Montreal, passed through Toronto on Saturday, en route for home.

Of Interest To You

When a grocer sells cheap baking powders he invites dissatisfaction. The cake being spoiled by the powder, all the ingredients will be classed as inferior, to the discredit of the grocer who sold them. The sale of lower-cost or inferior brands of powder as substitutes for the Royal Baking Powder, or at the price of the Royal, is not fair toward the consumer, and will react against the reputation of the store.

Royal is recognized everywhere and by everyone as the very highest grade baking powder—superior to all other brands in purity, leavening strength, and keeping quality. It is this baking powder, therefore, that will always give the highest satisfaction to the customer; and a thoroughly satisfied customer is the most profitable customer that a dealer can have.

Ask your jobber for Royal Baking Powder. In the long run it yields more profit to the grocer than the low-priced alum brands.

ROYAL BAKING POWDER CO., 100 WILLIAM ST., NEW YORK.

THE OTTAWA RETAIL ASSOCIATION.

REPLIES TO A CRITICISM.

Editor "Canadian Grocer:"—As I happen to be the memberof The Ottawa Retail grocers' Association who sent the report to your paper on January 24, and which was referred to by "Grocer" in your issue of the 31st as savoring of too much pleasure and not enough business, I beg to reply that The Ottawa Retail Grocers' Association is founded on a good, solid business platform. Our constitution can be had by any grocer who applies for one, and if they will take the trouble to attend any of our meetings they will find that we have lots to do and always do it in a businesslike manner. Our membership consists of groccrs from the largest to some of the smaller houses in the city, and, although a young association, we have handled some important matters in connection with the trade with good results.

I cannot understand why Mr. "Groccr" picks out this particular report of our annual meeting as a subject for his criticism. It was impossible to do anything more at the meeting which he criticizes than elect officers besides the few other matters which were mentioned.

What we really want in our association is encouragement from every grocer of the city, and the real genuine encouragement at that, their membership, their regular attendance and their fees; not to stay outside and criticize.

Our regular business meeting is held on the second Monday of each month. We will gladly welcome any grocer of the city of Ottawa as a visitor, and I am sure he will find that business that interests the grocery trade as a whole is what takes up our attention. As an association we believe the fraternal part of it is very necessary to keep it together. We don't think that every man for himself will work while the association exists, but as long as a good feeling prevails with all there is bound to be less strife, hard feeling, etc., which tend to so much cutting and slashing in our business.

I hope that Mr. "Grocer," if he thinks that his ideas are right, will seek application at once, and I am sure he will be on the right track if he really belicves as he says "That The Ottawa Retail Grocers' Association needs encouragement."

H. C. ELLIS,
Secretary O. R. G. A.

Ottawa, February 4, 1902.

Editor "Canadian Grocer":—The blind thrusts dealt by the mailed hand of "Grocer," at The Ottawa Grocers' Association, may, I hope, do some good, as that should be the object of every such letter a publisher allows to be inserted in his columns. Every association, government or public body of whatever kind calls forth the vaporings of any number of arm-chair critics, and we of The Ottawa Grocers' Association have the distinction of having at least one. But our friendly and apparently sympathizing critic, I submit, displays a narrow spirit in jumping at his conclusions, based, evidently, upon a single report of one of our meetings.

Now, if it were fair to pass judgment upon "Grocer," as a business man, founded upon several (not one) reports recently passed around, as to methods adopted by him, such judgment might be neither profitable or complimentary (We are confident we can write "Grocer's" full name.)

We are not a mutual admiration society. We are associated for "business." But we "are in our long clothes" yet and have been whistling a good deal to keep up our courage. No harm in that. We work at "business" also, but "all work and no play makes Jack a dull boy."

"The Canadian Grocer" of last week tells us that our big brother association of Toronto realizes the truth of the old adage, and had been indulging in a little levity—fraternizing and indulging in pastime—which must have absolutely shocked the sombre soul of this mentor of the grocer fraternity in Ottawa. If it be true that "a little laughter now and then is relished by the wisest men"—we assume that "Grocer" is not in that class. If "anomolies" mean, to "Grocer," beings that wear clothes, eat, drink, and walk like men; let him point them out and I promise we will more than eradicate them. Inconsistencies, the writer realizes, exist on every hand. What honors do not await the human agent who will free the world of inconsistencies?

I fail to call to mind a more concrete example of gross inconsistency than "Grocer" presents. The development and influence of our association have been retarded more by such "big"—such "more important," transcendently humorous—boasting, arrogant inconsistencies as "Grocer" from without than from the "lesser" ones within our ranks.

Let "Grocer" come down from his pedestal of higher criticism—don his "business" clothes—join our ranks and help us "eradicate inconsistencies"—sheer off excrescencies"—"correct abuses"—adopt a "business" policy; in vulgar parlance—let him put up or shut up.

Dear "Canadian Grocer," our association is growing numerically and influencially, notwithstanding the carpings of critics of the ilk of "Grocer," and we hope and expect to develop into a "parent body," whose influence will be felt to the benefit of the trade generally.

LESSER LIGHT.

Ottawa, February 3, 1902.

SALMON STEADIER IN NEW YORK.

The N. Y. Journal of Commerce of Wednesday, says: "Inquiry by cable from the English markets is reported here for red Alaska salmon, those markets, it is stated, being temporarily short of this description. It is understood the inquiry is for small lots, and buyers' views somewhat under those of sellers' here. Negotiations are reported in progress for a lot with the seller asking $1.05. Some holders, however, hold for $1.07½ and sales for local account are reported up to $1.12½ for best brands. One large interest here estimates spot stocks out of jobbers' hands to be not in excess of 5,000 cases. There is, however, considerable stock in transit from the Coast, and the disposition to firmness noted on the spot is believed to be temporary only. 'Red Alaska salmon," said one dealer to-day, 'will show a fair margin of profit at $1.05, and while some brands may bring more money, there should be no difficulty in securing fish at $1.07½.' We have heard of cables inquiry, but do not know of any business that has resulted."

INQUIRIES AND ANSWERS.

POT AND PEARL BARLEY.

A subscriber writes:

What is the quantity of pot and pearl barley made in Canada, and the proportion of pearl to pot barley?

[Remarks: The total is, we are informed, about 25,000 barrels of 196 lb. each. Of this about 5,000 barrels is pearl barley.—THE EDITOR.]

INQUIRIES FOR CANADIAN PRODUCTS.

The following inquiries were recently received by the Canadian section of the Imperial Institute:

1. A company manufacturing pumps and pumping machinery is prepared to appoint a reliable Canadian firm as its resident agent.

2. A manufacturing company in a position to take considerable supplies of veneer impervious to moisture, would like to hear from Canadian houses which can furnish the material.

3. A West of England firm seeks responsible Canadian agent to take up sale of stationery novelties, gums, glues, glass, etc.

The names of the firms making the above inquiries can be obtained on application to the editor of THE CANADIAN GROCER.

CHANGE IN FREIGHT RATES.

Commencing with February 1, a new schedule of rates went into effect on the Canadian Northern Railway lines in Manitoba. A reduction of 2c. per 100 lb. is provided for on grain, flour, oatmeal and mill stuffs. This represents a change of 11 1-9 to 13⅓ per cent., the chief gainers by this being points on the main line east of Winnipeg, and Portage la Prairie, Emerson, Carman, Winnipegosis, and as far as Miami on the Morris-Brandon branch. From these sections to Port Arthur the old and new rates are as follows:

	Old. c.	New. c.
On main line, all points between:
Winnipeg and east	15	13
Portage and Winnipeg	15	13
Youill and McCreary	16	14
Laurier and Makinak	17	15
Ochre River and Cowan	18	16
Fishers and Swan River	19	17
On Morris-Brandon branch, all points between:
Winnipeg and Miami	15	13
Altament and Brandon	16	14
On Hartney branch, all points between:
Ninette and Fairfax	16	14
Elgin and Underhill	17	15
Argue and Hartney	18	16
All points on:
Gilbert Plains branch	18	16
Emerson branch	15	13
Carman branch	15	13
Winnipegosis branch	18	16

AN AUTOMOBILE LINE FOR TRAVELLERS

A well-known and wealthy citizen of Simcoe, Ont., has decided to put on a line of automobiles between Waterford, Simcoe and Port Dover. Each carriage will accommodate 10 passengers. The line promises to be of great convenience to the travelling public, saving, as it will, a great deal of the time that has hitherto been lost in waiting for trains.

A NEW CANNING FACTORY.

The Strathroy Canning and Preserving Co., Strathroy, Ont., is building a branch factory at Dresden, Ont. The factory is nearly finished, and contracts are being made with the farmers for the necessary supply of vegetables. A specialty of tomatoes will be made at the Dresden factory.

PROFITABLE GOODS.

At this time of the year people begin to think about the products of our national tree, the maple, and any advertisement of maple syrup or maple sugar is eagerly read. The majority of wide-awake grocers in Canada are now renewing a fortunate acquaintance with the Grocers Manufacturing Co., and orders for the famous maple sugars put out by this firm are being rapidly booked. Besides the ordinary cakes of pure maple sugar, maple buttons and tablets must be kept on hand. They are making the latter marked into slight divisions so that they can be broken easily into so many pieces. The maple buttons need no encomiums. Their enormous sale testifies to their excellence. The success of The Grocers Manufacturing Company's maple sugars is doubtless due to their using nothing but pure sugar.

A SCOTCHMAN'S OPINION.

A. W. Bullock, general merchant, Georgeville, Que., under date of January 14, writes Mr. George Mann, Montreal manager of The "Salada" Tea Co., as follows: "I have yours of December 17, and I beg to say that I have no objection to offer to you using my recommendation of Ceylon teas. It is the excellency of the tea only that brings the demand. One of my best green tea customers, an old Scotchman * * * tells me that "Salada" 25c. green is the best tea he has ever used at any price for 20 years."

CATALOGUES, BOOKLETS, Etc.

A HANDY REFERENCE ANNUAL.

The Dominion Brewery Co., Limited, of Toronto, Wm. Ross, manager, has issued another edition of its vest pocket Reference Annual. This is the sixth year of publication and it is one of the most handy and useful books of the kind that has reached our offices. The records in the various branches of sport up to the end of 1901 are presented. Another feature is the game and fishery laws of several of the Provinces. Then there are also given, the last census, the rates of postage, money order rates, value in Canadian currency of foreign coins, the banks of Canada, a calendar for the year, while the centre of the book is set apart for memo. purposes.

MR. MARCEAU LECTURES.

An interesting, as well as instructive, lecture was delivered on the evening of January 31 before the Montreal Grocery Clerks' Association by Mr. E. D. Marceau, the well-known Montreal tea importer. The meeting was held in the Monument National, and a large number of the Association attended.

That Mr. Marceau was well up on his subject, which was "The Origin and Geography of Tea," was known beforehand, but that it could be made so interesting was not so well known. The lecture was divided into three headings: (1) The quality consumed and the quantity exported, (2) the different kinds of tea, and (3) the cultivation and manipulation of teas.

The lecture was very highly appreciated, which was testified to by the hearty vote of thanks tendered to the speaker.

MR. HENRI JONAS MARRIED.

On January 18, Mr. Henri Jonas, of Henri Jonas & Co., was united in marriage to Mrs. Claggett, widow of the late C. C. Claggett. The wedding was a quiet one, only the near relatives and friends of the contracting parties being present. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Canon Wood, in the Church of St. John the Evangelist. Afterwards Mr. and Mrs. Jonas left for New York, Washington and other points in the United States. The many friends of Mr. Jonas congratulated him not more sincerely than does THE CANADIAN GROCER.

AN OFFICE IN TORONTO.

As a result of the increase in their business, it has been necessary for Messrs. S. H. Ewing & Son to have a permanent office and stockroom in Toronto from which to supply their Western Ontario trade. Accordingly premises have been taken at 87 York street, in the Rossin Block; telephone number, Main 204. Mr. E. J. Murphy has been appointed Toronto representative of the firm.

KENTVILLE'S "RED STORE."

Great changes have been made in the general store, known far and wide as the "Red Store," of De Wolfe & Lamont, Kentville, N.S.—four plate-glass windows put in, the counters changed, and the shop newly decorated. This store, besides making a specialty of good teas, always carries a good stock of groceries, feed, canned goods, confectionery and biscuits.

SEPARATE SEALED TENDERS, addressed to the undersigned, will be received at this office until Tuesday, February 25, inclusively, for the construction of Armouries at the following places:

1st Revelstoke, B.C., 3rd Kaslo, B.C.
2nd Kamloops, B.C., 4th Nelson, B.C.

Plans and specifications can be seen and forms of tender obtained for Revelstoke, and Kaslo, on application to the Postmasters at those places; for Nelson, at the office of Mr. J. A. Macdonald, Architect, Nelson; for Kamloops, at the office of Mr. A. Thompson, clerk of works, Kamloops; and for all the works at the Department of Public Works, Ottawa.

Envelopes containing tenders must be endorsed "Tender for Armoury, Revelstoke"; "Tender for Armoury, Kamloops"; "Tender for Armoury, Kaslo,"; and "Tender for Armoury, Nelson" respectively.

Persons tendering are notified that tenders will not be considered unless made on the form supplied, and signed with their actual signatures.

Each tender must be accompanied by an accepted cheque on a chartered bank, made payable to the order of the Honourable the Minister of Public Works, equal to ten per cent. (10 p.c.) of the amount of the tender, which will be forfeited if the party decline to enter into a contract when called upon to do so, or if he fail to complete the work contracted for. If the tender be not accepted the cheque will be returned.

The Department does not bind itself to accept the lowest or any tender.

BUTCHERS' SECTION MEET.

There was a good attendance of butchers and provision merchants at the annual meeting of the Butchers' Section of the Toronto Branch of The Retail Merchants' Association of Canada, when the officers were elected for 1902. These were as follows:

Chairman—H. Puddy.
1st Vice-Chairman—S. R. Leggatt.
2nd Vice-Chairman—T. Lynn.
Secretary—E. Devine.
Treasurer—H. A. Puddington.
Auditors—J. B. Davidson, J. L. Woods and T. Clayton.

Representatives to the Credit Reporting and Collecting Board—S. J. Crealock and J. W. Holman.

The following committees were struck: Reception, finance, municipal and legislative, refreshment and entertainment, membership, and trade improvement. The members of these will be appointed at the next meeting.

The treasurer reported a substantial balance after the expenses incurred in the trading stamp and other legislation were paid. A substantial increase in the membership was also reported.

The new chairman, Mr. H. Puddy, is the senior partner of Puddy Bros., butchers and provision merchants, who have been established on the corner of Adelaide and York streets for a number of years. Their business is one of the largest and most successful of its kind in the city. Mr. Puddy has been connected with the butchers' section for a number of years.

E. Devine, the new secretary, has, like the chairman, been a member of the butchers' section for quite a long time. He has been established on Queen street west, near Spadina avenue, for several years, is well known and has numerous friends.

COLD STORAGE IN NOVA SCOTIA.

A press despatch from New Glasgow, N.S., says: "The benefit of the Government-aided system of bait and cold storage may be seen from the return of the catch of codfish, hake and haddock for three years at Frog Pond, P.E.I. During this time the population remained practically stationary. In 1899, 95,000 lb. were landed; in 1900, the catch was 210,000 lb., with less favorable circumstances, while in 1901 the fares landed aggregated 320,000 lb. The fishermen in the last two years had a constant bait supply.

"The Alberton Bait Association is shipping frozen fish to Charlottetown, caught earlier in the season with its supply of frozen bait. The capacity of the Sambro bait-freezer, which is now filled with 25 tons of squid, will be at once increased to 100 tons."

BEEF CANNING AT MEDICINE HAT.

A movement is on foot to establish a beef-canning factory at Medicine Hat, Assa. Being a good ranching district, Medicine Hat should be favorably situated for such an industry. The chief promoter is Mr. W. G. Adams, Coulee P.O., Maple Creek, Assa.

THE PROVISION MARKETS.

TORONTO.

This week there are few buyers for whatever Western or Northern hogs that are being offered, and the ruling figure is $7.40, a fall of 10c. since last quotation. As high as $7.50 is paid occasionally. Locally, the arrivals of dressed hogs have greatly fallen off, making it difficult to quote safe figures. In one instance $8.50 was paid. Lambs are up ¼ to 1c. per lb. The other prices are unchanged. We quote: Dressed hogs, $8.00 to $8.25; beef carcasses, $5.75 to $7 per 100 lb.; hind quarters, $6.50 to $7.50 per 100 lb.; front quarters, $4.75 to $5.50 per 100 lb. Veal, 7 to 8½c. per lb.; lambs, 8 to 8½c. Live hogs: Selects, $6.12½, and lights $5 87½ per 100 lb.; choice export cattle bring $5 to $5.40 per 100 lb.; lights sell at $4 to $4.50.

Stocks of lard and cured provisions on hand are becoming quite complete. A good local demand is reported, with prices ruling firm. Lard, especially, is brisk. We quote: Long clear bacon, 10½ to 11c.; smoked breakfast bacon, 14 to 15c.; rolls, 11 to 11½c.; medium hams, 13½c.; large hams, 12½ to 13c.; shoulder hams, 10½ to 11c., and backs, 13½ to 14c.; Canadian heavy mess pork, $20.50 to $21; short cut, $22; lard, in tierces, 12¼c. per lb.; tubs, 11½c., and pails, 11¾c.

MONTREAL.

A good business is being done this week. Receipts of live hogs have not been heavy, but dressed hogs and all hog products are moving pretty actively. Prices on most lines are firm. Smoked meats are not inquired for very much, though there is no weakening in the prices. It is expected that next week will see a much better movement in smoked meats. Pure lard has weakened somewhat, and in some quarters has been reduced ¼c. We quote as follows: Heavy Canadian short cut mess pork, $22; Chicago clear pork, $22.50 for heavy and $22.25 for medium; selected heavy short cut mess pork, boneless, $22.00 to $22.50; hams, 13c.; bacon, 15c.; lard, pure Canadian, $2.35 to $2.40 per pail; refined lard compound (Fairbank's); $2.05 for 1 to 24 pails; $2.03 for 25 to 49 pails; $2.02 for 50 pails and over. Snow White and Globe compound, $1.75

ST. JOHN, N. B.

Sales are light. In pork, barrelled, both domestic and American are offered. Prices continue high. Beef is a very slow seller. American plate has the demand in our market. Prices are unchanged. In lard, a fair stock is held. The price of pure seems rather easier, but is still very high. There is a good sale for compound. In round hogs, the supply is very light, and for good stock full prices are quickly paid. Beef is rather dull. We quote as follows: American mess pork, $21.00; domestic mess pork, $20 00; American clear pork, $24.00; domestic clear pork, $22.00 to $23.00; American plate beef, $16.00; domestic plate beef, $14.50 to $15; pure lard, tubs, 12½ to 12¾c.; pure lard, pails, 12¾ to 13c.; compound lard, tubs, 10c.; compound lard, pails, 10¼c.; Fairbank's refined lard, tubs, 10½c.; Fairbank's refined lard, pails, 10¾c.

WINNIPEG.

BEEF—Demand is increasing and prices are firmer, and although no advance has occurred during the week, it is expected that on Tuesday or Wednesday there will be an advance of from ¼ to ½c. per lb. Best grade of dressed beef is now quoted at 7c. straight, while country-dressed runs from 5¾ to 6¼c.

MUTTON—Market is entirely supplied with Ontario frozen, there being no Western offerings. Demand is light and price nominally 8c., and lambs 9c.

HOGS—The receipts of dressed hogs have been somewhat larger, probably owing to the stiffer price. Price is again higher, the quotations now being 8 to 8¼c. for the best grades, as against 7¾ to 8⅛c. last week. Though packers, of course, prefer live hogs, they are buying the dressed very freely.

A Peep Into a Modern Soap Factory.

BY JAMES PATTERSON.

IN the history of Canada undoubtedly there never was a time when she was closer to the point of experiencing a wave of progress. The tide of European emigration has flowed steadily for years to the United States, and if but the edge of it touched Canada's shores it was simply because the emigrants knew little or nothing of her resources. The reproductions of ice carnivals and snow scenes that have been published so widely have caused the British people to view Canada as a cold inhospitable region, and even the British emigrant was chilled.

Canada is now becoming known in the Old Country in her true light as an agricultural and industrial country of great opportunities. Great Britain has seen Canadians side by side with the English troops on the battlefields of South Africa. The daily papers of Great Britain have continually had something to say about Canadians during the war, thus inciting inquiry. The Royal tour through Canada brought together a staff of newspaper writers who have visited every part of the country, and to-hay Canada is to the front in British journalism. There can be no question that the British people, and particularly those who desire to emigrate, have now a truer picture of Canada than at any previous period. The curtain has risen on a new scene in the drama.

Manufacturers of note are pushing trade in Canada to-day more persistently than they have ever done, and as Canáda's population expands and as her buying power increases, we may expect to find exporters from abroad catering for the Canadian market more largely than ever.

We consider that a definitely progressive step has been made when an exporter from abroad, having secured a permanent demand for his goods in this country, brings the whole strength of his organization here and builds a factory to make on Canadian soil goods for Canadian consumption. This is exactly what has happened during the past year in a notable instance, that of Sunlight Soap.

A Model Business Office.—Sunlight Soap Works.

This soap has been known in Canada for over 12 years, and was imported from England until the growing popularity of the soap here and the overgrowth of the demand on the English factory, necessitated the soap required for Canadian use being manufactured in Canada. The site of The Canadian Sunlight Soap Works is on the river Don, Toronto, where Lever Brothers, Limited, have acquired 23 acres of land. They have erected a factory which has been described by an insurance authority as "the finest soap factory on the American continent." The buildings are worthy of Canada and represent in building and plant, a capital of over $300,000.

A view across the Don shows the offices and works on Eastern avenue. A visit to these works by the writer is of special interest to Canadian Magazine readers.

The Canadian public who have been accustomed to associate soap-making with small, crowded, evil-smelling factories would be wonderfully surprised on entering the soap-boiling room of Lever Brothers, Limited. The soap pans take up the whole centre length of the boiling-room. There is a row of storage tanks on either side of the room, while oil and fat pipes connect with other storage tanks in the basement of the works; but the whole operation of amalgamating the ingredients in the pans for boiling is under the control of the few operators in this room. Labor is reduced to a minimum. The important purpose of this room is to produce Sunlight Soap with skill and experience rather than with cheap labor, and the whole process is under the immediate control of a superintendent whose experience has been gained in the best school.

It is a most interesting sight for a visitor to see the soap boiling in these great cauldrons, and the most frequent and natural remark is : " I am surprised how pleasant the smell is." This is explained by the fact that in the making of Sunlight Soap no rancid fats or slaughterhouse offal are used.

It is really surprising what an amount of care, organization, and skill is expended on an article like soap. The Sunlight Soap Works are provided with a laboratory and staff of chemists to test the raw material, and to prevent anything but pure oils and pure fats entering into the soaps there produced. The soap is tested at every stage of its manufacture ; it is tested after boiling ; it is tested after cooling ; it is tested as a finished product, and further, a sample of every boil of the finished soap is sent to the laboratory at The Port Sunlight Works, England, where it is again tested to insure that the same uniform high-quality of Sunlight Soap is being maintained throughout the world. One wonders that so much care should be necessary ; but Lever Brothers, Limited, have a maxim that Sunlight Soap must not vary in its high standard of excellence, wherever manufactured.

The soap pans are built into and through the floor to the room below, called " The Lyes Room," where the residue, after making Sunlight Soap is drawn and stored. This residue is afterwards treated in the glycerine department.

After Sunlight Soap has been boiled and has stood every laboratory test, it is run in pipes from this building into " The Frame Room," to be cooled. After cooling, ingenious machinery quickly transforms the frames of soap into slabs, slabs into bars, bars into tablets, and an automatic stamping machine, electrically driven, places the well-known brand on each tablet. Incidentally, it may be remarked that Lever Brothers, Limited, print and make their own card-boxes. The wood boxes are also printed, lock-cornered, and made up on the premises.

The factory is run by a 250 h.p. engine, with dynamo attached, and the company make their own electric light for the works and offices. They have their own railway sidings, and every modern convenience for receiving and shipping goods. All loading platforms are roofed over.

The office building, standing in front of the works, is an imposing piece of architecture, the inside being finished in mahogany, and fitted throughout with the most approved conveniences. Rooms above the office comprise a kitchen for preparing meals for the employes, where the food is cooked by electricity, and other rooms are fitted up as dining halls.

The factory is open by appointment at certain hours for visitors, and every visitor will be amply repaid for the trouble of inspection. Sunlight Soap Works is really one of the sights of Toronto.

In an interview with the president of the company, the writer endeavored to trace some reasons for the very rapid development of Sunlight Soap. Within 15 years of the first manufacture of this soap, it has risen to the position of having a larger sale than any other three soaps combined. It employs more workpeople it its manufacture than any other soap in the world. It has a larger capital invested in it than any other soap in the world, and the Canadian works of Lever Brothers, Limited, show that they have certainly come to Canada to stay.

The writer's impressions after the interview were, that the officials themselves of Lever Brothers, Limited, have certainly a strong faith in Sunlight Soap. They advertise the soap as being of a very high standard of merit, and they claim that there is no advertisement ever published by Lever Brothers, Limited, that they do not live up to. Whatever the cost of raw materials, they never adulterate. The whole secret is in publicity and keeping faith with the public.—Canadian Magazine.

E. A. WILLS BANQUETTED.

MR. E. A. WILLS, the retiring Secretary of the Toronto Board of Trade, was banqueted by his numerous friends of the National Club and the Board of Trade on Thursday evening, January 30. Mr. Edward Gurney presided. Others present, besides the guest of the evening were : J. F. Ellis, President National Club ; Mr. A. E. Ames, President Board of Trade ; Hon. Geo. E. Foster, Lieut.-Col. Denison, W. K. McNaught, D. E. Thomson, A. E. Kemp, M.P.; Frank Arnoldi, K.C., W. J. Gage and Geo. A. Wills, son of Mr. Wills.

Mr. Gurney, in proposing the toast, " Our Guest," paid a tribute to Mr. Wills for his modesty, his democracy, his sincerity, and his keen business faculties.

Deeply affected, Mr. Wills responded by expressing his gratitude for the many times he had been the recipient of acts of kindness during his sojurn in Toronto. He was visibly affected when he touched on his long connection with the Board of Trade and the National Club.

A resolution, making Mr. Wills an honorary life member of the club, was presented to him by President J. F. Ellis. This gift was very cordially accepted. In proposing the toast, " Trade and Commerce," Mr. Gurney said that we have at present to depend on the conditions of trade prevailing in the United States. We were not commercial but political in the making of our tariff.

Hon. Geo. E. Foster paid a fitting tribute to Mr. Wills. He said that to keep our trade something more than the flag was needed. He would like to see the whole British Empire roll up their sleeves and give the commercially hostile nations a taste of commercial war.

Mr. A. E. Ames eulogized Mr. Wills. He said we should rather take up measures to build up our own industries. We did not need to waste any time in enmity with the United States. We should be big enough to stand on our own basis.

Lieut.-Col. Denison had also something in the way of praise to be added for Mr. Wills. He strongly urged the importance of the Canadian representatives to the colonial conference in London this year being prepared with some plan of action that would be definite.

POPULARITY is the proof of merit, and no brand has ever achieved popularity so quickly as

A GOOD MARGIN OF PROFIT FOR THE RETAILERS.

When Quality Dies!

Good-bye to a progressive business when all thought of quality fades from a grocer's mind. The sun set long and long ago on the day of big profits and poor quality. Remember what a great man once said, "You can fool some of the people all of the time and all of the people some of the time, but you can't fool all of the people all of the time." Remember this when tempted to fool with quality.

THE INTERESTING CAREER OF A PIONEER BUSINESS MAN.

BY the death of Mr. E. D. Tillson, whose demise on January 31 was briefly referred to in "The Canadian Grocer," of last week, the Dominion not only loses another of her pioneer citizens, but, what is of more importance, one of those stalwart and energetic type of business men, all too rare, who, by the combination of faith and industry, remove mountains and build up large and successful commercial enterprises.

Mr. George Tillson, father of the deceased, came from New York State to Canada in 1822 and settled for a time in Charlotteville, in Norfolk county, where he, in company with Benjamin Van Norman and Hiram Capron, built the first blast furnace in Upper Canada. In the year 1825 E. D. Tillson was born in Normandale, and was, therefore, at the time of his death, aged 77. The same year George Tillson, his father, made a prospecting tour up the country. He explored along the course of the Otter Creek from Otterville to Port Burwell, and during the journey camped one night on the ridge overlooking the Otter where the Tilsonburg sanitarium now stands. The outlook was promising and Mr. Tillson decided to settle in Dereham township. He bought 600 acres of land, which comprise what is now Annandale farm and the land on which the town of Tilsonburg is built. The country was a dense forest, only six settlers then being in the township of Dereham. Mr. Tillson's first work was the building of a small log house at the east side of the Otter, at the point where the Courtland Road and the Vienna Road meet. A big willow tree now marks the spot where the old house stood. Mr. Tillson intended to build a blast furnace; he, however, built a sawmill first, and afterwards a forge.

In 1826 the family, consisting of Mrs. Tillson and six children, came to their new home in the forest, E. D. Tillson being one year old. There was no highway between the new settlement and the Talbot Road, and George Tillson cut the road in from Ronson's Corners (now Courtland) as his family came along. He was assisted in the work by George Best, another worthy pioneer, who passed away a short time ago in his 97th year.

The sawmill and forge were working and new settlers were coming in. Mr. Tilson cut roads from 5 to 15 miles out from the hamlet, which now took on the name of Dereham Forge, a name that clung to it until 1836. A year previous an axe factory was established in the hamlet by George Levitt and William Darrow. This industry gave the place a start and from that time onward its growth was steady.

In the meantime George Tillson had built a new house for his family, close to the log house, and here E. D. Tillson grew to manhood amid rugged and healthy surroundings well calculated to develop those traits of character which mark the self-made man and are the foundation of a useful and successful life in the truest sense of the word. He attended the first school started in the village.

There was no opportunity to acquire an education such as lies within reach of the child of the humblest resident of Ontario at the present time. However, after attending the school in the new settlement, Mr. Tillson secured a limited term of seven months at a first-class school, during a visit to Ohio, when he was 20 years of age.

When he was 10 years of age a village was surveyed, and it may here be said that the founder of the town, Mr. E. D. Tillson's father, did it in such a way as to bring lasting honor to his memory in the broad streets and avenues for which Tilsonburg is noted.

Shortly after the village was laid out the stirring events of 1837 occurred, which Mr. E. D. Tillson well remembered and conversed about in late years. The residents of Tilsonburg at that time were mostly of American descent and their sympathies were with those who opposed the Government and desired further rights. Mr. Tillson's father happened to possess suitable material for bullets in some lead patterns, and these were moulded into ammunition. He was taken prisoner, and, with others, was taken to London, where he was tried and afterwards liberated. All the inhabitants of the village who were suspected of being disloyal were ordered to deliver up their arms. E. D. Tillson was the owner of a shot gun, and this and others were collected and taken to Simcoe, and that was the last seen of them.

In the year 1847, Mr. E. D. Tillson, now grown to manhood's estate, started in business for himself with a cousin, Wright Barker, and another partner named Chas. Cody. His capital consisted of the sum of $36, earned by teaching school for three months in a small schoolhouse at Bayham, three miles west of the village, near Mr. George Best's farm, on what is now called the Forge Road, at the munificent salary of $12 a month, the teacher to board round. The new enterprise consisted of a small sawmill erected on the site where about 20 years afterwards Mr. Tillson built an oatmill at a cost of many thousands of dollars more than the amount put into his first venture. After building this sawmill he went into partnership with Benjamin VanNorman and built a larger sawmill, and his success from this time onward was phenomenal.

A particularly pleasing occurrence happened about this time which had much to do in shaping Mr. Tillson's prosperous career. It was a visit of his estimable wife, then Miss Mary A. VanNorman, to Dereham Forge. Miss VanNorman was a particularly bright and handsome young woman, who some 19 years before was born in Normandale, Mr. Tillson's birthplace, she being the daughter of Mr. Whiting VanNorman, a brother of Benjamin VanNorman. Her mother was of Highland Scotch descent, her maiden name being Margaret McLeach. While Mary A. was young, her father moved to Illinois, and on the broad, free prairies of the West she grew to womanhood. When she was about 14 years of age the family came back to Normandale, and, her father's brother, Mr. Joseph VanNorman, having settled at Dereham Forge, she came in 1850 to visit him, and while here met Mr. Tillson. A strong attachment sprang up between the young man and woman, which resulted in their marriage the same year.

About the time of Mr. Tillson's marriage The Ingersoll and Port Burwell Toll Road Co. was formed, Mr. Tillson being a stockholder, and the construction of the plank road between the two places was begun. A contract was secured for supplying plank for the road, and as the capacity of the two small sawmills in which Mr. Tillson had an interest was not sufficient to cut the quantity required, he, in company with his father, in 1851, built a large mill. A few years afterwards Mr. Tillson bought his father's share in the mill and took over the water privileges The mill was burned with a large stock of lumber about 12 years afterwards, entailing a loss of about $20,000, there being but $1,000 of insurance upon the property. The mill was rebuilt and the sash and door factory was built about the same time.

The first flourmill in the township of Dereham was built by Benjamin VanNorman, and in 1864 was purchased by Mr. Tillson. It was rebuilt later and has been so improved as to now have a capacity of turning out 500 barrels of flour per day.

In 1873 Mr. Tillson built an oatmeal mill, the third in Western Ontario. To Mrs. Tillson was given the honor of laying the corner stone, which was done with due ceremony in the presence of the family and a number of friends. Five years later a pea mill was erected. These mills gave a great impetus to the industry of the town and were the means of adding materially to the population of the town by the number of persons employed in them.

The demands of the mills necessitated a cooperage and a stave factory, and these were, accordingly built, increasing yet more the industrial welfare of the town.

Mr. Tillson's great prosperity was not without drawbacks, the greatest of which had been the loss by fire, and after Tilsonburg was incorporated he decided that proper fire protection was essential, both for the security of the town and his own business interests, and to him is largely due the splendid system of waterworks of which Tilsonburg may boast to-day. He was strenuously opposed in this large undertaking, which daunted men of less keen insight into the requirements of the town, but was, on the other hand, supported and encouraged by a few who favored the scheme. Finally, in 1874, the waterworks were constructed at a total cost of $24,000, Mr. Tillson contributing $7,000 of his own funds to the amount.

In 1886 another great loss by fire occurred when the oatmeal mill was burned; but losses of this nature did not quell Mr. Tillson's ambition, and with characteristic energy he set to work to rebuild the mill on a larger scale than before, and in its place there now stands an oatmeal mill with a capacity of 300 barrels per day, using 2,500 bushels of oats daily.

A corn mill was also added to the vast milling industries a few years ago with a capacity of 150 barrels per day. The produce from this and the other mills, amounting to 1,100 barrels per day, is shipped to every Province in Canada and the trade is still being extended. In addition to his other enterprises Mr. Tillson operated a sawmill, planing mill and brick yard.

Among some of the greater works undertaken by Mr. Tillson may be mentioned the building of the Imperial dam at a cost of $35,000. Mr. Tillson was noted for his thoroughness of work. The dam was built after his own plans, and in accordance with his ideas of permanency. Although the power for the various mills is not taken direct from the pond, it is of such large dimensions, extending over four miles in length, that it is used as a reservoir, from which the water is drawn into the lower dam during dry seasons, and in this way the supply is kept uniform, and the power steady.

About eight years ago, at considerable outlay, a private railway was built, connecting the various mills with the different railroad systems, thus providing complete shipping facilities for the amount of produce daily sent out from the mills.

But Mr. Tillson did not confine his energies entirely to his own private interests. Had he done so he might have accumulated vast wealth. Through his own efforts and at a cost to himself of $40,000, he graded and levelled the streets and improved the site of the town until now Tilsonburg ranks with the prettiest places of its size to be found in the Dominion. In recent years, as a real-estate owner, Mr. Tillson paid annually into the town treasury a sum approaching $3,000.

Mr. Tillson's last great enterprise was the construction of what is known as the Tilsonburg Waterworks Co.'s system, which supplies water to the town for domestic purposes. The system was first constructed for private use, one of the objects being the irrigation of the Annandale farm, but about five years ago a franchise was secured and a joint stock company, composed of members of the family, was formed, the system was extended, being now the principal source of the town's supply of water. About 10 years ago Mr. Tillson withdrew from active business life, giving his various business interests to the management of his two sons, Messrs. George and E. V. Tillson, and began to devote considerable time and money to improving the Annandale farm, consisting of 400 acres, which is at the present time second to none in the county of Oxford and will compare favorably with the best in Ontario. Mr. Tillson was largely interested in dairying and his fine herd of Holstein cattle have been the pride and admiration of the place. Visitors from different parts of Canada, having heard of Mr. Tillson's "Model Farm," were never disappointed when they saw it, for with its splendid buildings and complete equipment it ranked with the best seen anywhere.

The surviving children are George W., E. V., Mrs. H. Harrison and Mrs. L. C. Sinclair, all of Tilsonburg. Two children predeceased him, Margaret, who died 27 years ago, and Fred B., who died 13 years ago. There are also ten grandchildren. The funeral took place Monday afternoon, the 3rd inst, the schools and all places of business in Tilsonburg being closed out of respect to the time-honored citizen.

APPLES IN NEW BRUNSWICK.

MR. RALPH H. EATON, of Hillcrest orchards, King's county, N.S., is one of the largest and most successful fruit growers of that Province. At a meeting of the Farmers' Institute at Fredericton, N.B., recently, he delivered an interesting address on apple culture in New Brunswick. He said there was no question as to the possibility of fruit growing in Nova Scotia; the only question was the desirability. He would show how this stood in King's county, N.S.

He here referred to the agricultural college proposed jointly for New Brunswick and Nova Scotia, and described it as having an ideal situation overlooking four of the best counties in the latter Province, showing the Minas Basin, Blomidon, and the very heart of the lovely Cornwallis Valley.

Looking from this site 15 years ago a few of the best farms that could be pointed out then would have been valued at $10,000 to $15,000, and a larger number at from $3,000 to $6,000. To-day there were some farms that $25,000 or $30,000 wouldn't buy, while there were a dozen worth from $15,000 to $20,000. A good many valued at $10,000 to $15,000, and many smaller ones which had doubled their value during that time. Some of these farms are turning off this year some $4,000 to $8,000 each. Simply the planting of apple trees had made this change. There are now a number of 40 and 50-acre orchards, and in a few years there will be a few of 100 acres.

The apple output of King's county is to-day worth half a million dollars annually. In ten years from now it will be worth $1,000,000.

In many parts of New Brunswick all the commercial varieties produced in the other Province could be grown, and both Provinces had an equally easy access to the markets of the world. It was true that in some parts of New Brunswick the temperature sometimes dropped 35 or 40 degrees below zero, but they could always obtain advice as to the most suitable varieties for growth from the horticulturists at Ottawa, Iowa, and Kansas.

He incidentally touched upon the fact that at the recent meeting of The New York State Fruit Growers' Association, held at Syracuse, N.Y., when people he was speaking to found he had come from the district that had made Nova Scotia famous, the spontaneous remark was, "Well, the United States must take off their hats to Nova Scotia."

He concluded by hoping that within a short time they would say the same thing about New Brunswick.

GRAIN CONGESTION IN THE WEST.

In the Western Provinces of the Dominion the grain congestion is becoming more acute and business men are becoming anxious. On February 7 there was a meeting of the Winnipeg Grain and Produce Exchange when this question was discussed by the large number of members present. The discussion was carried on behind closed doors and nothing definite will be done before February 14, the date of the regular meeting of the Exchange.

By invitation of the board, General Superintendent Leonard, General Freight Traffic Manager McInnes and Mr. Lanagan, of the Canadian Pacific Railway, were present, and stated the position of that company. They said that the C.P.R. was perfectly willing to turn over the wheat at Port Arthur to the Canadian Northern Railway for storage in its new elevator, but declined to turn the grain over to the C.N.R. at Winnipeg for transportation to the lake port.

The season, they also stated was over, as far as the C.P.R. was concerned, for all their elevators were stored to their fullest capacity. However, the company declined to hand over its traffic to the C.N.R., as they claim that the latter is not in a position to handle it satisfactorily in any event.

They were very desirous to relieve the situation, and hinted that a probable outlet might be found through connecting lines in the United States.

The grain men expressed anxiety to have the blockade raised at the earliest possible time, irrespective of the connections which the Canadian Pacific Railway might be compelled to make in order to effect it.

The Ottawa bakers are claiming that they are being injured by the provisions of the Ontario Factories Act, which prohibits them from commencing their baking on Sunday, while the Hull bakers are allowed under the Quebec law to commence baking at 7 p.m. on Sunday, thus enabling them to distribute their bread throughout Ontario early on Monday morning, before the others. A deputation of Ottawa bakers is to wait on the Ontario Government shortly in regard to the matter.

TORONTO RETAIL GROCERS' ASSOCIATION.

Early Closing, the Fruit Market and Other Questions Discussed.

THE regular meeting of the Toronto Retail Grocers' Association was held last Monday evening, February 10, in their room in St. George's Hall, Elm street, when a number of important matters came up for discussion. There was a good attendance, and everyone was interested in the proceedings, as was evidenced by the lively discussions that took place from time to time. The meeting was presided over by W. J. Sykes, the president, while Edward Hawes filled the office of secretary.

The first matter that came up was the request of the Grocery Clerks' Association, who had sent a deputation to wait on the Association at its last regular meeting.

B. Panter set the ball rolling by moving that the Association did not see its way clear to give money for prizes. He thought that the essays would not be a test of a clerk's knowledge, as he might be prompted by some older and more experienced person.

An animated discussion followed in which several joined.

D. J. Kelly addressed the meeting at some length on this topic. His chief point was that if a prize should be donated, before it was finally awarded there should be a practical application of what theories were advanced in the essay. This would prove that the writer thoroughly grasped the subject. F. W. Johnston thought Mr. Kelly's suggestion was all right. After some further discussion B. Panter's motion was carried.

R. W. Matthews, grocer, 975 Bloor street west, was proposed as a member. His name will be on the next circular.

Edward Hawes stated that he had seen one of the aldermen, who informed him that as yet nothing had been done regarding the early-closing by-law by the new council. It was suggested that each alderman should be personally interviewed and have the merits of this by-law pointed out to him.

The "At-Home" committee were unable to report, as full returns had not yet been made. Neither were the auditors able to put in their statement.

A discussion then arose on the selling of charcoal direct to consumers by wholesalers. One company had recently been peddling and selling this charcoal at a very low figure, and it was thought that something in the nature of a protest should be entered against these proceedings. The secretary was instructed to write the firm.

Thomas Cleghorn, of Cleghorn, Smith & Co., had desired to give an address on the early closing of the fruit market at this meeting, but was prevented by other business. He will speak at some future time.

Regarding the present state of the fruit market, the president thought that it was all owing to the 2 o'clock train that the market didn't close at present. He suggested that they petition the Provincial Government for a grant towards having refrigerator instead of box cars for the carriage of fruit, as then it could be easily kept over night in the car. At present when the fruit arrived it was very often unfit for selling.

D. J. Kelly stated that he had been agitating for early closing of the fruit market during the last two years, and, by continuing, he thought something might be done in the way of educating the fruit grower to this necessity. It was better for the fruit trade if the berries were picked in the morning.

A member said he did not believe the Government would grant anything towards cold storage.

The president thought that as a cold-storage system had been already established for export, the same might be done for the local fruit trade.

A committee, consisting of D. J. Kelly, D. W. Clark, J. G. Gibson and the president, were appointed as a delegation to the Exhibition Association.

Messrs. D. W. Clark, D. Bell, F. W. Johnston, A. White and R. W. Davies will form a committee to look into the matter of securing a boat for the annual excursion next summer.

The meeting was closed by an animated discussion on the question of sending a committee to inquire into and report on the benefits to be obtained by amalgamation with the Retail Merchants' Association. Several were in favor of having a committee appointed, while others were hostile to that idea.

A resolution was made to the effect that this committee should be appointed and sent, but was not submitted, as B. Panter stopped further discussion by a motion to adjourn.

The Association has drafted a resolution to be forwarded to T. Nolan, grocer, who has sold out and is removing to Dakota, expressing their sorrow at his departure and their wishes for his future prosperity.

PROPOSED NEW RAILWAY.

This year there is an application to be made to the Dominion Parliament for the incorporation of the Manitoba and Keewatin Railway, with the names of a number of the leading business men of Manitoba and Winnipeg as incorporators. This line will eventually connect Winnipeg with Fort Severn on Hudson Bay, covering a distance of about 325 miles, opening up over 135,000,000 acres, a space nearly three times as large as Manitoba, where at present there are no permanent settlers nor improvements outside the posts of the Hudson's Bay Co.

The primary object of incorporation is not to open up this region in the immediate future, but only at present to obtain access from Winnipeg to the timber region lying east of the lake, where fuel and building material may be obtained at a lower cost than elsewhere.

The incorporators will ask that a dormant Act of Parliament, passed away back in 1885, offering a land bonus of 12,400 acres per mile to a line of railway to be built in the territory be applied.

APPLE SHIPMENTS FROM HALIFAX.

SINCE the opening of the season there has been shipped to Great Britain 187,553 barrels of apples from Halifax by all steamship lines. Of these the Furness Line carried 161,285 barrels, and the Allan and Donaldson Lines 26,268. In addition to these many apples were sent to the Old Country via St. John, Montreal and Boston, bringing up the totals to at least 200,000 barrels, carried away from Nova Scotia alone. Here is a detailed list of shipments :

INQUIRIES ABOUT CANADIAN GOODS.

The following were among the recent inquiries relating to Canadian trade received at the Canadian Government office in London :

1. A firm of commission merchants and forwarding agents at Florence, Italy, wish to get into communication with some first-class Canadian export houses in any line save provisions.

2. Inquiry has been received from a firm of forwarding and commission agents, mercantile brokers and bonded warehousemen at East London, Cape Colony, who wish to make connection with a Canadian manufacturing and exporting house.

3. A Manchester firm of importers and general commission agents desire to obtain an agency for a good Canadian exporter. They would be open to represent either produce or textile houses.

4. Canadian firms interested in the shipment of honey for the British market, and who would like an opportunity of displaying samples in London, are invited to correspond with a gentleman who is prepared to offer facilities.

5. An importer of fruit and other produce for London market wishes to get into direct touch with Canadian shippers.

6. Inquiry is made for names and addresses of Canadian manufacturers of buggies and other similar vehicles, farm carts and wagons.

7. A correspondent at Grimsby asks for names of Canadian shippers of eggs, cheese, bacon, etc.

8. The patentees and manufacturers of hammerless guns, rifles and every description of small arms ask for suggestions as to placing their catalogues and price lists in Canada.

9. A general merchant in the north of England, having travellers calling upon a large number of business houses, is anxious to undertake buying or selling agencies for Canadian firms. He is especially interested in grain, flour, etc., silver, copper and other ores.

10. The manufacturers of chemicals for agricultural purposes, including fine riddled bone ash, desire to get into touch with actual importers of such goods in Canada.

Inquiries received by the Canadian section of the Imperial Institute :

1. A London house desires names of Canadian producers of split peas.

2. A Midlands manufacturer is open to purchase supplies of round wood of a tough character, ½, ⅝, ¾, ⅞ and 1 inch in diameter. Price by the ton c.i.f.

3. A firm representing several continental packers of preserved goods is open to undertake the agency of a first-class Canadian packer of canned goods.

[The names of the firms making the above inquiries can be obtained on application to the editor of THE CANADIAN GROCER.]

FOUR GENEROUS BUSINESS MEN.

A MOST pleasing incident is recorded by the press of Smith's Falls, Ont. Through the efforts of a local newspaperman, Andrew Carnegie offered to give $10,000 for the erection of a new public library building for the town, provided Smith's Falls spent yearly $1,000 in maintenance of the library.

At this stage, Messrs. C. B. Frost and F. T. Frost, president and vice-president, respectively, of the Frost & Wood Co., came foward with an offer to supplement Mr. Carnegie's gift with another $10,000, payable in 20 annual instalments of $500 each. But the spirit of beneficence did not end there. Mr. W. H. Frost, of the Malleable Iron Works, and Mr. H. S. McNeil, a local wholesale merchant, became imbued with it, the former contributing $2,000 in 20 annual payments of $100 each and the latter $50.

There is scarcely any other way by which successful business men can give more lasting and greater benefits to the people in their respective localities than by emulating the Messrs. Frost and McNeil.

It is by association with the best books and acquaintanceship with their contents that knowledge is extended and breadth of view cultivated, the concomitant of which is better business men, better clerks, better workmen and better citizens.

It is to be hoped the generosity of the Messrs. Frost and McNeil will not be without its influence upon business men in other places besides Smith's Falls.

A FAILURE AND ITS LESSON.

ONE of the peculiar things in commercial affairs which astonishes most people is the ease with which business men are sometimes enabled to secure credit far out of proportion to the assets they command. In spite of warnings, and in spite even of experience, business men are again and again caught in the same trap. We have an evidence of this in a statement that is before us, the estate of T. P. Heffernan, a merchant of Guelph, Ont.

This estate has recently been wound up, and, after the assignee's fees and charges and the preferred claims have been paid, there is not money enough left to pay the creditors 6½c. on the dollar. The largest creditor is for the sum of $2,085.31 and all he gets to satisfy this is $135.52! The following is a summary of the financial statement in regard to the receipts and disbursements :

RECEIPTS.

Received from sale of stock.....	$392.21
Proceeds of book accounts	140.30
		$532.51

DISBURSEMENTS.

Assignee's fees and incidental disbursements	$ 54.65
Rent	160.00
Wages	9.50
		224.15
Amount available for creditors.....		$308.36

The amount of the liabilities which this sum of $308 was to liquidate was $4,744, thus giving the creditors, as we have already pointed out, the magnificent sum of scarcely 6½ per cent.

We have no knowledge whatever of Mr. Heffernan's method of doing business, but we know that the laxity with which credit is sometimes given by wholesalers and manufacturers, enables men to go into business who otherwise would not, thus increasing oftentimes a competition that is already excessive. And that is not the worst result of it: Men who go into business with inadequate capital are compelled, as a rule, to make undue reductions in prices in order to meet accounts falling due, thereby disturbing trade, and without doing themselves any permanent good.

While a Dominion insolvency law would not altogether prevent a repetition of such failures as that cited, it would, we believe, tend to minimize them, for, with the existence of such a law, people would not rush so recklessly into business as they do now, and they would certainly be less disposed to employ reckless business methods. Some retailers we know are opposed to a Dominion insolvency law, fearing it would be a restriction upon themselves. The only business men who need fear an insolvency law are those who are not solvent. Merchants who are solvent have no more need to fear an insolvency law than have honest persons the laws against dishonesty. Business men have more reason to support than to oppose the movement for a Dominion insolvency law.

THREE GOOD GROCERS.

THE grocery trade is well represented in the present Council of Montreal. From the wholesale business there is Ald. Laporte, of Laporte, Martin & Cie, and three of his friends in municipal reform are Ald. L. A. Lapointe, Ald. S. D. Vallieres and Ald. R. Turner, all prominent grocers of the city.

Ald. Lapointe ran as an independent candidate in St. Antoine South Ward, Seat No. 1, and received the strong support of the municipal reform party. His majority was 515. St. Denis Ward, Seat No. 1, elected Ald. Vallieres. The opposition to him was not seriously considered at any time, and, although only a light vote was polled, this being the only election in the ward, he received a majority of 695. In Seat No. 2, St. Gabriel's Ward, the election of Ald. Turner was not in doubt for a moment. He has been the representative for this ward for some time, and the people were well satisfied to have him remain. Ald. Turner's majority was 289.

The interests of the Montreal grocery trade are not likely to suffer under the present council.

THE PRICES WERE UNDULY ENHANCED.

THE action of the Dominion Government in reducing the duty on news printing paper from 25 per cent. to 15 per cent. has naturally created a great deal of interest. And the interest is not confined to those who are directly concerned in the reduction of the tariff.

It will be remembered that about seven or eight months ago the Government, at the instigation of the Canadian Press Association, instructed Judge Taschereau to make an inquiry, under the provisions of clause 18 in the Customs Act, as to whether the association, through which the papermakers regulated business, unduly enhanced prices. This particular clause reads as follows :

Whenever the Governor-in-Council has reason to believe that, with regard to any article of commerce, there exists any trust, combination, association or agreement of any kind among manufacturers of such article, or dealers therein, to unduly enhance the price of such article, or in any other way to unduly promote the advantage of the manufacturers or dealers at the expense of the consumers, then the Governor may direct a commission to issue to report to the Government whether such combination, trust, association or agreement exists.

If the judge reports that such trust, combination, association or agreement exists, and if it appears to the Governor-in-Council that such disadvantage to the consumers is facilitated by the duties of Customs imposed on a like article when imported, then the Governor-in-Council shall place such article on the free list, or so reduce the duty on it as to give to the public the benefit of reasonable competition in such article.

Judge Taschereau, in his report to the Government, declares that the case was proven, and, acting upon his finding, on Tuesday last the Cabinet passed an Order-in-Council as follows :

The Customs duty on news printing paper, in sheets and rolls, including all printing paper valued at not more than 2¼c. per lb. shall be reduced from 25 per cent. to 15 per cent. ad valorem.

What gives the action of the Government such wide interest is the fact that the clause in the Customs tariff has for the first time since it was embodied in the statutes, five years ago, been called into active operation. While it was practically a dead letter no one was concerned in the anti-combination clause in the tariff. Now that it has been given life wide-spread interest has been created, and particularly among business men. The question with a good many people naturally is, where will it end ?

The importance of clause 18, now that it has been proved to have some force, is that there is an instrument in existence for the protection of those who are likely to suffer from the action of combinations or associations that have it in their power to unduly enhance prices or impose unjust restrictions.

We live in an age when associations among manufacturers and merchants are necessary. Against associations themselves the clause quoted above takes no cognizance. It is only when they unduly enhance prices that it comes into play. It is obvious, therefore, wherein lies the duty of all organizations which have been formed with a view to correcting evils in their several lines of trade.

The experience of the Press Association will certainly encourage those who may be suffering from the arbitrary action of combinations or associations to seek relief through the same medium. Those only need feel uncomfortable whose conduct comes within the provisions of Clause 18 of the Customs Tariff Act.

THE PRICE OF BROOMS.

The United States manufacturers of brooms have decided to advance their price about 25c. per doz. This has been necessitated by the small supply of broom corn on hand that they feared would not last until the new crop comes in, which will not be for a considerable time. The Canadian manufacturers have not yet taken any action, but indications seem to point to a similar advance in the Dominion at some future date.

A HEALTHIER TEA MARKET.

THE stock of tea in first hands in Canada has not for several years been as small as it is to-day. There is still an ample supply of every description except green teas, but that which is in stock is so out of comparison in quantity with that of a year or two ago as to be significant.

Shippers of teas have learned a lesson. They have learned that, while Canada is a substantial consumer of tea per head of population, they have been consigning teas to this country in quantities out of all proportion to its consumptive ability. A new departure has been taken in this respect, and a great deal less is now being consigned to this market.

But this has not been the only factor in reducing stocks to their present healthy condition. Substantial quantities have been shipped to the United States, and a short time ago a few lots were picked up for the London market, where better figures could be obtained than those ruling here.

Several of the shippers had to pay pretty dearly for their experience, some of them losing as much as 3 to 4c. per lb. Now, with the decks cleared, importers feel they can do business with a little more safety, there not being as much danger of ascertaining after they had placed an order that they could have done better on spot teas.

THE ONTARIO PROHIBITION BILL.

AT Wednesday's session of the Ontario Legislature, Premier Ross introduced his promised Bill respecting the sale of intoxicating liquors, or, as it is commonly called, the Prohibition Bill. In its provisions it follows the Liquor Act passed by the Manitoba Legislature and which was declared valid some months ago by the Judicial Committee of the Privy Council.

The Bill does not prohibit the manufacture of liquor within the Province. Neither does it prohibit its importation. What it designs is the prohibition of its sale, either retail or wholesale, within the Province. Liquor for medicinal purposes will be obtainable, however, from druggists on presentation of a doctor's prescription. The following clauses are from the Manitoba Act upon which the Ontario Bill is based :

No person shall, within the Province, by himself, his clerk, servant or agent, expose or keep for sale, directly or indirectly, or upon pretence or upon any device, sell or barter, or, in consideration of the purchase or transfer of any property or thing, give to any other person any liquor, without having first obtained a druggist's wholesale license or a druggist's retail license, under this Act, authorizing him so to do, and then only as authorized by such license, and as prescribed by this Act.

No person within the Province, by himself, his clerk, servant or agent, shall have or keep or give liquor in any place wheresoever, other than in the private dwelling house in whieh he resides, without first having obtained a druggist's wholesale license or a druggist's retail license, under this Act, authorizing him so to do, and then only as authorized by such license.

After passing the House the Bill is, on October 14, to be submitted to a vote of the people. If the referendum affirms the Act then it will go into force on May 1, 1904, but the vote cast must be more than one-half of the total number polled at the general election preceding.

HINTS TO BUYERS.

T. A. Lytle & Co. report that they are making a specialty of their "Sterling" brand catsup.

Canned fruits in gallon, 3-lb. and 2-lb. tins are being sold by H. P Eckardt & Co. at low prices.

W. H. Gillard & Co. are offering some high-class French and Portuguese sardines at special prices.

L. Chaput Fils & Cie are offering 500 ½-chests of Saruynes black tea at close prices. Samples will be gladly forwarded upon application.

A FLESHERTON FAILURE.

On the afternoon of February 12 there was a meeting of the creditors of Matthew Richardson & Co., at the Walker House, Toronto. This firm has for the past 30 years conducted a business as general merchants at Flesherton, Ont. This firm about four years ago opened a branch at Dundalk, Ont., which was soon afterwards burned down, entailing a loss of $10,000 over the insurance carried. The Dundalk business was sold out about a month ago, while the Flesherton business had been disposed of last September. The liabilities are not given, but there is expected to be a considerable nominal surplus. The creditors are nearly all Toronto houses.

QUEBEC CANNERS TO ORGANIZE.

A meeting of canned-goods packers was held at the Richelieu Hotel, Montreal, on Monday, to consider the formation of a packers' association for the Province of Quebec. Among those in attendance were Messrs. Eusebe Lorrain and Wilfrid Lorrain, of L'Abord a Plouffe; George Lauzon, manager of St. Eustache Canning Co.; D. Binette, St. Eustache, and James B. Campbell, Acme Can Works, Montreal.

Those present agreed in saying that the first thing necessary for obtaining proper recognition for goods canned in Quebec Province is that only the very best goods shall be placed on the market. In years past, one or two canners have placed some inferior goods on sale, and this has operated to the great detriment of all canners from this Province.

After full and free discussion of the different points raised, those present determined to communicate with all the canners in the Province, and to call a meeting for some time in April, the exact date to be fixed to suit the convenience of the canners.

CAPT. ADAMS IN LONDON.

Capt. James Adams has purchased from the bank the stock of Fitzgerald, Scandrett & Co., London, Ont. The stock is quite a large one. He sold out some three weeks ago the stock of the grocery business at Port Hope which he purchased a few months ago.

INDUSTRIAL GOSSIP.

A MILL ON THE PEACE RIVER. In a few months The Hudson's Bay Company will have in operation a first-class modern saw and flour mill at their distant post of Vermillion on the Peace River, 300 miles north of Edmonton, N.W.T. The machinery for this mill, including an engine and boiler, is now at Athabasca Landing, N.W.T., where it is being assorted and reloaded from the cars on sleighs for conveyance to its far northern destination. This speaks volumes for the enterprise of The Hudson's Bay Company and seems to indicate that wheat can be successfully cultivated even as far north as the district where the mill is to be established. It is claimed, however, that only a limited area is available.

BLYTH'S NEW MILL FINISHED. A new 100-barrel flour mill has just been completed and put in operation at Blyth, Ont. It is a solid brick building, 36 x 45 feet, of three storeys and a basement, and has attached a brick engine room and boiler house.

There is a cement floor to the basement where are placed the shorts duster, flour blender, elevator boots, and main shaft. On the first floor is the wheat steamer, six double set of rolls, 9 x 18 in., four breaks, eight finishing rolls, wheat separator, receiving elevator, two set of Gurney scales and one 40-bushel Gurney hopper scale for wheat. The second floor has the bran duster, two purifiers, one reel and the wheat storage bins capable of holding 3,500 bushels. The third floor contains one 54-in. universal, one 48-in. universal, two reels, two wheat scourers, five cyclone and dust collectors, and the elevator heads.

C. H. Beese, the proprietor, has had a large experience in the milling business, and during the last eight years has been head miller for Carter, Son & Co., of St. Marys.

RETAIL MERCHANTS ELECT OFFICERS.

PRESIDENT W. B. ROGERS was chairman at the annual meeting of the Toronto branch of the Retail Merchants' Association of Canada on Tuesday evening, February 12, in the Temple Building.

The proceedings were opened with addresses by Messrs. J. A. Flett, Hamilton, vice-president of the Dominion Trade Congress, and James Wilson, ex-president of the Toronto Trades and Labor Council, who desire to organize the retail clerks in Toronto, with the consent of the merchants.

George J. St. Leger suggested that the retail merchants should have a representative on the Trades and Labor Council. James Wilson promised to lay the matter before that body.

President W. B. Rogers in his annual address stated that he was in favor of any scheme having for its object the beautifying of the city. It would meet with the approval of all retail merchants. He touched on the abolition of trading stamps and thought that the legislation of last session would be sustained. He concluded by mentioning that Montreal has the power to levy a special tax on departmental stores, and that a Bill modeled on the Montreal measure was being prepared by the Toronto executive to be brought before the Ontario Legislature at any early date.

John Hargreaves, for the drug, S. R. Hanna, for the boot and shoe, and J. Wilmott, for the butchers' section all had something to say on the abolition of trading stamps.

Reports were also made by F. E. Higgins, for the grocers', and P. N. Judah for the fruiterers' section, and S. Corrigan for the collecting department.

The financial report showed a balance of $11.60 on hand.

John Hargreaves moved a resolution instructing the Executive Committee of the Association to appoint a committee to investigate the manner in which the civic assessment department are dealing with the taxation of the city.

The following officers were elected:

President—W. B. Rogers.
First Vice-President—J. Wilmott.
Second Vice-President—G. J. St. Leger.
Treasurer—Wm. Dineen.
Secretary—E. M. Trowern.
Representatives to Exhibition Board—G. J. St. Leger and Thomas Bilton.

At the close of the proceedings the president was presented with a handsomely-framed address by the members.

L. Chaput, Fils & Cie have a large assortment of fish for Lent, which they are offering at unusually low prices.

ONTARIO MARKETS.

Toronto, February 13 1902

GROCERIES.

BUSINESS is not active, but there is probably a fair trade being done for this time of the year. Buying, however, is only of a hand-to-mouth character. The heavy snowfall of last week is still interfering with business. The feature of the wholesale trade is the decline which took place in the price of refined sugar on Friday last. This decline was totally unexpected, as the outside markets were ruling firm. One of the local wholesale houses is holding canned tomatoes and peas slightly higher. The other houses quote as before. In these two lines, however, prices are undoubtedly firm. Canned salmon is meeting with a moderate demand, and an improvement is looked for within the next few weeks, with the Lenten season now on. The outside coffee markets are a little firmer, but business, locally, is still quiet, with prices unchanged. Prices continue firm in fair demand. Business is gradually improving in syrups and molasses. Teas continue firm, and although the brokers are doing very little the wholesalers are experiencing a fairly good demand for teas. Currants are rather easier in the primary market, but no change has been made locally. Very little is being done in Valencia raisins. Prunes continue in good demand, and a rather firmer feeling obtains as to prices, although no change has been made in local figures.

CANNED GOODS.

The feeling in regard to canned tomatoes, keeps firm, and we know of one house that has advanced its prices this week 2½c. per dozen. This house now quotes 92½ to 95c. The general quotation, however, with most of the houses is 90c. The demand for tomatoes is of a sorting-up nature, but it is fair, and, if anything, is a little better than it was a week or two ago. The house which advanced tomatoes has also advanced its price of peas 2½c. a dozen, but in this it also stands alone, for the ruling price is 80c. as the lowest figure and 85c. the highest, for the better brands. The demand for peas is fairly good. There is still quite a little weakness evident in the price of corn, and all kinds of figures are quoted. There are some brands as low as 70c., but 75 to 80c. more closely represents the ruling quotations. Beans are quiet at 80 to 85c. A little better demand is being experienced for canned fruits, and business is fair. With the Lenten season now on an improved demand is looked for in this line. Canned salmon is moving fairly well, and now, with the Lenten season on, an improvement is looked for. Prices rule as before. We quote: Fraser River sockeye, $1.42½ for 5-case lots and over, and $1.45 for less quantities; Northern sockeye, $1.25 to $1.30; cohoes, $1.05 to $1.15. There is a fair demand for canned kippered herrings at $1 per dozen for Canadian, and $1.55 for Scotch. The demand is chiefly for the former. Lobsters are quiet.

COFFEES.

The outside markets have taken a rather more favorable turn, due, in part, at least, to the desire of the shorts to cover, while sellers do not appear to be in a hurry to find customers. This firmer feeling is apparent on both sides of the Atlantic. Local importers now seem a little more disposed to operate. The demand for green Rio coffee on retail account is still light, with prices as before. Roasted coffees are meeting with a fairly good demand. The ruling prices on green Rio are as follows: No. 7, 7¾c.; No. 6, 8c.; No. 5, 8¼c.; No. 4, 8⅜c.; No. 3, 10 to 12c.

NUTS.

There is only a light business being done and prices remain much as before.

See pages 35 and 36 for Toronto, Montreal, and St. John prices current.

We quote: Shelled walnuts, 20 to 23c.; shelled almonds, 24 to 28c.; Grenobles, 10¾c. by the bale up to 12c. for smaller quantities; Marbots, 8½ to 10c.; filberts, 9½ to 10½c.

SPICES.

There has been no material change in the situation since last week. Spices, generally, are ruling steady to firm in the outside markets, and locally the demand is fair.

RICE AND TAPIOCA.

In both rice and tapioca the demand is fairly good, although without any particular feature. Cable advices from Burmah say that the crop of rice has been damaged by heavy freshets. Local quotations are steady and unchanged. We quote: B rice, 3¼c.; Japan, 5½ to 6c.; sago, 4c.; tapioca, 4c.

SUGAR.

The feature of the market as far as Canada is concerned is, of course, the drop of 10c. which took place on Friday afternoon last. This decline was totally unexpected and was quite unwarranted by the condition of the outside markets. The cause is generally thought to be the competition of foreign refined. The price at Toronto for Redpath and St. Lawrence granulated is now $4.08, and for Acadia, $4.03 per 100 lb. The basis f.o.b. Montreal is $3.90 and $3.85 respectively. The raw markets outside have ruled fairly steady, although raw cane-sugar is slightly easier in New York, but quotably unchanged. There are sellers there at the recent figures, while buyers are holding off. It is this that has given a slightly easier tone to the market. Cuban sugars are still being held in first hands pending some action being taken in the United States tariff. The receipts of raw sugar in the United States last week were again light, being only 11,238 tons, while the meltings were 33,000 tons, thereby causing a reduction of 21,762 tons in the stock. The total stock of sugar in the four ports at the end of last week was 81,055 tons against 102,817 tons the previous week and 125,166 the corresponding time a year ago. The total stocks in Europe and America were 3,533,555 tons against 2,741,822 tons a year ago. The market in the United States, for refined sugar, continues dull, but prices are unchanged.

SYRUPS AND MOLASSES.

Business in both syrups and molasses is becoming more active and there is now a fairly good trade being done. Advices from New Orleans report that supplies are coming forward but lightly, and the market is fairly steady as to price. Locally, quotations rule the same as a week ago. We quote: Corn syrup, 3½ to 3¾c. in bbls. and kegs; sugar syrups, 30 to 32c. for medium, and 35 to 37c. for bright; molasses, 24 to 26c. for medium, and 45 to 50c. for open kettle.

TEAS.

The slight weakness noticed last week in the market for Indian and Ceylon descriptions is still apparent, and it has had the effect of curtailing business on importation account. The regulation of supplies which has been carried on in London for some time has ceased. The offerings of Indian tea at the auction last week were not heavy. The market, however, was weaker and buyers did not evince the same confidence. The medium kinds suffered most, although common as well as other grades were adversely affected. In regard to Ceylon teas, there was a somewhat heavier auction than the preceding week, while buyers showed less disposition to operate except at a slight reduction. This was especially noticeable in regard to medium teas. Locally, shipments of Ceylon tea are coming forward regularly, but in Indian teas the season is practically over, and there is a falling off in the number of direct samples arriving. The situation statistically on the local market is healthier than it has been for some years. Green Ceylon teas continue scarce and prices firm. There have been a few small lots of China greens to hand during the last week, and they have been quickly taken up, but at the extremely high prices which are ruling the buying is only of a hand-to-mouth character. Mail advices to hand from China show that the exports of all kinds of tea from the country last year were only 74,500,000 lb. against 87,000,000 lb. in 1900, a drop of 12,500,000 lb. Japan teas are firm but only an odd line or so is changing hands. Wholesalers report a fairly steady trade on retail account.

BROOMS.

An advance of 25c. per dozen is announced this week in the price of brooms in the United States, and it is possible there may be a similar advance in Canada.

FOREIGN DRIED FRUITS.

CURRANTS — Cable advices from Greece report a slightly easier market for currants, and at the slightly lower prices some business has been done this week on importation account. The retail trade for currants continues good, and local quotations are without change. We quote as follows: Filiatras, 6 to 6¼c.; Patras, 6½ to 7c.; Vostizzas, 8 to 8½c.

VALENCIA RAISINS.—Both cable and mail advices to hand this week confirm what has recently been said in regard to the limited nature of the stock in London, and the tone of the market seems a little stronger than it was. The shipments which were stated to be near at hand have arrived since our last. There were 2,800 boxes for Toronto, and a couple of thousand boxes for outside points. They arrived in New York ex-s.s. Ontanada. The prices at which these were bought do not warrant any reduction in the present prices quoted by the wholesale trade. There have been some transactions this week between wholesalers in which 6¼c. was paid for selected raisins. The ruling price to the retail trade is 6½c.

SULTANA RAISINS.—There is nothing new to note, the demand being light and the ruling prices are 8½ to 12c.

PRUNES.—The demand for prunes continues good. Prices on the Coast have taken a firmer tone during the past week on account of some heavy purchases which have been made, the stock of old prunes there having been cleaned up. Local quotations are steady and unchanged. Our quotations are as follows: Californian prunes, 100-110's, 5c.; 90-100's, 5½ to 6¼c.; 80-90's, 6½ to 7c.; 70-80's, 6¾ to 7¼c.; 60-70's, 7½ to 8c.; 50-60's, 8 to 8½c.; 40-50's, 8¾ to 10c.

FIGS.—There is little or nothing doing, and prices are nominally unchanged. We quote: Mat figs, 3¼c.; naturals, 3¼ to 3½c., according to quality; tapnets, 3¼c., and elemes, 8½ to 18c.

CALIFORNIAN EVAPORATED FRUITS—In spite of the high prices ruling there is a fair demand being experienced. We quote: Apricots, in 25-lb. boxes, 13 to 16c., according to quality, and peaches, 11 to 13c.

DATES.—These are quiet and unchanged at 4½ to 4¾c. for Hallowees, and 4¼ to 4½c. for Sairs.

GREEN FRUITS.

The demand for all kinds of green fruits is still light. In oranges, the bulk of the trade is in Valencias and Californian navels, while Mexicans are becoming scarce. Apples are very quiet. Lemons are selling better, but cranberries are slow, as are also pineapples. Malaga grapes are still on the market and are finding fair sales. There has been no change in prices. We quote: Oranges, Malagas, $3.25 to $3.50 per case; Tangerine or kid glove, $8 to $9 per strip, or $4 to $4.50 per half strip; Floridas, $3 to $3.25 per box; Mexicans, $2.25 per box; Californian navels, $3.25 to $3.75 per box; Valencias, $3.75 to $5.50 per case; apples, $4 to $5 per bbl.; grape fruit, $3.50 to $5 per box; Malaga grapes, $5.50 to $7 per bbl.; cranberries, Budd's long keepers, $9 to $10 per bbl.; bananas, $1.50 to $2 for firsts, and 80c. to $1 for first eight hands; pineapples, 25 to 35c. each by the case; Southern cucumbers, $2.25 to $2.50 per doz.; Spanish onions, large cases, $3.50; small crates, $1.10.

VEGETABLES.

Cabbage, celery, lettuce, watercress, mint and parsley are dull. Rhubarb and onions are quiet, while dry onions and potatoes are moving more freely. The prices remain the same as they were last week. We quote as follows: Green onions, 10 to 15c. per doz; rhubarb, 12½ to 15c. per bunch, $1.25 to $1.50 per doz.; carrots, parsnips and beets, 20c. per peck; turnips, 15c. per peck and 35c. per bag; lettuce, 30 to 40c. per doz.; radishes, 50 to 60c.; mint and parsley, 20 to 25c.; celery, 50 to 60c.; red cabbage, No. 1, 5 to 10c.; cabbage, 40 to 60c. per doz.; dry onions, $1 to $1.25 per bag; potatoes, 75 to 80c. per bag; artichokes, 20c. per peck.

COUNTRY PRODUCE.

EGGS—The receipts of eggs still continue light, but there has been a decline of 1c. in fresh eggs. There are practically no limed eggs on the market just now. We quote: Strictly fresh, 25 to 26c.; held fresh, 20 to 22c.; cold-stored, 19 to 20c., and limed 17 to 19c. per doz.

BEANS—The demand for beans is good and prices are steady. We quote: Choice hand-picked, $1.70 to $1.85; prime, $1.40 to $1.60 per bush.

HONEY — There is a fair trade doing. We quote: Clover, in 60 lb. tins, 9½ to 10c.; less quantities, 10 to 11c. per lb.; in combs, $2 to $3 per doz.

DRIED AND EVAPORATED APPLES—There are brisk sales for evaporated apples, but dried are quiet. Prices remain the same. We quote: Evaporated apples, 9¾ to 10c. in carlots and 10¾c. in less quantities. Dried apples 5 to 6c. per lb.

POTATOES—The arrivals are normal, with a fair trade locally. The prices are steady at 60 to 62½c. per bag in carlots and 75c. per bag for less quantities.

BUTTER AND CHEESE.

BUTTER — The heavy roads of the past week have decreased the receipts of butter. A large proportion of what is coming in is of inferior grade, which is hard to move. There is a brisk demand for choice dairy and creamery prints. The prices are unchanged. We quote: Choice 1-lb. prints, 17 to 18c.; large rolls, 16 to 17c.; tubs, best quality, 15 to 16c.; tubs, medium grade, 13 to 15c. per lb. Creamery prints sell at 21 to 22c., and creamery solids, 20½ to 21c. per lb.

CHEESE—The local trade in cheese is quite heavy. Holders are encouraged to keep the prices firm on this head, and also on account of the numerous inquires for export from Great Britain. We are still quoting cheese at 10½ to 10¾c., and twins at 11c. These prices are for single-box lots. Job lots are quoted at 10 to 10½c.

POULTRY.

DRESSED POULTRY — The offerings in dressed poultry are light, only a few turkeys being offered. The prices are nominal. We quote: Chickens, 60 to 80c. per pair; ducks, 90c. to $1.20 per pair; geese, 8 to 9c. per lb.; turkeys, 10 to 12c.

LIVE POULTRY—There have been practically no arrivals of live poultry, and trade is very dull. No change in prices has occurred. The Canadian Produce Co., Limited, 36 and 38 Esplanade street east, Toronto, will pay, until further notice for live chickens, 6½c., for ducks and turkeys 8c., for geese, 6c. per lb. All must be young birds. For hens, 3c. per lb. Dressed poultry, dry picked (except hens), ½c. lb. higher. These prices are for weight on arrival. Crates for live poultry supplied free, and express paid up to 50c. per 100 lb. of chickens. No thin birds will be taken.

FISH AND OYSTERS.

In all kinds of fresh, smoked and prepared fish there is a heavy trade doing, which the Lenten season promises to increase. The orders for fresh fish are especially large, and the prices are firm. The feeling in oysters is very firm, and a number of jobbers have raised the prices 15 to 20c. per gal. This is owing to the advances on the Baltimore market. We quote as follows: Fresh and frozen fish — Codfish, 6 to 8c.; whitefish, 7 to 7½c.; herring; 4 to 5c.; trout, 7c.; halibut, 8 to 10c.; sea salt mon, 9 to 10c.; haddock, 5c. per lb.; perch, 4c.; British Columbian salmon, fresh, 20c., frozen, 9c.; Labrador herrings, $3 to $3.25 per 100-lb. bbl. Smoked fish—Ciscoes, $1 to $1.25; finnan haddie, 6½ to 7c.; Digby herring, 50 to 65c. per bundle. Prepared fish — Dried cod, in 112-lb. bundles, $4.75 per cwt.; flitched cod, $5.50 to $6; boneless cod, in bricks, 4½ to 5½c. per lb.; steak cod, 6½c. per lb.; shredded cod (2 doz. in box), $1.80 per box; boneless fish, loose, in 25-lb. boxes, 4 to 4½c., and in 5-lb. boxes, 5c. per lb.; bloaters, per box of 50, $1 to $1.25; kippered herring, 50 in a box, $1 to $1.25 per box; smelts, per 15-lb. box, extras, 12c. per lb.; No. 1, 6½ to 7c. per lb. Oysters—Standards, $7 to $7.25 per large pail, $4.00 to $4.25 per small pail, or $1.70 to $1.95 per Imperial gallon; selects, $2 to $2.15 per Imperial gallon.

GRAIN, FLOUR AND BREAKFAST FOODS.

GRAIN—There are small deliveries of Manitoba wheat owing to the lack of cars for shipment. The prices for No. 1 Manitoba hard wheat this week are unchanged at 87c. per bush. grinding in transit or 86c. Toronto and West. The receipts of all kinds of grain continue light on the local market and the prices are steady. Rye has advanced 4c. per bush. For fall wheat 75 and 76c. are the ruling prices. We quote prices paid by buyers on the street: White and red Ontario wheat, 70 to 76c.; goose, 66 to 66½c.; oats, new, 45 to 46c.; rye, 59c.; barley, 54 to 63c.; peas, 80 to 85c.; buckwheat, 58c.

FLOUR—The local trade in flour continues good with freer sales. The prices are firm: We quote: Ontario patents, in bags, $3.70 to $3.80; Hungarian patents, $4.05; Manitoba bakers', $3.80; straight roller, $3.40 to $3.50 per bbl. in Toronto.

BREAKFAST FOODS—There has been a keen competition in the oatmeal trade which has resulted in a drop of 40c. per bbl. The high prices prevalent for peas have resulted in an advance of 25c. per bbl. in split peas. The other prices are firm. We quote as follows: Oatmeal, standard and granulated, in carlots on track here, $5.55; standard rolled oats in carlots on track here, $4.80; in bbls., 15c. more; broken lots are 20c. per bbl. extra; rolled wheat, $2.50 in 100-lb. bbls.; cornmeal, $3.75; split peas, $4 75; pot barley, $4.50, in 196-lb. bbls.

HIDES, SKINS AND WOOL.

There is a good demand for hides and skins, but for wool the market is very poor. There has been no change in prices. We quote what buyers pay on arrival:

HIDES—We quote: No. 1, green, 7c.; No. 2 green, 6c.; No. 1 green, steers, 8c.; No. 2 green, steers, 7c.; cured, 7¾ to 8c.

SKINS—We quote: No. 1 calfskins, 9c.; and No. 2, 7c.; deacons (dairies) 55 to 60c. each; sheepskins, 65 to 80c.; deerskins, 12½ to 14c. per lb.

WOOL—We quote: Fleece, 13c., and unwashed, 7 to 8c. per lb.

SEEDS.

The dullness in red clover is more pronounced, while alsike and timothy remain quiet. No changes in prices have occurred. Extra good samples are worth a little more than is quoted below, while, on the other hand, less will be paid for inferior grades. We quote buying price at outside points: Red clover, $4.50 to $4.80; alsike, $6.50 to $7.50, and timothy, $2.50 to $3.25 per bush.

MARKET NOTES.

Rye has advanced 4c. per bush.

Currants are slightly easier in Greece.

Split peas have advanced 25c. per bbl.

Strictly-fresh eggs are down 1c. per doz.

Refined sugars are 10c. per 100 lb. lower.

There has been a drop of 40c. per bbl. in oatmeal.

A rather firmer feeling obtains in regard to Californian prunes.

Oysters have gone up 20c. per gal., but some dealers are still adhering to former prices.

QUEBEC MARKETS.

Montreal, January 13, 1902.

GROCERIES.

THOUGH the grocery business, like all others, was broken into considerably by the unusually rough weather and consequent bad roads, trade, this week, has pretty well recovered. Country buyers have been visiting the markets and making up for lost time, and deliveries of goods to outside points are now conducted as freely as ever, so that the present week is fairly up to the standard, and business is all the more active on those lines which are in special demand during Lent, which commenced on Wednesday. Among the features of the week's markets is the decline in sugar of 10c. on all qualities except cream sugar, which is 25c. lower. Paraffine and sperm candles are ½c. lower. Three qualities of Patna rice have been withdrawn from the market by Montreal mills. In canned goods, tomatoes are now quoted at 92½ to 95c. Gallon apples are somewhat stiffer, and are 10c. higher.

SUGAR.

Contrary to the expectations of many dealers, sugars have again declined. Granulated and all kinds of yellows, except cream, have gone down 10c. Cream sugar has dropped 25c., and is now quoted at $3.65. Yellows range from $3.15 to $3.80, and granulated is quoted at $3.90. On the local market there is not a very active demand, though, all things considered, trade is fair.

TEAS.

Business, on account of the bad roads, has been somewhat quieter this week, though it is improving. Almost all lines of teas are very strong, and coffee is also looking up. Ceylon black teas are a little easier on some lines. January 1, 1903, has been decided on as the date when the tea duties in the United States will be repealed, and the interest taken in this movement has naturally much lessened.

SYRUPS.

Corn syrups are in active demand now, and prices are steady. We quote: 3½c. in bbls.; 3⅝c. in ½ bbls.; 3¾c. in ¼ bbls.; $1.60 in 38½-lb. and $1.20 in 25-lb. pails.

MOLASSES.

There is nothing new in the situation of the molasses market, and prices still rule firm. Barbados is quoted at 29c., and Antigua, in single puncheons, at 24c. The demand, locally, is good.

CANNED GOODS.

The trade in general is satisfactory. The demand for Lent has begun, and prices are firm. Peas and corn are in fair demand. Tomatoes are selling very well, notwithstanding the somewhat high price. Jobbers are now quoting 92½ to 95c., and under present conditions there would be nothing extraordinary in their reaching the dollar mark. Gallon apples have advanced 10c., and the market is firmer. Salmon is in excellent demand. We quote: Peas, 95c.; corn (ordinary stock), 80c.; tomatoes, 92½ to 95c.; gallon apples, $2.70 to $2.80; 3-lb. apples, $1. Salmon, $1 to $1.05 for pink; $1.30 for spring; $1.32 for Rivers Inlet red sockeye; $1.45 for Fraser River red sockeye, and $1.42½ to $1.45 for Clover Leaf talls.

SPICES.

There is an improvement in the trade this week, though the demand is still only fair. Prices in general remain firm, and on the primary markets whole peppers and ginger are particularly strong. There is, as yet, nothing new in prices. We quote: Nutmegs, 30 to 55c. per lb., as to size; penang mace, 45 to 50c. per lb.; as to quality; pimento, ground, 12½ to 15c.; cloves, 15 to 25c.; pepper, ground, black, 17 to 22c., according to grade; white, 25 to 27c.; ginger, whole, Cochin, 15 to 17c.; Japan, 13 to 14c.; Jamaica, 16 to 20c.; Afghan, 12 to 13c.; ground, Japan, 15c.; Cochin, 16 to 17c.; Jamaica, 20 to 22c., and Afghan, 13 to 14c.

RICE AND TAPIOCA.

There is a fair trade passing. The Mount Royal Milling and Manufacturing Co. have withdrawn from the market for the present the three grades of Patna rice, "Polished," "Mandarin," and "Imperial Glace." The foreign markets show Patna rice still firm. Our quotations are as follows in combine district: B rice in bags, $3.10; in ½ bags, $3.15; in ¼ bags, $3.20; in pockets, $3.25. In 10-lb. lots an allowance of 10c. is made. CC rice, $3 in bags; $3.05 in ½ bags; $3.10 in ¼ bags; and $3.15 in pockets. In the open territory prices are about 10c. less. Patna rice is worth 5 to 5¼c. per lb., and tapioca, 3⅝ to 4c.

FOREIGN DRIED FRUITS.

CURRANTS.—Trade is fair, and prices are unchanged. We quote: Fine Filiatras, ½ cases, 5⅝c.; cleaned, 6c.; 1-lb. cartons, 8c.; finest Vostizzas, 7¾ to 8c.

VALENCIA RAISINS.—These are very scarce in all three qualities. Even some wholesalers are completely out of them. Prices are firm. Finest off-stalk are worth 5⅝c.; selected, 6⅝c.; layers, 6⅞c.

CANDIED PEELS.—There is a moderate demand this week. Prices are steady. We quote: Orange peel, 11½c.; lemon peel, 10½c.; citron, 16½c.

MALAGA RAISINS.—There is nothing new to report in this line. Business is quiet. Our quotations are as follows: London layers, $1.50 to $1.60; "Connoisseur Clusters," $2.15 to $2.25; ½'s, 65 to 70c.; "Royal Buckingham Clusters," $3.30 to $3.35; ¼'s, $1.05 to $1.10; "Excelsior Windsor Clusters," $1.50 to $4.60; ¼'s, $1.30 to $1.40.

DATES.—There is a better inquiry, but very little to supply with. Hallowee dates sell for 4¼ to 4½c.

FIGS.—The demand is only fair, and prices are firm. Both layer and tapnet figs are quoted at $1.15.

CALIFORNIAN RAISINS.—There is no change. The primary market is becoming bare, and prices are very firm. Seeded raisins are worth 9¼ to 9½c.

PRUNES.—A good trade is doing at steady prices. We now quote: 8¼c. for 40-50's, 8c. for 50-60's, 7⅝c. for 60-70's, 7¼c. for 70-80's, 6¾c. for 80-90's, 6½c. for 90-100's.

NUTS

Trade is still quiet. Our quotations are now as follows: Walnuts, 9⅜ to 11c.; Tarragona almonds, 12 to 13c.; shelled walnuts, 16¼ to 17½c.; shelled almonds, 26 to 27c.; Jordan shelled almonds, 42c.; filberts, 8¾ to 9¼c.; pecans, 15 to 16c.

CALIFORNIAN EVAPORATED FRUITS.—There is considerable improvement in the demand, these being goods that are always wanted during the Lenten season. We quote: Apricots, 14½c.; peaches, 10½c.; pears, 10c.

BUTTER AND CHEESE.

BUTTER.—Since our last report there has been no remarkable change in the situation of the butter market. Prices stay firm, but at last week's quotations. The local demand is good. Grocers and jobbers have apparently more confidence in the market and are taking hold of much larger lots. Finest creamery is not in any better supply, and the price remains firm. We quote as follows: Finest fall-made creamery, 22 to 23c.; winter-made, 21 to 22c.; large rolls, 17½ to 18c.; fall dairy, 14 to 15c.; low and undergrades, 10 to 12c.

CHEESE.—Prices on cheese, both locally and for export, remain unchanged. There is a good demand on this market. The situation among English buyers is about the same, and they still hold off from taking goods at the prices asked by holders here. Reports from London, however, show a better demand there. Prices are only nominal at 49 to 50s. for white, and 52s. for colored. On the local market there is a good demand at 10 to 10½ cents.

COUNTRY PRODUCE.

EGGS.—Deliveries of new-laid eggs this week have been much larger owing to the country roads having been somewhat cleared, and until better weather conditions prevail, the supply is likely to be just enough to fill the demand. Montreal limed eggs are very strong, and notwithstanding the prediction that they would not go above 24c., last week's quotations, some have sold this week as high as 28c. This is the highest price for years. We quote: New-laid eggs at 32 to 35c.; selected, cold storage, 23 to 24c., and pickled, 24c.

HONEY.—The market for honey is quiet, and prices are steady. We quote: Buckwheat, in comb, 8 to 9c.; strained, 6½ to 7c.; white, extracted, 9 to 10c.

ASHES.—The market is easier, and second pots are 5c. lower. Trade is fair. We quote: First pots, $4.40 to $4.45; seconds, $3.95 to $4; pearls, $6.75 to $7 per 100 lb.

DRESSED POULTRY.—Offerings have been a little larger this week than last, when, owing to the roads, it was impossible to reach this market. Choice chickens are worth 10 to 11c.; choice turkeys (frozen), 11½ to 12c.; ordinary, 10½ to 11c.; choice geese, 7 to 8c.; fowl, 5 to 7c.

GREEN FRUITS.

The trade in green fruits is better this week. Messina lemons are still scarce on the local market, expected shipments not having arrived. Extra fancy Californian sunflower oranges are in stock and are selling freely at $3.50 to $3.65. Valencia oranges, 714's, are arriving freely and have declined 50c. during the past week. There has been no change made in the prices of Californian navels yet, jobbers still having some of the old stock to get rid of, but the advance is expected shortly. Jamaica oranges, in boxes, are in stock, and sell for $2.75 for all sizes. We quote as follows: Jamaica oranges, $4.50 to $4.75; in boxes, $2.75; Florida oranges, $3.50 to $3.75; Californian sunflowers, $3.50 to $3.65; Valencia oranges, 420's, $3.25 to $3.50; 420's, Jumbo, $4.75; 714's, $4.50; Messina lemons, $2.75 to $3 per box; pineapples, 20 to 30c.; Canadian apples, $4.50 to $5.50 per

FISH.

There is no quotable change in the fish market. The demand for Lent has commenced and has made business very active. The unusually long period of Lent this year will keep up this demand for some time, but stocks are so abundant that all inquiries can be met. We quote: Haddies, 6c.; bloaters, 90c. per box; kippers, 90c. per box; smoked, medium herrings, 11c. per box; fresh haddock and cod, 3½c. per lb.; whitefish, 6½c.; dore, 5½c.; pike, 4½c.; halibut, 12½ to 13½c.; salmon, 12½c.; trout, large and medium, 7c.; No. 1 herrings, Nova Scotia, $5.25 per bbl.; No. 1 herrings, Nova Scotia, $2.80 per ½ bbl.; No. 1 Holland herrings, $6.50 per ½ bbl.; No. 1 Scotch herrings, $6.50 per ½ bbl.; No. 1 Scotch herrings, 98c. per keg; Holland herrings, 72c. per keg; salted eels, 6½c. per lb.; No. 1 green codfish, $5.75 per bbl.; No. 2, $4.50; large, $6.50; No. 1 green haddock, $4.25 per bbl.; No. 1 pickled sardines, $5.50 per bbl.; No. 2 mackerel, $12.50 per bbl.; No. 3 mackerel, $9 per bbl.; cod, 1 and 2-lb. blocks, 6c. per lb.; loose boneless cod, 5c. per lb. in 40-lb. boxes; dressed codfish, $4.80 per case; dry codfish, $4.65 per 112-lb. bundle; No. 1 Labrador salmon, $17.50 in tierces; No. 1 Labrador salmon, $12 per bbl.; No. 1 Labrador salmon, $6.25 per ½ bbl.; No. 1 B.C. salmon, $6 per ½ bbl. and $11 per bbl.; standard bulk oysters, $1.30 per gal.; select bulk oysters, $1.50 per gal.; Malpeque, Blue Point and other shelled oysters, $6 per bbl.; clams, in shell, $4.50 per bbl.; Marshall's kippered herrings, and same with tomato sauce, $1.45 per doz.; Canadian kippered, $1 per doz.; Canadian ¼ sardines, $3.75 per 100; canned Cove oysters, No. 1 size, $1.30 per doz.; canned Cove oysters, No. 2 size, $2.20 per doz.

FLOUR AND GRAIN.

FLOUR.—The demand, considering the season, has been fairly good, and in small quantities, has been moving freely to local buyers, and toward the last of the week, to buyers from the country. We quote as follows: Spring wheat patents, $4.05 to $4.30; winter wheat patents, $3.85 to $3.95; straight roller, $3.60 to $3.70; strong bakers', $3.80 to $4.

GRAIN.—Receipts continue quite light. There is a better local demand for oats, and sales have been effected at an advance of ½c. We quote: Manitoba, No. 1 hard, 73c.; peas, 80c.; rye, 63 to 64c. (carlots in store); feed barley, 54c. in store; oats, 47½c.; buckwheat, 53½ to 54c., cast; corn, 65 to 66c.

OATMEAL.—The inquiry for rolled oats is still light. Prices are $5 to $5.50, in barrels, and $2.45 to $2.47½, in bags.

FEED.—There is a good movement and prices are steady. We quote: Ontario bran, $20; moullie, $28; Manitoba bran, $20 to $21; shorts, $22 to $23 per ton, including bags.

BALED HAY.—The market is quiet. We quote: No. 1 timothy, $10 to $10.50; No. 2, $9 to $9.75; clover, mixed, $8 to $8.50; clover, $7 to $7.50 per ton, in carlots.

MONTREAL NOTES.

Gallon apples are 10c. higher.

Valencia oranges, 720's, are 50c. lower.

Jamaica oranges are now in stock in boxes, at $2.75.

Montreal limed eggs have sold this week at 28c.

Granulated and all yellow sugars, except cream, have declined 10c. Cream sugar is 25c. lower.

NEW BRUNSWICK MARKETS.

OFFICE OF THE CANADIAN GROCER.

St. John, N.B., February 8, 1902.

BUSINESS continues to be rather quiet. The fact that in some lines, such as oats, oatmeal, and beans, rather lower prices rule, helps the general condition. The first direct Jamaica steamer arrived during the past week. This line receeived no subsidy. The fruit received by her was chiefly sent west. She had a full outward cargo. The success of the venture depends largely on the millers in the west. The question is will Canada or the United States supply Jamaica with flour? Considerable interest is shown in Californian raisins, and there has been a marked advance in prices, which is rather unusual at this season.

OILS.—In burning oils the low price continues. There is a large business being done, but the effect of the longer days is beginning to be felt. In paint oils the season is yet early for any active movement. The large dealers have their stocks now coming forward, and, at least, no lower prices are expected. Lubricating oils have a fair sale, but for future shipment little is being done. Values are firm. The stock of seal oil is light, and the price is firmly held. There is a fair supply of cod oil here.

SALT.—In Liverpool coarse salt the price is firm. There continue to be direct arrivals from Liverpool, and there is quite a fair stock held, though every effort is made to ship from steamers' side. In Liverpool fine salt the demand has greatly fallen off, the imports being now light. The Canadian is taking its place. Box salt is not so largely sold.

showed an increase in volume, but rather reduced percentage of profit.

NOVA SCOTIA MARKETS.

Halifax, N.S., February 10, 1902.

THE dull season in the retail grocery line is still running, but to no greater extent than in former years, and the trade, generally, is satisfied with the amount of business doing. The wholesale trade is also dull, principally accounted for by the fact that the ports not being open to navigation, they laid in their stocks earlier in the year. Snow has made good sleighing in the country districts, and the merchants in these districts, not located on the line of railway, are buying in fairly large quantities. Lumbering operations are running briskly, and this has a tendency to brighten trade.

There is little change in prices in the wholesale grocery line, except in sugars. An advance of 10c. was made about the 23rd of January, which has been already reported, and last week another advance of 10c. was added, bringing back the old prices of two months ago. One of the leading firms quotes: Cut-loaf and pulverized, 6c.; granulated, XXX, $4.05; Austrian, $3.95; bright yellow, $3.75; No. 1 yellow, $3.45.

Molasses is still quoted at figures which have prevailed for some time: Antigua, 30c.; Porto Rico, 32 to 33c.; Trinidad, 32c.; Barbados, 32 to 33c.; New Orleans, 30c. It may also be noted that new crop Porto Rico molasses now costs 4 to 5c. in the primary market over purchases on which the above figures are quoted, but as there is a fairly good supply in this market prices have not changed materially, and wholesale buyers will wait for lower prices. We will note imports as the steamers arrive.

There are no large holdings of cheese by dealers in the city, but still sufficient to supply the ordinary demand. Sales were made last week as low as 10c., but in response to the Montreal quotations the price went up to 11c. on Saturday. Cheese is a good thing to have in stock just now.

Fresh made dairy butter is also a good article to handle just now, and though the profits made are not excessive, the makers of butter claim that under former conditions they could make more money at 5c. per pound less. This is accounted for by the remarkably high price of hay, oats, and all kinds of feed. Some of our best butter comes from the Government farm at Nappan, Cumberland county, but for the last two months they have not been able to supply all their old customers. This butter, fresh every day, if necessary, costs 25c. landed in the city. When 2 or 3c. profit is added to this it makes good butter even a luxury. The result is that large quantities of imported rolls and boxes are used, which cost about 20 to 23c. retail.

Eggs are still a scarce and valuable commodity. All the country-held stocks have passed through the market, and only fresh laid or imported case eggs are available. The former bring 35c. at retail and the latter 8 to 10c. less. The high price and steady importations keep the markets fairly well stocked.

The local fish market has been dull, and prices low, but now that Lent is near there is an upward tendency. Fishing off the harbor and along shore is rather above the average, and the fares coming in daily are sold readily, ex-vessel, at 1½c. The lobster fishermen on the South Shore have about all taken up their traps, as the results were unprofitable. The shipments of fish from this port last week amounted to about $8,000.

Apples are still bringing the prices previously quoted, $1.50 to $3, but these are by no means No. 1's. A barrel of the best quality, few of which reach this market, would be worth at retail a five dollar bill. Shipments are going forward steadily every week, and the total from this port now amounts to 187,553 barrels. The Grecian, which went ashore yesterday morning within five miles of the city, was to take away some 10,000 barrels on Friday next. The Dahome, another large apple carrier, is off the route, and there will probably be no further shipments for a week or two. Late reports quote prices in England at from 17s. for Vandeveres, to 24 to 27s. for Golden Russets. There are probably 50,000 to 60,000 barrels still available in the Province for shipment.

An event takes place to-day which may result in greatly increasing Canada's trade with the West Indies. The Orinoco sails this morning, and on her are a number of business men from each of the Maritime Provinces, Quebec and Ontario, to overlook the ground for trade. Mr. Billman and Mr. Thompson, Halifax, will look after trade in flour and canned goods; Mr. L. C. Archibald, of Antigonish, the great cheese manufacturer, will Stewart, the assistant-secretary of The Canadian Manufacturers' Association, who has been in this city for some weeks. Mr. R. Munro, President of the association, is now in Bermuda, where he will meet Mr. Stewart, and their investigations will no doubt have the result of largely increasing Canada's trade with the Sunny Islands of the South.

R. C. H.

MANITOBA MARKETS.

Winnipeg, Man., February 10, 1902.

BUSINESS has been good all week and grocers do not complain of the dullness so commonly spoken of in other lines; in fact, they state that business has rarely been so good at this season. Beginning with February 1, the new classification of salt came into effect and for the future all cars of salt must weigh 30,000 lb. instead of 24,000 lb. This is a point dealers at outside points would do well to note. Royal Crown soaps have all been advanced 50c. per box this week, and the market is firm.

SUGARS.—There has again been a drop of 10c. per 100 lb., and quotations are now: Granulated, $4.85; bright yellow, $4.20.

SYRUPS.—In contrast to sugars corn syrups have again advanced. The new price is not yet quoted, but the market is very firm.

RICE.—The decline in Japan previously anticipated is now a fact, and Japan rice is quoted on this market at 5c. for large and 5¼c. for small lots.

COFFEE.—The market is firm and dealers seem to anticipate further advances. Prices here have not changed quotably, but there is a much stronger feeling. The demand is fair.

DRIED FRUITS.—Currants are firm, and the advance mentioned last week is now fully established. Dried apples and evaporated are firm and will probably advance in a few days.

FLOUR.—The local demand is light, but a good deal is still going east and west for export orders. Prices are firm and without change for the week.

BARLEY.—The market is still dull and featureless with little offering and small demand. Malting barley is worth 38 to 40c. on track, and feed barley, 33 to 36c.

GROUND FEED.—Nominal market. Oat chop, $27; barley, $22; oil cake, $27. Oatmeal has dropped $1 per ton and is quoted at $11.50; mill screening, $15.

MILL FEED.—In spite of a very fair demand this market has weakened considerably. Bran is now quoted at $14.50 and shorts, $16.50. A fair export demand continues.

CEREALS.—This market is without change for the week and with only a limited demand. Rolled oats maintained the drop of last week, and 80's are quoted at $2.20; 40's, $1.20; 20's, 60c.; granulated and standard oatmeal, $2.75 per 98 lb.; cornmeal, $1.90; split peas, $2.75. Pot barley has advanced slightly and is quoted at $2.45; pearl, $2.65.

DRESSED MEATS.—The demand has been a good one all week for beef, and the price has advanced ¼ to ½c. per lb. Best city dressed is worth 7½c.; lower grades and country-dressed range from 6½ to 7c. In mutton, the market is entirely supplied with Ontario frozen mutton; the demand is not heavy and prices are without change at 8c. for sheep and 9c. for lamb. Corresponding to the decline in the receipt of live hogs there has been a corresponding decline in the receipt of dressed hogs, and the market is very firm, prices ranging from 7¾ to 8½c.

POULTRY.—The demand continues active, but local supplies have almost vanished and business is being done on supplies of frozen goods from Ontario. The Manitoba stock on the market at present has been in for some time, and is a slow sale owing to quality and appearance. Prices are rather weaker, though not quotably so. Fowl, 8½ to 9c.; chicken, 10c.; ducks, 9 to 10c.; geese, 10c.; turkeys, 13c.

CURED MEATS.—This market continues firm with unchanged prices with the exception of long clear, which shows an advance of ½c. Hams, sugar-cured and smoked, 13¾c.; shoulders, 10¼c.; picnic hams, 8½c.; breakfast bellies and backs, 14c.; spiced rolls, 11¼c.; dry salt long clear, 11½c. In lard, 20-lb. pails have advanced as the demand is rather over the supply at the present time. Other lines are unchanged. 20-lb. pails, $2.50; American, $2.60; 50-lb. pails, $5.85; 3 and 5-lb. tins, in 60-lb. crates, $7.55. The demand for sausages is fair and prices are without change: Bologna, 7c.; pork, 8c.; liver sausages, 6c.; Vienna sausages, 10c.; blood sausages, 6c.; headcheese, 6c.

BUTTER.—The supply of first-class fresh butter is limited and the demand keen. The best grade is jobbing at 22c., and from that point the price runs down to 16c. Distinctly lower grades are in large quantities, and without buyers. There is no fresh creamery on this market, but a carload of held-creamery is on the road from Shoal Lake, and will be on the market early next week. The price is not yet quoted. Dealers report an increased demand for fresh-made butter, and state that there has never been a season when there was such a keen demand for fresh-made butter as against even the tub butter.

CHEESE.—The car of Ontario cheese due to arrive early last week has been detained, owing to heavy snowstorms in the east, and will not arrive until next week. In the meantime the market is bare of cheese, and sales are being made at 11½ to 12c.

EGGS.—The supplies are most liberal and lower prices are anticipated. The receipts from the first of the year have been considerably more than double that of last year, at the same season, and it is a noticeable feature that they have been general all over the Province. It is noticeable in contrast to the extreme scarcity of eggs just prior to Christmas. The demand continues active and will be likely to increase rather than diminish during Lent. During the week the jobbers have been getting 25 to 27c., but it is not probable that opening sales for next week will be over 25c. New-laid eggs are retailing at 35c.

GREEN FRUITS.—Trade is dull and there is little news of any kind. Oranges maintain the drop quoted last week: 126's, $3.75; 150's, $4; 176's, $4.35; 200 to 216's, $4.50. Bitter oranges are in fair demand at $6.50. Apples have again advanced and Northern Spies are quoted at $6.50; Baldwins and other varieties, $6. Unfrozen cranberries are out of the market for the present, but a further supply is looked for, although they are scarce and dear in primary markets. Bananas are very scarce and dear. Present prices are $3.75 to $4. Dealers report city trade dull but country trade keeping up very well. It is anticipated that the bonspiel crowds will revive city business to some extent. The fruit inspector reports that already prominent grocers have expressed satisfaction at the improved quality and packing of some of the later shipments of apples, which they attribute to the working of the Inspection Act.

VEGETABLES.—The movement has been slow indeed. The weather has been too cold to open pits, and this has made celery scarce. A small lot of Californian was on the market this week. It was a fine sample, and sold at from 80c. to $1 per dozen. Onions have advanced and are quoted at 4c. per lb. No change is to be noted in other lines.

LIVE STOCK.—Butchers' cattle: The demand has been good and the supply not large and prices have consequently advanced. The best grades are now quoted at 3¾ to 4¼c. per lb.; lower grades, 3 to 3½c. The demand for stockers is very active and buyers are paying $14 to $16. for yearlings, two-year-olds, $18 to $20. Sheep—None are offering. Calves—A few small calves are coming in, but the supply is still very limited.

Receipts of hogs have fallen off materially and prices are firm at 6¾c. for the best grades, and 6 to 6½c. for other weights. The demand for cows continues and the supply is still short. No change of price is reported for the week; in fact, very few sales have been effected. There is considerable inquiry for horses for spring work, and these inquiries have tended to emphasize the fact that there is a general shortage of supply all over the continent, or, perhaps it would be more correct to say that the horses are more thoroughly bought up than has been the case for some years. Prices are firm.

THE BEET-SUGAR INDUSTRY.

THE WIARTON FACTORY.

THE Colonial Construction Co., who have been awarded the contract for the buildings and equipment of The Wiarton Beet-Sugar Company's factory at Wiarton, Ont., are preparing the material and everything necessary to hurry the buildings to a finish in time for them to be ready for work by October 1 next. Besides the steel work, which is to be delivered in Wiarton about April 15, the most important parts of the machinery have been ordered. There are at present plans being prepared for a dock, 500 or 600 feet long, which they desire to have ready to receive the machinery, and it is to be commenced as soon as an engineer arrives to take charge.

The directors also report that nearly all the stock has been sold and that already over 3,000 acres have been contracted for, and that men of energy are at present out securing the necessary balance.

THE PROPOSED FACTORY AT ST. MARYS.

It is now too late in the season to begin canvassing for a beet-sugar factory for this year. This was what Wm. J. Douglas, the secretary of The Canada Beet Sugar Co., wrote to Wm. Weir, of St. Marys, Ont., in reply to a communication from him informing the company that they would offer them a free site and the necessary money for the building of a refinery at that town. The above company are at present constructing a plant at Baden, Ont. But it was intimated that by beginning presently an active campaign and by bearing the expenses of a representative going there to investigate their conditions and possibilities, a factory might be secured for that town in 1903. It was also stated that the larger the acreage sent from St. Marys for the Baden factory for next year, the easier would be the problem of securing sufficient contracts for a factory of their own the following year.

STRATHROY IS INTERESTED.

An effort is being made to establish a beet-sugar factory at Strathroy, Ont., and Mr. Fortner has been deputed to obtain definite information as to the number of acres the farmers in the district will devote to the production of sugar beets.

A FRUIT FIRM'S LIABILITIES.

According to a statement of Vipond, McBride & Co., fruit dealers, Montreal, filed recently in the Insolvency Court there, they have liabilities of $37,000, of which $11,705 are indirect. The principal creditors are the Merchants Bank of Canada, $8,000; D. J. M. Darling, Montreal, $4,140; H. S. Shipley, Baltimore, Md., $2,711; Molsons Bank, indirect, $10,895; Vanduzer & Griffiths, Grimsby, Ont., $1,684 02; S. M. Culp, Beamsville, Ont., $1,200; Quebec Bank, indirect, $900; D. J. Bonter, Brighton, Ont., $621.79; Phillips, Sons & Co., Montreal, $634; Foster, Weeks & Co., Boston, $549 15; Geo. St. Amant, Paris, France, $560; Hills Bros. & Co., New York, $756.41; G. E. Barker & Co, Kingston, Jamaica, $356.20.

CHANCE FOR TRADE WITH AFRICA.

AT THIS time when our enterprising manufacturers are giving close attention to the possibilities of establishing an export trade with South Africa, it is of the greatest assistance to them to know that we have in Canada a distributing firm of the highest standing. Robert Crooks & Co., Montreal, who have already established four offices of their own in the Cape.

They invite correspondence and solicit consignments from large manufacturers on behalf of their Cape Town, Port Elizabeth, Durban, and Johannesburg offices, each of which they state is in charge of a competent manager and carefully selected staff, experienced in the handling of general merchandise.

There are great advantages to be obtained by our manufacturers who desire to secure a share of the trade in South Africa, in corresponding with the Montreal office of Robert Crooks & Co., as they are on the spot, and thus the trouble of conducting correspondence thousands of miles apart is saved to the Canadian exporter, Messrs. Crooks already having complete cabling facilities with their South African offices, to say nothing of the protection to the Canadian manufacturer of dealing with only one responsible firm, while having the entire South-African territory fully covered.

It is well known that the policy of this old-established firm is "progress," as their own offices established in the greatest business centres of the world are proof of.

MONTREAL CLERKS ELECT OFFICERS.

The Montreal Grocery Clerks' Association held a meeting last week to elect officers for the year 1902. More than 100 members were present. After the report of the treasurer, which showed a considerable surplus in cash, the elections were proceeded with. Mr. Z. Martineau, of the firm of Tison & Guillet, was reelected president unanimously. The other officers were: Vice-president, J. E. Robichaud; secretary, J. C. Marchand; treasurer, J. B. E. Poirier; directors, O. Bergeron, F. Dubord, A. Quesnel, G. L. Desaulniers, H. Richer.

A motion was passed expressing congratulations to and confidence in Messrs. Lapointe, Vallieres and Turner, who were elected to the city council.

After the meeting all adjourned to Mr. Martineau's residence, where they were entertained at supper by the president.

BOARDS OF TRADE MEETINGS.

FORT WILLIAM BOARD OF TRADE.

THE annual meeting of the Fort William, Ont., Board of Trade was well attended, and great interest was displayed throughout in the proceedings by the members present. President E. A. Norton occupied the chair and made his annual address. In this address he alluded to the splendid harbor and other natural advantages enjoyed by that important lake-port town and the immense crop of grain in the West, last season, which, it is computed, will yield, when marketed, one thousand dollars per head for every man, woman and child in Manitoba and the Territories.

The Canadian Pacific Railway state that they are going to expend $500,000 in the way of improvements during the coming summer. These will chiefly consist of a new cleaning elevator, new docks and a new storage elevator. He called their attention to the fact that the Canadian Northern Railway's line to Winnipeg had been completed, and that grain was now being hauled to Lake Superior.

The town had completed, he said, its electric light and waterworks plant at a cost of $109,000. The revenue from both systems was quite in excess of the expenditure, after the amount required for the sinking fund and interest had been put aside. During the months of September, October and November, over 13,000,000 bushels of grain had been handled by the elevators. This was an unusual amount. Nine hundred and sixty-four vessels, with a registered tonnage of 1,160,264 tons and crews of 22,390 men reported and cleared at the Customs house. Over 250,000 tons of coal were received at the port, and over 692,527 tons of freight handled during the year 1901.

During the year 1900 there was collected at the port the sum of $124,000, while the revenue for the last half of the year 1901 amounted to the sum of $131,000—$7,000 more in the last half of 1901 than in the whole of 1900.

He strongly urged upon the board the advisability of petitioning the Government to proceed with the erection of a new post office and Customs house, as soon as possible, as at present the buildings devoted to that purpose were totally inadequate to the needs of the town and port.

He touched on the present telephone service given by The Bell Telephone Co., and the excessive rates charged, and thought the present an opportune time for the town to acquire a telephone system of its own. He concluded by strongly advocating the establishment of a quarantine station at some point in the vicinity.

The annual election of officers was then proceeded with and resulted as follows :

President—J. J. Wells.
Vice-President—E. S. Rutledge.
Secretary-Treasurer—T. R. Wayland.
Council—C. W. Jarvis, E. A. Morton, J. Dyke, W. Stevenson, A. Snelgrove, James Murphy, W. F. Hogarth, S. C. Young, John King, J. H. Perry, D. McKellar, A. McDougall.

OTTAWA BOARD OF TRADE COUNCIL.

At the meeting of the council of the Ottawa Board of Trade, held on the evening of Thursday, February 6, considerable business was transacted. John Coates presided, while Cecil Bethune was secretary.

The president, Messrs. Henderson, Reid and Douglas, were appointed a committee to devise ways and means for the erection of a suitable building for the board.

STANDING COMMITTEES.

The following standing committees were appointed :

Representatives on Technical Education committee—Messrs. R. W. Shannon, G. B. Greene, James Ballantyre, A. W. Fleck and Alex. MacLean.

Cheese and Butter Committee—Messrs. John R. Reid, Joseph Kavanagh, James Ballantyne, Benj. Rothwell and W. H. Dwyer.

Congress Committee—Messrs. Thomas Macfarlane, A. Holland, A. W. Fleck, J. M. Garland and P. Larmonth.

Industrial Committee—Messrs. Geo. F. Henderson, A. Holland, P. Whelan, D. Murphy and John McKinley.

A resolution of the Brantford Board of Trade, calling for a revision of the Canadian tariff by the Government, so that the Dominion markets might be kept clear of foreign competition, was brought up, and it was decided to refer it to the coming session of the Dominion Board of Trade, on March 4 next, in Ottawa.

It was decided to accede to the request of the Toronto Board of Trade, regarding the copyright question, which asked the Ottawa board to join with them in a memorial to the Government.

A communication from the London, Eng., Chamber of Commerce Organization Committee was read, referring to various subjects under consideration. The subjects will be taken up at some future time.

The Halifax Board of Trade request the Ottawa Board to join with them in handing over the management of the Intercolonial Railway to the C.P.R., while the Government ownership of the road would still be maintained.

The council did not care to endorse this principle, and nothing will be done.

President Coates, Messrs. John R. Reid, Andrew Holland, Thomas Macfarlane and R. W. Shannon were appointed delegates to the Dominion Board of Trade, which meets in Ottawa on March 4.

John R. Coates, the president of the board will deliver his inaugural address at the next meeting of the board, which will be held on February 18.

The Hon. F. R. Latchford and Messrs. Lumsden and Powell, M.P.P.'s, will be invited to address the meeting as to how Ottawa trade will be affected by the building of the Temiscamigne and Northern Ontario Railway.

PETERBORO' CHEESE BOARD.

There was a fairly large attendance at the annual meeting of the Peterboro' Cheese Board, on February 8. President Drummond occupied the chair and received Treasurer G. J. Galvin's report. The receipts were shown to be $234.50 for the year, while the expenditure was $226.10, leaving a balance of $8.40 in the treasury.

Mr. G. J. Galvin read an encouraging report from Inspector Ward, on his work in the Peterboro' district during the past year.

Wm. Collins, Secretary of the West Peterboro' Farmers' Institute had received a communication from the secretary of the Provincial Farmers' Institute, in which he desired to know when it would be convenient for them to have a prominent dairyman deliver a lecture on the dairying interest in Peterboro'.

They will try and settle on a convenient date.

The board adopted several amendments to the rules deemed necessary to prevent a repetition of the evils of last year. These rules are to be printed and sent out to the various persons interested.

Samuel Ferguson knew of no community in greater need of cold storage than that of Peterboro'. He suggested that some means of getting a portion of the appropriation that was being made by the Ontario Government for testing the cold-storage system, be adopted.

The election of officers for the ensuing year resulted as follows :

President—James Drummond, Keene.
Vice-President—George Stewart, Peterboro'.
Secretary—John Riddell, Bensfort.
Treasurer—G J. Galvin, Lakefield.

Upon motion, the secretary was instructed to write to The Eastern Dairymen's Association, asking that Mr. Ward be reappointed instructor of the factories on the Peterboro' board for the ensuing year.

It was decided that the local board should meet and the first sale of cheese should take place on Wednesday, May 21.

The cheese factory at Greenbush, Ont., formerly owned by F. W. Smith, has been purchased by Henry Davis, a cheesemaker of that town, and is being fitted up for next season's trade.

Oil Tank?

THERE ARE

100 REASONS 100 WHY YOU SHOULD.

Space will not permit us to enumerate them all and we want an opportunity to tell you all about it.

WE CAN POINT OUT TO YOU DEFINITELY

WHY IT WILL PAY YOU.

To Be Brief, It Will Pay You

Because it will save you money.
Because it measures accurate Gallons, Half Gallons and Quarts.
Because it gives the customer what he buys and no more.
Because it will prevent all waste and slop.
Because it will soon pay its cost and become a profit-earner.
Because the Bowser is the only All Metal oil pump built.
Because it has the Anti-Drip nozzle.
Because it has the Dial Discharge Register.
Because it has the Double Float Indicator.
Because it has the Double Plungers.
Because it has Full Brass Cone Valves.
Because the tank is of Galvanized Steel.
Because it is the best oil outfit ever built.
Because it is sold under an absolute three years' guarantee.
Because its price is commensurate with its value.
Because you can have your oil tank in the store, under the floor, or in the cellar.

Our Catalogue and "Terse Tank Talks" tell the rest. They are free.

THE PROVISION TRADE.

The Markets—A New Method of Sampling Hams—Miscellaneous Notes.

A NEW METHOD OF SAMPLING HAMS.

A retailer of sandwiches tested hams submitted to him as a sample by cooking them, or rather one of them, and as it did not then meet with his approval returned them both and refused to pay for them, says an exchange. The importers declared that the hams were in a perfect condition when sent out, and the one which had been cooked had been completely spoiled in that operation. In the action which followed, the county court judge held that the defendant had not taken the proper means of testing the hams, which should have been done before cooking in the usual way. As his honor remarked, the introduction of such a very practical test as that brought into the case would hardly pass muster in court. On this principle a man might eat a good dinner, and a day or two afterwards refuse to pay for it because it had disagreed with him.

A SUNDAY FIRE.

At about 10 o'clock on Sunday morning, February 9, fire broke out underneath the boilers in the warehouse of D. Gunn, Bros. & Co., wholesale pork packers and provision merchants, 68 to 70 Front street east, Toronto. An alarm was sent in, which was quickly responded to by firemen from the Bay and Lombard street fire stations, and the blaze was quickly extinguished. There was a slight injury to the building, and damage amounting to about $1,500 was sustained by the stock, all of which is fully Insured. Business is going on without interruption.

EGG TRAFFIC EXTRAORDINARY.

In The Strand Magazine, readers are told of a train composed of 12 refrigerator cars, containlng about 2,000,000 eggs, which were recently gathered by one firm in the vicinity of Newton, Kansas, and shipped to San Francisco, California. The express went as a special over the Santa Fe road, and was the first instance of a train with a cargo consisting exclusively of eggs passing into the State of California. The cars, it need hardly be said, were of special construction, and the value of the shipment aggregated about £5,000, including freight charges, which amounted to over £1,000.

WILL COMPLETE THEIR PLANT.

The Board of Directors of the Petrolia Packing Co., Limited, have decided to take very energetic action in the forwarding of the work on their plant which is now being constructed. Harrison Corey was elected as chairman to the provisional board in the place of John Kerr who has resigned. The executive committee of the board is composed of the president and J. W. McCutcheon, John Fraser, John Kerr and William English.

THE PROVISION MARKETS.

TORONTO.

The heavy weather of the past week has had its effect in reducing the offerings of Northern and Western hogs, which remain steady at $7.40 to $7.50 per 100 lb. in carlots. On the St. Lawrence Market there has been a continued quietness in dressed hogs, which are quoted at nominal prices of $8 to $8.25 per 100 lb. Beef continues steady, as are also veal and lambs. Prices are unchanged, We quote: Dressed hogs, $8.00 to $8.25; beef carcasses, $5.75 to $7 per 100 lb.; hind quarters, $6.50 to $7.50 per 100 lb.; front quarters, $4.75 to $5.50 per 100 lb. Veal, 7 to 8½c. per lb.; lambs, 8 to 8½c. Live hogs: Selects, $6.12½, and lights $5.87½ per 100 lb.; choice export cattle bring $5 to $5.40 per 100 lb.; lights sell at $4 to $4.50.

There is a good trade doing in cured meats and lard, and prices are steady. The outlook is becoming brighter for a big business from this out in these lines. We quote: Long clear bacon, 10¼ to 11c.; smoked breakfast bacon, 14 to 15c.; rolls, 11 to 11½c.; medium hams, 13½c.; large hams, 12½ to 13c.; shoulder hams, 10½ to 11c., and backs, 13½ to 14c.; Canadian heavy mess pork, $20.50 to $21; short cut, $22; lard, in tierces, 11¼c. per lb.; tubs, 11½c., and pails, 11¾c.

MONTREAL.

The provision market, on the whole, is not active. Lard, both pure and compound, is moving well, but meats are slow. Receipts of live hogs have been very light. Dressed hogs have also been coming forward slowly, but the demand is only fair. There is some of Armour's pork now in stock. In 30 to 40 pieces per bbl. it is worth $25 to $25.25. There are no changes in prices. We quote: Heavy Canadian short cut mess pork, $22; Chicago clear pork, $22.50 for heavy and $22.25 for medium; selected heavy short cut mess pork, boneless, $22.00 to $22.50; hams, 13c.; bacon, 15c.; lard, pure Canadian, $2.35 to $2.40 per pail; refined lard compound (Fairbank's); $2.05 for 1 to 24 pails; $2.03 for 25 to 49 pails; $2 02 for 50 pails and over. Snow White and Globe compound, $1.75 per pail; Cottolene, 10⅞c. for 20 lb. pails, and 10⅝c. for 60-lb. tubs, for Quebec and Ontario.

ST. JOHN, N. B.

In barrelled pork the high prices continue, and any business is from hand to mouth. Some domestic goods are still offered. Beef is not so out of the way in price, but there is little demand. Lard is at least no higher and sales have been rather light. In fresh beef there is quite a little Ontario received and values are unchanged. Round hogs are still scarce and high. We quote as follows: American clear pork, $22 to $23; domestic mess pork, $21; plate beef, Canadian, $13 50 to $14; mess pork, American, $21.50; plate beef, American, $14.50 to $15; fresh beef, 5 to 8c.; Round hogs, 7½ to 8½c.; pure lard, tubs, 12½ pure lard, pails, 12¾c.; compound lard tubs, 10c.; compound lard, pails, 10¼c.; refined lard, compound, Fairbank's tubs, 10¾c., pails, 10½c.

PROVISION TRADE STATISTICS.

The sixth annual issue of Provision Trade Statistics, a little vest-pocket booklet, compiled by W. A. McKnight, a well-known provision importer, Liverpool, Eng., is to hand. The booklet, which is bound in cloth, is only 2¼ x 3½ in., and contains 35 pages, but there is a mass of statistics dealing with all phases of the provision trade that makes it invaluable for reference purposes. The following are compiled from some of the tables in Mr. McKnight's booklet :

HOW TO MAKE SAUSAGES.

Do us a favor by giving us a recipe in your journal on pork sausage and a good pork and beef sausage.

(1) Take 3 parts of fat pork and 10 parts of lean; chop fine and season to taste (shoulder only may be used to make very fine pork sausage); the meat thus prepared is stuffed into hog casings, but not too tightly, and can then be nicely linked. These sausages will keep as long as ten days or two weeks, even in hot weather, by using Freeze-Em—¾ of a lb. to 100 lb. of meat being necessary. Aerated bread meal, potato flour and meat currie make it possible to add considerable water and improve it—also browns very nicely in frying. Freeze Em gives this sausage a bright, fresh color. (2) Take 11 lb. of lean, raw beef, 6½ lb. of fat, raw pork, chop together moderately fine and season with 6 ounces salt, 2 ounces ground pepper, and ½ ounce of whole coriander seed. Mix well together, adding about 1 gill of water, and stuff into beef rounds. The ends of these sausage are tied together. Smoke for 48 hours, and, if kept in a cool place, they will keep for at least two weeks in any kind of weather.—Butchers' Advocate.

LUMBER CUT IN OTTAWA VALLEY.

AN estimate of the lumber cut of the Ottawa and Ottawa Valley mills for the seasons of 1900 and 1901 shows an increase in favor of last year. The total for 1901 is placed at 611,000,000 feet, as against 588,000,000 for 1900, an increase of 23,000,000.

The cut of the different mills is as follows: Mr. J. R. Booth's mill, 125,000,000 feet; Gilmour & Co., Trenton, 25,000,000 feet; Hull Lumber Co., operating Mason's mill, 35,000,000 feet; McLachlan Bros., Arnprior, 70,000,000 feet; Hawkesbury Lumber Co., 45,000,000 feet, and W. C. Edwards & Co.'s Rockland and New Edinburgh mills, 85,000,000 feet. The St. Anthony Lumber Co. cut at the Whitney mills 50,000,000 feet, an increase of 8,000,000 feet; Gillies Bros., Braeside, cut 40,000,000 feet, increase 10,000,000; A. & P. White, Pembroke, cut 8,000,000 feet, increase 3,000,000; McLaren & McLaurin, East Templeton, cut in 1901 over 20,000,000 feet, an increase of 14,000,000.

The cut of the following firms was practically the same for both seasons: Pembroke Lumber Co., 14,000,000 feet; Ross Bros., Buckingham, 10,000,000 feet; McLaren Estate, Buckingham, 15,000,000 feet; J. R. & J. Gillies, Arnprior, 3,000,000 feet; A. Hagar & Co., Plantagenet, 6,000,000 feet; G. H. Perley & Co., Calumet, 25,000,000 feet; Bailey Bros.' mill, Aylmer, cut before the fire in 1900 over 4,000,000 feet. It was not operated last season. The Ottawa Lumber Co.'s mill at Calumet cut 8,000,000 feet in 1900, before it was secured by Mr. G. H. Perley. The prospects are favorable for a large cut in 1902, as the demand for high grade lumber is a heavy one.

EUROPEAN BEET SOWINGS.

Mr. Licht, of Magdenburg, in his report of January 18, says: "Since in view of the the low price of sugar only correspondingly low prices can be paid for beets, it is mostly thought that a restriction of the beet cultivation is sure to take place, the amount of which is not yet possible to calculate. So, for instance, a number of Silesian factories made an agreement, to be enforced by a penalty, not to pay any more than marks 0.80 per cent. This, of course, will lower the cost of the sugar production. By others it has been proposed that the Federal Government should bring out an emergency law, reducing next year's contingent by 20 per cent. In any case, the conviction seems to prevail among the sugar fabricants that a considerable reduction of the beet cultivation has become necessary. Similar are the reports from Austria, France, Roumania and Spain, partly also from Russia, while in the other European countries there is still more or less uncertainty. That in commercial circles, for the present, not much weight is attached to a serious restriction of the European beet area, while in a large part of cane districts a further extension of the cane cultivation is spoken of, may, above all, be gathered from the wholly unprecedented state of the market, and energetic measures will have to be taken by the sugar industry if they intend to cause a change in this. We may also refer to the accounts from the colonies, which partly complain seriously of the present prices being ruinous to the sugar production."

PROOF OF HIS DIRECTORSHIP.

"They tell me that Jim Muggins is one of the directors in a big city corporation now," said the grocer.

"Yes, I seen him las' time I was down to town," said Mr. Meddergrass. "He directs the envelopes f'r the firm."—Baltimore American.

THE COURSE OF PRICES.

DUN'S index number of the course of prices, with due allowance for the relative importance of each commodity, was $99,576 on February 1. This indicates a decrease of slightly more than $2 from the level of January 1, which was the highest point of recent years. The fall of nearly 2 per cent. reflects the reaction in grain speculation which produced sympathetic declines in prices of meats. Price changes during January emphasize two gratifying points; that the manipulated rise in corn was checked without involving greater disasters, and that the quotations of iron and steel were not excessively advanced, despite conditions most favorable for the establishment of an abnormal price level.

The index number of February 1 is given below, separated into seven classes showing where changes were most extensive, and earlier dates are also gfven for comparison:

	Feb. 1, 1902.	Jan. 1, 1902.	Feb. 1, 1901.
Breadstuffs	$19,565	$20,002	$15,062
Meats	9,494	9,670	8,592
Dairy and garden	14,384	15,248	13,868
Other food	8,961	8,952	9,416
Clothing	15,460	15,547	16 271
Metals	15,494	15,375	15,845
Miscellaneous	16,278	16,743	15,956
Total	$99,576	$101,587	$95,010

Examination of the index number in detail discloses a fall of about 2½ per cent. in breadstuffs during the first month of the year. The loss was heaviest in oats, then corn, the next wheat. Other products in this class are much less prominent owing to the comparatively small per capita consumption. In meats, the decline was 1.8 per cent.; live hogs and beef both weakened somewhat, but sheep scored a slight advance. The sharpest losses in this division were made by lard, pork, hams and bacon, all of which moved to a lower level.

The most severe fall occurred in dairy and garden products, which lost 5.7 per cent. during the month. Many items contributed to this change, but the decline of 5c. per doz. in the price of eggs was by far the most important in affecting the index number. Hay, potatoes and some other vegetables were also cheaper, and a few minor products weakened. Butter, cheese and milk were all well sustained.

THE NEW CANNED-GOODS SCHEME.

Editor "Canadian Grocer."—Having read your article on page 17, of your issue of February 7, it is evident that in some particulars you have been misinformed as to the true condition of affairs, regarding the canned-goods business.

Probably no other manufacturing business to-day is in such a precarious condition as that of the Canadian packers. This condition of affairs has been largely brought about by the inducements held out by the various towns and cities throughout Ontario to encourage the starting of canning factories. And the output has steadily increased until to-day there are enough factories erected to produce sufficient canned goods to supply a market of twenty-five millions instead of about six millions.

It naturally follows that a business, conducted for some years past without having any regard to the consuming demands of the country, and no organized effort having been made to work up an export trade, that those engaged in the same will wake up sooner or later to a realization of the true condition of affairs.

Until last year no reliable statistics have ever been kept of the aggregate pack of goods put up by the various canning factories throughout the country, and as the business depends for its success upon finding a market for the goods packed it is very necessary that proper attention should be paid to this important matter.

The pack of 1900 was considerably in excess of the requirements of the country, and the effort of the Dominion Syndicate was to induce the canners then in business to reduce their pack for 1901, 30 per cent. It is confidently believed that the canners did make a conscientious effort to reduce their pack, but owing to the phenomenal crops in some lines of vegetables last year the output was nearly as large (even with the reduced acreage) as it was in 1900.

The effort now being made is not by any syndicate, but is a mutual arrangement amongst the canners to reduce their output in accordance with the consuming demands of the country, and thus prevent a large over-pack, which can only have one result, viz., that of entailing heavy losses on those engaged in the business. It is absolutely necessary to curtail the pack, and factories that will close down for a season or two cannot be expected to do so without being compensated to the extent of a fair interest on the amount invested in their businesses.

The canning business is a peculiar one, entirely different to that of any other line of goods put up in this country, as the goods can only be packed at certain seasons of the year. With each canner running independently and each having no reliable information as to the total quantity of goods that will be packed during any one season, and with no knowledge as to the quantities required for consumption, it means at the end of the season carrying large quantities of goods for which there is no sale, except, perhaps, at prices that are far below the cost of production.

No business to-day is in such need of cooperation as that of the canning industry. Fully as many canners have failed in business in the last 15 years as there are in business to-day, owing entirely to the fact that no organized effort was made or records kept, in order to suit the pack to the demands of the country.

It has always been the custom to sell in advance of the seasons as many goods as the wholesale and retail trade would buy, and then to pack as many more goods as the capacity of the factory would allow. For years past the prices in the spring have been almost invariably much lower than those ruling at the season, and the result has been losses to both packer and dealer.

The effort now being made to bring about a healthy condition of the canned-goods industry, to prevent, if possible, an accumulation of old goods and consequent deterioration in quality, to pack a higher standard of goods and to provide a fund for working up an export trade, by exploiting foreign markets and thus secure an increased outlet and a corresponding increase in the output of Canadian canned goods.

If the effort being made is not successful, heavy losses will be made by both packers and dealers in canned goods this season.

Public opinion is generally opposed to anything that savors of cooperation or combination, which feeling is altogether due to a want of knowledge of the conditions which make cooperation necessary. A mistaken idea seems to prevail among some consumers, in fact with the majority of them, that cooperation of any kind, enabling manufacturers to protect their interests to some reasonable extent, and better grapple with the conditions of trade existing to-day, is a species of combination that will unjustly affect the prices which they will have to pay for the goods.

A more intimate knowledge of the facts would, in nearly every case, force the conviction upon them that their interests, as consumers, would really be benefitted instead of the reverse.

As one who is concerned in the general welfare of the business community, I am of the opinion that the interests of the canners and trade will best be served by carrying into effect some such arrangement as is outlined above.

BANKER.

THE OTTAWA ASSOCIATION.

Editor "Canadian Grocer":—I read with pleasure the letter which you publish from Mr. H. C. Ellis in the current issue of "The Grocer," and with infinite amusement I perused the communication of "Lesser Light." The former, fair and businesslike, is characteristic and what you would expect of the author. The latter is a mere tirade of "words, words, nothing but words," a ponderous attempt at sarcasm, with a vain insinuation aimed at somebody suspected of writing my first letter, which is evidently wide of the mark. If "Lesser Light," when he reads what follows, has anything further to say, I would ask him to give us fewer rhetorical pyrotechnics and come down to facts, and state them with less adjectivity.

I have no wish to quarrel with anybody in the Grocers' Association. My desire, to quote the words of "Lesser Light," is to "do them some good." A little gentle criticism does nobody any harm in the long run, although it may be resented when it comes wet from the press. So keep cool, gentlemen, keep cool; don't try to eat me, because I assure you I'm no spring chicken.

"Lesser Light" politely asks me to "put up or shut up," so I decided to "put up." In the first place, I must say that my conclusions were not by any means based on a single report of one of the meetings of The Ottawa Grocers' Association. I have read "The Canadian Grocer" reports of its meetings ever since its inauguration, and while I do not think for a moment that the association does not aim at "business." I am of the opinion that it might well go further than it does in that direction. I know it aims at early closing and stamping out peddlars, and a few other things—all desirable ends. But it might try and do a little missionary housecleaning at home also. I may here illustrate to "Lesser Light" what I mean by an "anomaly."

Why does the Grocers' Association wish to wipe out the peddlars? The answer in a nutshell is this: To enable them, by selling what the peddlars now sell, to make more profits. Making profits, then, is the aim and object of the association. Herein comes the anomaly. The members of the association declare in favor of getting all the profits possible out of their business, and yet we see, in the association's own ranks, at least one of its members conducting a campaign of price-cutting which would do credit to the most inveterate departmental store. Indeed, it would not be stretching the point to say that at least one of Ottawa's departmental stores, in the matter of price-cutting, is far more creditable to the grocery trade than certain limbs of the Grocers' Association.

Mr. Ellis says: "We don't think that every man for himself will work while the association exists, but as long as a good feeling prevails with all there is bound to be less strife, hard feeling, etc., which tend to so much cutting and slashing in our business." If "every man for himself" won't work, then why does the association allow it to go on? Is there no remedy? Has the association no power to prevent this sort of thing? If not, it would be well for it to wrestle with the problem at once and prove to the outside world its consistency. Price-cutting is a curse to any trade, and heaven knows that the grocery, of all trades, can least stand it. The association would do well to frame a by-law providing in case moral suasion, which should first be brought to bear, should fail to stop the price-cutter in his mad career, that he should be fined or brought to book in some way. "Cutting and slashing" prices should have no place in the ranks of an association which goes to such trouble in other directions to enable those in the trade to add a little to their profits. Reforms, like charity, should begin at home.

The Auer Gas Lamp

Money-Back Style.

No. 1

THIS style is particularly suited for a reading light—the shades prevent the light from tiring the eyes and the burner can be raised just the same as any other students lamp.

IT can be carried around the house with perfect safety and as the base is heavily weighted there is no danger of its up-setting.

THE light is soft enough for the most sensitive eyes and yet strong enough for the finest print.

Business and Its Management.

The Motive Power.

HOW few people with businesses of their own, especially if they are of the old-fashioned sort, realize how much a business depends upon its proprietor for its motive power, says Grocery, London. We not infrequently see two businesses in the same growing neighborhood, possessed apparently of equal advantages and conducted on right lines, which show very different results in the course of a few years. If you ask the more prosperous man of the two why he has succeeded so much better than the other, he probably would not be able to tell you the true reason; whilst his rival would probably put down his own comparative lack of success to the bad state of trade, the changing conditions of the times, or to some other factor which must have affected the two shops to an equal extent. The true reason of the difference is that in one case the head of the establishment is possessed of a large stock of personal energy, which he puts into his business; whilst the other is dreamy and easy-going, and, whilst no one would say that he did not attend to his business affairs, yet he takes things easy, and does not put his whole energy into the work. An outsider visiting the two shops would see a marked difference at once. In one there is a smartness and alertness on the part of the assistants, with no slip-shod ways. Everything in the shop is in apple-pie order and every assistant knows exactly where to put his hand on the goods he requires. The window-dressing is changed at frequent intervals, new goods and seasonable lines are pushed well to the front, and the influence of the head of the concern makes itself felt in every corner of the establishment. Moreover, he does not rule merely by precept, but by example. He gets to business sharp to time in the morning, so that his assistants would feel ashamed if they were not there too. They feel that their employer has all the details of the business at his fingers' ends and could do the work of any man in the place from the manager or first-hand down to the errand boy, as well or better than the person in question, and they respect their employer accordingly. Another thing is that although their employer is not soft-hearted, he is eminently just and they know it. A man who is incapable or who shirks his work will not be wanted, whilst another who puts his heart into his work will be wanted badly, and will have his position improved. About accounts again, these will be kept thoroughly up-to-date and no laxness will creep in here, more than in any other part of the business. Long credits will be unknown, and the amount of dead capital in the business will be very small. Consequently the proprietor will be able to buy on the most advantageous terms, and to get his full discounts for everything. On the other hand, the less successful trader will, quite possibly, be a man of far greater capacity and brain-power than his rival, and capable of rising to any position he might aspire to, if, and this is a large "if," he only had the driving energy and force of character. But he has not got it. And his assistants, although they are all thoroughly honest and mean well, copy the slack ways of their employer. He gets to business late, and so do they; he does not worry about details, more do they; he is untidy, so are they. When any disputed point is raised he gives way to save trouble, so do they. He is lax about money matters himself, and consequently feels ashamed to press his customers for money, and they say to themselves, "Oh, he is a comfortable, easy-going man, he won't press us; let him wait," and he does wait. Consequently he always buys at a disadvantage, and is seldom able to secure cash discounts. Moreover, for want of ready money, he frequently misses bargains that are going which his rival snaps up.

Taking it only from an advertising point of view, look what a different effect the two establishments must produce upon the public! The windows of one are always more attractive and seasonable than the other to start with; one establishment has always an air of smartness about it which the other lacks, and when the customer gets inside, how differently he is treated! He is served smartly, his wants are anticipated, the assistant puts his hand in a moment upon the goods required, instead of having to hunt for them or to ask whether they are in stock, and the waste of the customer's time is reduced to a minimum. It is a pleasure to a customer to deal at such a "live" establishment. At the shop of retailer No. 2, although the customer may receive equal civility, and the goods may be of equal quality, yet everyone seems half asleep, and the customer cannot help noticing it, and carrying away with him a very bad impression. The accumulation of such impressions, combined with an occasional visit to the shop of retailer No. 1, will result in the customer transferring his orders from one shop to another. If the proprietors of the two shops were to change places, taking their methods with them, in a very short time we should see the stream of success turned in favor of the previously backward business. The motive power of the proprietor's energy would be driving it ahead.

Advantages of the Cash System.

It is an admitted fact, says Stoves and Hardware Reporter, that merchants who sell for cash can establish a lower-selling price for their goods than where the credit system is used. This, in itself, is not only a substantial advantage as applied to the general run of business, but can also be used in competition with the department stores and catalogue houses. Granting that these concerns buy goods in larger quantities than is possible to the average retailer, and therefore obtain lower prices from the manufacturers, it is yet to be demonstrated that they can give this advantage to the consumer when the latter is obliged to pay freight or expressage on each separate article that he buys. In fact, the freight or express charges quite frequently exceed the difference between catalogue and retailer's prices, when the latter are made on a credit basis, and this difference against the retailer could be entirely removed in most cases if all prices were based on cash. Retailers, both in association and as individuals, complain bitterly of the encroachments made on their business by the concerns referred to, but they have not always taken the best methods of opposing them. The adoption of a cash system is one of these methods, and it also has many other advantages which are evident to anyone who has examined the subject in all its bearings. It is also as well to consider that these concerns are not always so formidable as they are made out to be. A department store in St. Louis in now in the bankruptcy court, and a similar fate recently befel a catalogue house in Minneapolis.

OTTAWA TOURISTS' ASSOCIATION.

THE Ottawa Valley Tourist Association has been reorganized and is starting again with a new lease of life. This work was perfected at a meeting on February 11 in the Board of Trade rooms, Ottawa. Geo. F. Henderson occupied the chair, and amongst those present were: Lt.-Col. Coutlee, Lt.-Col. Hurdman, Major Brown, R. W. Shannon, John R. Reid, Andrew Holland, A. G. Pittaway, W. Lake Marler, Louis Simpson, N. E. Cormier, J. E. Walsh, King Arnoldi and others.

It was moved by W. Lake Marler and seconded by Louis Simpson that the association be organized with the following officers: Hon. presidents—Thos. Birkett, M.P., L. N. Champagne, M.P., Hon. F. R. Latchford; hon. vice-presidents, N. A. Belcourt, M.P., Charles Magee, Sir James Grant, M.D., K.C.M.G.; president, George F. Henderson; vice-presidents, C. B. Powell, M.P.P., W. E. Smallfield, mayor of Renfrew; N. E. Cormier, Aylmer, Que.; Peter White, jr., mayor of Pembroke; Colin Rankin, Mattawa, Que.; Mayor Cook; hon. treasurer, W. L. Marler, manager Merchants Bank, Ottawa; hon. secretary, A. M. Calderon, Ottawa; assistant secretary, G. A. White, Ottawa.

General Committee — A. E. Riddell, Galetta, Ont.; A. P. Logue, Maniwaki, Que.; R. G. Moles, Arnprior, Ont.; R. W. Shannon, Ottawa; J. R. Reid, Ottawa; W. H. Rowley, Ottawa; J. E. Walsh, Ottawa; C. Ross, Ottawa; Geo. Duncan, Ottawa; McLeod Stewart, Ottawa; H. Morrison, Ottawa; R. H. Haycock, Ottawa; F. W. Carling, Ottawa; F. X. St. Jacques, Ottawa; H. J. Gardiner, Ottawa; S. R. Poulin, Ottawa; A. Holland, Ottawa; Lieut.-Col. Hurdman, Ottawa; W. M. Southam, Ottawa; W. D. Morris, Ottawa; Ald. P. D. Ross, Ottawa; Lieut.-Col. Sherwood, Ottawa; Major Brown, Ottawa; A. A. Dion, Ottawa; D. E. Johnson, Ottawa; D'Arcy Scott, Ottawa; Louis Simpson, Ottawa; E. A. Olver, Ottawa; Ald. Payment, Ottawa; A. E. Palmer, Ottawa; W. A. Allan, Ottawa; Cecil Bethune, Ottawa; Lieut.-Col. Coutlee, Ottawa; Warden Cummings; A. G. Pittaway, Ottawa; Major Echlin, Ottawa; Henry C. Monk, Ottawa; C. A. Douglas, Ottawa; Ald. Sanderson, Ottawa; Lieut.-Col. Jarvis, Ottawa; Capt. Gorrell, King Arnoldi.

J. E. Walsh spoke of the Fish and Game Association, which met in Burlington recently and will meet in Ottawa next winter. He thought that a committee would have considerable benefit in distributing literature illustrating the beauties of the Ottawa Valley. He mentioned that the Canada Atlantic had spent on such work last year $9,000 in the United States, and the C.P.R. and other lines had done similar work also.

N. E. Cormier said that he realized that Ottawa was the gateway of the best game and fish district in the country.

R. W. Shannon explained how the Ottawa City Council had failed to donate the $1,000 asked for last year towards the work of the Association. He pointed out that the St. John Tourist Association had received a grant of $1,000 from the Provincial Government, and sufficient from the St. John merchants and council to bring up their funds in hand to $3,000 for the year. They had distributed 25,000 booklets and 25,000 picture postcards.

A committee was appointed to consider the question of a summer carnival of games, sports and tournament at Ottawa for 1902. A committee was also appointed to consider the resolution that was carried to the effect that it would be advisable to have a concentration of troops and a review at Ottawa some time in the year.

A committee will inquire into the suggestion that a characteristic stationery and literature would be of much value.

The following were appointed to the central executive committee: George F. Henderson, C. B. Powell, E. E. Smallfield, Major Brown, Ald. P. D. Ross, Mayor Cook, A. Holland, A. M. Calderon, Peter White, N. E. Cormier, E. A. Riddle, C. A. Douglas and C. E. E. Usher.

On motion, the executive were instructed to prepare a plan of finance and to draft a constitution and by-laws for the next meeting.

HAMILTON RETAILERS ORGANIZE.

THE Hamilton retail merchants held a large and representative gathering in the Hamilton Board of Trade rooms, on the evening of February 13, and perfected the work already begun of organizing the Hamilton branch of The Retail Merchants' Association of Canada. Joseph Kirkpatrick was chairman, and about 175 were present.

Speeches were made by E. M. Trowern, Toronto, general secretary of the Association; G. J. St. Leger, 2nd vice-president of the Toronto branch, and G. Shoebotham, vice-president of the London branch. Valuable advice was given in the work of organization and the working of the constitution was explained.

J. O. Carpenter reported for the committee that had been formed to arrange for the organizing work. They had found that everyone was in favor of such an organization.

The following officers were elected:

President—Adam Ballantyne.
1st Vice-President—H. Arland.
2nd Vice-President—R. A. Robertson.
Secretary—G. S. Klein.
Treasurer—John Ronan.

There were 10 sections formed altogether, comprising, amongst other branches, the grocers, butchers, boot and shoe, and hardware merchants. Those various sections were met the following day by Secretary Trowern, and organized on a proper basis.

J. Henry Copp has opened a grocery store in the Hazen Copp new block, Port Elgin, N.B.

A Word about our Terms.

There still seems to be some misunderstanding as to our terms.
We ourselves and our travellers have not been strict enough in carrying them out.

Our terms are as follows : 10% 10 days, 7% 15 days, 5% 30 days, net cash 35 days.

When goods are sold at a fixed or combined price, we simply add the difference, which makes it no better or no worse for the buyer, providing he pays promptly. For instance—take granulated sugar, at 5c. per lb. The credit wholesale grocer charges you 5c. less 1 per cent., which nets $4.95; we charge you 5½c. less 10 per cent., which nets $4.95; but if you do not pay promptly you cannot afford to deal with us. On all lines we manufacture, and on all lines where profits will allow, we try and give you a gain in buying of 7 per cent., which is a nice profit itself, and on these goods you get 5 per cent 30 days, if you do not pay in 10, which makes terms equal to any in Canada.

We claim it is in the interest of every grocer who pays promptly to deal with us. If he encourages us, we expect when we are able to have the use of our capital to give him such prices that those who buy on credit terms cannot compete with him. The success of our terms means no supply stores, no bankrupt stocks, but straight legitimate competition.

It pays to buy Tea from us, it pays to buy Coffee from us, it pays to buy Baking Powders, Spices, Vinegars, Brooms, Extracts, Jersey Cream Yeast Cakes, etc., from us.

Write to us for a general order of Groceries, then compare prices with your invoices from other houses.

"Imperial" Vinegar.

In the history of the vinegar business, no one other year records the enormous output of last year. Never before have the merchants and the consumers of Canada been so well satisfied with this choice condiment. Since the inauguration of the Imperial Vinegar and Pickling Company's works, at Hamilton, the merchants of Ontario, Manitoba, the North-west Territories and British Columbia are a unit in awarding the palm for excellency of quality and flavour to the "Imperial."

The leading pickle manufacturers of Ontario tell us that, since the inception of "Imperial" Vinegar, the quality of their goods has improved very much, and the demand for them greatly increased.

CORRESPONDENCE

THE CANNED GOODS QUESTION.

Editor CANADIAN GROCER,—I have read with interest the letter from "Banker," published in your issue of February 14, on the canned goods question. "Banker" is evidently alive to the situation when he states "that no other manufacturing business is in such a precarious condition as that of the Canadian packers," but the very remedies he proposes, schemes, cooperation and combination, have in the past proved detrimental to the industry, and are largely responsible for present conditions.

The canned goods trade will ever be regulated by the natural law of supply and demand, and the elimination of competition can only be attended by disaster.

The only remedy for the present situation is open prices—resulting in the survival of the fittest—not, as has been the case in the past, the bolstering up of prices, which has enabled persons without capital, brains or experience to compete with those who have all three.

It is true the Dominion syndicate managed with partial success last year to corner the market. But, in spite of the fortunate circumstances of being able to find a large outlet for tomatoes in the United States (a circumstance which may never occur again) the situation, for the packers at least, is worse to-day than it was a year ago.

If there are factories enough in Canada to supply 25,000,000 of people, and there are only 6,000,000 consumers in the country, then, by natural means, the output of these factories must be reduced to meet the requirements of the population. And this cannot be accomplished by artificial means. The packer who cans the best article, has capital and ability enough to operate his business, will survive. The others must go to the wall.

"Banker" says: "Fully as many canners have failed in business in the last 15 years as there are in business to day." The same can probably be said of the retail grocery business, but how many of those who have failed in either business were adequately equipped with experience and capital?

One of the projects embodied in the present scheme, viz., export, is a delusion. The American market is closed to us by a prohibitory tariff (unless, as has been the case this year, their own crop is a failure, something which does not occur once in ten years), and as for the English market for canned vegetables there is practically none, from the fact that in England fresh vegetables, home grown, and those grown in the neighboring and more southerly countries of Europe, are for 10 months in the year obtainable in abundance at very low prices.

"Banker" remarks: "Public opinion is generally opposed to anything that savors of cooperation or combination." In this instance the mere fact of compensating by paying interest on the amount invested in three-fourths of the factories in the country while they are idle would, on a cooperative plan, very greatly increase the cost of the product of the other fourth of the factories, which additional cost, it is presumed, would be paid for by the consumer.

No, the misguided consumer is nothing if not selfish. It makes no difference to him what it costs to produce wearing apparel, sugar or canned goods, as long as he can buy them cheap.

The towns and cities which have held out inducements to encourage the starting of canned goods factories without first ascertaining the condition the industry is in will eventually be the losers in the transaction, and, without wishing in any way to be personal, so will the bankers who have made advances to those who enter the business with insufficient capital, ability and experience. So long as the supply is greater than the demand for canned goods, prices will be low—often lower than the cost of production. This is an advantage to the consumer ; for the sake of the canners a condition much to be deplored, the weakest and least experienced of whom will drop out of the business. The strongest—men of business ability and those who can command an enhanced price for superior quality—it can safely be prophesied will weather the storm.

"A Buyer of Quality."

Toronto, February 17. 1902.

MANITOU CREAMERY CO.

The shareholders of the Manitou Creamery Co., Manitou, Man., held a meeting recently to consider T. T. Gadd's offer for the purchase of their creamery. Mr. Gadd will pay about $1,050 for the creamery and plant, and will guarantee to run the factory for at least five years or else forfeit his purchase. This was considered satisfactory by a majority vote, and a by-law in accordance with the above terms will be submitted to the shareholders at a meeting on Saturday, February 22, for ratification.

HALIFAX RETAIL MERCHANTS.

On the evening of February 12 there was a special meeting of the newly-formed Halifax Retail Merchants' Association to consider the reports of its representatives who had been delegated to interview the small shopkeepers, grocers and liquor dealers who had not previously been approached regarding early closing. Nearly all those seen were stated as expressing themselves willing to join in the movement. Some are still holding off to see what the result will be, but it is expected that they will shortly fall into line. Several stores which at present keep open will probably close as soon as they see the others doing so.

A resolution was unanimously adopted calling on the Local Government to grant them legislative powers in the matter of early closing, and the executive committee were instructed to deal with it in the best way possible. They will hold a meeting to consider suggestions, and will report to the Association at its general meeting.

A resolution was also carried calling attention to the fact of a number of merchants refusing to adopt early closing, and urging the citizens to cooperate in the movement by making their purchases before 6.30 p.m.

The offer of the Retail Clerks' Association, proffering their assistance in the movement, was accepted.

SUBSCRIPTIONS POURING IN.

The Victoria, B.C., Tourists' Association is being placed on its feet by the support of all classes of citizens. Canvassers have been over about half of the city seeking subscriptions in aid of the Association, and already the sum of $2,493 has been promised. The collectors will start out in a short time. They are greatly encouraged and helped by the fact that the State of Maine last year secured through summer tourists and sportsmen the sum of $10,000,000. They are hoping for the same success out there, providing they keep the movement alive for a few years.

ANNUAL MEETINGS OF BOARDS OF TRADE.

THE BRANTFORD BOARD.

THE annual meeting of the Branford Board of Trade on February 12 was well attended. The reports of the president and secretary-treasurer were read and the officers elected for the year 1902.

Mr. Lloyd Harris, the president, commenced his address by alluding to the death of the Queen, and of Mr. Ignatius Cockshutt, the oldest member of the board. Several members also had either removed or resigned, but, nevertheless, by the addition of several new members, there were now 244 on the roll, a substantial increase for the year.

During the year just closed the Bain Wagon Co. had erected new buildings, the Canada Farmers' Cordage Co. had commenced operations and The Bailey Cutlery Co. had acquired new premises and were preparing to increase their output.

The increase in the number of employes was also satisfactory. In 1900 there were 3,896 workmen employed in Brantford, and this number had increased to 4,038 in 1901, an addition of 148, while, at the same time, there was an increase of $54,419 in the amount of wages paid, the respective figures being $1,328,017 for 1900, and $1,377,436 for 1901.

The control of the city parks had been taken over by the parks commission, a body which the Board of Trade had assisted to bring into being. A further responsibility had been added to these commissioners by the gift of the Agricultural Park to the city by the family of the late Ignatius Cockshutt.

The trading-stamp system has also been done away with by the cooperation of the leading retail merchants of the city.

A special committee of the city council had been appointed to cooperate with a special committee of the Board of Trade, and had conferred with the Grand Trunk Railway authorities to obtain the G. T. R. through line via Brantford, besides discussing other matters between that railway and Brantford city. Everything seems to indicate that the G.T.R. will now put its line through Brantford on a reasonable basis.

The treasurer's report showed a balance on hand of $393.29 for the past year, the total receipts being $623.88 and the expenditures $250.59. The total surplus now on hand amounts to nearly $900, and it was recommended that steps should be taken to provide a new home with this money.

The following were elected by acclamation :

President—Mr. Lloyd Harris.
Vice-President—Mr. John Mann.
Secretary—Mr. Hately.

The following nominations were made for the council and committees. The election will take place next meeting :

Council—J. Ruddy, F. Leeming, T. H, Whitehead, J. Sanderson, J. Muir, C. H. Waterous, J. F. Schultz, D. J. Waterous, C. Cook, H. Yeigh, E. L. Goold, C. Grobb, A. K. Bunnell, J. S. Hamilton, H. Cockshutt, C. Duncan, W. F. Cockshutt.

Transportation—W. G. Elliott, C. F. Hodges, F. Grobb, D. B. Wood, G. C. Schultz, C. H. Waterous, J. Muir, T. Elliott, M. E. Harris, P. Buck, J. M. Shuttleworth, A. J. Olive.

Arbitration—R. W. Robertson, E. M. Shadbolt, J. Hale, J. Stanley, A. J. Wilkes, R. Butt, R. S. Schell, T. White, R. M. Fullerton, S. G. Read, W. F. Shannon, J. Nicholl, M. E. Harris, W. F. Patterson, James Sutherland, W. R. Sutherland, W. B. Wood.

City Improvement—Last year's board reelected.

Representative to Southern Fair Board—W. D. Schultz.

Messrs. Bunnell, Yeigh and Duncan were appointed to nominate the retail merchants' committee.

The meeting then adjourned.

THE QU'APPELLE BOARD.

At Qu'Appelle, N.W.T., the Board of Trade has been reorganized. At a recent meeting, the following officers were elected :

President—J. P. Beauchamp.
1st Vice-President—J. P. Creamer.

CANADIAN APPLE TRADE.

According to Mr. Elmer Lick, one of the Dominion fruit inspectors for Ontario, as reported in The Mail and Empire of recent date, a good opportunity is coming for further cultivating the English apple market, and this Canadian exporters should not miss. Every indication seems to point to an exceptionally heavy crop of apples in 1902, after last year's light yield, and by our producers and dealers uniting to place this crop on the British market at a figure that will cover expenses, instead of holding off for high prices, Canadian apples would be within the reach of everybody. Eleven to thirteen shillings per barrel would be about the right selling price, and it would be the best advertisement that could be devised. The market for Canadian fruit would thus be greatly extended, and in future years a large trade would be insured.

TRADE CHAT.

THE schooner Nellie Thurston has been chartered by the Pacific Fish and Cold Storage Co., and is being fitted up at Nanaimo, B.C., for the halibut fishing trade.

W. A. Matison has purchased D. H. Stevenson's grocery and bakery at Norwich, Ont.

J. Oiser, general merchant, Jarrott's Corners, Ont., has exchanged his store for a farm.

Frederick Hamilton, general merchant, Port Credit, Ont., was united in wedlock one day last week to Miss Andrews, of Milton, Ont.

Frederick Magee, wholesale and retail general merchant, Port Elgin, N.B., has closed the retail branch and will only continue the wholesale business.

Under the direction of Dr. Archibald, Oswego, a glucose expert, the Prescott Starch Works, Brockville, Ont., have commenced manufacturing glucose.

It is stated that a company will locate large rolling mills at London, Ont., and an order has been placed for the purchase of 25 acres of land whereon to commence operations.

By prying open a front door with a chisel, thieves entered John Armstrong's general store at Brigden, Ont., and carried off $5 in cash and $150 worth of merchandise, consisting of razors, etc.

The new cigar factory on Sussex street, Ottawa, which has just commenced running, is being conducted as a branch of D. A. Davidson's Kingston factory. Sixty hands are being employed at the outset, and this number will gradually be increased as the business grows.

NEWFOUNDLAND HERRING FISHERY.

The herring fishery is just over at Bay of Islands and was the best for many years. Herring were fairly plentiful, and as much as $2.25 a basket was given by the Americans for frozen fish. Many fishermen realized $5 per bbl. on their catches, and 3c. per herring was paid when the schooners were anxious to get away. All the crews did well, but just before the last craft sailed one boat was paid $75 for what she held. This was a snap not often obtained. A quantity of gear, nets, etc., was lost in the recent gales, but the fishermen do not care now that the voyage is over, and will look forward to make enough next fall to buy another outfit.—Herald, St. John's, Nfld.

CANADIAN WHEAT AND U. S. FLOUR MILLS.

LAST season's immense crop of wheat in the Canadian Northwest is seriously affecting the milling industry of the United States. On account of the limited capacity of the Canadian mills, this grain has been forced on the market at much lower prices than are paid for wheat on the other side, enabling foreign millers to buy it up, grind it into flour and sell it in competition with the Minneapolis article on the European markets at figures the latter cannot touch.

Another factor in the Canadian wheat's favor is its much better quality. This is evidenced by a recent report from the Chicago Grain Exchange regarding a large sample of Manitoba No. 2 Northern, which was attracting much attention on the market. It was clear, the only blemish being a slight bleaching, and grain men claimed that it looked about as well as wheat that was accepted as No. 1 Northern in Chicago. It was also offered at 6¼ to 6½c. cheaper than the Chicago No. 1 Northern.

To protect themselves, the only way that presents itself to the Minneapolis millers is to purchase the wheat in that city, grind it into flour and then reship it to Canada. At present, the only obstacle to this scheme is the import duty of 3c. per bushel at present imposed, but recent inquiries at the United States Revenue Department at Washington elicit the fact that there is ample authority in the laws of the Republic for grinding Manitoba wheat in bond in Minneapolis and exporting it when ground into flour. There are two laws covering this point. One was enacted in 1883, and provided for grinding Canadian wheat in the United States which is brought in wagons or other ordinary road vehicles. No duty is to be paid on this wheat, except for such portion as is retained by the miller as toll for grinding. The other law provides for a drawback of the duty paid on raw material imported from Canada or other foreign country manufactured in the United States and exported. One per cent. of this duty is retained by the Department for administration expenses. Regulations prepared by the Department to carry out this law provide that importers shall certify at the port of entry that such wheat is imported for manufacture and export. When the manufacturer of the product certifies to the facts, a rebate of 99 per cent. of the duty is allowed.

As the present state of the milling industry in the Republic is greatly affected, something will have quickly to be done, for there are immense quantities of Manitoba wheat yet to be moved. At Duluth alone there are in storage 4,000,000 to 6,000,000 bushels waiting the opening of navigation for export to Europe. And, if the Minneapolis mills decide to grind this wheat it will not be the first time that it has been done. It was tried away back in the late seventies, when some wheat grown on the Canadian side was brought into Minnesota and ground into flour. This experiment was successful in the one instance, as it proved that the wheat could be used. It was more a test of quality than anything else. But it was not shown that there were special advantages to be gained, and, indeed, a comparison of the product only served to prove the superiority of the choice Red River Valley wheat over any other. Conditions, of course, in the milling trade and in regard to wheat growing in Manitoba were so different that no comparison with the present time can be of value, but it is interesting to note that with sufficient difference in price it might be possible for the United States millers to go after the Manitoba wheat.

SPICE MILLS BURNED.

The Dominion Spice Mills, owned by Lyman & Sons, 44 Prince street, Montreal, were destroyed by fire, together with their stock and machinery, on February 13, about 2 o'clock in the morning. The total loss will probably reach $12,000 or $13,000. This loss is stated to be fully covered by insurance. By the prompt action of the firemen, who were quickly on the scene, the blaze was prevented from spreading to the surrounding structures.

MENTAL WATERTIGHT COMPARTMENTS.

I THINK I am well within the mark in saying that everyone (including the writer) has his brain built upon the same principle as a modern steamship, namely, in watertight compartments. Every man has his mental limitations, which are frequently very narrow. People often speak of broad-minded men, but as a matter of fact the really broad- minded men are very few and far between. If people would only realize their limitations it would not be so bad, but the majority absolutely refuse to do so, and they are even proud of the water-tightness of some of the compartments of their brain, forgetting that, to carry on our metaphor, although the compartment may prevent the water from entering, it equally prevents the water already in that section of the brain from getting away.

THE BUSINESS MAN.

In the case of the business man who has risen from small beginnings and has reached his high position through continual concentration upon his work, the watertightness of the other compartments of the brain is often very apparent. In regard to business matters that man is as keen and as reasonable and as intelligent as anyone could wish for ; but get him on any other subject and he is like a child. Far be it from me to suggest that a man should not throw his whole heart and soul into the work that comes before him, but in his own interests he should devote some time to letting a little air into compartments of his brain which are outside business. Even if he has little leisure for really cultivating these compartments, he can at least let the water out and keep them and fit for use when the time comes. After all, business is not an end in itself ; money is not an end in itself ; worldly success is not an end in itself. All these things are only good in so far as they enable a man to make the best of life, and to get the best things out of the world that there are in it. We all know the story of the grocer who made a large fortune, and bought himself a splendid mansion, gave his children the best education money could purchase, and in the end found that he had with it or them. Reading did not interest him ; art and music might as well have only existed on the planet Mars, as far as he was concerned ; and in the end he had a small room in that magnificent mansion fitted up like his old shop, and spent the day in weighing out tea and sugar to imaginary customers. That man's hard-won fortune was useless to him ; he would have been as happy—nay, happier—in his shop, struggling with the surrounding competition, and earning £5 to £6 per week. The man who has merely aimed at worldly success will find after a time that, if he attains his object, he can only sit and long, like Alexander, for fresh worlds to conquer. The attainment of the goal for that man is

DRY AND WHOLESOME

NOTHING IN COMMON

A TERRIBLE MISFORTUNE.

Afterwards, for him, all real happiness in life has departed.

There is another aspect of the water tight compartment question, which is almost as important as the one I have just been expatiating upon. The man who has succeeded in one particular direction frequently considers that he is an equally good authority on matters of a totally different kind. A man makes money in the grocery trade, for instance, and forgetting that he has neither the knowledge nor the experience, expects to succeed equally well in building speculations or on the stock exchange. Or, he may take up some hobby, such as prints, or pictures, or old china, and forgetting that it is merely a hobby, as a connoisseur in such matters ; wasting large sums of money in collecting worthless objects, and getting well laughed at by his neighbors.

MAY TAKE HIMSELF SERIOUSLY

An even commoner form of the same malady is, for a prosperous man of business to set out to do work connected with his business which can only be accomplished successfully by an expert. Take the drafting of circulars or advertisements, for example, the writing the description of his business, or designing of show-cards, or the arrangement of the facade of a new shop. All such matters had far better be left to those who have to such work, although there is no reason why the business man should not use his judgment in seleeting the best man to do the work, nor why he should not study the work sufficiently to enable him to select that man. I have frequently seen good advertisements and good show-cards completely spoiled by the "finishing touches" which the proprietor has insisted upon making upon them. It is the business of the advertisement writer or the poster artist to know what is the most successful way of attracting the public, and his success in life depends upon his knowing it. His employer would do far better to leave the matter in the hands of the expert than to meddle with what he really does not understand.

Every man's mind has its water-tight compartments. In everything else he may be quite reasonable, and capable of forming a judgment or giving of one, but in these water-tight compartments he is careful to allow no air to enter and none of the water to escape. The these compartments contain may relate to the particular manner of conducting a business, such as, that it is better to sell proprietary articles without profit, or to work 16 hours out of the 24, when the same amount of business could be done in half the time, or to anything else of a like nature. The water-tight compartments may contain ideas on politics or religion or anything else, but there they are ; nothing can get in and nothing can get out, and they are impervious to any argument short of a hatchet.—Grocery.

B.C. FRUITS IN ALBERTA.

(From Our Winnipeg Correspondent.)

AMONG the visitors to Winnipeg for the Chess Tournament is Mr. Morrison, manager of The Macpherson Fruit Co.'s branch at Calgary. He gives some very interesting data as to the experience of his house in handling fruit from the Okanagan district of British Columbia last fall, and, in fact, through the present winter.

In all about 35 to 40 cars of fruit were shipped from that district, and a very large part of it was consumed in Alberta. The kinds handled were peaches, plums, pears, crabs, apples, tomatoes, and onions. The fruit began to arrive at Calgary about the third week of August, and from that on to the close of the season ; the cars were well and carefully packed and arrived in first-class condition. The number of peaches received was small, the British Columbia people having a market in the Kootenay for about all they can raise. Of plums, the varieties received were Yellow Egg, Pond's Seedlings, Bradshaws, Grosse and Italian prunes and Columbias. These plums were large, finely formed, of delightful flavor, and thin in the skin with a small pit. They also arrived in perfect condition for reshipment for points north, south and east. The pears were equally satisfactory, the abundant sunshine having ripened them to soft yellow with a bloom and free from russett spots. The varieties received were Bartletts, Flemish Beauties, Clapp's Favorite, and for winter stock, Nelles and Beurre D'Anjou. These pears have kept very well ; they are full in flavor and very mellow. The crabapples were mainly of the Transcendent variety, and the coloring of this fruit is exceedingly beautiful. Of apples, the varieties shipped to Calgary were Spies, Baldwins, Greenings, Ben Davis, Spitzbergens, Wagoners, Gravensteins, Duchess and Wealthies. All these apples were good and the flavor quite equal to the apples of Ontario and Nova Scotia, and have shown good keeping qualities. The tomatoes were large, smooth and full flavored, and arrived in fine condition for reshipment.

The market in Alberta is as keen for fruit as Manitoba and Assiniboia, and the dealings this past season with British Columbia have certainly been most satisfactory. I can see no reason why the fruit from this district should not come to Manitoba points in just as good condition as Southern fruit and it is certainly much finer in flavor and much of it superior in appearance. A small amount of plums are being dried in the Okanagan district now, and no doubt this industry will increase.

THE BEET-SUGAR INDUSTRY.

ONTARIO BEET SUGAR ASSOCIATION.

THE third annual meeting of the Ontario Beet Sugar Association was held at the Walker House, Toronto, on February 13, with a good attendance from Wiarton, Berlin, Lindsay, Dresden and other points where the industry is to be located. Altogether, there were about 75 members present. President John Parry, of Dunnville, Ont., was chairman.

A difficulty that has recently arisen is the unexpected opposition shown by the Farmers' Institute delegates as shown in their addresses throughout the country. Several complaints regarding this were made, and F. H. Annis, of Whitby, thought that popular ignorance on the subject was well represented in the Institute organization.

A deputation was formed to wait on the Local Government to ask for men to be appointed who will cooperate with the Institute speakers in educating the farmers in such districts as were necessary. A liberal grant of money will also be asked for, to help the Association in its educational work. The deputation comprises John Parry, W. K. Snider, N. B. Gash, T. A. Smith, F. H. Annis, Hugh Blain, A. E. Flavelle, William Rickett (Newcastle), J. H. Walsh and D. H. Price.

A number of speeches were made on the prospects of the beet-sugar industry in this Province and much information was given on the cultivation of beets by men who had thoroughly studied the subject. It was stated that a good heavy soil with plenty of moisture, such as exists throughout the Niagara district, was best adapted for sugar beet culture.

The election of officers for the year was as follows :

President—John Parry, Dunnville.

Vice-Presidents—Hugh Blain, Toronto ; A. E. Flavelle, Lindsay ; W. K. Snider, Wiarton ; J. H. Walsh, Dresden ; T. A. Smith, Chatham.

Secretary-Treasurer—D. H. Price, Aylmer.

Honorary Solicitor—N. B. Gash, Toronto.

Executive Committee—J. C. Siemon, Wiarton ; J. M. Shuttleworth, Brantford ; T. H. G. Denne, Peterboro' ; L. J. Breithaupt, M.L.A., Berlin ; D. A. Jones, Beeton : H S. Cane, Newmarket ; J. R. McCullum, Welland ; S. J. Fox, M.L.A., Lindsay ; F. H. Annis, Whitby ; J. A. Davidson, Dresden ; W. D. Cargill, Cargill ; T. A. Auld, Amherstburg ; D. A. Gordon, Wallaceburg ; T. J. Ramsay, Dunnville ; B. B. Freeman, Wiarton ; James Fowler, Toronto.

A delegation is to wait on the Dominion Government to urge assistance either by a bounty or else by countervailing duties on bounty-fed sugar from Europe. It seems that at the present time the Michigan farmers are after the United States Congress for additional protection against bounty-fed sugar.

A MEETING AT THORNBURY.

Mayor Pedwell, of Thornbury, presided over a meeting held in that town recently in the interests of The Wiarton Beet Sugar Co. W. K. Snyder addressed those present on the profits to be derived from sugar beet growing, pointing out that farmers in his experience had realized from $45 to $90 per acre for their beets. He minutely explained the methods of planting, growing, pulling and marketing. A number of questions were asked and answered, and a number of farmers were induced to give beet growing a trial. It is said that the indications are that a large acreage may be secured in the locality around Thornbury.

THE CLERKS' NEW PRESIDENT.

Mr. Wm. Bail, the newly elected president of The Grocery Clerks' Association, Toronto, was born in that city about 22 years ago. He began the grocery business with J. Coutts, corner of Gerrard and Parliament streets, with whom he remained several years. He then went to H. F. Barker's, corner of Yonge and Agnes streets, where he is still employed.

W. BAIL
President Grocery Clerks' Association, Toronto.

Will is very popular, both with the customers of the store and with his fellow clerks. As corresponding secretary of the Clerks' Association last year, he was very faithful to his duties, working hard to advance the interests of the Association, and his associates were glad to honor him with the highest office in their control.

THE SOO CANAL 50 YEARS AGO.

The following is from The Toronto Globe of February 14, 1852 : "We observe that the Americans begin to move seriously in the work of building a canal at Sault Ste. Marie, and unless the enterprise is immediately undertaken on this side there seems every likelihood that they will proceed with it during the coming season. The work can be done infinitely better and cheaper on the Canadian side—and no one who looks at the rapidly increasing traffic of Lake Superior can doubt that it is the duty of our Government to take it up at once as a national undertaking and complete it with the utmost despatch. The highest estimated cost is but £70,000."

P. E. I. FRUIT GROWERS.

THE annual meeting of the Prince Edward Island Fruit Growers' Association was held at Charlottetown, P.E.I., on February 12, with a good attendance. D. P. Irving, vice-president, was in the chair. The president's address, which was read, stated his efforts to secure financial assistance from the Provincial Government. He had so far obtained from the Premier, the Hon Donald Farquharson, enough money to supply their immediate wants that were most pressing, and a sufficient sum had been placed in the estimates to enable them to keep their heads above water. The shortness of last season's apple and general fruit crop was unfortunate, but most gratifying was the increased number of new orchards being laid out and planted.

It was suggested that the Association publish a list of apples proved best for shipment to England. A series of meetings had been held in various sections of the Province last season by the Commissioner of Agriculture to give instruction in farming and the art of horticulture. But it was a pity that the Fruit Growers' Association had not been asked to name some of their members who could have found time to attend the meetings and speak on these subjects.

There was a discussion on the best varieties of apples suitable for growth on the Island, that was participated in by John Robertson, A. Moore, John Johnston and a number of others, from which some valuable information was elicited. For the information of those present, a report was read of J. C. Houghton & Co.'s returns from the consignment of apples sold in Liverpool.

J. Clark also read a paper on cranberry culture.

A number of varieties of apples produced in the Province were placed on exhibition and admired by those present. John Robertson's "Inkerman" and A. A. Moore's "Ben Davis" apples were perhaps the best. There were, however, a number of others almost equally as good. And not only apples, but pears and a number of small fruits can be grown in that insular Province for commercial purposes.

The Government was requested, in a resolution, to provide, or else endeavor to obtain cheaper, better and more direct ways of transportation for their fruit than they at present enjoy.

Rev. Father Burke is the new president of the Association, and Alfred Dewar the new secretary.

Stop the Leaks!

It is the little expenses that count--a small leak will sink a big ship. It is the quality of the ordinary staple articles of trade that a grocer carries in his stock that gives standing to his store. It is the widely-advertised goods that people are familiar with which give them confidence when they see them on a grocer's shelves.

Confidence grows slowly, the loss of it comes quickly. "Stop the leaks" that betray your weakness in carrying inferior goods. Stop them quick ! Sell Windsor Salt--it's a small thing, but remember, please, it's a staple ! It is the Salt of highest quality through and through.

UNION WITH NEWFOUNDLAND THE REMEDY.

NO scheme for improving the navigation of the St. Lawrence can be complete until Newfoundland is properly guarded by lights and buoys. It would be like fastening the windows of a jeweller's store and leaving the main entrance unlocked.

The Herald, St. John's, Newfoundland, tells us Newfoundland can do nothing on account of her moribund condition financially; and, being outside the Dominion, the Dominion Government cannot spend money on doing what Newfoundland should do, but which she is financially unable to do.

When Avaugour, the new French Governor of Canada, in 1663 wrote home to France, he declared: "The St. Lawrence is the entrance to what may be made the greatest State in the world." While there was, perhaps, some exaggeration in what he said, we to-day have really more solid foundation than he had upon which to build up hopes of a great future for this country. Of recent years, however, the St. Lawrence route has by no means increased in popularity. Not because its importance is any less recognized. The country is, perhaps, less dependent upon the St. Lawrence route than it was years ago, when the railway facilities to and from Atlantic seaboard ports were not what they are to-day; but it is still the main highway to Canada from Europe, and always will be. What prevents it from enjoying the popularity it should and of attracting the traffic its extent and importance warrants, is that there is not a sufficiency of lights and buoys to properly guard it.

The St. Lawrence is no more dangerous in its natural condition than other similar routes; but the trouble is that the same efforts have not been put forth to put it in as high a state of efficiency as have been made on some river routes in other parts of the world.

We do not for one moment mean to infer that the Canadian authorities have done but little. On the contrary, they have done a great deal; but the trouble is, a great deal more yet remains to be done. And, unfortunately, the difficulty of making the necessary improvements is made all the greater by the matter being in the hands of two countries, for such Canada and Newfoundland really are, instead of one.

This is one among other things that would be facilitated by Newfoundland and Canada becoming one.

LOWER PRICES ON WOODENWARE

A REDUCTION has been made in the prices of woodenware. Pails are down 10c. and tubs 50c. The new and the old prices in Toronto are as follows on the lines of most interest to the grocery trade:

Pails, No. 1, 2-hoop	$1 55	$1 65
Pails, No. 1, 3-hoop	1 70	1 80
Pails, half and covers	1 60	1 70
Pails, quarter, jam and covers	1 10	1 20
Pails, candy and covers	2 40	2 75
Tubs, No. 0	8 50	9 00
Tubs, No. 1	7 00	7 50
Tubs, No. 2	6 00	6 50
Tubs, No. 3	5 25	5 75

The cause of the reduction is understood to be the competition of woodenware from the United States.

The imports of tubs and pails into Canada are not large, for, taking all classes, including churns, washboards, pounders, rolling pins, as well as pails and tubs, the value was only $60,291 in 1901 and $43,738 in 1900.

The Customs duty on woodenware is 20 per cent.

THE GROCERY TRADE UNREPRESENTED

IN regard to the recent elections to the council of the Montreal Board of Trade, in which a prominent representative of the grocery trade of the city was defeated, the Wholesale Grocers' Association of Montreal last week submitted the following resolution to the council:

That the members of the Wholesale Grocers' Association hereby express their regret at the result of the recent elections to the council of the Board of Trade, inasmuch as there is now no representative of the wholesale grocery trade on the council; that, considering the importance of the grocery business as a factor in the trade of the city and port of Montreal, it is to be deplored that it is left without a voice in the affairs of the board.

The reply of the council was to the effect that, although they had had nothing to do with the elections, they believed that members should be elected for their "general ability and knowledge of the commercial requirements of the city," and not as representing any particular class of trade.

Of course, there can be nothing further done at present. But the grocery business of Montreal is a very large one—one of the most important branches of trade in the city—and it is generally thought that there should be someone on the council who would be competent to look after its interests. It may be that, as far as other lines of business go, the gentlemen who compose the council of the Board of Trade have a full "knowledge of the commercial requirements of the city," as the council puts it, but they lack a good deal of a complete knowledge of the city's requirements by being ignorant of the grocery business.

The defeated candidate was a business man of the highest standing and ability, and, even apart from his own particular line of business, would have made a valuable member of the council, for it is difficult to find a business man whose interests are more varied or whose work brings him into contact with a greater number of other trades and commercial conditions than the wholesale grocer. The council did certainly not gain anything in prestige by the defeat of this gentleman, and we believe it has lost in actual usefulness in the city's business affairs.

AVOID TOO MANY SUGAR FACTORIES.

WHILE several sections in Ontario, by soil and climate appear to be eminently fitted for the production of beet sugar, it should not be forgotten that it is possible to cripple the industry by creating an excess of factories. Already there are evidences of this possibility, for there are few municipalities in the Province of Ontario in which some effort is not being made to create an agitation in favor of the establishing of a local factory.

It is quite true that Canada imports nearly 337,000,000 lb. of sugar, but it is idle to think that the advent of the domestic-made article is to be followed by an almost immediate departure of the foreign product.

Foreign sugar will for some time, at any rate, prove the main source of our supply. And whatever cane sugars we use we shall, of course, for all time have to import. Last year we imported over 37,000,000 lb. of sugar from the cane-producing countries, not allowing anything for the proportion of cane that might have been in the 17,000,000 lb. of sugar we brought in from the United States. Should Canada successfully negotiate commercial treaties with the British West Indies and the Australian Commonwealth, it would certainly result in an increase in the importation of cane sugar. And then it must not be forgotten that of recent years the efforts of scientists and others have not been concentrated upon devising newer and more economical methods of producing and refining cane sugar. It is upon beet sugars that their efforts in this direction have been centred.

While, as we have already said, we believe the beet-sugar industry can be made profitable in Ontario, the fact has yet to be demonstrated that it will be profitable. Factories are being erected, but the experimental stage, when the sugar is actually being made, has not yet been reached.

There is nothing wrong in the ambition of certain localities to possess a beet-sugar factory. On the contrary, it is commendable. But it is a mistake to allow ambition to override business commonsense, as there seems to be a decided disposition to do.

If all the factories that are now being floated are actually erected, we feel certain that some of them will prove financial failures. What this would mean is obvious: it would mean not only great loss to the localities which had given them public and private assistance, but, what would undoubtedly be worse, would tend to destroy the faith of capitalists in the possibilities of the industry. At present the possibilities are bright. Do not let us destroy them.

One thing must not be overlooked, and that is that some of those who are actively promoting the beet-sugar industry are men whose chief interest lies in the sale of machinery with which the factories would be equipped.

BETTER TEA MARKET IN LONDON.

Cable advices report a slight improvement at the auction in London on Tuesday, February 18, of Indian and Ceylon teas. No particulars beyond this are to hand.

It will be remembered that, for several weeks prior to this, the London tea market has ruled weak and lower, owing to the heavier auctions. These heavier auctions, in turn, are due to the fact that the arrangement that had existed for several months, whereby the quantity placed on the market was regulated, had been discontinued.

A STRINGENT OLEOMARGARINE BILL.

A BILL to regulate the oleomargarine industry has just been adopted by the United States House of Representatives. It makes oleomargarine or imitation butter or cheese transported into any State or Territory for use, sale or consumption therein subject to the laws of such State or Territory, notwithstanding that it may be introduced in original packages, and imposes a tax of 10c. per lb. on oleomargarine made in imitation of "butter of any shade of yellow." When not made in such imitation the tax is reduced to one-fourth of 1c. per lb.

The second section is intended to prevent dealers, hotel proprietors, restaurant and boarding-house keepers from coloring the uncolored article, by making any person who colors the product and then sells or furnishes it to others a manufacturer within the meaning of the Act. Penalties for violation of the Act are a fine of not less than $50 nor more than $500 and imprisonment for not less than 30 days nor more than six months.

In Canada, the manufacture and sale of oleomargarine is prohibited, and has been for about 20 years. The prohibitive Act reads as follows :

No oleomargarine, butterine or other substitute for butter, manufactured from any animal substance other than milk, shall be manufactured in Canada, or sold therein, and any person who contravenes the provisions of this Act in any manner whatsoever shall incur a penalty not exceeding $400 and not less than $200, and in default of payment shall be liable to imprisonment for a term not exceeding 12 months and not less than three months.

TRADE IN COUNTRIES OTHER THAN OUR OWN.

PROVINCIAL currants have quite unexpectedly declined 1s. per cwt., and a large business has been done at the reduction. The reduced quotations, however, are by no means general, and cannot be repeated. The statistical position of the article is in no way changed, and the latest reports from Greece would tend to show that holders, although not selling freely, are not at all inclined to accept lower prices, the difference in the market value between the two countries being now about 1s. 6d. per cwt. in favor of London. Such a position will not, of course, exist for any length of time, and the Greek market will either have to give way, or the London market appreciate in value. It would appear to be a desirable time for purchasers, who intend to operate in the near future, to give immediate attention to the matter, as it is evident from the tone of the Greek merchants that they do not intend to give way on their general stocks, or to follow the lead of the sellers of this week, which they claim has been brought about by financial reasons. —Produce Markets' Review, February 1.

CALIFORNIAN FRUIT SHIPMENTS.

Coast advices state: "The railroad company reports a shipment from the Santa Clara Valley for the month of January of 200 carloads of cured fruit, mostly prunes. The crop of 1901 is closely sold up, and with the stocks of 1900 all in the hands of dealers buyers are looking for a firm, steady market. It is estimated that the entire holdings of prunes in the State are not over 550 carloads. There is no doubt that the next crop will find a bare market so far as this Coast is concerned."

CANNED SALMON IN THE UNITED STATES.

Referring to salmon, The Trade Journal says: "There is more inquiry for England. It is stated that English buyers have operated some in the New York market for early wants. Berth room by steamer hence to Liverpool is the same as charged by sail. Steamers leave every two weeks. Some of the local trade has been taking blocks of 500 cases of Alaska medium reds. The Orient has been a fair buyer so far this season. Active preparations are being made for the coming season. There will be an increase in the number of canneries on Puget Sound and also in Alaska, while some of the others will be enlarged.

CANNED SALMON IN LONDON.

There has again been a good country demand for salmon, and prices for the lower grades show an advance of 3 to 1½d. per case for the week. It is anticipated that, with the low prices now ruling for this article, a considerable increase in the consumption will take place, and there is every probability of retailers once more making this their leading line.—Produce Markets' Review.

CANNED TOMATOES IN BALTIMORE.

Standard tomatoes have taken a slight advance on lowest quotations in this market and are now $1.22½ to $1.25. Aside from the slight interest shown in future tomatoes, there is nothing to report, but a dull market. Buyers are placing small orders for absolute necessity, and buying dozen case lots.—The Trade, Baltimore, Md.

THE OTTAWA ASSOCIATION.

Editor CANADIAN GROCER,—I am glad that my few remarks which you inserted in last week's issue of THE CANADIAN GROCER have moved "Grocer" to reply. In this respect my letter fulfilled its mission as "Grocer" "put up" exactly what was desired, and since my "words, words" and "orotorical fireworks" (?) have drawn from "Grocer" an almost specific charge, I will promise to discharge no more, neither will we try to eat up "Grocer," who it would appear is an aged game seriously. "Grocer's" opinions in regard to the case he cites coincide exactly with mine, while some, at least, in our Association differ from us. Strictly speaking, I adhere to my implied impression in my last letter—that the case cited should be characterized a huge inconsistency, and I have so expressed myself to the gentleman indicated by "Grocer." I think it is safe to say that a majority of our members deprecate his price-cutting system of drawing trade, yet "great bodies move slowly," and while it is true that majorities rule, it is not always wise in such cases for even the Ottawa Grocers' Association to be severe in discipline in its infancy. "Moral suasion"—that is the remedy we are experimenting with—dealing gently with the erring one—but, if moral suasion fail, when we grow older and stronger, then, in such cases ! ! !

I am glad "Grocer" "put up" this case as he has, and now I would again, as one of those who assisted in starting the Association, invite him to "put up" again —this time his name as a member, together with the necessary fee and his assistance, and try, as he says, he would like to "Do us some good." Such men as that all wish to have in our ranks.

One inconsistent critic and one inconsistent member are bad for our Association. So come along friend "Grocer", and of the two wrongs we may make a right.

As this discussion prolonged cannot be of much profit to THE CANADIAN GROCER, I will close my part of it by asking that this final invitation to friend "Grocer" be inserted in your columns.

LESSER LIGHT.

A PROGRESSIVE GROCER.

One of Montreal's best known retail grocers, Mr. John Robertson, of John Robertson & Son, 12 Phillips Square, has been compelled on account of a growing business to take up new premises at 2257 St. Catherine street, where a store is being remodelled and fitted up in the most modern manner. Mr. Robertson, though not an old man, has been doing business for thirty-two years at his place on Phillips Square, and is known as one of the most successful business men of the city.

ILLEGALLY PACKED APPLES.

W. A. McKinnon, chief fruit inspector for the Dominion, had Eben James, an apple exporter, in the Toronto Police Court on February 17 on a charge of falsely facing 18 barrels of apples. The big ones were packed on top, the little ones below.

Evidence was submitted to prove that the apples in question had been packed in Western Ontario by farmers last October and Mr. James was simply an intermediary. The Government officer whose duty it was to enforce the Fruit Act came across eight barrels which Mr. James had sold and 10 barrels more were found in storage at White & Co.'s.

Considerable argument and evidence was put in, but the magistrate imposed the minimum fine of 25c. per barrel on 18 barrels. No costs were added.

MR. FULLER MARRIED.

At St. Paul's Church, Montreal, on Wednesday, February 19, Mr. Henry J. Fuller, manager of The Fairbank Company, was married to Miss Nancy Archibald, daughter of the Hon. Mr. Justice Archibald, the Rev. James Barclay, D.D., performing the ceremony. After the wedding, which was a very pretty one, a reception was held at the residence of the bride's parents on Mackay street.

Mr. and Mrs. Fuller left in the evening for an extended tour through the Southern States and California.

WORKING NIGHT AND DAY.

Messrs. S. H. Ewing & Son, Montreal, report that their cork factory is working night and day in order to catch up with orders. The demand for corks, Messrs. Ewing state, is exceptionally brisk this season, and they therefore would ask their customers to bear with them for a time, and assure the trade that they are doing their utmost to fill orders as promptly as possible.

Mr. A. B. McDougall, general merchant, of Omagh, Ont., was in Toronto last week, and called on THE GROCER.

Felix Eugene Turcotte and Jos. Eugene Phillippe Bazin, who have been conducting a wholesale grocery and liquor business at Quebec, under the style of Nazaire Turcotte & Cie since January 1, 1902, have registered partnership. In a former issue we erroneously said their place of business was Montreal.

If any reader wishes to know where any article can be purchased in Canada or abroad, a letter to the Editor will probably place him in communication with the seller.

ONTARIO MARKETS.

Toronto, February 20, 1902.

GROCERIES.

IN staples, business is fair for this time of the year, but there is very little demand for specialities, and generally speaking the wholesale trade is rather dull. The past week has been unmarked by any particularly striking feature, either in regard to any actual business or to prices. The canned-goods situation remains much about the same as a week ago, the movement being fair in both vegetables and fish. Coffees are quiet with the primary markets still irregular and weak. In spices, the strength of pepper is still the feature. In teas a fair trade is being done, but the weakness of the outside markets causes buyers to hold off to some extent. Syrups and molasses are meeting with a fair demand. Sugar is dull, although the tone of the market is a little firmer, but without actual changes in prices as far as the local market is concerned. Currants are rather easier in the primary market, but locally, there is no change. Prunes continue in good demand, and there is a moderate business being done in evaporated apricots and peaches. The shipment of Valencia raisins, due to arrive a week ago, has not, up to the time of writing, yet reached this market, and in the meantime, wholesalers are buying from each other in order to fill orders.

CANNED GOODS.

While buying is only of a hand-to-mouth character in tomatoes, there is a fair business being done. Stocks, in both retailers' and wholesalers' hands are light and prices are firm. The ruling quotations are 90 to 95c., but these are being shaded occasionally in order to meet competition. Peas are getting scarce, particularly extra sifted, which are practically cleaned up. Ordinary quality is quoted at 80 to 85c., and extra sifted at $1.25. There is a fair demand for peas at 75 to 80c., for ordinary brands. There is, perhaps, a little more demand for canned fruits, but business in this line is still very light. There is a fair demand for sardines, canned haddies, and herrings, and there is a little movement in lobsters. A further slight improvement is to be noted in the demand for canned salmon, and trade in this line is fairly good for this time of the year. We quote: Fraser river sockeye, $1.42½ for 5-case lots and over, and $1.45 for less quantities; Northern sockeye, $1.25 to $1.30; cohoes, $1.05 to $1.15.

COFFEES.

The outside coffee markets are still weak and unsettled, owing to the heavy receipts of Brazilian coffee at Rio and Santos. Locally, there is, perhaps, a little more doing in Rio coffee, but the volume of business is still small. Roasted coffees are still meeting with a fair demand. The ruling prices on green Rio are as follows: No. 7, 7¾c.; No. 6, 8c.; No. 5, 8¼c.; No. 4, 8¾c.; No. 3, 10 to 12c.

SPICES.

Pepper is holding very firm. Ginger is a little easier, but advices from the primary markets express the opinion that prices for the coming summer will rule higher than at present. Cloves are without change. Nutmegs are firm and ½ to 1c. higher in the primary market. Locally, the spice trade is fair, for this time of the year.

RICE AND TAPIOCA.

Business in rice, tapioca, and sago is fairly good. Mail advices from the primary markets report Patna and Japan rices firm, and in the expectation of higher prices urge their customers to place their orders now. Locally, we quote: B rice, 3¼c.; Japan, 5½c. to 6c.; sago, 4c.; tapioca, 4c.

SUGAR.

While both wholesalers and retailers are buying sparingly, there is a firmer tone in the market than there was a week ago. The raw sugar market in Europe is steady. In New York last week there was a slight decline in raw sugar, and at present the market there is at a standstill, and neither brokers or importers are testing the market by offering sugar. They have no supplies on hand which they are anxious to market. It is understood, however, that refiners are still buyers on the basis of 3⅝c., 3⅛c. and 2 7-8c. for the three standard grades of raw sugar. The receipts of raw sugar in the United States last week were larger than for some time, being 31,177 tons, while the meltings were 27,000 tons. The total stock, last week, in the four United States ports was 85,232 tons against 128,143 tons the same time last year. The total stocks at the close of last week in Europe and America were 3,502,232 tons against 2,562,393 tons a year ago. In New York, on Monday, all the refiners raised their list-price 5 points, making the basis for granulated $4.80. In Canada no change has been made in prices, but the tone of the market is naturally a little healthier than it was, although no one appears to have any great confidence in the situation.

SYRUPS AND MOLASSES.

There is a fairly good trade being done in both syrups and molasses. Advices from New Orleans say that receipts there are light, and that the market continues firm as to price. Our quotations are now as follows: Corn syrup, 3½ to 3¾c. in bbls. and kegs; sugar syrups, 30 to 32c. for medium, and 35 to 37c. for bright; molasses, 24 to 26c. for medium, and 45 to 50c. for open kettle.

TEAS.

Some of the brokers on the local market have been doing a fairly good business this week in Ceylon teas, particularly in good medium pekoes on importation account. At the present time importers appear to be able to buy at better advantage in the London market, and the chief business being done is chiefly on that account. These transactions, however, are largely confined to the package tea houses. There has been a little done in Japan teas on spot, but business in this line is quiet on the whole. In Ceylon greens, sales of fine grades are improving. The demand for the cheaper leaf is good, but this description is practically unobtainable. No China green teas are now in first hands, and there are very few in second hands. Mail advices from London, Eng., under date of February 7, say that the sales of Indian teas were rather heavy at the auction and a further decline took place in all grades. Common teas were ¼d. lower and medium descriptions about ½d. The average price at the sales for the week was 7 2-3d. against 6¾d. last year. There was also an easier tone in regard to Ceylon teas, medium grades falling ¼ to ½d. per lb., and common grades were also weaker. The average price was 6.59d. against 7.31d. the same week a year ago.

FOREIGN DRIED FRUITS.

CURRANTS.—Advices from Greece still indicate an easy market. During the week some business has been done on importation account, and there is a good demand from the retail trade. Prices rule as before: Filiatras, 6 to 6¼c.; Patras, 6½ to 7c.; Vostizzas, 8 to 8½c.

VALENCIA RAISINS.—The shipment of Valencia raisins for this market, due to arrive last week, has not, up to the time of writing, come to hand. The steamship Ontanada, with the fruit on board, arrived in New York about two weeks ago, but, as we have already pointed out, it has not yet arrived here. In the meantime, a scarcity is being experienced, and the local wholesalers are buying from one another in order to fill orders. Advices from W. Rogers & Co., Denia, say that there are only about 200 tons of raisins left in Spain, and that these were held at too high a price to allow business to be done on Canadian account. Prices, locally, are steady at 6½ to 7c. for standard brands of selected.

SULTANA RAISINS.—There is not much being done. Prices rule at from 8½ to 12c. Advices from the primary market confirm what has already been said as to the exhaustion of the supply of fine fruit.

PRUNES.—These are still selling freely, and the tone of the market continues firm. Our quotations are as follows: Californian prunes, 100-110's, 5c. ; 90-100's, 5½ to 6¼c.; 80-90's, 6½ to 7c.; 70-80's, 6¾ to 7¼c.; 60-70's, 7½ to 8c.; 50-60's, 8 to 8½c.; 40-50's, 8¾ to 10c.

DATES.—Very little is being done. We quote : Hallowees at 4¼ to 4¾c., and Sairs at 4 to 4½c., according to quality.

CALIFORNIAN EVAPORATED FRUITS —The demand for apricots and peaches continues fairly good. We quote as follows : Apricots, in 25-lb. boxes, 13 to 16c., according to quality, and peaches, 11 to 13c.

GREEN FRUITS.

The cold weather makes trade quiet. The bulk of the movement is in Californian and Valencia oranges, while Mexicans are scarce. Apples are moving slowly and the prices for them are weaker. Cranberries are scarce, but there is a poor demand for them, so the prices remain unchanged. Marmalade or Malaga orages are now more plentiful, and are down to $3 by the case. a fall of from 25 to 50c. Pineapples are quiet, and there is a small trade being done in Southern cucumbers and Spanish onions. We quote: Oranges, marmalade, $3 per case; Tangerine or kid glove, $8 to $9 per strip, or $4 to $4.50 per half strip ; Floridas, $3 to $3.25 per box ; Mexicans, $2.25 per box ; Californian navels, $3.25 to $3.75 per box; Valencias, $3.75 to $5.50 per case; apples, $3.50 to $5 per bbl.; grape fruit, $3.50 to $5 per box ; Malaga grapes, $5.50 to $7 per bbl.; cranberries, Budd's long keepers, $9 to $10 per bbl.; bananas, $1.50 to $2 for firsts, and 80c. to $1 for first eight hands ; pineapples, 25 to 35c. each by the case; Southern cucumbers, $2.25 to $2.50 per doz.; Spanish onions, large cases, $3.50 ; small crates, $1.10.

VEGETABLES.

Increased quantities of hothouse stuff are being placed on the market, and prices are being correspondingly reduced. Rhubarb is 50c. per dozen, radishes 10c. and lettuce 10 to 15c. per bunch lower. Potatoes are scarcer, and the prices are firmer. We quote : Green onions, 10 to 15c. per doz.; rhubarb, 75c. to $1 per doz.; carrots, parsnips and beets, 20c. per peck ; turnips, 15c. per peck and 35c. per bag; lettuce, 25 to 40c. per doz.; radishes, 40 to 50c.; mint and parsley, 20 to 25c.; celery, 50 to 60c. ; red cabbage, No. 1, 5 to 10c.; cabbage, 40 to 60c. per doz.; dry onions, $1 to $1.25 per bag ; potatoes, 75 to 80c. per bag; artichokes, 60c. per bush.

COUNTRY PRODUCE.

EGGS—More fresh eggs are now coming in, and the price has declined another 1c. Greater receipts of eggs are looked for from this out. We quote : Strictly fresh, 24 to 25c.; held fresh, 20 to 22c.; cold-stored, 19 to 20c., and limed, 17 to 19c. per doz.

BEANS—The trade still continues good, and prices are firm. We quote : Choice hand-picked, $1.70 to $1 85 ; prime, $1.40 to $1.60 per bush.

HONEY — The demand is steady, and trade is good. We quote : Clover, in 60-lb. tins, 9½ to 10c.; less quantities, 10 to 11c. per lb.; in combs, $2 to $3 per doz.

DRIED AND EVAPORATED APPLES — The quietness in dried apples is very pronounced, but evaporated are in good demand and the prices for the latter are firm. We quote : Evaporated apples, 9¾ to 10c. in carlots and 10¾c. in less quantities. Dried apples 5 to 6c. per lb.

POTATOES—Prices have gone up 2 to 3c. per bag in carlots, owing to a slight slackening in the receipts. We now quote potatoes at 63 to 65c. per bag on the track, and 75 to 80c. in less quantities.

BUTTER AND CHEESE.

BUTTER — The better loads and more favorable weather have had the effect of increasing the arrivals of butter, but the prices still keep steady. The demand for choice lots is brisk. Medium-grade tubs are lower. We quote : Choice 1-lb. prints, 17 to 18c.; large rolls, 16 to 17c.; tubs, best quality, 15 to 16c.; tubs, medium grade, 13 to 14c. per lb.; bakers' lots, 10 to 12c. Creamery prints are worth from 21 to 22c., and creamery solids, 20½ to 21c. per lb.

CHEESE — The market still continues strong and prices are unchanged. The local trade is good and the demand for export shows indications of being brisk, making cheese men confident of a big season's business. We quote cheese at 10½ to 10¾c., and twins at 11c. in small lots, while greater quantities are worth 10 to 10½c.

POULTRY.

DRESSED POULTRY—Turkeys are more numerous, but the prices are firmer, having advanced 1c. A number of frozen birds are being offered at 9 to 10c. Very few chickens have been received, while the receipts of ducks and geese are practically nothing and prices quoted for them are only nominal. We quote : Chickens, 50 to 90c. per pair; ducks, 90c. to $1.20 per pair; geese, 8 to 9c. per lb. ; turkeys, 11 to 13c.

LIVE POULTRY—Business in live poultry is practically at a standstill, partly owing to the severe weather and partly because the surplus of chicken and fowl has been practically drained out of the country before this. The Canadian Produce Co. Limited, 36 and 38 Esplanade street east, Toronto, will pay, until further notice for live chickens, 8c., for ducks and turkeys 10c., for geese, 6c. per lb. All must be young birds. For hens, 5c. per lb. Dressed poultry, dry picked (except hens), ½c. lb. higher. These prices are for weight on arrival. Crates for live poultry supplied free, and express paid up to 50c. per 100 lb. of chickens. No thin birds will be taken.

FISH AND OYSTERS.

Recent frosts in Baltimore, Md., have affected the oyster catch to such an extent that exporters have only been able to half fill their orders lately, causing them to advance here 25 to 50c. per pail. They are now worth in Baltimore $1.25 per wine gal., which is equivalent to about $1.50 imperial. The stocks of some lines of fish are growing quite low, and so trout have advanced ½c.; halibut, 4 to 5c.; perch, 1c., and B. C. frozen salmon, 2c. per lb. We quote : Fresh and frozen fish—Codfish, 6 to 8c.; whitefish, 6½ to 7½c.; herring; 4 to 5c.; trout, 7½c.; halibut, 10 to 15c.; haddock, 5c. per lb,; perch, 5c.; British Columbian salmon, fresh, 20c., frozen, 11c.; Labrador herrings, $3 to $3.25 per 100-lb. bbl. Smoked fish—Ciscoes, $1 to $1.25 ; finnan haddie, 6½ to 7c. ; Digby herring, 50 to 65c. per bundle. Prepared fish — Dried cod, in 112-lb. bundles, $4.75 per cwt. ; flitched cod, $5.50 to $6 ; boneless cod, in bricks, 4½ to 5½c. per lb. ; steak cod, 6½c. per lb.; shredded cod (2 doz. in box), $1.80 per box; boneless fish, loose, in 25-lb. boxes, 4 to 4½c., and in 5-lb. boxes, 5c. per lb.; bloaters, per box of 50, $1 to $1.25; kippered herring, 50 in a box, $1 to $1.25 per box ; smelts, per 15-lb. box, extras, 12c. per lb.; No. 1, 6½ to 7c. per lb. Oysters—Standards, $7.25 to $7.50 per large pail, or $4 50 per small pail ; selects, $4.75 to $5 per pail.

GRAIN, FLOUR AND BREAKFAST FOODS.

GRAIN — The movement of Manitoba and Northwestern wheat is small, owing to the limited supply of cars. The prices are unchanged at 87c. per bush. for No. 1 Manitoba hard wheat, 83c. for No. 1 Northern and 80c. for No. 2 Northern grinding in transit Sarnia, or 1c. less than these prices for Toronto and west. On the local market the receipts have been light, and white and red Ontario wheat is 1c., goose ½c., oats 1c. and buckwheat 2c. higher. We quote prices paid by buyers on the street : White and red Ontario wheat, 71 to 77c.; goose, 66½ to 67c. ; oats, 46 to 47c.; rye, 59c.; barley, 54 to 63c.; peas, 80 to 85c.; buckwheat, 60c.

FLOUR—Trade continues to improve, and the market is steady. We quote : Ontario patents, in bags, $3.70 to $3.80 ; Hungarian patents, $4.05 ; Manitoba bakers', $3.80; straight roller, $3.40 to $3.50 per bbl. in Toronto.

BREAKFAST FOODS—There are indications that the demand for rolled oats and oatmeal, which has been slack during the past two months, will shortly improve, as the stocks which dealers bought up in anticipation of a rise are becoming lighter. Prices are firm. We quote: Oatmeal, standard and granulated, in carlots on track here, $5.05; standard rolled oats in carlots on track here, $4.80; in bbls., 15c. more; broken lots are 20c. per bbl. extra; rolled wheat, $2.50 in 100 lb. bbls.; cornmeal, $3 75; split peas, $4 75; pot barley, $4.50, in 196 lb. bbls.

HIDES, SKINS AND WOOL.

The market is steady and prices are about the same as last week. The trade still continues moderate. We quote what buyers pay on arrival:

HIDES—We quote: No. 1, green, 7c.; No. 2 green, 6c.; No. 1 green, steers, 8c.; No. 2 green, steers, 7c.; cured, 7¾ to 8c.

SKINS—We quote: No. 1 calfskins, 9c.; and No. 2, 7c.; deacons (dairies) 55 to 60c. each; sheepskins, 65 to 80c.; deerskins, 12½ to 14c. per lb.

WOOL—We quote: Fleece, 13c., and unwashed, 7 to 8c. per lb.

SEEDS.

The close of the export season for red clover has resulted in a slight decline of 20c. per bushel in that article. Alsike, on the other hand, is quite brisk, and prices have been advanced 50c. per bushel. Timothy is quiet. As usual, a little more will be paid for extra fine lots. We quote buying price at outside points: Red clover, $4.50 to $4.60; alsike, $7 to $8, and timothy, $2.50 to $3 25 per bush.

MARKET NOTES.

Oysters have advanced 25 to 50 cents per pail.

Malaga or marmalade oranges are down 25 to 50 cents per box.

Fresh eggs are 1c. per dozen lower. Dressed turkeys are 1 to 2c. per lb. higher.

Red clover has fallen 20c. per bushel, while alsike has been advanced 50c.

Red and white Ontario wheat is 1c., goose wheat, ½c.; oats, 1c., and buck wheat, 2c. higher.

The price of fresh trout has been advanced ½c., halibut, 4 to 5c.; perch 1c., and B. C. frozen salmon, 2c. per lb.

QUEBEC MARKETS.

Montreal, February 20, 1902.

GROCERIES.

THE only feature of this week's market that is causing wholesale grocers any uneasiness is the scarcity of green cod. There are practically none of the larger or medium sizes, and as the demand for this fish is always great during Lent, jobbers are missing a good thing. Buyers have to fall back on the small sizes, and at the rate these are going out there may be a scarcity of them also before long. Prime white pea beans have weakened somewhat. They are quoted now at $1.40 to $1.50 per bushel. Better prices can be obtained by retailers on wooden ware, the United Factories, which manufacture these goods, having decided to grant a special trade discount to all buyers of carload lots. The market is practically bare of small cheese. Sisal rope is ½c. higher, and buckwheat, for which there is a good demand, is rather scarce.

SUGAR.

Local quotations on sugar remain unchanged. Granulated is worth $3.90 and yellows, $3.15 to $3.80. An advance of 5c. has taken place on the New York market, but this has not affected the market here, nor will it. Another advance of 5c., however, would likely send up prices here also. Business is still rather quiet.

TEAS.

There is a fair demand for teas, for the season, and prices are firm all around. Japans and gunpowders are moving out fairly well. There are almost no low-grade Japans on the market. Ceylon green teas have advanced 1c. per lb. all round. Shipments of the new crop are now on the way to this market, and their arrival will likely make a change in prices. Reports from the London market state that The Indian Tea Association has taken up the subject of restricting the output during 1902. A yield equal to that of the current season could be handled at a similar level of prices, and might possibly tend to an improvement, while a large increase in the production would bring about very low prices, which are not satisfactory to any section of the trade. The quality of Ceylon teas offered in January, was, in many cases, inferior to that offered in the same period last year, and though there were 31,000 packages less offered, the quotations were lower. High prices were obtained for choice qualities of broken pekoes. Eleven thousand packages of Java teas were offered, and quotations on the lower grades showed some weakness. China teas, in the common grades, were in poor demand. Green teas continued firm.

SYRUPS.

The Lenten season has stimulated the demand for syrups, and jobbers report an active demand. There is nothing new in prices, which continue firm. We quote corn syrups as follows: 3½c. in bbls.; 3⅝c. in ½ bbls.; 3¾c. in ¼ bbls.; $1.60 in 38½-lb. and $1.20 in 25-lb. pails.

MOLASSES.

The demand for molasses has also much improved. The market remains firm. Barbados is worth 29c.; Antigua, in single puncheons, 24c.

CANNED GOODS.

There is a good demand generally. Canadian "Fine French" peas appear to be scarce on this market. What stock is held here is bringing $1.10 to $1.15. Ordinary peas run as low as 82½c. Tomatoes remain at the same price. Canned salmon, has, of course, increased in demand owing to Lent, but there are no changes in prices. We quote as follows: Peas, 82½c. to $1.15, according to quality; corn (ordinary stock), 80c.; tomatoes, 92½ to 95c.; gallon apples, $2.70 to $2.80; 3-lb. apples, $1. Salmon, $1 to $1.05 for pink; $1.30 for spring; $1.32 for Rivers Inlet red sockeye; $1.45 for Fraser River red sockeye, and $1.42½ to $1.15 for Clover Leaf talls.

SPICES.

Trade is quiet, and there is nothing new to report. Prices are firm. We quote: Nutmegs, 30 to 55c. per lb., as to size; penang mace, 45 to 50c. per lb.; as to quality; pimento, ground, 12½ to 15c.; cloves, 15 to 25c.; pepper, ground, black, 17 to 22c., according to grade; white, 25 to 27c.; ginger, whole, Cochin, 15 to 17c.; Japan, 13 to 14c.; Jamaica, 16 to 20c.; Afghan, 12 to 13c.; ground, Japan, 15c.; Cochin, 16 to 17c.; Jamaica, 20 to 22c., and Afghan, 13 to 14c.

RICE AND TAPIOCA.

Tapioca is in good demand now, and will continue so throughout Lent. There are no prices on Patna rice made here; imported Patna rice remains firm. We quote in combine district as follows: B rice, in bags, $3.10; in ½ bags, $3.15; in ¼ bags, $3.20; in pockets, $3.25. In 10-lb. lots an allowance of 10c. is made. CC rice, $3 in bags; $3.05 in ½ bags; $3.10 in ¼ bags; and $3.15 in pockets. In the open territory prices are about 10c. less. Patna rice is worth 5 to 5¼c. per lb., and tapioca, 3⅝ to 4c.

FOREIGN DRIED FRUITS.

CURRANTS.—There is a moderate demand. We quote: Fine Filiatras, in ½ cases, 5⅝c.; cleaned, 6c.; 1-lb. cartons, 8c.; finest Vostizzas, 7¾ to 8c.

VALENCIA RAISINS.—Prices are very firm. Finest off-stalk, 5⅝c.; selected, 6⅝c.; layers, 6⅞c.

CANDIED PEELS.—Trade is fairly good. Orange peel is worth 11½c.; lemon peel, 10½c.; citron, 16½c.

MALAGA RAISINS.—There is a small movement at steady prices. We quote as follows: London layers, $1.50 to $1.60; "Connoisseur Clusters," $2.15 to $2.25; ½'s, 65 to 70c.; "Royal Buckingham Clusters," $3.30 to $3.35; ¼'s, $1.05 to $1.10; "Excelsior Windsor Clusters," $1.50 to $4.60; ¼'s, $1.30 to $1.40.

DATES.—Trade has improved. Hallowee dates are worth 4¼ to 4½c.

FIGS.—There is nothing new to report. A small but steady demand is experienced. Layer and tapnet are worth $1.15.

CALIFORNIAN RAISINS.—There are practically none to be had from the primary markets, and the price is firm. Seeded sell for 9¼ to 9½c. per lb.

PRUNES.—Business in prunes is active. Prices are steady. We quote: 8½c. for 40-50's, 8c. for 50-60's, 7¾c. for 60-70's, 7½c. for 70-80's, 6¾c. for 80-90's, 6½c. for 90-100's.

NUTS.

There is not much doing. Quotations are now as follows: Walnuts, 9¾ to 11c.; Tarragona almonds, 12 to 13c.; shelled walnuts, 16½ to 17½c.; shelled almonds, 26 to 27c.; Jordan shelled almonds, 42c.; filberts, 8¾ to 9¼c.; pecans, 15 to 16c.

CALIFORNIAN EVAPORATED FRUITS.—Trade is quite active. Apricots sell for 14½c.; peaches, 10½c.; pears, 10c.

BUTTER AND CHEESE.

BUTTER.—The butter market is still firm, and there is a good demand. Finest creamery stays at 22 to 23c. There are a few grades of No. 2 creamery on the market, and they sell for 20 to 21c., but the demand is for the better class of goods. Large rolls are worth 17½ to 18c.

CHEESE.—There is an improvement in the market this week. There is an increased demand from English buyers, who are coming to the end of their stocks and must have the goods. They are, at present, feeling their way on the local market, and higher prices are bound to come before long. There is no quotable change in the cables, still the Canadian holders' price of 51 to 52s., is being obtained for the finest goods. White is quoted at 49 to 50s., and colored at 52s. The local market is firm at 10 to 10½c.

COUNTRY PRODUCE.

EGGS.—Stocks of cold storage and pickled eggs are practically exhausted, and what is still left is in the hands of one or two dealers. As high as 30c. has been obtained for pickled and held-stock this week. New-laid eggs are arriving more freely. Consumers must use this class of eggs for all purposes, and sales range from 32 to 35c., according to quality. This price is, however, not expected to last more than a few days, and country shippers are being advised to use great care in buying now, or a big loss may result. The trade has no confidence in the market, and they are likely to be only too willing to break the price when the least occasion warrants it.

HONEY.—There is a steady demand. The market is quiet and prices remain unchanged. We quote: Buckwheat, in comb, 8 to 9c.; strained, 6½ to 7c.; white clover comb, 12c.; white extracted, 9 to 10c. per lb.

ASHES.—There is nothing new. A good demand continues. We quote as follows: First pots, $4.40 to $4.45; seconds, $3.95 to $4; pearls, $6.75 to $7 per 100 lb.

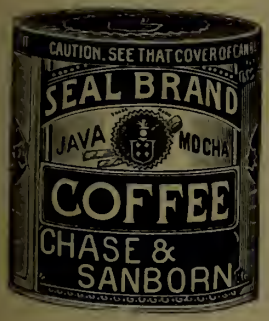
DRESSED POULTRY.—Receipts of poultry are very light in all lines, and prices are firm. We quote as follows: Choice turkeys (frozen), 11½ to 12c.; ordinary, 10½ to 11c.; choice chickens, 10 to 11c.; choice geese, 7 to 8c.; fowl, 5 to 7c. per lb.

GREEN FRUITS.

There is a fair trade doing. Canadian apples are 25c. lower per barrel for the lower grades, the present shipments not being of as good quality, and the price now ranges from $4.25 to $5.50 per barrel. Californian navels have all advanced 25c. per box, in sympathy with the recent rise on the primary market. Messina lemons are still firm at $2.75 to $3 per box. We quote: Jamaica oranges, in bbls., $4.50 to $4.75; in boxes, $2.75; Florida oranges, $3.50 to $3.75; Cali-

"Manufacturing" Coffee.

A spoon, you say, is a manufactured article. But coffee--well, it just grows! Coffee is really a manufactured article. Nature quits at the tree! From the tree to the cup, coffee passes through a great variety of processes. The market value of coffee depends upon what man does after nature has finished. It is in this respect that our coffees have made their great reputation.



Quality inspires CONFIDENCE--which is the foundation of a staple and prosperous business. Our coffees furnish the FOUNDATION. Why not build on them?

FISH.

There is a brisk inquiry for fish, and prices, on some lines, are firmer. No. 1 green cod is scarce ; only the small sizes are in supply. Labrador salmon, of the best quality, is also hard to get, though there is enough of poorer grades. There are no quotable changes. We quote : Haddies, 6c. ; bloaters, 90c. per box; kippers, 90c. per box ; smoked, medium herrings, 11c. per box ; fresh haddock and cod, 3½c. per lb.; whitefish, 6½c.; dore, 5½c.; pike, 4½c.; halibut, 12½ to 13½c.; salmon, 12½c.; trout, large and medium, 7c.; No. 1 herrings, Nova Scotia, $5.25 per bbl.; No. 1 herrings, Nova Scotia, $2.80 per ½ bbl.; No. 1 Holland herrings, $6.50 per ½ bbl.; No. 1 Scotch herrings, $6.50 per ½ bbl.; No. 1 Scotch herrings, 98c. per keg ; Holland herrings, 72c. per keg ; salted cels, 6½c. per lb.; No. 1 green codfish, $5.75 per bbl.; No. 2, $4.50 ; large, $6.50 ; No. 1 green haddock, $4.25 per bbl.; No. 1 pickled sardines, $5.50 per bbl.; No. 2 mackerel, $12.50 per bbl.; No. 3 mackerel, $9 per bbl.; cod, 1 and 2-lb. blocks, 6c. per lb.; loose boneless cod, 5c. per lb. in 40-lb. boxes ; dressed codfish, $4.80 per case ; dry codfish, $4.65 per 112-lb. bundle ; No. 1 Labrador salmon, $17.50 in tierces ; No. 1 Labrador salmon, $12 per bbl.; No. 1 Labrador salmon, $6.25 per ½ bbl.; No. 1 B.C. salmon, $6 per ½ bbl. and $11 per bbl.; standard bulk oysters, $1.30 per gal.; select bulk oysters, $1.50 per gal.; Malpeque, Blue Point and other shelled oysters, $6 per bbl.; clams, in shell, $4.50 per bbl.; Marshall's kippered herrings, and same with tomato sauce, $1.45 per doz.; Canadian kippered, $1 per doz.; Canadian ¼ sardines, $3.75 per 100 ; canned Cove oysters, No. 1 size, $1.30 per doz.; canned Cove oysters, No. 2 size, $2.20 per doz.

FLOUR AND GRAIN.

FLOUR.—There is a moderate trade doing in flour. Small lots are being taken by buyers in the country, and also by local buyers. Prices are steady. We quote as follows : Spring wheat patents, $4.05 to $4.30 ; winter wheat patents, $3.85 to $3.95 ; straight roller, $3.60 to $3.70 ; strong bakers', $3.80 to $4.

GRAIN.—The grain market is quiet. Oats are in good demand, and prices are firm at 47½c. Peas are quiet at 80c. We quote as follows : Manitoba, No. 1 hard, 73c.; peas, 80c.; rye, 63 to 64c. (carlots in store) ; feed barley, 54c. in store ; oats, 47½c.; buckwheat, 53½ to 54c., east ; corn, 65 to 66c.

OATMEAL.—There is a small movement, with a marked decline in rolled oats. Prices are $5 to $5.30, in barrels, and $2.45 to $2.47½ in bags. Other oatmeals, granulated, standard and fine oatmeal, have also weakened. Pot barley is also affected, and it is now quoted at $2.25 per bag.

FEED.—There is a good demand for feed at steady and unchanged prices. We quote as follows : Ontario bran, $20 ; mouille, $28 ; Manitoba bran, $20 to $21 ; shorts, $22 to $23 per ton, including bags.

BALED HAY.—Trade is still quiet and prices are easy. No. 1 timothy is worth $10 to $10.50 ; No. 2, $9 to $9.75; clover, mixed, $8 to $8.50 ; clover, $7 to $7.50 per ton, in carlots.

MONTREAL NOTES.

Ceylon green teas are 1c. higher.

Rolled oats are 20c. per barrel lower.

All Californian navel oranges have advanced 25c. per box.

Canadian apples are arriving in poor quality, and the price has dropped 25c. per barrel.

No. 1 green cod is very scarce, and buyers have to fall back on the small sizes. When these have been exhausted, it is doubtful if more can be obtained.

NEW BRUNSWICK MARKETS.

OFFICE OF THE CANADIAN GROCER.

St. John, N.B., February 15, 1902.

BUSINESS is still rather quiet, except as it relates to winter export shipments. The business this winter is particularly satisfactory. The Canadian Pacific Railway find that even with their largely increased facilities they are with difficulty handling the very large amount of freight seeking shipment from here. This means much work to be done the coming summer, that we may have everything ready for what is sure to be increased business another year. In the markets there is little of particular interest. Beans and oatmeal continue to tend easier in price. Sugar is still very low, and easy. Cream of tartar is low. New rice, which is now offered, is much better in quality than for some years, and the price is low with the market easy.

OILS.—In burning oils the low price is still held. While shipments are large the influence of increased daylight is felt. In paint oils, linseed has been advanced, but in the local market is still lower than would be possible if imported at present prices. Turpentine is also higher. The season of demand is about here. Benzine is unchanged. In lubricating oils, the market is firm. There is a large business being done for later shipment.

SALT.—In Liverpool coarse salt there is a continued good demand. Regular shipments are received weekly. Prices are firm. In fine, there is less English factory-filled imported than in any previous season, the Canadian having the demand. We quote: Liverpool coarse, 50 to 60c.; English factory-filled, 95c. to $1 ; Canadian fine, $1 per bag ; cheese and butter salt bulk, $2.40 per bbl.; 5-lb. bags, $2.85 to $2.90 per bbl.; 10-lb. bags, $2.70 to $2.75 per bbl.; 20-lb. wood boxes, 22c. each ; 10-lb. wood boxes, 14c. each ; cartons, $2 per case of 2 doz.; few changes of prices during the week and the market, in most lines, is steady and without prospect of immediate change, the only article that is showing much variation being sugars, which, on Saturday morning we reported as having again advanced 10c., but this report was not confirmed and for the moment prices stand at last week's decline.

SUGARS.—The market is unsteady. Present quotations are: Granulated, $4.85; bright yellows, $4.20, with a possible advance by Monday morning of 10c.

SYRUPS.—Corn syrups are very firm and prices have advanced in other markets. The quotations here are still 3⅜c. for barrels, but higher figures are looked for soon.

COFFEE.—There is a very fair demand and standard Rio No. 5 is worth 9¼ to 9½c. per lb.

RICE.—China rice is in fair demand and with prices unchanged. Japan rice is rather peculiar. The crop is reported very large, but sellers are asking good figures and it is not expected that No. 1 Crystal Japan will drop below a selling price of $4.75 per cwt.

CANNED GOODS.—The situation is without change. Tomatoes are still held at $2.25 to $2.30 per case, though if any new purchases were made the price would certainly have to be higher, as they could hardly be laid down here for those figures. The merchants here state that should the packers again advance the price, as they are talking of doing, it would mean a greatly restricted sale, as the general consumer will not buy tomatoes when they are 15c. the individual tin. All lines of canned vegetables are in fair demand. Fruits are going slowly, and there is no change of price recorded.

DRIED FRUITS.—Valencia raisins are scarce and hard to obtain at reasonable figures and spot stocks are almost exhausted, but further stocks are expected to arrive very shortly. Four-crown layer Valencias are worth 7½ to 8c.; fine-off stalk, 6½ to 7c.; Californian 4-crown muscatels, 7 1-3c. Currants are firm with no indication of lower prices. Fine Filiatras are quoted at 7c., and cleaned at 8c.

FLOUR.—The market, both locally and for export, is a very dull one, and this applies not only to Manitoba but all the Western States. The low prices now being offered in Great Britain coupled with the increased ocean freights make it impossible to export with profit to that market, and the movement for the past week has fallen off materially. In connection with flour it is interesting to note the discussion now going on in Old-Country milling journals with reference to the possibility of a tax being imposed on wheat and flour. These journals claim that should such a tax be imposed that the old ratios in vogue before the repeal of the corn laws would not be fair now (viz., threepence on wheat and fourpence halfpenny on flour), as with the new process of refining flour they can only get 66 2-3 lb. of flour from 100 lb. of wheat. Canadian and American millers, however, deny this and state that the average percentage from 100 lb. of wheat is a fraction over 77 lb. of flour. No changes in price are to be noted this week in flour circles. We quote as follows: Ogilvie's Hungarian Patent, $2; Glenora Patent, $1.85; Alberta, $1.65; Manitoba, $1.45; Imperial XXXX, $1.25; Nestor, $1.15; Lake of the Woods Milling Co., Five Roses, $2.00; Red Patent, $1.85; Medora, $1.65; XXXX, $1.25; Hudson Bay Hungarian Patent, $2.00; Strong Bakers', $1.85; Leader, $1.50; XXXX, $1.25; Gladstone Sweet Home Hungarian, $2.00; Home Rule, $1.85; Headingly Hungarian Patent, $2.00; Favorite Family Patent, $1.70; Strong Bakers', $1.60; Pansy, $1.25.

THE MOST NUTRITIOUS. COCOA

CEREALS.—The market is normal and with few changes. Rolled oats look a little firmer and as if they might advance within the next few weeks. Quotations are unchanged. Rolled oats, in 80's, $2.20; 40's, $1.10; 20's, 60c.; granulated and standard oatmeal, $2.75 per 98 lb. Cornmeal is unchanged at $1.90. Split peas are firmer, and, in fact, show an advance of 10c. on last week's figures, being now quoted at $2.85 per sack. Pot barley is quoted at $2.45, and pearl at $3.65. White beans have declined 10c. per sack. For this decline no reason is assigned. Present quotations, $1.80.

BUTTER.—The supply is shorter than that of last week; in fact, practically no fresh butter is coming on the market, except in small quantities, and in a retail way. Jobbers are at their wits' end to meet the demand of their customers for strictly fresh made, and prices are very firm. Any lots received this week have jobbed at from 24 to 25c.; tub dairy butter and fresh rolls, of good quality, job at 20c. Held goods run down the scale to as low as 8c. The demand is almost exclusively for fresh-made, and this is so much the case that even where the butter has little or no flavor, it is being taken in preference to held-goods of fine quality. No creamery butter is coming on the market at present.

CHEESE.—Some 450 boxes of very fine Ontario cheese came in this week. This cheese is an excellent sample of careful making, packing, and strict attention to detail, and came forward in splendid condition. This cheese jobs at 10c. Manitoba cheese is practically cleared up.

EGGS.—If present conditions continue eggs will be out of fashion by Easter. The supplies arriving from all sections of the country are most abundant and of excellent quality. The increase of supply has had a corresponding effect on the price, and eggs that last week jobbed at 25 and 27c. are this week selling at 20 to 22c. It is so unusual to have such an abundant supply at this season that jobbers hardly know where they are at. Guaranteed new-laid eggs are retailing at 30 to 35c.

POULTRY.—The demand for fresh-killed is increasing and there is practically none to meet it; on the other hand frozen stock is moving very slowly. Prices are merely nominal.

GREEN FRUITS.—This market shows some features of interest this week. The latest advices from California indicate that the damage from frost and high winds was greater than at first supposed and the amount of strictly fancy stock is therefore limited. Prunes have advanced in consequence in the primary market, and owing to the greatly increased consumption of this fruit (estimated to be 50 per cent.), prices are likely to further advance. Sizes 126, 150 and 176 have advanced 25c. per case on this market this week. A further supply of unfrozen cranberries has been received, but the price has advanced $1 per barrel, the present quotation being $11. A further car of Northern Spies will reach this market today and it is expected they will job at $6.50 per barrel. Stocks of apples in the city at present are small.

TRADE NOTES.

It will be a matter of very sincere regret throughout the Province of Manitoba that The Rublee Fruit Co.'s business is being closed out by the Bank of Hamilton, who held warehouse receipts on the stock. Mr. Rublee has been in business in Winnipeg for over 20 years and was looked upon as being very capable in his particular line. It has been known in business circles for some time that the company was having difficulty to weather the winter, but all hoped that matters would be adjusted without the business being closed.

HINTS TO BUYERS.

Contributors are requested to send news only not puffs of goods they handle, or the arrival of standard goods that everyone has in stock, or that they are offering goods at close figures, or that they have had an unusually large sale this season.

Salmon trout in kegs may be had from H. P. Eckardt & Co.

W. H. Gillard & Co. have a complete stock of fish for the Lenten season, comprising : Boneless fish, loose, 25 and 40-lb. boxes, and 1 and 2 lb. bricks ; boneless codfish, 1 and 2-lb. bricks; boned and skinned cod, 100-lb. cases; quintal cod; Beardsley's shredded cod, 2 doz. in a case; scaled herrings, Labrador herrings, Labrador salmon; No. 1 split herrings, freshwater herrings, trout and whitefish.

H. P. Eckardt & Co. are selling Spanish onions at a low price.

T. A. Lytle & Co., pickle manufacturers, report that they look for a good trade in their "Sterling" brand goods this season.

The "Salada" Tea Co. are so rushed that they have to work three or four nights a week, and they will have to continue this until their new premises are ready, when they will be able to handle double the business with more convenience.

NEW TRAIL TO HORSEFLY COUNTRY.

AT a meeting of the Inland Board of Trade, Kamloops, B. C., held recently, the report of the committee that had been appointed to report on the proposed route to the Horsefly Country and to frame a resolution and send it to the Local Government was received. President N. J. Hopkins was chairman.

The report states that the Inland Board of Trade, in view of recent discoveries, took upon themselves the duty of examining into the route, and report the results of their investigations. They explain how much shorter and more profitable it is to prospectors to reach the unexplored gold fields from Kamloops via North Thompson river, and thence up the Clearwater river, than from any other given point from railway communication. All that now is necessary is the blazing of a trail up the Clearwater river leading into the heart of the country, where the greatest prospecting activity is likely to be. This route would be some 45 miles in length.

The report states the disadvantages of several other routes, and ends up by giving a minute description of the trail recommended. This would open up a vast section of mineral and agricultural lands lying between the North Thompson and the Clearwater, including great and promising sections of territory lying east of the Mahood lake and river.

The resolution strongly urged the British Columbian Government to make a special appropriation of $2,500, which is the amount considered sufficient for the cutting of a trail from the mouth of the Clearwater River to the newly-discovered deposits.

Mayor Gordon, J. Gill and J. Vair were appointed delegates to interview the Government at Victoria and support the requirements.

"EMPIRE" SODA SUCCESS.

A meritorious article judiciously advertised is invariably successful. For this reason it is not surprising to hear of the success "Empire" soda has met with since it was placed on the market last November.

Winn & Holland at first found it hard to keep up with orders, especially in the case of the 10-oz. packet, but quantities are now arriving on every steamer and orders will, in future, be filled without delay.

The retailers all through Canada are putting "Empire" soda in stock, and repeat orders are coming in quickly. The newspaper advertising is being further extended and an increased demand is looked for. A handsome store hanger has been issued which every grocer should have.

GROCERS' SECTION.

A MEETING of the grocers' section of the Toronto branch of the Retail Merchants' Association of Canada was held in their rooms on Bay street on the evening of February 17. Chairman F. C. Higgins presided.

The committee that was appointed to wait on the wholesale merchants regarding a number of matters of some importance made their report. There is to be another joint meeting at some future date between this committee and the wholesale merchants at the Board of Trade building, Toronto.

The special committee delegated to wait on the biscuit manufacturers to adjust the prices and decide to what extent biscuits should be retailed to the consumers by the manufacturers, were to meet a number of biscuit men who will be in town this week. An amicable arrangement is expected to be made.

The Dominion Government will be petitioned to alter the present Weights and Measures' Act. They want the Act amended so that the Government will bear the cost of the inspection of weights and scales, and not the merchant who at present foots the bill. The question of having the usual May 24 celebration postponed till May 26, this year, will also be presented to the Government at the same time. This season, May 24 comes on Saturday, a very busy day for grocers, and they think that by postponing its observance till Monday that their business interests will be best preserved.

E. A. Biggar will address the section at its next meeting on the Metric System. The workings and advantages of the system will be explained.

CATALOGUES, BOOKLETS, ETC.

WOODENWARE AND BRUSH CATALOGUE.

The United Factories, Limited, of Toronto, have issued their new illustrated catalogue for season of 1902, which consists of 298 pages devoted to brushes, brooms, woodenware and grocers' sundries.

134 of the pages are used for displaying Boeckh's brushes, 8 pages for Boeckh's brooms and whisks, 81 pages for Bryan's brushes, 18 pages for Cane's Newmarket woodenware. The remainder is devoted to the large range of grocers' sundries and adjustable display tables.

In the combined list there are nearly 10,000 different kinds and sizes of brushes for every known purpose for which a brush is required; 100 varieties of corn brooms and whisks; 500 different kinds of woodenware, baskets, screen doors and windows and other sundries for the grocery trade. This is, without doubt, the finest and best displayed and illustrated catalogue ever issued to the Canadian trade in these particular lines. The design of the cover originated from their own advertising department.

The enormous growth of the business has brought them into prominence all over the British possessions, the company being well known as the leading brush and broom manufacturers of Canada. Their reputation for turning out first-class goods for the past 56 years is a record worth having, and the Canadians should be proud to know they have a factory of this nature to compete with the world on high-class brushes.

A copy will be sent to all their regular customers, or to any who may have been overlooked a copy will be cheerfully sent upon his applying to the head office or to any of the company's branches.

KENTVILLE BOARD OF TRADE REPORT.

The Kentville Board of Trade have issued their ninth annual report in a neatly printed booklet of eight pages, containing their president's address and their resolution regarding the holding of a Provincial winter fair of fat and dairy stock in Kentville, N.S. The annual meeting of this board was held on January 20, the proceedings of which were reported in THE GROCER of a subsequent date.

BREAKFAST FOOD LABELS.

The North-Western Cereal Co., of London, are manufacturers of breakfast foods and flours. They have recently placed on the market two new cereal foods, "Superior Breakfast Cream," and "Snperior Gluten Flour." These are enclosed in wrappers bearing the registered trade mark of the firm, a side view of a well-fed cow standing within the pasture field, and tinted in various harmonious colorings, red and yellow and green and blue. Surrounding the trade mark are stalks of Western wheat twined in a sort of a wreath. Above and concluding below runs the legend: "Superior Breakfast Cream," or "Superior Gluten Flour" as the case may be. On the back of this package are neatly printed various recipes telling how the contents may be used by the busy housewife.

GOOD DEMAND FOR POTATOES.

There has been a good demand for potatoes in carlots this past week. Bad roads and blockades on the railways have made deliveries very light. R. W. Hannah, Board of Trade, Toronto, who ships extensively to points east and north, reports inquiries also from Bermuda.

ORDERS FOR SHELF-BOXES.

J. S. Bennett, 15 Marion street, Toronto, is the manufacturer of Bennett's patent shelf-box and nests of drawers and cabinets fitted with same. He also makes the Klondike sample-holder. These may be had in any size. He has recently received orders for his well-known shelf-boxes from the following: Two from Nelson Mitchell & Co., Granby, Que.; one from W. S. Piper & Son, Fort William, Ont.; two from The Laurentide Pulp Co., Grand Mere, Que.; one from W. Emery, Toronto; one from W. Gurd & Co., London; one from J. & T. N. Piper, Fort William; one from Bryson, Graham & Co., Ottawa; one from G. Sylvester, Elkhorn, Man.; one from G. W. Wallace, Toronto, Ont.; one from J. W. Peacock, Toronto, Ont.; one from N. A. Grandbois, St. Casimir, Que., and one from A. Fisher, Lindsay, Ont.

CEYLON TEA DIRECT.

I AM prepared to supply my Estate Tea, and despatch same direct to any of the principal towns of Canada, on most reasonable terms, to wholesale dealers, grocers or private individuals, who wish to procure any grade of "Pure Ceylon Tea" direct from the planter. I am also willing to correspond with anyone wishing to take up the agency for my Teas in any part of Canada or the United States. For reference and information apply to G. C. WARREN, Wolseley, Assa., or direct to Dudley E. WARREN, Tea Planter, Avisawella, Ceylon.

What Do They Cost?

Practically Nothing.

Taking into consideration the saving of time in making charges, saving of time in posting hooks and making out accounts and monthly statements, and many other advantages, also the saving that is made by avoiding forgetfulness in making charges many times overpays the cost of a supply in the course of the year.

"They are a hoon to both merchant and customer."—Baker & McColl, Ayr.

John H. Laird, one of Galt's leading grocers, says the Due B lls are a decided advantage. They greatly simplify the credit produce and Due Bill trade. Much time, annoyance and labor is saved. Customers like them and trade increases by their use. Your Due Bill system is an excellent one. I would not go back to written due bills again.—Galt, Sept. 12th, 1901.

"We have used coin Trade Due Bills for the past six years and find them very convenient. We would not under any consideration, go back to the old way in doing business in this line (giving written due bills or credits) as we feel satisfied they have more than paid for themselves each year, not only by the convenience they afford, but also by the extra advertising they give our business and the increase we feel satisfied they make in our trade."—Hager & Hall, Beamsville, Ont.

"They have become popular with our customers. They are like cash, and can be used by the farmers as such in many deals, and they thus advertise our business and help us to get many new customers. It means that we practically issue Due Bills for the local goods we buy. They are up-to-date."—Bricker & Diebel, Waterloo, Ont.

NOVA SCOTIA MARKETS.

Halifax, February 17, 1902.

THOUGH this is the dull season of the year, there has, on account of recent snowfalls and good roads, been considerable improvement in the grocery line, both in the wholesale as well as in the retail business. Prices, however, remain very much the same as a week ago, but some lines are hardening up on account of scarcity, and prices are on the advance in meats and some other provisions. The month's business so far has been up to the average. No more beautiful winter weather could be expected than we have had here for two weeks' time, and this alone stimulates trade largely.

The trade in flour, oatmeal, cornmeal and the various feeds, which a month ago were on the upward tendency, is now steady, and the business is comparatively light. A very slight reduction is noted in oatmeal, rolled oats and cornmeal, but this is not due to any change in the market price of oats or corn, but rather that in the dull season stock may be kept moving. It may be noted, however, that oats are extremely high, and there is a probability of this commodity running higher before spring than lower. One reason for this is the closing of the Prince Edward Island ports to shipments by schooner, which will last for another two months at least.

The sugar and molasses market remains steady at slight advances quoted last week. New crop Porto Rico molasses are quoted in New York a few cents higher than last year, but the price here is unchanged. In fact, the price of Porto Rico molasses in New York will no longer be a standard here, as that article is now on the United States free list. If prices should advance here, the result will be the importation of the product of other Islands to a larger extent. Reports from parties now in the West Indies state that the crop prospects are generally good, but that the competition of beet root has made the cane-crop prices ruinously low. What has been good for the consumer of late years, in lower prices, seems to have been ruinous to the cane-growers of the Sunny Islands of the South. Legislation, by way of countervailing duties, both in Great Britain and Canada, seems to be the only hope of the West Indian sugar and molasses trade.

The butter market is somewhat easier and the general supply is good, except in fresh-made creamery. The price is now as high as expected, and greater supplies will come in as spring advances. Considerable quantities of western butter are being imported, and the quality is above the average. The lower prices of last fall induced a good deal of holding, but this supply is now available, as longer holding will result in the meeting of lower prices. Cheese is in fair demand, and the price remains firm. There is not an overabundant supply in the market, but enough for all trade requirements. Prices are quoted at 10½ to 11c.

Eggs are coming in quite plentifully. There is neither a scarcity nor is there an overabundant supply. Prices rule high, but there is a downward tendency which will largely depend on a break in the Montreal market. A peculiar incident with reference to eggs may be noted for last week: Usually, the Montreal market supplies any shortage here. Last Thursday this was reversed, when a firm here shipped about 1,000 doz. to Montreal. These were principally bought at 23c. The expressage to Montreal amounts to about 3c. Allowing the wholesaler 2c., these eggs could be sold in Montreal for 28c. plus the retailer's profit. Eggs in Montreal, on the same date, were quoted at 33 to 35c. With a drop materially in Montreal, eggs here would soon fall to 20c. or lower.

The opening of Lent has made a material difference in the retail of fresh fish, but the tendency of the wholesale market is still downward. In fact, last week's quotations are slightly less in some lines. The West Indian market is still dull, and, though shipments go forward regularly by each steamer, the profits are slight, and this tends to reduce the market price here. There has been considerable fish coming in from the shore ports lately. On Thursday last four schooners arrived in one day, having between them 5,000 quintals dry fish. Two others arrived Saturday bringing 2,400 and 1,300 quintals. Green fish are also coming in in sufficient quantity to abundantly supply the local demand.

For all kinds of meat the market is firm and there is a general advance. Beef, in quarters, light, is quoted at 6 to 6½c.; heavy, on foot, 8 to 8½c.; hogs, dressed, 8½c. Mutton is very scarce, and quoted at 6½ to 7c.; lamb is also scarce at 8c. Turkeys bring 13 to 14c.; fowls, chickens and geese, 10c. Potatoes are quoted at 45c., a little higher than a week ago. Oats are quoted at 54 to 55c. Hay still rules high, $12.50 to $13.50. Apples, as last quoted, $1.50 to $3; extra quality, $4.

THE PROVISION TRADE.

The Markets—Eggs in Cold Storage—Miscellaneous Notes.

EGGS IN COLD STORAGE.

Can you give me any information about the cold storage of eggs? What temperature is required and in what way should they be packed?

THE majority of houses where eggs are stored are kept at a temperature of 30 to 31. When packing for storage only a poplar or whitewood case should be used, with the sides not more than 11½ inches wide. This gives a small open space at the bottom and top layers, admitting of quick and free circulation. A small amount of clean, white excelsior should be placed in the bottom, and then a flat, or divider, on which the first filler or frame is placed. When the case is full a flat should be laid on the top layer, then sufficient excelsior before placing the top lid, in order to form somewhat of a cushion, three short nails at each end of the lid, but no nails in the middle. Nothing but full-sized, clean, fresh eggs should go into storage (not washed eggs, for they will surely rot in a short time). Nothing else should be placed in the room with the eggs, unless it is lime, which is always admissible. The use of strawboard fillers for eggs is not advisable.—Butchers' Advocate.

THE PROVISION MARKETS.

TORONTO.

In carlots, Western hogs are worth $7.40 for thick fats and $7.60 for lights per 100 lb., and Northern pea-fed hogs stand at $7.75 to $8. The receipts have been moderate, both locally and in carlots from outside points, owing to the high prices and the small visible supply of live hogs. On the local market, the prices are strong and unchanged, and the arrivals have been fair. Lightweight live hogs are 12½c. higher. We quote as follows: Dressed hogs, $8.00 to $8.25; beef carcasses, $5.75 to $7 per 100 lb.; hind quarters, $6.50 to $7.50 per 100 lb.; front quarters, $4.75 to $5.50 per 100 lb. Veal, 7 to 8½c. per lb.; lambs, 8 to 8½c. Live hogs: Selects, $6.12½, lights, $6 per 100 lb., and thick fats, $5,87½; choice export cattle bring $5 to $5.40 per 100 lb.; lights sell at $4 to $4.50.

The market for cured and smoked meats is strong, and the prices are unchanged. The local trade is brisk. We quote as follows: Long clear bacon, 10½ to 11c.; smoked breakfast bacon, 14 to 15c.; rolls, 11 to 11½c.; medium hams, 13½c.; large hams, 12½ to 13c.; shoulder hams, 10½ to 11c., and backs, 13½ to 14c.; Canadian heavy mess pork, $20.50 to $21; short cut, $22; lard, in tierces, 11¼c. per lb.; tubs, 11½c., and pails, 11¾c.

MONTREAL.

There is only a light demand for most lines of provisions, and prices are steady. The demand is chiefly for small lots for immediate requirements. Smoked meats are in poor demand. Receipts of dressed hogs are very light. We quote as follows: Heavy Canadian short cut mess pork, $22; Chicago clear pork, $22.50 for heavy and $22.25 for medium; selected heavy short cut mess pork, boneless, $22.00 to $22.50; hams, 13c.; bacon, 15c.; lard, pure Canadian, $2.35 to $2.40 per pail; refined lard compound (Fairbank's); $2.05 for 1 to 24 pails; $2.03 for 25 to 49 pails; $2.02 for 50 pails and over. Snow White and Globe compound, $1.75 per pail; Cottolene, 10⅞c. for 20 lb. pails, and 10⅝c. for 60-lb. tubs, for Quebec and Ontario.

ST. JOHN, N. B.

In barrelled pork, the sale is limited. Prices are still very high. A little very fine domestic clear and mess is being offered. In beef, the market is dull. Prices are reasonable. Fresh beef shows no change. Round hogs are still high, but are offered rather more freely; or, perhaps I should say, are not so scarce. Lard is not quite so firmly held. Compound unchanged. We quote: American mess pork, $21; domestic mess pork, $20; American, clear pork, $24; domestic clear pork, $22 to $23; American plate beef, $16; domestic plate beef, $14.50 to $15; pure lard, tubs, 12½ to 12¾c.; pure lard, pails, 12¾ to 13c.; compound lard, tubs, 10c.; compound lard, pails, 10¼c.; Fairbank's refined lard, tubs, 10½c.; Fairbank's refined lard, pails, 10¾c.

WINNIPEG.

CURED MEATS—An item of interest in connection with this trade, and one that points out the difference in feeding due to the high price of corn is the fact that, although 1,000,000 more hogs have come on the Chicago market this season, the actual weight of meat is considerably under that of last season. It was noted in these columns some time ago that the American farmer was marketing his hogs in a less satisfactory condition rather than continue feeding at the high price of corn and other grains. In this market there has been a steady consumptive demand all week, with no change in prices to record and no new features of any kind.

HAMS—We quote: Sugar-cured and smoked, 13¾c.; shoulders, 10¼c.; picnic hams, 8½c.; breakfast bellies and backs, 14c.; spiced rolls, 12¼c.; dry salt long clear, 11½c.

LARD—There is a very active demand for lard put up by the local houses, and, in fact, they are finding difficulty in meeting it. Prices are therefore firm. We quote: 20-lb. pails, $2.50; American, $2.60; 50-lb. pails, $5.85; 3 and 5-lb. tins, in 60-lb. crates, $7.55.

SAUSAGES—Market is without change. The demand has been good all winter, especially for straight pork sausages. Pork sausages, 8c.; bologna, 7c.; liver sausages, 6c.; Vienna, 10c.; blood sausages, 6c.; head cheese, 6c.

BEEF—Market is firm, with good demand and limited supplies in sight. Best city dressed is worth 7½c.; country dressed ranges from 6 to 6½c.

VEAL—A limited number of carcasses of young veal have come in, but the price is high, being 7½ to 8c. per lb., and this includes hide, head and feet. The quality is not all that could be desired, the calves not being fat enough.

MUTTON—None but frozen mutton is offering. The demand is very limited.

HOGS—In sympathy with live hogs, dressed have fallen in price, and 7½c. is now the highest figure offered, and a number of sales have been effected at prices shading ½ to ¾c. lower.

PROVISION NOTES.

HOGS AND THE LARD SITUATION.

The Montreal branch of The N. K. Fairbank Company is circulating the following among the trade :

February 10, 1902.

At the Bedford District dairymen's meeting at Cowansville, Que., Prof. Hodgson, Government expert on hog products, in an address, pointed out that the trade on hog products had increased from $600,000 in 1890 to $12,600,000 in 1900. He particularly called attention to the fact that 10 years ago Canadian bacon and hams only realized 6 to 8s. less than other sorts, and that at present 6 to 8s. per cwt. more is received than for any other kinds, except Irish and Danish. He showed, by means of charts and photographs, that the big fat hog was a false principle. They cost ½ to 2c. per lb. more to produce, and were suitable neither to the home nor foreign market. The better price for lean meat has thoroughly encouraged hog-raisers to market their hogs at an average of over 50 lb. less in the United States. In Canada, the incentive to bring lean hogs on the market is still greater, owing to the foreign demand that Canadians have not, as yet, been able to meet for lean meat, the export business having increased 24 times in 10 years.

With no encouragement to produce hogs to make lard, with the high price of feed, with a demadn far in excess of the Canadian lard supply and a premium upon lean hogs, there is little possibility of enough Canadian lard being produced to affect prices unfavorably at any time in the near future. It would be necessary for the price of lard in the United States to decline 2½c. before it would have a depreciating influence on the Canadian market, and, while there is less activity in the lard market, due to lack of confidence, it is believed that retailers' and jobbers' stocks are being reduced to a low ebb, and must soon be replenished at possibly higher prices.

MEAT IN RHYME.

We have tender steak and juicy roasts
That will please the most fastidious host,
Our home-cured ham and bacon lean,
You can't imagine unless you've seen.
Our pure, white lard, the very best,
Will stand the most rigid housewife's test.
When you want a good, square meal,
Try our sausage, mutton, pork or veal.
If you have chicken on the brain,
Come to us and we'll explain
How we dress poultry every day
For foreign markets far away ;
But for the home trade we select the best,
The finest spring, the fattest hens
That ever graced our poultry pens.
And now, kind friends, we invite you all,
When out shopping, on us to call.
Our terms are cash, our prices right,
And all our goods are " out of sight."

—Griffith Bros., Wellman, Ia.

WANT 50c. ON THE DOLLAR.

At a meeting of the creditors of Mathew K. Richardson, M.P., grocer, etc., Flesherton, Ont., at the Walker House, Toronto, last week, a statement was submitted showing liabilities of about $18,300. The assets amount to about $11,000, and consist principally of real estate and book debts. Mr. Richardson made an offer of 35c. on the dollar. It was not however accepted, as the creditors considered the estate would realize more than this. They want him to offer 50c., part cash and part on time, secured, and Mr. Richardson was given a few days to consider this proposition.

WILL OF THE LATE MR. PHILP.

THE will of the late Mr. Richard Philp, of the wholesale grocery firm of H. P. Eckardt & Co., Toronto, has been entered for probate.

The total value of the estate is put at $197,812.22. The realty is $35,445, and consists of No. 14 Wilcox street, $20,000 ; three houses on Huron street, $13,100 ; vacant land on Portland street, $2,345.

Of the personallty, there is $47,280.45 in life insurance ; $16,100 in mortgages ; $9,400 in mining stocks ; $1,027.55 in household effects ; debt due by A. J. H. Eckardt, $12,115.71; loan to H. P. Eckardt & Co., $50,000 ; capital invested with this firm, $25,000, subject to adjustment ; notes, $1,400 ; cash, $43.51.

The widow is given the use of the home and all its contents ; the latter she may dispose of as she pleases. The entire estate is to be converted into cash and invested securely. During her life she is to have $16,000 a year. Each daughter is to have $5,000. When Mrs. Philp dies, one seventh of the remainder of the estate is to be set apart for the children of each of the daughters. Upon the death of Mrs. Philp prior to 1905, each married daughter is to get $1,000 yearly until July, 1920, and each one unmarried $1.200 yearly. If the mother dies after 1904, these amounts are to be increased to $1,200 and $1,400, respectively. July 1, 1920, or on the subsequent death of Mrs. Philp, the estate is to be divided among the daughters in equal one-seventh shares.

The executive company may allow Mr. Philp's capital in the firm to remain there, should it deem that proper, and upon such terms as it can arrange with the surviving partner, H. P. Eckardt, a son-in-law. It may also allow the loan to the son-in-law, A. J. H. Eckardt, to remain in the business, if it be thought wise to do so.

ELECTRIC TEA-WEIGHING MACHINE.

A novel and intricate apparatus has been installed in the tea warehouse of T. H. Estabrooks, St. John, N.B. This is nothing less than an automatic weighing machine capable of weighing out 16 separate pounds of tea per minute. It is an ingenious contrivance. From a hopper in the floor above, the tea is conveyed to the machine by a funnel fitted with automatic jaws which close the moment 1 lb. of tea is deposited on the pair of scales. In the meantime, a bag is being pressed up beneath the pan, which revolves, and into this package the tea is dumped, while another pan takes the place of the first (there are two pans). The whole contrivance is run by a small electric motor, and it can be adjusted to any weight and regulated. It is said to be the first machine of its kind in Canada, and was made by Driver, London, Eng.

ELECTRICITY AND COFFEE.

BELOW is illustrated a new device that all large grocers and coffee dealers will be glad to see. It is the "Enterprise" electrically-driven coffee grinder and pulverizer, made by The Enterprise Manufacturing Co. of Pennsylnania, Philadelphia

In these progressive days, when nearly every large store has installed electricity for lights and for running fans, it will add but little to expense for another wire to the motor driving this mill. This is a twin mill—one granulates, the other pulverizes. Every grocer knows what hard and slow work it is to pulverize coffee—what trouble it is to get clerks to do it properly. The mill on the left granulates 2 or 3 lb. a minute; the one on the right pulverizes ½ lb. a minute. Not only does it do the work quickly and perfectly, but it is a beautiful store fixture and permanent advertisement. One cent is the cost of grinding 25 fo 50 lb. of coffee, according to the price of the current.

The combined machine is up to date in every way. compact and ornamental. The workmanship is very fine and all parts are interchangeable. The motors are built by the General Electric Co., the largest manufacturers of motors in the world, and, as this combined machine is, therefore, the product of two reliable manufacturing companies, the grocer runs no risk in purchasing.

The manufacturers have spent large sums of money in experimenting on grinders, for which patents have lately been issued, with other patents still pending on the general construction of the machine.

It will pay our readers to send for catalogue to the Enterprise Manufacturing Co. of Pennsylvania, Philadelphia. Advertisement in another column in this issue.

BLACK GREEN

The Blacks now used everywhere in Canada.

The Greens are displacing Japans.

Grocers should think of this before ordering stocks for coming season.

THE MAIL-ORDER DEPARTMENT.

TO a man keenly alive to the possibilities of the mail-order trade, remarks Printers' Ink, the lack of interest shown by most retailers in this department of their business is discouraging.

Business men, accounted bright and brainy, pursue the beaten path of retailing and refuse to open their eyes to the splendid opportunities of the mail-order field in plain view before them.

Without a mail-order department a store's circle of trade is confined within the territory of easy distance. It is limited to the people who find it more convenient to trade there than elsewhere. Add a mail-order department and the scope of trade is limited only by the limits of the postal system.

The great stores of our large cities gather orders through their mail-order departments from all parts of the country. While it is true that the prestige of location carries some weight, the retailers of the smaller cities may develop a mail trade by the same means.

Selling goods by mail is accomplished by the same process that is involved in selling over the counter. The difference is in the application of the process. Correspondence must take the place of conversation, and a sample or picture of the article must be substituted for an actual view of it. The arguments of the salesman must go into the catalogue and other forms of printed matter. As catalogues, booklets, letters, circulars and other printed things sent out are salesmen for the house, they must be neat and presentable, just as the salesmen in well-ordered stores are required to be careful of their personal appearance.

The difference between a successful salesman and one who is not will be found to exist in like manner between the successful and the unsuccessful mail-order literature. It is altogether a question of salemanship, for advertising is, manifestly, an effort to sell something. It follows, therefore, that the more closely the methods of a successful retail salesman are followed, in mail-order work, the better are the chances for success.

In the smaller cities and towns the merchants make strong efforts to get the country trade. The patronage of the farming community within a radius of 15 or 20 miles is usually an immense item and well worth cultivating. With the aid of the rural free-delivery system and a well-arranged mail-order department, the wide-awake merchant may place his whole store, virtually, at the elbow of the farmer and his family. They will buy more and buy oftener, because they can do so with little effort.

The greatest use of the mail-order department to merchants in small cities is in extending trade beyond the usual limits of easy distance. By intelligent, systematic, persistent work, he may build up a patronage, in the surrounding counties alone, worth thousands of dollars. There is no limit to the possible growth.

CANADIAN TRADE WITH SOUTH AFRICA.

In another column of this paper will be found the announcement of Robert Crooks & Co., of Montreal, who have already established four offices of their own in The Cape for the distribution of Canadian manufactured goods.

Their firms at Cape Town, Port Elizabeth, Durban and Johannesburg, each of which, they state, is under competent and experienced management, are prepared to handle consignments, and manufacturers desirous of introducing and establishing their products in South-African markets should correspond with Messrs. Crooks' office in Montreal.

A NEW ROUTE FOR TEA.

Our St. John, N.B., correspondent writes: "The largest importation of tea coming to our port for one importer during one month was received during the past month by Theo. H. Estabrooks, packer of "Red Rose." The invoice value was £9,720 9s. 7d. A large part of this was imported from Calcutta via Glasgow. This is something new. The importer claims it shows a saving in freight of upwards of 30 per cent."

HALIFAX RETAILERS ORGANIZE.

ALTHOUGH only a few days have elapsed since the early-closing movement in Halifax began, considerable progress has already been made, and the result has been the formation of a retail merchants' association to complete the work. On February 5, a representative meeting was held, at which a number were present, to complete work of the organization, adopt a constitution and receive reports as to the workings of this movement. Different phases of the movement were discussed by a number of merchants, who all were in the fullest sympathy with the early-closing idea. A. W. Redden occupied the chair, and W. E. Webb was secretary.

When the meeting was finally called to order, William Crowe reported on behalf of a committee appointed to prepare a constitution and by-laws. The constitution states that the organization is to be known as the Halifax Retail Merchants' Association, which has for its object early closing and the discussion of all matters of interest to the various branches of trade represented in its members. Rules were adopted for the enrolment of members, election of officers, annual fees, duties of officers, date of regular meetings and other necessary matters.

The officers elected for the present year are as follows:

President—A. W. Redden.
Vice-Presidents—J. F. Colwell and H. L. Hart.
Secretary—W. E. Hebb.
Treasurer—F. P. Hayden.
Executive Committee—J. H. Emmett, W. J. Power, James Farquhar, J. J. Skerry, J. L. Archibald, W. E. Crowe, James Halliday, John Connolly, W. H. Merlin and Charles S. Lane.

of getting more patronage than we anticipated, which we attribute to the extraordinary good values we are giving in all lines of Groceries.

Write for our prices, or telephone for goods at our expense if in a hurry.

We have a large range of Indian and Ceylon Teas, in chests of 80 to 90 lbs., which we are offering at 12½ to 15c. per lb., usual price 17 to 18c.

For the balance of this month we will offer a large quantity of half-chests, of a beautiful, first Young Hyson Ceylon Green Tea, at 18c. per lb., in 53 to 55-lb. chests, which is considered good value at 23 to 25c.

Try a sample order of our Celebrated FERNDALE Package Teas, to retail at 25, 30, 40 and 50c. per lb., which shows the retailer a good profit.

SOME MERCHANTS' EXPERIENCE.

Solomon said in his haste: "ALL MEN ARE LIARS!" He didn't mean it. He was simply so mad with one man that he included all the rest.

Let us not fall into Solomon's mistake. We should take out of our experience the wisdom there is in it and stop right there!

Otherwise we are as stupid as the cat who sat down on a hot stove lid. She will never sit down on a hot stove lid again, and that shows good judgment. But she will never sit down on a cold one, either.

Now, some merchants have had hard experiences lately with coupon hooks that were represented to be absolutely correct in count and made up just as good as any other, but they were not, and you won't know what a perfect coupon hook is until you have tried either Allison's Coupon Books or Allison's Coupon Pass Books. Both are good; one hook suits some, while the other fills the bill with the rest of the merchants.

We are doing a lot of special engraving work now for merchants who use hooks in large quantities. Our hooks are carried in stock by jobbers. We will be glad to send you a free sample.

Allison's name on a Coupon Book is itself a guarantee of perfection.

A Timely Talk to Business Men.

THE most necessary item in the preparation of a candidate for success is "self-stock-taking." He must make a careful inventory of his success-qualities and rate his possibilities so that he will know to a hair's breadth just what he measures, and, to a grain, just how much he weighs. In other words, he must first know himself, his powers and possibilities, before he can use them.

After he has taken his inventory, the next thing is to plan to get the most possible out of his capital; and, in doing this, he should be very careful not to allow his judgment and commonsense to be blinded by his ambition; for, if he does, in nine cases out of ten, he will destroy many of his possibilities by overtaxing them.

The man who would make the most of life must learn "to be good to himself"; that is, while he should strain every nerve to develop himself to the utmost, he must remember that his success will depend very largely upon the care he takes of his success-machine—that is, of himself.

Many so-called successful men are their own worst enemies. They would never think of abusing a horse or any other dumb animal as they impose upon themselves. They go without eating, are irregular at meals, and rob themselves of sleep and recreation; in fact, they violate every law of their physical and mental natures, and yet wonder why they are grey-haired, dyspeptic and broken-down before middle life. They cannot understand why their ambition and greed to get on in the world should not be the measure of their strength, and so they go on forcing their brains to work when every particle of nerve energy which was stored up the previous 24 hours has been exhausted.

THAT WHICH WILL MAINTAIN HEALTH IS NOT TOO COSTLY.

It makes all the difference in the world to you whether you cut off five, 10, or 15 years of your life by foolish indiscretion, abusing yourself by overworking, or depriving yourself of needed rest—by not knowing exactly how much you can stand — or whether you save those precious years by obedience to the laws of health.

Many people cramp their powers and dwarf their possibilities by denying themselves the comforts which make life harmonious and agreeable. For example, I have known people, who were travelling long distances by night, to go in a day coach, so as to avoid the expense of a sleeper, and either to carry their food and eat it on the train, or depend upon sandwiches or any little "pick-ups" that they could get at the stations along the road. Of course there are people who cannot afford the comforts—luxuries if you will—of travelling in sleeping cars and dining or lunching in dining saloons, in which case they must, of course, do the best they can. But those who can afford them make the greatest possible mistake by trying to economize at the expense of their physical and mental well-being, for they cramp themselves, and dwarf their energy and success-ability, just in proportion as they deny their bodies proper care.

There is nothing else so valuable as one's physical and mental energy, which should be preserved, at whatever cost. In other words, nothing is dear, which we can possibly afford, that will in any way help us to get on in the world faster and better.

Personal power is a great thing to achieve and maintain. Everywhere, in city and country, we see men and women, especially men, old at 30 or 35, their shoulders stooped, their hair grey, and their spirits broken. They have no elasticity in their step, no buoyancy in their bearing. They destroyed their possibilities in their overreaching ambition to become wealthy or famous — to out-distance all competitors. Their lives have become dry and sere, and they are nervous wrecks, when they should be in their physical and mental prime.

TAKE AMPLE TIME TO EAT YOUR LUNCHEON!

Thousands of well-meaning men deprive themselves of needed nourishing, force-giving food by trying to economize. They stand at a lunch counter and hastily swallow a sandwich and a glass of milk to economize time and money, when they owe it to themselves and to their highest well-being to go to a good restaurant or hotel, take time enough to eat a nutritious, properly-cooked and properly-served meal and give the stomach time to begin the process of assimilation before resuming work.

There is not only no economy in this, but it is the worst kind of extravagance. The greatest economy a success-candidate can practise is storing up the largest amount of success-force, vitality, nervous and mental energy in his constitution for effective and efficient achievement. To rob oneself of the food material which gives this magic force is like killing the goose which lays the golden eggs.

Many a man has mocked a magnificent natural ability with mediocre achievement, simply because he has ruined his success-machine by neglect, in failing to supply the motive power to run it.

Thousands of men have died amid the wreck of disappointed ambitions, having failed to carry out one tenth of what they expected and had the ability to accomplish, simply because they did not take proper care of themselves.

Would you not think that man insane who, possessing a reservoir of precious elixir of life, should bore gimlet holes through it, here and there, and let the life-power run to waste? Yet this is exactly what thousands of us are doing. We start out with a great pond or lake of life-power, and let the major part of it escape through the leaks made in the reservoir by our own carelessness or ignorance.

We are all the time cutting off our success-possibilities by wasting, here and there, life's force and energy, robbing ourselves of the reserve which alone would make great achievement possible; and yet we wonder why we do not succeed.

Lack of sleep, lack of exercise in the open air, lack of nourishing food, and of congenial intercourse with friends, overwork, doing our work in the spirit of drudgery—all these things are leaks which sap our energy and rob us of the great reserve of life-force which enables one to achieve results.

On account of the influence of your clothing upon your habits, your character and your success generally, be as generous with your dress, especially in material, as you can possibly afford.

If you have been handicapped in early life by lack of education, or of social advantages, and do not feel certain of yourself in society, it will help you wonderfully to dress well. It will tend to give you ease of manner and make your awkardness and lack of general culture less apparent. In other words, it will help to cover up little defects which may embarrass you, especially if you are over self-conscious.

culture and social usages tends to aggravate those defects, and you should avoid self-consciousness in every possible way. Neat, bright, yet fashionable well-fitting clothing will help you very materially.

The wise man tries to compensate for his deficiencies in every way he can. It pays, therefore, to avoid bad impressions when strangers first meet you, for they will put you to a great disadvantage if you are too self-conscious and timid.

People who have not had early advantages, but have come into prominence through achievement, are often placed at great disadvantage, and they should study ways to compensate for these deficiencies. In other words, we should do everything possible to bring ourselves into harmony with our surroundings, because we cannot exhibit strength or use our success-force until we are at ease or in harmony with our environment.

Many shrewd men and women have been able to cover up early deficiencies in education and culture generally by close observation, and by adopting dress and manners like those with whom they associate. A keen observation is one of the greatest assistants in the acquirement of ease and power.

Many hard-worked business and professional men think they cannot afford a vacation. These people know very well that they cannot work their horses all the time, nor could they expect any of their employes to work all the time and stand it.

There is, perhaps, nothing which pays better or is more beneficial than a vacation. Most of us, sooner or later, learn — unfortunately, most of us learn later—that we cannot get more money out of a bank than we deposit there. Our drafts on nature's bank cannot exceed the reserve of the deposits.

In youth, we store up a reserve of physical and mental energy, which, if properly used, will enable us to overdraw temporarily in emergencies, but, if we use, from day to day, more nervous or vital force than is generated during each 24 hours, it does not require a great mathematician to convince us that we shall soon be bankrupt.

A man, therefore, who has been tied up many months in his store or office, or confined by his vocation, whatever it may be, although he may not have worked very hard, requires a complete change of surroundings; he needs a new mental environment.

GO INTO THE COUNTRY FREQUENTLY AND GET NEW LIFE!

People in routine work soon lose their elasticity of mind, their buoyancy and spontaneity of thought; their imagination becomes torpid, and nothing else will then refresh the faculties and functions so quickly as a complete change of surroundings.

How quickly, for example, one's whole nature responds to a change from the city to the country! A man who feels heavy, tired, and languid, in the city, feels ten years younger when he gets into the country. He is a boy again; his imagination becomes enlivened, and his whole life is rejuvenated. It is not always because one is overworked that he needs a vacation; for man is an omnivorous animal, and requires a variety of food.—Success.

GOOD NAME BETTER THAN RICHES.

Neither ships, racehorses, nor anything else are so aptly named as the crack trains of the world—the Flying Scotchman, which is the Transinsular Limited of Great Britain; The Flying Yankee, from Boston to Bangor; the Congressional Limited, to Washington; the Empire State, to Buffalo, and the Sunset Limited, to Southern California. There is more in the name of a fast express train than in the title of a play or novel. The man who is going to travel on a railroad, and has the price in his pocket, wants to buy a ticket for one of those appropriately titled trains every time.—New York Press.

AIMS AND OBJECTS OF THE OTTAWA ASSOCIATION.

Ellis Bros., Ottawa, under date of February 22, write as follows: Would you mind publishing the following, being the aims and objects of the Ottawa Retail Grocers' Association? We think it might be a benefit to the Association, as some grocers in the city who are not members might be interested in knowing:

AIMS AND OBJECTS.

1. Fostering a more social feeling among the members of the trade.
2. To patronize such wholesale houses as do an exclusive wholesale business.
3. Keeping a list of such persons as are not worthy of credit, for the information of members.
4. Watching all legislation affecting our interests.
5. Protection against the adulteration of goods, fictitious labels, and false weights and measures.
6. Shortening the hours of labor.
7. To recommend the adjustment of all trade disputes by arbitration whenever practicable.
8. To procure better laws in licensing pedlars, and other matters affecting our trade.

In carrying out these objects we hope to encourage every honest dealer, and to discourage and stamp out fraud and trickery everywhere, and by united action secure to ourselves and our customers all the benefits that are possible in connection with our business.

KAMLOOPS BOARD OF TRADE.

At the annual meeting of the Kamloops, B.C., Board of Trade there was a good attendance, and several new members were added.

A letter to Andrew Carnegie was read and adopted, asking him for assistance towards the erection of a sanatorium somewhere in the dry belt of British Columbia.

It was decided to withdraw from the membership of the Associated Boards of Trades of Eastern British Columbia.

It was moved that the C.P.R. be asked to hurry forward the equipment of their engines with electric headlights.

The election of officers resulted as follows:

EXPERIMENTS IN MAKING CEYLON GREENS.

(From The Times of Ceylon.)

AN important series of experiments in the manufacture of Ceylon green tea, with the object of improving the quality of the article, is to be conducted shortly at Finlay, Muir & Co.'s specially-equipped factory at Colombo, particulars of the erection of which were recently published in The Times of Ceylon. The inauguration of the work will be an important phase in the Ceylon green tea industry, as the idea is not to manufacture green tea as it has hitherto been manufactured. These experiments are going to be made by The Anglo-American Direct Tea Trading Co., two of whose representatives, Hubert Gault and Pritchard, have already arrived in the Island and are just now in Colombo. Mr. Gault, who is connected with the firm's business in Glasgow (James Finlay & Co.) has had considerable experience in everything that concerns tea, and is especially interested in green tea. He has engaged Mr. Pritchard, who has come from Japan, to assist him. The experiments they are to carry out will be solely on behalf of The Anglo-American Co., who have secured the manufacturing business in Colombo from Finlay, Muir & Co. on special terms. Equipment of the factory is nearly complete, and Mr. Gault is only awaiting the fitting up of certain machinery and the completion of a few other details before starting work in about six weeks' time. In the meantime, he will make a trip through the planting districts to arrange for a supply of green tea with which to commence operations. Preliminary experiments will decide what grade of leaf will be used to turn out green tea to the best advantage.

Mr. Gault, who was interviewed by a representative of The Times of Ceylon, mentioned that the new process would be different to that hitherto followed in Ceylon, in that the green tea would be perfected and thoroughly finished.

Asked as to what he thought of the green tea now manufactured in this country, Mr Gault argued strongly that it was worthless. "Ceylon green tea made as it has been up to date," he said, "has done the business a great deal of harm, and the article shipped to America and Canada under the name of "green tea is neither a green tea nor a black tea ; it has no keeping qualities, and is not particularly inviting in appearance."

The mistake made, he thought, was that the article was not finished ; it was a half-finished product, and the sooner Ceylon ceased shipping such an article out of the country the better. Looked at from a tea-man's point of view, he never saw anything like the stuff sent out from Ceylon. It did not approach the Japan and China greens.

"But is there not a demand for Ceylon green tea in the United States and Canada ?"

"Not a pound of Ceylon green tea would be sold in America at present were it not 'bolstered' up by money and other presents 'given away with a pound of tea.' Ceylon green tea is being used, to a small extent, in America to reduce the cost of other teas—that is, it is used to mix with other teas—and this demand would cease if it was sought to be sold at its proper value."

Speaking of the green-tea bonus, Mr. Gault remarked that if Ceylon was giving away a bonus on the manufacture of green tea, the committee should confine the bonus to properly manufactured tea, and thus encourage planters to turn out a well-made article. The general opinion in the United States was that Ceylon green tea was not properly manufactured, and there was no doubt if a finished article were turned out there would be a good demand for it. As it was, the green tea now made was of no use for purposes of trade or consumption, and, carrying the name of "Ceylon," did the Ceylon tea business a great deal of harm.

"Would there by a demand for 'finished' green tea from Ceylon with Japan and China in the market?"

"There is no reason to doubt it. I see no reason why enough good tea cannot be made in Ceylon to keep the market up. At present there is a demand in America and Canada for green tea to the extent of somewhere over 50,000,000 lb., and Japan and China supply only about 42,000,000 lb. Last year the export of Japan green tea was 38,000,000 lb., which is very much less than the average, which stands at 40,000,000 lb. There is no doubt that if Ceylon produced a good article it could create a demand for it. Black or green teas, as produced in the different tea-growing countries, as everyone knows, possess certain degrees of flavor due to soil peculiarities; and Ceylon can undoubtedly turn out a good, sound green tea, and that is what the great mass of the people in the States wanted."

TO BE REPRESENTED AT BOSTON.

At a meeting of the Tourist Association, Fredericton, N.B., the coming Boston Sportmen's Show was talked over, and it was arranged that one of their members, at least, should be at the show throughout its duration. At this show a large amount of advertising literature will be circulated, explaining the attractions that that section of New Brunswick has for the tourist and sportsman.

The city council will be asked to donate $250 for the aid of the association in its work. It is felt that much more effective work could be done by this increased grant. Last year the amount given was $150. The city of St. John gives $500 to the tourist association every year.

CHEESE-CURING STATIONS.

It is announced that the Dominion Government has decided to erect four curing stations for cheese factories in Canada, two in Ontario and two in Quebec. Woodstock and either Belleville or Brockville will probably be the points selected in Ontario for these stations.

As a result of placing himself in communication with Professor W. J. Robertson, Agricultural Commissioner for the Dominion, Mr. Andrew Pattullo, M.P.P., has completed arrangements for the holding of a meeting at Woodstock whereby the representatives of the various cheese factories of the district will be questioned as to whether they will interest themselves in the project.

The Dominion Department of Agriculture will manage this central curing station, and it will be an object lesson on the curing and handling of cheese. The meeting is to be held on March 1.

NEW ELEVATORS AT PORT ARTHUR.

At a meeting of the Canadian Pacific Railway Co.'s officers at Port Arthur, Ont., it was decided to build two elevators there during the season. The first will be a cleaning elevator and the second an addition to the steel tank elevator D. This structure will be enlarged to hold an additional 1,500,000 bushels. This and the new cleaning elevator will increase Port Arthur's storage capacity to over 7,000,000 bushels of grain. Altogether $400,000 will be spent by the company on improvements in that town.

MARCELLUS HARTLEY'S ESTATE.

It has now been learned that the late Marcellus Hartley left a will. The estate had previously been estimated to be about $1,000,000, but it is thought that it will now amount to upward of $60,000,000. Mr. Hartley was the head of the firm of M. Hartley & Co., of New York, which was formerly known as Hartley & Graham.

The firm did a conspicuous business prior to the Spanish War, and it is said that most of the supplies in the way of ammunition and arms supplied to the Cuban insurgents in the many filibustering expeditions which left the shores of the United States for Cuba were either sold or collected through the agency of this firm. Mr. Hartley was also a stockholder and director in The Westinghouse Electric Co.

The finding of the will was a surprise, as it was at first believed that he died intestate.

M. H. Dodge, his grandson, who is named as the heir to this vast estate, is now 20 years old and is a junior in Columbia University.

Mr. Hartley died very suddenly about a month ago, while he was attending a meeting of the directors of The American Surety Co.

For many years Mr. Hartley had been prominent in commercial life in the metropolis, having large and varied interests in important institutions. At his death he was president of The International Banking Corporation recently

AN EXTRAORDINARY PURCHASE.

The United Factories have recently made a heavy purchase in broom corn which will enable them to quote prices at no advance over those prevailing last fall. notwithstanding the fact that United States manufacturers have recently advanced their prices from 25 to 50c. per dozen. The United Factories intend to constantly pursue the policy of giving their customers the advantages of any special rates they may secure in the purchase of stock. These low prices will continue until this stock becomes exhausted, when it is likely it will be neccssary to advance rates. It is, therefore, an excellent opportunity for the trade to place orders at once.

A paper published in the United States says: The most capable business men in this country are those engaged in the sale of groceries. They are the distributors to the masses of the world's products. The graduate from the general store is generally well equipped to fill any position in the commercial world. Many of our most distinguished statesmen had their first experience in business measuring calico and weighing sugar and coffee behind a rude counter in a cross-roads general store.

Doubling Our Capacity

Owing to increased business we have commenced work on the installation of a monster Cold Storage Plant, which will be completed about the 15th of May with a storage capacity of sixty thousand (60,000) cubic feet, in twelve separate compartments. The system is so complete that the temperature in any one compartment may be raised or lowered as the grade of goods may require without affecting any of the other cool-rooms.

Our object in this is to offer to our customers the best possible advantages in marketing their produce. If we get it fresh we will keep it for a reasonable length of time in as good condition as it was received.

A great advantage in having your produce in our cool-rooms is that it remains in good condition and is always ready when the market prices are satisfactory, and at any time an offer should be made to us we would at once communicate same to you by wire if you had not already set your selling price. Nothing but eggs, butter, cheese and poultry will be stored, so there will be no chance of taints or foreign flavors.

We would be pleased to communicate with any who have not already arranged with us for the coming season and place their names on our books.

Drop us a card and we will give you full particulars.

ADVERTISING CANADA IN THE SOUTHERN STATES.

THE Grand Trunk Railway Company is sending a car on a 70-day trip through the Southern States for the purpose of advertising Canada as a summer resort. The car is specially equipped for the purpose, and will distribute at the places at which it stops a large quantity of advertising matter regarding the many summer resorts to be found on the G. T. R. System.

Canada is at least second to no other country in the world as a summer resort. As for variety, we know of no other that can approach it, with the Atlantic on her east coast, the Pacific on her west coast, and her magnificent rivers and enormous inland seas between. And all supplemented by a dry and bracing climate, and the means for gratifying the most ardent of sportsmen.

All these things are gradually becoming known to the outside world, but the railways (the Grand Trunk and the Canadian Pacific) have done far more to bring this about than all other agencies combined. Naturally, the railways have their own interests first in mind, but their enterprise is none the less worthy of commendation. And all the benefit by no means accrues to them. Business men certainly gain a great deal, directly or indirectly, from the influx of tourists, and, wherever and whenever they can assist the railways to disseminate information about Canada as a tourist resort, self-interest, if nothing else, should induce them to do so.

THE U. S. CAPITALIST IN CANADA.

A GOOD many tears are being shed by some of the newspapers in Canada because the United States capitalists are becoming prominent in her industrial life.

These tears are either of the crocodile description, or inability on the part of those who shed them to appreciate the economic conditions which induced capitalists in the United States to invest their money in the Dominion.

One of the drawbacks to Canada in the past was the slowness with which her natural resources were being developed. We had not the necessary capital ourselves. And we deplored the fact that outside capital did not come in and assist us. The capital we most courted was British capital. And that capital we still prefer to all others.

But the British capitalist has prepared to invest his funds elsewhere: in Central and South America, in Africa, and almost everywhere but in Canada. True, he is showing some signs of departing from his normal apathetic condition; but his condition is still passive. It is the capitalist in the United States who is active in his investments on Canadian account. It is the United States capitalist who first saw the possibilities of the iron and steel industry in this country and devoted his dollars to the development of it; that saw the possibilities of the gold, silver and lead mining industries in British Columbia and the Klondike and exhibited his confidence in them by spending his money on their development; and that put new life and energy into the coal-mining industry of Nova Scotia. In fact, in nearly all branches of Canadian industrial activity the United States capitalist is much in evidence.

The fact that United States capitalists are paying so much attention to Canada is an evidence that they realize the vastness of her natural resources and the greatness of her possibilities.

Those who are ready to grasp opportunities are those who have not allowed time to slip through their fingers.

PARTNERSHIPS FOR CLERKS.

THE keenest competition that merchants sometimes experience is that which arises from their own clerks who have gone into business on their own account.

It would be unwise to advise clerks not to go into business on their own account. On the contrary, it would be wise to induce them to cultivate an ambition in that direction. A young man who has no such ambition, or who has no desire to cultivate one, is lacking in those fundamentals which go to make a good clerk.

Merchants can, however, in many instances, prevent their clerks from becoming competitors by making them their partners.

It would not be reasonable for a merchant to give all his clerks an interest in his business. There are many who are not qualified for partnerships. But to the best clerk, where it is at all possible, it is only fair that an interest in the business should be held out as a reward for faithful services.

THE U. S. TOMATO COMBINE.

The executive committee of the Tomato Combine in the United States is experiencing some difficulty in making contracts with the growers. The Combine has officially made an offer of $7 per ton to South Jersey growers, but, while this offer is being accepted by some, it is being rejected by others.

Although the Combine will not, it is said, be in a position for a couple of weeks to officially name prices on futures, private advices from Baltimore report a strong and active interest in future tomatoes, and that orders have been booked in large volume on the basis of 60 to 65c. for 2-lb., and 80 to 85c. for 3-lb. standards, August and September delivery.

EXPERIMENTS IN MAKING CEYLON GREEN TEAS.

IN another part of the paper we reprint from The Times of Ceylon an interview with a Mr. Gault regarding Ceylon green teas. Mr. Gault declares that green tea as turned out by the factories in Ceylon is not properly made. It is, he says, "neither a green nor a black tea." And again, in answer to a question regarding the demand in the United States and Canada, he adds: "Not a pound of Ceylon green tea would be sold in America at present were it not bolstered up by money and other presents given away with a pound of tea."

Mr. Gault's remedy for the defects which he alleges to exist is the firing and packing of the green teas after the manner of the factories in China and Japan. We gather this not only from the reading of the interview with him, but from a conversation we have had with a teaman who, in turn, not long since, discussed the subject with Mr. Gault himself in London, prior to his departure for Colombo. The firm with which Mr. Gault is connected has arranged to manufacture and pack Ceylon green tea after the manner of Japan and China, and the result of the experiment will be watched with a great deal of interest.

As far as we can gather, opinion is divided in both Canada and the United States in regard to the wisdom of the new departure which the Anglo American Direct Tea Trading Company is taking.

To the tea manufacturers in Ceylon, and those dealers in the United States and Canada who are ardent champions of Ceylon greens, the proposition to adopt the tea-making methods of the competitive countries is no doubt somewhat humiliating. And furthermore, to make the leaf after the styles of China and Japan would certainly tend to deprive the Ceylon article of its individuality, as far as appearance at any rate is concerned. But looked at from the standpoint of utility, the question seems to resolve itself into this: Which method is going to be, in the long run, most conducive to the welfare of the tea industry of Ceylon? And this can only be ascertained by experiment. The logical conclusion, therefore, appears to be—go ahead with the experiment.

We cannot agree with Mr. Gault's statement that "not a pound of Ceylon green tea would be sold in America were it not bolstered up by money and other presents given away with a pound of tea." We are not prepared to speak for the United States. But, as far as Canada is concerned, they are simply gross exaggerations. And, according to Talleyrand's maxim, "Everything which is exaggerated is insignificant."

A year ago the sale of Ceylon green tea was undoubtedly stimulated by the fancy 60-lb. canisters given to every retailer who purchased a certain quantity of the tea. But we are not aware of any prize or consideration of any kind being given to consumers. At present there is quite a scarcity of Ceylon green tea on the Canadian market, and, the demand being in excess of the supply, prices are much higher than they were a month or two ago. No doubt the demand is to some extent stimulated by the extraordinary scarcity and dearness of China green teas. But that does not alter the fact that the teas are selling, and that without prizes attached thereto. Nor does it strengthen Mr. Gault's case, because the tea package firms are by far the largest purchasers of Ceylon green teas.

Whether Ceylon green teas will ever take the place of Japan and China greens remains to be seen. There are some who strongly maintain that they will. Others again are just as strong in the contrary view. Although there was a large increase in the importation of green tea of Indian and Ceylon growth last year, the quality is still relatively small when compared with China and Japan green teas. The importation of Ceylon and Indian green teas into Canada during 1900 and 1901 were as follows:

	1900.	1901.
Indian green, lb	23,214	81,578
Ceylon " "	27,175	334,634

Japan and China greens imported during the same periods were as follows:

	1900.	1901.
Japan greens, lb.....	8,520,781	6,645,337
China " ".....	1,235,197	863,506

A SILVER CABINET FOR MR. MATHEWS.

The Canadian Packers' Association held a meeting last week at the Waldorf Hotel, Hamilton. The retiring president, H. I. Mathews, of Lakeport, was presented with a handsome cabinet of solid silver. Addresses were made by W. Boulter, of Picton; W. P. Innes, of Simcoe; W. Ferguson, of Delhi; Jos. Dolan, of St. Catharines, and F. R. Lalor, of Dunnville, expressing their admiration for Mr. Mathews' efforts in connection with the Association. Mr. Samuel Nisbet, of Brighton, acted as chairman.

THE BEET-SUGAR INDUSTRY.

WILL WAIT ON THE PREMIER.

ON February 20 the manufacturing committee of the London City Council held a meeting and discussed the beet-sugar factory that they were requested to bonus. No definite progress in the matter has been made beyond the appointment of a deputation consisting of Charles S. Hyman and Sir John Carling to interview Sir Wilfrid Laurier, praying for aid.

WIARTON'S FACTORY PROGRESSING.

As the Cargill people have found out that it is too late to secure a sugar factory for this season, they have given up the project, and so upwards of 1,000 acres of beets that had been contracted for in that section have been turned over to the Wiarton factory. In the latter place a survey has been made for a dock 800 ft. long, and work will be commenced thereon as soon as the plans have been completed and the material is ready. The company have contracted for over 500 acres around Thornbury, and expect to have over 200 more secured in the course of a couple of weeks. At a recent meeting, J. C. Siemon was appointed president and managing-director, and Wm Young vice-president and treasurer.

URGING COUNTERVAILING DUTIES.

The resolution passed by the Hamilton Board of Trade Council in regard to the beet-sugar industry on February 21 was as follows:

That the Council of the Hamilton Board of Trade urges upon the Dominion Government the advisability of granting tariff aid in the form of a countervailing duty on bounty-fed sugar for a reasonable time, to promote the establishment of the beet-sugar industry in this country.

"SWEET AS A ROSE."

A Leeds provision merchant named Morgan was fined £5 and costs for selling a pound of butter which was found to contain 76 per cent. of foreign fat. The label on the "butter" described it as "pure fresh butter, finest selected; sweet as a rose."

CACAO, COCOA OR CHOCOLATE.

THE word "cocoa" is a corruption of the Spanish word "cacao," and had its origin in European markets. It is used to denote preparations of the cacao bean in powder, sweetened or unsweetened. Such powders are seldom prepared in the countries where cacao grows, the article known as chocolate being almost exclusively used in preference, except by Europeans who have become accustomed to the preparations of their own countries, for whom a certain quantity is imported. The word "chocolate" is of Mexican origin, and covers preparations from the cacao bean which solidify on cooling into cakes or bricks or other molded forms. We have, therefore, two names which cover preparations made from cacao beans, produced by the tree known as Theobroma Cacao, L.

Chocolate is made from the cacao bean roasted and ground to a paste, which hardens on cooling. This may be made sweetened or unsweetened, and as much as 40 to 60 per cent. of sugar is added when made into confectionery, but less when intended to be used for making a beverage. The paste may be made either by hand on a flat piece of freestone, or it may be ground in mills constructed for the purpose. The chief hardening ingredient is the fatty matter the beans contain known as cocoa fat and used largely in medical dispensaries.

Cocoa.—This is the name given to a product of the cacao bean, the preparation of which is commenced in the same way as the manufacture of chocolate; in fact, cocoa is nothing more and nothing less than chocolate with the cacao fat taken out, which prevents its solidiying into cakes.

The mannfacture of cacao or cocoa powder is an easy matter if provided with a proper press for the purpose. All operations in connection with cacao preparations have, however, to be carried out at a temperature not less than 85 deg. Fahr. to keep the fat melted. Even at this temperature the fat will harden, but the manipulation generally increases the temperature sufficiently to keep the fat fluid. When the roasted bean has been ground into a fine fluid pasty mass, the fat may be taken out by placing it in thin layers in linen cloths, and placing these in tiers in a suitable press. For this work it is better that the temperature should be as high as 90 deg. Fahr., or over, as the melted fat will flow the more freely. The fat comes away readily, but contains cacao red, the coloring matter of the bean, and some small portions of the solid matters of the paste. If the fat be at once filtered through animal charcoal in a water-oven, it will, on cooling, be perfectly white and clean. The residue which remains behind in the cloths—or the "press cakes" should now be removed. These are easily broken under slight pressure, and may be rubbed through a fine gauze sieve, the resultant powder being the "cocoa powder" of commerce. This may be mixed with finely-powdered sugar, if desired, to 40 or 50 per cent. Brown sugar is better for the purpose than white, as the latter alters the color out of market form. These powders are subjected by some makers to excessive adulteration by the addition of starches and other cheaper material. In some cases, alkalies are added for the purpose of saponifying any fat remaining in the powders. When so treated, the ring of froth seen around the edge of the breakfast cup is nothing less than a soap froth formed by the union of the cacao fat and the alkali employed, and the appearance of small globules of fat on the surface when prepared for consumption is considerable evidence of purity.

In a recent experiment in Trinidad, cacao beans were prepared with the following results, although our press and mill are by no means perfect for the purpose:

"From each pound of ground material, or cacao paste, 24 per cent. of fatty material was extracted by pressure, leaving 76 per cent. of dry powder.

"Treating the same material by the Soxtlet process, 36.6 per cent. of fat was obtained, leaving 63.4 per cent. of powder.

"The latter was probably not the whole fat content of the cacao, as it requires to be much more finely ground than is necessary for chocolate or cacao making to make sure of the extraction of the entire amount of fat."

The process adopted, however, showed the cacao powder or cooca powder to contain 12.6 per cent. of cacao fat, but this was not sufficient to render the beverage unpalatably greasy, and it makes an excellent cup for the breakfast table. — Planting Opinion.

WHERE MOST CHEESE IS MADE.

The Dutch town of Alkmaar, on the Great Northern Canal, about 20 miles from Amsterdam, is noted for being one of the biggest cheese markets in the world, not less than 5,000 tons of cheese being disposed of in the course of 12 months. The Dutch cheeses are made in spheres of three sizes, respectively, of 4 lb., 8 lb. and 12 lb. in weight, and the best quality fetches about 20 guilders, or about 35s. per 100 lb. Immediately after being weighed and marked off, the barrows are taken to the canal boats near by, and then the cheeses which they contain are rolled one by one into the hold through a wooden chute, to be transported to their various destinations. Before exportation they are given a coating of vegetable red, and it is in this guise that they are known the world over.—Tid-Bits.

GROWTH OF ARTIFICIAL ICE-MAKING.

The prosperity attained by business enterprises in this country in the last five years is frequently thought to be best reflected in the condition of its younger industries. Cold Storage, the organ of the ice-making and refrigerating trades, both of which are comparatively new, has collected statistics of their expansion and finds their prosperity by no means a little thing. Last year 222 companies, with a total capitalization of $44,738,000, were formed to manufacture ice, to erect cold stores or to build packing houses, creameries, fisheries or fruit-preserving plants artificially refrigerated. Only about half a dozen of these will use natural ice. The rest will make their own. In addition, $37,322,000 more capital was invested in improvements to existing plants. The census report shows that, in addition to this, there were already in existence nearly 800 artificial ice-making establishments in which $38,000,000 capital was invested, employing nearly 7,000 wage earners, to whom were paid nearly $3,422,186 in wages annually and producing nearly $14,000,000 worth of ice annually. There are now nearly 1,000 ice factories in operation or being built in the United States, and there is more than $51,000,000 invested in the business. New York and New Jersey come first in the number and extent of their ice-making and refrigerating plants, and, in the matter of new plants, Canada is far behind our own manufacturing States. Even Hawaii has a new ice plant, value $10,000.

IN INTEREST OF CEYLON GREENS.

Mr. William Mackenzie, the Ceylon tea commissioner, was in Toronto this week. His visit was especially in the interest of Ceylon green teas. "I am glad to find," he said, "that those who are handling them are pushing them with success." He says there are grocers in the country who have repeated their orders five, six and eight times.

PERSONAL MENTION.

Mr. E. A. Shoebotham, representing the North-Western Cereal Co., London, Ont., manufacturers of "Superior Breakfast Cream" and "Superior Gluten Flour," was in Toronto last week in the interest of his firm. It was his first trip, and he met with much encouragement.

"On the Question of Quality and Value"

There's no deviating from the beaten track that, to hold what you have and expand all you can, you "must" make your customer's interest identical with your own.

"SALADA" Ceylon Teas have a standard reputation for sterling worth that none can question—The sale proves this conclusively. Japan Teas are losing favor; "SALADA" Natural Greens are gaining. It might pay you to drop a postal for further enlightenment. Why not be a leader in the trade in introducing Ceylon Greens?

MARKETS AND MARKET NOTES

INFORMATION FOR BUYERS.

If any reader wishes to know where any article can be purchased in Canada or abroad, a letter to the Editor will probably place him in communication with the seller.

ONTARIO MARKETS.

Toronto, February 27, 1902.

GROCERIES.

THE wholesale grocery trade this week is of a somewhat uninteresting character. Business is quiet. The situation in canned goods is much the same as a week ago, the demand on the whole being only moderate, although prices are steady except in corn. The coffee market is quiet and unsettled. Spices are, as a rule, steady. Rice and tapioca are in fair demand. The demand for sugar is still light and the price declined 5c. at noon on Wednesday. Only a moderate trade is being done in teas and the improved tone noticed last week in the London market appears to be maintained. Syrups and molasses are meeting with a good demand. Business continues fairly good in currants and the demand is slightly better for Valencia raisins, in regard to which, prices are slightly firmer. A good business is still being done in prunes, the price of which, in the primary market, is rather firmer. There is a rather firmer feeling locally in dates and fractionally higher prices are being asked. A fairly good business is still to be noted in Californian evaporated peaches and apricots.

CANNED GOODS.

Nothing particularly new has developed in the canned-goods trade in the past week, canned tomatoes meeting with a fair demand, and some of the wholesalers have been making inquiries with a view to replenishing their stocks. The ruling price for tomatoes is 90 to 95c. The feeling in regard to corn is still unsettled and the demand is poor. The ruling price for corn is 75 to 80c. for ordinary brands, although these prices are being shaded. Only a small demand is reported for peas which rule at 80 to 85c. Beans are quiet at 85c. A little better demand is being experienced for strawberries and raspberries. Canned salmon, and, in fact, all kinds of canned fish are still rather quiet and it cannot be said that the demand has improved any during the past week. We now quote: Fraser river sockeye, $1.42½ for 5-case lots and over, and $1.45 for less quantities; Northern sockeye, $1.25 to $1.30; cohoes, $1.05 to $1.15.

COFFEES.

The demand for green Rio coffee has fallen off somewhat during the past week and only a small business is now being done. In roasted coffees, however, the demand continues good. The ruling prices on green Rio are: No. 7, 7⅜c.; No. 6, 8c.; No. 5, 8¼c.; No. 4, 1⅜c.; No. 3, 10 to 12c.

SPICES.

Locally, there is just a moderate trade being done. Cable advices report a steady market for pepper, and a healthier market is also cabled in regard to cloves. Mace is firm at unchanged prices.

RICE AND TAPIOCA.

Business in both rice and tapioca continues fairly good, with prices as before. Locally, we quote: B rice, 3¾c.; Japan, 5½c. to 6c.; sago, 4c.; tapioca, 4c.

SUGAR.

On Wednesday, at 12 o'clock, an unexpected decline of 5c. in sugar took place. The cause of the decline was, no donbt, the cutting of 5c. by the Howell refinery in New York. Right up to the time of the reduction the prospects looked more likely for an advance than a decline on the New York market, especially as the raw markets had been ruling fairly firm. Since our last report deliveries on existing contracts in Canada have been made with greater freedom, indicating that supplies in third hands are becoming exhausted. The London market, which has shown some advances since our last, declined slightly on Tuesday. In New York, raw sugars in first hands have been firmly held, and holders of Cuban sugars have been practically asking 1-16c. above recent sales in New York. The refiners were willing buyers at 3⅝c. for centrifugals. Beet sugars have fluctuated in Europe from 6s. 9d. to 6s. 10½d. during the current week, and at the moment the quotation is 6s. 9¾d., at which price they are slightly above the parity of centrifugal sugars in New York. The meltings of raw sugars in the four United States ports were 23,000 tons, while the receipts were 21,000 tons, showing a reduction in stocks of 19,096 tons for the week. The total stocks in the United States and Cuba at present are 63,114 tons more than at the same time a year ago.

See pages 33 and 34 for Toronto, Montreal, and St. John prices current.

SYRUPS AND MOLASSES.

There is a fair trade being done in syrups, chiefly in the corn description, and a good trade is reported in molasses. Open kettle molasses in the outside markets are reported to be in limited supply and controlled by a few hands. We quote as follows: Corn syrup, 3½ to 3⅝c. in bbls. and kegs; sugar syrups, 30 to 32c. for medium, and 35 to 37c. for bright; molasses, 24 to 26c. for medium, and 45 to 50c. for open kettle.

TEAS.

Nothing particularly new has developed in the tea market since our last review. The improved tone noted in the London market on Indian and Ceylon teas appears to have been maintained. Mail advices from London, under date of February 14, confirm what was said in last week's issue. These advices say that the appearance in the sale of autumnal teas is becoming more pronounced. Good liquoring teas are attracting more attention on the London market and are meeting with better competition. In some instances sales were made at a ¼d. per lb. over those current the previous week. A private letter received in Toronto this week from London, Eng., says, that in view of the statistical position of tea a permanent drop in price is not anticipated. Ceylon greens are still scarce and what little demand there is great difficulty is being experienced in meeting.

FOREIGN DRIED FRUITS.

CURRANTS.—A private letter received in Toronto, dated Patras, February 12, said the market there was somewhat brisker after a month of inactivity. Brokers on the local market report there has been a good deal of inquiry on importation account during the past week, and that several transactions have taken place. The wholesale trade report the demand still good on retail account. Prices rule as before: Filiatras, 6 to 6¼c.; Patras, 6½ to 7c.; Vostizzas, 8 to 8½c.

VALENCIA RAISINS.—Trade has improved a little during the past week, and there is a rather firmer feeling in regard to prices; in fact, some houses are asking ¼c. per lb. higher than they were a week ago, but the range in quotations for selected is still 6⅞ to 7c. The shipment of raisins ex-Ontanada have not yet reached this market, although the steamer arrived in New York about three weeks ago.

SULTANA RAISINS.—The demand is small and prices unchanged at 8½ to 12c.

PRUNES.—The demand for prunes is still active. Prices are firmer on the Coast but in Chicago quotations are below those ruling in California, and on the local market wholesalers are quoting figures which are lower than the goods could be laid down at if brought on at the prices now ruling in the primary market. Our quotations are as follows: Californian prunes, 100-110's, 5c.; 90-100's, 5½ to 6¼c.; 80-90's, 6½ to 7c.; 70-80's, 6¾ to 7¼c.; 60-70's, 7½ to 8c.; 50-60's, 8 to 8½c.; 40-50's, 8¾ to 10c.

DATES.—There is a fair demand and prices are firmer. Stocks are getting light and those who are holding are asking ¼c. more. In sympathy with this the wholesale trade is advancing its figures. We quote: Sairs at 4¼ to 4½c.; Hallowees at 4½ to 5c.

FIGS.—Stocks of tapnet figs are getting light and prices are firm at 3¾ to 3¾ cents.

CALIFORNIAN EVAPORATED FRUITS.—Both apricots and peaches are firmer in the primary market. Locally, there is a good demand at 11 to 12½c. for peaches, and 13 to 17c. for apricots, according to package and quality.

GREEN FRUITS.

Trade still continues light, and prices are steady. There has been a good demand for lemons, which has helped to clear the market. Californian navel oranges are also moving freely. Pineapples are down 10c. each, and the demand is improving. Grape fruit is also selling moderately. We quote: Oranges, marmalade, $3 per case; Tangerine or kid glove, $8 to $9 per strip, or $4 to $4.50 per half strip; Floridas, $3 to $3.25 per box; Mexicans, $2.25 per box; Californian navels, $3.25 to $3.75 per box; Valencias, $4.25 to $4.50 per small case, $5.25 to $5.50 per large case; apples, $3.50 to $5 per bbl.; grape fruit, $3.50 to $5 per box; Malaga grapes, $5.50 to $7 per bbl.; cranberries, Budd's long keepers, $9 to $10 per bbl.; bananas, $1.50 to $2 for firsts, and 80c. to $1 for first eight hands; pineapples, 15 to 25c. each by the case; Southern cucumbers, $2.25 to $2.50 per doz.; Spanish onions, large cases, $3.50; small crates, $1.10.

VEGETABLES.

Trade is still quiet. Rhubarb is scarce, and has been put up from 15 to 25c. per doz. bunches. The bulk of the sales are in carrots, turnips, cabbage and potatoes. We quote: Green onions, 10 to 15c. per doz.; rhubarb, 90c. to $1.25 per doz.; carrots, parsnips and beets, 20c. per peck; turnips, 15c. per peck and 35c. per bag; lettuce, 25 to 40c. per doz.; radishes, 40 to 50c.; mint and parsley, 20 to 25c.; celery, 50 to 60c.; red cabbage, 40 to 50c. per doz.; cabbage, 40 to 60c. per doz.; dry onions, $1.25 per bag; potatoes, 75 to 80c. per bag; artichokes, 60c. per bush.

COUNTRY PRODUCE.

EGGS — The receipts of new-laid eggs continue moderate, and the prices are firm. The stocks of cold-stored and limed are quite low. We quote: new-laid, 24 to 26c.; held fresh, 21 to 23c.; cold-stored, 20 to 22c., and limed, 19 to 20c. per doz.

BEANS—Trade is quieter and prices have been reduced 30 to 40c. per bush. We quote: Choice hand-picked, $1.25 to $1.60; prime, $1.10 to $1.35 per bush.

HONEY — The movement is fair. We quote: Clover, in 60 lb. tins, 9½ to 10c.; less quantities, 10 to 11c. per lb.; in combs, $2 to $3 per doz.

DRIED AND EVAPORATED APPLES—Evaporated apples are moving freely and prices are steady. We now quote as follows: Evaporated apples, 9¾ to 10c. in carlots and 10¾c. in less quantities. Dried apples 5 to 6c. per lb.

POTATOES—Potatoes are now worth 60 to 65c. per bag on the track. The offerings are fair.

BUTTER AND CHEESE.

BUTTER—The poor roads usually prevalent this time of year are having their effect in decreasing the receipts of milk at the creameries, consequently there has been an advance of 1c. in creamery pound prints and a further rise is not improbable. The demand for choice dairy butter is brisk. We quote: Choice 1-lb. prints, 17 to 19c.; large rolls, 16 to 17c.; tubs, best quality, 15 to 16c.; tubs, medium grade, 13 to 14c. per lb.; bakers' lots, 10 to 12c. Creamery prints are worth from 21 to 23c., and creamery solids, 20 to 21½c. per lb.

CHEESE—It seems that the export demand is not as brisk as was expected and this has a tendency to weaken the prices. The local trade is fair and sales are being pushed at the lowest prices. We quote cheese at 10¼ to 10¾c. in small quantities and 10 to 10½c. for larger for shipment.

POULTRY.

DRESSED POULTRY—The only receipts are a few turkeys, which are generally in good condition and bring fancy prices. We We quote: Chickens, 50 to 90c. per pair; ducks, 90c. to $1.20 per pair; geese, 8 to 9c. per lb.; turkeys, 12 to 15c.

LIVE POULTRY — There is a pronounced quietness in the live poultry trade. The Canadian Produce Co. Limited, 36 and 38 Esplanade street east, Toronto, will pay, until further notice for live chickens, 8c., for ducks and turkeys 10c., for geese, 6c. per lb. All must be young birds. For hens, 5c. per lb. Dressed poultry, dry picked (except hens), ½c. lb. higher. These prices are for weight on arrival. Crates for live poultry supplied free, and express paid up to 50c. per 100 lb. of chickens. No thin birds will be taken.

FISH AND OYSTERS.

Oysters are still scarce and the prices are firm. Selects have been advanced 25c. to $1 per pail. The demand for frozen and fresh fish is heavy. The best selling fish are herring, trout, salmon and whitefish, and the stock is getting low for these dealers having a tendency to stiffen their prices. We quote: Fresh and frozen fish—Codfish, 6 to 8c.; whitefish, 6½ to 7½c.; herring, 4 to 5c.; trout, 7½c.; halibut, 10 to 15c.; haddock, 5c. per lb.; perch, 5c.; British Columbian salmon, fresh, 20c., frozen, 11c.; Labrador herring, $3 to $3.25 per 100-lb. bbl. Smoked fish—Ciscoes, $1 to $1.25; finnan haddie, 6½ to 7c.; Digby herring, 50 to 65c. per bundle. Prepared fish — Dried cod, in 112-lb. bundles, $4.75 per cwt.; flitched cod, $5.50 to $6; boneless cod, in bricks, 4½ to 5½c. per lb.; steak cod, 6½c. per lb.; shredded cod (2 doz. in box), $1.80 per box; boneless fish, loose, in 25-lb. boxes, 4 to 4½c., and in 5-lb. boxes, 5c. per lb.; bloaters, per box of 50, $1 to $1.25; kippered herring, 50 in a box, $1 to $1.25 per box; smelts, per 15-lb. box, extras, 12c. per lb.; No. 1, 6½ to 7c. per lb. Oysters—Standards, $7.25 to $7.50 per large pail, or $4 50 per small pail; selects, $5 to $6 per pail.

GRAIN, FLOUR AND BREAKFAST FOODS.

GRAIN—The movement in Manitoba and Northwestern wheat is fair. The prices are steady at 87c. per bush. for No. 1 Manitoba hard wheat, 83c. for No. 1 Northern and 80c. for No. 2 Northern grinding in transit Sarnia, and 1c. less Toronto and west. The receipts on the local market are light. Prices, however, have a tendency to weaken. We quote prices paid by buyers on the street as follows: White and red Ontario wheat, 71 to 77c.; goose, 66½ to 67c.; oats, 46 to 47c.; rye, 59c.; barley, 54 to 63c.; peas, 80 to 85c.; buckwheat, 60c.

FLOUR — There is a moderate home demand, and trade is improving. We quote: Ontario patents, in bags, $3.70 to $3.80; Hungarian patents, $4.05; Manitoba bakers', $3.80; straight roller, $3 40 to $3.50 per bbl. in Toronto.

BREAKFAST FOODS—The movement in oatmeal and rolled oats continues to drag, and prices are down 20c. per bbl. This reduction is to meet the lower quotations of some Western millers who are making attempts to secure the trade. We quote as follows: Oatmeal, standard and granulated, in carlots on track here, $5.05; standard rolled oats in carlots on track here, $4.80; in bbls., 15c. more; broken lots are 20c. per bbl. extra; rolled wheat,

HIDES, SKINS AND WOOL.

Trade is slack in hides and skins and wool is stagnant. Prices are steady We quote buyers' prices on arrival:

HIDES—We quote: No. 1, green, 7c.; No. 2 green, 6c.; No. 1 green, steers, 8c.; No. 2 green, steers, 7c.; cured, 7¾ to 8c.

SKINS—We quote: No. 1 calfskins, 9c.; and No. 2, 7c.; deacons (dairies) 55 to 60c. each; sheepskins, 65 to 80c.; deerskins, 12½ to 14c. per lb.

WOOL—We quote: Fleece, 13c., and unwashed. 7 to 8c. per lb.

SEEDS.

The prices this week are unchanged and the market is quiet. As usual, a little more will be paid for better and a little less for poorer samples. We quote buying price at outside points: Red clover, $4.50 to $4.60; alsike, $7 to $8, and timothy, $2.50 to $3.25 per bush.

MARKET NOTES.

Pound prints of creamery butter are 1c. higher.

There has been an advance from 15 to 25c. per doz. bunches in rhubarb.

Oatmeal and rolled oats are down 20c. per bbl. of 196 lb.

All refined sugars declined 5c. per 100 lb. at noon on Wednesday.

Dates are firmer, and some houses are marking their figures up ¼c. per lb.

Prunes are held a little more firmly on the Coast.

WILL REPORT ON THE MARKET.

The Butchers' Section of the Toronto branch of The Retail Merchants' Association of Canada, held their regular meeting in their chambers, on Bay street, on Tuesday evening, February 25. Chairman H. Puddy presided.

The advisability of having an Act introduced in the Legislature compelling every butcher to pass an examination on his knowledge of the trade before engaging in the butcher business was considered by those present. It was thought to be a good idea and was left over to the legislative committee for further consideration.

The present condition of the market was the subject on which Mr. Parks, of the St. Lawrence market, addressed the meeting. The present state of this market will be reported on by a committee of butchers who were delegated to meet a committee from The Market Lesees' Association, for further consideration.

J. Willmott was appointed chairman for the reception committee; A. J. Pidlington, for the finance committee; H. Puddy, for the legislative committee; T. Clayton, for the entertainment and refreshment committee; H. Marks, for the trade improvement committee, and J. L. Woods, for the membership committee.

QUEBEC MARKETS.

Montreal, February 27, 1902.

GROCERIES.

THE business doing in general groceries this week, apart from the demand for certain goods which are moving better on account of Lent, can be called only moderate. But there are several lines for which the Lenten season creates a brisk demand, and in these wholesale grocers are going the active business. Foreign dried fruits are in particularly good demand, though in some cases the supply is very light. In Valencia raisins holders are selling to their regular trade only. Prunes, which are always in demand, have taken an extra spurt this week, due probably to the advance in the primary markets. Barbados molasses show a decline of 2c. The country produce market shows a sharp decline in fresh eggs, and these are apt to go down now till normal prices are reached. Business, on the whole, is pretty good, though were it not for the Lenten demand there would be but a light movement.

SUGAR.

There is nothing new to report in prices this week. There is only a light inquiry, and prices at the moment of writing appear to be steady. Dealers declare that they have no idea whether there is likely to be an advance or not, but state that they do not look for a decline. Higher prices are more likely to prevail than lower. Granulated sugar is quoted at $3.90 and yellows at $3.15 to $3.80.

TEAS.

The situation in the tea market has not materially altered. All green teas remain very firm. Ceylon greens, on account of a scarcity in the local market, are also strong, but there will likely be an improvement shortly as new shipments are expected in before long.

SYRUPS.

Syrups are in active inquiry at present, and prices are well maintained. There has been no quotable change. Corn syrups are quoted as follows: 3½c. in bbls.; 3⅝c. in ½ bbls.; 3¾c. in ¼ bbls.; $1.60 in 38½-lb. and $1.20 in 25-lb. pails.

MOLASSES.

There has been a decline of 2c. in Barbados molasses, and the price is now 27c. An active demand continues, caused by the Lenten season. There is practically no Antigua molasses in the market just now. The nominal price, in single puncheons, would be 24c.

CANNED GOODS.

In canned goods business is quite brisk. There has been no change in quotations since our last report. Tomatoes are firm at current quotations, and the demand is good. Peas and corn are moving moderately well. For canned salmon, of course, there is now an active inquiry. Our quotations are as follows: Peas, 82½c. to $1.15, according to quality; corn (ordinary stock), 80c.; tomatoes, 92½ to 95c.; gallon apples, $2.70 to $2.80; 3-lb. apples, $1. Salmon, $1 to $1.05 for pink; $1.30 for spring; $1.32 for Rivers Inlet red sockeye; $1.45 for Fraser River red sockeye, and $1.42½ to $1.45 for Clover Leaf talls.

SPICES.

Business this week in spices generally is fairly active, and in most lines prices remain firm. Peppers have weakened somewhat on the local market, notwithstanding that the primary market is still strong. This is thought to be due to the fact that some job lots of slightly damaged goods have been offered to the trade of late. Our quotations are now as follows: Nutmegs, 30 to 55c. per lb., as to size; penang mace, 45 to 50c. per lb.; as to quality; pimento, ground, 12½ to 15c.; cloves, 15 to 25c.; pepper, ground, black, 17 to 22c., according to grade; white, 25 to 27c.; ginger, whole, Cochin, 15 to 17c.; Japan, 13 to 14c.; Jamaica, 16 to 20c.; Afghan, 12 to 13c.; ground, Japan, 15c.; Cochin, 16 to 17c.; Jamaica, 20 to 22c., and Afghan, 13 to 14c.

RICE AND TAPIOCA.

There is a good trade doing in tapioca at steady prices. The situation in the local Patna rice market has not changed. The demand is good. We quote in combine district: B rice, in bags, $3.10; in ½ bags, $3.15; in ¼ bags, $3.20; in pockets, $3.25. In 10-lb. lots an allowance of 10c. is made. CC rice, $3 in bags; $3.05 in ½ bags; $3.10 in ¼ bags; and $3.15 in pockets. In the open territory prices are about 10c. less. Patna rice is worth 5 to 5¼c. per lb., and tapioca, 3⅝ to 4c.

FOREIGN DRIED FRUITS.

CURRANTS.—There is a fair inquiry for currants, and prices are steady at the recent slight decline on the primary markets. Fine Filiatras, in ½ cases, are worth 5⅝c.; cleaned, 6c.; 1-lb. cartons, 8c.; finest Vostizzas, 7¾ to 8c.

VALENCIA RAISINS.—Stocks are very low on the local market and importers are selling to their regular customers only. Prices are firm. Finest off-stalk are worth 5⅝c.; selected, 6⅜c.; layers, 6⅞c.

CANDIED PEELS.—These are in good demand this week at current prices. We quote: Orange peel, 11½c.; lemon peel, 10½c.; citron, 16½c.

MALAGA RAISINS.—There is but a slight inquiry for these, and prices are steady and unchanged. We quote as follows: London layers, $1.50 to $1.60; "Connoisseur Clusters," $2.15 to $2.25; ¼'s, 65 to 70c.; "Royal Buckingham Clusters," $3.30 to $3.35; ¼'s, $1.05 to $1.10; "Excelsior Windsor Clusters," $4.50 to $4.60; ¼'s, $1.30 to $1.40.

DATES.—Trade has improved. Hallowee dates are worth 4¼ to 4½c.

FIGS.—The market is quiet and no quotable change has occurred. We quote $1.15 for both layer and tapnet figs.

CALIFORNIAN RAISINS.—The situation has not improved. The primary market is practically bare, and the few that are held by importers are very firm in price. Seeded sell for 9¼ to 9½c. per pound.

PRUNES.—There is usually at this season of the year a good demand for prunes, and this has been stimulated this year by a recent advance of ½c. on the Coast. Small sizes of 1901 crop are unobtainable. A few Bosnais which were imported were quickly taken up to supply this demand, though none have been imported this season. We quote 8½c. for 40-50's, 8c. for 50-60's, 7⅞c. for 60-70's, 7½c. for 70-80's, 6⅞c. for 80-90's, 6½c. for 90-100's.

CALIFORNIAN EVAPORATED FRUITS.—These are in good demand, and prices are well maintained. Apricots are worth 11½c.; peaches, 10½c.; pears, 10c.

NUTS.

Trade is dull. We quote: Walnuts, 9¾ to 11c.; Tarragona almonds, 12 to 13c.; shelled walnuts, 16½ to 17½c.; shelled almonds, 26 to 27c.; Jordan shelled almonds, 42c.; filberts, 8¾ to 9¼c.; pecans, 15 to 16c.

BUTTER AND CHEESE.

BUTTER.—The local trade in butter is good. Exporters are experiencing a splendid demand for the finest goods, and they have difficulty in procuring such butter. On this account several orders have been refused. It is expected that prices will remain as at present for some time. Finest creamery is worth 22 to 22½c.; medium, 20 to 21c.; large rolls, 17½ to 18c.

CHEESE.—Exporters have at last managed to bring English buyers to their terms, and a good demand for the Old Country now prevails at prices equal to 10 and 10¼c. in Montreal. Exporters are buying all lots offering. The local market is active, and prices are firm at 10 to 10½c.

COUNTRY PRODUCE.

EGGS.—There are practically no pickled or cold-storage eggs on the market, one house, with 50 cases, holding the entire lot. New-laid eggs are down to 28c., a decline since last week of 4 to 7c., and the end is not yet. Though the demand is increasing for them, deliveries are larger for the season than in any previous year. The market is very easy, and it is not likely that the quoted price will be maintained for any length of time.

HONEY.—No quotable change occurs in honey. There is a small inquiry. We quote as follows: Buckwheat, in comb, 8 to 9c.; strained, 6½ to 7c.; white clover comb, 12c.; white extracted, 9 to 10c. per lb.

ASHES.—There is little doing. Prices show no actual change. First pots sell for $4.40 to $4.45; seconds, $3.95 to $4; pearls, $6.75 to $7 per 100 lb.

DRESSED POULTRY.—The market this week has been rather quiet, and no quotable change has occurred. We quote: Choice turkeys (frozen), 11½ to 12c.; ordinary, 10½ to 11c.; choice chickens, 10 to 11c.; choice geese, 7 to 8c.; fowl, 5 to 7c. per lb.

GREEN FRUITS.

Business in green fruits continues fair. Messina lemons are more plentiful on the market and prices are not so firm, although there has been no change made. Grape fruit now ranges from $4.25 to $6 per box. The larger sizes of fruit have become rather scarce, and higher prices are asked for it. Our quotations are as follows: Jamaica oranges, in bbls., $4.50 to $4.75; in boxes, $2.75; Florida oranges, $3.50 to $3.75; Californian sunflowers, $3.50 to $3.75; other marks, $3.25 to $3.50; Valencia oranges, 420's, $3.25 to $3.50; 420's, Jumbo, $4.75; 714's, $4.50; Messina lemons, $2.75 to $3 per box; pineapples, 20 to 30c.; Canadian apples, $4.25 to $5.50 per bbl.; cocoanuts, $3.50 per bag of 100; bananas, No. 1, $1.75 to $2.25, and eight hands, $1 to $1.50; Spanish onions, $1.10; sweet potatoes, Vineland's, $4.75 to $5.50; Malaga grapes, $5.50 to $7 per keg; cranberries, $7.75 to $10.50; barrel onions, $3.25; red onions, $3.50; yellow, $3.25; chestnuts, 10 to 11c.; Italian chestnuts, 12½c.; Florida tangerines, $3.25 per box; Californian tangerines, $1.75 per box ; grape fruit, $4.25 to $6 per box; Florida tomatoes, $4.50 to $5.00 per crate ; fine Spies, $5 to $5.50.

FISH.

The demand for fish at the present season is, of course, a heavy one. Wholesalers have come to the end of their stocks of green cod, not only the large and medium sizes being exhausted, but the small sizes, which the trade had to fall back on, have dwindled down to a very small compass. Fried smelts are another line which many dealers have run short on. These cannot be replenished till the new catch comes in, and packers have also run short. Herrings are selling with unusual rapidity. Labrador herrings are reported to be getting scarce. Our quotations are now as follows : Haddies, 6c. ; bloaters, 90c. per box; kippers, 90c. per box ; smoked, medium herrings, 11c. per box ; fresh haddock and cod, 3½c. per lb.; whitefish, 6½c.; dore, 5½c.; pike, 4½c.; halibut, 12½ to 13½c.; salmon, 12½c.; trout, large and medium, 7c.; No. 1 herrings, Nova Scotia, $5.25 per bbl.; No. 1 herrings, Nova Scotia, $2.80 per ½ bbl.; No. 1 Holland herrings, $6.50 per ½ bbl.; No. 1 Scotch herrings, $6.50 per ½ bbl.; No. 1 Scotch herrings, 98c. per keg ; Holland herrings, 72c. per keg ; salted eels, 6½c. per lb.; No. 1 green codfish, $5.75 per bbl.; No. 2, $4.50 ; large, $6.50 ; No. 1 green haddock, $4.25 per bbl.; No. 1 pickled sardines, $5.50 per bbl.; No. 2 mackerel, $12.50 per bbl.; No. 3 mackerel,$9 per bbl.; cod, 1 and 2-lb. blocks, 6c. per lb.; loose boneless cod, 5c. per lb. in 40-lb. boxes ; dressed codfish, $4.80 per case ; dry codfish, $4.65 per 112-lb. bundle ; No. 1 Labrador salmon, $17.50 in tierces ; No. 1 Labrador salmon, $12 per bbl.; No. 1 Labrador salmon, $6.25 per ½ bbl.; No. 1 B.C. salmon, $6 per ½ bbl. and $11 per bbl.; standard bulk oysters, $1.30 per gal.; select bulk oysters, $1.50 per gal.; Malpeque, Blue Point and other shelled oysters, $6 per bbl.; clams, in shell, $4.50 per bbl.; Marshall's kippered herrings, and same with tomato sauce, $1.45 per doz.; Canadian kippered, $1 per doz.; Canadian ¼ sardines, $3.75 per 100 ; canned Cove oysters, No. 1 size, $1.30 per doz.; canned Cove oysters, No. 2 size, $2.20 per doz.

FLOUR AND GRAIN.

FLOUR.—Demand is moderate for small lots. Spring wheat patents are selling at 10c. lower than last week, and strong bakers' has also declined 10c. We quote : Spring wheat patents, $4 to $4.20 ; winter wheat patents, $3.85 to $4 ; strong bakers', $3.80 to $3.90 ; straight rollers, $3.60 to $3.70.

GRAIN.—The market is inactive, but prices, on the whole, are maintained. Oats are in active demand locally, at 47 to 47½c. ex-store. We quote : Manitoba, No. 1 hard, 73c.; peas, 79c.; rye, 63 to 64c. (carlots in store) ; seed barley, 53c.; oats, 47 to 47½c.; buckwheat, 53½c. east ; corn, 65 to 66c.

OATMEAL.—There is a fair demand, mostly in small lots. The prices of rolled oats are $5 to $5.30 in barrels, and $2.15 to $2.47½ in bags.

FEED.—Business is active, there being a good inquiry from country buyers. We quote as follows : Ontario bran, $20 ; mouille, $28 ; Manitoba bran, $20 ; shorts, $21 per ton, including bags.

BALED HAY.—The local market is quiet, but the demand is steady. There is no quotable change. We quote : No. 1 timothy, $10 to $10.50 ; No. 2, $9 to $9.75 ; clover, mixed, $8 to $8.50 ; clover, $7 to $7.50 per ton, in carlots.

MONTREAL NOTES.

Barbados molasses are 2c. lower.

New-laid eggs dropped 7c. this week.

Californian prunes have advanced ½c. on the primary markets.

Strong bakers' flour and spring wheat patents are both 10c. lower.

Large sizes of grape fruit are scarce and have advanced to $6 per box.

Green cod, in all sizes, is practically exhausted, and fried smelts are also very scarce.

NEW BRUNSWICK MARKETS.

OFFICE OF THE CANADIAN GROCER.

St. John, N.B., February 22, 1902.

BUSINESS is still quiet except as regards the winter export business, which is exceeding anything expected. The large quantity of hay coming here for South Africa causes the tracks to be very much congested. In incoming freight the Canadian Pacific have had to turn some over to the Intercolonial as they have not enough steamship berths at their terminal. This is just so much gain for the Government road. Some local importations are very large, particularly in dry goods and tea. In dry goods, in former years, importations via American ports were very large, but this season our local people are having their goods come direct. We trust Western Canadian importers are loyal to the Canadian port. In the markets, changes are small. Fresh fish are scarce. Cream of tartar is low.

OILS.—In burning oils there is no change in price. Business continues quite active, but is, of course, not growing. In paint oils the season of sale is now opening. Prices in linseed oils are showing quite an advance, and besides the higher figures which we quote this week a further advance is directly expected. Of course, raw and boiled linseed advance together. Turpentine is also very strong. Benzine shows no change. Sales of lubricating oils are being actively pushed. In this there is much more competition than in burning oils. Values cannot be so nearly judged. Prices are unchanged.

SALT.—In Liverpool coarse salt regular shipments continue to arrive. Quite a large shipment came by a tramp steamer, but the importation was not a success. Prices are firm. In fine salt Canadian holds the market. Our quotations are as follows : Liverpool coarse, 50 to 60c.; English factory-filled, 95c. to $1 ; Canadian fine, $1 per bag ; cheese and butter salt bulk, $2.40 per bbl.; 5-lb. bags, $2.85 to $2.90 per bbl.; 10-lb. bags, $2.70 to $2.75 per bbl.; 20-lb. wood boxes, 22c. each ; 10-lb. wood boxes, 14c. each ; cartons, $2 per case of 2 doz.; English bottled salt, $1.25 to $1.30 per doz.; mineral rock salt, 60c. per 100 lb. (Selected lumps.)

CANNED GOODS.—There was a car of gallon apples picked up by a local broker acting for a western house. It was for shipment to London. This makes a firmer market here. In vegetables, holders find it difficult to get full figures. Fruits are firmly held. Strawberries and blueberries are quite scarce, particulaely the latter. Salmon shows a wide range in both price and quality and there are fair sales. In canned meats, which as yet show a light demand, holders are unable to get the advance. In lobsters, while they are offered much more freely than during the last few years, there is a wide range in

NOVA SCOTIA MARKETS.

Halifax, N.S., February 24, 1902.

EVERYTHING in the grocery line appears to have had slight improvement during the past week, and business is moving sharply out of the dull period. Spring orders are coming in fairly well, and the retail trade is in a healthy condition. The remarkably fine weather of the last two weeks, with plenty of snow for good roads, has been a factor in improving trade in the grocery as well as all other lines.

The fish market remains remarkably dull, largely on account of the West-Indian market, and for the last month prices have gone down in the principal lines, rather than upward. Considerable cod and haddock from shore points, salmon, trout and herring from Newfoundland are coming in, but until the West-Indian market improves there will be little change in prices. Enough fresh fish is coming in for the local market, for which there is the usual Lenten demand. We note by arrivals of steamer Minto at Pictou that the usual large quantities of boxed smelts are being exported from the Island.

The lobster business on the South Shore is very poor indeed, and the lucky fisherman who can secure a few crates of this fish to export alive to Boston has a good thing. A month or six weeks ago live lobsters brought $12 to $13 in Boston. Later the price rose to $15, which was considered remarkably good. Ten days ago a shipment of 18 crates arrived in Boston and brought $22. Fishermen at Duck Island, Shelburne, report that there is an unusually large proportion of spawn lobsters taken. Here is the cause of the great depletion of the crustacean on our shores.

The provision market remains firm. There has been a slight advance in barreled pork and beef, and in fresh meats generally, as already noticed last week. No further advance is anticipated. Potatoes have advanced from 42 to 45c. Oats have an upward tendency and are quoted 2c. higher—54 to 56c. Butter remains unchanged in price, and best creamery is still scarce. Cheese remains unchanged, with very little moving. Eggs, fresh, by the case, have dropped from 23 to 20c., which is not down to last year's level, which was, as this date, about 17c.

The flour market is firm, with only a limited business doing, but prices remain firm. Very shortly the spring demand will open and prices are expected to run a shade higher. Feeds remain firm, prices being slightly lower than at the first of the year. Rolled oats have been advanced 25c., also oatmeal. The market remains firm and the chances are open for higher prices.

Hay, which has maintained its high price during the winter, on account of the unusually large shipments to South Africa, has dropped slightly. Dealers here finding the growers holding for high prices, began to import from Quebec, and the holders have come down in their ideas. They will sell freely now rather than hold over for another season, the prices in which may be largely lower. It may here be noted that though Canada raises some 7,000,000 tons of hay, we have actually a very small proportion for export. Some place this at less than larger quantity—over 75 per cent. Too much hay being exported causes a larger demand for the various feeds, which somewhat accounts for late high prices.

* * *

There is no change in the sugar or molasses markets. Business is fairly good and the prices well maintained. New crop molasses may soon have to be reported, and as the Porto Rico and other markets have advanced last year's prices, new-crop prices may be slightly higher here. There is enough here in stock, however, for present needs, and importers are inclined to wait for lower primary prices.

R. C. H.

THE OTTAWA ASSOCIATION.

Editor CANADIAN GROCER.—I notice that "Lesser Light," in his complimentary, not to say flattering, reply to my last letter in THE CANADIAN GROCER, apologizes in a way for trespassing on your space, but I feel sure, sir, you will realize that the matter of maintaining prices is of the utmost importance to the grocery trade, and I would therefore like, with your permission, to say a few more words on the subject, having reference to the trade in Canada in general, and in Ottawa in particular.

I do not know how it strikes the gentlemen in Ottawa who indulge in the frivolity of price-cutting, but it has always occurred to me that it requires but the very lowest order of business ability to draw trade by cutting prices. I always try to instil into the mind of a clerk that it takes a smart man to sell a good article at a good price, but that any fool can sell things cheap. All the world loves a bargain. This truth applied to employes applies with even more force, I think, to the employer, who has more need to study the point. No man can go on selling goods at cost without ending in bankruptcy, unless he is backing his horse with another man's money, and even then the pocket must be long to continue the game. One thing is certain, the money was never made in that way in the first place.

There has been a good deal of price-cutting in groceries in Ottawa during the past year, not only by one of the gentlemen who was so instrumental and assiduous in helping to form the Grocers' Association, but by another large and old-established firm (and not a departmental store either, mind you) on one of the main streets, from which you would naturally expect a higher order of business statesmanship. It always seems to me that when a firm of very old standing, and which has long enjoyed a good connection, begins to slash prices, there must be a lamentable deficiency somewhere in the management, whose business capacity must surely be at a loss to devise some other and more dignified, business-like and up-to-date way of keeping the ground from slipping from under them.

There is only one departmental store in Ottawa which slaughters prices in the grocery line to any considerable extent, and that is not by any means a high-class store, and only enjoys a certain class of trade. Consequently, there is no earthly reason why any grocer need resort to cutting prices, association or no association.

As one who believes in a fair price for a good article—and as one who gets it, cutters and slashers notwithstanding—I would like to see a few of my weak-kneed confreres pull themselves together a bit and remember what "A Buyer of Quality" said in last week's GROCER on the canned goods question: "The strongest—men of business ability and those who can command an enhanced price for superior quality—it can safely be prophesied will weather the storm."

I am glad to see "Lesser Light" turn about and come out so flat-flooted on price-cutting within the Association, and I thank him for his kind invitation to me to join the Association, but, after having given the matter careful consideration, I have come to the conclusion that if I can make converts as quickly as I converted "Lesser Light," I can be of more service to the Association for the time being by remaining outside.

GROCERS ON THE EXHIBITION BOARD.

BY appointment with Secretary Hill a deputation from the Toronto Retail Grocers' Association waited on the Executive Committee of the Toronto Exhibition Board last Friday afternoon, February 21, and asked that the association be given representation on the board. This deputation consisted of President W. J. Sykes, D. J. Kelly, J. G. Gibson and D. W. Clark.

These pointed out to the Executive that although they could see no fault with the way things are at present conducted, yet they considered it to be highly advantageous for the Exhibition Board to have on it a representative from the Retail Grocers' Association. This would be more apparent when over sixty per cent. of the exhibits at the Industrial Exhibition were contributed by those engaged in the grocery trade. All expressed their views in much the same strain.

After some consultation the executive informed them that they thought the idea of a representative from the Toronto Retail Grocers' Association a good one, and, as far as they could see, they would be able to grant them one representative and no more, as the Retail Merchants' Association had only that number. They promised to take it into their consideration, and would let the deputation know the result of their deliberations in a day or so.

The Retail Grocers' Association of Toronto has since been informed that they are to have one representative on the Exhibition Board. Mr. J. G. Gibson has been appointed to that office.

MANITOBA MARKETS.

Winnipeg, February 24, 1902.

GROCERYMEN have done a large business for the week, but, in produce, things are moving very slowly. There are few changes of price for the week, and none of an important nature.

SUGARS—Are firm at last week's prices of $4.85 for granulated and $4 20 for yellows.

SYRUPS—This market is very firm, and shows a slight advance, being quoted at 3½ to 4⅝c. for barrels and 3⅝ to 3¾c. for half barrels.

EVAPORATED AND DRIED FRUITS—Reports are to hand of a further advance of ¼c. on Californian muscatels and ½c. advance on apricots, peaches and some other lines. These advances have not yet affected prices here.

CANNED GOODS—Are selling steadily, with prices firm and without change. The situation as regards tomatoes is unchanged, and but few dealers are making purchases at present.

FLOUR—The conditions with regard to export which obtained last week remain unchanged, and, in consequence, trade has been very dull. Locally, small orders for immediate consumption are coming in all the time, but there is little or no export trade at the moment. The Lake of the Woods Milling Co. have announced their intention of closing for a time, because they cannot get a sufficient supply of wheat for full capacity of mill. The Ogilvies are still running full capacity, and no word has come to hand of their closing down at present. Prices for the week are without change.

CEREALS—Market very dull with little demand locally and still less for export. Prices have remained firm and unchanged in all lines. Rolled oats, in 80's, $2.20; in 40's, $1.10 ; in 20's, 60c.; granuated and standard oatmeal, $2.75 for 98 lb.; cornmeal, $1.90 ; split peas, $2.85 ; pot barley, $2.45 ; pearl barley, $3.65 ; white beans, weak at $1.80.

POULTRY—The demand for poultry continues to increase, and there have been rather larger receipts of freshly killed. Prices have advanced slightly for the week. Chicken freshly killed, 11 to 12½c.; ducks and geese, 10 to 11c.; turkeys, 12½ to 14c.

BUTTER—This market has not improved. The demand all week has been very keen indeed, but the supply has not increased. Many country dealers who have been in the city this week, when interviewed on the subject, state that they are not getting enough for the requirements of their home trade, and are, therefore, not in a position to ship. There is no immediate prospect of any improvement in the situation. Dealers are paying this week as high as 20 and 21c. for strictly first-class fresh dairy butter in bricks, rolls or small tubs. There is still a plentiful supply of seconds.

CHEESE—The market is now working entirely on Ontario receipts, and the price is firm at 12c.

EGGS—Eggs have again dropped 2c. per doz., and are now quoted at 16 to 17c. Winnipeg for case lots. It is noticeable, however, that receipts fell off materially on Thursday and Friday. Dealers seem to think that the unusual number of eggs in February may very possibly be followed by a shortage in March. It is of interest to note that last year at the same time eggs were worth 23c. per doz.

FISH—The market is well suppiled with both fresh-water and salt-water varieties. There are no changes of price to report, except than finnan haddies have dropped to 7c. per lb.

GROUND FEED — The news of the week in regard to this article is the opening of the chop mill recently erected by the Ogilvie Milling Co. It is one of the most up-to-date mills on the continent. The operating power comes from a 50 h. p. motor supplied from the engines of the big mill. This is the first time in the West that a separate mill has been devoted to chop feed, and the company intend making a study of mixed chops and also providing every kind of chop food now known. The capacity of the mill will be from 60 to 75 tons per 24 hours. It is also the intention to do custom chopping for all the farmers about Winnipeg who desire to avail themselves of the mill. The demand for ground feeds at the present time is not very heavy and prices have remained without change. We quote : Oat chop, $27 per ton; oil cake, $27; barley, $22; oatmeal, $11.50; mill screenings $15.

GREEN FRUITS.—The orange market is very firm and prices seem inclined to advance further. There is some compensation in the fact that the quality of the oranges is very good indeed. We quote : 126s, $4 ; 150s, $4 25 ; 176 to 216s, $4.50. Apples would be in good demand if it were not for the price. Very much of the stock now on the market is unsatisfactory. The last car of Spies to come in showed better quality and the price is $6.50 per barrel. Owing to the large numbers of visitors in the city local trade has been very good, but country trade has been correspondingly light.

NOTES.

The stock of the Rublee Fruit Co. has been purchased by Campbell Bros. & Wilson, and the principal portion of it has been resold to dealers visiting the city the past week. The price paid for the stock is not known. The business is now practically wound up. Great sympathy is felt for Mr. Rublee in this matter, as he was a popular business man and had been reckoned among the merchants of Winnipeg so long. It is not known as yet to what he will turn his attention.

Among the visitors to the city last week were John Washburn, of Washburn & Crossley, and Mr. Howe, of the National Elevator Co., of Minneapolis. By invitation, these gentlemen went over the mills of the Ogilvie Milling Co. They were most enthusiastic, and Mr. Washburn pronounced them the finest mills he had ever seen and the largest.

How Used in Produce Business.

(1) Merchants taking Produce to be paid for in trade, pay the Customer the balance due for produce in Due Bill Currency. The customer, as he needs, buys what he wants and pays the merchant with the Due Bills, same as if he had cash.

(2) He can thus trade out as much or as little as he likes from time to time, and gives the merchant no trouble in writing out Due Bills or entering amounts of purchases on said bills, or tracing amounts due on lost or worn out written due bills.

(3) The merchant assumes no more risk than if he had paid for Produce in cash, and the Due Bills are equally convenient to the customer.

(4) ☞New Customers are Gained.—The Due Bills being transferable, customers getting them can make Deals and Bargains with friends and neighbors, and pay in Due Bills on your store, which always means many new customers and chances of securing new constant trade to the merchant. Merchants using the Due Bills report many new customers gained by this means, and the cost returned to you many times a year.

(5) Children can be sent to make purchases with exact amount to pay for goods wanted and no risk run of losing the written due bill and no more bother to the merchant than a cash customer would be, and no pass books to bother with or dispute over afterward.

IT IS EASY TO BUY GOODS and to buy lots of them, but it is not quite so easy to buy them right. One must use great care in purchasing, and, as quality is the main point, a buyer should see that he gets it when selecting his stock. One sure sign that you have the right goods is when you find your business increasing and the orders constantly growing in number and in size.

I can say of my brands (and so can many of you) that they have proved to possess all the qualities that you should look for—if I judge by the orders, which are getting larger and more numerous every day.

Those who have had them know, and if you want to find out, try them! They will prove to you as to others—very profitable.

CURRENT MARKET QUOTATIONS

February 27, 1902.

This list is corrected every Thursday, and the quotations herein given are for the cities of Montreal, Toronto, St. John, N. B., and Halifax. The prices are solicited for publication, and are of such quantities and qualities as are usually ordered by retail dealers on the usual terms of credit. For Winnipeg market report and prices, see page 30.

Goods in large lots and for prompt pay are generally obtainable at lower prices.

All quotations for staple products are under the direct control of the Editors, who call daily upon all the leading houses in the principal centres.

THE PROVISION TRADE.

The Markets—Horse Slaughter to Resume—Miscellaneous Notes.

HORSE SLAUGHTER TO RESUME.

THE horse pickling works at Linnton, Ore., will soon resume operations. Each of the horses slaughtered at the plant takes as much range as would be required for the sustenance of a steer that will dress 1,000 lb. The stockmen want the range for their cattle, and the railroad companies are glad to assist in taking these useless cayuse ponies out of the country, so there will be more room for stock that will yield money to producers and carriers. Therefore, the railroads are willing to make a very low rate for carrying cryuses to the Linnton abattoir. and the movement thither will soon be resumed.

The average cayuse pony taken to the Linnton abattoir yields only about 60 lb. of merchantable meat, the rest of the carcass going into fertilizer, glue, leather, etc. This meat is carefully pickled in tierces, and is shipped to market in France and Holland, where the prejudice against horse meat is not so strong as it is in this country. These horses bring from $2.75 to $3 each, delivered at the railroad. They are mostly owned by Indians, the animals owned by white men seldom being so useless as to find their best market at the shambles.—Butchers' Advocate, New York.

THE PROVISION MARKETS.

TORONTO.

This week the receipts of dressed hogs have been small and the market is steady. Western hogs are worth $7.50 to $7.60 and Northern $8 per 100 lb., in carlots. On the St. Lawrence market the prices are unchanged, while the arrivals of pork and beef have been moderate. The prices are unchanged. We quote as follows : Dressed hogs, $8.00 to $8.25; beef carcasses, $5.75 to $7 per 100 lb.; hind quarters, $6.50 to $7.50 per 100 lb.; front quarters, $4.75 to $5.50 per 100 lb. Veal, 7 to 8½c. per lb.; lambs, 8 to 8½c. Live hogs: Selects, $6.12½, lights, $6 per 100 lb., and thick fats, $5,87½; choice export cattle bring $4.75 to $5.50 per 100 lb.; lights sell at $4 to $4.50.

The prices of hog products are steady. Long clear bacon and rolls are both down ½c., but some houses are adhering to the old prices. The demand still continues fair. We quote : Long clear bacon, 10 to 11c.; smoked breakfast bacon, 14 to 15c. ; rolls, 10½ to 11½c.; medium hams, 13½c.; large hams, 12½ to 13c.; shoulder hams, 10½ to 11c., and backs, 13½ to 14c.; Canadian heavy mess pork, $20.50 to $21; short cut, $22 ; lard, in tierces, 11¼c. per lb.; tubs, 11½c., and pails, 11¾c.

MONTREAL.

The provision market in general is rather quiet. Pork is in better demand, but the inquiry was, in most cases, for small lots for immediate shipment. Smoked meats are still moving slowly at unchanged prices. The demand for dressed hogs from butchers has been fairly good, and prices are steady. The receipts have been better. We now quote as follows : Heavy Canadian short cut mess pork, $22 ; Chicago clear pork, $22.50 for heavy and $22.25 for medium ; selected heavy short cut mess pork, boneless, $22.00 to $22.50; hams, 13c.; bacon, 15c.; lard, pure Canadian, $2.35 to $2.40 per pail; refined lard compound (Fairbank's); $2.05 for 1 to 24 pails ; $2.03 for 25 to 49 pails ; $2.02 for 50 pails and over. Snow White and Globe compound, $1.75 per pail; Cottolene, 10⅞c. for 20-lb. pails, and 10⅝c. for 60-lb. tubs, for Quebec and Ontario.

WINNIPEG.

LIVE STOCK—Very few have come in during the week, and there seems a decided scarcity. Buyers through the country do not seem to be able to round up any considerable number. The quality of those being received is very satisfactory. Best grades are very firm at 3¾ to 4c., and lower grades 3 to 3½c. Supply of vealing calves has not materially increased.

HOGS—Receipts for the week have been lighter than last. The drop recorded last week is being maintained. The best bacon hogs bring $6,25 off cars here, while under and over weights bring $5.75. After the very practical demonstratian of what constituted the ideal bacon hog given in the city the past week, there should be at least 300 farmers who know the kind of pig the packers want.

BEEF—Demand is active, supplies are light and prices have advanced ¼c. since last week. Best grade of city dressed is now quoted at 7¼c.; lower grades, 6 to 6½c.

VEAL—The supply of young veal has increased somewhat, but prices are still high, ranging from 8 to 9c.

HOGS—Demand is good, the supply fair, and prices without change for the week, being 7½ to 8c.

CURED MEATS—This market is steady and dull, with no new features of any kind. Sugar-cured hams, 13¾c. ; shoulders, 10¼c. ; picnic hams, 8½c. ; breakfast bellies and backs, 14c.; spiced rolls, 11¾c.; dry salt, long clear, 11½c.; shoulders, 9½c. ; smoked, long clear, 12c. ; backs, 12c. Heavy mess pork is in fair demand at $20.

SAUSAGES—There has not been much demand this week, and prices are without change.

LARD—Market firm and demand good. There has been no change in price for the week. We quote : 20 lb. pails, $2.50; American, $2.80 , 50 lb. pails, $5.85 ; 3 and 5-lb. tins in 60 lb. crates, $7.55.

ST. JOHN, N. B.

In barrelled pork, the continued high price make small business. Stocks are very light. Some little domestic is offered. Prices are perhaps a little easier. In beef, bnsiness has been very dull, but prices are still very firm and rather higher. In lard, some are shading pure, but prices are still high. In fresh beef, we continue to get our best stock west. Prices are rather higher. In round hogs, domestic stock is scarce. Several cars of western have been brought in. We quote : American clear pork, $22 to $23; domestic mess pork, $21 ; plate beef, Canadian, $13.50 to $14; mess pork, American, $21.50 ; plate beef, American, $14.50 to $15 ; fresh beef, 6 to 8½c.; round hogs, 7½ to 8½c.; pure lard, tubs, 12½c.; pure lard, pails, 12¾c. ; compound lard, tubs, 10c.; compound lard, pails, 10¼c. ; refined lard compound, Fairbank's tubs, 10¾c.; pails, 10½c.

STORING AND CURING PORK.

In the case of pork intended for curing, with cold storage available, writes H. E. Williams, of the United States Department of Agriculture, it is found that a temperature which will reduce the carcass within a period of 48 hours to from 36 to 39 deg. at its thickest and most vulnerable points, viz., the centre of the ham and shoulder, is the most desirable. At a temperature of 40 deg. a percentage of taint is liable to develop, and, at anything over that temperature, tainted meat develops rapidly. Of course, it is necessary to create an atmosphere considerably under these temperatures in order to bring down the temperature of the inside of the carcass at its thickest part to the degree mentioned, and therefore it is found desirable to carry the chill-rooms at temperatures about 33 to 35 deg. It is undesirable to reduce meat for curing to a very low temperature, as its solid and hard condition retards the action of the salt in penetrating to the centre of the piece, and thus causes the process of curing to be slower and less effective. Attaining too low temperature has been productive of serious loss to curers, from the fact that, when meat is overchilled before the curing process begins, the cure, owing to the causes stated, has been retarded, and when exposed to the ordinary atmosphere in warm seasons the meat spoils. Some large packers place the hogs, after being killed, in a temperature of from 45 to 50 deg. for 12 to 15 hours, and then in a temperature of 35 to 40 deg. for 24 to 36 hours. According to some experienced authorities, the carcasses should not be cut until thoroughly cooled ; otherwise, the meat is apt to sour. The curing should be done in storage-rooms with the temperature about 40 deg., the length of time for curing depending on the cut and weight of the meat, and ranging from 15 to 75 days. Storage-rooms cooled by the expansion of gases in tubes are considered better than those cooled by ice, on account of being drier. Dry salt pork for Southern use in winter needs to be cured in salt for 30 days, but for summer use it should have from 50 to 60 days' curing. Smoked meats for Southern use need to be thoroughly cured, as the heating in smoking tends to damage them.

INQUIRIES ABOUT CANADIAN GOODS.

The following were among the recent inquiries relating to Canadian trade received at the Canadian Government office in London :

1. A London firm importing grained-split hides wishes to correspond with Canadian tanneries producing such for export.

2. The addresses of large exporters in Canada of canned and dried fruits are asked for by a provision and produce broker in Liverpool.

3. A Manchester firm desires to get into communication with importers and users of textile machinery in Canada.

4. A correspondent in the Midlands with experience of Bradford and Manchester goods is open to act as buying or selling agent for Canadian houses in the trade.

5. An agent having an extensive experience in the grocery and confectionery trade, and having facilities for doing a large agency business, desires to hear from Canadian firms desiring representation.

6. The makers of horse clothing of all kinds, saddle girths, knee caps, dog sheets, body belts, etc., wish to extend their business in Canada, and ask to be referred to importers of these goods.

7. Information respecting Canadian hard woods for street paving purposes is asked for by a selling agent who has experience in placing such goods on the English market.

8. A London firm at present doing a good business in chair stock—backs, seats, legs, etc., ask for names of additional exporters of such goods in Canada.

9. A firm of West of England woollen manufacturers are looking for a first-class agent to represent them in Canada, and also desire to get into touch with wholesale houses in the Dominion purchasing best cloths.

10. A Birmingham house exporting gas and electric fittings is desirious of extending its business with Canada.

11. Inquiry is made for particulars of good slate quarries in Canada, in working order, adjacent to ports or waterways, by an agent who can sell large quantities if prices are competitive.

12. Another inquiry for roofing slates of durable quality from Canada has been received from a correspondent in the north of England.

13. A Hamburg, Germany, house have asked for names of packers and exporters of dried cod, haddock, stock fish, in the Maritime Provinces of Canada.

14. A Dublin grain, corn and flour and produce broker wishes to obtain the direct agency for a good Canadian firm of millers.

15. Inquiry has been made for names of Canadian dealers in motor-carriages and similar goods.

16. A correspondent at Cork, Ireland, has asked to be furnished with a list of millers and firms exporting oatmeal from Canada.

17. An application has been received from a Bradford merchant for the names of importers of yarns—either worsted, mohair, cotton, silk or fancy.

18. An import firm of cotton waste merchants and agents desire to get into communication with users of this material in Canada.

19. A firm of wholesale and export druggists' sundriesmen wish to hear of probable buyers in Canada of such specialties as they manufacture, tooth pastes, disinfectants, etc.

20. A forage company in Cheshire ask to be furnished with the names of hay and straw exporters in Canada.

21. The makers of artistic glazed tiles, etc., who are anxious to extend their business with Canada, desire to hear of firms willing to take up the sale of their productions.

[The names of the firms making the above inquiries can be obtained on application to the editor of THE CANADIAN GROCER.]

Inquiries received by the Canadian section of the Imperial Institute :

1. A firm in the north of England desires information as to the production of fish glues in Canada, and invites manufacturers of the material to forward samples and prices.

2. An important firm of wholesale stationers asks to be placed in communication with Canadian manufacturers of woodwork drawing materials, such as drawing boards, T squares, set squares, etc.

3. Another firm of brokers and importers is prepared to represent a Canadian packer of canned goods.

EARLY SEEDING IN MANITOBA.

A press despatch, dated Winnipeg, February 22, says: "The record in early seeding has been established this year by Thos. Leader, a farmer who resides west of Portage on the plains. Yesterday Leader completed sowing 25 acres of wheat. To day, if the weather is suitable, he will put in 25 acres. The land, which was ploughed in the fall, is in fair condition. It has become dried out on top, and was easily harrowed. Unless very severe weather sets in and with a favorable spring, Leader's wheat will be ready for harvest in June."

THE HOMES OF THE PEANUT.

In its different homes the peanut is also known by the names of groundnut, earthnut, pindar, goober and groundpea, says Leslie's Weekly. While Brazil is generally conceded to be its native home, Africa ranks first in production, the United States coming third and furnishing one-sixth of the world's crop. To reach maturity the peanut cannot be grown further north than Maryland, a mild climate with a light, sandy soil, such as is to be found in a few of the Southern States, proving the best for its growth. One of the peculiarities of this nut is that the fruit matures under ground. The roots are covered with tiny tubercules in which are multitudes of infinitesimally small organisms that supply the plant with nitrogen. The seed is planted in early spring, in rows or hills, and is ready for harvesting about October 1, when the fields present their liveliest appearance. After the tap root of the plant has been cut, by means of a kind of wing attached to the plow, the vines are taken out of the dirt by a fork and put into small heaps, and thence into shocks to mature or cure. It is a picturesque sight in the fall to see the colored people, all sizes, gathering peanuts from the vines, the wee pickaninnies, scattered here and there, dumped in the dirt, while their mothers fill the large bags for the factories. The largest peanut establishment in the world, owned by any one company, is located at Smithfield, Va., a little town nestling among the low hills of the tidewater section, where the sound of a railroad engine has never been heard.

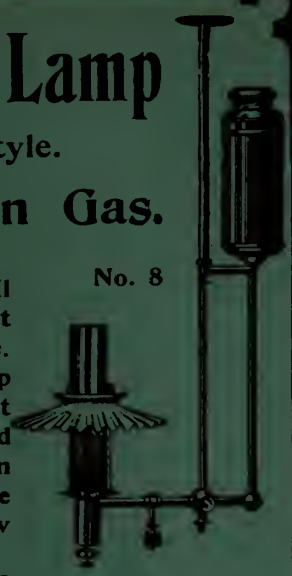
The Auer Gas Lamp

Money-Back Style.

Makes its own Gas.



No. 8

OUR No. 8 is the best all around lamp on the market for either the store or home.

IT IS FITTED with an up and down adjuster so that the burner can be lowered two feet. You can hang it on a hook or screw it up—we supply a hook and a screw plate with it.

IT GIVES a light of à 100 candle power and is a fine lamp to show goods with.

THE COST of running it is less than an oil lamp and there is no smell or smoke from it.

YOUR MONEY REFUNDED IF YOU ARE NOT PERFECTLY SATISFIED.

As we have said before and say again

All the statements being made, detrimental to the qualities of

will not and cannot, affect its sale---because its popularity is based on a substantial foundation which cannot be shaken---true merit. Notwithstanding the kind of publicity our tea friends pushing the sale of Ceylon and Indian Teas are indulging in, somehow or other the demand for JAPAN TEA is daily increasing. It is the right kind of tea for you to handle Mr. Grocer, and it's not only being well-advertised by ourselves, but also by our competitors.

A TRAVELLING MAN'S SUCCESS.

BY B S. SAUNIER.

SPOT CASH was the very biggest sign in the store. It looked as hard and as crusty as was the principle for which it stood. Not every one who traded at Greely's took notice of it, though it had been bright and clear in the same place for years. The pay-as-you go customers didn't see it any more that if it were a part of the grimy fixtures that supported the stock. Neither did the never-expected-to-pay customers see it any more than they cared for the disorder yonder in the rear where oil and vinegar measures elbowed for space with beans, eggs, nuts, potatoes and order baskets.

"Spot Cash" meant nothing to people who always paid, or to folks who had a grudge for being born and who rang at the door of the public when in need. In truth, there was but one class of customers—the unfortunate honest—who took note of the emblem. In such instance alone the words became truly forbidden. Greely himself at times was crusty and hard when he sat at his desk that formed a part of the counter, and that was marred and rough with many years of service and spotted here and there in three colors with ink—now red, now black, now blue. Greely could be as forbidding as he was sauve and engaging. The barometer of the store went up and down many times during some days, when all the kinds of customers came in. He was quite liable to be a bit testy when he sat at his desk looking over his daybook, for, despite the sign, his lists were long—lists of customers to whom he had in kindness given credit.

Miss Patty, his daughter, who presided over the dry goods, and was not only young and pretty, but also very clever and charming, knew all about Greely's moods. On the whole, she sympathized with him, too. She knew all about the heavy bills that came from the wholesale houses; and she knew how stacks of groceries and dry goods were brought each week into the homes close by from the city stores by residents who went frequently in and out; and then, too, she knew what a plague was the little delivery boy, who made stupid mistakes every day. There were vexations galore that tried a man's patience—a man who began years ago to lay by a comfortable pile for old age, and had not yet realized his dream.

Far from it! The mortgage on the property would remind him of non success, if there had been nothing else to do so. He openly owned to a few of the trials, but the others he allowed to rankle silently in his mind. A few? Well, two in particular. One, that people who were his own friends and neighbors, and were estimable and altogether temperate in most ways, should take a jag periodically and buy their goods and groceries fifty miles away instead of within close crying distance of home; the other, the drummers.

He rarely bought of them—never humored or indulged them, and they pestered his life. Persistent, genial, well-mannered fellows all, whose art was to approach men and merchants acceptably and convince them of their own sincerity. They came four and five a week, sometimes two or more in a day. All sorts of ambitious young fellows, always good-looking and well dressed, keen and good tempered they were, breathing good wishes and commendations all about them, giving the best they had for the simple boon—an order; but even the cleverest rarely got what he came for. Greely stiffened visibly when he saw one of the clan approaching. He was crusty and well-nigh deaf to them all. In this matter, however, Miss Patty differed from her father. From her place, where she measured calicos, braids and ribbons, she could see the same little tragedy enacted every day, though she heard little of what was said. She well knew the fate of the anxious young drummer. All fared alike—all were defeated.

One day there came in at the wide, double door one who was somewhat different from the others. He was taller, better-dressed, and wore an air of authority. His blonde hair lay in little waves close to his head, and his eyes, steel blue, had a look as if he knew just how all his brethren had been vanquished and denied, and he had come, an elder brother, to avenge them.

At first he addressed Miss Patty, at the moment the only visible clerk.

"Pardon me, is the proprietor engaged?" he said, courteously.

Now, Miss Patty, having studied at the university, had seen and talked to plenty of clever, masterly men, and never had she found occasion to blush or tremble before them. Certainly there was no need just now that, at the sight of this fair man, her pretty, dark eyes should falter or that the red in her olive cheeks should become a trifle more red; but they did.

"Papa will be in presently," she said, and turned again to her customer. Her face clouded, for she feared there would soon be another little scene—another contest and defeat. Mechanically she counted the buttons as she listened for her father's step, her heart growing heavy the while. She hoped, she really trusted, that this drummer would get an order. When her father came in, however, and went hastily to his desk, scarcely glancing at the handsome stranger, she knew how it would be. The delivery boy or something had vexed him. Something had gone wrong. Perhaps the stranger also noted this, for he assumed his easiest manner as he swung up to the desk and began talking. Patty saw his graceful bearing, and heard the tones of his voice rise and fall in dulcet cadence as he stated his mission. But Greely was busily writing, apparently unconcerned. Patty knew that soon the answer wouldcome—the one that he made alike to all:

There's so many of you fellows always on hand—a man can't buy goods from all of you. It's no use you wasting your time." Then, if the solicitor were still persistent, Greely always grew dogged and obstinate, saying: "I guess you can't get no order from me." This drummer, however, did not linger to argue the point. He merely bowed and said:

"Very good, sir; you know your needs better than anyone, I dare say, and I will not take your time. I shall call again next week. Here is my card bearing my name and house, and here is our quoted lists of goods. It will be to your benefit to look them over. I wish you a very good day."

He took off his hat as he passed Miss Patty, who, as soon as he was gone, walked over to the desk and pulled the card and lists from the waste basket to which, already, they had been consigned.

"Arthur Clendenning," she read aloud. "Papa, you are simply abominable to these poor drummers. I think you might at least be civil to them, even if you don't buy. No telling how much you might get out of them if only you would talk and not act so like a frozen stick!"

"Tut-tut! Hear the child. Now what do you mean? What would I get out of them?"

"Why, they go everywhere, don't they? They meet merchants of all kinds, both poor and good, and couldn't they tell you a whole lot about how other merchants get along? How they advertise, what kinds of 'ads.' they use, and all about how they manage the stock and the trade and all—could't they tell that? Of course they could. Now, that man who was just here looks as if he knew more than any of them."

"He did quit sort o' decent like, that's a fact. Give me the list—we'll see what his house is doing anyhow."

So Greely put on his spectacles and studied the bit of paper, with Patty looking over his shoulder.

"Jumping ginger! Here's prunes and dried fruit ranged below anything I ever heard of? So is beans and coffee; and here's the canned stuff—they are below what I've been paying, too; but you can't tell anything about it on paper. The goods may not be reliable."

"What! Not from Gale & Warner? I've heard you say it was a good house."

"'Tis so if I go myself and pick out the goods."

"Well," said Patty, in her positive way, "just you try it the other way for once. I believe the goods will be the very same. Give the man the order when he comes, and see if he doesn't save you the bother of going after the things yourself."

Still, Greely would not promise. It was hard for him to yield the palm to a drummer. Having held the fort for so many years he could not decide, even to please Patty, in favor of an order except by mail or by personal attention. He began to stiffen at the suggestion that Patty set forth, so she wisely left him alone. Except to pin a slip of paper to his day-book headed loudly "Gale & Warner," she allowed the matter to drop, though, to her delight, as she peeped at the sheet of paper a few days later, she saw two items written thereon.

In a week's time, when Mr. Clendenning appeared, Miss Patty looked out at him from behind the ribbon case so joyfully that the man was quite charmed. He smiled in sympathy as he bowed, though not divining the true cause of her apparent pleasure. He received the order as a matter of course. He had expected it. Not so large by many dollars as he usually took wherever he went, yet it drew him to the store, again, He always contrived to see Miss Patty each time, if but for a moment's chat.

Meanwhile a change was working in Greely. Slowly, almost stolidly, he grew affable toward the drummers. He learned to ask them questions concerning successful merchants whom they met as they went up and down the country. He learned of their methods and compared them with his own. He watched the papers more keenly, and, far as possible, he offset the inducements of the big stores by throwing out leaders. He set up a bulletin in his window for which the public learned to look with increasing interest. He posted a new bargain every week in his bulletin, and ere long people began to talk about Greely's store and its advantages. They said he was a live merchant and up-to-date, until it really appeared as if good times were on the way for Greely, and before long a new clerk and a sharp delivery boy were engaged to help with the trade.

Of course there was a wedding. To be sure, Miss Patty had explained why she was joyful when he came the second time—that it was the list of goods, not himself—and how that she was always sorry for the young drummers who tried so hard to get orders and always failed, and so she had been glad on account of the list that he would have, not for himself; but Clendening cared not for her absurd explanations. The wedding bells were ringing in his heart and were echoed in her own. He could afford to be quite indifferent to sordid matters.

One day as he leaned on the ribbon case he looked up and read: "'Spot Cash.' Do you know, those words have troubled me somewhat. I've been thinking that I shouldn't come into a store like this and take away the very best thing there is in it on credit.

"Now, Mr. Greely, here's to the drummers! Put this cheque of mine against that little mortgage and see if it will cover it." At this Mr. Greely refused. He said he was not selling a daughter, but was adding to himself a son; that in this case he preferred the credit system, and that the drummers were paying the mortgage fast enough to suit him, and he could afford to wait.—Retailers' Journal.

THE U. S. CANNING INDUSTRY.

There are in the United States, according to an exchange, not less than 2,000 firms engaged in packing canned goods, and the number of canning establishments is something larger.

The value of the canned goods annually put up in the United States is close to $100,000,000. Tomatoes are a leading staple of the Maryland packers, and of packers generally in the Middle States; beef is canned mostly north and west of the Ohio River; sardines and lobsters are leading features in Maine; salmon is put up in Washington and Oregon, and oysters in New Jersey, Delaware, Maryland and New York. Massachusetts is naturally the State which makes the largest output of canned beans. Corn, milk, apples, pears, pineapples, small fruits of various kinds, pumpkins, squashes, etc., are canned in large quantities wherever they are plentifully grown.

The amount of capital invested in the American canneries approximates $50,000,000. Machinery has greatly operated to minimize the hand labor employed in the canneries, and cheapen the cost of the goods.

NO BUSHEL ON HIS LIGHT.

The caller explained his mission.

"It's a worthy cause," he said.

"It is, indeed," admitted the up-to-date merchant. "You may put down our firm for $5,000."

"Good!" exclaimed the caller. "It's to be done very quietly and unostentatiously, of course. The money will be given in a lump sum from 'a few friends,' without any names whatever."

"No one will know who gives?" asked the merchant.

"No one," answered the caller.

"No list published?"

"None."

"Cross the name of our firm off."—Chicago Post.

DISCUSSING THE APPLE TRADE.

THE annual meeting of the King's County, N.S., Board of Trade, Kentville, N.S., was well attended by the farmers of the surrounding country. At this meeting about 30 new members were added to the board.

The president, P. Innes, in his address, reviewed the work of the board during the past year. It was decided that this address should be published.
